Background

Basic Energy, Inc. (the "Company") was originally organized on June 4, 1926 in the State of Utah under the name The M.M. Lead Company to pursue and develop mining operations. On February 28, 1979, the Company changed its name to M.M. Lead Company and again changed its name to Basic Energy, Inc., on February 22, 1980. The Company was unsuccessful in its pursuit of mining ventures and was dormant. The Company then focused its efforts on seeking, investigating, and if warranted, acquiring an interest in a business opportunity. On January 28, 2003, the Company acquired SkyFrames, Inc., a Texas corporation ("Skyframes Texas") pursuant to an Exchange Agreement (the "Agreement"), dated as of January 28, 2003. The Company acquired all of the outstanding shares of Common Stock of Skyframes Texas, in exchange for 8,500,000 shares of the Company's Common Stock. In addition, the Company issued 150,000 shares for cash received by the Company at $.50 per share (all numbers give effect to a 1 for 100 reverse stock split). Following the acquisition the name of the Company was changed to Skyframes, Inc. All references in this report to Skyframes are to the combined entity.

Our principal executive offices are located at 555 Anton Boulevard, Suite 1200, Costa Mesa, California 92626 and our telephone number at that location is (714) 957-1000. General

Skyframes uses satellite technology to provide high-speed broadband data transmission services. Our primary business consists of diverse path connectivity for government and business. Government and business have become dependent on the Internet and private intranet, typically accessed through the terrestrial telephone system. In the event of an outage in terrestrial services due to natural disasters or equipment malfunctions, our Diverse Path system can provide a back up access to ensure connectivity. As of June 30, 2003, we had five total Internet service provider type customers with a subscriber base of 250 users.

The Diverse Path system consists of three major components: the satellite, the Skyframes uplink center in Riverside County, California and the remote site gateway which is installed at the customer's location. This remote site gateway consists of a 1.2 meter send/receive satellite antenna, a specially-developed, rack mountable windows NT PC with a PCI satellite modem card, a satellite modulator, a transmitter power source network card and proprietary software. Each remote site gateway has a static Internet protocol address. Uplink speeds of 128K to 1megabit and downlink speeds of two to four megabits per second can be achieved. The remote site gateway is leased or purchased by each customer. Customers pay a monthly standby fee and an additional hourly fee for actual usage.

Skyframes entered into a satellite service agreement with Clear Channel Satellite Services in October 2002, under which Clear Channel provides transponder and satellite time on a pre-emptive basis. Clear Channel's satellite AMC-4 gives coverage of the Americas. Skyframes pays to Clear Channel the greater of 75% of revenues collected from customers or approximately $5,800 per month. Clear Channel has the exclusive right to acquire Skyframes for a 24-month period commencing after Skyframes has been operating for 18 months, for one times gross annual sales or fair market value, whichever is greater. Skyframes has the option to convert to the provision of services on a non-preemptible basis on terms to be negotiated.

In October 2002, Skyframes entered into a private line service order with Intelsat Global Sales & Marketing Ltd. whereby Intelsat provides bandwidth, antenna hosting and collocation services to Skyframes. Intelsat is providing such services on an on-going basis to Skyframes.

Skyframes also intends to market its systems for use as a primary system, either in remote areas where telephone service is expensive or unreliable, or to users that desire more secure (non-interceptable) data communications.

The Riverside County teleport includes routers and communications equipment owned by Skyframes, but the physical space for our equipment and the uplink is rented from Intelsat.

Marketing and Employees

Marketing is performed by outside contract employees and the officers and directors not all of whom are full time. As of fiscal year end 2003, Skyframes had only a limited number of customers and is in the early stage of market development. Currently, Mr. France, our Chief Executive Officer, is our only full time employee. We have no clerical or administrative employees other than the officers and directors, but we intend to hire two clerical and administrative employees and a customer service employee when we have sufficient revenues and capital.

Technology

Our technology consists of specific hardware configurations designed by us as well as off-the-shelf and custom software. We own the copyright on the custom software. Our technology enables connection time of four megabits per second, which is four times faster than ISDN. In addition, our technology enables a broadband connection wherever there is an alternating current power source, making it ideal for remote locations or as a backup to fiber optic or copper telephone lines. Shiron Corporation manufactures the platform used by Skyframes. The rest of our technology is provided by off-the-shelf suppliers.

Communications Satellites and Future Expansion

Understanding all the uses of satellite is important because Skyframes can expand its business into other areas served by satellite transmissions, such as private television networks and VOip or secure data links.

Edgar Filing: SKYFRAMES INC - Form 10KSB

Communications satellites constitute an attractive solution in telecommunications as they allow for immediate access to information resources, both regionally and globally. Satellite communications are currently used predominantly for digital circuits for data communications, television transmission, and for those areas with high traffic or where line-of-sight microwave is impractical. Current applications for communication satellites include voice, audio and video entertainment (including direct-to-home television and digital audio broadcasting services), image (facsimile), video teleconferencing, interactive video, e-mail, and global Internet. Satellite communication systems avoid the need for terrestrial infrastructure, and shorten the time of establishing communications in rural areas. Satellite systems have important features that fiber optics lack: mobility (mobile users cannot be connected to the fiber network directly), flexibility (once a terrestrial infrastructure is built, it is extremely expensive to restructure it), and rural and remote connections (it is still not cost-effective to deploy high-capacity fiber networks in areas with low-density traffic and difficult topography). Geostationary satellites compete with expanding terrestrial and fiber-optic networks for point-to-point transmission of domestic, regional, and international telecommunication services. Two of the most dynamic sectors for communication satellites include broadcasting direct-to-home and mobile satellite communications. The market for domestic direct broadcast satellite TV, or high-powered, multi-channel satellite television beamed directly to the home, is expected to increase in the near future. Also, non-geostationary satellites in low- and medium-earth orbits will be increasingly used to provide personal, portable and mobile telephony.

Regulation

Our activities require a license from the Federal Communication Commission, but we are currently operating under the license of the teleport in Riverside County. We applied for and received a license under our own name in 2003 from the FCC to operate our own hub ground station. Currently, we rent the antenna array from Allen Communications and Intelesat Global Sales & Marketing Ltd.

Compliance with Environmental Laws

Our manufacturing is outsourced. To our knowledge, federal, state or local environmental laws do not effect our operations and we have not spent any funds to comply with any such laws.

Competition

We compete in the business segment of Internet broadband. There are many competitors in this marketplace but no one competitor has a significant share of our rural target market. Skyframe's Diverse Path services and platform products will compete on the basis of lower cost and the efficiency of the payload being transmitted (less than $500 per month) than existing competitors such as Tachyon, Inc., Immeon Networks, LLC, StarBand Communications, Inc. and Verestar, Inc. This higher performance configuration, (Vsat - 384 kbps Upload and 2048 Download speeds) is embodied in software and hardware configurations designed by SkyFrames. We believe our configuration approach along with our new VOS technology with onboard switching (VOS - minimum 1.5 mbps Up and Download speeds. This product is proprietary and currently under a patent pending application), which significantly improves performance by a factor of an estimated five times over our competitors. Our service for remote areas is reaching areas of North America, such as Alaska and Mexico, previously not serviced or poorly serviced by our competitors. We have established a price list for this remote service, which is publicized on our web site at www.SkyFrames.com.

Legal Proceedings

Skyframes is not a party to any pending legal proceeding.

Additional Financing

We may need to raise additional funds to meet operating requirements in the future. We currently have an Investment Banking Agreement with Ocean Drive Capital, LLC to raise additional funds through the private placement of our stock. If we raise additional funds through issuance of equity related or debt securities, such securities may have rights to our common stock, such as warrants or options. Shareholders may experience additional dilution from exercise of these equity instruments. We cannot be certain that additional financing will be available when required or at all. (See 'Liquidity and Capital Resources' for further discussion)

Item 2. DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY

We rent approximately 900 square feet of modern office space at 555 Anton Boulevard, Costa Mesa, California for approximately $1,750 per month, increasing yearly to approximately $1,850 in the final year of the lease. The lease expires in September 2005 and is guaranteed by two of our investors. We also have rented 928 square feet at 5025 Gavilan Way, Suite 51, Oceanside, California for our engineering and customer service center for $1,142 per month, increasing after one year to $1,189 per month. The lease expires in September 2004 and is guaranteed by an investor. Our uplink center is located at a teleport in Riverside County, California, and is rented from Intelsat. We pay $5,100 per month for the bandwidth and rack space. All of our facilities are in good condition. Management considers these facilities to be adequate for its requirements for the immediate future.

3

Item 3. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

No legal proceedings are threatened or pending against the Company or any of its officers or directors. Further, none of the Company's officers or directors or affiliates of the Company are parties against the Company or have any material interests that are adverse to the Company's interests.

Item 4. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS

No matters were submitted to a vote of security holders during the fourth quarter of the fiscal year ended June 30, 2003.

Management Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Overview

The Company is an early stage provider of low-cost high-speed secure Internet broadband services. SkyFrames delivers broadband speeds to rural locations that enable applications to be delivered in a manner that were previously unattainable. This reliable technology platform delivers speeds equal to or greater than terrestrial broadband in these various rural areas. There are over 20,000 communities in the US alone that would gain significant benefit from SkyFrames services. This market continues to grow due to past events such as the destruction of the World Trade Center and unforeseen man-made or natural disasters that destroy communications infrastructure. Skyframes presents a viable redundancy or alternate solution to traditional broadband platforms available to rural areas. Applications for the Company's product and services include: Corporate data networks, distance learning centers, disaster recovery, government municipalities applications, information distribution, rural telecommunications initiatives, and backup terrestrial data support infrastructure. Beginning in March 2003 and over the next quarter through June 2003 sales revenue have begun developing. Recent sales development activity in Mexico, Alaska and the joint development efforts overseas for the military should continue to produce new awareness of the SkyFrames product offering, yielding continued similar sales growth over the next 18 months.

The Company provides two main product offerings to deliver these services. The first is VSAT (Very Small Aperture Terminal) systems, which can be deployed immediately to areas where there is little or no connectivity. The Company's VSAT system is an ideal system for Internet access for rural communities. This product will also be used in business continuity and disaster recovery situations, providing a diverse path backup system. Management believes this system is very competitive and provides a quality offering above some existing or legacy systems offered currently in the marketplace. Our proprietary software allows the implementation of bandwidth on demand protocol with Demand Assigned Multiple Access and static IP addressing. SkyFrames's advanced satellite product called VOS (Virtual Onboard Switching) was designed to provide a secure intelligent routing and switching firmware design that interoperates cohesively with international standards for uplink and downlink equipment as well as various terrestrial IP networks. This technology implements a unique deployment of digital video broadcast technology for the creation of a mesh Internet backbone with very low latency. This highly efficient systems major feature is that it is extremely secure and operates in its own closed environment, thus providing a true private network with no public switches. Both products allow for the creating of broadband wireless signals in rural areas.

These products and the continued subscriber base developed by each user on the system installed will generate reoccurring revenue base for the Company. A typical installed site pays monthly user fees for access to the system. Sales are generated by a direct sales force and through VARs (Value Added Resellers). In the fourth quarter, the Company has begun to see this reoccurring revenue from these products and management believes a good selling effort is under way. Through June 2003, we entered into a number of contracts representing approximately $200,000 in potential orders. These orders resulted in revenues of $53,925 for the year ending June 30, 2003.

In April 2003, Skyframes sold a wireless broadband system to the town of Coffman Cove, Alaska for rural connectivity. Installation took place in the beginning of June, 2003 and management believes the installation was successful considering the remote location. Skyframes has begun to sell to some of the other 400 rural communities in Alaska which are in need of broadband connectivity. In May 2003, Skyframes entered into an agreement with NetWorth Inc., a value-added integrator specializing in disaster recovery systems. NetWorth will sell Skyframes VSAT solutions to the business continuity market and utilize mobile broadband units. NetWorth initially will focus in Florida where natural disasters can shut down communications systems for days. In June 2003, SkyFrames received research validation and bench testing from Lawrence Livermore Laboratories, one of the most respected research facilities in the world. Skyframes management believes its product may be used for specific project application of science and technology for a number of national security issues. In May 2003, SkyFrames had a successful installation of Satellite Broadband and WiFi services in the rural community of Golden Valley, Arizona. SkyFrames and Arizona High Speed Access, an ISP that provides broadband connectivity services for rural locations in Arizona, are creating wireless signals in areas that previously had no broadband connectivity. The SkyFrames service is cost-effective and reliable compared to the offerings from other telecommunications companies.

Our future sales are difficult to predict because we are in our initial phase of operations and capital raising activity. The Company has not yet developed commercial credit lines and depends solely on capital to further increase its sales levels. There are many factors that could impact our ability to perform, but our limited history makes the level of future revenues extremely difficult to predict. We could have technical problems; personnel problems and we do have continuing liquidity problems as discussed below. One or more of our customers could fail to perform, and this would adversely impact our results of operations.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

Our discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations are based upon our financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of

America. The preparation of these financial statements requires us to make estimates and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses, and related disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities. On an ongoing basis, we evaluate our estimates, including those related to reserves, impairment of long-lived assets and estimates of costs to complete contracts. We base our estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that we believe to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying value of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions; however, we believe that our estimates, including those for the above-described items, are reasonable.

Results of Start-up Operations for the year-end of June 30, 2003.

The statement of operations for the Company does not reflect any significant revenue in the March 2003 quarter due to the start-up of selling activity. However, in the subsequent quarter through the June 2003 year-end, revenues improved substantially. There is no prior sales history for the Company prior to the March 2003 period as the Company had no operations or revenues prior to the acquisition of SkyFrames, Inc., a Texas

	Year Ending June 30, 2003 -----
Revenues	$53,925

The Company has entered into a contract with Clear Channel as its satellite link provider. This contract is on a revenue share basis and we believe provides a solid financial model on which to project margin. However, non-cash item charges associated with the startup operation exceeded the sales revenue. A number of factors will drive costs in the future as well as revenues; ratios to revenue should not fluctuate appreciably. The primary expense associated with providing these services, after the hardware installation, will be the ongoing satellite broadband monitoring service. This expense will be directly proportional to the number of users on the system.

	Year Ended June 30, 2003 -----
General & Administrative expenses	$4,487,025
Selling Expenses	$ 6,972

In the year-end June 30, 2003, general and administrative expenses increased substantially as the Company activity increased. The principal increase was due to addition to the Company's management, use of outside consultants, and the sales ramp up activity in some remote locations. We paid substantially all of our start up costs for services by the issuance of common stock valued at $3,330,750, post stock split share values, during the year-ended June 30, 2003. The increase in general and administrative costs is expected to continue as more customers are added. However, these expenses (except for the expenses accrued for stock compensation, which was more related to start up expenses) should become proportionate to revenue and not adversely effect margins in the future. Staff increases will be expense as a percentage of sales and administration, order entry, quality assurance and customer service support.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Management and shareholders are currently funding the Company's financial requirements with advances of $134,649 and private placements of equity of $145,000 with non-related parties, through June 30, 2003 and by accruing expenses. On June 16, 2003 the Company entered in to an investment banking agreement with Ocean Drive Capital, LLC. This agreement details the plan for raising on a private basis up to $5 million. This relationship should help the company in meeting its future capital requirements upon a successful placement. On June 16, 2003, Ocean Drive Capital began funding a series of bridge loans beginning with $150,000 and a commitment for another $250,000 to assist the company in meeting its short-term needs beginning in August 2003. Both bridge loans accrue interest at a per annum rate of 8% per year, have maturity dates one year from the date of the promissory notes and are convertible into shares of our common stock at a conversion price of $0.50 per share. Given the recent increase of the selling activity, pending orders and the increasing operating expenses, the Company will require this additional capital. Management intends to continue to seek the funding necessary to meet all the capital and operating requirements. However, there is no guarantee that the Company will be able to raise the necessary capital. We are also investigating the possibility of accounts receivable financing. There can be no assurance that our efforts to obtain financing will be successful or that proceeds raised from the sale of our securities or other financing activities will be sufficient to fund the operating activities or service any indebtedness as a result of the capital raising activities. If the funds received are insufficient, then the Company's ability to continue as a going concern could be adversely affected.

Economic Conditions and Trends

Management believes current economic conditions and the capital markets generally will impact the timing and the results of any private sale of securities or other financing activities. The Company is dependent on timely financing to support product sales flow and customer deliveries. Accordingly, management has kept overhead down and requires customers to provide a (50%) fifty percent down payment with each order. However, the remaining payment (50%) is carried until the product is delivered. The results are a 30 to 45 day carry time before the Company receives the balance of its payments. This negatively impacts accounts payables timing. This concern for long term financing may have an adverse effect on the Company's performance, if not resolved in the near future. Management believes it can work through the short-term issues for some period of time. However, future sales levels, if substantial, will increase pressure on the need for a long term funding solution.

We are a development stage company as that term is defined in paragraphs 8 and 9 of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 7. Our activities to date have been limited to seeking capital; seeking supply contracts and development of a business market for our products and services. Our auditors have included an explanatory paragraph in their report on our financial statements, relating to the uncertainty of our business as a going concern, due to our lack of operating history, lack of profitable operations and working capital deficit. We do not believe that conventional financing, such as bank loans, is available to us due to these factors. Management believes that it will be able to raise the required funds for operations from one or more future offerings, and to be able to affect our business plan. However, Management believes that Skyframes's ability to raise significant amounts of financing will be dependent on favorable capital markets and also on the continuing development of resellers and distribution centers as well as other risks inherent in the business may affect the outcome of Management's plans.

New Accounting Standards

Edgar Filing: SKYFRAMES INC - Form 10KSB

In November, 2002, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Interpretation No. 45, "Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others," ("FIN 45"). FIN 45 requires us to recognize, at the inception of a guarantee, a liability for the fair value of the obligation undertaken in the issuance of the guarantee. FIN 45 is effective for guarantees issued or modified after December 31, 2002. The disclosure requirements effective for the year ending December 31, 2002 expand the disclosures required by a guarantor about its obligations under a guarantee. The adoption of the disclosure requirements of this statement did not impact our financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

In December 2002, Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 148, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation - Transition and Disclosure," ("SFAS 148") was issued. SFAS 148 amends Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation," ("SFAS 123") to provide alternative methods of transition for a voluntary change to the fair value method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation. In addition, SFAS 148 amends the disclosure requirements of SFAS 123 to require prominent disclosures in both annual and interim financial statements about the method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation and the effect of the method used on the reported results. The provisions of SFAS 148 are effective for the financial statements for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2002 and interim periods beginning after December 15, 2002. The adoption of the disclosure requirements of this statement did not impact our financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

In May 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 150, "Accounting for Certain Financial Instruments with Characteristics of both Liabilities and Equity." SFAS No. 150 establishes standards for how an issuer classifies and measures certain financial instruments with characteristics of both liabilities and equity. It requires that an issuer classify a financial instrument that is within its scope as a liability (or an asset in some circumstances). SFAS No. 150 is effective for financial instruments entered into or modified after May 31, 2003, and otherwise is effective at the beginning of the first interim period beginning after June 15, 2003. It is to be implemented by reporting the cumulative effect of a change in an accounting principle for financial instruments created before the issuance date of SFAS No. 150 and still existing at the beginning of the interim period of adoption. Restatement is not permitted. We do not expect the adoption of SFAS No. 150 to have a material impact upon our financial position, cash flows or results of operations.

Factors Affecting Business, Operating Results and Financial Condition

An investment in our securities is very speculative and involves a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider the following risk factors, along with the other matters referred to in this Annual Report and in other documents we file with the Securities and Exchange Commission, before you decide to buy our securities. If you decide to buy our securities, you should be able to afford a complete loss of your investment.

We are a recently formed business with very little operating history, therefore you have no basis on which to determine if we can be successful.

In January 2003 we merged with Skyframes, Inc., a Texas corporation. Prior to that, we had been dormant. We have a very short history of operations, and we only recently began marketing our products and services. We are not certain that our products and services will generate significant revenues. Because of our short operating history, you will have no basis upon which to accurately forecast our future operations, including sales, or to judge our ability to develop our business.

Because we have only recently have been earning revenues, the success of our business requires continued funding. If we cannot raise the money we need to support our operations until we earn significant revenues, we may be required to curtail or to cease our operations and you could lose your entire investment.

We are subject to the risks and uncertainties inherent in new businesses. If we fail to accurately forecast our capital needs or if our product does not earn significant revenues our business could fail.

We are subject to the risks and uncertainties inherent in new businesses, including the following, including the following:

- o Our projected capital needs may be inaccurate, and we may not have enough money to develop our business as planned;

11

- o We may experience unanticipated development or marketing expenses, which may make it difficult to develop our business;
- o We may not earn enough revenues from the sales of our products to cover the costs of operating our business

If we are unsuccessful in our efforts to develop our business and if the product we provide does not produce revenues as we project, we are not likely to ever become profitable and we may be required to curtail some or all of our operations.

We are dependent for our success on a few employees. The loss of one or more of these employees could have an adverse effect on our operations.

Our future success will depend, to a significant degree, on the continued services of our Chief Executive Officer, Jim France and our ability to attract, motivate and retain highly qualified and talented contract personnel. The loss of the services of Mr. France would have a material adverse effect on our business and operations.

We depend on satellite transmission. Satellite failure could have a substantial negative effect on our business operations.

We use a single satellite to provide satellite Internet/Intranet services. There is risk associated with this dependence. There are two types of possible failures to the satellite: a failure of the individual transponder that is used and a failure of the entire satellite. If there is a failure of a transponder, the satellite operator is contractually obligated to move us to another transponder. This would create a minimum interruption to customers, likely less than 24 hours. If the satellite itself completely fails, we will have to move our services to another satellite. Our transmissions conform to industry standards so there are several possible alternative satellites. Our current satellite provider engages in quarterly reviews of available like-satellite space and is ready to contract for that space if needed. If the entire satellite were to fail, a one to five day outage of services might occur depending on the availability of other satellites. Additionally, a repointing of the receiving dishes on the ground would likely be required. The repointing of the receiving dishes on the ground would cost us approximately $300 per customer. In the event of any service disruption due to satellite failure, our customers would be credited for the dollar value of the amount of time they are without the satellite Internet service. Such credits could be up to $200.00 per day per customer depending on the level of service subscribed. In the event of a satellite failure, we could also be subject to loss-of-business claims, due to the reliance by business customers on the satellite Internet services we provide. A sustained disruption in satellite service could materially and negatively impact the value of our business and could force us to discontinue operations.

We have no assurance of market acceptance of our products and services. If we are unable to raise market awareness of our products and services, we will not be able to obtain many customers, which would materially impact our business.

We are at an early stage of market development and our earnings depend primarily upon market acceptance of our products and services. There can be no assurance that our development efforts will progress further with respect to any potential new services or that they will be successfully completed. In addition, there can be no assurance that our current or our potential new services will achieve customer acceptance.

There can be no assurance that our services will be successfully marketed. In addition to our own direct sales effort, we use value-added resellers and distributors to market our satellite products and services. There is no assurance that any distributor or other reseller will be successful in marketing our products.

Our auditors have rendered a Going Concern Emphasis Opinion on our Financial Statements

Our auditors have expressed concern as to our ability to continue as a going concern. If our business is ultimately unsuccessful, the assets on our balance sheet could be worth significantly less than their carrying value and the amount available for distribution to stockholders on liquidation would likely be insignificant.

We have not paid cash dividends and it is unlikely that we will pay cash dividends in the foreseeable future.

We plan to use all of our earnings, to the extent we have earnings, to fund our operations. We do not plan to pay any cash dividends in the foreseeable future. We cannot guarantee that we will, at any time, generate sufficient surplus cash that would be available for distribution as a dividend to the holders of our Common Stock. You should not expect to receive dividends on our Common Stock.

We have the ability to issue additional shares of our Common Stock without asking for shareholder approval, which could cause your investment to be diluted.

Our Articles of Incorporation currently authorize the Board of Directors to issue up to 20,000,000 shares of Common Stock. The power of the Board of Directors to issue shares of Common Stock or warrants or options to purchase shares of Common Stock is generally not subject to shareholder approval. Accordingly, any additional issuance of our Common Stock may have the effect of diluting your investment.

We may raise additional capital through a securities offering that could dilute

your ownership interest.

We require working capital to fund our business. If we raise additional funds through the issuance of equity, equity-related or convertible debt securities, those securities may have rights, preferences or privileges senior to those of the holders of our Common Stock. The issuance of additional Common Stock or securities convertible into Common Stock by our management will also have the effect of further diluting the proportionate equity interest and voting power of holders of our Common Stock.

The liquidity of our common stock could be impaired.

Our common stock does not meet the listing requirements for any trading market other than the OTC Bulletin Board or the pink sheets. Consequently, the liquidity of our securities could be impaired, not only in the number of securities which could be bought and sold, but also through delays in the timing of transactions, reduction in security analysts' and the news media's coverage of us and lower prices for our securities than might otherwise be attained.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Directors
SKYFRAMES, INC.
Costa Mesa, California

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of Skyframes, Inc. (formerly Basic Energy, Inc.) [a development stage company] at June 30, 2003 and the related statements of operations, stockholders' equity (deficit) and cash flows for the year ended June 30, 2003 and for the periods from inception on May 24, 2002 through June 30, 2002 and 2003. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements audited by us present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Skyframes, Inc. (formerly Basic Energy, Inc.) [a development stage company] as of June 30, 2003 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended June 30, 2003 and for the periods from inception on May 24, 2002 through June 30, 2002 and 2003, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 7 to the financial statements, the Company was only recently formed and has not yet been successful in establishing profitable operations. Further, the Company has current liabilities in excess of current assets. These factors raise substantial doubt about the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regards to these matters are also described in Note 7. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of these uncertainties.

NOTE 6 - INCOME TAXES

The Company accounts for income taxes in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes". SFAS No. 109 requires the Company to provide a net deferred tax asset or liability equal to the expected future tax benefit or expense of temporary reporting differences between book and tax accounting methods and any available operating loss or tax credit carryforwards. At June 30, 2003, the Company has available unused operating loss carryforwards of approximately $5,910,000, which may be applied against future taxable income and which expire in various years through 2023.

At June 30, 2003, the total of all deferred tax assets was approximately $2,213,000 and the total of all deferred tax liabilities was approximately $0. The amount of and ultimate realization of the benefits from the deferred tax assets for income tax purposes is dependent, in part, upon the tax laws in effect, the future earnings of the Company, and other future events, the effects of which cannot be determined. Because of the uncertainty surrounding the realization of the loss carryforwards, the Company has established a valuation allowance of approximately $2,213,000. The net change in the valuation allowance was approximately $2,196,000 during the year ended June 30, 2003.

The temporary differences gave rise to the following deferred tax asset (liability):

	June 30, 2003
Excess of tax over financial accounting depreciation	$ 1,122
Accrued compensation	7,162
Net operating loss carryover	2,204,388

NOTE 6 - INCOME TAXES [Continued]

The components of federal income tax expense from continuing operations consisted of the following for the year ended:

	June 30, 2003

Current income tax expense:
Federal	$ --
State	--

Net current tax expense	$ --

Deferred tax expense (benefit) resulted from:
Excess of tax over financial accounting depreciation	$ 712
Accrued compensation	7,872
Net operating loss carryover	(2,204,388)
Valuation allowance	2,195,804

Net deferred tax expense	$ --

Deferred income tax expense results primarily from the reversal of temporary timing differences between tax and financial statement income.

The reconciliation of income tax from continuing operations computed at the U.S. federal statutory tax rate to the Company's effective rate is as follows for the year ended:

	June 30, 2003

Computed tax at the expected federal statutory rate	34.00%
State income taxes, net of federal benefit	3.30
Compensation due to issue of options	(3.35)

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 7 - GOING CONCERN

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America, which contemplate continuation of the Company as a going concern. However, the Company was only recently formed and has not yet been successful in establishing profitable operations. Further, the Company has current liabilities in excess of current assets. These factors raise substantial doubt about the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. In this regard, management is proposing to raise any necessary additional funds not provided by operations through loans or through additional sales of its common stock. There is no assurance that the Company will be successful in raising this additional capital or in achieving profitable operations. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of these uncertainties.

NOTE 8 - LOSS PER SHARE

The following data shows the amounts used in computing loss per share:

	For the Year Ended June 30, 2003	From Inception on May 24, 2002 Through June 30,
	-----	2002	2003
	-----	-----	-----
Loss available to common shareholders (numerator)	$ (6,489,743)	$ (86,271)	$ (6,576,014)
Weighted average number of common shares outstanding used in loss per share during the period (denominator)	10,023,397	2,500,000	9,330,945
	-----	-----	-----

At June 30, 2003, the Company had 110,000 outstanding options, 450,000 outstanding warrants and notes payable convertible into 301,000 shares of common stock which were not used in the computation of dilutive loss per share because their effect would be anti-dilutive. Dilutive loss per share was not presented, as the Company had no common stock equivalent shares for all periods presented that would affect the computation of diluted loss per share.
