Vladimir Polin, Senior Vice President of Mechel OAO, commented on the results of the mining segment: The strong results in Mechel s mining segment were due to both market conditions in the first nine months of 2008 and excellent management of our assets. We took measures to increase the volume of coking coal produced by Yakutugol, allowing us to leverage strong market conditions during the period. At the same time, over the course of 2008 we significantly reduced production costs at Yakutugol by nearly 1.5 times, placing us in a better position to operate successfully through the recent weakness in the global marketplace.

Looking ahead, our priority will continue to be the careful management of our operating costs, as well as the construction of access railroad to the Elga deposit, which is of strategic importance for the Company and can significantly increase its shareholder value in the future. We will also remain flexible with regard to our management of steam and coking coal mining, ensuring we have the maximum production flexibility to adapt to trends in the marketplace.

Revenue from external customers in Mechel s steel segment increased to $4.8 billion in the first nine months of 2008, or 56.3% of consolidated net revenue from external customers, an increase of 54.8% over the first nine months of 2007.

In the first nine months of 2008, the steel segment generated operating income of $1.1 billion, or 22.6% of total segment revenue, an increase of 139.8% over operating income of $472.8 million, or 14.9% of total segment revenue in the first nine months of 2007. EBITDA in the steel segment for the first nine months of 2008 increased 95.9% over the first nine months of 2007. EBITDA margin for the steel segment rose to 22.6% in the first nine months of 2008, compared to 18.3% reported in the same period of last year.

Mr.Polin commented on the results of the steel segment: Mechel s record steel segment results were due to our commitment to the continued optimization of our sales structure and our production cost reductions program, as well as a favorable pricing environment for steel products and the contribution of acquisitions.

Our efforts to improve production efficiencies allowed us to improve our consumption ratios, and as a result, total output of steel products increased while coke and pig iron consumption declined. Mechel also significantly reduced its output of low margin commercial billets and increased output of higher margin, value added products, such as hardware and wire products.

At the same time we expanded our geographic presence, strengthening our position in the Eastern European steel products market with acquisition in April 2008 of Ductil Steel in Romania. Now Mechel has four steel subsidiaries in Romania presenting additional operational and sales synergy opportunities, and began realizing these through the recent establishment of Mechel s East-European Steel Division.

Our previous actions designed to enhance sales efficiency by increasing our direct interaction with the end customer and reducing third party sales through traders have started to pay off. This year we have significantly expanded the branch network of Mechel Service OOO, which is engaged in steel product sales to end customers. Given the current soft rolled product market, these efforts give Mechel competitive advantages and guaranteed volume for its metal products orders by avoiding bulk traders who for the most part ceased their offtake.

Introduction of the Ferroalloy Segment

Ferroalloy segment revenue from external customers for the first nine months of 2008 totaled $402.2 million, or 4.7% of consolidated net revenue, an increase of 1.8% compared with segment revenue from external customers of $395.0 million in the first nine months of 2007.

The EBITDA margin for the ferroalloy segment was 14.4%.

Mr. Polin commented on the results of the ferroalloy segment: The Oriel acquisition rounds out Mechel s ferroalloy business, which includes both ferronickel and ferrochrome assets, and reinforces Mechel s leading position in specialty steel production. Furthermore, the acquisition will help us to weather the challenging economic environment because we now have improved vertical integration at the Group level and a wider range of ferroalloy products through which to further diversify our business and reduce risk across the market cycle. Although nickel prices have been under pressure, which explains the decrease in profitability in the segment for the six and nine months period, we still continue to observe strong market demand for ferrosilicon.

Power Segment Output for the nine months of 2008

			9M 2008 vs. 9M
Product	Units	9M 2008	2007
Electric power generation	ths. kWh	3,108,359	55%
Heat power generation	Gcal	4,098,027.82

Mechel s power segment revenue from external customers for the first nine months of 2008 was $520.1 million, or 6.1% of consolidated net revenue, an increase of 106.8% over segment revenue from external customers a year ago.

Operating income for the first nine months of 2008 in the power segment rose 2,038.8% to $19.1 million compared to operating income of $891.0 thousand a year ago. EBITDA in the power segment for the first nine months of 2008 was $38.5 million, 227.7% higher than segment EBITDA a year ago. The EBITDA margin for the power segment increased from 3.7% to 5.0%.

Mr. Polin commented on the results of the power segment: Because Mechel s power segment is relatively young, throughout the year management continued to focus on structuring the assets and improving their maintenance and investment programs. We are moving toward scaling up our power generation volumes, expanding client base, and maximizing sales on the free market, where pricing is attractive. This segment s financial results continue to be negatively impacted by interest rates on intra-group loans provided for the acquisition of new assets. Nevertheless, the overall Russian power market remains in deficit, and as a result, year over year power prices are expected to increase which should contribute to profitability in this segment. In addition, we have completely transitioned our Bulgarian TPP Rousse to use coal mined by our Southern Kuzbass coal mining subsidiary at market prices stipulated on an annual basis. This practice will continue in 2009, thus enabling Mechel to fully utilize its intra-group integration and making Mechel s steam coal deliveries to Eastern Europe more steady.

Financial Position for the 2008 nine months

First nine months cash expenditure on property, plant and equipment was $969.5 million, of which $499.5 million was invested in the mining segment, $370.5 million was invested in the steel segment, $88.2 million was invested in the ferroalloy segment, and $11.2 million was invested in the power segment.

Mr. Zyuzin concluded: On the whole, favorable market conditions and strong operational execution drove our financial performance through the first nine months of 2008. Over that time we have improved Mechel s production efficiency, optimized its product mix by increasing the percentage of higher margin down stream products, and strengthened its position in new markets. In the near term, while we see steady demand for some of our products, the global economic slowdown has placed pressure on pricing and demand for many of our products, and we have been taking the actions necessary to adapt the business for the challenges associated with this environment. While our performance in the near term will obviously be impacted by the challenges being faced in the global marketplace, we feel well positioned for when the world economy begins to recover. Looking beyond the current global economic crisis, we believe the markets for coking coal and steel are very promising over the longer term, and, more immediately, expect to see opportunities associated with the implementation of large scale infrastructure projects that remain a priority of the Russian government.

The management of Mechel will host a conference call today at 6:00 p.m. Moscow time (10:00 a.m. New York time, 3:00 p.m. London time) to review Mechel s financial results and comment on current operations. The call may be accessed via the Internet at http://www.mechel.com, under the Investor Relations section.

Non-GAAP financial measures. This press release includes financial information prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, or US GAAP, as well as other financial measures referred to as non-GAAP. The non-GAAP financial measures should be considered in addition to, but not as a substitute for, the information prepared in accordance with US GAAP.

Earnings Before Interest, Depreciation and Amortization (EBITDA) and EBITDA margin. EBITDA represents earnings before interest, depreciation and amortization. EBITDA margin is defined as EBITDA as a percentage of our net revenues. Our EBITDA may not be similar to EBITDA measures of other companies; is not a measurement under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States and should be considered in addition to, but not as a substitute for, the information contained in our consolidated statement of operations. We believe that EBITDA provides useful information to investors because it is an indicator of the strength and performance of our ongoing business operations, including our ability to fund discretionary spending such as capital expenditures, acquisitions and other investments and our ability to incur and service debt. While interest, depreciation and amortization are considered operating costs under generally accepted accounting principles, these expenses primarily represent the non-cash current period allocation of costs associated with long-lived assets acquired or constructed in prior periods. Our EBITDA calculation is commonly used as one of the bases for investors, analysts and credit rating agencies to evaluate and compare the periodic and future operating performance and value of companies within the metals and mining industry. EBITDA can be reconciled to our consolidated statements of operations as follows:
