Item 8.01 Other Events

As previously disclosed, on October 4, 2006, Stilwell Value Partners I, L.P. ("Stilwell") filed suit (Civil Action No. 06-4432) in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania against Prudential Mutual Holding Company (the "MHC"), Prudential Bancorp, Inc. of Pennsylvania (the "Company") and each of the directors of the MHC and the Company individually seeking equitable relief including (i) enjoining the Company and the directors from allowing the MHC to participate in any shareholder vote to consider the adoption of proposed stock option and stock recognition and retention plans (collectively, the "Stock Plans") and (ii) enjoining MHC from participating in any shareholder vote to approve the Stock Plans. In the event that the MHC and the Company are not enjoined, Stilwell is seeking damages, the amount to be determined at trial.

On November 20, 2006, the Company, the MHC and the director defendants filed a motion to dismiss the complaint, asserting, among other things, that the prospectus contained no "promise," implied or otherwise, that the MHC would never vote on the adoption of the Stock Plans and that the breach of fiduciary duty claim with respect to the timing of any such vote was legally insufficient. On August 15, 2007, the Court ruled that there was no express promise of the sort that would support a promissory estoppel claim, no "unconscionability" of the sort that would support an unjust enrichment claim, and no "fundamental unfairness" of the sort that would support a claim for "disenfranchisement." The Court also ruled that Stilwell does not have standing to assert claims for breach of fiduciary duty against the directors individually. Accordingly, the Court granted the motion to dismiss all of the claims against the Company and the individual directors and all but one of the claims against the MHC. The only claim remaining is a breach of fiduciary duty asserted against the MHC as majority shareholder. The Court dismissed the claims with prejudice which prevents Stilwell from reasserting such claims in amended form.

The Court has scheduled a pre-trial conference to establish the timing of the remaining discovery and trial. A substantial amount of document discovery has been completed; no other discovery has been taken.

The Company believes Stilwell's remaining allegation is without merit and the remaining defendant, the MHC, intends to vigorously defend the case. However, no prediction can be made as to the outcome of the one remaining claim.
