Table of Contents3. Management Performance (Consolidated)

For the 9-month period of the fiscal year, ending March 31, 2006, Komatsu posted consolidated net sales of ¥1,224.0 billion, up 18.3% over the previous corresponding period. Operating profit for the period climbed 71.4%, to ¥121.4 billion, while net income reached ¥83.7 billion, registering a double increase of 100.7%. These figures represent expanded sales and profits for four consecutive 9-month periods.

In addition to impressive improvement in performance of our mainstay business of construction and mining equipment as well as business of industrial machinery, vehicles and others, our electronics business also improved its results from the 9-month period last year, driven by good performance of the silicon wafer business. As a result, all our business segments achieved growth in both sales and profits for the 9-month period under review.

With regard to consolidated business results for the fiscal year, ending March 31, 2006, we are pleased to report that our projections announced on November 1, 2005 remain sound in effect today.

Construction and Mining Equipment

Consolidated net sales of construction and mining equipment for the 9-month period under review made a sizable gain of 20.9% over the previous corresponding period, to ¥931.2 billion, against the backdrop of thriving demand worldwide. While boosting sales, we continued our efforts to increase sales prices and reduce production costs. As a result, segment profit reached ¥98.1 billion, registering a solid increase of 78.1% over the previous 9-month period last year.

We accelerated sales in the major markets of North America and Europe, Central and South America with strong demand for mining equipment, and the Middle East where infrastructure developments were gaining momentum. We also expanded sales in China where demand was recovering steadily. In addition to overall growth in sales overseas, those in Japan also improved from the previous 9-month period.

Industrial Machinery, Vehicles and Others

Consolidated net sales of industrial machinery, vehicles and other operations increased 14.1% over the previous 9-month period, to ¥210.7 billion. Segment profit reached ¥16.2 billion, recording a substantial gain of 54.5%.

Against the backdrop of thriving capital outlays of automobile manufacturing industries, sales of large presses accelerated, centering on the AC Servo Press series. Komatsu Industries Corporation and Komatsu Machinery Corporation also stepped up sales of industrial machinery.

Komatsu Forklift Co., Ltd., Komatsu Logistics Corp. and other Komatsu Group companies continued to improve their performance for the 9-month period under review.

Table of ContentsElectronics

Consolidated net sales from the electronics business increased 2.7% over the previous 9-month period, to ¥82.1 billion. Segment profit improved 6.1%, to ¥9.1 billion.

At the end of July last year, we sold Advanced Silicon Materials LLC (ASiMI), a U.S. sales and manufacturing subsidiary of polycrystalline silicon, which resulted in a factor of lowering sales and profits of our electronics business. However, increased sales and profits of Komatsu Electronic Metals Co., Ltd. offset the adverse effects and improved consolidated performance of our electronics business.

4. Financial Conditions (Consolidated)

Total assets amounted to ¥1,623.3 billion at the end of the 9-month period under review, up ¥174.3 billion from the previous fiscal year-end. This increase reflects growth in trade notes and accounts receivable as well as inventories resulting particularly from accelerated sales of construction and mining equipment. Nevertheless, total asset turnover has improved and repayment of borrowings advanced. Interest-bearing debt totaled ¥395.8 billion at the end of the 9-month period under review, a decline of ¥36.4 billion from the previous fiscal year-end. With an increase in shareholders' equity mainly resulting from expanded profits, net debt-to-equity ratio* further improved to 0.54 at the end of the 9-month period under review, compared to 0.70 at the previous fiscal-year end.
