Executive Summary

The CONMED Board has made sweeping changes since the last annual meeting that dramatically disrupted the status quo and put the Company on a path to deliver greater shareholder value

Nominated a slate of highly qualified, independent directors that is more than 60% new Entering a new era of leadership following the departures of founding family members Joe Corasanti and Eugene Corasanti, as well as long-tenured directors Bruce Daniels and Stuart Schwartz

Appointed Curt Hartman as Interim Chief Executive Officer and formed an executive search committee to identify a permanent CEO Implemented a number of other governance changes including the appointment of independent director Mark Tryniski as Chairman of the Board and the installation of new chairpersons for each of its Audit, Compensation and Corporate Governance and Nominating Committees

These proactive steps to implement change were set in motion in late 2012 with the retention of a search firm to identify new director candidates

With a thoroughly reconstituted governance structure, CONMED is ready to focus on proactive value creation

CONMED has implemented significant change and has the right leaders at this time to focus on execution and deliver value to shareholders

Is more Board change warranted at CONMED at this time? No. And here's why

CONMED is Entering a New Era of Performance-Focused Management

Joseph Corasanti stepped down as Chief Executive Officer, President and a member of the Board of Directors on July 23, 2014

Search underway for a permanent Chief Executive Officer

Led by five independent directors

Curt Hartman appointed Interim Chief Executive Officer

More than 22 years of medical device industry experience to guide the new CONMED

Successful tenure at Stryker, a then $26 billion leading large-cap medical device company, as

Former Interim Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer

Extensive knowledge of medical device industry and track record of executive leadership that will help CONMED transition seamlessly

Led Stryker through tremendous strategic and operational change

For nine years, had full P&L responsibility and helped grow a global operating division in the orthopedic and minimally invasive device segments that serve many of the same markets in which CONMED competes today

Well regarded by sell-side community with positive feedback on Interim CEO appointment:

We view Mr. Hartman as a seasoned operator and manager, whose experience and external perspective is likely to have a positive impact on the business

CONMED's Strengths

Growing End-Markets

Sport Medicine: 5-6%; Power Surgical: 3-4%; Various General Surgery markets: 2-5%

Strong Brand Recognition with Leading Market Positions

Hall is one of the most respected powered instruments brands in the market with over 50 years in use

Linvatec is a leading brand in arthroscopic surgery

Leading market share position in rapidly growing global sports medicine market

Global Presence

Direct sales to 17 countries and indirect sales to more than 100 countries

International represented 51% of 2013 revenue with emerging markets ~11%

International revenue CAGR of nearly 6% between 2009 and 2013

Highly Recurring Revenue Base

Over 80% of CONMED total revenue is generated by single-use disposable products

Approximately 95% of arthroscopic sports medicine products are disposables

Powered Instruments revenue is ~50% disposable products

CONMED Plans to Capitalize on Opportunities for Improvement 16
Opportunities
The New CONMED s Answers
Domestic Sales
Growth

Domestic sales have been declining for several years

Underperforming the market and peers

Product development cycles have taken too long Reevaluate commercial strategy and improve the alignment of the US selling structure to better reflect the needs of customers (measure progress on a weekly, monthly, quarterly and annual basis)

Steer commercial and R&D leadership to focus on clear expectations and accountability throughout the innovation and development process

EBITDA Margins

While improved from the trough, EBITDA margins are still well below the company's historical levels

Trail industry peers

Evaluate SG&A expense and investments to ensure allocation of resources to areas with the highest returns for the Company and maximize value for shareholders

Leverage recently consolidated manufacturing footprint to drive margins

Accountability

and Performance

Culture

Company has not had a culture that sufficiently emphasized accountability

Consistently missed revenue forecasts

Hold team accountable to metrics-driven expectations

Deliver on commitments we establish for our customers and shareholders

CONMED has many strong attributes on which to build as the reconstituted Board and management team focus on improved execution

Exploration of Strategic Alternatives

4

Exploration of Strategic Alternatives

18

As part of an initiative to maximize shareholder value, the CONMED Board, with the help of outside advisors, evaluated a range of strategic alternatives, including a sale of the Company in parts or whole

The Company evaluated each alternative and, on the basis of industry consolidation and valuation dynamics and input from several shareholders, decided to move forward with the sale process

Financial

advisors

Bank

of America

Merrill

Lynch

and

Greenhill

Co.

conducted

formal auction process to solicit interest from a wide range of public and private device companies

More than 40 potential buyers were contacted, including an exhaustive list of strategic and financial buyers as well as all of the companies listed in Voce's November 2013 letter

25 companies signed Non-Disclosure Agreements

Over the course of the six month sale process, potential buyers attended management presentations and had access to management, detailed financials, a formal dataroom

the opportunity for follow up diligence calls

CONMED delayed the 2014 annual meeting in order to maximize the potential outcome of the process

Exploration of Strategic Alternatives

The Board of Directors determined that the various strategic alternatives available at that time did not adequately reflect the intrinsic value of the Company or its future growth prospects

The Board unanimously decided to terminate the process at that time and work with management to focus on better execution to grow revenues and expand margins

Following the conclusion of the process, CONMED's Board and management team remain committed to creating value for all shareholders by all means available and will continue to take any actions that enable the Company to achieve this objective

22

Implemented Additional Meaningful Corporate Governance Changes

Appointed independent director, Mark Tryniski, as Chairman of the Board in March 2014

Formed an executive search committee comprised of five independent directors, including three new directors, to identify a permanent CEO

Installed new chairpersons for each of the Company's Audit, Compensation and

Corporate Governance and Nominating Committees

Populated Committees with new directors possessing appropriate skills

Instituted a tenure policy requiring director retirement after 15 years service, tracking best practices, to preserve independence of Board

Board regularly considers director candidates who it believes will add necessary experience and skill sets to the Board

CONMED's eight highly qualified director nominees, seven of whom are independent, have been unanimous in driving these meaningful governance changes

CONMED Has Attempted to Work Constructively with Voce

CONMED has attempted to engage in constructive discussions with Voce over the past 12 months to better understand its views and explain the changes we have made

Despite these significant changes and CONMED's efforts over the last five months to reach a mutually agreeable resolution through a settlement offer, Voce chose to pursue a costly and distracting proxy contest

Recognizing that the potential sale of CONMED had greater likelihood of success if not encumbered by an unnecessary public fight with a shareholder, five months ago CONMED offered settlement negotiations to Voce

Voce refused to engage in those negotiations, even on a confidential basis

Voce outside counsel advised that engaging would not be a good use of time citing the likelihood of having any productive discussions as pretty low

Following conclusion of the strategic alternatives process, sweeping changes to the Board, a change in Chief Executive Officer and the exit of the Company's founding leadership, the CONMED Board again reached out to Voce with an offer to add one of its nominees to the Board

again

refused,

indicated

proxy contest would be forthcoming

26

Voce's Interests are NOT Aligned with ALL CONMED Shareholders

Voce owns less than 0.5% of the Company's outstanding common stock and is seeking three seats on the board, or 37.5%, which is grossly disproportionate to its ownership stake

Of note, Coppersmith received two Board seats with 6.0% ownership

Voce
has neither articulated
plan nor offered any constructive ideas to create value for all CONMED shareholders that have not already been considered or implemented Voce's nominees would not enhance the current strengths of the Board and do not address CONMED's contemplated areas for improvement

Voce continues to ignore the important changes we have made and instead focuses on criticizing past actions, processes and departed personnel

Voce's proxy contest can no longer credibly be claimed to be about exploration of strategic alternatives, Board composition, management performance, shareholder representation or entrenchment of CONMED's founders

Voce's actions make it clear that Voce
is only interested in pursuing its self-serving agenda, irrespective of the cost to all other CONMED shareholders

27

Conclusion

CONMED's Board is new, independent and accountable to shareholders Significant additional corporate governance changes have been made since the last annual meeting

CONMED's director nominees have diverse and proven leadership experience with investor, medical device

and orthopedic industry,
and corporate governance backgrounds

CONMED's new leadership is focused on improving operating performance to create additional value for shareholders over the short and long term

CONMED recently conducted a thorough exploration of strategic alternatives

CONMED has attempted to work constructively with Voce to avoid a costly and disruptive proxy contest

Voce has no strategy and no interest in engagement

28

Vote the GOLD Proxy Card Today
The Board unanimously recommends that shareholders vote FOR ALL of CONMED's experienced and highly qualified director nominees
