This filing relates to an email communication dated April 23, 2012 from Barry Quart, President and Chief Executive Officer of Ardea Biosciences, Inc. (the Company), to the Company's employees. The following is a copy of the email communication.

Dear Ardea Colleagues:

I am very pleased to report that we have finalized an agreement with AstraZeneca for the purchase of Ardea Biosciences for $1.3 billion or $32/share. AZ has indicated that it wants the management team and the staff to remain intact as an independent operating unit focused on the development and registration of drugs from the gout program. Over the next several weeks I will be working with AZ to develop an operating plan for the new Ardea. Congratulations to all of you for this momentous event. Without all your hard work none of this could have been accomplished. Please see this morning's press release for further details. We will also hold an all-hands meeting Monday morning at 9 am in the auditorium.

Most importantly, we are responsible for the timely development of lesinurad, so please stay focused on our programs and let's work together to create an incredible gout franchise here in San Diego!

Congratulations to everyone!

Barry
