Baidu Announces First Quarter 2007 Results

First Quarter 2007 Net Income Grows 143% Year-Over-Year

BEIJING, China, April 26, 2007 Baidu.com, Inc. (NASDAQ: BIDU), the leading Chinese language Internet search provider, today announced its unaudited financial results for the first quarter ended March 31, 2007¹.

First Quarter 2007 Highlights

Total revenues in the first quarter of 2007 increased to RMB275.6 million ($35.7 million), representing a 103.3% increase from the corresponding period in 2006.

Net income in the first quarter of 2007 increased to RMB85.5 million ($11.1 million), representing a 142.6% increase from the corresponding period in 2006. Basic and diluted earnings per share (EPS) for the first quarter of 2007 were RMB2.53 ($0.33) and RMB2.47 ($0.32), respectively; basic and diluted EPS excluding share-based compensation expenses (non-GAAP) for the first quarter of 2007 were RMB2.90 ($0.38) and RMB2.82 ($0.37), respectively. In the first quarter of 2007, Baidu Japan expenses were RMB11.3 million ($1.5 million), which impacted basic and diluted EPS by RMB0.34 ($0.04) and RMB0.33 ($0.04), respectively.

The number of active online marketing customers during the first quarter grew to over 112,000, an increase of 3.7% from the previous quarter.

During the first quarter, revenue continued to grow as we experienced strong traffic growth after the Chinese New Year, said Robin Li, Baidu's Chairman and CEO. More and more customers are realizing that Baidu's online marketing platform is a very effective way to promote their products and services in China.

In the first quarter of 2007 Baidu enhanced search products and community-based products including Baidu Space and Baidu Knows and expanded user services to include Baidu Video search. Baidu also continued to develop its digital entertainment platform through pioneering partnerships with leading record companies to improve its advertising-supported online music streaming service in China.

Mr. Li added, We are dedicated to providing the best user experience by closely monitoring user preferences and developing tailor-made products both independently and through collaboration with leading international content providers.

Our focus on customer service in both our direct sales teams and our nation-wide distributor network helped to increase our active online customer base and grow revenues despite the impact of the late Chinese New Year holiday, said Shawn Wang, Baidu's CFO.

Table of Contents

Mr. Wang noted that the Company continued to make significant investments in technology, network capacity, and expansion of the sales and distribution network in the first quarter of 2007.

We are excited about the potential of the P4P market in China and we are committed to making long-term investments to maintain our growth path, added Mr. Wang.

First Quarter 2007 Results

Baidu reported total revenues of RMB275.6 million ($35.7 million) for the first quarter ended March 31, 2007, representing a 103.3% increase from the corresponding period in 2006.

Online marketing revenues for the first quarter were RMB274.7 million ($35.6 million), representing a 108.0% increase from the first quarter of 2006. The growth was driven by the increases in both the number of active online marketing customers and revenue per customer. Baidu had more than 112,000 active online marketing customers in the first quarter of 2007, representing a 3.7% increase from the previous quarter.

Revenue per online marketing customer for the first quarter of 2007 remained stable at approximately RMB2,500 ($323.7), compared with the fourth quarter of 2006.

Traffic acquisition costs (TAC) as a component of cost of revenues was RMB28.3 million ($3.7 million), representing 10.3% of total revenues, compared to 9.1% in the corresponding period in 2006. The increase in TAC as a percentage of total revenues primarily reflects the continued growth of revenue contribution from Baidu Union.

Bandwidth costs as a component of cost of revenues was RMB21.5 million ($2.8 million), representing 7.8% of total revenues, compared to 5.6% in the corresponding period in 2006. Depreciation costs as a component of cost of revenues was RMB25.9 million ($3.4 million), representing 9.4% of total revenues, compared to 7.5% in the corresponding period in 2006. The increase in bandwidth and depreciation costs as percentages of total revenues was mainly due to new data centers established in south China and Japan.

Selling, general and administrative expenses were RMB74.9 million ($9.7 million), representing an increase of 48.8% from the corresponding period in 2006, primarily due to expansion of the direct sales force.

Research and development expenses were RMB25.0 million ($3.2 million), representing a 60.6% increase from the corresponding period in 2006, primarily due to headcount increases.

Costs and expenses related to Japan operations in the first quarter of 2007 were RMB11.3 million ($1.5 million) in aggregate.

Share-based compensation expenses, which were allocated to related operating cost and expense line items, decreased slightly in aggregate to RMB12.2 million ($1.6 million) in the first quarter of 2007 from RMB12.8 million in the corresponding period in 2006.

Operating profit was RMB73.8 million ($9.6 million), representing a 174.2% increase from the corresponding period in 2006. Operating profit excluding share-based compensation expenses (non-GAAP) was RMB86.0 million ($11.1 million) for the first quarter of 2007, a 116.5% increase from the corresponding period in 2006.

Table of Contents

Income tax expense was RMB1.4 million ($0.2 million).

Net income was RMB85.5 million ($11.1 million), representing a 142.6% increase from the corresponding period in 2006. Basic and diluted EPS for the first quarter of 2007 amounted to RMB2.53 ($0.33) and RMB2.47 ($0.32), respectively.

Net income excluding share-based compensation expenses (non-GAAP) was RMB97.7 million ($12.7 million), a 124.9% increase from the corresponding period in 2006. Basic and diluted EPS excluding share-based compensation expenses (non-GAAP) for the first quarter of 2007 were RMB2.90 ($0.38) and RMB2.82 ($0.37), respectively.

As of March 31, 2007, the Company had cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments of RMB1.2 billion ($151.4 million). Net operating cash flow and capital expenditures for the first quarter of 2007 were RMB113.0 million ($14.6 million) and RMB153.8 million ($19.9 million), respectively. The increase in capital expenditure was due to new data centers established in south China and Japan.

Adjusted EBITDA (non-GAAP), which is defined in this announcement as earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization, other non-operating income and share-based compensation expenses, were RMB118.0 million ($15.3 million) for the first quarter of 2007, representing a 126.0% increase from the corresponding period in 2006.

Senior Management Changes

In April 2007, Baidu accepted the resignation of Mr. David Zhu, Chief Operating Officer, effective as of June 30, 2007. Mr. Zhu has decided to resign for personal reasons.

David has made an important contribution to Baidu since he joined in 2002, said Robin Li, Baidu's Chairman and CEO. We wish him every success in his future endeavors.

Baidu also announced the promotion of three staff to its senior management team in the first quarter of 2007. Mr. Hailong Xiang, who has successively led Baidu's direct sales efforts in Shanghai and Beijing, has been promoted to Vice President of Sales. Mr. Jun Yu has been promoted to Vice President of Products. Mr. Xuyang Ren has been promoted to Vice President of Marketing and Business Development.

Outlook for Second Quarter 2007

Baidu currently expects to generate total revenues in an amount ranging from RMB378 million ($48.9 million) to RMB388 million ($50.2 million) for the second quarter of 2007, representing a 97% to 103% increase from the corresponding period in 2006 and a 37% to 41% increase from the first quarter of 2007. This forecast reflects Baidu's current and preliminary view, which is subject to change.

Safe Harbor Statement

This announcement contains forward-looking statements. These statements are made under the "safe harbor" provisions of the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements can be identified by terminology such as "will," "expects," "anticipates," "future," "intends," "plans," "believes," "estimates" and similar statements. Among other things, the outlook for second quarter 2007 and quotations from management in this announcement, as well as Baidu's strategic and operational plans, contain forward-looking statements. Baidu may also make written or oral forward-looking statements in its periodic reports to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, in its annual report to shareholders, in press releases and other written materials and in oral statements made by its officers, directors or employees to third parties. Statements that are not historical facts, including statements about Baidu's beliefs and expectations, are forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements involve inherent risks and uncertainties. A number of factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement, including but not limited to the following: our growth strategies; our future business development, results of operations and financial condition; our ability to attract and retain users and customers; competition in the Chinese language Internet search market; competition for online marketing customers; changes in our revenues and certain cost or expense items as a percentage of our revenues; the outcome of ongoing, or any future, litigation or arbitration, including those relating to copyright and other intellectual property rights; the expected growth of the Chinese language Internet search market and the number of Internet and broadband users in China; and Chinese governmental policies relating to the Internet and Internet content providers. Further information regarding these and other risks is included in our annual report on Form 20-F and other documents filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Baidu does not undertake any obligation to update any forward-looking statement, except as required under applicable law. All information provided in this press release and in the attachments is as of April 26, 2007, and Baidu undertakes no duty to update such information, except as required under applicable law.

About Non-GAAP Financial Measures

To supplement Baidu's consolidated financial results presented in accordance with GAAP, Baidu uses the following measures defined as non-GAAP financial measures by the SEC: adjusted EBITDA, operating profit excluding share-based compensation expenses, net income excluding share-based compensation expenses, and basic and diluted EPS excluding share-based compensation expenses. The presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the financial information prepared and presented in accordance with GAAP. For more information on these non-GAAP financial measures, please see the tables captioned

Reconciliations of non-GAAP results of operations measures to the nearest comparable GAAP measures and Reconciliation from net cash provided by operating activities to adjusted EBITDA set forth at the end of this release.

Baidu believes that these non-GAAP financial measures provide meaningful supplemental information regarding its performance and liquidity by excluding certain expenses and expenditures that may not be indicative of its operating performance from a cash perspective. We believe that both management and investors benefit from referring to these non-GAAP financial measures in assessing our performance and when planning and forecasting future periods. These non-GAAP financial measures also facilitate management's internal comparisons to Baidu's historical performance and liquidity. Baidu computes its non-GAAP financial measures using the same consistent method from quarter to quarter, except that the non-GAAP measures for the quarter ended March 31, 2006 reflected the one-time cumulative effect of change in accounting principle due to our adoption of SFAS 123(R) since January 1, 2006. We believe these non-GAAP financial measures are useful to investors in allowing for greater transparency with respect to supplemental information used by management in its financial and operational decision making. A limitation of using non-GAAP operating profit excluding share-based compensation expenses, net income excluding share-based compensation expenses, and basic and diluted EPS excluding share-based compensation expenses is that these non-GAAP measures exclude share-based compensation charge that has been and will continue to be for the foreseeable future a significant recurring expense in our business. A limitation of using non-GAAP Adjusted EBITDA is that it does not include all items that impact our net income for the period. Management compensates for these limitations by providing specific information regarding the GAAP amounts excluded from each non-GAAP measure. The accompanying tables have more details on the reconciliations between GAAP financial measures that are most directly comparable to non-GAAP financial measures.
