Item 4. Purpose of Transaction.

January 20, 2015, Starboard Value LP delivered a letter (the Letter) to the Issuer's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Paul J. Sarvadi, and its Board of Directors (the Board). In the Letter, Starboard Value LP stated its view that the Issuer is deeply undervalued and that a number of opportunities exist to create significant value for shareholders based on actions within the control of management and the Board. Starboard Value LP in the Letter outlines a broad plan to improve the Issuer's performance, detailing action that management should take to improve execution, reduce operating expenses, improve capital allocation, improve corporate governance, and explore all available alternatives to maximize shareholder value. The Letter states that Starboard Value LP believes that the Issuer can improve its operating margins through a combination of reducing excessive corporate overhead expenses (including selling its two large corporate jets), and more efficiently allocating advertising expenses (including shifting advertising away from expensive television advertising, golf tournaments, and other golf and sports-related marketing). Further, Starboard Value LP suggests in the Letter that the Issuer should consider share repurchases and explore a potential sale of the Issuer to either a financial or strategic buyer. In addition, the Letter details several corporate governance policies of the Issuer that Starboard Value LP believes are in need of improvement, including excessive executive compensation, numerous related-party transactions, the lack of an independent chairman, a staggered Board, and the existence of a Poison Pill. Starboard Value LP states in the Letter that it looks forward to discussing all of the points outlined in the Letter in more detail with Mr. Sarvadi and the Board.

The foregoing description of the Letter does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Letter, which is filed as Exhibit 99.1, and is incorporated herein by reference.
