Shanghai Petrochemical Announces Results

for the First Three Quarters of 2009

Achieving a Turnaround from Loss to Net Profit of RMB1.538 Billion

Hong Kong, October 28, 2009 Sinopec Shanghai Petrochemical Company Limited (Shanghai Petrochemical or the Company) (HKEx: 338; SSE: 600688; NYSE: SHI) announced today the unaudited operating results of the Company and its subsidiaries (collectively, the Group) for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2009 (the Period).

Under the China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises, the Group s operating income for the Period amounted to RMB34.264 billion, representing a decrease of 31% compared to the same period of last year, due to a significant decrease in product prices following a decrease in crude oil prices as compared to the same period of last year. Operating profit for the Period was RMB2.013 billion (same period of 2008: operating loss was RMB5.710 billion). Net profit attributable to equity shareholders of the Company for the Period was RMB1.538 billion (same period of 2008: net loss attributable to equity shareholders of the Company was RMB2.679 billion). Basic diluted earnings per share was RMB0.214 (same period of 2008: basic diluted losses per share was RMB0.372).

Mr. Rong Guangdao, Chairman of Shanghai Petrochemical, said, Since the beginning of this year, China has implemented the Price and Tax Reform on Refined Oil by beginning to levy the fuel consumption tax and indirectly linking the prices of domestic refined oil products with the prices of international crude oil in a controlled manner, together with the promulgation of the Administrative Measures for Petroleum Prices (Trial) in May, the inversion between prices of refined oil products and those of crude oil was basically brought to an end, thus improving the profitability of the Company s refining operation to a certain extent. The petrochemical operation has bottomed out and re-stabilized, with prices of a majority of products having risen to a certain extent as demands in the downstream industry have gradually stabilized. Also, the production load of the relevant plants of the Company has increased and profitability has, therefore, been enhanced to a certain extent. However, as the impact of the international financial crisis continues to persist and there is a further upward trend of international crude oil prices, together with further intensified competition in the market due to newly added production capacity, many uncertainties still exist in the external operating environment of the Company. The Group will continue to actively respond to difficulties and challenges in its production and operation; strive to ensure a safe, stable and optimized operation; and further improve its work on crude oil purchasing and products sale, with a view to further improving the Company's operating efficiency.

Shanghai Petrochemical is one of the largest petrochemical companies in the PRC and was one of the first Chinese companies to effect a global securities offering. Located in Jinshan District in the southwest of Shanghai, it is a highly integrated petrochemical complex which processes crude oil into a broad range of products in synthetic fibres, resins and plastics, intermediate petrochemicals and refined oil products.

3.2 Warning and explanation on projection of a possible loss or material year-on-year change in net profit from the beginning of the year to the end of the next reporting period

Due to a year-on-year decrease in international crude oil prices, the costs of the Group's raw materials which are primarily crude oil-related dropped significantly. Meanwhile, since the 1st of January this year, the State Council has implemented the Price and Tax Reform on Refined Oil by beginning to levy the fuel consumption tax and indirectly linking the prices of domestic refined oil products with the prices of international crude oil in a controlled manner. On the 8th of May this year, the State Development and Reform Commission promulgated the Administrative Measures for Petroleum Prices (Trial), which basically brought the inversion between prices of refined oil products and those of crude oil to an end, thus improving the profitability of the Company's refining operation to a certain extent. In relation to the petrochemical operation, after the panic sell-off and sharp decrease in prices of products triggered by the financial crisis, it has bottomed out and re-stabilized, with prices of a majority of products having risen to a certain extent as demands in the downstream industry have gradually stabilized. Also, the production load of the relevant plants of the Company has increased and profitability has, therefore, been enhanced to a certain extent. However, as the impact of the international financial crisis continues to persist and there is a further upward trend of international crude oil prices, together with further intensified competition in the market due to newly added production capacity, many uncertainties still exist in the external operating environment of the Company. Therefore, the Group's production and operation in the fourth quarter will continue to confront many difficulties and challenges. It is anticipated that the Group will remain profitable in its overall performance for the 12-month period ended December 31, 2009. (For the 12-month period ended December 31, 2008, the Group's net loss attributable to equity shareholders of the Company amounted to RMB6,245.412 million according to PRC Accounting Standards.)

3.3 Disclosure as to implementation of the cash dividend policy during the reporting period

The Company recorded significant loss in the year 2008, and therefore no cash dividend was paid for the said year.
