Released 17:24 23 Oct 2002

Diageo agrees call option with General Mills

General Mills has issued an announcement stating that it has agreed to issue $1.35 billion aggregate principal amount of convertible debentures ($1.50 billion aggregate principal amount if an initial purchasers option is exercised in full). The debentures are convertible into an aggregate of 26,183,088 ordinary shares of General Mills (29,092,320 ordinary shares of General Mills if the initial purchasers option is exercised in full).

On October 23, 2002, Diageo granted to General Mills a call option over 26,183,088 of General Mills ordinary shares that are held by Diageo and, if the initial purchasers option is exercised, Diageo expects that it will grant General Mills a call option over up to an additional 2,909,232 of General Mills ordinary shares. The premium for the call option is $3.07 per share or an aggregate of $80,382,080.16 ($89,313,422.40 if the initial purchasers option is covered in full). The strike price for the call option is $51.56 per ordinary share of General Mills. The options expire on October 28, 2005.

Under the call option agreement, subject to restrictions on exercise in the first year, through September 28, 2005, General Mills may exercise the option in whole or in part at any time in respect of up to 5,000,000 shares provided that (1) such exercises are in respect of issuances under its convertible debentures and (2) such exercises would not cause Diageo to hold less than 20% of the outstanding ordinary shares of General Mills. From September 29, 2005 through the expiration of the call option on October 28, 2005, General Mills may exercise the call option without restriction provided that, if General Mills exercises the option during that period, General Mills will be obligated to exercise the option in respect of all ordinary shares covered by the call option agreement that were not previously purchased.

Diageo currently owns 79,000,000 ordinary shares of General Mills. Diageo has agreed with General Mills not to transfer the ordinary shares of General Mills underlying the option during the term of the option, except pursuant to an exercise of the option and certain limited circumstances. Diageo also has agreed not to transfer any ordinary shares of General Mills currently held by Diageo prior to July 1, 2003, subject to certain limited exceptions. Because Diageo retains ownership of the ordinary shares subject to the call option, it retains the contingent value rights associated with those ordinary shares.

The option premium paid to Diageo will, under UK GAAP, be deferred in creditors on the balance sheet and only reflected in the profit and loss account on the exercise or lapse of the option at the end of the option period in three years time.

The entry into the call option does not affect the accounting treatment of Diageo's 21.46% equity investment in General Mills as an associate.

Diageo Trading Update

Major markets

In North America, the premium spirits category remains healthy, and Diageo's global priority brands continue to perform well. The next generation growth strategy has led to new distribution arrangements in 19 states in the United States. While there has been some initial disruption to shipments as a consequence of this move, this now seems to be coming to an end. The ready to drink category in the US is highly competitive. Smirnoff Ice continues to lead this category by a clear margin, and Diageo is building brand awareness and loyalty for the product and its parent brand. In order to ensure focus on the next ready to drink offerings, Diageo has decided to withdraw Captain Morgan Gold from distributors. As announced at the preliminary results, Diageo has been disappointed with the performance of this product. There will be an additional charge of approximately £18 million in the current financial year relating to stock held by distributors.

In Great Britain, growth in the global priority brands continues to drive overall performance. Diageo's ready to drink products are performing relatively well in a category that has been hit by an increase in excise duty. Diageo has remained competitive on price across its collection of ready to drink products, a collection that is now enhanced following the successful launch of Smirnoff Black Ice.

In Ireland, Guinness is now growing share in the ROI draught beer and cider category after a period of decline, although beer sales in this market are still weak. The successful introduction of Smirnoff Ice on Draught has resulted in volume growth and good share gains for Diageo in the ready to drink category.

The slowdown in the Spanish economy has impacted sales in that country. Volume in the scotch whisky category has declined, although J&B has made a small share gain. Overall, Diageo's relative performance in premium drinks here has benefited from the very strong growth of the dark rum category led by Diageo's brands, Cacique (ex-Seagram) and Pampero.

Key markets

As anticipated, the overall performance of the key markets has been adversely impacted by continued social and political unrest and economic difficulties in Latin America. The economic climate in Brazil and Venezuela has worsened since the beginning of the current financial year and at the end of the first quarter operating profit in Latin American key markets was down approximately £15 million against the prior period. Diageo has faced economic pressures of this nature before and is using the expertise already built to mitigate its exposure. Diageo continues to focus on long-term brand building to protect its future and to grow share for its brands.

At the preliminary results, Diageo announced that in Korea its local priority brand Dimple, currently distributed by a third party, will be distributed through its own in-market company from January 2003. Diageo has not shipped any Dimple to the current distributor in the first quarter of this year, and little volume is expected to be recorded in the first half of the current financial year. Sales to consumers have of course continued albeit with some loss of market share.

Venture markets

The overall performance of venture markets continues to be in line with expectations. Diageo's venture model is flexible and geographically wide-ranging, with weakness in one part of the world often offset by strength in another. Germany in particular is benefiting from the launch of Smirnoff Ice and a new rum product is leading to improvements in the Philippines.

Ready to drink

Total ready to drink performance on a global basis is strong, with double-digit volume growth in the first quarter of the current financial year.

Table of Contents

Marketing investment

Diageo is in the privileged position of being able to continue to support its brands with high levels of marketing investment. This investment ensures the health of Diageo's brands and supports their premium position during this period of challenging economic circumstances.

Seagram spirits and wine acquisition

Diageo acquired several new priority brands with the acquisition of the Seagram spirits and wine business. The performance of these brands has been strong, particularly that of Captain Morgan and Cacique. Overall, the acquisition continues to exceed expectations and current year operating profit will be ahead of projections made at the time of the preliminary results despite the incremental cost relating to the withdrawal of Captain Morgan Gold. Additionally, by enhancing brand positions in the United States, the Seagram acquisition has allowed the implementation of the next generation growth strategy through which we will make the transition to a network of dedicated sales teams within the US distribution system.

Burger King

The operating environment for the quick service restaurant industry has worsened over the last three months, with aggressive price discounting. However, Diageo is continuing to work with the buying group, led by Texas Pacific Group, towards concluding the sale of this business.

Post employment benefits

As a result of the continued decline in the equity markets Diageo's net deficit before taxation under FRS 17 has increased from £366 million at 30 June 2002 to approximately £950 million. In the current financial year Diageo will not benefit from approximately £30 million of pension credit included in the reported results for the last financial year.

Cash flow

Cash flow will benefit from the receipt of $89 million from the sale of options to General Mills over 29 million shares Diageo holds in that company and approximately $100 million in compensation from Interbrew for the transfer back to them of the US distribution rights for the Bass brand.

Summary

At Diageo's Annual General Meeting today, Paul Walsh, Diageo's Chief Executive, will make the following comments on the company's trading outlook:

Since our preliminary results announcement, trading conditions have become more difficult but Diageo continues to be well placed to deliver superior levels of growth in premium drinks and value for its shareholders.

As we indicated in our preliminary results announcement, we expect our performance to be better in the second half than in the first half of the current financial year because of factors such as the phasing of our marketing expenditures and the first time inclusion of the Seagram business into our organic results in the second half.

Today, given world events and the more difficult world economic environment, current year targets do look increasingly challenging. However, we believe that in Diageo we have a premium drinks model that works and we continue to grow market share around the world, thereby positioning us strongly for improved economic conditions when they occur.

Annual General Meeting

Diageo is holding its Annual General Meeting at 2.30pm at the Queen Elizabeth II Conference Centre in London.
