SHAREHOLDER LETTER

March 31, 2008

To Our Shareholders:

Despite strong long-term net asset value (NAV) performance and growing distributions to shareholders, the market price discount to NAV for the Clough Global Allocation Fund remains wide. In our opinion, this discount seems unreasonable given the total return generated by the Fund and shared with investors via distributions. We note the performance below.

- During the 12 months ended March 31, 2008, the Fund's total return, assuming reinvestment of all distributions, was 7.1% based on the NAV and 1.8% based on the market price. That compares to a -5.1% return for the S&P 500 for the same period.
- Since the Fund's inception on July 28, 2004, the total growth in net asset value assuming reinvestment of all distributions has been 56.1%, this compares to a cumulative total return of 29.4% for the S&P 500 through March 31, 2008.
- The Fund's compound annual return since inception is 12.9% compared to 7.3% for the S&P 500 through March 31, 2008.
- The Fund's quarterly distribution has increased from $0.30 per share at inception to $0.46 per share today. Total distributions since inception have been $7.71 and the shares offer a yield of 9.2%, based on market price, as of April 30, 2008.

It is our expectation that, over time, the current discounts to NAV will be reduced if the Fund continues to generate strong, positive total returns, and grow its distributions.

As of March 31, 2008, the Fund had 68% of its investments in common stocks with the balance primarily invested in yield oriented securities. Close to half the Fund's equity investments are in companies located outside the United States. The Fund's largest fixed income holdings were high quality, Fannie Mae and Ginnie Mae-backed mortgage securities and US Treasuries. Outside the US, our equity investments are concentrated primarily in Asian markets and in Brazil.

The primary investment themes represented in the Fund continue to be driven by what we have called the globalization trade, which consists of investments in global energy and selected materials and infrastructure suppliers.

Edgar Filing: Clough Global Allocation Fund - Form N-CSR

The globalization trade continues to work despite universal claims in the media and elsewhere that the move up in emerging markets and commodities is both speculative, driven solely by financial flows, and bound to reverse. Will emerging markets succumb to contagion from bank issues in the US or will they respond to their own internal demand cycles? We still think the latter and have maintained investments in Taiwan, Korea, Brazil and even Russia. Conventional wisdom claims a global recession will bring an end to growth in those economies, but our research continues to suggest that rapid urbanization and the emergence of domestic consumer credit cycles are far more important.

The infrastructure needs of heavily populated and high savings rate countries like India and China are a powerful stimulant to global demand. Morgan Stanley forecasts that $21 trillion will need to be spent on infrastructure in emerging markets in the next decade, 67% of which will be spent in Asia. Similar cycles are emerging in the Middle East, Russia and Latin America. Investment in energy resources alone could amount to enormous sums as deep water exploration projects proliferate and new pipeline systems are built. In Asia, property inflation is just getting underway.

The financial markets are responding, rightly we think, more to the effects of China's 45% (and rapidly rising) urbanization rate and its high savings culture than to fears of western recession. First, these equities markets traditionally fall apart during global market corrections but this time they have not. Taiwanese equities, after stagnating through much of the decade, are rallying strongly and Brazilian equities have held near their highs. Quality spreads in their bond markets are more narrow than they are for US and European markets. Some, like Taiwan and Korea, have changed from immature markets dominated by external portfolio flows to more sophisticated bourses which respond increasingly to domestic savings and investment flows that are growing by the day. It is important to note the subprime crisis is primarily a US issue. Asian and Brazilian economies are relatively unlevered, with favorable trade and budget surpluses. Growth is increasingly determined by these internal factors. We think there could be a major reassessment of P/E multiples for these markets as growth in the developed economies slows and their internal growth becomes more visible. If the United Nations' estimate that emerging markets will account for nearly three quarters of the world's urban population by 2015 is correct, it is worth our while to invest in that.

The one market that became egregiously overvalued is China's domestic market, but now it has corrected nearly 50%. That may be enough if Chinese officials respond to a slowing world economy by reversing their restrictive policies. We think they may as inflation pressures ease. We have covered the bulk of our short positions in the mainland companies trading in Hong Kong. Shares in Hong Kong now sell at the same P/E multiple as US shares, despite stronger growth and strong financial and household balance sheets.

Our investments in selected materials producers are allied to the growth in the emerging world. As the global slowdown begins to affect more of the developed world, which industries will have pricing power? We think it will continue to be selectively in the commodity sector. Combined with supply limitations affecting commodities like oil, natural gas, copper and now steel, these sectors have once again become stock market leaders, even though recession fears dominate the stream of market commentary. We still think the evidence points to the fact that high prices are not eliciting new supplies because global reserves of oil, gas and other commodities are overstated and risks of sustained shortages are real. New supplies may be available, but they are harder to extract and of lower quality. In Russia and Mexico, crude oil production is declining and purported new OPEC supplies are conspicuous by their failure to emerge.

Demand for basic services like electricity, transportation, water and power should not only increase in the emerging world, but if our research is right, it will swamp the availability of new commodities supplies. It is a very legitimate question as to whether chronic shortages of basic commodities may be with us for a long time. On the agricultural front, rice shortages are already begetting beggar thy neighbor export restrictions. Although we doubt in some instances current elevated prices are sustainable, particularly in the grains, new higher ranges of sustained pricing compared to historic levels do appear likely.

Recently we have built exposure to North American steel producers. In the midst of a severe auto recession, North America is proving to be a great place to manufacture steel, particularly the structural product used in infrastructure investment. Outdated facilities have been closed and there has been meaningful consolidation globally. China's steel consumption is rising at double digit rates, so while it used to be a major exporter of steel, higher marginal costs are restricting further exports. Imports have been responsible for at least 20% of US supplies, so as they fall off, US suppliers can price higher. Some US steel producers are integrated into iron ore and coke (coal), perhaps the two most supply restricted commodities in the world.

Energy continues to be a major area of emphasis for the Fund. It is worth noting that exposure to crude oil is difficult to acquire on the New York Stock Exchange. The large capitalization integrated oil companies are actually short crude given their large downstream operations. There are three major securities that efficiently capture oil exposure in our view, Petroleo Brasileiro S.A., Hess Corp, and Occidental Petroleum Corp., all of which are Fund holdings.

Since the negatives for the financial markets are repeated incessantly in the press, it is worth noting the silver lining that will emerge from US deleveraging. The stock of global savings should accelerate as US households cease borrowing to inflate the housing base and rebuild their depleted savings. While the US is nursing its credit wounds, many Asian and Middle Eastern economies are building huge amounts of investable resources. We may find the net stock of investable funds exceeds the supply of high return investments. Cash sitting in US money market accounts in the US alone stands at $3.5 trillion, foreign exchange reserves in China, Japan, Brazil and Russia stand at an aggregate $4 trillion. Moreover, the major US stock indexes have been declining throughout the decade. All through the decade, nominal interest rates have remained low and now they are heading lower, limiting returns from bonds. In a world of limited investment opportunity and growing liquidity, the surprise may be how well global equities do in the years ahead.

The strength we see in the emerging world contrasts sharply with weakness in the developed markets. Both US and UK consumers are heavily levered, their banking systems are shaky, home prices are falling, defaults are rising, credit is being restricted and a long period of deleveraging has begun. The bottom line is their financial sectors, which dominate their economies, are shrinking. Since growing economies require an ever increasing supply of credit, we think both economies are unlikely to expand much in real terms under such conditions.

On top of that, the Fed may be exacerbating the credit contraction in the US. By making collateralized loans more available to banks and now to broker-dealers (via so-called system repurchase agreements and Term Auction Facilities (TAFs) which essentially expand discount window advances), the Fed has provided these institutions with massive injections of short-term liquidity. While this prevents the forced selling of bad assets into a weak market, it does little to improve the strength of the borrowing institution and likely further damages its solvency. This is because in order to maintain Fed Funds at the targeted rate, the Fed has to drain a similar amount of non borrowed or free reserves from the banking system. It has simply replaced free reserves with borrowed or temporary reserves that must be paid back. This policy forces weak institutions to keep illiquid assets, be it a mortgage, home equity loan or credit card debt, on their balance sheets. These continue to deteriorate in value, further eroding capital and dragging out the crisis. When it comes time to repay or extend those borrowings, the institution will have lost even more of its capital and be less able to create new credit. Persistent weakness in financial equities reflects this dynamic.

We suspect the Federal Reserve will ultimately reduce bank rates further, allowing financial institutions to rebuild profitability and capital via leveraging the government yield curve. Then weak assets can be repriced, markets can eventually clear and financial companies can strengthen their balance sheets.

Edgar Filing: Clough Global Allocation Fund - Form N-CSR

The balance of the Fund's equity positions consists of large capitalization US-based companies with dominant market positions and global platforms, strong balance sheets and high cash flows, such as Microsoft Corp. and Cisco Systems. Our short hedges are still focused on weakly capitalized financial and consumer companies. Credit issues are bound to affect a number of small and mid-sized banks which have migrated from markets they know to ones they don't and whose balance sheets will become more stressed.

The Fund continues to maintain exposures in fixed income markets, providing asset diversification and yield. The structural case for low interest rates on a global basis and a steeper yield curve in the developed financial markets remains strong. For now, we have limited exposure to US and other sovereign debt, simply because we feel returns may be modest at best from these levels. At the same time, we have witnessed sharp increases in credit spreads in virtually all fixed income markets. While there are undoubtedly opportunities that may emerge from these dislocations, we have chosen to maintain our exposure in higher quality positions from a credit risk perspective. The bond positions we have are principally thirty-year AAA Ginnie Mae and Fannie Mae mortgage-backed securities, which are currently offering attractive spreads to treasuries while maintaining ample liquidity during the credit market dislocations. We have also added higher yielding preferred stocks of financial institutions offering attractive income and total return in a large and liquid market.

In closing, we recently announced that we have a plan to refinance the auction market preferred stock (AMPS) that has historically been the source of the bulk of the Fund's borrowings. We were pleased to be in position to replace those AMPS with an overnight collateralized borrowing agreement which provides the Fund with a lower cost of financing. The AMPS refinancing has begun and will continue over the course of the next few weeks.

(1) Total investment return is calculated assuming a purchase of a common share at the opening on the first day and a sale at closing on the last day of each period reported. Total investment return on net asset value excludes a sales load of $0.90 per share for the period, effectively reducing the net asset value at issuance from $20.00 to $19.10. Dividends and distributions, if any, are assumed for purposes of this calculation to be reinvested at prices obtained under the Fund's dividend reinvestment plan. Total investment returns do not reflect brokerage commissions on the purchase or sale of the Fund's common shares. Total investment returns for less than a full year are not annualized. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results.

(2) Annualized.

(3) Ratios do not reflect dividend payments to preferred shareholders.

(4) Calculated by subtracting the Fund's total liabilities (excluding Preferred Shares) from the Fund's total assets and dividing by the number of preferred shares outstanding.

(5) Based on monthly prices.

^ As approved by the Board of Trustees of the Fund, the fiscal year-end changed from May 31 to March 31, effective March 15, 2006.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

March 31, 2008

1. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING AND OPERATING POLICIES

Clough Global Allocation Fund (the Fund) is a closed-end management investment company that was organized under the laws of the state of Delaware by an Amended Agreement and Declaration of Trust dated April 27, 2004. The Fund is a non-diversified series with an investment objective to provide a high level of total return. The Declaration of Trust provides that the Trustees may authorize separate classes of shares of beneficial interest.

Security Valuation: The net asset value per Share of the Fund is determined no less frequently than daily, on each day that the American Stock Exchange (the Exchange) is open for trading, as of the close of regular trading on the Exchange (normally 4:00 p.m. New York time). Trading may take place in foreign issues held by the Fund at times when the Fund is not open for business. As a result, the Fund's net asset value may change at times when it is not possible to purchase or sell shares of the Fund. Securities held by the Fund for which exchange quotations are readily available are valued at the last sale price, or if no sale price or if traded on the over-the-counter market, at the mean of the bid and asked prices on such day. Debt securities for which the over-the-counter market is the primary market are normally valued on the basis of prices furnished by one or more pricing services at the mean between the latest available bid and asked prices. As authorized by the Trustees, debt securities (other than short-term obligations) may be valued on the basis of valuations furnished by a pricing service which determines valuations based upon market transactions for normal, institutional-size trading units of securities. Short-term obligations maturing within 60 days are valued at amortized cost, which approximates value, unless the Trustees determine that under particular circumstances such method does not result in fair value. Over-the-counter options are valued at the mean between bid and asked prices provided by dealers. Financial futures contracts listed on commodity exchanges and exchange-traded options are valued at closing settlement prices. Securities for which there is no such quotation or valuation and all other assets are valued at fair value in good faith by or at the direction of the Trustees.

Foreign Securities: The Fund may invest a portion of its assets in foreign securities. In the event that the Fund executes a foreign security transaction, the Fund will generally enter into a forward foreign currency contract to settle the foreign security transaction. Foreign securities may carry more risk than U.S. securities, such as political, market and currency risks.

The accounting records of the Fund are maintained in U.S. dollars. Prices of securities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at the closing rates of exchange at period end. Amounts related to the purchase and sale of foreign securities and investment income are translated at the rates of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions.

Edgar Filing: Clough Global Allocation Fund - Form N-CSR

The effect of changes in foreign currency exchange rates on investments is included with the fluctuations arising from changes in market values of securities held and reported with all other foreign currency gains and losses in the Fund's Statement of Operations.

A foreign currency contract is a commitment to purchase or sell a foreign currency at a future date, at a negotiated rate. The Fund may enter into foreign currency contracts to settle specific purchases or sales of securities denominated in a foreign currency and for protection from adverse exchange rate fluctuation. Risks to the Fund include the potential inability of the counterparty to meet the terms of the contract.

The net U.S. dollar value of foreign currency underlying all contractual commitments held by the Fund and the resulting unrealized appreciation or depreciation are determined using prevailing forward foreign currency exchange rates. Unrealized appreciation and depreciation on foreign currency contracts are reported in the Fund's Statement of Assets and Liabilities as a receivable or a payable and in the Fund's Statement of Operations with the change in unrealized appreciation or depreciation. There were no outstanding foreign currency contracts for the Fund as of March 31, 2008.

The Fund may realize a gain or loss upon the closing or settlement of the foreign transaction. Such realized gains and losses are reported with all other foreign currency gains and losses in the Statement of Operations.

Options: The Fund may purchase or write (sell) put and call options. One of the risks associated with purchasing an option among others, is that the Fund pays a premium whether or not the option is exercised. Additionally, the Fund bears the risk of loss of premium and change in market value should the counterparty not perform under the contract. Put and call options purchased are accounted for in the same manner as portfolio securities. The cost of securities acquired through the exercise of call options is increased by premiums paid. The proceeds from securities sold through the exercise of put options are decreased by the premiums paid.

When the Fund writes an option, an amount equal to the premium received by the Fund is recorded as a liability and is subsequently adjusted to the current value of the option written. Premiums received from writing options that expire unexercised are treated by the Fund on the expiration date as realized gains from investments. The difference between the premium and the amount paid on effecting a closing purchase transaction, including brokerage commissions, is also treated as a realized gain, or, if the premium is less than the amount paid for the closing purchase transaction, as a realized loss. If a call option is exercised, the premium is added to the proceeds from the sale of the underlying security or currency in determining whether the Fund has realized a gain or loss. If a put option is exercised, the premium reduces the cost basis of the securities purchased by the Fund. The Fund, as writer of an option, bears the market risk of an unfavorable change in the price of the security underlying the written option. Written and purchased options are non-income producing securities.

Written option activity as of March 31, 2008 was as follows:

Written Call Options	Contracts	Premiums
Outstanding, March 31, 2007		$
Positions opened	590	159,282
Expired	(120)	(38,759)
Closed	(470)	(120,523)

Outstanding, March 31, 2008	7,490	$ 3,332,650
Market Value, March 31, 2008		$ (2,000,300)

Short Sales: The Fund may sell a security it does not own in anticipation of a decline in the fair value of that security. When the Fund sells a security short, it must borrow the security sold short and deliver it to the broker-dealer through which it made the short sale. A gain, limited to the price at which the Fund sold the security short, or a loss, unlimited in size, will be recognized upon the termination of the short sale.

Income Taxes: The Fund's policy is to comply with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all of its taxable income to its shareholders. Therefore, no federal income tax provision is required.

Effective April 1, 2007, the Fund adopted FASB Interpretation No. 48 (FIN 48) Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes, which requires that the financial statement effects of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return be recognized in the financial statements when it is more likely than not, based on the technical merits, that the position will be sustained upon examination. Management has concluded that the Fund has taken no uncertain tax positions that require adjustment to the financial statements to comply with the provisions of FIN 48. The Fund files income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction and Colorado. The statute of limitations on the Fund's federal and state tax filings remains open for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2008, March 31, 2007, March 31, 2006, and May 31, 2005.

Distributions to Shareholders: The Fund intends to make a level dividend distribution each quarter to Common Shareholders after payment of interest on any outstanding borrowings or dividends on any outstanding preferred shares. The level dividend rate may be modified by the Board of Trustees from time to time. Any net capital gains earned by the Fund are distributed at least annually to the extent necessary to avoid federal income and excise taxes. Distributions to shareholders are recorded by the Fund on the ex-dividend date. The Fund has applied to the Securities and Exchange Commission for an exemption from Section 19(b) of the 1940 Act and Rule 19b-1 thereunder permitting the Fund to make periodic distributions of long-term capital gains, provided that the distribution policy of the Fund with respect to its Common Shares calls for periodic (e.g., quarterly/monthly) distributions in an amount equal to a fixed percentage of the Fund's average net asset value over a specified period of time or market price per common share at or about the time of distribution or pay-out of a level dollar amount.

Securities Transactions and Investment Income: Investment security transactions are accounted for as of trade date. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividend income from foreign securities will be recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date and may be subject to withholding taxes in these jurisdictions. Interest income, which includes amortization of premium and accretion of discount, is accrued as earned. Realized gains and losses from securities transactions and unrealized appreciation and depreciation of securities are determined using the highest cost basis for both financial reporting and income tax purposes.

Use of Estimates: The Fund's financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. This requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements: In September 2006, the FASB issued FASB Statement No. 157, Fair Valuation Measurement (SFAS No. 157), which defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. SFAS No. 157 is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007, and interim periods within those fiscal years. The Fund is currently evaluating the potential impact the adoption of SFAS No. 157 will have on the Fund's financial statements.

In February 2007, the FASB issued FASB Statement No. 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities Including an amendment of FASB Statement No. 115 (SFAS No. 159), which permits entities to choose to measure many financial instruments and certain other items at fair value. This Statement is expected to expand the use of fair value measurement, which is consistent with the FASB's long-term measurement objectives for accounting for financial instruments. This Statement is effective as of the beginning of an entity's first fiscal year that begins after November 15, 2007. The Fund is currently evaluating the potential impact the adoption of SFAS No. 159 will have on the Fund's financial statements.

In March 2008 the FASB issued FASB Statement No. 161, Disclosures about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities (SFAS No. 161), which is intended to improve financial reporting about derivative instruments and hedging activities. It is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years and interim periods beginning after November 15, 2008. The Fund is currently evaluating the potential impact, if any, the adoption of SFAS No. 161 will have on the Fund's financial statements.

2. TAXES

Classification of Distributions: Net investment income (loss) and net realized gain (loss) may differ for financial statement and tax purposes. The character of distributions made during the year from net investment income or net realized gains may differ from its ultimate characterization for federal income tax purposes.

The tax character of the distributions paid by the Fund during the periods ended March 31, 2008 and March 31, 2007 were as follows:

March 31, 2008

	2008	2007
Distributions paid from:
Ordinary Income	$ 22,299,706	$ 17,234,939
Long-Term Capital Gain	8,395,762	9,836,436
Total	$ 30,695,468	$ 27,071,375

Components of Earnings: Tax components of distributable earnings are determined in accordance with income tax regulations which may differ from composition of net assets reported under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. Accordingly, for the period ended March 31, 2008, certain differences were reclassified. The Fund decreased accumulated net investment loss by $15,792,980, decreased accumulated net realized gain by $15,792,800 and decreased paid in capital by $180. These differences were primarily due to the differing tax treatment of foreign currency and certain other investments and the tax treatment of distributions.

As of March 31, 2008, the components of distributable earnings on a tax basis were as follows:

Undistributed net investment income	$ 6,854,459
Accumulated net realized gain	3,193,929
Unrealized appreciation	14,873,510
Other Cumulative Effect of Timing Differences	(149,981)
Total	$ 24,771,917

Net unrealized appreciation/depreciation of investments based on federal tax cost as of March 31, 2008, were as follows:

Gross appreciation (excess of value over tax cost)	$ 35,647,971
Gross depreciation (excess of tax cost over value)	(26,608,436)
Net appreciation (excess of value over tax cost) of foreign currency and derivatives	5,833,975
Net unrealized appreciation	$ 14,873,510
Cost of investments for income tax purpose	$ 336,492,915

Post October Loss: Under current tax law, capital and currency losses realized after October 31 may be deferred and treated as occurring on the first day of the following fiscal year. For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2008, the Fund elected to defer currency losses occurring between November 1, 2007 and March 31, 2008 in the amount of $149,981.

3. CAPITAL TRANSACTIONS

Common Shares: There are an unlimited number of no par value common shares of beneficial interest authorized. Of the 10,434,606 common shares outstanding on March 31, 2008, ALPS Fund Services, Inc. (ALPS) owned 5,236 shares.

Transactions in common shares were as follows:

	For the Year Ended March 31, 2008	For the Year Ended March 31, 2007
Common shares outstanding - beginning of period	10,434,606	10,169,924
Common shares issued as reinvestment of dividends		264,682
Common shares outstanding - end of period	10,434,606	10,434,606

Preferred Shares: On September 15, 2004, the Fund's Board of Trustees authorized the issuance of an unlimited number of no par value preferred shares, in addition to the existing common shares, as part of the Fund's leverage strategy. Preferred shares issued by the Fund have seniority over the common shares.

The Fund is subject to certain limitations and restrictions while preferred shares are outstanding. Failure to comply with these limitations and restrictions could preclude the Fund from declaring any dividends or distributions to common shareholders or repurchasing common shares and/or could trigger the mandatory redemption of Preferred Shares at their liquidation value. Specifically, the Fund is required under the Investment Company Act of 1940 to maintain an asset coverage with respect to the outstanding preferred shares of 200% or greater.

The Fund has one series of Auction Market Preferred Shares (AMPS), Series W28. On December 1, 2004, the Fund issued 3,800 shares of AMPS with a net asset and liquidation value of $25,000 per share plus accrued dividends. Dividends on the AMPS are cumulative and are paid based on an annual rate set through auction procedures. Distributions of net realized capital gains, if any, are paid annually. In February 2008 the AMPS market across all closed-end funds became illiquid resulting in failed auctions for the Fund's AMPS. As such, the Fund continues to pay dividends on the AMPS at the maximum rate (set forth in the Fund's Statement of Preferences, the governing document for the AMPS), set at LIBOR plus 125 basis points or LIBOR multiplied by 125% whichever is greater. As of March 31, 2008, the annualized dividend rate for the AMPS was 3.93%.

Preferred shares, which are entitled to one vote per share, generally vote with the Common Shares but vote separately as a class to elect two Trustees and on any matters affecting the rights of the Preferred Shares.

Also see Note 7.

4. PORTFOLIO SECURITIES

Purchases and sales of investment securities, other than short-term securities, for the year ended March 31, 2008 aggregated $444,779,267 and $468,605,897, respectively. Purchases and sales of U.S. government and agency securities, other than short-term securities, for the year ended March 31, 2008 aggregated $13,206,700 and $23,385,773, respectively.

5. INVESTMENT ADVISORY AND ADMINISTRATION AGREEMENTS

Edgar Filing: Clough Global Allocation Fund - Form N-CSR

Clough Capital Partners L.P. (Clough) serves as the Fund's investment adviser pursuant to an Investment Advisory Agreement with the Fund. As compensation for its services to the Fund, Clough receives an annual investment advisory fee of 0.70% based on the Fund's average daily total assets, computed daily and payable monthly. ALPS serves as the Fund's administrator pursuant to an Administration, Bookkeeping and Pricing Services Agreement with the Fund. As compensation for its services to the Fund, ALPS receives an annual administration fee of 0.285% based on the Fund's average daily total assets, computed daily and payable monthly. ALPS will pay all expenses incurred by the Fund, with the exception of advisory fees, trustees' fees, portfolio transaction expenses, litigation expenses, taxes, cost of preferred shares, expenses of conducting repurchase offers for the purpose of repurchasing fund shares, and extraordinary expenses.

6. OTHER

The Independent Trustees of the Fund receive a quarterly retainer of $3,500 and an additional $1,500 for each meeting attended. The Chairman of the Board of Trustees receives a quarterly retainer of $4,200 and an additional $1,800 for each meeting attended. The Chairman of the Audit Committee receives a quarterly retainer of $3,850 and an additional $1,650 for each meeting attended.

7. SUBSEQUENT EVENT

Subsequent to the Fund's fiscal year end, the Fund announced its intent to redeem all outstanding shares of the AMPS, at par, in their entirety pursuant to their terms. The Fund has obtained overnight collateralized financing from a financial institution to provide new funding to redeem the AMPS and provide up to 33% leverage to the Fund going forward. The Fund's Board of Trustees has approved the refinancing which is expected to lower the costs of leverage for the Fund. The redemption of the Fund's AMPS was deemed an appropriate alternative for leverage to the Fund and is intended to benefit both the common and preferred shareholders for the Fund.

DIVIDEND REINVESTMENT PLAN

March 31, 2008 (unaudited)

Unless the registered owner of Common Shares elects to receive cash by contacting The Bank of New York Mellon (the Plan Administrator or BNY Mellon), all dividends declared on Common Shares will be automatically reinvested by the Plan Administrator for shareholders in the Fund's Dividend Reinvestment Plan (the Plan), in additional Common Shares. Shareholders who elect not to participate in the Plan will receive all dividends and other distributions in cash paid by check mailed directly to the shareholder of record (or, if the Common Shares are held in street or other nominee name, then to such nominee) by BNY Mellon as dividend disbursing agent. You may elect not to participate in the Plan and to receive all dividends in cash by contacting BNY Mellon, as dividend disbursing agent, at the address set forth below. Participation in the Plan is completely voluntary and may be terminated or resumed at any time without penalty by notice if received and processed by the Plan Administrator prior to the dividend record date; otherwise such termination or resumption will be effective with respect to any subsequently declared dividend or other distribution. Some brokers may automatically elect to receive cash on your behalf and may re-invest that cash in additional Common Shares for you. If you wish for all dividends declared on your Common Shares to be automatically reinvested pursuant to the Plan, please contact your broker.

The Plan Administrator will open an account for each Common Shareholder under the Plan in the same name in which such Common Shareholder's Common Shares are registered. Whenever the Fund declares a dividend or other distribution (together, a Dividend) payable in cash, non-participants in the Plan will receive cash and participants in the Plan will receive the equivalent in Common Shares. The Common Shares will be acquired by the Plan Administrator for the participants' accounts, depending upon the circumstances described below, either (i) through receipt of additional unissued but authorized Common Shares from the Fund (Newly Issued Common Shares) or (ii) by purchase of outstanding Common Shares on the open market (Open-Market Purchases) on the American Stock Exchange or elsewhere. If, on the payment date for any Dividend, the closing market price plus estimated brokerage commissions per Common Share is equal to or greater than the net asset value per Common Share, the Plan Administrator will invest the Dividend amount in Newly Issued Common Shares on behalf of the participants. The number of Newly Issued Common Shares to be credited to each participant's account will be determined by dividing the dollar amount of the Dividend by the net asset value per Common Share on the payment date; provided that, if the net asset value is less than or equal to 95% of the closing market value on the payment date, the dollar amount of the Dividend will be divided by 95% of the closing market price per Common Share on the payment date. If, on the payment date for any Dividend, the net asset value per Common Share is greater than the closing market value plus estimated brokerage commissions, the Plan Administrator will invest the Dividend amount in Common Shares acquired on behalf of the participants in Open-Market Purchases. In the event of a market discount on the payment date for any Dividend, the Plan Administrator will have until the last business day before the next date on which the Common Shares trade on an ex-dividend basis or 30 days after the payment date for such Dividend, whichever is sooner (the Last Purchase Date), to invest the Dividend amount in Common Shares acquired in Open-Market Purchases. If, before the Plan Administrator has completed its Open-Market Purchases, the market price per Common Share exceeds the net asset value per Common Share, the average per Common Share purchase price paid by the Plan Administrator may exceed the net asset value of the Common Shares, resulting in the acquisition of fewer Common Shares than if the Dividend had been paid in Newly Issued Common Shares on the Dividend payment date. Because of the foregoing difficulty with respect to Open-Market Purchases, the Plan provides that if the Plan Administrator is unable to invest the full Dividend amount in Open-Market Purchases during the purchase period or if the market discount shifts to a market premium during the purchase period, the Plan Administrator may cease making

Open-Market Purchases and may invest the uninvested portion of the Dividend amount in Newly Issued Common Shares at the net asset value per Common Share at the close of business on the Last Purchase Date provided that, if the net asset value is less than or equal to 95% of the then current market price per Common Share; the dollar amount of the Dividend will be divided by 95% of the market price on the payment date.

The Plan Administrator maintains all shareholders' accounts in the Plan and furnishes written confirmation of all transactions in the accounts, including information needed by shareholders for tax records. Common Shares in the account of each Plan participant will be held by the Plan Administrator on behalf of the Plan participant, and each shareholder proxy will include those shares purchased or received pursuant to the Plan. The Plan Administrator will forward all proxy solicitation materials to participants and vote proxies for shares held under the Plan in accordance with the instructions of the participants. In the case of Common Shareholders such as banks, brokers or nominees which hold shares for others who are the beneficial owners, the Plan Administrator will administer the Plan on the basis of the number of Common Shares certified from time to time by the record shareholder's name and held for the account of beneficial owners who participate in the Plan.

There will be no brokerage charges with respect to Common Shares issued directly by the Fund. However, each participant will pay a pro rata share of brokerage commissions incurred in connection with Open-Market Purchases. The automatic reinvestment of Dividends will not relieve participants of any federal, state or local income tax that may be payable (or required to be withheld) on such Dividends. Participants that request a sale of Common Shares through the Plan Administrator are subject to brokerage commissions. The Fund reserves the right to amend or terminate the Plan. There is no direct service charge to participants with regard to purchases in the Plan; however, the Fund reserves the right to amend the Plan to include a service charge payable by the participants.

All correspondence or questions concerning the Plan should be directed to the Plan Administrator, The Bank of New York Mellon, 101 Barclay Street, New York, New York 10286, 11 E, Transfer Agent Services, (800) 433-8191.

(a)(2)

As of March 31, 2008, the Portfolio Managers listed above are also responsible for the day-to-day management of the following:

Edgar Filing: Clough Global Allocation Fund - Form N-CSR

PM Name	Registered Investment Companies	Other Pooled Investment Vehicles (1)	Other Accounts(2)	Material Conflicts If Any
Charles I Clough, Jr.	3 Accounts $2,821.8 million Total Assets	4 Accounts $391.1 million Total Assets	2 Accounts $161.7 million Total Assets	See below (3)
Eric A. Brock	3 Accounts $2,821.8million Total Assets	4 Accounts $391.1 million Total Assets	2 Accounts $161.7 million Total Assets	See below (3)
James E. Canty	3 Accounts $2,821.8million Total Assets	4 Accounts $391.1 million Total Assets	2 Accounts $161.7 million Total Assets	See below (3)

(1) The advisory fees are based in part on the performance for each accounts.

(2) The advisory fee is based in part on the performance for one account totaling 151.1 million in assets.

(3) Material Conflicts:

Material conflicts of interest may arise as a result of the fact that the Portfolio Managers also have day-to-day management responsibilities with respect to both the Fund and the various accounts listed above (collectively with the Fund, the Accounts). These potential conflicts include:

Limited Resources. The Portfolio Managers cannot devote their full time and attention to the management of each of the Accounts. Accordingly, the Portfolio Managers may be limited in their ability to identify investment opportunities for each of the Accounts that are as attractive as might be the case if the Portfolio Managers were to devote substantially more attention to the management of a single Account. The effects of this potential conflict may be more pronounced where the Accounts have different investment strategies.

Limited Investment Opportunities. If the Portfolio Managers identify a limited investment opportunity that may be appropriate for more than one Account, the investment opportunity may be allocated among several Accounts. This could limit any single Account's ability to take full advantage of an investment opportunity that might not be limited if the Portfolio Managers did not provide investment advice to other Accounts.

Different Investment Strategies. The Accounts managed by the Portfolio Managers have differing investment strategies. If the Portfolio Managers determine that an investment opportunity may be appropriate for only some of the Accounts or decide that certain of the Accounts should take different positions with respect to a particular security, the Portfolio Managers may effect transactions for one or more Accounts which may affect the market price of the security or the execution of the transaction, or both, to the detriment or benefit of one or more other Accounts.

Variation in Compensation. A conflict of interest may arise where Clough or Clough Associates, LLC, as applicable, is compensated differently by the Accounts that are managed by the Portfolio Managers. If certain Accounts pay higher management fees or performance-based incentive fees, the Portfolio Managers might be motivated to prefer certain Accounts over others. The Portfolio Managers might also be motivated to favor Accounts in which they have a greater ownership interest or Accounts that are more likely to enhance the Portfolio Managers' performance record or to otherwise benefit the Portfolio Managers.

Selection of Brokers. The Portfolio Managers select the brokers that execute securities transactions for the Accounts that they supervise. In addition to executing trades, some brokers provide the Portfolio Managers with research and other services which may require the payment of higher brokerage fees than might otherwise be available. The Portfolio Managers' decision as to the selection of brokers could yield disproportionate costs and benefits among the Accounts that they manage, since the research and other services provided by brokers may be more beneficial to some Accounts than to others.

(a)(3) Portfolio Manager Compensation as of March 31, 2008.

The Portfolio Managers each receive a fixed base salary from Clough. The base salary for each Portfolio Manager is typically determined based on market factors and the skill and experience of each Portfolio Manager. Additionally, Clough distributes its annual net profits to the three Portfolio Managers, with Mr. Clough receiving a majority share and the remainder being divided evenly between Mr. Brock and Mr. Canty.

(a)(4) Dollar Range of Securities Owned as of March 31, 2008.

Portfolio Manager	Dollar Range of Global Allocation Securities Held in Registrant (1)
Charles I. Clough, Jr.	$100,001 - $500,000
Eric A. Brock	$10,001 - $50,000
James E. Canty	$50,001 - $100,000

(1) Beneficial Ownership is determined in accordance with Section 16a-1(a)(2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

Item 9. Purchases of Equity Securities by Closed-End Management Investment Companies and Affiliated Purchasers.

None

Item 10. Submission of Matters to Vote of Security Holders.

(b) There was no change in the Registrant's internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rule 30a-3(d) under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended) during the second fiscal quarter of the period covered by this report that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the Registrant's internal control over financial reporting.

Item 12. Exhibits.

(a)(1) The Code of Ethics that applies to the registrant's principal executive officer and principal financial officer is attached hereto as Exhibit 12.A.1.
