Comments from the Chief Executive Officer

Jaime Rivera, Bladex's Chief Executive Officer, stated the following regarding the quarterly and year end results:

"The Bank's performance during the fourth quarter, and during 2007 as a whole, was a proxy for the steady, quality growth pattern established by Bladex during the last four years.

During 2007, we achieved steady growth and solid returns across all of our business lines. The operating contribution of the Commercial Division increased 25%, the second consecutive year of double digit growth rates. The Commercial Division remains at the heart of the Bank's business, responsible for 59% of the year's operating results.

Our Treasury Division had a successful year as well, contributing 15% of operating income. In addition, we were able to strengthen liquidity and improve the diversification and relative cost of our funding.

Bladex's proprietary asset management operations had what, in our opinion, can be objectively described as a banner year, with returns over NAV amounting to 23.34%.

These results prove that our business model combines the strength and stability of our credit risk-driven core business with higher-return, market-risk oriented activities.

After a four year period of ample liquidity and lax credit standards in the markets (to which Bladex never subscribed, as evidenced by our pristine portfolio), we are experiencing a steady improvement in our intermediation margins. In addition, current circumstances in the markets, while increasing the levels of volatility, provide Bladex with attractive opportunities.

Events in the financial markets during the last few months compel me to state unequivocally that Bladex is not afflicted with any of the types problems impacting some segments of the international financial industry. The Bank's accounting records and information are simple, clear, transparent, and reflective of the entirety of our business.

Regarding our plans moving forward, further, steady improvement in ROE, while continuing to strengthen the Bank's growing core business, will remain the driving force behind the management of the company. We will continue optimizing our business, convinced that our valuation will reflect the unique value of our franchise," Mr. Rivera concluded.

CONSOLIDATED RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Net Income

Yearly Variation

For 2007, net income amounted to $72.2 million, up $14.3 million, or 25% from the $57.9 million reported in 2006. This result reflects a $31.9 million, or 81%, increase in operating income, which was mainly driven by the combination of a $11.7 million, or 20%, increase in net interest income (mostly from the Commercial Division), $23.0 million in higher gains at Bladex Asset Management ("BAM"), and $6.6 million on gains on sales in the available for sale investment portfolio.

The following graphs illustrate the percentage distribution of the Bank's net income:

Net Income Distribution

The following graphs illustrate the percentage distribution of the Bank's operating revenues:

Operating Revenues ⁽¹⁾ Distribution

(1) Operating revenues refers to net income excluding operating expenses, reversals (provisions) for credit losses, and recoveries (impairment), on assets.

Quarterly Variation

Net income for the fourth quarter 2007 amounted to $15.5 million, an increase of $0.7 million, or 5%, from the third quarter 2007, and 26% below the level of the fourth quarter 2006. The increased net income figure in the fourth quarter with respect to the third quarter was mostly attributed to an increase in the Commercial Division's net interest income, in addition to the Treasury Division's higher net gains on the sale of securities available for sale. These results were partially offset by an increase in operating expenses, and smaller trading gains in Bladex Asset Management ("BAM") operations.

The 26% decrease in net income in the fourth quarter 2007 compared to the fourth quarter 2006 mostly reflects a one-time recovery on impaired assets that took place in 2006, as well as higher generic provisions for credit losses, both of which offset the 12% increase in operating income.

The following graphs illustrate the percentage distribution of the Bank's net income:

NET INTEREST INCOME AND MARGINS

The table below shows the Bank's net interest income and net interest margin for the periods indicated:

(In US$ million, except percentages)

Net Interest Margin ⁽¹⁾	1.76%	1.71%	1.76%	1.65%	1.69%

2007 vs. 2006

Net interest income for 2007 totaled $70.6 million, up $11.7 million, or 20%, from 2006. The increase in net interest income was the result of higher average balances in the loan portfolio (24%), and increased weighted average lending spreads over Libor.

4Q07 vs. 3Q07

Net interest income for the fourth quarter 2007 reached $19.1 million, an increase of 9%, driven by higher average balances in the loan portfolio, and by increased weighted average lending spreads over Libor, which led to an increase in the net interest margin ("NIM").

FEES AND COMMISSIONS

The following table provides a breakdown of fees and commissions for the periods indicated:

(In US$ thousands)

	2006	2007	4Q06	3Q07	4Q07

Fees and commissions, net	$ 6,393	$ 5,555	$ 1,722	$ 1,173	$ 1,582

For 2007, fees and commissions decreased 13%, or $838 thousand, mostly due to lower letter of credit and guarantees activity during the first part of the year.

Fees and commissions for the fourth quarter 2007 increased 35%, or $409 thousand, compared to the third quarter 2007, mostly due to the increased commission income from increased letter of credit and guarantees activity during the latter part of the year.

PORTFOLIO QUALITY AND PROVISION FOR CREDIT LOSSES

As of December 31, 2007, the Bank had zero credits in non-accruing or past-due status. The Bank has no exposure to the sub-prime or mortgage segments in any market, nor does it carry any mono-line insurance risk. In addition, contingent liabilities consist mainly of letters of credit, country risk guarantees and loan commitments pertaining to the Bank's traditional intermediation activities.

As of December 31, 2007, the allowance for credit losses amounted $83.4 million, an increase of $0.3 million from September 30, 2007, reflecting a $3.0 million decrease in the generic allowance for loan losses, and a $3.2 million increase in the generic reserve for off-balance sheet credits.

The $3.0 million decrease in the allowance for loan losses was the result of both changes in the trade mix of the loan portfolio and in the overall country risk profile. The $3.2 million increase in the reserve for losses on off-balance credits mostly reflects increased letter of credit exposure in higher risk markets.

As of December 31, 2007, the ratio of the allowance for credit losses to the commercial portfolio was 1.9%, compared to 2.1% from September 30, 2007, and 2.2% as of December 31, 2006.

The following table depicts information regarding the allowance for credit losses, for the dates indicated:

OPERATING EXPENSES AND EFFICIENCY LEVEL

(In US$ thousands)

	2006	2007	4Q06	3Q07	4Q07
Salaries and other employee expenses	$ 16,826	$ 22,049	$ 5,806	$ 4,865	$ 6,687

Total Operating Expenses	$ 28,929	$ 37,027	$ 9,261	$ 8,652	$ 10,527

2007 vs. 2006

Operating expenses increased by $8.1 million, or 28%, principally due to:

1. $5.2 million increase in salaries and other employee expenses driven mostly by:
 - a. $3.0 million increase in performance-based variable compensation for the Bank's proprietary asset management team;
 - b. $0.7 million related to senior management's stock compensation plan;
 - c. $0.6 million associated with a one-time accrual of employee vacation provision; and a
 - d. $0.9 million increase in performance-based variable compensation provision for business lines other than proprietary asset management.
2. $1.3 million increase in maintenance and depreciation expenses related to the new technology platform;
3. $0.9 million increase in professional services, mostly due to legal expenses and the renewal of the Bank's EMTN Program; and a
4. $0.6 million increase in expenses related to marketing and business travel.

Year-over-year, efficiency levels improved once again as revenue growth exceeded expense growth:

4Q07 vs. 3Q07

The $1.9 million increase in operating expenses was mostly driven by higher stock option compensation for the Bank's senior management, a one-time accrual employee vacation provision and higher legal expenses. These were partially offset by a one-time decrease in 'other' operating expenses.

Excluding the impact of 2006 net revenues from the impaired portfolio, operating income increased 35%. The Bank no longer carries any impaired credits on its books, and thus, did not recognized revenues from such assets in 2007.

Quarterly Variation

Operating income from the Commercial Division for the fourth quarter 2007 reached $11.4 million, a 6% increase compared to the third quarter 2007. Quarterly Variation

During the fourth quarter 2007, operating income from the Treasury Division amounted to $2.8 million, compared to $0.8 million in the third quarter 2007. The $2.1 million quarterly increase was mostly due to higher gains on the sale of securities available for sale.

Compared to the fourth quarter 2006, operating income from the Treasury Division increased by $2.3 million, mostly due to increased net interest income and higher gains on the sale of securities available for sale.

Bladex Asset Management

Bladex Asset Management (“BAM”) incorporates the Bank’s proprietary asset management activities. Operating income from BAM is presented net of allocated operating expenses, and includes net interest income on trading securities, as well as trading gains and losses.
