Proposals for Biogen Idec

4

We strongly believe Biogen Idec needs better management

Biogen Idec has a collection of valuable assets

- AVONEX for relapsing multiple sclerosis and TYSABRI for MS and Crohn's disease, $2.8B of 2008 sales
- RITUXAN for B-cell non-Hodgkin's lymphoma and rheumatoid arthritis, $1.1B of 2008 sales
- Promising pipeline (BG-12, Lixivaptan, ADENTRI, etc.) and biologics manufacturing facilities

Board and management have failed to achieve the full potential of Biogen Idec

Biogen IDEC merger has not created much value

Management has failed shareholders strategically and operationally

Weak business development and research & development efforts inhibit company's prospects

Quality of board and management especially crucial today

R&D organization needs to be reinvigorated; Strategic review of pipeline needs to be conducted

Cost structure needs to be examined and partner relations need to be revitalized

Product sales growth likely to slow

Board needs to evaluate possibility of separating assets in order to enhance value

Management not aligned with shareholder interests

Electing our directors could maximize shareholder value

31

Are board and management aligned with you?

In our opinion, management ran a flawed auction process last year

Board severely limited due diligence opportunities

Refused to allow bidders access to Elan until bidders submitted a firm and binding offer

At least one bidder was denied its request to speak with Elan which may have caused that bidder to walk away from the process

Board minutes that Biogen provided to us under court order last year show what we consider to be a poorly designed process that lacked active Board oversight

Same management and Board that ran the 2007 sales process continue to run the company today. How would they treat a bidder in 2009? Is shareholder value a priority for this Board?

We believe ImClone and Biogen Idec situations analogous

Partner relations

Cost structure

Product pipeline

Strategic direction

Litigation

ImClone Systems

Relationships with Bristol Myers Squibb were strained

Renegotiated agreement with BMS, leading to increased support and sales

Cost structure was not appropriate for company needs

Reallocated costs, led to margin expansion and free cash flow growth

Pipeline poorly regarded by industry

Conducted review and increased investments in certain candidates

Pipeline key rationale for acquisition

Strategic direction lacking and morale poor as a result

Installed new leadership and established clear strategic priorities

Settled litigation including Yeda, Abbott, and Repligen
Biogen Idec

Relationships with Genentech, Roche and Elan are strained

Excluding Rituxan, operating margins below peers

Pipeline has not advanced significantly over last five years

Poor product lifecycle management

Strategic direction unclear as focus diffused over too many therapeutic areas

Adverse Genentech arbitration settlement is valuation overhang

Electing our directors with directly relevant experience could help Biogen Idec

45

We have several proposals

Board should study potential splitting of Biogen IDEC into neurology-focused and cancer-focused companies

Examine cost structure

Prioritize, improve focus, and re-invigorate R&D efforts

Improve partner relationships

46

Board should evaluate whether separating assets will enhance value

NF Co. had $2,926M of 2008 sales

NF Co. assets include the following:

Key products include AVONEX and TYSABRI

Related pipeline such as BG-12, Lixivaptan, ADENTRI and other neurology and cardiovascular product candidates

Biologics manufacturing plants in North Carolina, Massachusetts and Denmark

Majority of existing research & development infrastructure and sales force

Collaboration with Elan on TYSABRI

NF Co. will benefit from improved focus on core neurology competency
Neurology-Focused Company

CF Co. had $1,172M of 2008 sales

CF Co. assets include the following:

Key products include RITUXAN and FUMADERM

Related pipeline such as galixibam, lumiliximab, ocrelizumab and other oncology and autoimmune product candidates

Collaboration with Genentech in the US,
Zenyaku and Chugai in Japan and Roche in the rest of the world

CF Co. will benefit from improved focus on core oncology competency
Cancer-Focused Company

Separating Biogen assets will enhance shareholder value as management focus should improve and disparate assets appeal to different buyers

In 2008, Biogen Idec spent 23% of sales on selling, general and administrative expenses

Median biotech company = 21%

Best in class company = 15%

Reducing overhead spending will improve cash flows

Applying median SG&A % of sales generates $46M of cost savings

Applying best in class SG&A % of sales generates $309M of cost savings

Overhead assumptions

50

We would push hard to reinvigorate R&D and improve productivity

Identify most promising products

Focus investment in key therapeutic areas

Rationalize pipeline products not part of overall strategy

51

Electing our directors could help maximize shareholder value

Board and management have failed to achieve the full potential of Biogen Idec

Quality of board and management especially crucial today

Electing our directors could help maximize shareholder value
Better management of Biogen Idec assets will enhance value for all shareholders

52

We have shown that management has failed shareholders strategically and operationally, resulting in a company not well positioned for future challenges!
