SUBJECT TO COMPLETION, DATED AUGUST 5, 2014

HOUSTON CITY BANCSHARES, INC.

MERGER PROPOSED YOUR VOTE IS VERY IMPORTANT

You are cordially invited to attend the special meeting of shareholders of Houston City Bancshares, Inc., or Houston City Bancshares, to be held on September 10, 2014, at 2:00 p.m., Central Time, at the offices of Houston Community Bank, 11390 Veterans Memorial Drive, Houston, Texas 77067. At this important special meeting, you will be asked to consider and vote on the approval of a reorganization agreement and related agreement and plan of merger, which provide for the acquisition of Houston City Bancshares by Independent Bank Group, Inc., or Independent, through certain merger transactions. You may also be asked to adjourn the special meeting to a later date or dates, if the board of directors of Houston City Bancshares determines such and adjournment is necessary.

Under the terms of the reorganization agreement, Houston City Bancshares shareholders would receive $86.96 per share for each outstanding share of Houston City Bancshares common stock that they own, with 35% of the consideration payable in cash and 65% of the consideration payable in shares of Independent common stock, subject to a potential downward adjustment to the cash consideration if the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares on the closing date is below $24 million. If the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares, which was $27.33 million at June 30, 2014, is $7.2 million or less on the closing date, and if the transaction still received bank regulatory approval and was consummated, holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock would not receive any cash consideration and only $56.52 of shares of Independent common stock. The exchange ratio for the stock consideration would be set three days prior to the closing utilizing the volume-weighted average share price of Independent common stock over a ten day trading period. The amount of total consideration to be paid by Independent is valued at approximately $48 million. See Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement Terms of the Merger.

Independent's common stock is listed on the NASDAQ Stock Market, Inc. Global Select Market System, or NASDAQ Global Select Market, under the symbol IBTX. The closing price of Independent's common stock on July 31, 2014, was $48.01 per share. Based on the closing price of Independent common stock on July 31, 2014, of $48.01, upon completion of the merger, shareholders of Houston City Bancshares would receive approximately 1.1773 shares of Independent common stock plus $30.44 in cash for each share of Houston City Bancshares common stock that they own.

Your vote is very important. Whether or not you plan to attend the special meeting, please take the time to vote by completing and mailing the enclosed proxy card to Houston City Bancshares. We cannot complete the merger unless we obtain the necessary government approvals and unless the holders of two-thirds of the outstanding shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock outstanding on August 5, 2014, the record date for the special meeting, approve the reorganization agreement. The board of directors of Houston City Bancshares unanimously supports the merger and recommends that you vote in favor of the reorganization agreement and the related agreement and plan of merger.

The accompanying proxy statement/prospectus contains a more complete description of the special meeting and the terms of the reorganization agreement and the acquisition of Houston City Bancshares. In addition to being a proxy statement of Houston City Bancshares, this document is the prospectus of Independent for the shares of its common stock that will be issued in connection with the transaction. We urge you to review this entire document carefully, including the considerations discussed under Risk Factors beginning on page 30, and the appendices to the accompanying proxy statement/prospectus, which include the reorganization agreement and the related agreement and plan of merger. You may also obtain information about Independent from documents that Independent has filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, or SEC.

We appreciate your continuing loyalty and support, and we look forward to seeing you at the special meeting.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE MERGER AND THE SPECIAL MEETING

*The following are some questions that you may have regarding the Agreement and Plan of Reorganization, or the reorganization agreement, dated as of June 2, 2014, by and between Independent Bank Group, Inc., or Independent, and Houston City Bancshares, Inc., or Houston City Bancshares, and the special meeting, and brief answers to those questions. Independent and Houston City Bancshares advise you to read carefully the remainder of this proxy statement/prospectus because the information contained in this section does not provide all of the information that might be important to you with respect to the merger and the special meeting. Additional important information is also referred to under the caption Where You Can Find More Information beginning on page 104.*

Q: Why am I receiving this proxy statement/prospectus?

A: Houston City Bancshares is sending these materials to its shareholders to help them decide how to vote their shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock with respect to the reorganization agreement and any other matter to be considered at the special meeting. This document constitutes both a proxy statement of Houston City Bancshares and a prospectus of Independent. It is a proxy statement because the board of directors of Houston City Bancshares is soliciting proxies from their shareholders using this document. It is a prospectus because Independent is offering shares of its common stock in exchange for outstanding shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock in the merger.

Q: What are Houston City Bancshares shareholders being asked to vote upon?

A: The board of directors Houston City Bancshares is proposing that Houston City Bancshares be acquired by Independent through certain merger transactions. As part of the overall transaction, the holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock are being asked to consider and vote on the following two proposals:

Proposal One: to approve the reorganization agreement and the related Agreement and Plan of Merger, by and between IBGHCB Acquisition Corporation, or IBGHCB, and Houston City Bancshares and joined by Independent or, collectively, the reorganization agreement, pursuant to which IBGHCB (which is a wholly owned subsidiary of Independent) will merge with and into Houston City Bancshares; and

Proposal Two: to approve the adjournment of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if the board of directors of Houston City Bancshares determines such an adjournment is necessary to permit further solicitation of additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to constitute a quorum or to approve the reorganization agreement.

No other business may be conducted at the special meeting.

Q: What will happen in the merger?

A: In the merger, IBGHCB will be merged with and into Houston City Bancshares, with Houston City Bancshares being the surviving entity. Immediately following the initial merger, Houston City Bancshares will be merged with and into Independent, with Independent being the surviving entity. Houston City Bancshares will cease to exist after the merger with Independent occurs. Immediately following the merger of Houston City Bancshares into Independent, Houston Community Bank, N.A., or Houston Community Bank, will be merged with and into Independent Bank, with Independent Bank being the surviving entity. Houston Community Bank will cease to exist after the merger with Independent Bank occurs. Houston Community Bank, a national bank, is a commercial bank with its headquarters in Houston, Texas, and is an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of Houston City Bancshares. Independent Bank is a commercial bank headquartered in McKinney, Texas, and a wholly owned subsidiary of Independent. Upon the merger of IBGHCB with and into Houston City Bancshares, the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock will be converted into the right to receive the consideration described below. For ease of reference: (a) the merger of IBGHCB with and into Houston City Bancshares is referred to in this proxy statement/prospectus as the initial merger; (b) the merger of Houston City Bancshares with and into Independent is referred to in this proxy statement/prospectus as the subsequent merger and collectively with the initial merger, the Independent merger; (c) the merger of Houston Community Bank with and into Independent Bank is referred to in this proxy statement/prospectus as the bank merger; and (d) the initial merger, the subsequent merger and the bank merger together are referred to in this proxy statement/prospectus collectively as the merger.

Q. What is the aggregate amount of consideration to be paid by Independent in the transaction?

A: Under the terms of the reorganization agreement, Houston City Bancshares shareholders would receive $86.96 per share for each outstanding share of Houston City Bancshares common stock that they own, subject to a potential downward adjustment based upon the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares on the closing date, or the tangible book value adjustment, with 35% of the consideration payable in cash and 65% of the consideration payable in shares of Independent common stock. Based on 551,993 shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock outstanding on July 31, 2014, the aggregate amount of total consideration to be paid by Independent is valued at approximately $48 million.

Q: What consideration will Houston City Bancshares shareholders receive as a result of the merger?

A: Holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock will be entitled to receive, for each share of Houston City Bancshares common stock they own on the closing date, a cash amount equal to $30.44, or the per share cash consideration, subject to the tangible book value adjustment, and a number of shares of Independent common stock, or the per share stock consideration, equal to the quotient of (i) $56.52, divided by (ii) the average, determined to one-one hundredth of one cent, of the volume weighted sale price per share of Independent common stock on The NASDAQ Stock Market, Inc. Global Select Market System, or NASDAQ Global Select Market, for ten (10) consecutive trading days ending on and including the third trading day preceding the closing, as reported by Bloomberg, or the average sales price. Based on the closing price of Independent common stock on July 31, 2014 of $48.01 and assuming that the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares is at least $24,000,000 on the closing date, upon completion of the merger, holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock would receive approximately 1.1773 shares of Independent common stock plus $30.44 in cash for each share of Houston City Bancshares common stock that they own.

If the average sales price is less than 90% of $47.1770, or $42.4593, Independent may in its sole discretion elect to: (a) increase the per share cash consideration from $30.44 to an amount up to $43.48, subject to the tangible book value adjustment; and (b) reduce the per share stock consideration to a number of shares of Independent common stock equal to the quotient of (x) the difference between $86.96 and the increased amount of the per share cash consideration; divided by (y) the average sales price.

The amount of aggregate cash consideration will be reduced if Houston City Bancshares tangible book value, as calculated pursuant to the reorganization agreement, is less than $24,000,000 as of the closing date. If, as of the closing date, Houston City Bancshares tangible book value is less than $24,000,000, the aggregate cash consideration will be reduced by an amount equal to $24,000,000 minus Houston City Bancshares tangible book value as of the closing date. In the event of such reduction, the per share cash consideration would be reduced by an amount equal to the quotient of (i) the amount of such reduction, divided by (ii) the number of Houston City Bancshares shares outstanding on the closing date.

If the tangible book value, which was $27.33 million at June 30, 2014, is $7.2 million or less on the closing date, and if the transaction still received bank regulatory approval and was consummated, holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock would not receive any cash consideration, but only $56.52 of shares of Independent common stock. See Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement Terms of the Merger for details of the potential adjustment and an estimate of the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares on the closing date.

If the Houston City Bancshares tangible book value is greater than $24,000,000 on the fifth business day prior to the closing date, or the calculation date, then on the day prior to the closing date, Houston City Bancshares may distribute to its shareholders an amount equal to the difference between the actual amount of tangible book value on the calculation date minus $24,000,000.

Houston City Bancshares tangible book value as calculated pursuant to the reorganization agreement was approximately $27.33 million as of June 30, 2014. Tangible book value will increase or decrease by the amount of net income or net loss, respectively, of Houston City Bancshares through the closing date. However, all costs and expenses of Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank related to the merger will be included as a deduction in the calculation of tangible book value. For more detail about how Houston City Bancshares tangible book value will be calculated pursuant to the reorganization agreement, see the section entitled Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement Terms of the Merger beginning on page 42.

Q: What is Houston City Bancshares current tangible book value? Are there factors which could change the tangible book value prior to the closing date?

Houston City Bancshares tangible book value, as calculated pursuant to the reorganization agreement, was approximately $27.33 million as of June 30, 2014.

Tangible book value will increase or decrease by the amount of net income or net loss, respectively, of Houston City Bancshares through the closing date. However, all costs and expenses of Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank related to the merger will be included as a deduction in the calculation of tangible book value. For more detail about how Houston City Bancshares tangible book value will be calculated pursuant to the reorganization agreement, see the section entitled Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement Terms of the Merger beginning on page 42. Management of Houston City Bancshares estimates net income (before costs and expenses of the merger) of approximately $1.52 million from July 1, 2014, through October 31, 2014 (the estimated closing date), and aggregate merger-related deductions to tangible book value of approximately $1.92 million. If these assumptions are correct, the amount of Houston City Bancshares tangible book value, as calculated pursuant to the reorganization agreement, would be approximately $26.93 million on the closing date. This amount is only an estimate and is based upon several assumptions, many of which are beyond the control of Houston City Bancshares. Accordingly, the actual amount of Houston City Bancshares tangible book value may vary from this estimated amount.

Q: Do Houston City Bancshares shareholders have a choice of the form of consideration that they will receive in the merger?

A: No. All shareholders of Houston City Bancshares will receive the merger consolidation in the form of cash and Independent common in the amounts set forth in the reorganization agreement and as described herein.

Q: When do you expect the merger to be completed ?

A: We are working to complete the merger during the fourth quarter of 2014, although delays could occur.

Q: Are there any risks I should consider in deciding whether I vote for the reorganization agreement?

A: Yes. Set forth under the heading of Risk Factors, beginning on page 30, are a number of risk factors that you should consider carefully.

Q: When and where will Houston City Bancshares special shareholders meeting be held?

A: The special meeting is scheduled to take place at 2:00 p.m., Central Time, on September 10, 2014 at the offices of Houston Community Bank, 11390 Veterans Memorial Drive, Houston, Texas 77067.

Q: Who is entitled to vote at the special meeting?

A: The holders of record of Houston City Bancshares common stock as of 5:00 p.m. on August 5, 2014, which is the date that Houston City Bancshares board of directors has fixed as the record date for the special meeting, are entitled to vote at the special meeting.

Q: What are my choices when voting?

A: With respect to each of the proposals, you may vote for the proposal, against the proposal or abstain from voting on the proposal.

Q: What vote is required for approval of the reorganization agreement?

A: Approval of the reorganization agreement by holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock requires the affirmative vote of the holders of two-thirds of the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock outstanding as of 5:00 p.m. on August 5, 2014, or 367,996 shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock.

Q: What votes are required to adjourn the special meeting?

A: To adjourn the special meeting, the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock cast at the meeting on such proposal is required.

Q: How does the board of directors of Houston City Bancshares recommend that I vote at the special meeting?

A: Yes. The board of directors of Houston City Bancshares unanimously recommends that the shareholders vote their shares as follows:

Item 1 FOR the approval of the reorganization agreement and the merger; and

Item 2 FOR the adjournment of the special meeting if the board of directors of Houston City Bancshares determines it is necessary to permit further solicitation of additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to constitute a quorum or to approve the reorganization agreement.

Q: Do I have any rights to avoid participating in the merger?

A: You have the right to dissent from the merger and seek payment of the appraised fair value of your shares in cash. In order for such a shareholder of Houston City Bancshares to perfect his or her right to dissent, the shareholder must deliver to Houston City Bancshares a written objection to the merger prior to the special meeting that states that such shareholder will exercise his or her right to dissent if the reorganization agreement is approved and the merger is completed, must vote his or her shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock against approval of the reorganization agreement at the special meeting, must, not later than the 20th day after Independent sends such shareholder notice that the merger was completed, deliver to Independent a written demand for payment of the fair value of his or her shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock that states the number and class of shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock the shareholder owns, his or her estimate of the fair value of such stock and an address to which a notice relating to the dissent and appraisal procedures may be sent, and, not later than the 20th day after he or she makes that demand, submit to Independent the certificates representing his or her shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock. The steps you must follow to perfect your right of dissent are described in greater detail under the caption Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement Dissenters Rights of Houston City Bancshares Shareholders starting on page 81, and this discussion is qualified by that description and by the text of the provisions of the TBOC relating to rights of dissent set forth in Appendix C hereto. The appraised fair value of your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock may be more or less than the value of the Independent common stock and cash being paid in the merger. If the holders of more than 5% of the outstanding shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock dissent from the merger, Independent has the right to terminate the reorganization agreement.

Q: What happens if I transfer my shares after the record date for the special meeting?

A: The record date for the special meeting is earlier than the expected date of completion of the merger. Therefore, if you transfer your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock after the applicable record date, but prior to the merger, you will retain the right to vote at the special meeting, but the right to receive the merger consideration will transfer with the shares of common stock.

Q: What do I need to do now?

A: After you have thoroughly read and considered the information contained in this proxy statement/ prospectus, you simply need to vote your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock at the special meeting. The process for voting your shares depends on how your shares are held. Generally you may hold shares as the record holder (that is, in your own name) or in street name (that is, through a nominee, such as a broker or a bank). If you hold shares in street name, you are considered the beneficial owner of those shares.

If you are a record holder, you may vote by proxy or you may attend the special meeting and vote in person. If you are a record holder on the record date for the special meeting and want to vote your shares by proxy, simply indicate on the proxy card(s) applicable to your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock how you want to vote and sign, date and mail your proxy card(s) in the enclosed pre-addressed postage-paid envelope as soon as possible, but in any event by such time that your proxy card may be received prior to the vote at the special meeting.

Your proxy card must be received by Houston City Bancshares by no later than the time the polls close for voting at the special meeting for your vote to be counted at the meeting.

Voting your shares by proxy will enable your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock to be represented and voted at the special meeting if you do not attend the special meeting and vote your shares in person.

Q:

How will my shares be voted if I return a signed and dated proxy card, but don't specify how my shares will be voted?

A: The shares to which such proxy card relates enable your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock to be represented and voted at the special meeting if you do not attend the special meeting and vote your shares in person. If you return a signed and dated proxy, but do not specify how your shares are to be voted, your shares will be voted FOR approval of the reorganization agreement and merger and FOR any adjournments of the special meeting that the board of directors of Houston City Bancshares deems necessary.

Q: If my shares are held in street name by my broker, will my broker vote my shares for me?

A: If your broker has not provided to you a proxy that allows you to vote your shares that it holds for you, your broker may vote your shares on the merger proposal only if you provide instructions to your broker on how to vote. You should instruct your broker how to vote your shares, following the directions your broker provides. If you do not provide instructions to your broker, your shares will not be voted, which will have the same effect as a vote against the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement and any proposal to adjourn the special meeting.

Q: Can I attend the special meeting and vote in person?

A: Yes. All Houston City Bancshares shareholders are invited to attend the special meeting. Shareholders of record can vote in person at the special meeting. If your shares are held in street name, then you are not the shareholder of record. In order for you to vote the shares that you beneficially own and that are held in street name in person at the special meeting, you must bring a legal proxy from the broker, bank or other nominee that was the record holder of your shares held in street name as of 5:00 p.m. on August 5, 2014, confirming that you were the beneficial owner of those shares as of 5:00 p.m. on August 5, 2014, stating the number of shares of which you were the beneficial owner that were held for your benefit at that time by that broker, bank or other nominee and appointing you as the record holder's proxy to vote the shares covered by that proxy at the special meeting.

Q: May I change my vote after I have submitted my proxy card?

A: Yes. Regardless of the method used to cast a vote, if a Houston City Bancshares shareholder is a holder of record, he or she may change his or her vote by:

delivering to Houston City Bancshares prior to the special meeting a written notice of revocation addressed to: Brad Fagan, Corporate Secretary, Houston City Bancshares, Inc., 11390 Veterans Memorial Drive, Houston, Texas 77067; completing, signing and returning a new proxy card with a later date than the date of your original proxy before the date of the special meeting, and any earlier proxy will be revoked automatically; or attending the special meeting and voting in person, and any earlier proxy will be revoked. However, simply attending the special meeting without voting will not revoke your proxy.

If your shares are held in street name and you desire to change any voting instructions you have previously given to the record holder of the shares of which you are the beneficial owner, you should contact the broker, bank or other nominee holding your shares in street name in order to direct a change in the manner your shares will be voted.

Q: What happens if I abstain from voting or fail to instruct my broker to vote?

A: If you are a record holder of Houston City Bancshares common stock and you abstain from voting or fail to instruct your broker to vote your shares and the broker submits an unvoted proxy, referred to as a broker nonvote, then the abstention or broker nonvote of shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock will be counted towards a quorum at the special meeting, but such shares will have the same effect as a vote against the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement. Abstentions and broker nonvotes will have no effect on the proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary.

Q: Should I send in my stock certificates now?

A: No. as soon as practical after the effective time, with the intent to be ten business days after the effective time, Wells Fargo Bank Shareowner Services, Independent's exchange agent, will send you written instructions for exchanging your stock certificates. You should not send your Houston City Bancshares stock certificates with your proxy card.

Q: Who can help answer my questions?

A: If you have additional questions about the merger, you should contact W. Phillip Johnson, Jr., Chairman of the Board, Houston City Bancshares, Inc., 11390 Veterans Memorial Drive, Houston, Texas 77067, telephone (281) 537-7200.

Proposed Merger

Independent has attached the reorganization agreement to this document as Appendix A. Please read the entire reorganization agreement, including the related agreement and plan of merger, attached thereto as Exhibit A. They are the legal documents that govern the merger.

Independent proposes to merge IBGHCB Acquisition Corporation, or IBGHCB, a wholly owned subsidiary of Independent, with and into Houston City Bancshares. Houston City Bancshares will be the surviving entity in the initial merger. Immediately following completion of the initial merger, Houston City Bancshares will merge with and into Independent, with Independent continuing as the surviving entity. Houston City Bancshares will cease to exist after the subsequent merger occurs. Immediately following the subsequent merger of Houston City Bancshares with and into Independent, Houston Community Bank will be merged with and into Independent Bank, with Independent Bank being the surviving bank. Houston Community Bank will cease to exist after the bank merger occurs. The existing locations of Houston Community Bank will become banking centers of Independent Bank. Independent expects to complete the merger in the fourth quarter of 2014, although delays could occur. The merger will be accounted for as an acquisition of Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank by Independent and Independent Bank under the acquisition method of accounting in accordance with Financial Accounting Standard Board's Accounting Standard Codification Topic 805, Business Combinations.

Terms of the Merger (page 42)

If Houston City Bancshares shareholders approve the reorganization agreement and the merger is completed, holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock would receive a cash amount equal to $30.44, or the per share cash consideration, subject to a potential downward adjustment based upon the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares on the closing date, and a number of shares of Independent common stock, or the per share stock consideration, equal to the quotient of (i) $56.52, divided by (ii) the average, determined to one-one hundredth of one cent, of the volume weighted sale price per share of Independent common stock on NASDAQ Global Select Market System for the ten (10) consecutive trading days ending on and including the third trading day preceding the closing date, as reported by Bloomberg, or the average sales price. Based on the closing price of Independent common stock on July 31, 2014 of $48.01 and assuming that the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares is at least $24,000,000 on the closing date, upon completion of the merger, holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock would receive approximately 1.1773 shares of Independent common stock plus $30.44 in cash for each share of Houston City Bancshares common stock that they own.

If the average sales price is less than 90% of $47.1770, or $42.4593, Independent may in its sole discretion elect to: (a) increase the per share cash consideration from $30.44 to an amount up to $43.48, subject to the tangible book value adjustment; and (b) reduce the per share stock consideration to a number of shares of Independent common stock equal to the quotient of (x) the difference between $86.96 and the increased amount of the per share cash consideration; divided by (y) the average sales price.

The amount of aggregate cash consideration will be reduced if Houston City Bancshares' tangible book value, as calculated pursuant to the reorganization agreement, is less than $24,000,000 as of the closing date. If, as of the closing date, Houston City Bancshares' tangible book value is less than $24,000,000, the aggregate cash consideration will be reduced by an amount equal to $24,000,000 minus Houston City Bancshares' tangible book value as of the closing date. In the event of such reduction, the per share cash consideration would be reduced by an amount equal to the quotient of (i) the amount of such reduction, divided by (ii) the number of Houston City Bancshares shares outstanding on the closing date.

If the tangible book value, which was $27.33 million at June 30, 2014, is $7.2 million or less on the closing date, and if the transaction still received bank regulatory approval and was consummated, holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock would not receive any cash consideration, but only $56.52 of shares of Independent common stock. See Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement Terms of the Merger for details of the potential adjustment and an estimate of the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares on the closing date.

If the Houston City Bancshares' tangible book value is greater than $24,000,000 on the calculation date, then on the day prior to the closing date, Houston City Bancshares may distribute to its shareholders an amount equal to the difference between the actual amount of tangible book value on the calculation date minus $24,000,000.

Houston City Bancshares' tangible book value as calculated pursuant to the reorganization agreement was approximately $27.33 million as of June 30, 2014. Tangible book value will increase or decrease by the amount of net income or net loss, respectively, of Houston City Bancshares through the closing date. However, all costs and expenses of Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank related to the merger will be included as a deduction in the calculation of tangible book value. For more detail about how Houston City Bancshares' tangible book value will be calculated pursuant to the reorganization agreement, see the section entitled "Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement - Terms of the Merger" beginning on page 42.

Fractional shares of Independent common stock will be paid in cash, without interest. The market price of Independent common stock will fluctuate from the date of this proxy statement/prospectus through the third trading date prior to the effective date of the merger, which is the date on which the per share stock consideration is determined for the merger. Because of the possibility of the tangible book value adjustment to the amount of the per share cash consideration and the fluctuation of the market price of Independent common stock that will comprise the per share stock consideration, you will not know the exact amount of cash or the exact number of shares of Independent common stock you will receive in connection with the merger when you vote on the reorganization agreement. However, the value of the stock consideration will be $56.52 worth of Independent common stock, with fractional shares being added to the initial $30.44 worth of cash consideration, assuming there are no tangible book value adjustment, as described above.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Independent Merger (page 75)

The Independent merger is intended to qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, or the Code, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and the closing is conditioned upon the receipt by Independent of an opinion from Andrews Kurth LLP, special counsel to Independent, and the receipt by Houston City Bancshares of an opinion from Harris Law Firm, PC, counsel to Houston City Bancshares, to the effect that the Independent merger so qualifies. This summary of U.S. federal income tax consequences assumes that the Independent merger will be consummated as described in the reorganization agreement and this proxy statement/prospectus and that Independent and Houston City Bancshares will not waive the opinion condition described in "Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement - Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Independent Merger - Tax Opinions." The Independent merger will be treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a reorganization qualifying under the provisions of Section 368(a) of the Code. If the Independent merger qualifies as such a reorganization, the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Independent merger to U.S. holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock will be as follows: holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock generally will recognize gain (but not loss) with respect to their Houston City Bancshares common stock. The gain a U.S. holder of Houston City Bancshares recognizes generally will be equal to the lesser of cash received (excluding any cash received in lieu of a fractional share of Independent common stock) or gain realized in the Independent merger. The amount of gain realized will equal the amount by which the cash plus the fair market value of the Independent common stock, at the effective time of the Independent merger, exceeds the adjusted tax basis in the Houston City Bancshares common stock to be surrendered in exchange therefor.

For further information, please refer to "Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement - Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Independent Merger." The U.S. federal income tax consequences described above may not apply to all holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock. Your tax consequences will depend on your individual situation. Accordingly, we strongly urge you to consult your tax advisor for a full understanding of the particular tax consequences of the Independent merger to you.

Fairness Opinion of Houston City Bancshares' Financial Advisor (page 49)

Hovde Group, LLC, or Hovde Group, has delivered a written opinion to the board of directors of Houston City Bancshares that, as of the date of the reorganization agreement, based upon and subject to certain matters stated in the opinion, the merger consideration is fair to the shareholders of Houston City Bancshares from a financial point of view. This opinion is attached to this proxy statement/prospectus as Appendix B. The opinion of Hovde Group is not a recommendation to any Houston City Bancshares shareholder as to how to vote on the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement. You should read this opinion completely to understand the procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the reviews undertaken by Hovde Group in providing its opinion.

Independent Plans to Continue Payment of Quarterly Dividends (page 27)

Independent paid a cash dividend of $0.06 per share in the second quarter of 2014 to its shareholders and, subject to applicable statutory and regulatory restrictions, intends to pay a cash dividend to its shareholders in the third and fourth quarters of 2014 and continue paying quarterly cash dividends following the merger. See Dividends.

Ownership of Independent Common Stock After the Merger (page 80)

Based on the closing price of Independent common stock on July 31, 2014 of $48.01 per share, Independent would issue 649,861 shares of its common stock to Houston City Bancshares shareholders in connection with the merger. If the average sales price of Independent's common stock is less than $42.4593, Independent may in its sole discretion elect to: (a) increase the per share cash consideration from $30.44 to an amount up to $43.48, subject to the tangible book value adjustment; and (b) reduce the per share stock consideration to a number of shares of Independent common stock equal to the quotient of (x) the difference between $86.96 and the increased amount of the per share cash consideration; divided by (y) the average sales price.

Based on 16,370,707 shares of Independent common stock outstanding and the closing price of $48.01 on July 31, 2014, immediately after the merger, the former Houston City Bancshares shareholders would own approximately 3.8% of the outstanding shares of Independent common stock assuming 649,861 shares of Independent common stock are issued in the merger. That ownership percentage would be reduced by any future issuances of shares of Independent common stock.

Market Prices of Independent Common Stock (page 89)

Shares of Independent common stock are quoted on the NASDAQ Global Select Market under the symbol IBTX. On June 2, 2014, the last trading day before the merger was announced, Independent common stock closed at $46.45 per share. On July 31, 2014, Independent common stock closed at $48.01 per share. The market price of Independent common stock will fluctuate prior to the merger. You should obtain the most recent closing price for Independent common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market prior to deciding how to vote. Shares of the common stock of Houston City Bancshares are not traded on any national securities exchange or on an established public trading market, and no quotations of any market price exists for the Houston City Bancshares shares of common stock.

The special meeting of shareholders of Houston City Bancshares will be held on September 10, 2014, at 2:00 p.m., Central Time, at the offices of Houston Community Bank, 11390 Veterans Memorial Drive, Houston, Texas 77067. At the special meeting, you will be asked to consider and vote on the following:

a proposal to approve the reorganization agreement, which provides for Independent to acquire Houston City Bancshares through the merger; and a proposal to adjourn the special meeting to a later date or dates, if the board of directors of Houston City Bancshares determines such adjournment is necessary to permit further solicitation of additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to constitute a quorum or to approve the reorganization agreement.

Table of Contents

Approval of the reorganization agreement requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock outstanding and entitled to vote as of 5:00 p.m. on the record date. If you fail to vote, it will have the effect of a vote against the reorganization agreement. Recommendation of Houston City Bancshares Board and Its Reasons for the Merger (page 48)

For a discussion of the circumstances surrounding the merger and the factors considered by Houston City Bancshares board of directors in approving the reorganization agreement, see page 48.

Certain Shareholders of Houston City Bancshares are Expected to Vote Their Shares For Approval of the Reorganization Agreement (page 39; Exhibit A to Appendix A)

The directors of Houston City Bancshares have entered into an agreement to vote the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock that they control in favor of approval of the reorganization agreement. As of the record date, 174,213 shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock, or approximately 31.56% of the outstanding shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting, were bound by the voting agreement.

Effective Time of the Merger (page 59)

The merger of IBGHCB with and into Houston City Bancshares will become effective at the date and time specified in the certificate of merger to be filed with the Texas Secretary of State. If Houston City Bancshares shareholders approve the reorganization agreement at the special meeting, and if all necessary regulatory approvals are obtained and the other conditions to the parties' respective obligations to effect the merger are satisfied or are waived by the party entitled to do so, Independent anticipates that the merger will be completed in the late fourth quarter of 2014, although delays could occur.

Houston City Bancshares and Independent cannot assure you that the necessary shareholder and regulatory approvals will be obtained or that the other conditions to completion of the merger can or will be satisfied. See Risk Factors The merger may not be completed.

Exchange of Houston City Bancshares Stock Certificates (page 59)

After the effective time of the merger, you will receive a letter and instructions from Wells Fargo Bank Shareowner Services, acting in its role as Independent's exchange agent and stock transfer agent, or the exchange agent, describing the procedures for surrendering your stock certificates representing shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock in exchange for shares of Independent common stock and cash. The shares of Independent common stock issuable in exchange for the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock will be issued solely in uncertificated book-entry form and a holder's shares of Independent common stock will be reflected in the shareholder's account established in the Direct Registration System of the Depository Trust Company, or DTC, by Independent's stock transfer agent. As soon as practical after the effective time of the merger, with the intent to be within ten days after the effective time of the merger, Independent will cause the exchange agent to mail to each record holder of Houston City Bancshares the transmittal letter and instructions to exchange their shares of common stock of Houston City Bancshares for the merger consideration. You must carefully review and complete these transmittal materials and return them as instructed along with your stock certificates for Houston City Bancshares common stock. Please do not send Houston City Bancshares or Independent any stock certificates for your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock until you receive these instructions. Share certificates delivered to the exchange agent without a properly completed letter of transmittal will be rejected and returned for corrective action.

Any condition to the completion of the merger, other than the required shareholder and regulatory approvals and the absence of an order prohibiting the merger, may be waived in writing by the party to the reorganization agreement entitled to the benefit of such condition. A party to the reorganization agreement could choose to complete the merger even though a condition has not been satisfied, as long as permitted by law. Independent cannot be certain when or if the conditions to the merger will be satisfied or waived, or that the merger will be completed.

Regulatory Approvals Required for the Merger (page 80)

The acquisition of Houston City Bancshares by Independent requires the approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, or Federal Reserve. In addition, the bank merger requires the approval of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, or the FDIC, and the Texas Department of Banking, or TDB. Independent must also file a notice of the merger with the U.S. Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, or OCC. On June 30, 2014, Independent, Independent Bank and Houston Community Bank filed applications with the Federal Reserve, the FDIC and the TDB to obtain approval of the transaction. Independent expects to obtain all necessary regulatory approvals, although Independent cannot be certain if or when Independent will obtain them.

Amendments or Waiver of the Reorganization Agreement (page 71)

Independent and Houston City Bancshares may amend the reorganization agreement and each party may waive its right to require the other party to adhere to any term or satisfy any condition of the reorganization agreement. However, the merger consideration to be received by the shareholders of Houston City Bancshares pursuant to the terms of the reorganization agreement may not be decreased after the approval of the reorganization agreement without the further approval of the Houston City Bancshares shareholders.

No Solicitation (page 63)

Pursuant to the reorganization agreement, Houston City Bancshares agreed that it will not, and that it will cause its employees, directors, officers, financial advisors or agents not to, and not to propose to, solicit, knowingly encourage, initiate or participate in any negotiations or discussions with any third party with respect to any proposal that could reasonably be expected to lead to an acquisition proposal, disclose to any third party any information concerning the business, properties, books or records of it in connection with any acquisition proposal, or cooperate with any third party to make any acquisition proposal. Promptly upon receipt of any unsolicited offer, Houston City Bancshares will communicate to Independent the terms of any proposal or request for information and the identity of the parties involved.

Provided that Houston City Bancshares has complied with the foregoing restrictions, if after the date of the reorganization agreement and prior to obtaining shareholder approval of the merger, Houston City Bancshares receives a bona fide, unsolicited written acquisition proposal, it may engage in negotiations and discussions with, and furnish any information and other access to, any person making such acquisition proposal if, and only if, Houston City Bancshares board of directors determines in good faith, after consultation with outside legal and financial advisors, that such acquisition proposal is or is reasonably capable of becoming an offer superior to the merger with Independent and the failure of Houston City Bancshares board of directors to furnish such information or access or enter into such discussions or negotiations would reasonably be expected to be a violation of its fiduciary duties to the shareholders of Houston City Bancshares; provided that it obtains an appropriately executed confidentiality agreement.

Termination of the Reorganization Agreement (page 72)

Independent and Houston City Bancshares can mutually agree at any time to terminate the reorganization agreement without completing the merger. In addition, either Independent or Houston City Bancshares may decide, without the consent of the other, to terminate the reorganization agreement if:

the conditions to such party's obligations to close have not been satisfied on or before December 31, 2014; subject to a 30-day extension for the receipt of regulatory approvals and provided that the terminating party is not in breach of the reorganization agreement;

the required regulatory approvals have not been obtained; or if the reorganization agreement and merger is not approved by the shareholders of Houston City Bancshares at the special meeting.

Houston City Bancshares may terminate the reorganization agreement, without the consent of Independent, if:

Independent breaches or fails to perform in any material respect any of its representations, warranties, covenants or other agreements contained in the reorganization agreement or any other agreement contemplated by the reorganization agreement, and such failure has not been cured within a period of 30 calendar days after written notice from Houston City Bancshares; or at any time prior to the special meeting in order to enter into, concurrently with such termination, an acquisition agreement or similar agreement with respect to a superior proposal that has been received and considered by Houston City Bancshares and the Houston City Bancshares board in accordance with all of the requirements of the reorganization agreement; or there has been any material adverse change in the financial condition, assets, properties, liabilities, reserves, business or results of operations of Independent since March 31, 2014.

In addition, Independent may terminate the reorganization agreement, without the consent of Houston City Bancshares, if:

Houston City Bancshares breaches or fails to perform in any material respect any of its representations, warranties or agreements contained in the reorganization agreement or any other agreement contemplated by the reorganization agreement, and such failure has not been cured within a period of 30 calendar days after written notice from Independent;

the Houston City Bancshares board has (i) recommended to the holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock that they tender their shares in a tender or exchange offer commenced by an unaffiliated third party for more than 15% of the outstanding Houston City Bancshares common stock, (ii) effected a change in the board's recommendation with respect to the merger or recommended to the Houston City Bancshares shareholders acceptance or approval of any alternative acquisition proposal, (iii) notified Independent in writing that Houston City Bancshares is prepared to accept a superior proposal or (iv) resolved to do the foregoing;

any of the following have occurred with respect to environmental matters regarding Houston City Bancshares: (i) the factual substance of any of the representations and warranties of Houston City Bancshares in the reorganization agreement is not materially true and accurate, (ii) the results of any environmental inspection or other environmental survey by Independent are disapproved by Independent because such inspection or survey identifies a material or potential material violation of applicable environmental laws, (iii) Houston City Bancshares refuses to allow such inspection or survey in a manner that Independent reasonably considers necessary, (iv) such inspection or survey identifies an event, condition or circumstance that would or potentially could reasonably be expected to require a material remedial or cleanup action or result in a material adverse change in the financial condition, assets, properties, liabilities, reserves, business or results of operations of Houston City Bancshares since March 31, 2014, (v) such inspection or survey reveals the presence of any underground or above ground storage tank in, on or under any real property owned or leased by Houston City Bancshares or Houston Community Bank that is not shown to be in material compliance with all applicable environmental laws, or that has had a release of petroleum or some other hazardous material that has not been cleaned up to the satisfaction of the relevant governmental authority or any other party with a right to compel such cleanup, or (vi) such inspection or survey identifies the presence of any asbestos-containing material in, on or under any real property owned or leased by Houston City Bancshares or Houston Community Bank, the removal of which could reasonably be expected to result in a material adverse change in the financial condition, assets, properties, liabilities, reserves, business or results of operations of Houston City Bancshares since March 31, 2014, subject, in the case of each of the foregoing, to notice and the right of Houston City Bancshares to satisfactorily correct any such matter;

Independent determines, in good faith after consulting with counsel, there is a substantial likelihood that any necessary regulatory approval will not be obtained or will be obtained only upon one or more conditions that make it inadvisable to proceed with the transactions; or

there has been any material adverse change in the financial condition, assets, properties, liabilities, reserves, business or results of operations of Houston City Bancshares or Houston Community Bank since March 31, 2014.

Termination Fee and Expense Reimbursements (page 73)

To compensate Independent for entering into the reorganization agreement, taking actions to consummate the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement and incurring the related costs and expenses and other losses and expense, including foregoing the pursuit of other opportunities, provided that Independent is not in material breach of any covenant or obligation under the reorganization agreement, Houston City Bancshares has agreed to pay Independent a $1,500,000 termination fee if the reorganization agreement is terminated:

by Houston City Bancshares because it receives an alternative acquisition proposal and, under certain terms and conditions, determines that it is a superior proposal to that of the reorganization agreement after giving effect to any adjustment made by Independent to the merger consideration;

by either Independent or Houston City Bancshares if the Houston City Bancshares shareholders do not approve the reorganization agreement and the merger at the special meeting and either (i) at the time of such disapproval, there exists an acquisition proposal with respect to Houston City Bancshares other than that of Independent that has not been withdrawn prior to the special meeting or (ii) within 12 months of the termination of the reorganization agreement, Houston City Bancshares enters into a definitive agreement with any third party with respect to any acquisition proposal; or by Independent if the Houston City Bancshares board has (i) recommended to the Houston City Bancshares shareholders that they tender their shares in a tender or exchange offer commenced by an unaffiliated third party for more than 15% of the outstanding Houston City Bancshares common stock, (ii) effected a change in the board's recommendation regarding the merger or recommended to the Houston City Bancshares shareholders acceptance or approval of any alternative acquisition proposal, (iii) notified Independent in writing that Houston City Bancshares is prepared to accept a superior proposal or (iv) resolved to do the foregoing.

Financial Interests of Directors and Officers of Houston City Bancshares in the Merger (page 73)

Some of the directors and officers of Houston City Bancshares have interests in the merger that differ from, or are in addition to, their interests as shareholders of Houston City Bancshares. These interests include:

as a condition to the merger, Independent has required that each of W. Phillip Johnson, Jr., C. Jeff Smith, Sheryl McKellar, KC Curtis and Claude B. Leatherwood enter into an employment agreement, effective upon completion of the merger, that includes noncompetition and nonsolicitation obligations to Independent Bank and pursuant to which the executive officer is entitled to receive a salary, annual bonus and certain additional incentives from Independent Bank; each of C. Jeff Smith, Claude B. Leatherwood, Sheryl McKellar, KC Curtis, Brad Fagan, and Harry Blake is an executive officer of Houston Community Bank and currently has a retention agreement with Houston Community Bank that provides, among other things, for the executive officer to receive a lump sum retention payment, upon certain circumstances in connection with the completion of the merger. The aggregate amount of payments owed under the agreements with these officers is $578,000. Houston Community Bank will make the retention payments to these officers in connection with the completion of the merger. These payments will reduce the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares for the purpose of calculating the merger consideration payable to shareholders of Houston City Bancshares; and the directors and officers of Houston City Bancshares will receive indemnification from Independent for a period of three years after completion of the merger to the same extent and subject to the conditions set forth in the certificate of formation and bylaws of Houston City Bancshares and continued director and officer liability coverage for a period of three years after completion of the merger. Any amounts paid by Houston Community Bank to purchase continued director and officer liability coverage will reduce the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares for the purpose of calculating the merger consideration payable to shareholders of Houston City Bancshares shareholders.

Comparison of Rights of Shareholders of Houston City Bancshares and Independent (page 99)

Houston City Bancshares is a Texas corporation that is a registered bank holding company, and the rights of shareholders of Houston City Bancshares are governed by Texas law and Houston City Bancshares' certificate of formation and bylaws. Independent is a Texas corporation that is a registered bank holding company, and the rights of Independent's shareholders are governed by Texas law and Independent's certificate of formation and bylaws. Upon completion of the merger, shareholders of Houston City Bancshares will become shareholders of Independent and their rights as shareholders of Independent will be governed by Independent's certificate of formation and bylaws, in addition to Texas law. Independent's certificate of formation and bylaws will not be amended in the merger, but could be later restated, amended or, as regards the bylaws, repealed.

Dissenters' Rights of Houston City Bancshares Shareholders (page 81)

As a holder of Houston City Bancshares common stock, you have the right under Texas law to dissent from the merger and have the appraised fair value of your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock as of the date immediately preceding the effective date of the merger paid to you in cash. The appraised fair value may be more or less than the value of the shares of Independent common stock and cash shareholders of Houston City Bancshares will receive for their Houston City Bancshares shares in the merger.

Persons having beneficial interests in Houston City Bancshares common stock held of record in the name of another person, such as a broker, bank or other nominee, must act promptly to cause the record holder to take the actions required under Texas law to exercise their dissenter's rights.

In order to dissent, you must carefully follow the requirements of the TBOC, including providing Houston City Bancshares, prior to the special meeting, with a written objection to the merger that states that you will exercise your right to dissent if the Houston City Bancshares shareholders approve the reorganization agreement and the merger is completed. These steps for perfecting your right of dissent are summarized under the caption "Dissenters' Rights of Houston City Bancshares Shareholders" on page 81. The provisions of the TBOC pertaining to dissenters' rights are attached to this proxy statement/prospectus as Appendix C and the summaries of those provisions in this proxy statement/prospectus should be read in conjunction with, and are qualified by, those provisions of the TBOC.

If you intend to exercise dissenters' rights, you should read the provisions of the TBOC governing dissenters' rights carefully and consult with your own legal counsel. You should also remember that if you return a signed proxy card, but fail to provide instructions as to how your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock are to be voted, you will be considered to have voted in favor of the reorganization agreement. In that event, you will not be able to assert dissenters' rights.

If the Houston City Bancshares shareholders approve the reorganization agreement, a holder of Houston City Bancshares common stock who delivers to the president and the secretary of Houston City Bancshares a written objection to the merger prior to the special meeting that states that such holder will exercise his or her right to dissent if the reorganization agreement is approved and the merger is completed and includes an address for notice of the effectiveness of the merger, who votes his or her shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock against approval of the reorganization agreement at the special meeting, who, not later than the 20th day after Independent sends such holder notice that the merger was completed, delivers to the president and secretary of Independent a written demand for payment of the fair value of his or her shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock that states the number and class of shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock such holder owns, his or her estimate of the fair value of such stock and an address to which a notice relating to the dissent and appraisal procedures may be sent, and who, not later than the 20th day after he or she makes that demand for payment, submits to Independent the certificates representing his or her shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock will be entitled under the TBOC to receive the appraised fair value of his or her shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock, as of the date immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, in cash under the TBOC.

(1) Prior to April 1, 2013, Independent elected to be taxed for federal income tax purposes as an S corporation under the provisions of Sections 1361 through 1379 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and, as a result, Independent did not pay U.S. federal income taxes and has not been required to make any provision or recognize any liability for federal income tax in its consolidated financial statements for any period ending on or before March 31, 2013. As of April 1, 2013, Independent terminated its S corporation election and commenced being subject to federal income taxation as a C corporation. Independent has calculated its pro forma net income, pro forma earnings per share on a basic and diluted basis, pro forma return on average assets and pro forma return on average equity for each period presented by calculating a pro forma provision for federal income taxes using an assumed annual effective federal income tax rate of 32.8% for the three months ended March 31, 2013, respectively, and 33.9%, 30.1%, 31.7%, 33.1%, and 32.2% for the years ended December 31, 2013, 2012, 2011, 2010 and 2009, respectively, and adjusting its historical net income for each period presented to give effect to the pro forma provision for federal income taxes for such period.

- (2) The per share amounts and the weighted-average shares outstanding for each of the periods shown have been adjusted to give effect to the 3.2-for-one split of the shares of Independent's common stock that was effective as of February 22, 2013.
- (3) Independent calculates its diluted earnings per share for each period shown as its net income divided by the weighted-average number of its common shares outstanding during the relevant period adjusted for the dilutive effect of its outstanding warrants to purchase shares of common stock. Earnings per share on a basic and diluted basis and pro forma earnings per share on a basic and diluted basis were calculated using the following outstanding share amounts:

	For the Three Months Ended March 31,		For the Year Ended December 31,
	2014	2013	2013	2012	2011	2010	2009
Weighted average shares outstanding basic	12,403,378	8,125,279	10,921,777	7,626,205	6,668,534	6,518,224	5,667,360
Weighted average shares outstanding diluted	12,505,030	8,167,726	10,990,245	7,649,366	6,675,078	6,518,224	5,667,360

- (4) Dividends declared include quarterly cash distributions paid to Independent's shareholders in the relevant period to provide them with funds to pay their federal income tax liabilities incurred as a result of the pass-through of Independent's net taxable income for the first three months ended March 31, 2013, and for each other such period shown to its shareholders as holders of shares in an S corporation for federal income tax purposes. The aggregate amounts of such cash distributions relating to the payment of tax liabilities were $0.52 per share for the three months ended March 31, 2013, respectively, and $0.52 per share, $0.85 per share, $0.63 per share, $0.36 per share and $0.30 per share for the years ended December 31, 2013, 2012, 2011, 2010 and 2009, respectively.
- (5) Book value per share equals Independent's total stockholders' equity as of the date presented divided by the number of shares of its common stock outstanding as of the date presented. The number of shares of its common stock outstanding as of March 31, 2014 and 2013, was 12,592,935 and 8,269,707, respectively, and as of December 31, 2013, 2012, 2011, 2010 and 2009 was 12,330,158 shares, 8,269,707 shares, 6,850,293 shares, 6,832,328 shares and 6,628,056 shares, respectively.

- (6) Independent calculates tangible book value per share as of the end of a period as total stockholders' equity less goodwill and other intangible assets at the end of the relevant period divided by the outstanding number of shares of its common stock at the end of that period. Tangible book value is a non-GAAP financial measure, and, as Independent calculates tangible book value, the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure is total stockholders' equity. Independent believes that the presentation of tangible book value per share provides useful information to investors regarding Independent's financial condition because, as do Independent's management, banking regulators, many financial analysts and other investors, you can use the tangible book value in conjunction with more traditional bank capital ratios to assess Independent's capital adequacy without the effect of Independent's goodwill and other intangible assets and compare Independent's capital adequacy with the capital adequacy of other banking organizations with significant amounts of goodwill and/or other intangible assets, which typically stem from the use of the purchase accounting method of accounting for mergers and acquisitions. A reconciliation of tangible book value to total stockholders' equity is presented below.
- (7) Each of five wholly-owned, but nonconsolidated, subsidiaries of Independent holds a series of Independent's junior subordinated debentures purchased by the subsidiary in connection with, and paid for with the proceeds of, the issuance of trust issued preferred securities by that subsidiary. Independent has guaranteed the payment of the amounts payable under each of those issues of trust preferred securities.
- (8) The values for the selected performance metrics presented for the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013, other than the dividend payout ratio, are annualized.
- (9) Independent has calculated its return on average assets and return on average equity for a period by dividing net income for that period by its average assets and average equity, as the case may be, for that period. Independent has calculated its pro forma return on average assets and pro forma return on average equity for a period by calculating its pro forma net income for that period as described in note 1 above and dividing that by its average assets and average equity, as the case be, for that period. Independent calculates its average assets and average equity for a period by dividing the sum of its total asset balance or total stockholder's equity balance, as the case may be, as of the close of business on each day in the relevant period and dividing by the number of days in the period.
- (10) Net interest margin for a period represents net interest income for that period divided by average interest-earning assets for that period.
- (11) Efficiency ratio for a period represents noninterest expenses for that period divided by the sum of net interest income and noninterest income for that period, excluding bargain purchase gains recognized in connection with certain of Independent's acquisitions and realized gains or losses from sales of investment securities for that period.
- (12) Independent calculates its dividend payout ratio for each period presented as the dividends paid per share for such period (excluding cash distributions made to shareholders in connection with tax liabilities as described in note (4) above) divided by its basic earnings per share for such period.
- (13) Nonperforming loans include nonaccrual loans, loans past due 90 days or more and still accruing interest, and accruing loans modified under troubled debt restructurings.
- (14) Independent calculates its risk-weighted assets using the standardized method of the Basel II Framework, as implemented by the Federal Reserve and the FDIC.
- (15) Independent calculates tangible common equity as of the end of a period as total stockholders' equity less goodwill and other intangible assets as of the end of the period and calculates tangible assets as of the end of a period as total assets less goodwill and other intangible assets as of the end of the period. Tangible common equity to tangible assets is a non-GAAP financial measure, and as Independent calculates tangible common equity to tangible assets, the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure is total stockholders' equity to total assets. Independent believes that the presentation of tangible common equity to tangible assets provides useful information to investors regarding Independent's financial condition because, as do Independent's management, banking regulators, many financial analysts and other investors, you can use the tangible common equity in conjunction with more traditional bank capital ratios to assess Independent's capital adequacy without the effect of Independent's goodwill and core deposit intangibles and compare Independent's capital adequacy with the capital adequacy of other banking organizations with significant amounts of goodwill and/or core deposit intangibles. A reconciliation of the ratios of tangible common equity to tangible assets to the ratios of total stockholders' equity to total assets is presented below.

- (1) Houston City Bancshares has elected to be taxed for federal income tax purposes as a Subchapter S corporation under the provisions of Sections 1361 through 1379 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, for all periods presented in the table appearing immediately above, and, as a result, Houston City Bancshares did not pay U.S. federal income taxes and has not been required to make any provision or recognize any liability for federal income tax in its consolidated financial statements. Houston City Bancshares has calculated its pro forma net income, pro forma earnings per share, pro forma return on average assets and pro forma return on average equity for each period presented in the table above by calculating a pro forma provision for federal income taxes applying an assumed annual federal income tax rate of 34% to net taxable income (which excludes Houston City Bancshares' significant amounts of nontaxable interest income that is derived from loans to municipalities), resulting in a net effective federal income tax rate of between 23% and 25% for each period, and adjusting its historical net income for each period to give effect to the pro forma provision for federal income taxes for such period.

- (2) Houston City Bancshares calculates its earnings per share for each period shown as its net income divided by the weighted-average number of its common shares outstanding during the relevant period. Earnings per share and pro forma earnings per share were calculated using the following outstanding share amounts:

- (3) Book value per share equals Houston City Bancshares' total shareholders' equity as of the date presented divided by the number of Houston City Bancshares' common shares outstanding as of the date presented. The number of Houston City Bancshares' common shares outstanding as of March 31, 2014 and 2013, was 551,993 shares and 551,993 shares, respectively, and as of December 31, 2013, 2012, 2011, 2010 and 2009, was 551,993 shares, 551,993 shares, 545,993 shares, 546,199 shares and 546,926 shares, respectively.

- (4) Not used.

- (5) Houston City Bancshares calculates tangible book value per share as of the end of any period as total stockholders' equity less goodwill and other intangible assets at the end of that period divided by the outstanding number of shares of its common stock at the end of that period. Tangible book value is a non-GAAP financial measure, and, as Houston City Bancshares calculates tangible book value, the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure is total stockholders' equity.

Dividends

Dividend Payments. As approved by Independent's board of directors, Independent declared and paid a $0.06 per share dividend to holders of Independent common stock in each of the third and fourth quarters of 2013, and the first and second quarters of 2014. Independent intends to pay regularly quarterly cash dividends on its common stock following the merger, when, as and if declared by the Company's board of directors out of funds legally available for that purpose and subject to regulatory restrictions. No dividends payable in the future have been declared by Independent's board of directors.

Independent's dividend policy may change with respect to the payment of dividends as a return on investment, and Independent's board of directors may change or eliminate the payment of future dividends at its discretion, without notice to Independent's shareholders. However, there can be no assurance that Independent will continue to pay dividends in the future. Future dividends on Independent common stock will depend upon its earnings and financial condition, liquidity and capital requirements, the general economic and regulatory climate, its ability to service any equity or debt obligations senior to the common stock (including Independent's preferred stock discussed below) and other factors deemed relevant by the board of directors of Independent.

Dividend Restrictions; Source of Strength. Under the terms of its junior subordinated debentures issued in connection with the issuance of trust preferred securities by subsidiaries of Independent, Independent is not permitted to pay any dividends on its common stock if it is in default on any payments required to be made on the junior subordinated debentures.

Independent is regarded as a legal entity separate and distinct from Independent Bank. The principal source of Independent's revenues is dividends received from Independent Bank. Texas state law places limitations on the amount that state banks may pay in dividends, which Independent Bank must adhere to when paying dividends to Independent. The Federal Reserve has issued a policy statement that provides that a bank holding company should not pay dividends unless (a) its net income over the last four quarters (net of dividends paid) has been sufficient to fully fund the dividends, (b) the prospective rate of earnings retention appears to be consistent with the capital needs, asset quality and overall financial condition of the bank holding company and its subsidiaries and (c) the bank holding company will continue to meet minimum required capital adequacy ratios. Accordingly, Independent should not pay cash dividends that exceed its net income in any year or that can only be funded in ways that weaken its financial strength, including by borrowing money to pay dividends. Regulatory authorities could impose administratively stricter limitations on the ability of Independent Bank to pay dividends to Independent if such limits were deemed appropriate to preserve certain capital adequacy requirements.

Under Federal Reserve policy, bank holding companies have historically been required to act as a source of financial and managerial strength to each of its banking subsidiaries, and the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act codified this policy as a statutory requirement. Under this requirement, Independent is expected to commit resources to support Independent Bank, including at times when Independent may not be in a financial position to provide such resources. Any capital loans by a bank holding company to any of its subsidiary banks are subordinate in right of payment to deposits and to certain other indebtedness of such subsidiary banks. A bank holding company, in certain circumstances, could be required to guarantee the capital restoration plan of an undercapitalized banking subsidiary.

Dividends paid by Independent Bank have provided a substantial part of Independent's operating funds, and for the foreseeable future, it is anticipated that dividends paid by Independent Bank to Independent will continue to be Independent's principal source of operating funds. However, capital adequacy requirements serve to limit the amount of dividends that may be paid by Independent Bank. Under federal law, Independent Bank cannot pay a dividend if, after paying the dividend, it would be undercapitalized. The FDIC may declare a dividend payment to be unsafe and unsound even though Independent Bank would continue to meet its capital requirements after payment of the dividend.

Additionally, under the credit agreement between Independent and U.S. Bank National Association, or U.S. Bank, Independent cannot make any dividend payments without the prior written consent of U.S. Bank; provided, however, that, so long as no default under the credit agreement has occurred and is continuing, or will occur as a result of any such dividend, Independent may pay dividends and distributions to its shareholders as permitted by applicable governmental laws and regulations, including dividends with respect to the Independent Series A preferred stock.

So long as any share of Independent Series A preferred stock remains outstanding, Independent may declare and pay dividends on its common stock only if after giving effect to such dividend, Independent satisfies certain formula requirements under the Independent Series A preferred stock and full dividends on all outstanding shares of Independent Series A preferred stock for the most recently completed dividend period have been or are contemporaneously declared and paid. If a dividend is not declared and paid in full on the Independent Series A preferred stock in respect of any dividend period, then from the last day of such dividend period until the last day of the third dividend period immediately following it, no dividend or distribution shall be declared or paid on the common stock (other than dividends payable solely in shares of common stock).

Payment of Dividends on Independent Preferred Stock. Holders of Independent's Series A preferred stock, which ranks senior to Independent's common stock, are entitled to receive at the end of each quarterly dividend rate (which rate is approximately 1%) multiplied by the liquidation amount per each share of Series A preferred stock, which liquidation amount is currently equal to $1,000 per share, or approximately $60,000 per quarter.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

Preliminary Financial Results for the Second Quarter of 2014

Independent completed its second fiscal quarter for its fiscal year 2014 on June 30, 2014. The following information reflects certain information regarding Independent's consolidated results of operations for the three months ended June 30, 2014 and its financial condition as of that date. The consolidated results of operations for that period and Independent's consolidated financial condition as of that date include the results of operations of the operations acquired in its acquisition of BOH Holdings, Inc. on and after April 15, 2014, and the assets and liabilities acquired and assumed from BOH Holdings, Inc. in that acquisition and that continued to be held on June 30, 2014. Independent issued 3,615,886 shares of its common stock in that acquisition. This data should be read in conjunction with Independent's consolidated financial statements incorporated by reference in this proxy statement/prospectus. These results may not be indicative of results that Independent will achieve for any future period. The results set forth below are preliminary and are subject to adjustment and customary year end adjustments.

Net income was $5.1 million, or $0.32 per diluted share, for the quarter ended June 30, 2014, compared to $4.8 million, or $0.38 per diluted share, for the quarter ended March 31, 2014, and pro forma after tax net income of $4.1 million, or $0.34 per diluted share, for the quarter ended June 30, 2013.

Net interest income was $31.4 million for second quarter of 2014, compared to $22.1 million for first quarter of 2014 and $17.9 million for second quarter of 2013. Net interest margin was 4.26% for second quarter of 2014, compared to 4.17% for first quarter of 2014 and 4.16% for second quarter of 2013.

Provision for loan loss expense was $1.4 million for the second quarter of 2014, an increase of $126 thousand compared to $1.3 million for first quarter of 2014, and an increase of $300 thousand compared to $1.1 million during the second quarter of 2013.

Total noninterest income and total noninterest expense for the second quarter of 2014 were $3.1 million and $25.3 million, respectively, compared to $2.3 million and $16.1 million for the first quarter of 2014 and $2.7 million and $13.4 million for the second quarter of 2013, respectively.

At June 30, 2014, Independent's total assets were $3.7 billion, total loans, net of allowance for loan losses of $16.2 million, were $2.8 billion, total deposits were $2.9 billion and total shareholders' equity was $491 million. At December 31, 2013, Independent's total assets were $2.2 billion, total loans, net of allowance for loan losses of $14.0 million, were $1.7 billion, total deposits were $1.7 billion and total stockholders' equity was $234 million.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in Independent common stock in connection with the merger involves risks. Independent describes below the material risks and uncertainties that it believes affect its business and an investment in Independent common stock. You should carefully read and consider all of these risks and all other information contained in this proxy statement/prospectus in deciding whether to vote for approval of the reorganization agreement. If any of the risks described in this proxy statement/prospectus occur, Independent's financial condition, results of operations and cash flows could be materially and adversely affected. If this were to happen, the value of Independent common stock could decline significantly, and you could lose all or part of your investment.

Fluctuations in the market price of Independent common stock will affect the number of shares that Houston City Bancshares shareholders receive for their shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock. Houston City Bancshares shareholders bear the risk of price fluctuations in Independent common stock after the exchange ratio is established.

The price of Independent common stock will fluctuate prior to the closing of the merger. The per share stock consideration will be $56.52, but the number of shares comprising the per share stock consideration will be subject to and based upon the average volume weighted sale price of Independent common stock over a ten consecutive trading day period ending on and including the third trading day prior to the closing date, or the average sales price. The higher the average sale price, the fewer the number of shares Independent common stock that the holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock will receive. At the time Houston City Bancshares' shareholders vote with respect to the reorganization agreement, they will not know the exact number of shares of Independent common stock they will actually receive in the merger. In addition, shareholders of Houston City Bancshares bear the risk that the value of the shares of Independent common stock they will receive in the merger will decline from the value of those shares after the date the per share stock consideration is fixed three trading days prior to the closing date and until their shares of Independent common stock are credited to their account in the Direct Registration System.

The merger may not be completed.

Completion of the merger is subject to regulatory approval. Independent cannot assure you that it will be successful in obtaining required regulatory approvals. If Independent is not successful in obtaining required regulatory approvals, the merger will not be completed. If such regulatory approvals are received, there can be no assurance to the timing of those approvals or whether any conditions will be imposed that would result in certain closing conditions of the merger not being satisfied.

Shareholders should bear in mind that regulatory approval reflects only the view that the merger does not contravene applicable competitive standards imposed by law, and that the merger is consistent with regulatory policies relating to safety and soundness. Further, regulatory approval is not an opinion that the proposed merger is favorable to the shareholders of either party to the merger from a financial point of view or that the regulatory authority has considered the adequacy of the terms of the merger. Regulatory approval is not an endorsement or recommendation of the merger.

The consummation of the merger is also subject to other conditions precedent described in the reorganization agreement, including Houston City Bancshares maintaining minimum capital and allowance for loan loss levels, there being no material adverse change in the condition of Houston City Bancshares or Independent and the average sales price of Independent common stock being at least $37.7416 per share. If a condition of either party is not satisfied, that party may be able to terminate the reorganization agreement and, in such case, the transaction would not be consummated. The parties cannot assure you that all of the conditions precedent in the reorganization agreement will be satisfied or that the merger will be completed.

The tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares at closing could be an amount that results in the reduction of the amount of cash consideration that Houston City Bancshares shareholders receive for their shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock.

The amount of aggregate cash consideration to be received by Houston City Bancshares shareholders in the merger will be reduced if Houston City Bancshares' tangible book value is less than $24,000,000 as of the closing date. Accordingly, at the time Houston City Bancshares' shareholders vote with respect to the reorganization agreement, they will not know the exact value of the cash consideration they will receive in the merger. Neither Independent nor Houston City Bancshares can assure Houston City Bancshares' shareholders of the exact amount of cash consideration that they will receive in the merger.

Independent could elect to complete the merger transaction even if the Houston City Bancshares tangible book value is less than $22 million on the closing date, in which case the aggregate cash merger consideration would be reduced below $14.8 million.

In the event that Houston City Bancshares does not have a tangible book value equal to or greater than $22 million as of the date of the closing, Independent has the right to elect either to terminate the transaction without completing the merger, or completing the merger regardless of the tangible book value. Houston City Bancshares does not have the right to terminate the merger in the event its tangible book value, which was $27.33 million at June 30, 2014, is below $22 million on the closing date under the terms of the reorganization agreement. If Houston City Bancshares has a tangible book value of $7.2 million or less on the closing date of the merger, and if the transaction still received bank regulatory approval and was consummated, holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock would not receive any cash consideration, but only shares of Independent common stock. The result is that once the holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock have approved the reorganization agreement and the merger, Independent can require Houston City Bancshares to complete the merger even though the aggregate cash merger consideration could be reduced to $0 and only the $56.52 of shares of Independent common stock would be payable.

Houston City Bancshares does not intend to resolicit proxies from its shareholders in the event that Houston City Bancshares' tangible book value is less than $22 million on the closing date.

If the Houston City Bancshares tangible book value, which was $27.33 million at June 30, 2014, is below $22 million on the closing date, Independent's board of directors intends to exercise its independent judgment in determining whether to complete the merger or to terminate the reorganization agreement. Houston City Bancshares does not have a corresponding contractual right to choose not to complete the merger should its tangible book value fall below $22 million on the closing date, even if this means a reduction in the cash merger consideration below $14.8 million (i.e., the reduced aggregate cash merger consideration for $22 million tangible book value on the closing date). In this event, the decision whether to complete the merger will rest solely with Independent. Without the right to decline to complete the merger, there would be no reason for Houston City Bancshares to resolicit proxies from its shareholders under these circumstances. In determining whether to approve the reorganization agreement and the merger, the holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock should consider that they could possibly receive reduced aggregate cash merger consideration if the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares were to fall prior to closing.

You may pay U.S. federal income tax as a result of the merger.

The amount of the cash consideration that you receive in the merger in exchange for your common stock of Houston City Bancshares is anticipated to be taxable for U.S. federal income tax purposes. See "Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement" Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Independent Merger on page 75.

Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank will be subject to business uncertainties and contractual restrictions while the merger is pending.

Uncertainty about the effect of the merger on employees and customers may have an adverse effect on Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank and consequently on Independent. These uncertainties may impair Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank's respective ability to attract, retain and motivate key personnel until the merger is completed, and could cause customers and others that deal with either Houston City Bancshares or Houston Community Bank to seek to change existing business relationships with either Houston City Bancshares or Houston Community Bank. In addition, the reorganization agreement restricts Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank from taking other specified actions until the merger occurs without the consent of Independent. These restrictions may prevent Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank from pursuing attractive business opportunities that may arise prior to the completion of the merger. See Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement Conduct of Business Pending Effective Time beginning on page 60 of this proxy statement/prospectus for a description of the restrictive covenants to which Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank are subject.

Integrating Houston Community Bank into Independent Bank's operations may be more difficult, costly or time-consuming than Independent expects.

Independent, Independent Bank, Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank have operated and, until the merger is completed, will continue to operate, independently. Accordingly, it is possible that the process of integrating Houston Community Bank's operations into Independent Bank's operations could result in the disruption of operations, the loss of Houston Community Bank customers and employees and make it more difficult to achieve the intended benefits of the merger. Specifically, inconsistencies between the standards, controls, procedures and policies of Independent Bank and those of Houston Community Bank could adversely affect Independent Bank's ability to maintain relationships with current customers and employees of Houston Community Bank if and when the merger is completed. Further, as with any merger of banking institutions, business disruptions may occur that may cause Independent Bank to lose customers or may cause customers to withdraw their deposits from Houston Community Bank prior to the merger's consummation and from Independent Bank thereafter. The realization of the anticipated benefits of the merger may depend in large part on Independent's ability to integrate Houston Community Bank's operations into Independent Bank's operations, and to address differences in business models and cultures. Moreover, the combined effect of integrating the acquisition of Collin Bank, which was completed in the fourth quarter of 2013, the acquisitions of Live Oak Financial, which was completed in the first quarter of 2014, and the acquisition of BOH Holdings, which was completed in the second quarter of 2014, with most of the integration activities expected to occur in the months following the respective dates of acquisition, may stretch Independent's management and could result in Independent experiencing operational difficulties in such integrations. If Independent is not able to integrate the operations of the foregoing companies and Houston Community Bank into Independent Bank's operations successfully and on a timely basis, some or all of the expected benefits of the acquisitions may not be realized.

Some of the directors and officers of Houston City Bancshares may have interests and arrangements that may have influenced their decisions to support or recommend that you approve the reorganization agreement.

The interests of some of the directors and officers of Houston City Bancshares may be different from those of Houston City Bancshares shareholders. The directors and certain officers of Houston City Bancshares are or will be participants in arrangements relating to or that are affected by the merger that are different from, or in addition to, those of Houston City Bancshares shareholders. These interests are described in more detail in the section of this proxy statement/prospectus entitled Financial Interests of Directors and Officers of Houston City Bancshares in the Merger beginning on page 73.

Independent may fail to realize the cost savings anticipated from the merger.

Although Independent anticipates that it will realize certain cost savings as to the Houston Community Bank operations and otherwise from the merger if and when the Houston Community Bank operations are fully integrated into Independent Bank's operations, it is possible that Independent may not realize all of the cost savings that Independent has estimated it can realize. For example, unanticipated growth in Independent's business may require Independent to continue to operate or maintain some facilities or support functions that are currently expected to be combined or reduced as a result of the merger. Independent's realization of the estimated cost savings also will depend on Independent's ability to combine the operations of Independent Bank and Houston Community Bank in a manner that permits those cost savings to be realized. Independent is not able to integrate Houston Community Bank's operations into Independent Bank's operations successfully, the anticipated cost savings may not be fully realized, if at all, or may take longer to realize than expected.

Houston City Bancshares shareholders will have a reduced ownership and voting interest after the merger and will exercise less influence over management.

Houston City Bancshares shareholders currently have the right to vote in the election of the board of directors of Houston City Bancshares and on other matters affecting Houston City Bancshares. The merger will transfer control of Houston City Bancshares to Independent and to the shareholders of Independent. When the merger occurs, each Houston City Bancshares shareholder will become a shareholder of Independent with a percentage ownership of Independent much smaller than such shareholder's percentage ownership of Houston City Bancshares. Because of this, Houston City Bancshares shareholders will have less influence on the management and policies of Independent than they now have on the management and policies of Houston City Bancshares.

The dissenters' rights appraisal process is uncertain.

Houston City Bancshares shareholders may or may not be entitled to receive more than the amount provided for in the reorganization agreement for their shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock if they elect to exercise their right to dissent from the proposed merger, depending on the appraisal of the fair value of the Houston City Bancshares common stock pursuant to the dissenting shareholder procedures under the TBOC. See Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement Dissenters' Rights of Houston City Bancshares Shareholders and Appendix C. For this reason, the amount of cash that you might be entitled to receive should you elect to exercise your right to dissent to the merger may be more or less than the value of the merger consideration to be paid pursuant to the reorganization agreement. In addition, it is a condition in the reorganization agreement that the holders of not more than 5% of the outstanding shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock shall have exercised their statutory dissenters' rights under the TBOC. The number of shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock that will exercise dissenters' rights under the TBOC is not known and therefore there is no assurance of this closing condition being satisfied.

The fairness opinion obtained by Houston City Bancshares from its financial advisor will not reflect changes in circumstances subsequent to the date of the fairness opinion.

Hovde Group, Houston City Bancshares' financial advisor in connection with the proposed merger, has delivered to the board of directors of Houston City Bancshares its opinion dated as of May 29, 2014. The opinion of Hovde Group stated that as of such date, and based upon and subject to the factors and assumptions set forth therein, the merger consideration was fair to the Houston City Bancshares shareholders from a financial point of view. The opinion is necessarily based on economic, market, regulatory and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to Hovde Group, as of the date thereof. Events occurring after the date of the opinion could materially affect the assumptions used in preparing the opinion and its resulting conclusion. Any such changes, or changes in other factors on which the opinion is based, may materially alter or affect the relative values of Independent and Houston City Bancshares.

The shares of Independent common stock to be received by Houston City Bancshares shareholders as a result of the merger will have different rights than the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock and in some cases may be less favorable.

The rights associated with Houston City Bancshares common stock are different from the rights associated with Independent common stock and in some cases may be less favorable. The purpose of the special meeting is to consider and vote to approve the reorganization agreement, which provides for, among other things, the initial merger of IBGHCB, a wholly owned subsidiary of Independent, with and into Houston City Bancshares, with Houston City Bancshares being the surviving entity, the subsequent merger of Houston City Bancshares with and into Independent, with Independent being the surviving entity, and then the bank merger of Houston Community Bank with and into Independent Bank, with Independent Bank being the surviving bank. This document also constitutes a prospectus relating to offer and sale of the Independent common stock to be issued to holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock upon completion of the merger of Houston City Bancshares and IBGHCB.

Independent has supplied all of the information contained herein relating to Independent and Independent Bank, and Houston City Bancshares has supplied all of the information contained herein relating to Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank.

THE SPECIAL MEETING

Date, Place and Time of the Special Meeting

Matters to be Considered

The purpose of the special meeting is to consider and vote on the following:

Proposal One: approve the Agreement and Plan of Reorganization, dated as of June 2, 2014, by and between Independent and Houston City Bancshares and the related Agreement and Plan of Merger, which is attached to the reorganization agreement as Exhibit A, pursuant to which IBGHCB will merge with and into Houston City Bancshares, all on the terms and subject to conditions contained therein; and

Proposal Two: to approve the adjournment of the special meeting to a later date or dates if the board of directors of Houston City Bancshares determines such an adjournment is necessary to permit further solicitation of additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to constitute a quorum or to approve the reorganization agreement.

Completion of the merger is conditioned on, among other things, shareholder approval of the reorganization agreement, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement. No other business may be conducted at the special meeting.

Recommendation of the Houston City Bancshares Board of Directors

On June 2, 2014, the Houston City Bancshares board of directors unanimously approved the reorganization agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby. Based on Houston City Bancshares reasons for the merger described in this proxy statement/prospectus, including the fairness opinion of Hovde Group, the board of directors of Houston City Bancshares believes that the merger is in the best interests of Houston City Bancshares shareholders.

Accordingly, the Houston City Bancshares board of directors unanimously recommends that Houston City Bancshares shareholders vote as follows:

FOR approval of the reorganization agreement and the merger; and.

Table of Contents

FOR any proposal to adjourn the special meeting that the Houston City Bancshares board of directors determines is necessary, including to permit further solicitation of additional proxies on the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement.

See Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement Recommendation of Houston City Bancshares Board and Its Reasons for the Merger beginning on page 48.

Holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock should carefully read this proxy statement/prospectus, including any documents incorporated by reference, and the Appendices in their entirety for more detailed information concerning the merger and the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement.

Houston City Bancshares Record Date; Shareholders Entitled to Vote

The record date for the special meeting is August 5, 2014, or the record date. Only record holders of shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock at 5:00 p.m. Central Time, or the close of business, on the record date are entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the special meeting or any adjournment(s) thereof. At the close of business on the record date, the only outstanding securities of Houston City Bancshares with a right to vote on the proposals was Houston City Bancshares common stock, with 551,993 shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock issued and outstanding. Each share of Houston City Bancshares common stock outstanding on the record date is entitled to one vote on each proposal. Holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock, must vote in favor of the reorganization agreement in order to permit consummation of the merger.

Voting by Houston City Bancshares Directors and Executive Officers Subject to the Voting Agreement

All of the directors and executive officers of Houston City Bancshares have entered into an agreement to vote the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock they control in favor of approval of the reorganization agreement and the merger and in the manner most favorable to the consummation of the merger and the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement; provided, however, that the Houston City Bancshares shareholders who entered into the voting agreement would be permitted to vote to accept a superior proposal, if any, under the terms of the reorganization agreement. As of the record date, 174,213 shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock, or approximately 31.56% of the outstanding shares of such common stock, entitled to vote at the special meeting, are bound by the voting agreement.

Quorum and Adjournment

No business may be transacted at the special meeting unless a quorum is present. Shareholders who hold shares representing at least a majority of each class of the shares entitled to vote at the special meeting must be present in person or represented by proxy to constitute a quorum, but the holders of at least two-thirds of the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting must be present, in person or by proxy, at the special meeting in order for the necessary vote to be able to take action on the merger proposal. The affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding Houston City Bancshares common stock is required to approve the reorganization agreement. As a result, if shares representing at least two-thirds of the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock outstanding on the close of business on the record date are not present at the special meeting, the presence of a quorum will still not permit the merger to be approved at the special meeting.

If a quorum is not present, or if fewer shares than are required are voted in favor of the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement, then the special meeting may be adjourned to allow for the solicitation of additional proxies, if the approval of a majority of the votes cast at the special meeting on such proposal is obtained.

Table of Contents

No notice of an adjourned special meeting need be given unless after the adjournment, a new record date is fixed for the adjourned special meeting, in which case a notice of the adjourned special meeting shall be given to each Houston City Bancshares shareholder of record entitled to vote at the special meeting. At any adjourned special meeting, all proxies will be voted in the same manner as they would have been voted at the original convening of the special meeting, except for any proxies that have been effectively revoked or withdrawn prior to the adjourned special meeting.

All shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock represented at the special meeting, including shares that are represented but that vote to abstain and broker nonvotes, will be treated as present for purposes of determining the presence or absence of a quorum.

Required Vote

The required votes to approve the Houston City Bancshares proposals are as follows:

Proposal One: approving the reorganization agreement and the merger requires the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the issued and outstanding shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting. Failures to vote, broker nonvotes and abstentions will have the same effect as a vote against this proposal.

Proposal Two: approving the adjournment of the special meeting, if necessary, to allow for the solicitation of additional proxies requires the approval of a majority of the votes cast by holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock at the special meeting, regardless of whether there is a quorum. Failures to vote, broker nonvotes and abstentions will have no effect on the vote for the proposal.

Voting of Proxies by Holders of Record

If you were a record holder of Houston City Bancshares common stock at the close of business on the record date, a proxy card is enclosed for your use. Houston City Bancshares requests that you vote your shares as promptly as possible by submitting your Houston City Bancshares proxy card by mail using the enclosed return envelope. When the accompanying proxy card is returned properly executed, the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock represented by it will be voted at the special meeting or any adjournment(s) thereof in accordance with the instructions contained in the proxy card.

If a proxy card is returned without an indication as to how the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock represented by it are to be voted with regard to a particular proposal, the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock represented by the proxy will be voted in accordance with the recommendation of the Houston City Bancshares board of directors and, therefore, such shares will be voted:

FOR Proposal One approving the reorganization agreement and the merger; and

FOR Proposal Two approving the adjournment of the special meeting, if necessary to permit solicitation of additional proxies.

At the date hereof, the Houston City Bancshares board of directors has no knowledge of any business that will be presented for consideration at the special meeting and that would be required to be set forth in this proxy statement/prospectus or the related proxy card other than the matters set forth in Houston City Bancshares Notice of Special Meeting of Shareholders.

No other matter can be brought up or voted upon at the special meeting.

Your vote is important. Accordingly, if you were a record holder of Houston City Bancshares common stock on the record date of the special meeting, please sign and return the enclosed proxy card whether or not you plan to attend the special meeting in person.

Table of Contents

Attending the Meeting; Voting in Person

Only record holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock on the record date, their duly appointed proxies, and invited guests may attend the special meeting. All attendees must present government-issued photo identification (such as a driver's license or passport) for admittance. The additional items, if any, that attendees must bring to gain admittance to the special meeting depend on whether they are shareholders of record or proxy holders. A Houston City Bancshares shareholder who holds shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock directly registered in such shareholder's name who desires to attend the special meeting in person should bring government-issued photo identification.

A shareholder who holds shares in street name through a broker, bank, trustee or other nominee (referred to in this proxy statement/prospectus as a beneficial owner) who desires to attend the special meeting in person must bring proof of beneficial ownership as of the record date, such as a letter from the broker, bank, trustee or other nominee that is the record owner of such beneficial owner's shares, a brokerage account statement or the voting instruction form provided by the broker.

A person who holds a validly executed proxy entitling such person to vote on behalf of a record owner of Houston City Bancshares shares who desires to attend the special meeting in person must bring the validly executed proxy naming such person as the proxy holder, signed by the Houston City Bancshares shareholder of record, and proof of the signing shareholder's record ownership as of the record date.

No cameras, recording equipment or other electronic devices will be allowed in the meeting room. Failure to provide the requested documents at the door or failure to comply with the procedures for the special meeting may prevent Houston City Bancshares shareholders from being admitted to the special meeting.

Revocation of Proxies

A Houston City Bancshares shareholder entitled to vote at the special meeting may revoke a proxy at any time before such time that the proxy card for any such holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock must be received at the special meeting by taking any of the following three actions:

delivering written notice of revocation to Brad Fagan, Corporate Secretary, Houston City Bancshares, Inc., 11390 Veterans Memorial Drive, Houston, Texas 77067; delivering a proxy card bearing a later date than the proxy that such shareholder desires to revoke; or attending the special meeting and voting in person.

Merely attending the special meeting will not, by itself, revoke your proxy; a Houston City Bancshares shareholder must cast a subsequent vote at the special meeting using forms provided for that purpose. The last valid vote that we receive before or at the special meeting is the vote that will be counted.

If you hold your shares in street name through a bank or broker, you must contact such bank or broker if you desire to revoke your proxy.

Tabulation of Votes

Houston City Bancshares has appointed Brad Fagan to serve as the Inspector of Election for the special meeting. The Inspector of Election will independently tabulate affirmative votes, negative votes and abstentions.

Solicitation of Proxies

The Houston City Bancshares board of directors is soliciting proxies for the special meeting from holders of its Houston City Bancshares common stock entitled to vote at such special meeting. In accordance with the reorganization agreement, Houston City Bancshares will pay its own cost of soliciting proxies from its shareholders, including the cost of mailing this proxy statement/prospectus. In addition to solicitation of proxies by mail, proxies may be solicited by Houston City Bancshares' officers, directors and regular employees, without additional remuneration, by personal interview, telephone or other means of communication.

Houston City Bancshares will make arrangements with brokerage houses, custodians, nominees and fiduciaries to forward proxy solicitation materials to beneficial owners of Houston City Bancshares common stock. Houston City Bancshares may reimburse these brokerage houses, custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for their reasonable expenses incurred in forwarding the proxy materials.

Abstentions and shares held of record by a broker or nominee that are voted on any matter are included in determining whether a quorum exists at the special meeting. Brokers that are members of the NYSE or NASDAQ Global Select Market, as holders of record, are permitted to vote on certain routine matters in their discretion, but not on nonroutine matters. The proposal to approve the reorganization agreement is a nonroutine matter. Accordingly, if a holder of shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock holds such shares in street name and does not provide voting instructions to his or her bank, broker or nominee that is a member of NYSE or NASDAQ Global Select Market, those shares will not be voted on the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement and the merger at the special meeting unless you receive a proxy from that broker that will allow you to vote the shares you beneficially own and that are held by that broker.

Adjournments

Any adjournment of the special meeting may be made from time to time if the approval of the holders of a majority of the votes cast by the holders of shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock at the special meeting is obtained, whether or not a quorum exists, without further notice other than by an announcement made at the special meeting (unless a new record date is fixed). If a quorum is not present at the special meeting, or if a quorum is present at the special meeting but there are not sufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the proposals, then Houston City Bancshares shareholders may be asked to vote on a proposal to adjourn the special meeting so as to permit solicitation of additional proxies.

Questions and Additional Information

If a Houston City Bancshares shareholder has questions about the merger or the process for voting or if additional copies of this document or a replacement proxy card are needed, please contact W. Phillip Johnson, Jr., Houston City Bancshares' Chairman of the Board, at (281) 537-7200.

PROPOSAL TO APPROVE THE REORGANIZATION AGREEMENT

(Proposal One)

The following information describes the material aspects of the merger. A copy of the reorganization agreement is included as Appendix A to this proxy statement/prospectus and is incorporated herein by reference. You are urged to read the reorganization agreement in its entirety.

Terms of the Merger

The reorganization agreement provides for the acquisition of Houston City Bancshares by Independent through certain merger transactions. Specifically, the reorganization agreement provides for the initial merger of IBGHCB, a wholly owned subsidiary of Independent, with and into Houston City Bancshares, with Houston City Bancshares being the surviving entity, the subsequent merger of Houston City Bancshares with and into Independent, with Independent being the surviving entity, and then the bank merger of Houston Community Bank with and into Independent Bank, with Independent Bank being the surviving bank. If the shareholders of Houston City Bancshares approve the reorganization agreement at the special meeting, and if the required regulatory approvals are obtained and the other conditions to the parties' obligations to effect the merger are satisfied or are waived by the party entitled to do so, the parties anticipate that the merger will be completed in the fourth quarter of 2014, although delays could occur.

Independent is currently the sole shareholder of Independent Bank, a Texas state bank, and Houston City Bancshares is currently the sole indirect shareholder of Houston Community Bank, N.A., a national banking association. Houston City Bancshares owns 100% of the capital stock of HCB Nevada, Inc., a Nevada corporation, which, in turn, owns 100% of the capital stock of Houston Community Bank. Houston City Bancshares has agreed to dissolve HCB Nevada, Inc. prior to the closing date. Upon the effectiveness of the merger, both Independent Bank and the Houston Community Bank will be wholly owned subsidiaries of Independent. Pursuant to the reorganization agreement, immediately following the effectiveness of the merger, Houston Community Bank will merge with and into Independent Bank, with Independent Bank being the surviving bank following the bank merger.

If Houston City Bancshares shareholders approve the reorganization agreement and the merger is completed, holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock would receive a cash amount equal to $30.44, or the per share cash consideration, subject to a potential downward adjustment based upon the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares on the closing date, and a number of shares of Independent common stock, or the per share stock consideration, equal to the quotient of (i) $56.52, divided by (ii) the average, determined to one-one hundredth of one cent, of the volume weighted sale price per share of Independent common stock on NASDAQ Global Select Market System for the ten consecutive trading days ending on and including the third trading day preceding the closing date, as reported by Bloomberg, or the average sales price. Based on the closing price of Independent common stock on July 31, 2014 of $48.01 and assuming that the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares is at least $24,000,000 on the closing date, upon completion of the merger, holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock would receive approximately 1.1773 shares of Independent common stock plus $30.44 in cash for each share of Houston City Bancshares common stock that they own.

If the average sales price is less than 90% of $47.1770, or $42.4593, Independent may in its sole discretion elect to: (a) increase the per share cash consideration from $30.44 to an amount up to $43.48, subject to the tangible book value adjustment; and (b) reduce the per share stock consideration to a number of shares of Independent common stock equal to the quotient of (x) the difference between $86.96 and the increased amount of the per share cash consideration; divided by (y) the average sales price.

The amount of aggregate cash consideration will be reduced if Houston City Bancshares' tangible book value, as calculated pursuant to the reorganization agreement, is less than $24,000,000 as of the closing date. If, as of the closing date, Houston City Bancshares' tangible book value is less than $24,000,000, the aggregate cash consideration will be reduced by an amount equal to $24,000,000 minus Houston City Bancshares' actual tangible book value as of the closing date. In the event of such reduction, the per share cash consideration would be reduced by an amount equal to the quotient of (i) the amount of such reduction, divided by (ii) the number of Houston City Bancshares shares outstanding on the closing date.

The cash portion of the merger consideration ($16.8 million) would be adjusted downward if the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares is less than $24 million on the closing date of the merger. Pursuant to the terms of the reorganization agreement, the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares will be determined from Houston City Bancshares' financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, consistently applied, adjusted as provided for below. Any unrealized gains or losses in investment securities (other than certain specified investment securities which are excluded) are included in the calculation of tangible book value.

As of June 30, 2014, tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares was approximately $27.33 million, and will be increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the amount of net income or net loss, respectively, of Houston City Bancshares through the closing date. Management of Houston City Bancshares estimates that net income will be approximately $1.52 million from July 1, 2014 through October 31, 2014. The calculation of tangible book value will include a decrease for the following costs and expenses of Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank, on an after tax equivalent basis, currently estimated to be, in the aggregate, approximately $1.92 million:

any and all costs related to the transactions contemplated by the reorganization document, which would include any:

investment banking fees, legal fees and accounting fees; and director, officer or employee bonuses or payments and any change in control payments or other payments due under employment arrangements or anticipated stay or retention bonuses paid or to be paid to Houston City Bancshares and/or Houston Community Bank employees;

any costs or fees (including forfeited prepaid expenses) arising from or related to the termination of any of Houston City Bancshares' material contracts;

the printing and mailing costs related to sending this joint proxy statement/prospectus to Houston City Bancshares' shareholders;

the premium for D&O insurance tail coverage; and accruals for all ad valorem taxes owed by Houston City Bancshares on a pro-rated basis for the period ended on the closing time.

The table set forth below shows the estimate for the amounts that would affect the calculation of Houston City Bancshares' tangible book value, assuming the closing of the merger on October 31, 2014:

	Estimate
Tangible book value as of June 30, 2014	$ 27,330,000
Estimated costs and expenses of Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank related to the merger and other required deductions:
Costs related to the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement:
Investment banking, legal and accounting fees	(950,000)
Employee and director payments	(773,000)
Costs related to the termination of material contracts and forfeited prepaid expenses	(155,000)
Printing and mailing costs	(3,000)
Premium for director and officer insurance tail coverage	(40,000)

Estimated total costs and expenses	(1,921,000)
Estimated income from July 1, 2014, through October 31, 2014	1,520,000
Estimated tangible book value as of October 31, 2014	$ 26,929,000

These amounts are only estimates and are based upon several assumptions, many of which are beyond the control of Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank. Accordingly, the actual amount of Houston City Bancshares tangible book value may vary from these estimated amounts.

Houston City Bancshares will provide Independent with a preliminary calculation of tangible book value at least three business days before the closing date. If Independent disagrees with such calculation of tangible book value, Houston City Bancshares and Independent will meet to resolve any such disagreement. If the parties cannot resolve any such disagreement, then an independent accounting firm mutually agreed to by Houston City Bancshares and Independent will resolve any such disagreement, which resolution will be final and binding upon both parties.

If, as of the closing date, Houston City Bancshares tangible book value is less than $24 million, the $16.8 million aggregate cash merger consideration to be paid to holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock would be reduced by an amount equal to the difference between $24 million minus Houston City Bancshares tangible book value as of the closing date.

For example, should the tangible book value be reduced to $22.0 million on the closing date, then there would be a reduction in the aggregate cash merger consideration of $2.0 million, and the aggregate cash merger consideration distributed among the holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock would be $14.8 million rather than $16.8 million. If Houston City Bancshares has a tangible book value of $7.2 million or less on the closing date of merger, if the transaction still received bank regulatory approval and was consummated, holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock would not receive any cash consideration, but only shares of Independent common stock.

Independent's obligation to consummate the merger is conditioned upon Houston City Bancshares having a tangible book value of at least $22 million on the closing date. Should the Houston City Bancshares tangible book value be less than $22 million on the closing date, then Independent may, in its sole discretion refuse to close the transactions and consummate the merger, or Independent may elect to proceed with the transactions and consummate the merger, in which case the cash merger consideration would be further reduced below $14.8 million. If the Houston City Bancshares tangible book value is below $22 million on the closing date, Independent's board of directors intends to exercise its independent judgment in determining whether to complete the merger or to terminate the reorganization agreement. In making this determination, the Independent board of directors will exercise its fiduciary duties, including fulfilling its duty to review the reasons why the Houston City Bancshares tangible book value was lower than $22 million, whether that lower valuation negatively impacts the benefits that Independent hoped to achieve as a result of the merger, whether the corresponding lower cash consideration to be paid in such event off-sets any potential negative consequences with moving ahead with the merger, and the Independent board of directors will consult with its legal and financial advisors in evaluating whether it would be in the best interests of the Independent shareholders to complete the merger in light of all the relevant facts and circumstances surrounding the lower tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares.

Houston City Bancshares will not resolicit proxies from its shareholders in the event that the Houston City Bancshares tangible book value is below $22 million and Independent elects to complete the merger. Please refer to the risk factor, "Houston City Bancshares does not intend to resolicit proxies from its shareholders in the event that Houston City Bancshares tangible book value is less than $22 million on the closing date," on page 31.

If Houston City Bancshares achieves the estimates set forth above and the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares on the closing date is at least $24 million, there would be no downward adjustment, and holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock on the closing date would receive $30.44 cash for each share of Houston City Bancshares common stock that they own. If the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares on the closing date is less than $24 million, each share of Houston City Bancshares common stock would receive cash in an amount equal to the difference of (i) $16,802,666 less (ii) the shortfall in the tangible book value from the $24 million tangible book value threshold divided by (iii) the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock outstanding immediately before the effective time of the merger, expected to be 551,993 shares.

If the tangible book value on the calculation date is greater than $24,000,000, then on the day prior to the closing date, Houston City Bancshares may distribute to its shareholders an amount equal to the difference between (i) the actual amount of tangible book value as of the fifth business day preceding the closing date, less (ii) $24,000,000.

Treatment of Shares of Houston City Bancshares Common Stock

As a result of the merger, holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock will be entitled to receive whole shares of Independent common stock and cash, with cash paid in lieu of a fractional share, and will no longer be owners of Houston City Bancshares common stock. As a result of the merger, certificates of Houston

City Bancshares common stock will represent only the right to receive the merger consideration pursuant to the reorganization agreement. Houston City Bancshares will cease to exist following the completion of the merger.

Fractional shares of Independent common stock will be paid in cash, without interest. The market price of Independent common stock will fluctuate from the date of this proxy statement/prospectus through the third trading date prior to the effective date of the merger, which is the date on which the per share stock consideration is determined for the merger. Because of the possibility of the tangible book value adjustment to the amount of the per share cash consideration and the fluctuation in the market price of Independent common stock that will comprise the per share stock consideration, you will not know the exact amount of cash or the exact number of shares of Independent common stock you will receive in connection with the merger when you vote on the reorganization agreement. However, the value of the stock consideration will be $56.52 worth of Independent common stock, with fractional shares being added to the initial $30.44 worth of cash consideration, assuming there is no tangible book value adjustment, as described above.

Background of the Merger

From time to time, the board of directors and management of Houston City Bancshares have reviewed Houston City Bancshares' future prospects for earnings and asset growth and the viability of Houston City Bancshares' continued operations as an independent bank. On June 5, 2013, W. Phillip Johnson, Chairman of the board, met with representatives of Hovde Group to discuss the strategic alternatives available to Houston City Bancshares for maximizing shareholder value including, among other things, continued independence or a strategic merger or affiliation with another financial institution. As part of this discussion, Hovde Group also updated Mr. Johnson on market conditions.

During the following month, Mr. Johnson had several follow-up conversations with representatives of Hovde Group. As part of these discussions, Mr. Johnson expressed a willingness to meet with management of Independent and another company, Bank B, and requested that Hovde Group facilitate these meetings.

On August 5, 2013, representatives of Houston City Bancshares, Independent and Hovde Group met in Houston, Texas. Both banks expressed an interest in exchanging some preliminary information and executed a confidentiality agreement two days later.

Through August, certain information was exchanged and Hovde Group held several conversations with Houston City Bancshares and Independent resulting in a letter of intent from Independent received by Houston City Bancshares on August 30, 2013. The terms contained within the letter outlined an offer for $45 million, consisting of $13.5 million in cash and the remainder in Independent common stock.

On September 5, 2013, representatives of Houston City Bancshares, Bank B and Hovde Group met in Houston, Texas. While Houston City Bancshares' management and representatives of Hovde Group had subsequent discussions with Bank B, discussions concluded without any proposal.

On September 11, 2013, Hovde Group was formally engaged to advise and assist Houston City Bancshares' board by providing financial advisory services regarding its strategic alternatives including, but not limited to, a potential sale or merger. On September 17, 2013, Hovde Group met with Houston City Bancshares' board to discuss the offer from Independent and evaluate Houston City Bancshares' strategic alternatives.

During the following week, Independent indicated that another initiative required its undivided attention which would prohibit Independent from proceeding with Houston City Bancshares at that time.

At Houston City Bancshares board meeting on October 16, 2013, Hovde Group and the board discussed the possibility of holding discussions with additional strategic partners.

During the next two months, Hovde Group contacted three new parties, each of which signed a confidential agreement. One of these parties was Bank C which met with senior management of Houston City Bancshares and Hovde Group on December 12, 2013. On December 20, 2013, Bank C submitted a letter of intent to purchase Houston City Bancshares for $46 million with the consideration consisting entirely of cash. Representatives of Hovde Group engaged in subsequent discussions with the other two parties, but those discussions concluded without any proposal.

In late December, Independent expressed its interest in reopening discussions with Houston City Bancshares. On January 9, 2014, representatives of Independent met with senior management of Houston City Bancshares in Houston, Texas. On January 14, 2014, Independent submitted a letter of intent indicating a $48 million price for all of Houston City Bancshares' capital stock, to be paid in a combination of cash and common stock of Independent. The letter required Houston City Bancshares to deliver $24 million in tangible shareholders' equity at closing.

On January 21, 2014, Houston City Bancshares' Chairman requested that Hovde Group contact Bank C to inquire whether it would increase its offer. Bank C increased their offer to an all-cash price of $47 million, including a requirement of $23 million in tangible shareholders' equity at closing. On January 23, 2014, this letter was reviewed by Houston City Bancshares' board, and after significant discussion among its board members, Houston City Bancshares decided that an all-cash offer provided greater certainty for its shareholders and invited Bank C to conduct a detailed due diligence.

Preparations were made in early February and onsite due diligence was conducted during the week of February 10, 2014. Due diligence continued throughout February and Bank C's counsel began drafting a reorganization agreement; however, on March 6, 2014, Bank C expressed it would no longer be able to proceed with the contemplated transaction at that time.

Houston City Bancshares' board requested that Hovde Group contact Independent. Hovde Group had several conversations with Independent that resulted in a letter of intent from Independent on March 31, 2014. This letter contemplated a $48 million price for all of Houston City Bancshares' capital stock, to be paid in a combination of cash and common stock of Independent. The number of shares to be issued to Houston City Bancshares' stockholders will be determined based on the volume weighted average price of Independent's common stock for ten consecutive trading days ending on and including the third trading day preceding the Closing Date. The letter required Houston City Bancshares to deliver $24 million in tangible shareholders' equity at closing.

During the week of April 28, 2014, Independent conducted onsite due diligence and its counsel began drafting a reorganization agreement.

On May 5, 2014, Houston City Bancshares' counsel received the initial draft of the reorganization agreement. During the month of May, due diligence continued and certain terms of the reorganization agreement were negotiated.

On May 19, 2014, a team led by the senior management of Houston City Bancshares conducted its onsite diligence at Independent's headquarters in McKinney, Texas.

On May 29, 2014, Houston City Bancshares' board of directors met with its legal and financial advisors to discuss the proposed reorganization agreement, which was in its substantially final form. The Houston City Bancshares board of directors heard a presentation from Hovde Group on the financial aspects of the transaction. At the conclusion of this discussion and after responding to questions from the directors, Hovde Group rendered to Houston City Bancshares board of directors its oral opinion that the aggregate merger consideration to be received from Independent, which consisted of $16.8 million in cash and $31.2 million in Independent common stock, subject to adjustment as provided in the proposed reorganization agreement, was fair to the shareholders of Houston City Bancshares from a financial point of view. Hovde Group's oral opinion was subsequently confirmed by delivery of its written opinion, dated May 29, 2014, to the Houston City Bancshares board of directors. Thereafter, Houston City Bancshares' legal counsel, Harris Law Firm, PC, reviewed the terms and conditions of the proposed reorganization agreement and ancillary legal documents with the board of directors, discussing in detail the business points, contingencies, timing issues and fiduciary concerns.

Based upon the board of directors' review and discussion of the proposed reorganization agreement, the opinion of Hovde Group and other relevant factors, Houston City Bancshares' board unanimously authorized and approved the execution of the proposed reorganization agreement with Independent. On June 2, 2014, Houston City Bancshares executed the proposed reorganization agreement and Independent announced the transaction.

Recommendation of Houston City Bancshares' Board and Its Reasons for the Merger

Houston City Bancshares' board of directors has unanimously approved the reorganization agreement and unanimously recommends that the Houston City Bancshares shareholders vote FOR approval of the reorganization agreement.

Houston City Bancshares' board of directors has determined that the merger is fair to, and in the best interests of, Houston City Bancshares' shareholders. In approving the reorganization agreement, Houston City Bancshares' board of directors consulted with Hovde Group with respect to the financial aspects and fairness of the merger consideration from a financial point of view, to the Houston City Bancshares shareholders, and with its outside legal counsel as to its legal duties and the terms of the reorganization agreement. In arriving at its determination, Houston City Bancshares' board also considered a number of factors, including the following:

Houston City Bancshares' board of directors' familiarity with and review of information concerning the business, results of operations, financial condition, competitive position and future prospects of Houston City Bancshares;

the current and prospective environment in which Houston City Bancshares operates, including national, regional and local economic conditions, the competitive environment for banks, thrifts and other financial institutions generally and the increased regulatory burdens on financial institutions generally and the trend toward consolidation in the banking industry and in the financial services industry;

the financial presentation of Hovde Group and the opinion of Hovde Group dated as of May 29, 2014 that, as of May 29, 2014 (the date on which Houston City Bancshares' board of directors approved the reorganization agreement), and subject to the assumptions, limitations and qualifications set forth in the opinion, the merger consideration to be received from Independent is fair, from a financial point of view, to the shareholders of Houston City Bancshares (see Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement Fairness Opinion of Houston City Bancshares' Financial Advisor);

that shareholders of Houston City Bancshares will receive part of the merger consideration in shares of Independent common stock, which is publicly traded on the NASDAQ stock exchange, thereby representing a more liquid and flexible investment than does Houston City Bancshares common stock;

the treatment of the merger as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code with respect to Houston City Bancshares stock exchanged for Independent stock;

that the number of shares to be issued to Houston City Bancshares stockholders will be determined based on the volume weighted average price of Independent's common stock for ten consecutive trading days ending on and including the third trading day preceding the closing date;

the ability of Independent to pay the cash portion of the aggregate merger consideration;

the results that Houston City Bancshares could expect to obtain if it continued to operate independently, and the likely benefits to shareholders of that course of action, as compared with the value of the merger consideration offered by Independent;

the non-economic terms of the transaction, including the impact on existing customers and employees;

the ability of Independent to receive approval from the appropriate regulatory authorities in a timely manner; that a merger with a larger holding company would provide the opportunity to realize economies of scale, increase efficiencies of operations and enhance the development of new products and services; and the ability of Independent as an experienced acquirer of financial institutions to integrate the operations of Houston City Bancshares.

The reasons set out above for the merger are not intended to be exhaustive but do include all material factors considered by Houston City Bancshares' board of directors in approving the merger. In reaching its determination, the Houston City Bancshares board of directors did not assign any relative or specific weights to different factors, and individual directors may have given different weights to different factors. Based on the reasons stated, the board believed that the merger was in the best interest of Houston City Bancshares' shareholders, and therefore the board of directors of Houston City Bancshares unanimously approved the reorganization agreement and the merger. In addition, all members of Houston City Bancshares' board of directors have entered into voting agreements requiring them to vote the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock over which they have voting authority in favor of the reorganization agreement.

Fairness Opinion of Houston City Bancshares' Financial Advisor

The fairness opinion of Houston City Bancshares' financial advisor, Hovde Group, is described below. The description contains projections, estimates and other forward-looking statements about the future earnings or other measures of the future performance of Houston City Bancshares. The projections were based on numerous variables and assumptions, which are inherently uncertain, including factors related to general economic and competitive conditions. Accordingly, actual results could vary significantly from those set forth in the projections. You should not rely on any of these statements as having been made or adopted by Houston City Bancshares or Independent. You should review the copy of the Fairness Opinion, which is attached as Appendix B.

Hovde Group has acted as Houston City Bancshares' financial advisor in connection with the proposed merger. Hovde Group is a nationally recognized investment banking firm with substantial experience in transactions similar to the merger and is familiar with Houston City Bancshares, its wholly owned subsidiary, Houston Community Bank, and its operations. As part of its investment banking business, Hovde Group is continually engaged in the valuation of businesses and their securities in connection with, among other things, mergers and acquisitions.

Hovde Group reviewed the financial aspects of the proposed merger with Houston City Bancshares' board of directors and, on May 29, 2014, rendered a written opinion to Houston City Bancshares' board of directors that the merger consideration to be paid in connection with the merger was fair to the shareholders of Houston City Bancshares from a financial point of view.

You are urged to read the opinion in its entirety for a description of the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken by Hovde Group. The summary of the opinion of Hovde Group set forth in this proxy statement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of such opinion.

Hovde Group's opinion is directed to Houston City Bancshares' board of directors and addresses only the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger consideration to Houston City Bancshares' shareholders. It does not address the underlying business decision to proceed with the merger and does not constitute a recommendation to any of the shareholders as to how such shareholder should vote at the special meeting on the merger or any related matter.

During the course of its engagement, and as a basis for arriving at its opinion, Hovde Group reviewed and analyzed material bearing upon the financial and operating conditions of Houston City Bancshares, Houston Community Bank and Independent and material prepared in connection with the merger, including, among other things, the following:

reviewed a draft of the reorganization agreement, as provided to Hovde Group by Houston City Bancshares; reviewed certain unaudited financial statements of Houston City Bancshares and Independent for the three-month period ended March 31, 2014;

reviewed certain historical annual reports of each of Houston City Bancshares and Independent, including audited annual reports for Houston Community Bank and Independent for the year ending December 31, 2013;

reviewed certain historical publicly available business and financial information concerning each of Houston City Bancshares and Independent;

reviewed certain internal financial statements and other financial and operating data concerning Houston City Bancshares, including, without limitation, internal financial analyses and forecasts prepared by management of Houston City Bancshares, and held discussions with senior management of Houston City Bancshares regarding recent developments and regulatory matters;

analyzed financial projections prepared by certain members of senior management of Houston City Bancshares;

discussed with certain members of senior management of Houston City Bancshares the business, financial condition, results of operations and future prospects of Houston City Bancshares and Independent, as well as the history and past and current operations of Houston City Bancshares and Independent, Houston City Bancshares' and Independent's historical financial performance and Houston City Bancshares' and Independent's outlook and future prospects;

reviewed the terms of recent merger, acquisition and control investment transactions, to the extent publicly available, involving financial institutions and financial institution holding companies that we considered relevant;

analyzed the pro forma impact of the merger on the combined company's earnings per share, consolidated capitalization and financial ratios;

assessed the general economic, market and financial conditions;

took into consideration our experience in other similar transactions and securities valuations as well as our knowledge of the banking and financial services industry;

reviewed and analyzed certain publicly available financial and stock market data relating to selected public companies that Hovde Group deemed relevant to its analysis;

discussed with management of Houston City Bancshares their assessment of the rationale for the merger; and performed such other analyses and considered such other factors as we have deemed appropriate.

In rendering its opinion, Hovde Group assumed, without independent verification, the accuracy and completeness of the financial and other information and representations contained in the materials provided to it by Houston City Bancshares, and in the discussions it had with the management of Houston City Bancshares. Hovde Group relied upon the reasonableness and achievability of the financial forecasts and projections (and the assumptions and bases therein) provided to Hovde Group by Houston City Bancshares and assumed that the financial forecasts, including without limitation, the projections regarding under-performing and non-performing assets and net charge-offs were reasonably prepared by Houston City Bancshares on a basis reflecting the best currently available information and judgments and estimates by Houston City Bancshares, and that such forecasts will be realized in the amounts and at the times contemplated thereby. Hovde Group did not assume any responsibility to verify such information or assumptions independently.

Hovde Group is not an expert in the evaluation of loan and lease portfolios for purposes of assessing the adequacy of the allowances for loan losses with respect thereto. Hovde Group assumed that such allowances for Houston City Bancshares and Independent are, in the aggregate, adequate to cover such losses. Hovde Group was not requested to make, and did not conduct, an independent evaluation, physical inspection or appraisal of the assets, properties, facilities or liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of Houston City Bancshares or Independent, the collateral securing any such assets or liabilities, or the collectability of any such assets, and Hovde Group was not furnished with any such evaluations or appraisals, nor did Hovde Group review any loan or credit files of Houston City Bancshares or Independent.

Hovde Group assumed that the merger will be consummated substantially in accordance with the terms set forth in the reorganization agreement, without any waiver of material terms or conditions by Houston City Bancshares or any other party to the reorganization agreement and that the final reorganization agreement will not differ materially from the draft Hovde Group reviewed. Hovde Group assumed that the merger is, and will be, in compliance with all laws and regulations that are applicable to Houston City Bancshares, Independent and their respective affiliates. Hovde Group further assumed that, in the course of obtaining the necessary regulatory and government approvals, no restriction will be imposed on Independent or the surviving institutions that would have a material adverse effect on the surviving institutions or the contemplated benefits of the merger. Hovde Group also assumed that no changes in applicable law or regulation will occur that will cause a material adverse change in the prospects or operations of the institutions after the merger.

Hovde Group's opinion does not consider, include or address: (i) any other strategic alternatives currently (or which have been or may be) contemplated by the board of directors or Houston City Bancshares; (ii) the legal, tax or accounting consequences of the merger on Houston City Bancshares or Houston City Bancshares' shareholders; (iii) any advice or opinions provided by any other advisor to the board of directors or Houston City Bancshares; or (iv) whether Independent has sufficient cash, available lines of credit or other sources of funds to enable it to pay the cash portion of the merger consideration. Hovde Group's opinion is not a solvency opinion and does not in any way address the solvency or financial condition of Houston City Bancshares.

Houston City Bancshares engaged Hovde Group on September 11, 2013, to provide Houston City Bancshares with financial advisory services. Pursuant to the terms of the engagement, Hovde Group received a fee for the delivery of its fairness opinion. At the time the merger is completed, Houston City Bancshares will pay Hovde Group a completion fee, which is contingent upon the completion of the merger. Pursuant to the engagement agreement, in addition to its fees and regardless of whether the merger is consummated, Houston City Bancshares has agreed to reimburse Hovde Group for certain reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in performing its services and to indemnify Hovde Group against certain claims, losses, and expenses arising out of the merger or Hovde Group's engagement.

In performing its analyses, Hovde Group made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, economic, market and financial conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond the control of Hovde Group, Houston City Bancshares and Independent. Hovde Group's opinion was necessarily based on financial, economic, market, and other conditions and circumstances as they existed on, and on the information made available to Hovde Group as of, the date of its opinion. Hovde Group has no obligation to update or reaffirm its opinion at any time. Any estimates contained in the analyses performed by Hovde Group are not necessarily indicative of actual values or future results, which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by these analyses. Additionally, estimates of the value of businesses or securities do not purport to be appraisals or to reflect the prices at which such businesses or securities may be sold or the prices at which any securities may trade at any time in the future. Accordingly, these analyses and estimates are inherently subject to substantial uncertainty. Hovde Group's opinion does not address the relative merits of the merger as compared to any other business combination in which Houston City Bancshares might engage. In addition, Hovde Group's fairness opinion was among several factors taken into consideration by Houston City Bancshares' board of directors in making its determination to approve the reorganization agreement and the merger. Consequently, the analyses described below should not be viewed as solely determinative of the decision of Houston City Bancshares' board of directors or Houston City Bancshares' management with respect to the fairness of the merger consideration.

The following is a summary of the material analyses prepared by Hovde Group and presented to Houston City Bancshares' board of directors on May 29, 2014 in connection with the fairness opinion. This summary is not a complete description of the analyses underlying the fairness opinion or the presentation prepared by Hovde Group, but it summarizes the material analyses performed and presented in connection with such opinion. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex analytical process involving various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analysis and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances. Therefore, a fairness opinion is not readily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description. In arriving at its opinion, Hovde Group did not attribute any particular weight to any analysis or factor that it considered, but rather made qualitative judgments as to the significance and relevance of each analysis and factor. The financial analyses summarized below include the information presented in tabular format. The analyses and the summary of the analyses must be considered as a whole and selecting portions of the analyses and factors or focusing on the information presented below in tabular format, without considering all analyses and factors or the full narrative description of the financial analyses, including the methodologies and assumptions underlying the analyses, could create a misleading or incomplete view of the process underlying the analyses and opinion of Hovde Group. The tables alone are not a complete description of the financial analyses.

All net income information for Houston City Bancshares and other Subchapter S banks incorporated in these analyses are represented on an after-tax basis utilizing a 35% tax rate after taking into consideration any tax-free income, to the extent tax-free income information was readily available. For Houston City Bancshares, all tangible equity calculations are based upon the minimum tangible equity required at closing of $24 million.

Throughout the following analyses, Hovde Group references an estimated transaction value of $48 million. This is based upon the cash consideration of $16.8 million plus the stock consideration of $31.2 million of Independent common stock.

No company or transaction used as comparison in the above transaction analyses is identical to Houston City Bancshares or Independent, and no transaction was consummated on terms identical to the terms of the reorganization agreement. Accordingly, an analysis of these results is not strictly mathematical. Rather, it involves complex considerations and judgments concerning differences in financial and operating characteristics of the companies.

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis. Taking into account various factors including, but not limited to, Houston City Bancshares' recent performance, the current banking environment and the local economy in which the Houston City Bancshares operates, Hovde Group determined earnings estimates for a forward looking five-year period with the assistance of information and guidance provided by the management of Houston City Bancshares. These estimates were based on asset growth of 5% annually through 2016 and 4% thereafter. The after-tax return on average assets ranged between 1.0% and 1.1% per year. It was assumed that distributions of 50% of pre-tax earnings would be paid each year to cover the estimated tax obligation due under the Subchapter S election and the remainder would serve as discretionary cash flow to shareholders. A range of discount rates between 11% and 15% were employed in determining the present value of the cash flows plus the terminal value. Hovde Group utilized three different discounted cash flow methodologies to arrive at implied values for Houston City Bancshares.

For the first discounted cash flow analysis (DCF Perpetuity), an aggregate value to Houston City Bancshares shareholders was calculated based on the present value of future free cash flows after tax. Hovde Group utilized a terminal value at the end of 2019 based on Houston City Bancshares earnings increasing perpetually thereafter at an annual rate of 4.0%. Present values were calculated based on the free cash flows plus the terminal value and the range of discount rates. The resulting values of the DCF Perpetuity ranged between $30 million and $47.9 million with a midpoint of $36.9 million.

In the second discounted cash flow analysis (DCF PE Multiple), the same earnings estimates were used; however in arriving at the terminal value of Houston City Bancshares earnings stream at the end of 2018, Hovde Group applied the median price-to-earnings multiple from precedent transactions in the Texas Group. Present values were calculated based on the free cash flows plus the terminal value and the range of discount rates. The resulting values of the DCF PE Multiple ranged between $41 million and $48.6 million with a midpoint of $44.6 million.

In the third and final discounted cash flow analysis (DCF PTBV Multiple), the same earnings estimates and dividends were used as in the DCF PE Multiple analysis; however, in arriving at the terminal value at the end of 2018, Hovde Group applied the median price-to-tangible book value multiple from precedent transactions in the Texas Group. Present values were calculated based on the free cash flows plus the terminal value and the range of discount rates. The resulting values of the DCF PTBV Multiple ranged between $34.2 million and $40.5 million with a midpoint of $37.2 million.

These analyses and their underlying assumptions yielded a range of values for Houston City Bancshares, and the median values is outlined in the table below:

Implied Value to Houston City Bancshares Based On:	Implied Transaction Value (Millions)	Price to Book Value Multiple	Price to Tang. LTM Net Income Multiple	Price to Assets Multiple	Premium to Core Deposits Multiple
Reorganization Agreement	$ 48.0	200%	15.0x	14.9%	12.6%
DCF Perpetuity (midpoint)	$ 36.9	154%	11.6x	11.4%	6.7%
DCF PE Multiple (midpoint)	$ 44.6	186%	14.0x	13.8%	10.8%
DCF PTBV Analysis (midpoint)	$ 37.2	155%	11.7x	11.5%	6.9%

Notes: LTM = last twelve months.

Hovde Group noted that while the discounted cash flow present value analysis is a widely used valuation methodology, it relies on numerous assumptions, including asset and earnings growth rates, dividend payout rates, terminal values and discount rates. Hovde Group's analysis does not purport to be indicative of the actual values or expected values of Houston City Bancshares Common Stock.

Other Factors and Analyses. Hovde Group took into consideration various other factors and analyses, including but not limited to: current market environment; merger and acquisition environment; movements in the common stock valuations of selected publicly traded banking companies; and movements in the S&P 500 Index.

Conclusion. Based upon the foregoing analyses and other investigations and assumptions set forth in its opinion, without giving specific weight to any one factor or comparison, Hovde Group determined that the merger consideration to be paid in connection with the merger is fair from a financial point of view to Houston City Bancshares shareholders. Each shareholder is encouraged to read Hovde Group's fairness opinion in its entirety. The full text of this fairness opinion is included as Appendix B to this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Exchange of Houston City Bancshares Stock Certificates

As soon as practical after the effective time of the merger, with the intent to be ten business days after the effective time of the merger, Independent's transfer and exchange agent, Wells Fargo Bank Shareowner Services, will mail a letter of transmittal and instructions to you for use in surrendering your Houston City Bancshares stock certificates. When you properly surrender your stock certificates or provide other satisfactory evidence of ownership, and return the letter of transmittal duly executed and completed in accordance with its instructions, the exchange agent will promptly (with the intent to be no later than five business days after such surrender) cancel the surrendered stock certificates and deliver to you a notice required under the TBOC specifying, among other things, the number of shares of Independent common stock, which shall be solely in uncertificated book-entry form credited to the account of the holder of record as established in the Direct Representation System, and cash to which you are entitled under the reorganization agreement. No Independent stock certificates will be issued with respect to the Independent common stock to be issued under the reorganization agreement.

You should not send in your certificates until you receive the letter of transmittal and instructions.

At the effective time of the merger, and until surrendered as described above, other than shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock subject to the exercise of dissenters' rights, each outstanding Houston City Bancshares stock certificate will be deemed for all purposes to represent only the right to receive the merger consideration to be paid pursuant to the reorganization agreement without interest thereon. With respect to any Houston City Bancshares stock certificate that has been lost, stolen or destroyed, Independent will pay the merger consideration attributable to such stock certificate upon receipt of a surety bond or other adequate indemnity, as required in accordance with Independent's standard policy, and evidence reasonably satisfactory to Independent of ownership of the shares in question. After the effective time of the merger, Houston City Bancshares' transfer books will be closed and no transfer of the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock outstanding immediately prior to the effective time will be permitted on Independent's stock transfer books.

To the extent permitted by law, you will be entitled to vote after the effective time of the merger at any special meeting of Independent's shareholders the number of whole shares of Independent common stock into which your shares of Houston City Bancshares are converted, regardless of whether you have surrendered your Houston City Bancshares stock certificates to the exchange agent. Whenever Independent declares a dividend or other distribution on Independent common stock which has a record date after the effective time of the merger, the declaration will include dividends or other distributions on all shares of Independent common stock issued pursuant to the reorganization agreement. However, no dividend or other distribution payable to the holders of record of Independent common stock will be delivered to you until you surrender your Houston City Bancshares stock certificates.

Effective Time of the Merger

The merger will become effective at the date and time specified in the certificate of merger to be filed with the Secretary of State of Texas regarding the initial merger of IBGHCB with and into Houston City Bancshares.

Table of Contents

It is anticipated that the bank merger will be completed on the same day. If the shareholders of Houston City Bancshares approve the reorganization agreement at the special meeting, and if all required regulatory approvals are obtained and the other conditions to the parties' obligations to effect the merger are satisfied or waived by the party entitled to do so, Independent anticipates that the merger will be completed in the fourth quarter of 2014, although delays could occur.

Independent cannot assure you that the necessary shareholder and regulatory approvals will be obtained or that the other conditions to completion of the merger can or will be satisfied.

Although neither

Houston City Bancshares nor Independent believes that the disclosure schedules contain information that the federal securities laws require to be publicly disclosed, the disclosure schedules do contain information that modifies, qualifies and creates exceptions to the representations and warranties set forth in the attached reorganization agreement.

Accordingly, you should not rely on the representations and warranties as characterizations of the actual state of facts, since they were only made as of the date of the reorganization agreement and are modified in important part by the underlying disclosure schedules. Moreover, information concerning the subject matter of the representations and warranties may have changed since the date of the reorganization agreement, which subsequent information may or may not be fully reflected in Independent's public disclosures in this proxy statement/prospectus.

Amendment or Waiver of the Reorganization Agreement

No termination, cancellation, modification, amendment, deletion, addition or other change in the reorganization agreement, or any provision thereof, or waiver of any right or remedy therein provided, is effective for any purpose unless specifically set forth in a writing signed by the party or parties to be bound thereby. The waiver of any right or remedy in respect to any occurrence or event on one occasion is not deemed a waiver of such right or remedy in respect to such occurrence or event on any other occasion.

Termination of the Reorganization Agreement

Independent and Houston City Bancshares can mutually agree at any time to terminate the reorganization agreement without completing the merger. In addition, either Independent or Houston City Bancshares may decide, without the consent of the other, to terminate the reorganization agreement if:

the conditions to such party's obligations to close have not been satisfied on or before December 31, 2014; subject to a 30-day extension for the receipt of regulatory approvals and provided that the terminating party is not in breach of the reorganization agreement;

the required regulatory approvals have not been obtained; or if the reorganization agreement and merger is not approved by the shareholders of Houston City Bancshares at the special meeting.

Houston City Bancshares may terminate the reorganization agreement, without the consent of Independent, if:

Independent breaches or fails to perform in any material respect any of its representations, warranties, covenants or other agreements contained in the reorganization agreement or any other agreement contemplated by the reorganization agreement, and such failure has not been cured within a period of 30 calendar days after written notice from Houston City Bancshares; or at any time prior to the special meeting in order to enter into, concurrently with such termination, an acquisition agreement or similar agreement with respect to a superior proposal, that has been received and considered by Houston City Bancshares and the Houston City Bancshares board in accordance with all of the requirements of the reorganization agreement; or there has been any material adverse change since March 31, 2014, in the financial condition, assets, properties, liabilities, reserves, business or results of operations of Independent.

In addition, Independent may terminate the reorganization agreement, without the consent of Houston City Bancshares, if:

Houston City Bancshares breaches or fails to perform in any material respect any of its representations, warranties, covenants or other agreements contained in the reorganization agreement or any other agreement contemplated by the reorganization agreement, and such failure has not been cured within a period of 30 calendar days after written notice from Independent;

the Houston City Bancshares board has (i) recommended to the holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock that they tender their shares in a tender or exchange offer commenced by an unaffiliated third party for more than 15% of the outstanding Houston City Bancshares common stock, (ii) effected a change in the board's recommendation with respect to the merger or recommended to the Houston City Bancshares shareholders acceptance or approval of any alternative acquisition proposal, (iii) notified Independent in writing that Houston City Bancshares is prepared to accept a superior proposal or (iv) resolved to do the foregoing;

any of the following have occurred with respect to environmental matters regarding Houston City Bancshares: (i) the factual substance of any representations and warranties of Houston City Bancshares in the reorganization agreement is not materially true and accurate, (ii) the results of any environmental inspection or other environmental survey by Independent are disapproved by Independent because such inspection or survey identifies a material or potential material violation of applicable environmental laws, (iii) Houston City Bancshares refusal to allow such inspection or survey in a manner that Independent reasonably considers necessary, (iv) such inspection or survey identifies an event, condition or circumstance that would or potentially could reasonably be expected to require a material remedial or cleanup action or result in a material adverse change in the financial condition, assets, properties, liabilities, reserves, business or results of operations of Houston City Bancshares, (v) such inspection or survey reveals the presence of any underground or above ground storage tank in, on or under any real property owned or leased by Houston City Bancshares or Houston Community Bank that is not shown to be in material compliance with all applicable environmental laws, or that has had a release of petroleum or some other hazardous material that has not been cleaned up to the satisfaction of the relevant governmental authority or any other party with a right to compel such cleanup, or (vi) such inspection or survey identifies the presence of any asbestos-containing material in, on or under any real property owned or leased by Houston City Bancshares or Houston Community Bank, the removal of which could reasonably be expected to result in a material adverse change in the financial condition, assets, properties, liabilities, reserves, business or results of operations of Houston City Bancshares, subject, in the case of each of the foregoing, to notice and the right of Houston City Bancshares to satisfactorily correct any such matter;

Independent determines, in good faith after consulting with counsel, there is a substantial likelihood that any necessary regulatory approval will not be obtained or will be obtained only upon one or more conditions that make it inadvisable to proceed with the transactions; or there has been any material adverse change since March 31, 2014, in the financial condition, assets, properties, liabilities, reserves, business or results of operations of Houston City Bancshares or Houston Community Bank.

Termination Fee and Expense Reimbursements

To compensate Independent for entering into the reorganization agreement, taking actions to consummate the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreement and incurring the related costs and expenses and other losses and expense, including foregoing the pursuit of other opportunities, provided that Independent is not in material breach of the reorganization agreement, the reorganization agreement provides that Houston City Bancshares will pay to Independent a termination fee of $1,500,000 if the reorganization agreement is terminated:

by Houston City Bancshares because it receives an alternative acquisition proposal and, under certain terms and conditions, determines that it is a superior proposal to that of the reorganization agreement after giving effect to any adjustment made by Independent to the merger consideration;

by either Independent or Houston City Bancshares if the Houston City Bancshares shareholders do not approve the reorganization agreement and the merger at the special meeting and either (i) at the time of such disapproval, there exists an acquisition proposal with respect to Houston City Bancshares other than that of Independent that has not been withdrawn prior to the special meeting or (ii) within 12 months of the termination of the reorganization agreement, Houston City Bancshares enters into a definitive agreement with any third party with respect to any acquisition proposal; or by Independent if the Houston City Bancshares board has (i) recommended to the Houston City Bancshares shareholders that they tender their shares in a tender or exchange offer commenced by an unaffiliated third party for more than 15% of the outstanding Houston City Bancshares common stock, (ii) effected a change in the board's recommendation with respect to the merger or recommended to the Houston City Bancshares shareholders acceptance or approval of any alternative acquisition proposal, (iii) notified Independent in writing that Houston City Bancshares is prepared to accept a superior proposal or (iv) resolved to do the foregoing.

Except with respect to termination fees and expenses, as discussed above, in the event of the termination of the reorganization agreement without breach by any party, the reorganization agreement will be void and have no effect, without liability on the part of any party or the directors, officers or shareholders of any party, except as specifically contemplated in the reorganization agreement.

Financial Interests of Directors and Officers of Houston City Bancshares in the Merger

In considering the recommendation of the board of directors of Houston City Bancshares to vote for the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement, you should be aware that certain directors and officers of

Houston City Bancshares have interests in the merger that are in addition to, or different from, their interests as shareholders of Houston City Bancshares. The board of Houston City Bancshares was aware of these interests and considered them in approving the reorganization agreement. These interests include:

Employment Agreements with Independent Bank. Independent and Independent Bank have entered into employment agreements with each of the following persons, to be effective, if at all, upon completion of the merger, that include noncompetition and nonsolicitation obligations to Independent Bank. Pursuant to these agreements, the executive officer is entitled to receive a salary, a one-time bonus upon completion of the merger, annual bonus, restricted shares of Independent common stock and certain additional incentives from Independent and Independent Bank. The following persons have such employment agreements and the parenthetical amounts represent the aggregate financial interest that each person is expected to receive from Independent upon completion of the merger, excluding amounts for salary and incentive bonus payments to be earned for service to be rendered to Independent Bank and excluding the value of any Independent restricted stock awards that vest over time and are dependent upon continued employment with Independent: KC Curtis ($50,000), Claude B. Leatherwood ($50,000), Sheryl McKellar ($50,000) and C. Jeff Smith ($80,000). The aggregate financial interests of all of these persons as a result of the merger is $230,000.

Support Agreements. Independent has entered into separate support agreements with each of the non-employee directors of Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank, specifically, John H. Baker, Allen B. Daniels, John H. Ring, David Scardino and James Raymond to be effective, if at all, upon completion of the merger, which provide, among other things, that such director agrees to support and not to harm Houston Community Bank's goodwill and its customer and client relationships, as well as limited noncompetition and nonsolicitation obligations following the closing date.

Indemnification. The directors and officers of Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank will receive indemnification from Independent for a period of three years after completion of the merger to the same extent and subject to the conditions set forth in the respective articles of incorporation or articles of association and bylaws of Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank and continued director and officer liability coverage for a period of three years after completion of the merger. Any amounts paid by Houston Community Bank to purchase continued director and officer liability coverage will reduce Houston City Bancshares' closing tangible book value for purposes of calculating the merger consideration payable to Houston City Bancshares shareholders.

Retention Payments. Certain of the executive officers of Houston Community Bank have entered into retention agreements, which provide, among other things, for payments to be made in connection with the completion of the merger or in some circumstances, if within a specified period following the merger, such executive is terminated by Independent and/or Independent Bank. The reorganization agreement provides that it is a condition to the closing of the merger that these agreements be terminated. The following is a list of those executive officers of Houston City Bancshares and/or Houston Community Bank with such agreements that Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank expects to make payments under as a result of the merger, together with the aggregate amounts potentially payable under these agreements as a result of the completion of the merger (excluding the value of the merger consideration such individuals may receive as shareholders of Houston City Bancshares and Houston Community Bank): Harry Blake

($15,000), KC Curtis ($84,000), Brad Fagan ($15,000), Claude B. Leatherwood ($300,000), Sheryl McKellar ($84,000), C. Jeff Smith ($80,000). The total aggregate retention payments that could be paid to these individuals as a result of the completion of the merger is $578,000. Any amounts paid in connection with the termination of these agreements will reduce the tangible book value of Houston City Bancshares at closing and could reduce the amount of merger consideration payable to the shareholders of Houston City Bancshares.

Voting Agreement

The directors of Houston City Bancshares have entered into an agreement to vote, referred to in this proxy statement/prospectus as the voting agreement, the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock that they control in favor of approval of the reorganization agreement and the related agreement and plan of merger in the manner most favorable to the consummation of the merger and the transactions contemplated by the reorganization agreements; provided, however, that the Houston City Bancshares shareholders who entered into the voting agreement are permitted to vote to accept a superior proposal, if any, under the terms of the reorganization agreement. As of the record date, 174,213 shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock, or approximately 31.56% of the outstanding shares of the Houston City Bancshares common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting, were bound by the voting agreement. A copy of the form of Voting Agreement is included as Exhibit B to the reorganization agreement included in Appendix A.

NASDAQ Global Select Market Listing

Independent has agreed to file all documents required to be filed to have the shares of Independent common stock to be issued pursuant to the reorganization agreement approved for listing on the NASDAQ Global Select Market and to use its reasonable best efforts to effect such listing. The obligations of the parties to complete the merger are subject to such shares having been authorized for listing on the NASDAQ Global Select Market.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Independent Merger

The following discussion addresses the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Independent merger to U.S. holders (as defined below) of Houston City Bancshares common stock. The discussion is based on the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, referred to as the Code, Treasury regulations, administrative rulings and judicial decisions, all as currently in effect and all of which are subject to change (possibly with retroactive effect) and to differing interpretations, and is the opinion of Andrews Kurth LLP and Harris Law Firm, PC insofar as it sets forth specific legal conclusions under U.S. federal income tax law. The opinion of counsel is included as an exhibit to the registration statement of which this proxy statement/prospectus forms a part.

This discussion applies only to U.S. holders (as defined below) that hold their Houston City Bancshares common stock as a capital asset within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Code, each of which we refer to in this document as a holder. Further, this discussion does not address all aspects of U.S. federal taxation that may be relevant to a particular stockholder in light of its personal circumstances or to stockholders subject to special treatment under U.S. federal income tax laws, including:

banks or trusts,

tax-exempt organizations,

insurance companies,

dealers in securities or foreign currency, traders in securities who elect to apply a mark-to-market method of accounting, pass-through entities and investors in such entities,

foreign persons,

U.S. expatriates,

regulated investment companies and real estate investment trusts,

broker-dealers,

holders liable for the alternative minimum tax,

Table of Contents

holders that have a functional currency other than the U.S. dollar, holders who received their Houston City Bancshares common stock through the exercise of employee stock options, through a tax-qualified retirement plan or otherwise as compensation, and holders who hold Houston City Bancshares common stock as part of a hedge, straddle, constructive sale, conversion transaction or other integrated investment.

In addition, the discussion does not address any alternative minimum tax or any state, local or foreign tax consequences of the Independent merger, nor does it address any tax consequences arising under the unearned income Medicare contribution tax pursuant to the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010.

For purposes of this discussion, a U.S. holder is a beneficial owner of Houston City Bancshares common stock who is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes: (i) an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States; (ii) a corporation or other entity taxable as a corporation created or organized under the laws of the United States or any of its political subdivisions; (iii) an estate that is subject to U.S. federal income tax on its income regardless of its source; or (iv) a trust (A) if a U.S. court is able to exercise primary supervision over its administration and one or more U.S. persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust or (B) that was in existence on August 29, 1996 and has made a valid election to be treated as a United States person for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

This discussion does not address the tax treatment of partnerships (or entities or arrangements that are treated as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes) or persons that hold their Houston City Bancshares common stock through partnerships or other pass-through entities for U.S. federal income tax purposes. If a partnership, including any entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes, holds shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock, the U.S. federal income tax treatment of a partner in such partnership will depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. We urge such partners and partnerships to consult their own tax advisors regarding the particular tax consequences of the Independent merger to them.

We urge each holder of Houston City Bancshares common stock to consult its tax advisor with respect to the particular tax consequences of the Independent merger to such holder.

Tax Opinions

The obligations of the parties to complete the Independent merger are conditioned on, among other things, the receipt by Independent and Houston City Bancshares of opinions from Andrews Kurth LLP and Harris Law Firm, PC, respectively, each dated the closing date of the Independent merger, that for U.S. federal income tax purposes the Independent merger will be treated as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. The conditions relating to receipt of the opinions may be waived by both Independent and Houston City Bancshares. Neither Independent nor Houston City Bancshares currently intends to waive the conditions related to the receipt of the opinions. However, if these conditions were waived, Houston City Bancshares would resolicit the approval of its shareholders prior to completing the Independent merger. In addition, the obligation of each of Andrews Kurth LLP and Harris Law Firm, PC to deliver such opinions is conditioned on the Independent merger's satisfying the continuity of proprietary interest requirement. That requirement generally will be satisfied if the aggregate value of the Independent common stock constitutes at least 42% of the aggregate value of the aggregate merger consideration at the time the Independent merger becomes effective. The opinions will be based on certain facts, representations, covenants and assumptions, including representations of Independent and Houston City Bancshares.

If any of the representations or assumptions upon which such opinions are based are inconsistent with the actual facts, the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Independent merger could be adversely affected. These opinions are not binding on the Internal Revenue Service or the courts, and neither Independent nor

Houston City Bancshares intends to request a ruling from the Internal Revenue Service regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Independent merger. Therefore, while the Independent merger is conditioned upon the delivery by tax counsel to each of Independent and Houston City Bancshares of its opinion that the Independent merger will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code, no assurance can be given that the Internal Revenue Service will not assert, or that a court would not sustain, a position contrary to any of those set forth below.

U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Independent Merger Generally

The following discussion regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Independent merger assumes that the Independent merger will be consummated as described in the reorganization agreement and this proxy statement/prospectus and Independent and Houston City Bancshares will not waive the opinion condition described above in Tax Opinions. The Independent merger will be treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a reorganization qualifying under the provisions of Section 368(a) of the Code. If the Independent merger is treated as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code, the Independent merger will have the following U.S. federal income tax consequences.

If, pursuant to the Independent merger, a holder exchanges all of the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock actually owned by it for a combination of Independent common stock and cash, the holder will recognize gain (but not loss) equal to the lesser of cash received (excluding any cash received in lieu of a fractional share of Independent common stock) or gain realized in the Independent merger. The amount of gain realized will equal the amount by which the cash plus the fair market value, at the effective time of the Independent merger, of the Independent common stock exceeds the adjusted tax basis in the Houston City Bancshares common stock to be surrendered in exchange therefor. For this purpose, gain or loss must be calculated separately for each identifiable block of shares surrendered in the exchange, and a loss realized on one block of shares may not be used to offset a gain realized on another block of shares. We urge holders to consult their tax advisors regarding the manner in which cash and Independent common stock should be allocated among different blocks of Houston City Bancshares common stock. Any recognized gain generally will be long-term capital gain if the holder's holding period with respect to the Houston City Bancshares common stock surrendered is more than one year at the effective time of the Independent merger. If, however, the cash received has the effect of the distribution of a dividend, the gain will be treated as a dividend to the extent of the holder's ratable share of accumulated earnings and profits of Houston City Bancshares as calculated for U.S. federal income tax purposes. See Possible Treatment of Cash as a Dividend below.

The aggregate adjusted tax basis of Independent common stock received (including fractional shares deemed received and redeemed as described below) by a holder that exchanges its shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock for a combination of Independent common stock and cash pursuant to the Independent merger will be equal to the aggregate adjusted tax basis of the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock surrendered for Independent common stock and cash, reduced by the amount of cash received by the holder pursuant to the Independent merger (excluding any cash received instead of a fractional share of Independent common stock) and increased by the amount of gain (including any portion of the gain that is treated as a dividend as described below but excluding any gain or loss resulting from the deemed receipt and redemption of fractional shares described below), if any, recognized by the holder on the exchange. The holding period of the Independent common stock (including fractional shares deemed received and redeemed as described below) will include the holding period of the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock surrendered.

Possible Treatment of Cash as a Dividend

Any gain recognized by a holder may be treated as a dividend for U.S. federal income tax purposes to the extent of the holder's ratable share of Houston City Bancshares' accumulated earnings and profits. In general, the determination of whether the gain recognized in the exchange will be treated as capital gain or has the effect of a distribution of a dividend depends upon whether and to what extent the exchange reduces the holder's deemed percentage stock ownership of Independent. For purposes of this determination, the holder is treated as if it first exchanged all of its shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock solely for Independent common stock and then Independent immediately redeemed, which we refer to as the deemed redemption, a portion of the Independent common stock in exchange for the cash the holder actually received. The gain recognized in the deemed redemption will be treated as capital gain if the deemed redemption is (1) substantially disproportionate with respect to the holder or (2) not essentially equivalent to a dividend.

The deemed redemption will generally be substantially disproportionate with respect to a holder if the percentage described in (2) below is less than 80% of the percentage described in (1) below. Whether the deemed redemption is not essentially equivalent to a dividend with respect to a holder will depend upon the holder's particular circumstances. At a minimum, however, in order for the deemed redemption to be not essentially equivalent to a dividend, the deemed redemption must result in a meaningful reduction in the holder's deemed percentage stock ownership of Independent. That determination requires a comparison of (1) the percentage of the outstanding stock of Independent that the holder is deemed actually and constructively to have owned immediately before the deemed redemption and (2) the percentage of the outstanding stock of Independent that is actually and constructively owned by the holder immediately after the deemed redemption. In applying the above tests, a holder may, under the constructive ownership rules, be deemed to own stock that is owned by other persons or stock underlying a holder's option to purchase in addition to the stock actually owned by the holder.

The Internal Revenue Service has ruled that a stockholder in a publicly held corporation whose relative stock interest is minimal (e.g., less than 1%) and who exercises no control with respect to corporate affairs is generally considered to have a meaningful reduction if that stockholder has a relatively minor (e.g., approximately 3%) reduction in its percentage stock ownership under the above analysis. Accordingly, the gain recognized in the exchange by such a stockholder would be treated as capital gain.

These rules are complex and dependent upon the specific factual circumstances particular to each holder. Consequently, we urge each holder that may be subject to these rules to consult its tax advisor as to the application of these rules to the particular facts relevant to such holder.

Cash Received Instead of a Fractional Share.

A holder who receives cash instead of a fractional share of Independent common stock will be treated as having received such fractional share and then as having received such cash in redemption of the fractional share. Gain or loss generally will be recognized based on the difference between the amount of cash received instead of the fractional share and the portion of the holder's aggregate adjusted tax basis of the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock surrendered which is allocable to the fractional share. Such gain or loss generally will be long-term capital gain or loss if the holding period for such shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock is more than one year at the effective time of the Independent merger. Long-term capital gains of noncorporate taxpayers are subject to reduced rates of taxation. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations.

Dissenters

Upon the proper exercise of dissenters' rights, a holder will exchange all of the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock actually owned by that holder solely for cash and that holder will recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount of cash received and its adjusted tax basis in the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock surrendered, which gain or loss will be long-term capital gain or loss if the holder's holding period with respect to the Houston City Bancshares common stock surrendered is more than one year. Long-term capital gains of noncorporate taxpayers are subject to reduced rates of taxation. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations. Although the law is unclear, if the holder constructively owns shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock that are exchanged for shares of Independent common stock in the Independent merger or otherwise owns shares of Independent common stock actually or constructively after the Independent merger, the consequences to that holder may be similar to the consequences described above under the heading "U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Independent Merger Generally," except that the amount of consideration, if any, treated as a dividend may not be limited to the amount of that holder's gain.

Certain Tax Reporting Rules

Under applicable Treasury regulations, significant holders of Houston City Bancshares stock will be required to comply with certain reporting requirements. A Houston City Bancshares stockholder should be viewed as a significant holder if, immediately before the Independent merger, such holder held 5% or more, by vote or value, of the total outstanding Houston City Bancshares common stock. Significant holders generally will be required to file a statement with the holder's U.S. federal income tax return for the taxable year that includes the consummation of the Independent merger. That statement must set forth the holder's adjusted tax basis in, and the fair market value of, the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock surrendered pursuant to the Independent merger (both as determined immediately before the surrender of shares), the date of the Independent merger, and the name and employer identification number of Independent, Houston City Bancshares, and IBGHCB, and the holder will be required to retain permanent records of these facts. We urge each holder of Houston City Bancshares common stock to consult its tax advisor as to whether such holder may be treated as a significant holder.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding

Payments of cash pursuant to the Independent merger may, under certain circumstances, be subject to information reporting and backup withholding unless the recipient provides proof of an applicable exemption or furnishes its taxpayer identification number, and otherwise complies with all applicable requirements of the backup withholding rules. Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules are not an additional tax and will be allowed as a refund or credit against such holder's U.S. federal income tax liability, provided the required information is timely furnished to the Internal Revenue Service.

This discussion of certain material U.S. federal income tax consequences is for general information only and is not tax advice. We urge holders of Houston City Bancshares common stock to consult their tax advisors with respect to the application of U.S. federal income tax laws to their particular situations as well as any tax consequences arising under the U.S. federal estate or gift tax rules, or under the laws of any state, local, foreign or other taxing jurisdiction or under any applicable tax treaty.

Accounting Treatment

The merger will be accounted for under the acquisition method of accounting under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Under this method, Houston City Bancshares' assets and liabilities as of the date of the merger will be recorded at their respective fair values. Any difference between the purchase price for Houston City Bancshares and the fair value of the identifiable net assets acquired (including core deposit intangibles) will be recorded as goodwill. In accordance with ASC Topic 805, Business Combinations, issued in July 2001, the goodwill resulting from the merger will not be amortized to expense, but instead will be reviewed for impairment at least annually and to the extent goodwill is impaired, its carrying value will be written down to its implied fair value and a charge will be made to earnings. Core deposit and other intangibles with definite useful lives recorded by Independent in connection with the merger will be amortized to expense in accordance with such rules. The consolidated financial statements of Independent issued after the merger will reflect the results attributable to the acquired operations of Houston City Bancshares beginning on the date of completion of the merger.

Ownership of Independent Common Stock After the Merger

Based on the closing price of Independent common stock on July 31, 2014 of $48.01 per share, Independent would issue 649,861 shares of its common stock to Houston City Bancshares shareholders in connection with the merger. If the average sales price of Independent's common stock is less than $42.4593, Independent may in its sole discretion elect to: (a) increase the per share cash consideration from $30.44 to an amount up to $43.48, subject to the tangible book value adjustment; and (b) reduce the per share stock consideration to a number of shares of Independent common stock equal to the quotient of (x) the difference between $86.96 and the increased amount of the per share cash consideration; divided by (y) the average sales price.

Based on 16,370,707 shares of Independent common stock outstanding and the closing price of $48.01 on July 31, 2014, immediately after the merger, the former Houston City Bancshares shareholders would own approximately 3.8% of the outstanding shares of Independent common stock assuming 649,861 shares of Independent common stock are issued in the merger. That ownership percentage would be reduced by any future issuances of shares of Independent common stock.

Restrictions on Resales of Independent Common Stock Received in the Merger

The shares of Independent common stock issued in the merger will not be subject to any restrictions on transfer arising under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, except for shares of Independent common stock issued to any Houston City Bancshares shareholder who may be deemed to be an affiliate of Independent after completion of the merger. Affiliates generally are defined as persons or entities who control, are controlled by or are under common control with Independent at or after the effective time of the merger and generally include executive officers, directors and beneficial owners of 10% or more of the common stock of Independent. Former Houston City Bancshares shareholders who are not affiliates of Independent after the completion of the merger may sell their shares of Independent common stock received in the merger at any time.

Former Houston City Bancshares shareholders who become affiliates of Independent after completion of the merger will be subject to the volume and sale limitations of Rule 144 under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, until they are no longer affiliates of Independent. This proxy statement/prospectus does not cover resales of Independent common stock received by any person upon completion of the merger, and no person is authorized to make any use of or rely on this proxy statement/prospectus in connection with or to effect any resale of Independent shares.

Regulatory Approvals Required for the Merger

The acquisition of Houston City Bancshares by Independent requires the approval of the Federal Reserve. The bank merger requires the approval of the FDIC and the TDB with a notice of the merger to be filed with the OCC. Independent filed an application with the Federal Reserve, and Independent Bank and Houston Community Bank filed applications with the FDIC and TDB for applicable regulatory approval on June 30, 2014.

Independent expects to receive all necessary regulatory approvals. You should note that the approval of any notice or application merely implies satisfaction of regulatory criteria for approval, and does not include review of the merger from the standpoint of the adequacy of the consideration to be received by, or fairness to, shareholders. Regulatory approval does not constitute an endorsement or recommendation of the proposed merger.

Independent cannot assure you as to whether or when the requisite regulatory approvals will be obtained, and, if obtained, Independent cannot assure you as to the date of receipt of any of these approvals, the terms thereof or the absence of any litigation challenging them. Independent and Houston City Bancshares are not aware of any other material governmental approvals or actions that are required prior to the parties' completion of the merger.

Dissenters' Rights of Houston City Bancshares Shareholders

General. If you hold one or more shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock, you are entitled to dissenters' rights under Texas law and have the right to dissent from the merger and have the appraised fair value of your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock as of the date immediately prior to the effective date of the merger paid to you in cash. The appraised fair value may be more or less than the value of the shares of Independent common stock and cash being paid in the merger in exchange for shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock. If you are contemplating exercising your right to dissent, we urge you to read carefully the provisions of Chapter 10, Subchapter H of the Texas Business Organizations Code, or TBOC, which are attached to this proxy statement/prospectus as Appendix C and which qualify in all respects the following discussion of those provisions, and consult with your legal counsel before electing or attempting to exercise these rights. The following discussion describes the steps you must take if you want to exercise your right to dissent. You should read this summary and the full text of the law carefully. In this description of the dissenters' rights of the Houston City Bancshares shareholders, references to the merger are to the merger of Houston City Bancshares and IBGHCB.

How to Exercise and Perfect Your Right to Dissent. To be eligible to exercise your right to dissent to the merger:

you must, prior to the special meeting of the Houston City Bancshares shareholders, provide Houston City Bancshares with a written objection to the merger that states that your right to dissent will be exercised if the reorganization agreement are approved and the merger is completed and that provides an address to which a notice of effectiveness of the merger should be delivered or mailed to you if the merger is completed;

If you fail to submit to Independent on a timely basis the certificates representing the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock after you have submitted the demand for payment as described above, Independent will have the option to terminate your right of dissent as to your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock. The fair value of your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock will be the value of the shares on the day immediately preceding the merger, excluding any appreciation or depreciation in anticipation of the merger. After the merger is completed, your written demand and any notice sent to Independent must be addressed to:

Independent Bank Group, Inc.

1600 Redbud Boulevard, Suite 400

McKinney, Texas 75069-3257

Attention: President and Secretary

Your written demand must include a demand for payment for your shares for which rights of dissent and appraisal are sought and must state the number of shares and class of Houston City Bancshares common stock you own and your estimate of the fair value of your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock and an address to which a notice relating to the dissent and appraisal procedures may be sent. This written demand must be delivered to Independent within 20 days of the date on which Independent sends to you the notice of the effectiveness of the merger. If your written demand for payment in proper form is not received by Independent within that 20 day period, you will be bound by the merger and you will not be entitled to receive a cash payment representing the fair value of your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock. Instead, you will receive shares of Independent common stock and cash as the merger consideration set forth in the reorganization agreement.

Delivery of Stock Certificates. If you have satisfied the requirements for the exercise of your right to dissent described above, including the delivery of the written demand for payment to Independent as described above, you must, not later than the 20th day after you make your written demand for payment to Independent, submit to Independent your certificate or certificates representing the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock you own. You may submit those certificates with your demand for payment if you prefer. In accordance with the provisions of the TBOC, Independent will note on each such certificate that you have demanded payment of the fair value of the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock that were represented by such certificate under the provisions of the TBOC relating to the rights of dissenting owners. After making those notations on those certificates, Independent will return each such certificate to you at your request. If you fail to submit all of the certificates representing the shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock for which you have exercised the right of dissent in a timely fashion, Independent will have the right to terminate your rights of dissent and appraisal with respect to all of your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock unless a court, for good cause shown, directs Independent not to terminate those rights.

Independent's Actions Upon Receipt of Your Demand for Payment. Within 20 days after Independent receives your written demand for payment and your estimate of the fair value of your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock submitted as described above, Independent must send you written notice stating whether or not it accepts your estimate of the fair value of your shares.

If Independent accepts your estimate, Independent will notify you that it will pay the amount of your estimated fair value within 90 days after the effective date of the merger. Independent will make this payment to you only if you have surrendered the share certificates representing your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock, duly endorsed for transfer, to Independent.

Table of Contents

If Independent does not accept your estimate, Independent will notify you of this fact and will make an offer of an alternative estimate of the fair value of your shares that it is willing to pay you within 120 days after the effective date of the merger, which you may accept within 90 days after the effective date of the merger or decline.

If you and Independent have not reached an agreement as to the fair market value of your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock within 90 days after the effective date of the merger, you or Independent may, within 60 days after the expiration of the 90 day period, commence proceedings in Collin County, Texas, asking the court to determine the fair value of your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock. The court will determine if you have complied with the provisions of the TBOC regarding their right of dissent and if you have become entitled to receive payment for your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock. The court will appoint one or more qualified persons to act as appraisers to determine the fair value of your shares in the manner prescribed by the TBOC. The appraisers will determine the fair value of your shares and will report this value to the court. Once the appraisers' report is filed with the court, you will receive a notice from the court indicating that the report has been filed. You will be responsible for obtaining a copy of the report from the court. If you or Independent objects to the report or any part of it, the court will hold a hearing to determine the fair value of your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock. Both you and Independent may address the court about the report. The court will determine the fair value of your shares and direct Independent to pay that amount, plus interest, which will begin to accrue 91 days after the merger is completed. The court may require you to share in the court costs relating to the matter to the extent the court deems it fair and equitable that you do so.

Rights as a Shareholder. If you have made a written demand on Independent for payment of the fair value of your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock, you will not thereafter be entitled to vote or exercise any other rights as a shareholder of Independent, but will only have the right to receive payment for your shares as described herein and the right to maintain an appropriate action to obtain relief on the ground that the merger would be or was fraudulent. In the absence of fraud in the transaction, your right under the dissent provisions described herein is the exclusive remedy for the recovery of the value of your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock or money damages with respect to the merger.

Withdrawal of Demand. If you have made a written demand on Independent for payment of the fair value of your Houston City Bancshares common stock, you may withdraw such demand at any time before payment for your shares has been made or before a petition has been filed with a court for determination of the fair value of your shares. If you withdraw your demand or are otherwise unsuccessful in asserting your dissenters' rights, you will be bound by the merger and you will have the same rights to receive of the merger consideration with respect to your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock as you would have had if you had not made a demand for payment as to those shares, as well as to participate to the appropriate extent in any dividends or distributions on the shares of Independent common stock that may have been paid to Independent shareholders after the effective date of the merger. Such rights will, however, be subject to any change in or adjustment to those shares made because of an action taken after the date your demand for payment.

Beneficial Owners. Persons who beneficially own shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock that are held of record in the name of another person, such as a broker, bank, trustee or other nominee, and who desire to have the right of dissent exercised as to those shares must act promptly to cause the record holder of those shares to take the actions required under Texas law to exercise the dissenter's rights with respect to those shares. Only the persons in whose names shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock are registered on the share transfer records of Houston City Bancshares may exercise the right of dissent and appraisal discussed above.

U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences. See Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Independent Merger on page 75 for a discussion on how the federal income tax consequences of your action will change if you elect to dissent from the merger.

You should remember that if you return a signed proxy card, but fail to provide instructions as to how your shares of Houston City Bancshares common stock are to be voted, you will be considered to have voted in favor of the reorganization agreement and you will not be able to assert dissenters' rights. You should also remember that if you otherwise vote at the special meeting in favor of the reorganization agreement, you will not be able to assert dissenters' rights.

PROPOSAL TO ADJOURN THE SPECIAL MEETING

(Proposal Two)

If there are not sufficient votes to constitute a quorum or to approve the reorganization agreement at the time of the special meeting, the special meeting may be adjourned to a later date or dates in order to permit further solicitation of additional proxies. Pursuant to the TBOC, the Houston City Bancshares board of directors is not required to fix a new record date to determine the Houston City Bancshares shareholders entitled to vote at the adjourned special meeting. At the adjourned special meeting, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the special meeting. If the Houston City Bancshares board of directors does not fix a new record date, it is not necessary to give any notice of the time and place of the adjourned special meeting other than an announcement at the special meeting at which the adjournment is taken, unless the adjournment is for more than thirty (30) days. If a new record date is fixed, notice of the adjourned special meeting shall be given as in the case of an original special meeting.

In order to allow proxies that have been received at the time of the special meeting to be voted for an adjournment, if necessary, this proposal regarding the question of adjournment is being submitted to the Houston City Bancshares shareholders as a separate matter for their consideration. If approved, the adjournment proposal will authorize the holder of any proxy solicited by the Houston City Bancshares board of directors to vote in favor of adjourning the special meeting and any later adjournments. If the Houston City Bancshares shareholders approve this adjournment proposal, Houston City Bancshares could adjourn the special meeting and use the additional time to solicit additional proxies to gain a quorum for the special meeting or approve the reorganization agreement, including the solicitation of proxies from Houston City Bancshares shareholders who previously have voted against the reorganization agreement. Among other things, approval of the adjournment proposal could mean that, even if proxies representing a sufficient number of votes against the reorganization agreement have been received, Houston City Bancshares could adjourn the special meeting without a vote on the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement and seek to convince the holders of those shares to change their votes to votes in favor of the proposal to approve the reorganization agreement.

Vote Required

The affirmative vote of holders of the majority of the shares for which votes are cast at the special meeting is needed to approve this proposal. Abstentions and broker nonvotes will not be counted as votes cast and, therefore, will not affect this proposal. Further, the failure to vote, either by proxy or in person, will not have an effect on this proposal. Unless instructions to the contrary are specified in a proxy properly voted and returned through available channels, the proxies will be voted FOR this proposal.

Certain directors and shareholders of Houston City Bancshares entered into a voting agreement with Independent, pursuant to which they have agreed to vote FOR the this proposal to adjourn the special meeting. For more information regarding the voting agreement, please see the section entitled Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement Voting Agreement beginning on page 75.

HOUSTON CITY BANCSHARES BOARD OF DIRECTORS UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS THAT YOU VOTE FOR THE ADJOURNMENT PROPOSAL.

Houston City Bancshares shareholders are advised to obtain the current stock quotation for Independent common stock. The market price of Independent common stock will fluctuate from the date of this proxy statement/prospectus through the third trading date prior to the effective date of the merger, which is the date on which the per share stock consideration is determined for the merger. Because of the possibility of an adjustment to each of the number of shares constituting the per share stock consideration and the per share cash consideration, you will not know the exact number of shares of Independent common stock or the exact amount of cash that you will receive in connection with the merger when you vote on the reorganization agreement. See Proposal to Approve the Reorganization Agreement Terms of the Merger.

Prior to April 3, 2013, there was no established public trading market for Independent common stock. However, Independent occasionally became aware of trades and transactions in its common stock and in certain instances the prices at which these trades were executed. Due to the limited information available, the following price information may not accurately reflect the actual market value of the shares of Independent common stock during the applicable period. The following data includes trades between individual investors and Independent and between shareholders of Independent. It does not include restricted stock issued by Independent. The following table sets forth the per share price paid in connection with sales of its common stock for each quarter during 2011 and 2012 and the first quarter of 2013 through the date indicated as adjusted to give pro forma effect to our 3.2-for-1 stock split that was effective as of February 22, 2013:

	Sales Price	Number of Trades	Number of Shares Traded

Quarter ended March 31, 2012
Quarter ended September 30, 2012 ⁽²⁾⁽³⁾	$ 31.25	6	6,630

First Quarter 2013 (through April 2, 2013)

- (2) Reflects the purchase of shares by Independent to remain within the S corporation limitation regarding the maximum number of shareholders in anticipation of the acquisition of CGI. The price was determined by Independent's board of directors.

Table of Contents

- (3) Excludes the sale of 246,160 shares of Independent common stock by Independent to its existing shareholders and accredited investors at a price of $20.31 per share to fund a portion of the CGI acquisition. The price was determined by Independent's board of directors, consistent with the negotiated price of the shares issued to the target shareholders in such acquisition.
- (4) Excludes the issuance of 182,221 shares of Independent common stock to the shareholders of CGI in connection with the acquisition of that entity. The shares issued as merger consideration were valued between the parties at $20.31 per share.

These figures represent actual transfers or issuances of Independent common stock reflected on its stock transfer records. Because Independent may not become aware of all trades of its common stock prior to April 3, 2013, the immediately preceding table may not include all trades that occurred during the reported periods. The prices given in that table are the result of limited trading and may not be representative of the actual value of Independent common stock during the applicable period. In addition, in most instances, Independent does not have actual knowledge of the prices at which the shares of Independent common stock reflected in the immediately preceding table were sold and in providing this information has relied in most cases on comments made by a third party without its independent verification.

After the merger, Independent currently expects to continue to pay (when, as and if declared by Independent's board of directors out of funds legally available for that purpose and subject to regulatory restrictions) regular quarterly cash dividends. There is no assurance that Independent will continue to pay dividends in the future. Future dividends on Independent common stock will depend upon its earnings and financial condition, liquidity and capital requirements, the general economic and regulatory climate, its ability to service any equity or debt obligations senior to the common stock and other factors deemed relevant by the board of directors of Independent. See Summary Dividends.

As a holding company, Independent is ultimately dependent upon its subsidiaries particularly Independent Bank, to provide funding for its operating expenses, debt service and dividends. Various banking laws applicable to Independent Bank limit the payment of dividends and other distributions by Independent Bank to Independent, and may therefore limit Independent's ability to pay dividends on its common stock. If required payments on Independent's outstanding junior subordinated debentures held by its unconsolidated subsidiary trusts are not made or are suspended, Independent will be prohibited from paying dividends on its common stock. Regulatory authorities could impose administratively stricter limitations on the ability of Independent Bank to pay dividends to Independent if such limits were deemed appropriate to preserve certain capital adequacy requirements.

No registered broker/dealer makes a market in Houston City Bancshares' common stock, and Houston City Bancshares' common stock is not listed for trading or quoted on any stock exchange or automated quotation system. Houston City Bancshares acts as the transfer agent and registrar for its own shares. As of the record date, there were approximately 58 holders of Houston City Bancshares' common stock.

Houston City Bancshares becomes aware of trades of shares as transfer agent of its common stock and sometimes the prices at which these trades are made. Houston City Bancshares is not obligated to repurchase its common stock or, upon any registration rights, to create a market for its common stock.

Houston City Bancshares' shareholders are entitled to receive distributions out of legally available funds as and when declared by Houston City Bancshares' board of directors, in its sole discretion. As a Texas corporation, Houston City Bancshares is subject to certain restrictions on distributions under the TBOC. Generally, a Texas corporation may pay distributions to its shareholders out of its surplus (the excess of its assets over its liabilities and stated capital) unless the corporation is insolvent or the payment of the distribution would render the corporation insolvent.

Consistent with its policy that bank holding companies should serve as a source of financial strength for their subsidiary banks, the Federal Reserve has stated that, as a matter of prudent banking, a bank holding company generally should not maintain a rate of distributions to shareholders unless its net income available has been sufficient to fully fund the distributions, and the prospective rate of earnings retention appears consistent with the bank holding company's capital needs, asset quality and overall financial condition.

Houston City Bancshares does not engage in separate business activities of a material nature. As a result, Houston City Bancshares' ability to pay distributions depends upon the distributions received from Houston Community Bank. As a national banking association, Houston Community Bank's ability to pay distributions is restricted by certain laws and regulations. Under the National Bank Act, Houston Community Bank generally may not declare a distribution without prior OCC approval if the total amount of all distributions declared by the bank in any calendar year exceeds the bank's total net profits for that year and its retained net profits for the preceding two calendar years, less any required transfers to surplus. Federal law also prohibits Houston Community Bank from paying distributions that would be greater than the bank's undivided profits after deducting statutory bad debt in excess of the bank's allowance for loan and lease losses.

Under the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Improvement Act, Houston Community Bank may not pay any distribution if the payment of the distribution would cause Houston Community Bank to become undercapitalized or if Houston Community Bank is undercapitalized. The FDIC may further restrict the payment of distributions by requiring that Houston Community Bank maintain a higher level of capital than would otherwise be required to be adequately capitalized for regulatory purposes. If, in the opinion of the FDIC, Houston Community Bank is engaged in an unsound practice (which could include the payment of distributions), the FDIC may require, generally after notice and hearing, that Houston Community Bank cease such practice. The FDIC has indicated that paying distributions that deplete a depository institution's capital base to an inadequate level would be an unsafe banking practice. The FDIC also has issued policy statements providing that insured depository institutions generally should pay distributions only out of current operating earnings.

Under regulatory capital guidelines, Houston Community Bank must maintain a Tier 1 capital to adjusted total assets ratio of at least 4.0%, a Tier 1 capital to risk weighted assets ratio of at least 4.0%, and a total risk based capital to risk weighted assets ratio of at least 8.0%. As of March 31, 2014, Houston Community Bank had a ratio of Tier 1 capital to adjusted total assets of 8.98%, a ratio of Tier 1 capital to risk-weighted assets of 14.19%, and a ratio of total risk based capital to risk-weighted assets of 15.24%.

DESCRIPTION OF INDEPENDENT CAPITAL STOCK

General

The following summarizes some of the important rights of Independent shareholders. This discussion does not purport to be a complete description of these rights. These rights can be determined in full only by reference to federal and state banking laws and regulations, the TBOC and Independent's certificate of formation and bylaws.

Independent's authorized capital stock consists of 100,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, and 10,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.01 per share. As of July 31, 2014, Independent had 16,370,707 outstanding shares of its common stock and 23,938.35 shares of its Series A preferred stock were outstanding. All of Independent's shares outstanding at that date were fully paid and nonassessable. As of July 31, 2014, Independent had 401 holders of record of common stock.

Independent Common Stock

Voting Rights. Subject to any special voting rights that may be given to any series of preferred stock that Independent may issue in the future, holders of Independent's common stock are entitled to one vote per share in the election of directors and on all other matters submitted to a vote at a meeting of shareholders. No shareholder has the right of cumulative voting with respect to the election of directors.

With respect to any matter other than the election of directors or a matter for which the affirmative vote of the holders of a specified portion of the shares entitled to vote is required by Texas law or Independent's certificate of formation, the act of the shareholders will be the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote on, and voted for or against, the matter at a meeting of shareholders at which a quorum is present. For purposes of such a vote, however, all abstentions and broker nonvotes are not counted as voted either for or against such matter.

In elections of directors in which the number of nominees for election as director does not exceed the number of directors to be elected (generally referred to as an uncontested election), the directors will be elected by a majority of the votes cast by the holders of shares entitled to vote in the election of directors at a meeting of shareholders at which a quorum is present. If the number of nominees for election exceeds the number of directors to be elected at a meeting of shareholders (generally referred to as a contested election), directors will be elected by a plurality of the votes cast. For purposes of determining whether a director is elected in an uncontested election, a majority of the votes cast means that the number of votes cast for a director must exceed the number of votes cast against that director, and abstentions and broker nonvotes shall not be counted as votes cast either for or against any nominee for director. For purposes of determining whether a director is elected in a contested election, the nominees equal in number to the number of directors to be elected who receive the highest number of votes among all nominees will be elected as directors.

Dividend Rights. Holders of Independent's common stock are entitled to dividends when, as and if declared by Independent's board of directors out of funds legally available therefor.

Liquidation Rights. In the event of Independent's liquidation, the holders of Independent common stock will be entitled to share ratably in any assets remaining after payment of all debts and other liabilities.

Other. Independent's common stock has no preemptive or conversion rights and is not entitled to the benefits of any redemption or sinking fund provision.

Transfer Agent and Registrar. The transfer agent and registrar for Independent's common stock is Wells Fargo Bank Shareowner Services, at 1110 Centre Point Curve, Suite 101, Mendota Heights, Minnesota 55120-4101.

Listing. Independent's common stock is listed on the NASDAQ Global Select Market under the symbol IBTX.

Independent Preferred Stock

Upon authorization of Independent's board of directors, Independent may issue shares of one or more series of its preferred stock from time to time. Independent's board of directors may, without any action by holders of common stock (and except as may be otherwise provided in the terms of any series of preferred stock of which there are shares outstanding holders of preferred stock) adopt resolutions to designate and establish a new series of preferred stock. Upon establishing such a series of preferred stock, the board will determine the number of shares of preferred stock of that series that may be issued and the rights and preferences of that series of preferred stock. Independent's board of directors has not designated or established any series of preferred stock. The rights of any series of preferred stock may include, among others:

general or special voting rights;

preferential liquidation or preemptive rights;

preferential cumulative or noncumulative dividend rights;

redemption or put rights; and conversion or exchange rights.

Independent may issue shares of, or rights to purchase shares of, one or more series of Independent's preferred stock that have been designated from time to time, the terms of which might:

adversely affect voting or other rights evidenced by, or amounts otherwise payable with respect to, the common stock or other series of preferred stock;

discourage an unsolicited proposal to acquire Independent; or facilitate a particular business combination involving Independent.

Any of these actions could have an anti-takeover effect and discourage a transaction that some or a majority of Independent's shareholders might believe to be in their best interests or in which Independent's shareholders might receive a premium for their stock over Independent's then market price.

Authorized Shares. There are 23,938.35 authorized shares of the series of our Series A preferred stock, all of which are issued and outstanding.

Ranking. The Series A preferred stock is ranked senior to the common stock with respect to dividend rights and rights to participate in our assets upon our winding up or termination.

Dividends. Holders of Series A preferred stock are entitled to receive at the end of each quarterly dividend period an amount equal to one-quarter of the applicable dividend rate (which rate is approximately 1%) multiplied by the liquidation amount per each share of Series A preferred stock, which liquidation amount is currently equal to $1,000 per share, or approximately $60,000 per quarter.

Voting Rights. The holders of the Series A preferred stock have no general voting rights other than as required under Texas law or expressly provided by the Company and summarized below.

The written consent of the U.S. Treasury, as long as the U.S. Treasury holds any shares of Series A preferred stock, or the written consent of holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Series A preferred stock if the U.S. Treasury no longer holds any such shares, is required generally to approve the following actions by the Company, subject to certain exceptions as stated in the statement of designation for the Series A preferred stock:

Authorization of any shares of, or securities convertible, exchangeable or exercisable for shares of, any Company capital stock ranking senior to the Series A preferred stock with respect to either or both the payment of dividends and/or the distribution of our assets upon our winding up or termination;

Any amendment of the statement of designation for the series of the Series A preferred stock that would adversely affect the rights, preferences, privileges or voting powers for such Series A preferred stock;

A majority of the outstanding shares of Series A preferred stock have the right to designate a representative to be invited to attend, in a nonvoting capacity, all meetings of the Company's board of directors in the event that the Company has failed to timely pay dividends due upon the Series A preferred stock for an aggregate of five quarterly dividend periods, whether or not consecutive. This right to select an observer terminates upon timely dividend payments for four consecutive quarterly dividends periods, but would be revived in the event there are additional failures to make timely dividend payments for five quarters, in the aggregate, following the termination of observer rights.

Table of Contents

Director Designation Rights. Whenever dividends on the Series A preferred stock have not been declared and timely paid in full for an aggregate of six quarterly dividend periods, whether or not consecutive, and the aggregate liquidation preferences of the then-outstanding shares of Series A preferred stock is greater than or equal to $25 million, the authorized number of the Company's directors will be increased by two and the holders of Series A preferred stock, voting together as a single class, will have the right to elect two directors to fill those newly created directorships at either its next annual meeting (if one is to be held within thirty days) or at a special meeting of shareholders, and this right continues until complete and timely dividend payment have been made for four consecutive quarterly dividend periods. This right to appoint directors revives in the event of any such future failure of the Company to pay complete and timely dividends.

Preemptive Rights. Holders of the Series A preferred stock do not have any preemptive rights.

Liquidation Rights. The holders of Series A preferred stock have a liquidation preference equal to the liquidation amount per share plus any accrued and unpaid dividends on each such share. The current liquidation amount for the Series A preferred stock is $1,000 per share.

Redemption Rights. The Company has the option to redeem, in whole or in part, any or all of the shares of the Series A preferred stock, subject to any required regulatory approval, for a price per share equal to the sum of the liquidation amount per share plus any unpaid dividends for the then current quarterly dividend period up to the day before the redemption date.

Restriction on Redemption and Repurchases of Company Securities. Under the terms of the Series A preferred stock, we may not repurchase or redeem any of its shares of its capital stock, including any equity securities or trust preferred securities issued by us or any of our affiliates, unless after giving effect to such repurchase or redemption, our Tier 1 capital would be at least equal to $79,376,715 and all dividends have been paid on the Series A preferred stock for the most recently completed quarterly dividend period (or sufficient funds have been reserved).

If the Company does not declare and pay the required dividends on the Series A preferred stock, then for the period of time beginning on the last day of such quarterly dividend period until the last day of the third quarterly dividend period immediately following, the Company will be prohibited from redeeming, purchasing, repurchasing or otherwise acquiring any shares of its capital stock at any time, subject to certain enumerated exceptions.

Business Combinations under Texas Law

A number of provisions of Texas law, Independent's certificate of formation and bylaws could have an anti-takeover effect and make more difficult the acquisition of Independent by means of a tender offer, a proxy contest or otherwise and the removal of incumbent directors. These provisions are intended to discourage coercive takeover practices and inadequate takeover bids and to encourage persons seeking to acquire control of Independent to negotiate first with Independent's board of directors.

Independent is subject to the provisions of Title 2, Chapter 21, Subchapter M of the TBOC, or the Texas Business Combination Law, which provides that a Texas corporation may not engage in specified types of business combinations, including mergers, consolidations and asset sales, with a person, or an affiliate or associate of that person, who is an affiliated shareholder. For purposes of this law, an affiliated shareholder is generally defined as the holder of 20% or more of the corporation's voting shares, for a period of three years from the date that person became an affiliated shareholder. The law's prohibitions do not apply if:

the business combination or the acquisition of shares by the affiliated shareholder was approved by the board of directors of the corporation before the affiliated shareholder became an affiliated shareholder; or the business combination was approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding voting shares of the corporation not beneficially owned by the affiliated shareholder, at a meeting of shareholders called for that purpose, not less than six months after the affiliated shareholder became an affiliated shareholder.

Independent has more than 100 shareholders and is considered to be an issuing public corporation for purposes of this law. The Texas Business Combination Law does not apply to the following:

the business combination of an issuing public corporation: where the corporation's original certificate of formation or bylaws contain a provision expressly electing not to be governed by the Texas Business Combination Law; or that adopts an amendment to its certificate of formation or bylaws, by the affirmative vote of the holders, other than affiliated shareholders, of at least two-thirds of the outstanding voting shares of the corporation, expressly electing not to be governed by the Texas Business Combination Law and so long as the amendment does not take effect for 18 months following the date of the vote and does not apply to a business combination with an affiliated shareholder who became affiliated on or before the effective date of the amendment;

a business combination of an issuing public corporation with an affiliated shareholder that became an affiliated shareholder inadvertently, if the affiliated shareholder divests itself, as soon as possible, of enough shares to no longer be an affiliated shareholder and would not at any time within the three- year period preceding the announcement of the business combination have been an affiliated shareholder but for the inadvertent acquisition;

a business combination with an affiliated shareholder who became an affiliated shareholder through a transfer of shares by will or intestacy and continuously was an affiliated shareholder until the announcement date of the business combination; and a business combination of a corporation with its wholly owned Texas subsidiary if the subsidiary is not an affiliate or associate of the affiliated shareholder other than by reason of the affiliated shareholder's beneficial ownership of voting shares of the corporation.

Neither Independent's certificate of formation nor Independent's bylaws contain any provision expressly providing that Independent will not be subject to the Texas Business Combination Law. The Texas Business Combination Law may have the effect of inhibiting a non-negotiated merger or other business combination involving Independent, even if that event would be beneficial to Independent's shareholders.

Certain Certificate of Formation and Bylaw Provisions Potentially Having an Anti-takeover Effect

Independent's certificate of formation and bylaws contain certain provisions that could have an anti-takeover effect and thus discourage potential takeover attempts and make it more difficult for Independent's shareholders to change management or receive a premium for their shares. These provisions include:

authorization for Independent's board of directors to issue shares of one or more series of preferred stock without shareholder approval;

the establishment of a classified board of directors, with directors of each class serving a three-year term;

a requirement that directors only be removed from office for cause and only upon a majority shareholder vote;

a provision that vacancies on Independent's board of directors, including newly created directorships, may be filled only by a majority vote of directors then in office;

a prohibition of shareholder action by written consent, requiring all actions to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders;

the requirement that shareholders representing two-thirds of the outstanding shares of common stock approve all amendments to Independent's certificate of formation or bylaws and approve mergers and similar transactions;

the requirement that any shareholders that desire to bring business before Independent's annual meeting of shareholders or nominate candidates for election as directors at Independent's annual meeting of shareholders must provide timely notice of their intent in writing;

the prohibition of cumulative voting in the election of directors; and a limitation on the ability of shareholders to call special meetings to those shareholders or groups of shareholders owning at least 20% of Independent's outstanding shares of common stock.

Limitation of Liability and Indemnification of Officers and Directors

Independent's certificate of formation provides that its directors are not liable to Independent or its shareholders for monetary damages for an act or omission in their capacity as a director. A director may, however, be found liable for:

any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to Independent or its shareholders; acts or omissions not in good faith that constitute a breach of the director's duty to Independent;

acts or omissions not in good faith that involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law;

any transaction from which the director receives an improper benefit, whether or not the benefit resulted from an action taken within the scope of the director's duties;

acts or omissions for which the liability of the director is expressly provided by an applicable statute; and acts related to an unlawful stock repurchase or payment of a dividend.

Independent's certificate of formation also provides that Independent will indemnify its directors and officers, and may indemnify its employees and agents, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable Texas law from any expenses, liabilities or other matters.

Any such distribution is referred to as the Section 1.05(D) Distribution.

Section 1.06. Treatment of Newco Shares. Each Newco Share (as defined in Section 4.05) issued and outstanding immediately before the Effective Time shall, on and after the Effective Time, be converted into a like number of shares of the Resulting Corporation with the effect that the aggregate number of common shares of the Resulting Corporation outstanding after the Effective Time shall be equal to the aggregate number of Newco Shares outstanding immediately before the Effective Time, all of which shall continue to be owned by IBG. The authorized number of common shares of the Resulting Corporation shall be the same as the authorized number of Newco Shares immediately before the Effective Time.

Section 1.07. Dissenting Shareholders. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, HCBI Shares that are held by shareholders of HCBI who have complied with the terms and provisions of Subchapter H of Chapter 10 of the TBOC (each a Dissenting Shareholder) shall be entitled to those rights and remedies set forth in Subchapter H of Chapter 10 of the TBOC; but if that a shareholder of HCBI fails to perfect, withdraws or otherwise loses any such right or remedy granted by the Subchapter H of Chapter 10 of the TBOC, each HCBI Share held by such shareholder shall be converted into and represent only the right to receive the consideration as specified in Section 1.05.

Section 1.08. SEC Filing and Shareholder Approval.

A. IBG shall prepare a registration statement on Form S-4 or other applicable form (the Registration Statement) to be filed by IBG with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) in connection with the issuance of the IBG Shares to the HCBI Shareholders pursuant to Section 1.05 (including the Proxy Statement for the Meeting (as defined below) and prospectus and other proxy solicitation materials of HCBI constituting a part thereof (together, the Proxy Statement) and all related documents). HCBI shall prepare and furnish to IBG such information relating to HCBI and its directors, officers and shareholders as may be reasonably required to comply with SEC rules and regulations in connection with the Registration Statement. IBG shall provide HCBI, and its legal, financial and accounting advisors, the right to review and provide comments upon (i) the Registration Statement in advance of such Registration Statement being filed with the SEC and (ii) on all amendments and supplements to the Registration Statement and all responses to requests for additional information and replies to comments relating to the Registration Statement before filing or submission to the SEC. IBG shall consider in good faith all comments from HCBI and its legal, financial and accounting advisors to the Registration Statement, all amendments and supplements thereto and all responses to requests for additional information. HCBI agrees to cooperate with IBG and IBG's counsel and accountants in requesting and obtaining appropriate opinions, consents and letters from its financial advisor and independent auditor and in taking such other actions in connection with the Registration Statement and the Proxy Statement. If HCBI has cooperated and promptly provided all information reasonably requested as described above, IBG shall file, or cause to be filed, the Registration Statement with the SEC on or before July 15, 2014. IBG shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause the Registration Statement to be declared effective under the Securities Act as promptly as reasonably practicable after the filing thereof. IBG also agrees to use its commercially reasonable efforts to obtain all necessary state securities law or Blue Sky permits and approvals required to carry out the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

B. The HCBI Board shall duly call, give notice of, and cause to be held, a meeting of its shareholders (the Meeting) and will direct that this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby be submitted to a vote at the Meeting. Specifically, the HCBI Board will present for the consideration of HCBI shareholders a proposal to approve and adopt this Agreement, the Merger, the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby. The HCBI Board will (i) cause proper notice of the Meeting to be given to the HCBI shareholders in compliance with applicable law and regulations, (ii) distribute to the HCBI shareholders the Proxy Statement, (iii) recommend by the affirmative vote of the HCBI Board a vote in favor of approval of the proposals set forth in this Section 1.08(B), subject to Section 1.08(C), and (iv) perform such other acts as may reasonably be requested by IBG to ensure that shareholder approval of the proposals set forth in this Section 1.08(B) are obtained. HCBI shall print and commence the mailing (at its expense) of the Proxy Statement to its shareholders on or before the third business day after the date that the Registration Statement is declared effective and a final prospectus (relating to the Registration Statement) and Proxy Statement is on file with the SEC before such mailing.

C. Notwithstanding the foregoing, HCBI and the Board of Directors of HCBI (the HCBI Board) are permitted to change its recommendation as contemplated by Section 1.08(B)(iii) (Change in Recommendation) if and only to the extent that:

(1) HCBI, HCB and the HCBI Representatives (as defined in Section 5.11), have complied in all material respects with Section 5.11;

(2) the HCBI Board, after consultation with its outside counsel, has determined in good faith that failure to make a Change in Recommendation would reasonably be expected to result in a violation of its fiduciary duties under applicable law; and

(3) if the HCBI Board intends to make a Change in Recommendation after HCBI has received an Acquisition Proposal, (a) the HCBI Board has concluded in good faith, after giving effect to all of the adjustments which may be offered by IBG pursuant to subclause (c) below, that such Acquisition Proposal constitutes a Superior Proposal, (b) HCBI shall notify IBG, at least five business days in advance, of its intention to make a Change in Recommendation in response to such Superior Proposal (including the identity of the party making such Acquisition Proposal) and furnish to IBG a written description of the material terms of the Superior Proposal and copies of such other material documents that HCBI is not required to keep confidential, and (c) before making such a Change in Recommendation, HCBI shall, and shall cause its financial and legal advisors to, during the period after HCBI's delivery of the notice referred to in subclause (b) above, negotiate with IBG in good faith for a period of up to five business days (to the extent IBG desires to negotiate) to make such adjustments in the terms and conditions of this Agreement so that such Acquisition Proposal ceases to constitute a Superior Proposal.

Section 1.09. Exchange Procedures.

A. On the business day before the Closing Date, IBG shall deposit or cause to be deposited in trust with Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. (the Exchange Agent) (i) an authorization to issue shares in book entry form representing the aggregate number of IBG Shares which the holders of HCBI Shares are entitled to receive pursuant to Section 1.05, and (ii) an amount of cash equal to the aggregate amount of cash which the holders of HCBI Shares are entitled to receive pursuant to Section 1.05 (collectively, the Aggregate Merger Consideration).

B. As soon as practicable after the Effective Time, with the intent to be within ten business days after the Effective Time, IBG shall cause the Exchange Agent to mail to each record holder of an outstanding certificate or certificates representing HCBI Shares (the Certificates), a form letter of transmittal which will specify that delivery shall be effected, and risk of loss and title to the Certificates shall pass, only upon proper delivery of the Certificates to the Exchange Agent and contain instructions for use in effecting the surrender of the Certificates for payment therefor. The form and substance of the letter of transmittal and any associated cover letter shall be mutually acceptable to IBG and HCBI before such transmittal materials are mailed to the holders of the Certificates. Upon surrender to the Exchange Agent of a Certificate, together with such letter of transmittal properly completed and duly executed (the Transmittal Materials), the holder of such Certificate shall be entitled to receive in exchange therefor (i) an amount of cash equal to the product of (x) the Per Share Cash Consideration, or the Adjusted Per Share Cash Consideration (as defined in Section 8.07), if applicable, multiplied by (y) the number of HCBI Shares represented by the Certificate (the Surrendered Shares), (ii) a number of IBG Shares equal to the product of (x) the Per Share Stock Consideration, multiplied by (y) the number of Surrendered Shares, and (iii) an amount of cash as payment in lieu of the issuance of fractional IBG Shares calculated in accordance with Section 1.05(B)(3), and such Certificate shall forthwith be canceled. The consideration to be received by a shareholder of HCBI upon surrender of his Certificate is referred to as the Merger Consideration. Until surrendered in accordance with this Section 1.09, each Certificate (other than Certificates representing Dissenting Shares) shall represent for all purposes the right to receive the Merger Consideration without any interest thereon. Promptly after receipt of the Transmittal Materials, IBG will cause the Exchange Agent to review the Transmittal Materials in order to verify proper completion and execution thereof. As soon as practicable after the Effective Time and the surrender of a Certificate to the Exchange Agent, together with properly completed and executed Transmittal Materials, with the intent to be no later than five business days after such surrender, IBG will cause the Exchange Agent to promptly deliver the Merger Consideration.

C. After the Effective Time, the share transfer ledger of HCBI shall be closed and there shall be no transfers on the share transfer books of HCBI of the HCBI Shares which were outstanding immediately before such time of filing. If, after the Effective Time, Certificates are presented to IBG, they shall be promptly presented to the Exchange Agent and exchanged as provided in this Section 1.09.

D. Former shareholders of HCBI shall be entitled to vote after the Effective Time at any meeting of IBG's shareholders the number of IBG Shares into which their shares are converted, regardless of whether such shareholders of HCBI have surrendered their Certificates in exchange therefor.

E. No dividends or other distributions declared after the Effective Time with respect to IBG Shares and payable to the holders thereof shall be paid to the holder of a Certificate until such holder surrenders such Certificate to the Exchange Agent in accordance with this Section 1.09. After the surrender of a Certificate in accordance with this Section 1.09, the holder thereof shall be entitled to receive any such dividends or other distributions, without interest thereon, which had become payable after the Effective Time with respect to the IBG Shares represented by such Certificate.

F. Any portion of the Aggregate Merger Consideration (including the proceeds of any investments thereof) that remains unclaimed by the shareholders of HCBI for six months after the Exchange Agent mails the letter of transmittal pursuant to this Section 1.09 shall be delivered to IBG upon demand, and any shareholders of HCBI who have not theretofore complied with the exchange procedures in this Section 1.09 shall look to IBG only, and not the Exchange Agent, for the payment of the Merger Consideration in respect of such shares. If outstanding Certificates for HCBI Shares are not surrendered or the payment for them is not claimed before the date on which such IBG Shares or cash would otherwise escheat to any governmental unit or agency, the unclaimed items shall, to the extent permitted by abandoned property or any other applicable law, become the property of IBG (and to the extent not in its possession shall be delivered to it), free and clear of all claims or interest of any person previously entitled to such property.

G. If any IBG Shares are to be issued in a name other than that in which the Certificate surrendered in exchange therefor is registered, it shall be a condition of the issuance thereof that the Certificate so surrendered shall be appropriately endorsed (or accompanied by an appropriate instrument of transfer) and otherwise in proper form (reasonably satisfactory to IBG) for transfer, and that the person requesting such exchange shall pay to the Exchange Agent in advance any transfer or other taxes required by reason of the issuance of a certificate representing IBG Shares in any name other than that of the registered holder of the Certificate surrendered, or required for any other reason, or shall establish to the satisfaction of the Exchange Agent that such tax has been paid or not payable.

H. None of IBG, HCBI, the Exchange Agent or any other person shall be liable to any former holder of HCBI Shares for any IBG Share (or dividends or distributions with respect thereto) or cash properly delivered to a public official pursuant to applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar laws.

I. If any Certificate has been lost, stolen or destroyed, then upon the making of an affidavit of that fact by the person claiming such Certificate to be lost, stolen or destroyed and, if required by IBG or the Exchange Agent, the posting by such person of a bond in such amount as IBG or the Exchange Agent may direct (not to exceed the amount of Merger Consideration relating to the relevant missing Certificate) as indemnity against any claim that may be made against IBG, Independent Bank, or HCBI with respect to such Certificate, the Exchange Agent will issue in exchange for such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate the Merger Consideration deliverable in respect thereof pursuant to this Agreement.

Section 1.10. Effective Time. The Effective Time means the effective time of the Merger as specified in the Certificate of Merger filed with and certified by the Texas Secretary of State (TSOS). The Certificate of Merger shall be filed with the TSOS on the Closing Date.

Section 1.11. Subsequent Merger and Bank Merger. Immediately after the Effective Time, IBG shall cause the Subsequent Merger and the Bank Merger to be consummated.

Section 1.12. Anti-Dilution Provisions. If, between the date of this Agreement and the Effective Time, the IBG Shares are changed into a different number or class of shares by reason of any reclassification, recapitalization, split-up, combination, exchange of shares or readjustment, or a share dividend thereon is declared with a record date within said period, the Per Share Stock Consideration shall be adjusted accordingly; but an offering or sale of IBG Shares shall not be deemed a reclassification, recapitalization, split-up, combination, exchange of shares or readjustment of the IBG Shares.

Section 1.13. Tax Matters.

A. None of IBG, Independent Bank, Newco, HCBI or HCB has taken or agreed to take any action, or is aware of any fact or circumstance, that would prevent the Merger and the Subsequent Merger, together, from qualifying as a reorganization within the meaning of § 368 of the Code. IBG, Independent Bank, Newco, HCBI and HCB shall each use its reasonable best efforts to cause (i) the Merger and the Subsequent Merger, together, to qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of § 368(a) of the Code, and (ii) each of IBG and HCBI to be a party to the reorganization within the meaning of § 368(b) of the Code. D. A HCBI representative shall prepare or cause to be prepared and file or cause to be filed, subject to the review and reasonable approval of IBG, all Tax Returns for each of HCBI and HCB for all periods ending on or prior to the Closing Date that are required to be filed after the Closing Date. As of the date hereof, HCBI and HCB have no material liability for taxes in excess of the amount reserved or provided for on their respective financial statements as of the date thereof.

B. There are no disputes pending with respect to, or claims or assessments asserted in writing for, any material amount of taxes upon HCBI or HCB, nor has HCBI or HCB given or been requested in writing to give any currently effective waivers extending the statutory period of limitation applicable to any tax return for any period.

C. Proper and accurate amounts, if required, have been withheld by HCBI and HCB from their respective employees, independent contractors, creditors, shareholders or other third parties for all periods in material compliance with the tax withholding provisions of applicable law.

D. Except as set forth in Confidential Schedule 3.14, since December 31, 2010, the federal income tax returns of HCBI and HCB have not been audited or examined and no such audit is currently pending or, to the Best Knowledge of HCBI, threatened.

E. Neither HCBI nor HCB has entered into any tax sharing agreement, tax allocation agreement, tax indemnity agreement, or similar contract or arrangement or any current or potential contractual obligation to indemnify any other person with respect to taxes that will require any payment by HCBI or HCB after the date of this Agreement.

Additionally, the terms tax return and tax returns means any return, declaration, report, claim for refund or information return or statement relating to taxes, including any schedule or attachment thereto and including any amendment thereof.

G. HCBI has delivered or made available to IBG correct and complete copies of all federal income tax returns filed by HCBI with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), examination reports, and statements of deficiencies assessed against or agreed to by HCBI and HCB, if any, since with respect to any taxable period beginning on or after December 31, 2009.

capital loss was generated and any limitations of such net operating or capital loss carryforwards under Code §§ 382, 383 or 384 or the Treasury Regulations, excluding any such limitations arising from the transactions contemplated under this Agreement) as of December 31, 2012.

I. Effective as of January 1, 1997 (the S Election Date), HCBI made a valid election to be taxed, for federal income tax purposes, as a Subchapter S corporation and that election is in effect as of the date of this Agreement. Effective on the S Election Date, HCBI made a valid election for HCB to be taxed, for federal income tax purposes, as a qualified Subchapter S subsidiary (a QSSS), and each such election is in effect as of the date of this Agreement. Neither HCBI nor HCB have taken any action that would cause HCBI to cease being an S corporation or cause HCB to cease being a QSSS before the Closing Date. HCBI and HCB are not currently and will not at any time before the Closing Date be liable for any tax under Code §1374.

J. Except as set forth in Confidential Schedule 3.14, for any tax year of HCBI beginning on or after the S Election Date, no audit by the IRS has commenced or been completed pursuant to Code §§6241 through 6245 regarding Subchapter S items, and no agreement, consent or waiver to extend the statute of limitations of Subchapter S items of HCBI has been given. To HCBI's Best Knowledge, for any tax year of HCBI beginning after the S Election Date, each HCBI shareholder's treatment of Subchapter S items with respect to HCBI is consistent with the manner in which HCBI has filed its tax returns, and no audit by the IRS of any HCBI shareholder has occurred except as set forth in Confidential Schedule 3.14.

K. Since the S Election Date, HCBI has not been required to include in income any material adjustment pursuant to Code §481 by reason of a voluntary change in accounting method initiated by HCBI, and the IRS has not initiated or proposed any such material adjustment or change in accounting method (including any method for determining reserves for bad debts maintained by HCBI). No dividend or other distribution declared or paid by HCBI since the S Election Date has exceeded the portion of HCBI's accumulated adjustments account (within the meaning of Treasury Regulation § 1.1368-2) properly allocated to such distribution in accordance with that regulation, and no dividend or distribution declared or paid by HCBI before the Effective Time will exceed the portion of HCBI's accumulated adjustments account properly allocated to such distribution in accordance with that regulation.

Section 3.15. Insurance. Confidential Schedule 3.15 contains a complete list and brief description of all policies of insurance, including fidelity and bond insurance, maintained as of the date of this Agreement by HCBI and HCB. All such policies (A) are sufficient for compliance by HCBI and HCB, in all material respects, with all requirements of applicable law and all agreements to which HCBI and HCB are parties, (B) are valid, outstanding and enforceable, except as enforceability may be limited by bankruptcy, conservatorship, insolvency, moratorium, reorganization, receivership, or similar laws and judicial decisions affecting the rights of creditors generally and by general principles of equity (whether applied in a proceeding at law or equity), and (C) are presently in full force and effect, and, except as set forth in Confidential Schedule 3.15, no written notice has been received of the cancellation, or threatened or proposed cancellation, of any such policy and there are no unpaid premiums due thereon. Neither HCBI nor HCB is in default with respect to the material provisions of any such policy or has failed to give any notice or present any known claim thereunder in a due and timely fashion. Each material Property of HCBI and HCB is insured for the benefit of HCBI and HCB in amounts deemed adequate by HCBI's and HCB's respective management against risks customarily insured against. Except as set forth in Confidential Schedule 3.15, there have been no claims under any fidelity bonds of HCBI and HCB since March 31, 2012 and to the Best Knowledge of HCBI, there are no facts that would reasonably be expected to form the basis of a claim under such bonds.

Section 3.16. No Material Adverse Change. Except as disclosed in the representations and warranties made in this ARTICLE III and the Confidential Schedules hereto, there has not been any Material Adverse Change with respect to HCBI or HCB since March 31, 2014, nor to the Best Knowledge of HCBI, has any event occurred that has resulted in, or has a reasonable probability of resulting in the future in, a Material Adverse Change with respect to HCBI or HCB.

Section 3.17. Proprietary Rights. HCBI and HCB do not require the use of any material patent, patent application, patent right, invention, process, trademark (whether registered or unregistered), trademark application, trademark right, trade name, service name, service mark, copyright or any trade secret (collectively, Proprietary Rights) for the business or operations of HCBI and HCB that are not owned, held or licensed by HCBI or HCB. There are no agreements, instruments, commitments, extensions of credit, tax sharing or allocation agreements or other contractual agreements of any kind between or among HCBI, whether on its own behalf or in its capacity as trustee or custodian for the funds of any Employee Plan, and any of its Affiliates (as defined in Section 11.10).

Section 3.19. Evidences of Indebtedness. All evidences of indebtedness and leases that are reflected as assets of HCBI and HCB are legal, valid and binding obligations of the respective obligors thereof, enforceable in accordance with their respective terms (except as limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws affecting creditors generally and the availability of injunctive relief, specific performance and other equitable remedies), and are not subject to any asserted or, to the Best Knowledge of HCBI, threatened, defenses, offsets or counterclaims that may reasonably be asserted against HCBI, HCB or the present holder thereof. The credit and collateral files of HCB contain all material information (excluding general, local or national industry, economic or similar conditions) actually known to HCBI or HCB that is required to evaluate, in accordance with generally prevailing practices in the banking industry, the collectability of the loan portfolio of HCB (including loans that will be outstanding if HCB advances funds it is obligated to advance), except for items identified on HCB's internal exception list which has been made available to IBG. All loans classified substandard, doubtful, loss, nonperforming or problem loans internally by management of HCB or any applicable Regulatory Agency (as defined in Section 11.10) are set forth on HCB's watch list, which is set forth in Confidential Schedule 3.19. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Section, no representation or warranty is being made as to the sufficiency of collateral securing, or the collectability of, the loans of HCB.

Section 3.20. Employee Relationships. Each of HCBI and HCB has complied in all material respects with all applicable material laws relating to its relationships with its employees, and HCBI believes that the relationship between HCB and its employees is good. To the Best Knowledge of HCBI, no key executive officer or manager of any of the operations of HCB or any group of employees of HCB has or have any present plans to terminate their respective employment with HCB. Confidential Schedule 3.20 also contains a list of all employees of HCB and their respective annual compensation.

Section 3.21. Condition of Assets. All tangible assets used by HCBI and HCB are in good operating condition, ordinary wear and tear excepted, and conform, in all material respects, with all applicable ordinances, regulations, zoning and other laws, whether federal, state or local. The use that HCBI and HCB make of the Properties will not result in the use, generation, storage, transportation, accumulation, disposal or release of any Hazardous Material on, in or from any of the Properties, except as would not be expected to have or cause a Material Adverse Change.

D. There is no action, suit, proceeding, investigation, or inquiry before any Governmental Authority pending or, to the Best Knowledge of HCBI, threatened, against HCBI or HCB relating in any way to any Environmental Law. A. Neither HCBI nor HCB is now nor has been, since March 31, 2012, (i) subject to any cease-and-desist or other order or enforcement action issued by, (ii) a party to any written agreement, consent agreement or memorandum of understanding with, (iii) a party to any commitment letter or similar undertaking to, (iv) subject to any order or directive by, (v) ordered to pay any civil penalty by, (vi) a recipient of a supervisory letter from, or (vii) subject to any board resolutions adopted at the request or suggestion of, any Regulatory Agency or other Governmental Authority that restricts the conduct of its business or that relates to its capital adequacy, its ability to pay dividends, its credit or risk management policies, its management or its business (each of the items set forth in the preceding clauses (i) through (vii), a Regulatory Agreement). There are no pending or, to the Best Knowledge of HCBI, threatened investigations by any Regulatory Agency that would reasonably result in a Regulatory Agreement with respect to HCBI or HCB.

No such adjustment by HCBI or HCB shall of itself constitute or be deemed to be a breach, violation or failure by HCBI or HCB to satisfy any representation, warranty, covenant, condition or other provision or constitute grounds for termination of this Agreement by IBG or be an acknowledgment by HCBI of any adverse circumstances for purposes of determining whether the conditions to IBG's obligations under this Agreement have been satisfied, nor will any such adjustment affect the calculation of the Tangible Book Value under Section 8.07.

Such approvals and consents shall not have imposed, in the reasonable judgment of IBG, any material adverse requirement upon IBG or its Subsidiaries, including any requirement that IBG sell or dispose of any significant amount of its assets or any IBG Subsidiary. Neither such approvals or consents, nor any of the transactions contemplated hereby, shall have been contested or threatened to be contested by any Governmental Authority or by any other third party (except shareholders asserting statutory dissenters' appraisal rights) by formal proceedings. It is understood that, if such contest is brought by formal proceedings, IBG may, but shall not be obligated to, answer and defend such contest or otherwise pursue this transaction over such objection.

Section 8.05. No Litigation. No action shall have been taken, and no statute, rule, regulation or order shall have been promulgated, enacted, entered, enforced or deemed applicable to this Agreement, the Merger Agreement, the Bank Merger Agreement or the Subsequent Merger Documents, or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby, by any Governmental Authority, including by means of the entry of a preliminary or permanent injunction, that would (A) make this Agreement or any other agreement contemplated hereby, or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby, illegal, invalid or unenforceable, (B) require the divestiture of a material portion of the assets of HCBI, (C) impose material limits on the ability of any party to this Agreement to consummate the Agreement or any other agreement contemplated hereby, or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby, (D) otherwise result in a Material Adverse Change, or (E) if the consummation of this Agreement or any other agreement contemplated hereby, or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby, subject or could reasonably be expected to subject IBG or any of its Subsidiaries, or any officer, director, shareholder or employee of IBG or any of its Subsidiaries, to criminal or civil liability. No action or proceeding by or before any Governmental Authority or by any other person shall be threatened, instituted or pending that would reasonably be expected to result in any of the consequences referred to in clauses (A) through (E) above.

B. By either HCBI or IBG (if the terminating party is not in material breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or other agreement contained herein) if the conditions precedent to such party's obligations to close specified in ARTICLES VII and VIII, respectively, shall not have been satisfied on or before December 31, 2014; but if conditions precedent have not been satisfied because approval of this Agreement or any other agreement contemplated hereby has not been received from any Regulatory Agency whose approval is required to consummate such transactions, either HCBI or IBG can unilaterally extend such deadline by up to 30 days by providing written notice thereof to the other.

C. By either IBG or HCBI if any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any other agreement contemplated hereby are disapproved by any Regulatory Agency whose approval is required to consummate such transactions or if any Governmental Authority shall have issued an order, decree or ruling or taken any other action

D. E. By IBG if there shall have been any Material Adverse Change in HCBI or HCB; and by HCBI, if there shall have been any Material Adverse Change in IBG.

F. J. By HCBI at any time before the Meeting in order to concurrently enter into an acquisition agreement or similar agreement (each, an Acquisition Agreement) with respect to a Superior Proposal which has been received and considered by HCBI and the HCBI Board in accordance with all of the requirements of Section 5.10 hereof.

K. By IBG, if the HCBI Board shall have (i) recommended to the shareholders of HCBI that they tender their shares in a tender or exchange offer commenced by an un-Affiliated third party for more than 15% of the outstanding HCBI Share, (ii) effected a Change in Recommendation or recommended to the HCBI shareholders acceptance or approval of any alternative Acquisition Proposal, (iii) has notified IBG in writing that HCBI is prepared to accept a Superior Proposal, or (iv) shall have resolved to do the foregoing.

Section 9.02. Notice of Termination. The power of termination provided for by Section 9.01 may be exercised only by a notice given in writing, as provided for in Section 11.07.

Section 9.03. Effect of Termination. In the event of the termination of this Agreement and abandonment of the Merger pursuant to the provisions of Section 9.01, no party to this Agreement shall have any further liability or obligation in respect of this Agreement, except that (A) the provisions of ARTICLE X and Section 9.03, 9.04, 11.02, 11.03, and 11.08 shall survive any such termination of the Agreement and abandonment of the Merger and (B) notwithstanding anything to the contrary, neither IBG nor HCBI shall be relieved or released from any liabilities or damages arising out of its fraud or willful breach of any provision of this Agreement.

Section 9.04. HCB Termination Fee. D. For purposes of this Agreement, Superior Proposal means a bona fide Acquisition Proposal made by a party other than IBG that the HCBI Board determines in its good faith judgment to be more favorable to HCBI's shareholders than the Merger (taking into account, in good faith, the written opinion, with only customary qualifications, of HCBI's independent financial advisor that the value of the consideration to HCBI's shareholders provided for in such Acquisition Proposal exceeds the value of the consideration to HCBI's shareholders provided for in the Merger) and for which financing, to the extent required, is then committed or which, in the good faith judgment of the HCBI Board (taking into account, in good faith, the written advice of HCBI's independent financial advisor), is reasonably capable of being obtained by such third person.

IBG hereby represents to HCBI that no agent, representative or broker has represented IBG or Independent Bank in connection with the transactions described in this Agreement. HCBI shall not have any responsibility or liability for any fees, expenses or commissions payable to any agent, representative or broker of IBG or Independent Bank, and IBG hereby agrees to indemnify and hold harmless HCBI for any amounts owed to any agent, representative or broker of IBG or Independent Bank. Except as set forth on Confidential Schedule 11.03, HCBI hereby represents to IBG that no agent, representative or broker has represented HCBI or HCB in connection with the transactions described in this Agreement. Section 11.04. Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including the documents and instruments referred to herein) and the other agreements, documents, schedules and instruments executed and delivered by the parties to each other at the Closing constitute the full understanding of the parties, a complete allocation of risks between them and a complete and exclusive statement of the terms and conditions of their agreement relating to the subject matter hereof, and supersede any and all prior agreements, whether written or oral, that may exist between the parties with respect thereto. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this Agreement, no conditions, usage of trade, course of dealing or performance, understanding or agreement purporting to modify, vary, explain or supplement the terms or conditions of this Agreement shall be binding unless hereafter or contemporaneously herewith made in writing and signed by the party to be bound, and no modification shall be effected by the acknowledgment or acceptance of documents containing terms or conditions at variance with or in addition to those set forth in this Agreement.

Section 11.05. Further Cooperation. The parties agree that they will, at any time and from time to time after the Closing, upon request by the other and without further consideration, do, perform, execute, acknowledge and deliver all such further acts, deeds, assignments, assumptions, transfers, conveyances, powers of attorney, certificates and assurances as may be reasonably required in order to fully consummate the transactions contemplated hereby in accordance with this Agreement or to carry out and perform any undertaking made by the parties hereunder.

Section 11.06. Severability. If any term or other provision of this Agreement is held to be illegal, invalid or unenforceable by any rule of law or public policy, such term or provision shall be fully severable and this Agreement shall be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision were not a part hereof, and all other conditions and provisions of this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect. Upon such determination that any term or other provision is invalid, illegal or unenforceable, there shall be added automatically as a part of this Agreement a provision as similar in terms to such illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision as may be possible and still be legal, valid and enforceable. If any provision of this Agreement is so broad as to be unenforceable, the provision shall be interpreted to be only as broad as is enforceable.

The words hereof, herein and hereunder and words of similar import when used in this Agreement shall refer to this Agreement as a whole and not to any particular provision in this Agreement. Each use herein of the masculine, neuter or feminine gender shall be deemed to include the other genders. Each use herein of the plural shall include the singular and vice versa, in each case as the context requires or as is otherwise appropriate. The word or is used in the inclusive sense. right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Agreement, or any provision herein contained, it being the intention of the parties hereto that this Agreement, the assumption of obligations and statements of responsibilities hereunder, and all other conditions and provisions hereof are for the sole benefit of the parties to this Agreement and for the benefit of no other person. Nothing in this Agreement shall act to relieve or discharge the obligation or liability of any third party to any party to this Agreement, nor shall any provision give any third party any right of subrogation or action over or against any party to this Agreement. No party to this Agreement shall assign this Agreement, by operation of law or otherwise, in whole or in part, without the prior written consent of the other party. Any assignment made or attempted in violation of this Section 11.14 shall be void and of no effect.

Section 11.15. Public Disclosure. None of IBG, Independent Bank, HCBI or HCB will make, issue or release, or cause to be made, issued or released, any announcement, statement, press release, acknowledgment or other public disclosure of the existence, terms, conditions or status of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby without the prior written consent of the other parties to this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, IBG and HCBI, upon prior notice to the other party, will be permitted to make (i) disclosure to their own officers, directors, employees and shareholders, and (ii) any public disclosures or governmental filings as legal counsel may deem necessary to maintain compliance with or to prevent violations of applicable federal or state laws or regulations or that may be necessary to obtain regulatory approval for the transactions contemplated hereby.

Section 11.16. Extension; Waiver. At any time before the Closing Date, the parties hereto, by action taken or authorized by their respective boards of directors, may, to the extent legally allowed, (i) extend the time for the performance of any of the obligations or other acts of the other party hereto, (ii) waive any inaccuracies in the representations and warranties contained herein or in any document, certificate or writing delivered pursuant hereto or (iii) waive compliance with any of the agreements or conditions contained herein. Any agreement on the part of a party hereto to any such extension of waiver shall be valid only if set forth in a written instrument signed on behalf of such party in the manner provided in Section 11.17, but such extension or waiver or failure to insist on strict compliance with an obligation, covenant, agreement or condition shall not operate as a waiver of, or estoppel with respect to, any subsequent or other failure. No party to this Agreement shall by any act (except by a written instrument given pursuant to Section 11.17) be deemed to have waived any right or remedy hereunder or to have acquiesced in any breach of any of the terms and conditions hereof. No failure to exercise, nor any delay in exercising any right, power or privilege hereunder by any party hereto shall operate as a waiver thereof. No single or partial exercise of any right, power or privilege hereunder shall preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right, power or privilege. A waiver of any party of any right or remedy on any one occasion shall not be construed as a bar to any right or remedy that such party would otherwise have on any future occasion or to any right or remedy that any other party may have hereunder.

Section 11.17. Amendments. This Agreement may be amended by the parties hereto, by action taken or authorized by their respective boards of directors, at any time before or after approval of this Agreement by the HCBI shareholders; but after the approval of this Agreement by the HCBI shareholders, there shall not be, without the further approval of the HCBI shareholders, any amendment of this Agreement that decreases the consideration to be paid for the HCBI Shares pursuant to Section 1.05 that materially and adversely affects the rights of the HCBI shareholders hereunder. This Agreement may not be amended except by an instrument in writing signed on behalf of each of the parties hereto.

WHEREAS, IBG desires to acquire all of the issued and outstanding common shares of HCBI, par value $5.00 per share (the HCBI Shares), pursuant to the terms of the Reorganization Agreement;

WHEREAS, IBG and HCBI desire to effect such acquisition by merging Newco with and into HCBI (the Merger) pursuant to the terms and conditions of this Merger Agreement;

WHEREAS, Newco is a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the State of Texas with authorized capital consisting of 1,000 common shares, par value $1.00 per share (Newco Shares), of which 1,000 shares are issued and outstanding as of the date of this Merger Agreement;

WHEREAS, the majority of the respective board of directors of HCBI and Newco, pursuant to the authority given by and in accordance with the provisions of the Texas Business Organizations Code, as amended (the TBOC), has approved this Merger Agreement and the Merger and has authorized the execution hereof; and

WHEREAS, as and when required by the provisions of this Merger Agreement, all such action as may be necessary or appropriate shall be taken by Newco and HCBI in order to consummate the Merger.

AGREEMENT:

NOW, THEREFORE, Newco and HCBI, joined by IBG, hereby agree that Newco shall be merged with and into HCBI on the following terms and conditions:

1. Merger of Newco and HCBI. At the Effective Time (as defined in Section 16), Newco shall be merged with and into HCBI pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 10 of the TBOC.
2. Effects of the Merger. The Merger shall have the effects set forth in Section 10.008 of the TBOC. After the Merger, HCBI shall continue as the corporation resulting from the Merger (the Resulting Corporation), and the separate corporate existence of Newco shall cease. The name of the Resulting Corporation shall be Houston City Bancshares, Inc. The existing offices and facilities of HCBI immediately preceding the Merger shall be the principal offices and facilities of the Resulting Corporation after the Merger. At the Effective Time, all rights, title and interests to all real estate and other property owned by each of Newco and HCBI shall be allocated to and vested in the Resulting Corporation without reversion or impairment, without further act or deed, and without any transfer or assignment having occurred, but subject to any existing liens or encumbrances thereon. At the Effective Time, all liabilities and obligations of Newco and HCBI shall be allocated to the Resulting Corporation, and the Resulting Corporation shall be the primary obligor therefor, and no other party to the Merger shall be liable therefor. At the Effective Time, a proceeding pending by or against either Newco or HCBI may be continued as if the Merger did not occur, or the Resulting Corporation may be substituted in the proceedings.

3. Certificate of Formation and Bylaws. As a result of the Merger, the Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws of HCBI shall continue in effect as the Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws of the Resulting Corporation until the same shall be amended and changed as provided by applicable law.

4. Directors and Officers. The directors and officers of Newco at the Effective Time shall be the directors and officers of the Resulting Corporation and shall hold office from the Effective Time until their respective successors are duly elected or appointed and qualified in the manner provided in the Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws of the Resulting Corporation or as otherwise provided by applicable law.

5. Conversion of HCBI Shares. At the Effective Time, each HCBI Share issued and outstanding immediately before the Effective Time, shall, by virtue of the Merger, and without any action on the part of any holder thereof, be converted into the right to receive the consideration set forth in Section 1.05 of the Reorganization Agreement. At the Effective Time, each HCBI Share that is owned by HCBI (other than as a fiduciary) shall automatically be canceled and retired and all rights with respect thereto shall cease to exist, and no consideration shall be delivered in exchange therefor.

6. Conversion of Newco Shares. The Newco Shares outstanding at the Effective Time shall, at the Effective Time and by virtue of the Merger, be converted into a like number of common shares of the Resulting Corporation with a par value of $1.00 per share, with the effect that the number of common shares of the Resulting Corporation outstanding immediately after the Effective Time shall be equal to the aggregate number of Newco Shares outstanding immediately before the Effective Time, all of which shall continue to be owned by IBG. The authorized number of common shares of the Resulting Corporation shall be the same as the authorized number of Newco Shares immediately before the Effective Time.

7. Rights of Former HCBI Shareholders. Until surrendered for exchange in accordance with the Reorganization Agreement, each certificate and document theretofore representing HCBI Shares shall, from and after the Effective Time, represent for all purposes only the right to receive the applicable consideration therefor set forth in Section 1.05 of the Reorganization Agreement. No interest will be paid on such consideration.

8. Share Transfer Books. The share transfer books of HCBI shall be closed as of the close of business at the Effective Time, and no transfer of record of any of the HCBI Shares shall take place thereafter.

9. Shareholder Approval. This Merger Agreement and the Merger shall be submitted to the shareholders of HCBI at a meeting called to be held as promptly as practicable and to the sole shareholder of Newco by written consent of thereof. Upon approval by the requisite votes of the shareholders of HCBI and the approval of the sole shareholder of Newco, this Merger Agreement shall be made effective as soon as practicable thereafter in the manner provided in the Reorganization Agreement.

10. Dissenters Rights. Any shareholder of HCBI who objects to the Merger and follows the procedure for dissent as set forth in Subchapter H of Chapter 10 of the TBOC shall be entitled to the rights and benefits afforded to dissenting shareholders by such statute.

11. Conditions to Consummation of the Merger. The consummation of the Merger as provided herein shall be conditioned upon the satisfaction of the conditions set forth in the Reorganization Agreement, any or all of which may be waived in accordance with the terms and provisions of the Reorganization Agreement.

12. Termination. This Merger Agreement may be terminated and abandoned at any time before or on the Closing Date, whether before or after action thereon by the shareholders of HCBI or the sole shareholder of Newco, pursuant to the terms and provisions of the Reorganization Agreement.

Any waiver, modification or amendment of this Merger Agreement shall be in writing.

15. Time and Place of the Closing and Closing Date. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Merger Agreement, a meeting (the Closing) will take place in accordance with the terms of the Reorganization Agreement, at which the parties to this Merger Agreement will exchange certificates, letters and other documents in order to confirm that all of the conditions set forth in Articles VII and VIII of the Reorganization Agreement have been satisfied or waived or whether any condition exists that would permit a party to this Merger Agreement or the Reorganization Agreement to terminate this Merger Agreement. If no such condition then exists or if no party elects to exercise any right it may have to terminate this Merger Agreement, then and thereupon the appropriate parties shall execute such documents and instruments as may be necessary or appropriate in order to effect the transactions contemplated by this Merger Agreement.

16. Effective Time. The Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Merger Agreement shall become effective on the date and at the time the Certificate of Merger reflecting the Merger shall become effective with the Secretary of State of the State of Texas (the Effective Time). RECITALS:

WHEREAS, HCBI and IBG are parties to that certain Agreement and Plan of Reorganization, dated as of June 2, 2014 (the Reorganization Agreement), which provides for the acquisition of HCBI by IBG through the merger of IBGHCB Acquisition Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of IBG (Newco), with and into HCBI (the Merger). AGREEMENT:

NOW, THEREFORE, for and in consideration of the foregoing and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, HCBI, IBG and the Shareholders undertake, promise, covenant and agree with each other as follows:

1. As of the date hereof, the Shareholders own the common shares of HCBI (HCBI Shares), set forth beside their respective names on Schedule 1 attached hereto (with respect to each Shareholder, all such HCBI Shares and any HCBI Shares hereafter acquired by such Shareholder before the termination of this Voting Agreement, collectively, such Shareholder s Shares).

3. If HCBI conducts a meeting of, solicits written consents from or otherwise seeks a vote of its shareholders with respect to any Acquisition Proposal (as that term is defined in the Reorganization Agreement) or any other matter which may contradict any provision of this Voting Agreement or may prevent IBG or HCBI from consummating the Merger, then each Shareholder shall vote such Shareholder s Shares in the manner most favorable to consummation of the Merger and the transactions contemplated by the Reorganization Agreement.

Notwithstanding, the foregoing sentence, the Shareholders may vote in favor of a Superior Proposal (as that term is defined in the Reorganization Agreement).

DIRECTOR

SUPPORT AGREEMENT

THIS SUPPORT AGREEMENT (the Support Agreement) is made and entered into as of the day of , 2014, by and between Independent Bank Group, a Texas corporation (IBG) and (the Director).

RECITALS:

WHEREAS, IBG and Houston Community Bancshares, Inc. (HCBI), have entered into that certain Agreement and Plan of Reorganization, dated as of June 2, 2014 (the Reorganization Agreement), which provides for the acquisition of Houston Community Bank, N.A., a wholly owned subsidiary of HCBI (HCB), by IBG through the merger of HCB with and into Independent Bank, IBG's wholly owned subsidiary. Terms with their initial letter capitalized and not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings given them in the Reorganization Agreement;

WHEREAS, the Director is a director of HCBI and HCB;

WHEREAS, in connection with consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Reorganization Agreement, IBG and the Director have agreed to enter into this Support Agreement.

AGREEMENT:

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and mutual covenants contained herein and intending to be legally bound hereby, IBG and the Director agree as follows:

1. Support. The Director agrees to use reasonable efforts to refrain from harming HCB's goodwill and their customer and client relationships.
2. Covenants. For and in consideration of consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Reorganization Agreement, the Director agrees that for a period of two years after the Closing Date (as defined in the Reorganization Agreement) (the Support Period), the Director will not, without the prior written consent of IBG, directly or indirectly, (i) solicit banking business of any current customers of HCB; (ii) acquire more than 2% of, charter, operate or own control of, any financial services company or institution that provides banking services similar to those provided by HCB; (iii) serve as an officer, director, employee, agent or consultant to any financial services company or institution that provides banking services similar to those provided by HCB, or (iv) establish or operate a branch or other office of a financial services company or institution that provides banking services similar to those provided by HCB, in each case set forth in clauses (ii), (iii) and (iv), that has its main office, a branch office, or other office in Houston-Sugar Land-Baytown Metropolitan Statistical Area.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 2, the Director shall not be prohibited from (i) serving as an officer, director, employee, agent or consultant of the financial services company or institution set forth on Confidential Schedule 1 attached hereto (an Excepted Company), or (ii) establishing or operating a branch or other office of an Excepted Company; but the Director shall be subject to the prohibitions in Section 2(a)(i) even in his role with an Excepted Company.

The Director agrees that (i) this Support Agreement is entered into in connection with the sale to IBG of the goodwill of the business of HCBI and HCB, (ii) is ancillary to the Agreement and Plan of Reorganization,

A-D-1

(iii) the Director is receiving valuable consideration in the Reorganization Agreement for this Support Agreement, and (iv) the limitations as to time, geographical area, and scope of activity to be restrained by this Support Agreement are reasonable and acceptable, and do not impose any greater restraint than is reasonably necessary to protect the goodwill and other business interests that IBG is acquiring from HCBI and HCB.

This Support Agreement creates a narrowly tailored advance approval requirement in order to avoid unfair competition and irreparable harm to IBG and Independent Bank, the successor to HCB, and is not intended or to be construed as a general restraint from engaging in a lawful profession or a general covenant against competition. Nothing herein will prohibit (i) ownership of less than 2% of the publicly traded capital stock of a corporation so long as this is not a controlling interest, or (ii) ownership of mutual fund investments. The Director may not avoid the purpose and intent of this paragraph by engaging in conduct within the geographically limited area from a remote location through means such as telecommunications, written correspondence, computer generated or assisted communications, or other similar methods. The Director agrees that if, at some later date, a court of competent jurisdiction determines that the non-solicitation agreement set forth in this Support Agreement does not meet the criteria set forth by applicable law, this Support Agreement may be reformed by the court and enforced to the maximum extent permitted under applicable law.

3. Confidentiality, Non-Solicitation of Employees. The Director agrees that he is familiar with HCB's confidential business information and trade secrets, including without limitation, customer lists and information, account lists, and other business plans and information, and salary, pay scale, capabilities, experiences, skill and desires of HCB's employees (the Confidential Information). The Confidential Information does not include any information that (i) is generally available to and known by the public, (ii) was available on a non-confidential basis from a source other than HCB, or (iii) was independently acquired or developed without violating any laws or obligations under this Support Agreement. The Director agrees to maintain the confidentiality of the Confidential Information and not use such Confidential Information for any purpose. The Director further covenants and agrees that, during the Support Period, he shall not recruit, directly or indirectly, any employees of Independent Bank, as the successor to HCB, nor shall he contact or communicate with any employees of Independent Bank for the purpose of inducing employees to terminate their employment with Independent Bank. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Director shall not be prohibited from hiring any employee who (i) is terminated by Independent Bank or who has voluntarily resigned from employment without direct or indirect solicitation by the Director, (ii) responds to any general advertisement appearing in a newspaper, magazine or trade publication, or (iii) is a referral made by a placement agency or service so long as such placement agency or service has not been instructed by Director to solicit from Independent Bank such employee.

4. Maintenance of Banking Relationship. During the Support Period, Director shall (i) maintain his borrowing and deposit relationships currently existing (in amounts consistent with amounts currently existing) with HCB at the date of this Support Agreement with Independent Bank as the successor to HCB, and (ii) refrain from establishing any new borrowing or deposit relationship with any other person or entity.

5. Termination. This Support Agreement shall terminate after the end of the period set forth in Section 2 above.

6. Effective Time. This Support Agreement shall become effective on the Closing Date (as defined in the Reorganization Agreement). If the Reorganization Agreement is terminated in accordance with its terms, this Support Agreement shall not become effective and shall be of no further force and effect.

7. Injunctive Relief. If that IBG and/or the Director violate any of the provisions set forth in this Support Agreement, IBG and the Director acknowledge that IBG and Independent Bank would suffer immediate and irreparable harm and would not have an adequate remedy at law for money damages if that any of the covenants contained herein were not performed in accordance with their terms or otherwise were materially breached. Accordingly, IBG and the Director agree that, without the necessity of proving actual damages or posting bond or other security, IBG and Independent Bank shall be entitled to temporary or permanent injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of such performance and to specific enforcement of such covenants in addition to any other remedy to which IBG and Independent Bank may be entitled, at law or in equity. In such a situation, the parties agree that IBG and Independent Bank may pursue any remedy available, including declaratory relief, concurrently or consecutively in any order as to any breach, violation, or threatened breach or violation of this Support Agreement, and the pursuit of any particular remedy or remedies shall not be deemed an election of remedies or waiver of the right to pursue any other remedy.

8. Assignability. Neither this Support Agreement nor any of the rights, interests or obligations under this Support Agreement may be assigned, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise by any of the parties hereto without the prior written consent of the other party. Any assignment in violation of the preceding sentence shall be void. Subject to the preceding two sentences, this Support Agreement will be binding upon, inure to the benefit of, and be enforceable by, the parties and their respective successors and assigns.

9. GOVERNING LAW. THIS SUPPORT AGREEMENT SHALL BE CONSTRUED AND ENFORCED IN ACCORDANCE WITH, AND ALL QUESTIONS CONCERNING THE CONSTRUCTION, VALIDITY, INTERPRETATION AND PERFORMANCE OF THIS SUPPORT AGREEMENT SHALL BE GOVERNED BY, THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF TEXAS, WITHOUT GIVING EFFECT TO PROVISION THEREOF REGARDING CONFLICT OF LAWS. THE PARTIES IRREVOCABLY AGREE THAT VENUE FOR SUCH DISPUTE SHALL LIE EXCLUSIVELY IN ANY COURT OF COMPETENT JURISDICTION IN COLLIN COUNTY, TEXAS.

10. Severability. If any term or other provision of this Support Agreement is held to be illegal, invalid or unenforceable by any rule of law or public policy, (a) such term or provision shall be fully severable and this Support Agreement shall be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision were not a part hereof; (b) the remaining provisions of this Support Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and shall not be affected by such illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision or by its severance from this Support Agreement; and (c) there shall be added automatically as a part of this Support Agreement a provision as similar in terms to such illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision as may be possible and still be legal, valid and enforceable. If any provision of this Support Agreement is so broad as to be unenforceable, the provision shall be interpreted to be only as broad as is enforceable.

11. Notice. All notices, requests, consents and other communications to be given or delivered hereunder shall be given in accordance with, and the effectiveness of such communications shall be determined under, the provisions of Section 11.07 of the Reorganization Agreement and shall be delivered at the respective addresses of the parties set forth on the signature page hereto.

12. No Delay, Waiver, Etc. No delay on the part of the parties hereto in exercising any power or right hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof; nor shall any single or partial exercise of any power or right hereunder preclude other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other power or right.

13. Modification. No amendment hereof shall be effective unless contained in a written instrument signed by the parties hereto.

14. Headings. The descriptive headings of the several sections of this Support Agreement are inserted for convenience of reference only and do not constitute a part of this Support Agreement.

APPENDIX B FAIRNESS OPINION OF HOVDE GROUP, LLC

May 29, 2014

Board of Directors

Houston City Bancshares, Inc.

11390 Veterans Memorial Drive

Houston, TX 77067

Dear Members of the Board:

Hovde Group, LLC (we or Hovde) understand that Independent Bank Group, Inc., a Texas corporation and registered bank holding company (IBG) and Houston City Bancshares, Inc., a Texas corporation and registered bank holding company (HCBI or the Company), are about to enter into an Agreement and Plan of Reorganization to be dated on or about June 2, 2014 (the Agreement), pursuant to which IBG will acquire all of the issued and outstanding common shares of HCBI (the HCBI Shares) through the merger of IBGHCB Acquisition Corporation, a Texas corporation and wholly owned subsidiary of IBG (Newco) with and into HCBI (the Merger). We further understand that after the Merger, IBG will effect the merger of HCBI into IBG, with IBG continuing as the surviving corporation (the Subsequent Merger), and the merger of Houston Community Bank, N.A. with and into Independent Bank, McKinney, Texas, a Texas banking association and a wholly-owned subsidiary of IBG (Independent Bank), with Independent Bank continuing as the surviving bank (the Bank Merger).

Pursuant to the Agreement, and except as set forth therein, at the Effective Time, by virtue of the Agreement and without any further action on the part of any holder, each HCBI Share issued and outstanding immediately before the Effective Time (excluding HCBI Shares cancelled pursuant to Section 1.05(A) of the Agreement) shall, subject to any adjustment pursuant to Section 8.07 of the Agreement, be converted into, and shall be canceled in exchange for, the right to receive the following:

A cash amount equal to $30.44 (the Per Share Cash Consideration) subject to adjustment pursuant to Section 8.07 of the Agreement; plus

A number of shares of IBG Stock equal to the quotient of (i) $56.52 divided by (ii) the Average Closing Price (the Per Share Stock Consideration).

For purposes of our opinion, the Per Share Cash Consideration together with the Per Share Stock Consideration is hereafter referred to as the Merger Consideration.

We note that Section 1.5(D) of the Agreement provides that, if the Tangible Book Value (as defined in Section 8.07 of the Agreement) on the fifth business day preceding the Closing Date (as defined in Section 2.01 of the Agreement) (the Calculation Date) is greater than $24,000,000, then on the day prior to the Closing Date, HCBI may distribute to its shareholders an amount equal to the difference between (i) the actual amount of Tangible Book Value as of the Calculation Date, less (ii) $24,000,000. Any such distribution is referred to as the Section 1.05(D) Distribution.

We also note that Section 8.07 of the Agreement further provides that, if the Tangible Book Value (as defined in the Agreement) is less than $24,000,000 at Closing, then the Aggregate Cash Consideration shall be reduced by an amount equal to $24,000,000 minus the Tangible Book Value at Closing (the Aggregate Cash Consideration Adjustment). The Per Share Cash Consideration or the Increased Per Share Cash Consideration, as the case may be, shall be reduced by an amount equal to the quotient of (i) the Aggregate Cash Consideration

Adjustment, divided by (ii) the number of HCBI Shares outstanding on the Closing Date (the reduced amount is called the Adjusted Per Share Cash Consideration). We note that pursuant to Section 1.05(B)(3) of the Agreement, any changes resulting from the application of that provision could result in a change in the form but not the value of the Merger Consideration.

Since the Company's actual Book Value and Tangible Book Value as of the Closing Date, and the Average Closing Price, and related amounts derived from those figures cannot be determined until dates after the date of this opinion, potential future adjustments in the Merger Consideration attributable to adjustments due to changes in actual Book Value or Tangible Book Value, if any, cannot be predicted with precision. However, in determining estimates of the Merger Consideration to be received by holders of HCBI Shares in the Merger, you have instructed us to assume for purposes of this opinion that the Book Value and the Tangible Book Value as of the Calculation Date (as defined in the Agreement), would be in an amount not less than $24,000,000 as of the Calculation Date. We have assumed that these amounts are reasonable estimates or projections of the corresponding actual amounts as of the date the Merger Consideration will be determined.

The foregoing descriptions of the Per Share Cash Consideration, Per Share Stock Consideration Merger Consideration, and the Agreement, are qualified in their entirety by reference to the Agreement. Capitalized terms used herein that are not otherwise defined shall have the same meanings attributed to them in the Agreement. In connection therewith, you have requested our opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the Merger Consideration to the shareholders of HCBI. This opinion addresses only the fairness of the Merger Consideration to be received in the Merger, and we are not opining on the individual components of the Merger Consideration.

During the course of our engagement and for the purposes of the opinion set forth herein, we have:

- (i) reviewed a draft of the Agreement dated May 28, 2014, as provided to Hovde by HCBI;
- (ii) reviewed certain unaudited financial statements for HCBI and IBG for the three-month period ended March 31, 2014;
- (iii) reviewed certain historical annual reports of each of HCBI and IBG, including audited annual reports for Houston Community Bank, N.A. and IBG for the year ending December 31, 2013;
- (iv) reviewed certain historical publicly available business and financial information concerning each of HCBI and IBG;
- (v) reviewed certain internal financial statements and other financial and operating data concerning each of HCBI, including, without limitation, internal financial analyses and forecasts prepared by management of HCBI, and held discussions with senior management of HCBI regarding recent developments and regulatory matters;
- (vi) analyzed financial projections prepared by certain members of senior management of HCBI;

- (vii) discussed with certain members of senior management of HCBI, the business, financial condition, results of operations and future prospects of HCBI and IBG, as well as the history and past and current operations of HCBI and IBG, HCBI and IBG's historical financial performance and HCBI and IBG's outlook and future prospects;
- (viii) reviewed the terms of recent merger, acquisition and control investment transactions, to the extent publicly available, involving financial institutions and financial institution holding companies that we considered relevant;
- (ix) analyzed the pro forma impact of the Merger on the combined company's earnings per share, consolidated capitalization and financial ratios;
- (x) assessed the general economic, market and financial conditions;

B-2

Table of Contents

- (xi) taken into consideration our experience in other similar transactions and securities valuations as well as our knowledge of the banking and financial services industry;
- (xii) reviewed and analyzed certain publicly available financial and stock market data relating to selected public companies that Hovde deemed relevant to its analysis;
- (xiii) discussed with management of HCBI, their assessment of the rationale for the Merger; and

(xiv) performed such other analyses and considered such other factors as we have deemed appropriate. We have assumed, without independent verification, that the representations as well as the financial and other information provided to us by HCBI or included in the Agreement, which has formed a substantial basis for this opinion, are true and complete. Hovde has relied upon the management of HCBI as to the reasonableness and achievability of the financial forecasts and projections (and the assumptions and bases therein) provided to Hovde by HCBI, and Hovde assumed such forecasts and projections have been reasonably prepared by HCBI on a basis reflecting the best currently available information and HCBI's judgments and estimates. We have assumed that such forecasts would be realized in the amounts and at the times contemplated thereby. Hovde has relied on these forecasts without independent verification or analyses and does not in any respect assume any responsibility for the accuracy or completeness thereof.

We are not experts in the evaluation of loan and lease portfolios for purposes of assessing the adequacy of the allowances for losses with respect thereto. We have assumed that such allowances for HCBI and IBG are, in the aggregate, adequate to cover such losses, and will be adequate on a pro forma basis for the combined entity. We were not requested to make, and have not made, an independent evaluation, physical inspection or appraisal of the financial condition, assets, properties, liabilities, reserves and business or results of operations, facilities, or liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of HCBI or IBG, the collateral securing any such assets or liabilities, or the collectability of any such assets and we were not furnished with any such evaluations or appraisals; nor did we review any loan or credit files of HCBI or IBG.

We have assumed that the Merger will be consummated substantially in accordance with the terms set forth in the Agreement, without any waiver of material terms or conditions by HCBI, or any other party to the Agreement and that the final Agreement will not differ materially from the draft we reviewed. We have assumed that the Merger will be conducted in compliance with all laws and regulations that are applicable to HCBI and IBG. HCBI has advised us that there are no factors that would impede any necessary regulatory or governmental approval of the Merger. We have assumed that, in the course of obtaining the necessary regulatory and governmental approvals, no restrictions will be imposed on HCBI or on IBG that would have a material adverse effect on the contemplated benefits of the Merger.

Our opinion does not constitute a recommendation to HCBI as to whether or not such entities should enter into the Agreement or to any shareholders of HCBI as to how such shareholders should vote at any meetings of shareholders called to consider and vote upon the Merger. Our opinion neither addresses the underlying business decision to proceed with the Merger nor the fairness of the amount or nature of the compensation, if any, to be received by any of the officers, directors or employees of HCBI, or class of such persons, relative to the amounts of consideration to be paid with respect to the Merger. Our opinion should not be construed as implying that the Merger Consideration to be paid in connection with the Merger is necessarily the highest or best price that could be obtained in the Merger or in a sale, merger, or combination transaction with a third party. Other than as specifically set forth herein, we are not expressing any opinion with respect to the terms and provisions of the Agreement and/or the enforceability of any such terms or provisions. Our opinion is not a solvency opinion and does not in any way address the solvency or financial condition of HCBI.

This fairness opinion letter was approved by Hovde's fairness opinion committee. This letter is directed solely to the board of directors of HCBI and is not to be used for any other purpose or quoted or referred to, in whole or in part, in any registration statement, prospectus, proxy statement, or any other document, except in each case in accordance with our prior written consent.

Our opinion is based solely upon the information available to us, and the economic, market and other circumstances as they exist as of the date hereof. Events occurring and information that becomes available after the date hereof could materially affect the assumptions and analyses used in preparing this opinion. We have not undertaken to reaffirm or revise this opinion or otherwise comment upon any events occurring or information that becomes available after the date hereof. No assurance can be given that adjustments to the consideration to be paid in the Merger will not be required by the actual results of operations of HCBI after March 31, 2014.

Hovde, as part of its investment banking business, regularly performs valuations of businesses and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions and other corporate transactions. In addition to being retained to render this opinion letter, we were retained by HCBI to act as their financial advisor in connection with the Merger.

We will receive compensation from HCBI in connection with our services, which may include, without limitation, a fairness opinion fee that is contingent upon the issuance of this opinion letter and a completion fee that is contingent upon the consummation of the Merger. Further, Houston City Bancshares, Inc. has agreed to indemnify us and our affiliates for certain liabilities that may arise out of our engagement. Except for the foregoing, during the past two years there have not been, and there are no mutual understandings contemplating in the future, any material relationships between Hovde and HCBI.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, we are of the opinion, as of the date hereof, that the Merger Consideration to be paid in connection with the Merger is fair to the shareholders of Houston City Bancshares, Inc. from a financial point of view.

Sincerely,

(B) a sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the domestic entity if owner approval is required by this code and the owner owns in the domestic entity an ownership interest that was entitled to vote on the sale;

(C) a plan of exchange in which the ownership interest of the owner is to be acquired;

(2) the owner is not required by the terms of the plan of merger, conversion, or exchange, as appropriate, to accept for the owner's ownership interest any consideration that is different from the consideration to be provided to any other holder of an ownership interest of the same class or series as the ownership interest held by the owner, other than cash instead of fractional shares or interests the owner would otherwise be entitled to receive; and

(3) the owner is not required by the terms of the plan of merger, conversion, or exchange, as appropriate, to accept for the owner's ownership interest any consideration other than:

(a) A domestic entity subject to dissenters' rights that takes or proposes to take an action regarding which an owner has a right to dissent and obtain an appraisal under Section 10.354 shall notify each affected owner of the owner's rights under that section if:

(1) the action or proposed action is submitted to a vote of the owners at a meeting; or

(2) approval of the action or proposed action is obtained by written consent of the owners instead of being submitted to a vote of the owners.

(b) If a parent organization effects a merger under Section 10.006 and a subsidiary organization that is a party to the merger is a domestic entity subject to dissenters' rights, the responsible organization shall notify the owners of that subsidiary organization who have a right to dissent to the merger under Section 10.354 of their rights under this subchapter not later than the 10th day after the effective date of the merger. The notice must also include a copy of the certificate of merger and a statement that the merger has become effective.

(c) A notice required to be provided under Subsection (a) or (b) must:

(2) each owner who is entitled to vote on the action and does not consent in writing to the action before the 11th day after the date the action takes effect.

(e) Not later than the 10th day after the date an action described by Subsection (a)(1) takes effect, the responsible organization shall give notice that the action has been effected to each owner who voted against the action and sent notice under Section 10.356(b)(1).

Section 10.356. PROCEDURE FOR DISSENT BY OWNERS AS TO ACTIONS; PERFECTION OF RIGHT OF DISSENT AND APPRAISAL.

(a) An owner of an ownership interest of a domestic entity subject to dissenters' rights who has the right to dissent and appraisal from any of the actions referred to in Section 10.354 may exercise that right to dissent and appraisal only by complying with the procedures specified in this subchapter. An owner's right of dissent and appraisal under Section 10.354 may be exercised by an owner only with respect to an ownership interest that is not voted in favor of the action.

(b) To perfect the owner's rights of dissent and appraisal under Section 10.354, an owner:

(1) if the proposed action is to be submitted to a vote of the owners at a meeting, must give to the domestic entity a written notice of objection to the action that:

(A) is addressed to the entity's president and secretary;

(B) states that the owner's right to dissent will be exercised if the action takes effect;

(C) provides an address to which notice of effectiveness of the action should be delivered or mailed; and

(D) is delivered to the entity's principal executive offices before the meeting;

(E) is delivered to the responsible organization at its principal executive offices at the following time:

(iii) not later than the 20th day after the date the responsible organization sends to the owner a notice that the merger was effected, if the action is a merger effected under Section 10.006.

(c) An owner who does not make a demand within the period required by Subsection (b)(3)(E) or, if Subsection (b)(1) is applicable, does not give the notice of objection before the meeting of the owners is bound by the action and is not entitled to exercise the rights of dissent and appraisal under Section 10.354.

(d) Not later than the 20th day after the date an owner makes a demand under Subsection (b)(3), the owner must submit to the responsible organization any certificates representing the ownership interest to which the demand relates for purposes of making a notation on the certificates that a demand for the payment of the fair value of an ownership interest has been made under this section. An owner's failure to submit the certificates within the required period has the effect of terminating, at the option of the responsible organization, the owner's rights to dissent and appraisal under Section 10.354 unless a court, for good cause shown, directs otherwise.

(e) If a domestic entity and responsible organization satisfy the requirements of this subchapter relating to the rights of owners of ownership interests in the entity to dissent to an action and seek appraisal of those ownership interests, an owner of an ownership interest who fails to perfect that owner's right of dissent in accordance with this subchapter may not bring suit to recover the value of the ownership interest or money damages relating to the action.

Section 10.357. WITHDRAWAL OF DEMAND FOR FAIR VALUE OF OWNERSHIP INTEREST.

(a) An owner may withdraw a demand for the payment of the fair value of an ownership interest made under Section 10.356 before:

(1) payment for the ownership interest has been made under Sections 10.358 and 10.361; or

(2) a petition has been filed under Section 10.361.

(b) Unless the responsible organization consents to the withdrawal of the demand, an owner may not withdraw a demand for payment under Subsection (a) after either of the events specified in Subsections (a)(1) and (2).

Section 10.358. RESPONSE BY ORGANIZATION TO NOTICE OF DISSENT AND DEMAND FOR FAIR VALUE BY DISSENTING OWNER.

(1) a reference to the demand; and

(2) the name of the original dissenting owner of the ownership interest.

Section 10.360. RIGHTS OF TRANSFEREE OF CERTAIN OWNERSHIP INTEREST.

A transferee of an ownership interest that is the subject of a demand for payment made under Section 10.356 does not acquire additional rights with respect to the responsible organization following the transfer. The transferee has only the rights the original dissenting owner had with respect to the responsible organization after making the demand.

Section 10.361. PROCEEDING TO DETERMINE FAIR VALUE OF OWNERSHIP INTEREST AND OWNERS ENTITLED TO PAYMENT; APPOINTMENT OF APPRAISERS.

(a) If a responsible organization rejects the amount demanded by a dissenting owner under Section 10.358 and the dissenting owner and responsible organization are unable to reach an agreement relating to the fair value of the ownership interests within the period prescribed by Section 10.358(d), the dissenting owner or responsible organization may file a petition requesting a finding and determination of the fair value of the owner's ownership interests in a court in:

(b) A petition described by Subsection (a) must be filed not later than the 60th day after the expiration of the period required by Section 10.358(d).

(c) On the filing of a petition by an owner under Subsection (a), service of a copy of the petition shall be made to the responsible organization. Not later than the 10th day after the date a responsible organization receives service under this subsection, the responsible organization shall file with the clerk of the court in which the petition was filed a list containing the names and addresses of each owner of the organization who has demanded payment for ownership interests under Section 10.356 and with whom agreement as to the value of the ownership interests has not been reached with the responsible organization. If the responsible organization files a petition under Subsection (a), the petition must be accompanied by this list.

(d) The clerk of the court in which a petition is filed under this section shall provide by registered mail notice of the time and place set for the hearing to:

(g) The beneficial owner of an ownership interest subject to dissenters' rights held in a voting trust or by a nominee on the beneficial owner's behalf may file a petition described by Subsection (a) if no agreement between the dissenting owner of the ownership interest and the responsible organization has been reached within the period prescribed by Section 10.358(d). Section 10.362. COMPUTATION AND DETERMINATION OF FAIR VALUE OF OWNERSHIP INTEREST.

(a) For purposes of this subchapter, the fair value of an ownership interest of a domestic entity subject to dissenters' rights is the value of the ownership interest on the date preceding the date of the action that is the subject of the appraisal. Any appreciation or depreciation in the value of the ownership interest occurring in anticipation of the proposed action or as a result of the action must be specifically excluded from the computation of the fair value of the ownership interest.

C-7

(b) In computing the fair value of an ownership interest under this subchapter, consideration must be given to the value of the domestic entity as a going concern without including in the computation of value any control premium, any minority ownership discount, or any discount for lack of marketability. If the domestic entity has different classes or series of ownership interests, the relative rights and preferences of and limitations placed on the class or series of ownership interests, other than relative voting rights, held by the dissenting owner must be taken into account in the computation of value.

(c) The determination of the fair value of an ownership interest made for purposes of this subchapter may not be used for purposes of making a determination of the fair value of that ownership interest for another purpose or of the fair value of another ownership interest, including for purposes of determining any minority or liquidity discount that might apply to a sale of an ownership interest.

Section 10.363. POWERS AND DUTIES OF APPRAISER; APPRAISAL PROCEDURES.

A dissenting owner or responsible organization may submit to an appraiser evidence or other information relevant to the determination of the fair value of the ownership interest required by Subsection (b)(1).

(d) The clerk of the court appointing the appraiser shall provide notice of the filing of the report under Subsection

(b) to each dissenting owner named in the list filed under Section 10.361 and the responsible organization.

Section 10.364. OBJECTION TO APPRAISAL; HEARING.

(a) A dissenting owner or responsible organization may object, based on the law or the facts, to all or part of an appraisal report containing the fair value of an ownership interest determined under Section 10.363(b).

(b) If an objection to a report is raised under Subsection (a), the court shall hold a hearing to determine the fair value of the ownership interest that is the subject of the report. After the hearing, the court shall require the responsible organization to pay to the holders of the ownership interest the amount of the determined value with interest, accruing from the 91st day after the date the applicable action for which the owner elected to dissent was effected until the date of the judgment.

(c) Interest under Subsection (b) accrues at the same rate as is provided for the accrual of prejudgment interest in civil cases.

(d) The responsible organization shall:

C-8

Table of Contents

(2) responsible organization with respect to that ownership interest.

Section 10.365. COURT COSTS; COMPENSATION FOR APPRAISER.

(a) An appraiser appointed under Section 10.361 is entitled to a reasonable fee payable from court costs.

Section 10.366. STATUS OF OWNERSHIP INTEREST HELD OR FORMERLY HELD BY DISSENTING OWNER.

(a) An ownership interest of an organization acquired by a responsible organization under this subchapter:

(1) in the case of a merger, conversion, or interest exchange, shall be held or disposed of as provided in the plan of merger, conversion, or interest exchange; and

(2) in any other case, may be held or disposed of by the responsible organization in the same manner as other ownership interests acquired by the organization or held in its treasury.

(b) An owner who has demanded payment for the owner's ownership interest under Section 10.356 is not entitled to vote or exercise any other rights of an owner with respect to the ownership interest except the right to:

(1) receive payment for the ownership interest under this subchapter; and

(2) bring an appropriate action to obtain relief on the ground that the action to which the demand relates would be or was fraudulent.

(c) An ownership interest for which payment has been demanded under Section 10.356 may not be considered outstanding for purposes of any subsequent vote or action.

Section 10.367. RIGHTS OF OWNERS FOLLOWING TERMINATION OF RIGHT OF DISSENT.

(2) the owner's right of dissent is terminated under Section 10.356;

(3) a petition is not filed within the period required by Section 10.361; or

(4) after a hearing held under Section 10.361, the court adjudges that the owner is not entitled to elect to dissent from an action under this subchapter.

(b) On termination of the right of dissent under this section:

(1) the dissenting owner and all persons claiming a right under the owner are conclusively presumed to have approved and ratified the action to which the owner dissented and are bound by that action;

Table of Contents

- (2) the owner's right to be paid the fair value of the owner's ownership interests ceases;
- (3) the owner's status as an owner of those ownership interests is restored, as if the owner's demand for payment of the fair value of the ownership interests had not been made under Section 10.356, if the owner's ownership interests were not canceled, converted, or exchanged as a result of the action or a subsequent action;
- (4) the dissenting owner is entitled to receive the same cash, property, rights, and other consideration received by owners of the same class and series of ownership interests held by the owner, as if the owner's demand for payment of the fair value of the ownership interests had not been made under Section 10.356, if the owner's ownership interests were canceled, converted, or exchanged as a result of the action or a subsequent action;
- (5) any action of the domestic entity taken after the date of the demand for payment by the owner under Section 10.356 will not be considered ineffective or invalid because of the restoration of the owner's ownership interests or the other rights or entitlements of the owner under this subsection; and
- (6) the dissenting owner is entitled to receive dividends or other distributions made after the date of the owner's payment demand under Section 10.356, to owners of the same class and series of ownership interests held by the owner as if the demand had not been made, subject to any change in or adjustment to the ownership interests because of an action taken by the domestic entity after the date of the demand.

Section 10.368. EXCLUSIVITY OF REMEDY OF DISSENT AND APPRAISAL.

In the absence of fraud in the transaction, any right of an owner of an ownership interest to dissent from an action and obtain the fair value of the ownership interest under this subchapter is the exclusive remedy for recovery of:

- (2) money damages to the owner with respect to the action.

Each indemnification agreement requires Independent to indemnify each indemnitee to the fullest extent permitted by the TBOC and any successor statute thereto when such successor statute becomes applicable to Independent. Independent will also, among other things, make the indemnitee whole for costs in any action to establish indemnitee's right to indemnification, whether or not wholly successful.

Independent also maintains directors and officers liability insurance.

The Amended and Restated Certificate of Formation and Third Amended and Restated Bylaws of the Registrant were previously filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and are incorporated by reference into the registration statement.

Item 22. Undertakings.

The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes:

(a) (1) To file, during any period in which offers or sales are being made, a post-effective amendment to this Registration Statement:

(i) To include any prospectus required by section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act of 1933;

(ii) To reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of the Registration Statement (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information set forth in the registration statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any increase or decrease in volume of securities offered (if the total dollar value of securities offered would not exceed that which was registered) and any deviation from the low or high end of the estimated maximum offering range may be reflected in the form of prospectus filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) if, in the aggregate, the changes in volume and price represent no more than a 20 percent change in the maximum aggregate offering price set forth in the Calculation of Registration Fee table in the effective Registration Statement; and

(iii) To include any material information with respect to the plan of distribution not previously disclosed in the Registration Statement or any material change to such information in the Registration Statement.

Table of Contents

(2) That, for the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(3) To remove from registration by means of a post-effective amendment any of the securities being registered which remain unsold at the termination of the offering.

(g) (1) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes as follows: that prior to any public reoffering of the securities registered hereunder through use of a prospectus which is a part of this registration statement, by any person or party who is deemed to be an underwriter within the meaning of Rule 145(c), the issuer undertakes that such reoffering prospectus will contain the information called for by the applicable registration form with respect to reofferings by persons who may be deemed underwriters, in addition to the information called for by the other items of the applicable form.

(2) The registrant undertakes that every prospectus (i) that is filed pursuant to paragraph (1) immediately preceding, or (ii) that purports to meet the requirements of section 10(a)(3) of the Act and is used in connection with an offering of securities subject to Rule 415, will be filed as a part of an amendment to the registration statement and will not be used until such amendment is effective, and that, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(h) Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission, such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes to supply by means of a post-effective amendment all information concerning a transaction, and the company being acquired involved therein, that was not the subject of and included in the registration statement when it became effective.
