MERGER PROPOSED YOUR VOTE IS VERY IMPORTANT

June 25, 2018

Dear Stockholder:

I am pleased to invite you to attend a special meeting of stockholders of Rite Aid Corporation, a Delaware corporation, which we refer to as Rite Aid, to be held on August 9, 2018 at the office of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP, 4 Times Square, New York, NY 10036, at 8:30 a.m., Eastern time. As previously announced, Rite Aid has entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of February 18, 2018, which we refer to as the merger agreement, with Albertsons Companies, Inc., a Delaware corporation, which we refer to as ACI, Ranch Acquisition II LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of ACI, which we refer to as Merger Sub II, and Ranch Acquisition Corp., a Delaware corporation and a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of Merger Sub II, which we refer to as Merger Sub I. Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, at closing, Merger Sub I will merge with and into Rite Aid, with Rite Aid surviving the merger as a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of Merger Sub II, which we refer to as the merger, and, immediately following the merger, Rite Aid will merge with and into Merger Sub II, with Merger Sub II surviving the subsequent merger as a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of ACI and a limited liability company, which we refer to as the subsequent merger and, together with the merger, the mergers. At the closing of the subsequent merger, Merger Sub II will be renamed Rite Aid LLC.

Upon the completion of the merger, each share of common stock, par value $1.00 per share, of Rite Aid, which is referred to as Rite Aid common stock, issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, will be converted into the right to receive and become exchangeable for, at your election, either (i) 0.1000 of a fully paid and nonassessable share of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of ACI, which we refer to as ACI common stock, plus $0.1832 in cash, without interest, or (ii) 0.1079 shares of ACI common stock. Based on the estimated number of shares of Rite Aid and ACI common stock that will be outstanding immediately prior to the closing of the merger, and depending upon the results of the cash elections, it is anticipated that, upon closing, existing ACI stockholders will own approximately 70.4% to 72.0% of the outstanding shares of ACI common stock, and former Rite Aid stockholders will own approximately 29.6% to 28.0% of the outstanding shares of ACI common stock, in each case on a fully diluted basis. Stockholders will not have appraisal rights under the Delaware General Corporation Law with respect to the merger because holders of shares of Rite Aid common stock are not required to receive consideration other than shares of ACI common stock (and cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any) in the merger, and shares of ACI common stock will be listed on the New York Stock Exchange immediately following the merger. The election to receive cash consideration is voluntary and dependent upon Rite Aid stockholders' election (other than cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any).

At the special meeting of Rite Aid stockholders, Rite Aid stockholders will be asked to vote on (i) a proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, which we refer to as the merger proposal, (ii) a proposal to approve, by means of a non-binding, advisory vote, compensation that will or may become payable to Rite Aid's named executive officers in connection with the merger, which we refer to as the compensation proposal, and (iii) a proposal to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes to adopt the merger agreement at the time of the special meeting, which we refer to as the adjournment proposal.

Rite Aid's board of directors, after considering the reasons more fully described in this proxy statement/prospectus, determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, are advisable, fair to and in the best interests of Rite Aid and its stockholders, and adopted, approved and declared advisable the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. The Rite Aid board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote (i) FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, (ii) FOR the proposal to approve, by a non-binding, advisory vote, compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger and (iii) FOR the proposal to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes to adopt the merger agreement at the time of the special meeting.

In considering the recommendation of the Rite Aid board of directors, you should be aware that the directors and executive officers of Rite Aid will have interests in the merger that are different from, and in addition to, the interests of Rite Aid stockholders generally. See the section entitled Interests of the Directors and Officers of Rite Aid in the Merger beginning on page 296 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

The enclosed proxy statement/prospectus provides detailed information about the special meeting, the merger agreement and the mergers. A copy of the merger agreement is attached as Annex A to the proxy statement/prospectus. The proxy statement/prospectus also describes the actions and determinations of Rite Aid's board of directors in connection with its evaluation of the merger agreement and the mergers. We encourage you to read the proxy statement/prospectus and its annexes, including the merger agreement, carefully and in their entirety. You may also obtain more information about Rite Aid from documents we file with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, which we refer to as the SEC, from time to time.

Whether or not you plan to attend the special meeting in person, please complete, sign, date and return, as promptly as possible, the enclosed proxy card in the accompanying prepaid reply envelope or grant your proxy electronically over the Internet or by telephone. If you attend the special meeting and vote in person by ballot, your vote will revoke any proxy that you have previously submitted. If you hold your shares in street name, you should instruct your broker, bank or other nominee how to vote in accordance with the voting instruction form you will receive from your broker, bank or other nominee.

Your vote is very important, regardless of the number of shares that you own. We cannot complete the merger unless the merger proposal is approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Rite Aid common stock. The failure of any stockholder of record to vote in person by ballot at the special meeting, to submit a signed proxy card or to grant a proxy electronically over the Internet or by telephone will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the merger proposal. If you hold your shares in street name, the failure to instruct your broker, bank or other nominee on how to vote your shares will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the merger proposal.

If you have any questions or need assistance voting your shares of Rite Aid common stock, please contact Morrow Sodali LLC, Rite Aid's proxy solicitor, by calling (800) 662-5200 toll-free.

On behalf of Rite Aid's board of directors, I thank you for your support and appreciate your consideration of this matter.

Sincerely,

John T. Standley

Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board of Directors

Neither the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission nor any state securities regulatory agency has approved or disapproved of the transactions described in this document, including the merger, or determined if the information contained in this document is accurate or adequate. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

The accompanying proxy statement/prospectus is dated June 25, 2018 and, together with the enclosed form of proxy card, is first being mailed to stockholders of Rite Aid on or about June 25, 2018.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS

YOUR VOTE IS VERY IMPORTANT. PLEASE VOTE YOUR SHARES PROMPTLY.

Notice is hereby given that a special meeting of stockholders of Rite Aid Corporation, a Delaware corporation, which we refer to as Rite Aid, will be held on August 9, 2018, at the office of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP, 4 Times Square, New York, NY 10036, at 8:30 a.m., Eastern time for the following purposes:

1. To consider and vote on the proposal to adopt the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of February 18, 2018, which we refer to as the merger agreement, by and among Albertsons Companies, Inc., a Delaware corporation, which we refer to as ACI, Ranch Acquisition II LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of ACI, which we refer to as Merger Sub II, Ranch Acquisition Corp., a Delaware corporation and a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of Merger Sub II, which we refer to as Merger Sub I, and Rite Aid, as it may be amended from time to time (a copy of the merger agreement is attached as Annex A to the proxy statement/prospectus accompanying this notice), and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, which we refer to as the merger proposal;
2. To consider and vote on the proposal to approve, by means of a non-binding, advisory vote, compensation that will or may become payable to Rite Aid's named executive officers in connection with the merger contemplated by the merger agreement, which we refer to as the compensation proposal;
3. To consider and vote on the proposal to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes to adopt the merger agreement at the time of the special meeting, which we refer to as the adjournment proposal; and
4. To transact any other business that may properly come before the special meeting or any adjournment or postponement of the special meeting.

The affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Rite Aid common stock, par value $1.00 per share, which is referred to as Rite Aid common stock, entitled to vote thereon is required to approve the merger proposal. The affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented at the special meeting, either in person or by proxy, and entitled to vote thereon is required to approve the compensation proposal. The affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented at the special meeting, either in person or by proxy, and entitled to vote thereon is required to approve the adjournment proposal. The failure of any stockholder of record to vote in person by ballot at the special meeting, to submit a signed proxy card or to grant a proxy electronically over the Internet or by telephone will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the merger proposal, but will not have any effect on the compensation proposal or the adjournment proposal. If you hold your shares in street name, the failure to instruct your broker, bank or other nominee on how to vote your shares will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the merger proposal, but will not have any effect on the compensation proposal.

or the adjournment proposal. Abstentions will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the merger proposal, the compensation proposal and the adjournment proposal.

Only stockholders of record as of the close of business on June 22, 2018 are entitled to notice of the special meeting and to vote at the special meeting or at any adjournment or postponement thereof. A list of stockholders entitled to vote at the special meeting will be available in Rite Aid's offices located at 30 Hunter Lane, Camp Hill, Pennsylvania 17011, during regular business hours for a period of at least ten (10) days before the special meeting and at the place of the special meeting during the meeting.

Stockholders will not have appraisal rights under the Delaware General Corporation Law with respect to the merger because holders of shares of Rite Aid common stock are not required to receive consideration other than shares of ACI common stock (and cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any) in the merger, and shares of ACI common stock will be listed on the New York Stock Exchange immediately following the merger. The election to receive cash consideration is voluntary and dependent upon Rite Aid stockholders' election (other than cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any).

The Rite Aid board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote (i) FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, (ii) FOR the proposal to approve, by a non-binding, advisory vote, compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger and (iii) FOR the proposal to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes to adopt the merger agreement at the time of the special meeting.

By Order of the Board of Directors,

James J. Comitale
Senior Vice President, General Counsel and Secretary

YOUR VOTE IS IMPORTANT

WHETHER OR NOT YOU EXPECT TO ATTEND THE SPECIAL MEETING IN PERSON, WE ENCOURAGE YOU TO SUBMIT YOUR PROXY AS PROMPTLY AS POSSIBLE (1) BY TELEPHONE, (2) THROUGH THE INTERNET OR (3) BY MARKING, SIGNING AND DATING THE ENCLOSED PROXY CARD AND RETURNING IT IN THE POSTAGE-PAID ENVELOPE PROVIDED. You may revoke your proxy or change your vote at any time before the special meeting. If your shares are held in the name of a broker, bank or other nominee, please follow the instructions on the voting instruction card furnished to you by such broker, bank or other nominee, which is considered the stockholder of record, in order to vote. As a beneficial owner, you have the right to direct your broker, bank or other nominee on how to vote the shares in your account. Your broker, bank or other nominee cannot vote on any of the proposals, including the proposal to adopt the merger agreement, without your instructions.

If you fail to return your proxy card, to grant your proxy electronically over the Internet or by telephone, or to vote by ballot in person at the special meeting, your shares will not be counted for purposes of determining whether a quorum is present at the special meeting. If you are a stockholder of record, voting in person by ballot at the special meeting will revoke any proxy that you previously submitted. If you hold your shares through a broker, bank or other nominee, you must obtain from the record holder a valid legal proxy issued in your name in order to vote in person at the special meeting.

We encourage you to read the accompanying proxy statement/prospectus, including all documents incorporated by reference into the accompanying proxy statement/prospectus, and annexes to the accompanying proxy statement/prospectus, carefully and in their entirety. If you have any questions concerning the merger, the special meeting or the accompanying proxy statement/prospectus, or would like additional copies of the accompanying proxy statement/prospectus or need help voting your shares of common stock, please contact Rite Aid's proxy solicitor:

ABOUT THIS PROXY STATEMENT/PROSPECTUS

This document, which forms part of a registration statement on Form S-4 filed with the SEC by ACI (File No. 333-224169), constitutes a prospectus of ACI under Section 5 of the Securities Act with respect to the shares of common stock of Albertsons Companies, Inc. to be issued to Rite Aid stockholders pursuant to the merger agreement.

This document also constitutes a proxy statement of Rite Aid under Section 14(a) of the Exchange Act. It also constitutes a notice of meeting with respect to the special meeting, at which Rite Aid stockholders will be asked to consider and vote upon the merger proposal, the compensation proposal and the adjournment proposal.

ACI has supplied all information contained in this proxy statement/prospectus relating to ACI, and Rite Aid has supplied all information contained in or incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus relating to Rite Aid.

You should rely only on the information contained in or incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus. ACI and Rite Aid have not authorized anyone to provide you with information that is different from that contained in or incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus. This proxy statement/prospectus is dated June 25, 2018, and you should not assume that the information contained in this proxy statement/prospectus is accurate as of any date other than such date. Further, you should not assume that the information incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus is accurate as of any date other than the date of the incorporated document. Neither the mailing of this proxy statement/prospectus to Rite Aid stockholders nor the issuance by ACI of shares of ACI common stock pursuant to the merger agreement will create any implication to the contrary.

Table of ContentsEXPLANATORY NOTE

ACI, the registrant whose name appears on the cover of the registration statement of which this document forms a part, is a Delaware corporation. AB Acquisition LLC, which we refer to as AB Acquisition, is a Delaware limited liability company. ACI was formed for the purpose of reorganizing the organizational structure of AB Acquisition and its direct and indirect consolidated subsidiaries. Prior to December 3, 2017, ACI had no material assets or operations. On December 3, 2017, Albertsons Companies, LLC and its parent, AB Acquisition, completed a reorganization of their legal entity structure whereby the existing equityholders of AB Acquisition each contributed their equity interests in AB Acquisition to Albertsons Investor Holdings LLC, which we refer to as Albertsons Investor, and KIM ACI, LLC, which we refer to as KIM ACI. In exchange, equityholders received a proportionate share of units in Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI, respectively. Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI then contributed all of the equity interests they received to ACI in exchange for common stock issued by ACI. As a result, Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI became the parents of Albertsons Companies, Inc., owning all of its outstanding common stock with AB Acquisition and its subsidiary, Albertsons Companies, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, becoming wholly-owned subsidiaries of ACI. On February 25, 2018, Albertsons Companies, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, merged with and into ACI, with ACI as the surviving corporation (we refer to such transactions, collectively, as the ACI Reorganization Transactions). Prior to February 25, 2018, substantially all of the assets and operations of ACI were those of its subsidiary, Albertsons Companies, LLC. For more information about the ACI Reorganization Transactions, see the section entitled Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of ACI The ACI Reorganization Transactions beginning on page 212 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Upon completion of the ACI Reorganization Transactions, Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI became the sole direct parent companies of ACI and owned 252,413,675 and 27,240,353 shares of common stock of ACI, respectively. In connection with, and immediately prior to the closing of, the merger, Albertsons Investor will distribute all of its shares of ACI common stock to its equity holders on a pro rata basis in accordance with the common units, management incentive units and investor incentive units held by such holders and KIM ACI will distribute shares of ACI common stock to its holders of management incentive units and investor incentive units on a pro rata basis in exchange for the common units, management incentive units and investor incentive units held by such holders (we refer to such distribution as the ACI Distribution). For more information about the ACI Distribution, see the section entitled Certain Beneficial Owners of ACI Common Stock beginning on page 348 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

IDENTICAL STORE SALES

As used in this proxy statement/prospectus to apply to ACI, the term identical store sales is defined as stores operating during the same period in both the current fiscal year and the prior fiscal year, comparing sales on a daily basis. Fuel sales are excluded from ACI identical store sales, and internet sales are included in identical store sales of the store from which the products are sourced for ACI. For ACI, the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 is compared with the 52-week period ended February 25, 2017, the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 is compared with the 52-week period ended February 27, 2016 and the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016 is compared with the 52-week period ended February 28, 2015. On an actual basis, acquired stores become identical on the one-year anniversary date of their acquisition. Stores that are open during remodeling are included in identical store sales. The stores divested in order to secure Federal Trade Commission, which we refer to as FTC, clearance of the Safeway acquisition by ACI are excluded from the identical store sales calculation beginning on December 19, 2014, the announcement date of the divestitures. Also included in this proxy statement/prospectus, where noted, are supplemental identical store sales measures for

ACI, which includes acquired Safeway Inc., New Albertsons L.P. and United Supermarkets, LLC stores, irrespective of their acquisition dates.

As used in this proxy statement/prospectus to apply to Rite Aid Corporation, identical store sales include all stores that have been open at least one year. Stores in liquidation are considered closed, and relocation stores are not included in identical store sales until one year has lapsed.

MARKET, INDUSTRY AND OTHER DATA

This proxy statement/prospectus includes market and industry data and outlook, which are based on publicly available information, reports from government agencies, reports by market research firms and/or ACI's own estimates based on ACI's management's knowledge of and experience in the markets and businesses in which ACI operates. ACI believes this information to be reasonable based on the information available to it as of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus. However, ACI has not independently verified market and industry data from third-party sources. Historical information regarding supermarket and grocery industry revenues, including online grocery revenues, was obtained from IBISWorld. Forecasts regarding Food-at-Home inflation were obtained from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which we refer to as the USDA. Information with respect to ACI's market share was obtained from Nielsen ACView All Outlets Combined (Food, Mass and Dollar but excluding Drug). This information may prove to be inaccurate because of the method by which ACI obtained some of the data for its estimates or because this information cannot always be verified with complete certainty due to limits on the availability and reliability of raw data, the voluntary nature of the data gathering process and other limitations and uncertainties inherent in a survey of market size. In addition, market conditions, customer preferences and the competitive landscape can and do change significantly. As a result, you should be aware that the market and industry data included in this proxy statement/prospectus and ACI's estimates and beliefs based on such data may not be reliable. Neither ACI nor Rite Aid has verified the accuracy of such industry and market data.

In addition, the market value reported in the appraisals of the ACI properties described herein are an estimate of value, as of the date stated in each appraisal. The appraisals were subject to the following assumption: the estimate of market value as is, is based on the assumption that the existing occupant/user remains in occupancy in the foreseeable future, commensurate with the typical tenure of a user of this type, and is paying market rent as of the effective date of appraisal. Changes since the appraisal date in external and market factors or in the property itself can significantly affect the conclusions. As an opinion, the reported values are not necessarily a measure of current market value and may not reflect the amount which would be received if the property were sold today. While ACI is not aware of any misstatements regarding any appraisals, market, industry or similar data presented herein, such data involves risks and uncertainties and is subject to change based on various factors, including those discussed under the sections entitled Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements beginning on page 83 and Risk Factors beginning on page 50 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

As used in this proxy statement/prospectus, with respect to ACI, EBITDA is defined as generally accepted accounting principles, which we refer to as GAAP, earnings (net income (loss)) before interest, income taxes, depreciation and amortization. As used in this proxy statement/prospectus, with respect to ACI, Adjusted EBITDA is defined as GAAP earnings (net income (loss)) before interest, income taxes, depreciation, and amortization, further adjusted to eliminate the effects of items management does not consider in assessing ongoing performance. As used in this proxy statement/prospectus, with respect to ACI, Adjusted Net Income is defined as GAAP net income (loss) adjusted to eliminate the effects of items management does not consider in assessing ongoing performance. As used in this proxy statement/prospectus, with respect to ACI, Free Cash Flow is defined as Adjusted EBITDA less capital expenditures. See the section entitled Summary Selected Historical Consolidated Financial Data of ACI beginning on page 43 of this proxy statement/prospectus for further discussion and a reconciliation of Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted Net Income.

As used in this proxy statement/prospectus, with respect to Rite Aid, EBITDA is defined as GAAP earnings (net income (loss)) before interest, income taxes, depreciation and amortization. As used in this proxy statement/prospectus, with respect to Rite Aid, Adjusted EBITDA is defined as net income (loss) excluding the impact of income taxes, interest expense, depreciation and amortization, LIFO adjustments, charges or credits for facility closing and impairment, inventory write-downs related to store closings, debt retirements, the merger termination fee paid to Rite Aid by Walgreens Boots Alliance, Inc., which we refer to as WBA, pursuant to the Amended and Restated Asset Purchase Agreement, dated as of September 18, 2017, by and among Rite Aid, WBA and Walgreen Co., which we refer to as the WBA asset purchase agreement, and other items (including stock-based compensation expense, merger and acquisition-related costs, severance and costs related to distribution center closures, gain or loss on sale of assets, and revenue deferrals related to our customer loyalty program). As used in this proxy statement/prospectus, with respect to Rite Aid, Free Cash Flow is defined as Adjusted EBITDA less cash paid for interest, rent on closed stores, capital expenditures, acquisition costs and the change in working capital.

EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted Net Income and Free Cash Flow (collectively, which we refer to as the Non-GAAP Measures) are performance measures that provide supplemental information ACI's and Rite Aid's management believe is useful to analysts and investors to evaluate ongoing results of operations, when considered alongside other GAAP measures such as net income, operating income and gross profit. These Non-GAAP Measures exclude the financial impact of items ACI's and Rite Aid's management do not consider in assessing ACI's and Rite Aid's ongoing operating performance, and thereby facilitate review of ACI's and Rite Aid's operating performance on a period-to-period basis. Other companies may have different capital structures or different lease terms, and comparability to ACI's and Rite Aid's results of operations may be impacted by the effects of acquisition accounting on ACI's and Rite Aid's depreciation and amortization. As a result of the effects of these factors and factors specific to other companies, ACI and Rite Aid believe the Non-GAAP Measures, as applicable, provide helpful information to analysts and investors to facilitate a comparison of each company's operating performance to that of other companies. In addition, Rite Aid's incentive compensation is based in part on Adjusted EBITDA and Rite Aid bases certain of its forward-looking estimates and budgets on Adjusted EBITDA. ACI also uses Adjusted EBITDA, as further adjusted for additional items defined in ACI's debt instruments, for board of director and bank compliance reporting. Neither ACI's nor Rite Aid's presentation of Non-GAAP Measures should be construed as an inference that the combined company's future results will be unaffected by unusual or non-recurring items.

Non-GAAP Measures have limitations as analytical tools, and you should not consider them in isolation or as substitutes for analysis of ACI's or Rite Aid's operating results or cash flows as reported under GAAP. Some of these limitations are:

Non-GAAP Measures do not reflect anticipated synergies;

Non-GAAP Measures do not reflect certain one-time or non-recurring cash costs to achieve anticipated synergies;

Table of Contents

Non-GAAP Measures do not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, ACI's and Rite Aid's working capital needs;

EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA do not reflect the significant interest expense or the cash requirements necessary to service interest or principal payments on ACI's and Rite Aid's debt;

Although depreciation and amortization are non-cash charges, the assets being depreciated or amortized may have to be replaced in the future, and EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA and, with respect to acquired intangible assets, Adjusted Net Income, do not reflect any cash requirements for such replacements;

Non-GAAP Measures are adjusted for certain non-recurring and non-cash income or expense items that are reflected in ACI's and Rite Aid's statements of operations;

Non-GAAP Measures, other than Free Cash Flow, do not reflect ACI's or Rite Aid's capital expenditures or future requirements for capital expenditures or contractual commitments; and

Other companies in ACI's and Rite Aid's industries may calculate these measures differently than ACI or Rite Aid does, limiting their usefulness as comparative measures.

Because of these limitations, Non-GAAP Measures should not be considered as measures of discretionary cash available to ACI or Rite Aid to invest in the growth of its business. ACI and Rite Aid compensate for these limitations by relying primarily on their GAAP results and using Non-GAAP Measures only for supplemental purposes. Please see ACI's and Rite Aid's consolidated financial statements contained in this proxy statement/prospectus.

Pro forma Adjusted EBITDA, as presented in this proxy statement/prospectus, is also a supplemental measure of performance that is not required by or presented in accordance with GAAP.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE MERGER AND THE SPECIAL MEETING

The following questions and answers are intended to address some commonly asked questions regarding the mergers, the merger agreement and the special meeting. These questions and answers may not address all questions that may be important to you as a Rite Aid stockholder. We encourage you to read carefully the more detailed information contained elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus, the annexes to this proxy statement/prospectus, including the merger agreement, and the documents we incorporate by reference in this proxy statement/prospectus. You may obtain the documents and information incorporated by reference in this proxy statement/prospectus without charge by following the instructions in the section entitled Where You Can Find More Information beginning on page 353 of this proxy statement/prospectus. The merger agreement is attached as Annex A to this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: What is this document?

A: Rite Aid has agreed to combine with ACI under the terms of the merger agreement that are described in this proxy statement/prospectus. This document is a proxy statement because it will be used by the Rite Aid board of directors to solicit proxies for the special meeting of the Rite Aid stockholders at which the Rite Aid stockholders will be asked to vote on the proposal to adopt the merger agreement, among other matters. This document is also a prospectus because it will be used by ACI to offer ACI common stock to Rite Aid stockholders in exchange for their Rite Aid common stock upon completion of the proposed merger. This document contains important information about the merger agreement and the details of the mergers, the business, results of operations and financial condition of Rite Aid and ACI, the combined capital stock, certain risk factors related to the mergers, Rite Aid and ACI, and other matters that are important to Rite Aid stockholders. Rite Aid urges all Rite Aid stockholders to read this proxy statement/prospectus, including all documents incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus, and annexes to this proxy statement/prospectus, carefully and in their entirety. In particular, Rite Aid urges you to read carefully Risk Factors beginning on page 50 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: Why am I receiving these materials?

A: The Rite Aid board of directors is furnishing this proxy statement/prospectus and form of proxy card to the holders of Rite Aid common stock in connection with the solicitation of proxies to be voted at a special meeting of stockholders or at any adjournments or postponements of the special meeting.

Q: When and where is the special meeting?

A: The special meeting will take place on August 9, 2018, at the office of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP, 4 Times Square, New York, NY 10036, at 8:30 a.m., Eastern time.

Q: Who is entitled to vote at the special meeting?

A: Only Rite Aid stockholders of record as of the close of business on June 22, 2018 are entitled to notice of the special meeting and to vote at the special meeting or at any adjournments or postponements thereof. Each holder of Rite Aid common stock is entitled to cast one vote on each matter properly brought before the special meeting for each share of Rite Aid common stock that such holder owned as of the record date.

Q: May I attend the special meeting and vote in person?

A: Yes. All stockholders as of the record date may attend the special meeting and vote in person. Seating will be limited. Stockholders will need to present proof of ownership of Rite Aid common stock, such as a recent bank or brokerage account statement, and a form of personal identification to be admitted to the special meeting. No cameras, recording equipment, electronic devices, large bags, briefcases or packages will be permitted in the special meeting. Even if you plan to attend the special meeting in person, Rite Aid encourages you to complete, sign, date and return the enclosed proxy card or to vote electronically over the Internet or via telephone to ensure that your shares will be represented at the special meeting. If you attend the special meeting and vote in person, your vote by ballot will revoke any proxy previously submitted. If you hold your shares in street name, because you are not the stockholder of record, you may not vote your shares in person at the special meeting unless you request and obtain a valid legal proxy from your broker, bank or other nominee.

Q: What am I being asked to vote on at the special meeting?

A: You are being asked to consider and vote on the following proposals:

To adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, which we refer to as the merger proposal;

To approve, by means of a non-binding, advisory vote, compensation that will or may become payable to Rite Aid's named executive officers in connection with the merger as contemplated by the merger agreement, which we refer to as the compensation proposal; and

To approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes to adopt the merger agreement at the time of the special meeting, which we refer to as the adjournment proposal.

Q: What is the proposed merger and what effects will it have on Rite Aid?

A: The proposed transaction is a series of two mergers whereby Rite Aid will become a subsidiary of ACI pursuant to the merger agreement. If the merger proposal is approved by the requisite number of holders of Rite Aid common stock and the other closing conditions under the merger agreement have been satisfied or waived, Merger Sub I will merge with and into Rite Aid, with Rite Aid surviving the merger as a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of Merger Sub II, and, immediately following the merger, Rite Aid will merge with and into Merger Sub II, with Merger Sub II surviving the subsequent merger as a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of ACI and a limited liability company. As a result of the mergers, Rite Aid will become a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of ACI. Rite Aid expects to de-list its common stock from the NYSE and de-register its common stock under the Exchange Act as soon as reasonably practicable following the effective time of the merger. Thereafter, Rite Aid would no longer be a publicly traded company. If the merger is completed, you will not own any shares of the capital stock of Rite Aid, Merger Sub I or Merger Sub II, and instead will only be entitled to receive the stock election consideration and/or cash election consideration, as applicable, which we refer to as the merger consideration.

Q: Will the ACI common stock be listed on a stock exchange?

A: ACI has been approved to list the ACI common stock with the NYSE under the symbol ACI, and the combined company is expected to be publicly traded on the NYSE under this symbol following the completion of the mergers. While trading in ACI common stock on the NYSE is expected to begin on the first business day following the date of completion of the mergers, there can be no assurance that a viable and active trading market will develop. For more information, please see the section entitled The Merger Listing of ACI Common Stock on the NYSE beginning on page 147 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: What will I receive if the merger is completed?

A: At the effective time of the merger, each share of Rite Aid common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger (other than shares of Rite Aid common stock owned, directly or indirectly, by ACI, Merger Sub I or Rite Aid (including shares of Rite Aid common stock held as treasury stock by Rite Aid), and in each case not held on behalf of third parties, immediately prior to the effective time of the merger) will be converted into the right to receive and become exchangeable for 0.1000, which we refer to as the base exchange ratio, of a fully paid and nonassessable share of ACI common stock, without interest, which we refer to as the base consideration, plus, at the election of the holder of Rite Aid common stock, either:

for each share of Rite Aid common stock with respect to which an election to receive cash has been effectively made and not revoked or redeemed, and for each share of Rite Aid common stock with respect to which a Rite Aid stockholder has not made an election to receive cash or stock, an amount in cash equal to $0.1832 per share, without interest, which we refer to as the additional cash consideration (and which, together with the base consideration, we refer to as the cash election consideration); provided, that to the extent the aggregate additional cash consideration to be paid to any holder of shares of Rite Aid common stock for all such holder's shares of Rite Aid common stock held in a single account would result in such stockholder being entitled to a fraction of a cent in cash with respect to the shares of Rite Aid common stock held in such account, such aggregate amount will be rounded down to the nearest whole cent; or

for each share of Rite Aid common stock with respect to which an election to receive additional ACI common stock has been effectively made and not revoked, 0.0079, which we refer to as the additional stock election exchange ratio (and which, together with the base exchange ratio, we refer to as the stock election exchange ratio), of a fully paid and nonassessable share of ACI common stock, without interest, which we refer to as the additional stock consideration (and which, together with the base consideration, we refer to as the stock election consideration).

For the avoidance of doubt, the cash election consideration consists of both the base consideration, which consists of ACI common stock, and the additional cash consideration, which consists of cash. No fractional shares of ACI common stock will be issued in the merger, and in lieu thereof, holders of Rite Aid common stock who would otherwise have been entitled to a fraction of a share of ACI common stock will be paid upon surrender of shares of Rite Aid common stock (and after taking into account and aggregating the total number of shares of ACI common stock to be issued in exchange for the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented by all certificates, or book-entry shares, as applicable, surrendered by such holder and the shares of ACI common stock received by such holder as a result of both the base exchange ratio and the additional stock election exchange ratio) cash in an amount, without interest and rounded to the nearest cent, representing such holder's proportionate interest in the net proceeds from the sale by the exchange agent, on behalf of all such holders, of all fractional shares of ACI common stock which would otherwise be issued.

Q: What will be the ownership structure of the combined company after the consummation of the merger?

A: Based on the estimated number of shares of Rite Aid and ACI common stock that will be outstanding immediately prior to the closing of the merger, and depending upon the result of the cash election, it is anticipated that, upon closing, existing ACI stockholders will own approximately 70.4% to 72.0% of the outstanding shares of ACI common stock, and former Rite Aid stockholders will own approximately 29.6% to 28.0% of the outstanding shares of ACI common stock, in each case on a fully diluted basis.

Table of ContentsQ: How do I calculate the value of the merger consideration?

A: Because ACI will issue shares of ACI common stock in exchange for each share of Rite Aid common stock, the value of the merger consideration that Rite Aid stockholders receive will depend on the per share value of ACI common stock at the effective time of the merger. Prior to the effective time, there has not been and will not be an established public trading for ACI common stock. The price of the ACI common stock at the effective time will reflect the combination of ACI and Rite Aid, and will be unknown until the commencement of trading following the effective time of the merger. The base exchange ratio and the additional stock election exchange ratio are fixed and thus will not fluctuate up or down based on the market price of a share of Rite Aid common stock prior to the merger.

Q: When is the election deadline?

A: The election deadline is 5:00 p.m. New York City time on a date mutually agreed by Rite Aid and ACI but which in no event will be less than one day prior to the anticipated closing date. Rite Aid and ACI will issue a joint press release announcing the anticipated date of the election deadline not more than fifteen business days before, and at least five business days prior to, the anticipated date of the election deadline. If Rite Aid and ACI jointly agree to postpone the election deadline to a later date, ACI and Rite Aid will promptly announce any such delay and, when determined, the rescheduled election deadline. The election deadline has not been established as of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: How do Rite Aid stockholders make an election?

A: Not less than thirty days prior to the election deadline, ACI will instruct Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc. (or if Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc. is unwilling or unable to serve as exchange agent, a bank or trust company mutually agreed upon by Rite Aid and ACI, in either case, referred to as the exchange agent) to send to each record holder, as of five business days prior to such date, of Rite Aid common stock an election form. Each election form will permit the stockholder (or the beneficial owner through customary documentation and instructions) to specify (i) the number of shares of such stockholder's Rite Aid common stock with respect to which such holder elects to receive the stock election consideration, (ii) the number of shares of such holder's Rite Aid common stock with respect to which such holder elects to receive the cash election consideration or (iii) that such holder makes no election with respect to such holder's Rite Aid common stock, and, in such case of each of (i) and (ii), the particular shares for which the holder desires to make such election. Any shares of Rite Aid common stock with respect to which the exchange agent does not receive a properly completed election form prior to the election deadline will be deemed to be shares with respect to which no election has been made. The election form will indicate in a clear and unambiguous manner that a stockholder's failure to make a proper election prior to the election deadline will result in such stockholder receiving cash election consideration for such shares for which no proper election has been made. Any election will have been properly made only if the exchange agent will have received a properly completed election form by the election deadline. If your shares of Rite Aid common stock are held in a brokerage or other custodial account, you should receive instructions from the entity which holds your shares advising you of the procedures for making your election. If you do not receive these instructions, you should contact the entity that holds your shares.

Subject to the terms of the merger agreement and of the election form, the exchange agent will have reasonable discretion to determine whether any election has been properly or timely made and to disregard immaterial defects in the election form, and any good faith decisions of the exchange agent regarding such matters will be binding and conclusive. None of ACI, Merger Sub I, Merger Sub II, Rite Aid or the exchange agent will be under any obligation to notify any person of any defect in an election form. The election form will provide stockholders with a toll-free number to contact the exchange agent with any questions concerning making an election.

Q: What type of merger consideration will stockholders receive if they do not make an election?

A: A stockholder's failure to make a proper election prior to the election deadline will result in such stockholder receiving cash election consideration for such shares for which no proper election has been made.

Q: Can I make one election for some of my shares and another for the rest?

A: Yes. Each election form will permit the holder (or the beneficial owner through customary documentation and instructions) to specify (i) the number of shares of such stockholder's Rite Aid common stock with respect to which such holder elects to receive the stock election consideration, (ii) the number of shares of such holder's Rite Aid common stock with respect to which such holder elects to receive the cash election consideration or (iii) that such holder makes no election with respect to such holder's Rite Aid common stock, and, in such case of each of (i) and (ii), the particular shares for which the holder desires to make such election.

Q: Can I change or revoke my election after submitting an initial election?

A: Yes. Any election form may be revoked or changed by the person submitting the form, by written notice received by the exchange agent prior to the election deadline. In the event an election form is revoked prior to the election deadline and no subsequent election is properly made prior to the election deadline, the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented by such election form will be deemed to be shares with respect to which no election has been made. A stockholder's failure to make a proper election prior to the election deadline will result in such stockholder receiving cash election consideration for such shares for which no proper election has been made.

Q: What do I need to do now?

A: Rite Aid encourages you to read this proxy statement/prospectus, the annexes to this proxy statement/prospectus, including the merger agreement, and the documents we refer to in this proxy statement/prospectus carefully and consider how the mergers affect you. Then complete, sign, date and return, as promptly as possible, the enclosed proxy card in the accompanying reply envelope or grant your proxy electronically over the Internet or by telephone, so that your shares can be voted at the special meeting. If you hold your shares in street name, please refer to the voting instruction forms provided by your broker, bank or other nominee to vote your shares.

Q: Should I send in my stock certificates now?

A: No. After the merger is completed, under the terms of the merger agreement, you will receive shortly thereafter a letter of transmittal instructing you to send your stock certificates to the exchange agent in order to receive the merger consideration for each share of your common stock represented by the stock certificates. You should use the letter of transmittal to exchange your stock certificates for the stock election consideration and/or the cash election consideration, as applicable, to which you are entitled upon completion of the merger. After receiving the proper documentation from you, following the effective time, the exchange agent will deliver to you the ACI common stock in either certificated or book-entry form and any cash consideration to which you are entitled, if any. Please do not send in your stock certificates now.

Q: What happens if I sell or otherwise transfer my shares of Rite Aid common stock after the record date but before the special meeting?

A: The record date for the special meeting is earlier than the date of the special meeting and the date the merger is expected to be completed. If you sell or transfer your shares of your common stock after the record date but before the special meeting, unless special arrangements (such as the provision of a proxy) are made between you and the person to whom you sell or otherwise transfer your shares and each of you notifies Rite Aid in writing of such special arrangements, you will transfer the right to receive the merger consideration, if the merger is completed, to the person to whom you sell or transfer your shares of Rite Aid common stock, but you will retain your right to vote these shares at the special meeting. Even if you sell or otherwise transfer your shares of common stock after the record date, Rite Aid encourages you to complete, date, sign and return the enclosed proxy card or vote via the Internet or telephone.

Q: How does Rite Aid's board of directors recommend that I vote?

A: The Rite Aid board of directors, after considering the various factors described in the section entitled "The Merger Recommendation of the Rite Aid Board of Directors; Rite Aid's Reasons for the Merger" beginning on page 122 of this proxy statement/prospectus, unanimously determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, are advisable, fair to and in the best interests of Rite Aid and its stockholders, and adopted, approved and declared advisable the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

The Rite Aid board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote (i) FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, (ii) FOR the proposal to approve, by a non-binding, advisory vote, compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger and (iii) FOR the proposal to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes to adopt the merger agreement at the time of the special meeting.

Q: What risks should I consider in deciding whether to vote in favor of the merger?

A: You should carefully review the section entitled "Risk Factors" beginning on page 50 of this proxy statement/prospectus, which presents risks and uncertainties related to the merger, the combined company and the business and operations of each of ACI and Rite Aid.

Q: What happens if the merger is not completed?

A: If the merger agreement is not adopted by the Rite Aid stockholders or if the merger is not completed for any other reason, Rite Aid stockholders will not receive any payment for their shares of common stock. Instead, Rite Aid will remain an independent public company, your common stock in Rite Aid will continue to be listed and traded on the NYSE and registered under the Exchange Act and Rite Aid will continue to file periodic reports with the SEC.

Under specified circumstances, Rite Aid will be required to pay ACI a termination fee upon the termination of the merger agreement or will be entitled to receive a termination fee from ACI, as described in the sections entitled "The Merger Agreement Termination of the Merger Agreement Termination Fees" beginning on page 180 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: Do any of Rite Aid's directors or officers have interests in the merger that may differ from those of Rite Aid stockholders generally?

A: You should be aware that Rite Aid's directors and executive officers may have interests in the merger that may be different from, or in addition to, the interests of Rite Aid stockholders generally. The Rite Aid board of directors was aware of and considered these interests to the extent such interests existed at the time, among other matters, in evaluating and overseeing the negotiation of the merger agreement, in approving the merger agreement and the mergers and in recommending that the merger agreement be adopted by the stockholders of Rite Aid. For a description of the interests of Rite Aid's directors and executive officers in the merger, see the section entitled "Interests of the Directors and Officers of Rite Aid in the Merger" beginning on page 296 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: What vote is required to adopt the merger agreement?

A: The affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Rite Aid common stock is required to approve the merger proposal.

The failure of any stockholder of record to vote in person by ballot at the special meeting, to submit a signed proxy card or to grant a proxy electronically over the Internet or by telephone will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the merger proposal. If you hold your shares in street name, the failure to instruct your broker, bank or other nominee on how to vote your shares will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the merger proposal. An abstention will also have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the merger proposal.

As of June 22, 2018, the record date for determining who is entitled to vote at the special meeting, there were approximately 1,067,312,183 shares of Rite Aid common stock issued and outstanding. Each holder of Rite Aid common stock is entitled to one vote per share of stock owned by such holder as of the record date.

Q: What vote is required to approve the proposal to approve, by a non-binding, advisory vote, compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger and the proposal to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies?

A: Assuming a quorum is present, approval of the compensation proposal requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented at the special meeting, either in person or by proxy, and entitled to vote thereon. Approval of the adjournment proposal, whether or not a quorum is present, requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented at the special meeting, either in person or by proxy, and entitled to vote thereon.

The failure of any stockholder of record to vote in person by ballot at the special meeting, to submit a signed proxy card or to grant a proxy electronically over the Internet or by telephone will not have any effect on the compensation proposal or the adjournment proposal. If you hold your shares in street name, the failure to instruct your broker, bank or other nominee on how to vote your shares will not have any effect on the compensation proposal or the adjournment proposal. Abstentions will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the compensation proposal and the adjournment proposal.

Q: What happens if the non-binding advisory proposal to approve compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger is not approved?

A: Approval, on a non-binding, advisory basis, of compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger is not a condition to completion of the merger. The vote is an advisory vote and is not binding. Accordingly, regardless of the outcome of the advisory vote, if the merger is completed, Rite Aid may still pay such compensation to its named executive officers in accordance with the terms and conditions applicable to such compensation.

Q: What constitutes a quorum?

A: As of the record date, there were 1,067,312,183 shares of Rite Aid common stock outstanding and entitled to be voted at the special meeting. The presence, either in person or represented by proxy, of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Rite Aid common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting will constitute a quorum at the special meeting. As a result, in order to have a quorum at the special meeting, at least 533,656,092 shares of Rite Aid common stock must be represented by stockholders present in person or by proxy at the special meeting. Abstentions (which are described below) will count for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum for the transaction of business at the special meeting. Broker non-votes are shares held by a broker, bank or other nominee that are present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting, but with respect to which the broker, bank or other nominee is not instructed by the beneficial owner of such shares on how to vote on a particular proposal and the broker does not have discretionary voting power on such proposal. Because brokers, banks and other nominee holders of record do not have discretionary voting authority with respect to any of the three proposals, if a beneficial owner of shares of Rite Aid common stock held in street name does not give voting instructions to the broker, bank or other nominee with respect to any of the proposals, then those shares will not be present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting. If there are any broker non-votes, then such broker non-votes will count for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum for the transaction of business at the special meeting.

Q: What is the difference between holding shares as a stockholder of record and as a beneficial owner?

A: If your shares are registered directly in your name with Rite Aid's transfer agent, Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc., you are considered, with respect to those shares, to be the stockholder of record. In this case, this proxy statement/prospectus and your proxy card have been sent directly to you by Rite Aid.

If your shares are held through a broker, bank or other nominee, you are considered the beneficial owner of the shares of Rite Aid common stock held in street name. In that case, this proxy statement/prospectus has been forwarded to you by your broker, bank or other nominee who is considered, with respect to those shares, to be the stockholder of record. As the beneficial owner, you have the right to direct your broker, bank or other nominee on how to vote your shares by following their instructions for voting. You are also invited to attend the special meeting. However, because you are not the stockholder of record, you may not vote your shares in person at the special meeting unless you request and obtain a valid legal proxy from your broker, bank or other nominee.

Q: How may I vote?

A: If you are a stockholder of record, there are four ways to vote:

By attending the special meeting and voting in person by ballot;

By visiting the Internet at the address on your proxy card;

By calling toll-free (within the U.S. or Canada) at the phone number on your proxy card; or

Edgar Filing: RITE AID CORP - Form DEFM14A

By completing, dating, signing and returning the enclosed proxy card in the accompanying prepaid reply envelope.

A control number, located on your proxy card, is designed to verify your identity and allow you to vote your shares of common stock, and to confirm that your voting instructions have been properly recorded when voting electronically over the Internet or by telephone. Please be aware that, although there is no charge for voting your shares, if you vote electronically over the Internet or by telephone, you may incur costs such as telephone and Internet access charges for which you will be responsible.

Even if you plan to attend the special meeting in person, you are strongly encouraged to vote your shares of common stock by proxy. If you are a stockholder of record or if you obtain a valid legal proxy to vote shares which you beneficially own, you may still vote your shares of common stock in person at the special meeting even if you have previously voted by proxy. If you are present at the special meeting and vote in person, your previous vote by proxy will not be counted.

If your shares are held in street name through a broker, bank or other nominee, you may vote through your broker, bank or other nominee by completing and returning the voting form provided by your broker, bank or other nominee, or electronically over the Internet or by telephone through your broker, bank or other nominee if such a service is provided. To vote via the Internet or via telephone through your broker, bank or other nominee, you should follow the instructions on the voting form provided by your broker, bank or other nominee.

Q: If my broker holds my shares in street name, will my broker vote my shares for me?

A: Not without your direction. Your broker, bank or other nominee will only be permitted to vote your shares on any proposal only if you instruct your broker, bank or other nominee on how to vote. Broker non-votes are shares held by a broker, bank or other nominee that are present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting, but with respect to which the broker, bank or other nominee is not instructed by the beneficial owner of such shares on how to vote on a particular proposal and the broker does not have discretionary voting power on such proposal. Because brokers, banks and other nominee holders of record do not have discretionary voting authority with respect to any of the three proposals, if a beneficial owner of shares of Rite Aid common stock held in street name does not give voting instructions to the broker, bank or other nominee with respect to any of the proposals, then those shares will not be present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting. If there are any broker non-votes, then such broker non-votes will be counted as a vote AGAINST the merger proposal, but will have no effect on the compensation proposal or the adjournment proposal. Therefore, it is important that you instruct your broker, bank or other nominee on how you wish to vote your shares.

Q: May I change my vote after I have mailed my signed proxy card or otherwise submitted my vote by proxy?

A: Yes. If you are a stockholder of record, you may change your vote or revoke your proxy at any time before it is voted at the special meeting by:

Submitting a new proxy electronically over the Internet or by telephone after the date of the earlier submitted proxy;

Delivering a written notice of revocation to Rite Aid's Secretary;

Signing another proxy card with a later date and returning it to Rite Aid prior to the special meeting; or

Attending the special meeting and voting in person.

If you hold your shares of common stock in street name, you should contact your broker, bank or other nominee for instructions regarding how to change your vote; or contact Rite Aid's proxy solicitor, Morrow Sodali LLC at (800) 662-5200. You may also vote in person at the special meeting if you obtain a valid legal proxy from your broker, bank or other nominee.

Q: What is a proxy?

A: A proxy is your legal designation of another person, referred to as a proxy, to vote your shares of Rite Aid common stock. The written document describing the matters to be considered and voted on at the special meeting is called a proxy statement. The document used to designate a proxy to vote your shares of Rite Aid common stock is called a proxy card. The Rite Aid board of directors has designated John T. Standley, Darren W. Karst and James J. Comitale, and each of them with full power of substitution, as proxies for the special meeting.

Q: If a stockholder gives a proxy, how are the shares voted?

A: Regardless of the method you choose to vote, the individuals named on the enclosed proxy card, or your proxies, will vote your shares in the way that you indicate. When completing the Internet or telephone process or the proxy card, you may specify whether your shares should be voted FOR or AGAINST some or none of the specific items of business to come before the special meeting, or you may abstain from voting on all. If you properly sign and return your proxy card but do not mark the boxes showing how your shares should be voted on a matter, the shares represented by your properly signed proxy will be voted as recommended by the Rite Aid board of directors with respect to each proposal.

Q: What should I do if I receive more than one set of voting materials?

A: You may receive more than one set of voting materials, including multiple copies of this proxy statement/prospectus and multiple proxy cards or voting instruction cards. For example, if you hold your shares in more than one brokerage account, you will receive a separate voting instruction card for each brokerage account in which you hold shares. If you are a stockholder of record and your shares are registered in more than one name, you will receive more than one proxy card. Please complete, date, sign and return (or vote via the Internet or telephone with respect to) each proxy card and voting instruction card that you receive.

Q: Who will count the votes?

A: All votes will be counted by the independent inspector of election appointed for the special meeting.

Q: Where can I find the voting results of the special meeting?

A: Rite Aid intends to announce preliminary voting results at the special meeting and publish final results in a Current Report on Form 8-K that will be filed with the SEC within four (4) business days following the special meeting. All reports that Rite Aid files with the SEC are publicly available when filed. See the section entitled Where You Can Find More Information beginning on page 353 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: Will I be subject to U.S. federal income tax upon the exchange of Rite Aid common stock for cash pursuant to the merger?

A: The mergers, taken together, are expected to qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. Assuming the mergers so qualify, (i) Rite Aid stockholders that receive solely ACI common stock in the merger generally will not recognize gain or loss upon the exchange of shares of Rite Aid common stock for shares of ACI common stock pursuant to the merger, and (ii) Rite Aid stockholders that receive a combination of ACI common stock and cash in the merger generally will recognize gain (but not loss) equal to the lesser of the amount of cash received and the excess of the amount realized in the transaction (i.e., the fair market value of the ACI common stock received plus the amount of cash received) over their tax basis in their Rite Aid common stock. The U.S. federal income tax consequences described above may not apply to all holders of Rite Aid common stock. Because particular circumstances may differ, Rite Aid recommends that you consult your tax advisor to determine the U.S. federal income tax consequences relating to the mergers in light of your own particular circumstances and any consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or foreign taxing jurisdiction. A more complete description of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the mergers is provided under Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences beginning on page 320 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: What will the holders of outstanding Rite Aid equity awards receive in the merger?

A: At the effective time of the merger:

Each Rite Aid stock option will be assumed by ACI and converted into an ACI stock option, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable immediately prior to the completion of the merger, to acquire a number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Rite Aid stock option immediately prior to the effective time and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded down to the next lower whole number of shares after aggregating each individual holder's Rite Aid stock options with the same exercise price. The exercise price of each such ACI stock option will be equitably adjusted to be equal to the quotient of (x) the excess of (i) the exercise price per share of Rite Aid common stock subject to such option over (ii) the additional cash consideration and (y) the base exchange ratio (which results will be rounded up to the nearest whole cent).

Each Rite Aid time- and performance-vesting restricted stock unit held by any grantee other than a current or former non-employee director, consultant, employee or other service provider of Rite Aid who will not continue in employment or service with ACI (each such grantee, we refer to as a former service provider), which we refer to as a Rollover RSU, will be assumed by ACI and converted into an ACI time-vesting restricted stock unit, which we refer to as an ACI RSU, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable immediately prior to the completion of the merger, relating to a number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of Rollover RSUs held by the holder thereof immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement, and (y) the stock election exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares.

Each Rite Aid restricted stock award held by any grantee other than a former service provider, which we refer to as a Rollover RSA, will be assumed by ACI and converted into an ACI restricted stock award, which we refer to as an ACI RSA, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable immediately prior to the completion of the merger, relating to the number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Rollover RSA immediately prior to the effective time and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares, plus a number of shares of ACI common stock or an amount in cash equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Rollover RSA immediately prior to the effective time and (ii) the additional stock consideration or the additional cash consideration, as elected by the holder and settled or paid to the holder shortly following the completion of the merger.

Each Rite Aid restricted stock award held by a former service provider, which we refer to as a Former Service Provider RSA, will vest and the holder will be entitled to receive a number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSA immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares, plus a number of shares of ACI common stock or an amount in cash equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSA immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (ii) the additional stock consideration or the additional cash consideration, as elected by the holder.

Each Rite Aid time- and performance-vesting restricted stock unit held by a former service provider, which we refer to as a Former Service Provider RSU, will vest and the holder will be entitled to receive a number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSU immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of performance and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares, plus a number of shares of ACI common stock or an amount in cash equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSU immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (ii) the additional stock consideration or the additional cash consideration, as elected by the holder. To the extent that any Former Service Provider RSU by its terms provides for settlement in cash, the holder instead will be entitled to receive the cash value of the number of whole shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSU immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares, plus an amount in cash equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSU immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (ii) the additional cash consideration.

Q: When do you expect the merger to be completed?

A: While there is no assurance that the merger will close, the parties are working toward completing the merger early in the second half of calendar year 2018. However, the exact timing of completion of the merger cannot be predicted because the completion of the merger is subject to conditions, including, among other things, adoption of the merger agreement by the Rite Aid stockholders and the receipt of regulatory approvals.

Q: Who will serve on the combined company's board of directors following the merger?

A: Upon the closing of the merger, the board of directors of the combined company will be comprised of nine (9) members. As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, Rite Aid and ACI have identified all nine (9) members of the combined company's board of directors:

ACI has identified its four (4) designees: Robert G. Miller, who was selected to be Chairman, Lenard B. Tessler, who was selected to be Lead Director, Allen M. Gibson and B. Kevin Turner;

Rite Aid has identified its four (4) designees: John T. Standley, David R. Jessick, Michael N. Regan and Marcy Syms; and

ACI and Rite Aid have identified Sharon L. Allen as the joint designee.

ACI first proposed that Allen M. Gibson or another identified person be jointly designated to the ninth director seat. Rite Aid requested that a different independent candidate be considered who, among other criteria and unlike the first two proposed persons, did not have any affiliation with or investment in Cerberus. ACI then proposed Sharon L. Allen to be jointly designated to the ninth director seat. Ms. Allen was asked to join the board of a predecessor company to ACI as an independent director when ACI was considering its proposed initial public offering in 2015, and has been on the board since June 2015. Ms. Allen had been the former Executive Chairman of Deloitte LLP from 2003 until her retirement in 2011, and currently is a director and Chair of the Audit Committee of each of Bank of America Corporation and First Solar Inc. Ms. Allen also served as the past Chairman of the National Board of the YMCA from 2012 to 2014 and she appeared on the Forbes list of "The 100 Most Powerful Women in the World" for four consecutive years from 2006 to 2009 and Directorships "100 Most Influential People in Corporate Governance" for four consecutive years from 2007 to 2010. Other than her service on the ACI board and its predecessor, Ms. Allen has no relationships with ACI, its current shareholders including Cerberus or Rite Aid, or their respective officers and directors. After carefully reviewing her qualifications, including through an interview of Ms. Allen conducted by Rite Aid's lead independent director and all members of its nominating and governance committee, the Rite Aid board of directors unanimously approved the designation of Ms. Allen to the ACI board upon consummation of the merger.

For more information, please see the section entitled "The Merger - Governance of ACI Following the Merger" beginning on page 144 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: Where will the headquarters of the combined company be located and who will serve in senior leadership roles following the merger?

A: Immediately following the merger, the combined company will have co-corporate headquarters in Boise, Idaho and in the Harrisburg, Pennsylvania metropolitan area. Mr. John T. Standley, the current Chief Executive Officer of Rite Aid, is expected to be the Chief Executive Officer of the combined company following the merger. Mr. Robert G. Miller, the current Chief Executive Officer of ACI, is expected to be the Chairman of the combined company following the merger. In addition to Messrs. Standley and Miller, the leadership team is expected to include ACI's recently appointed President and Chief Operating Officer, Jim Donald, who previously served as Chief Executive Officer of Starbucks Corporation and as a senior executive at several food and drug retailers, including Wal Mart Stores, Inc., Albertson's, Inc. and Safeway Inc. and Rite Aid's current President and Chief Operating Officer, Kermit Crawford, who has significant experience in the drug retail and healthcare industries, including serving as a senior executive at WBA. The rest of the combined company's executive team will be identified in due course as Rite Aid and ACI continue working towards closing of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

Q: How will my rights as a stockholder of ACI following the merger differ from my current rights as a Rite Aid stockholder?

A: Immediately prior to the closing of the merger, ACI's certificate of incorporation and bylaws will be amended to be in substantially the forms attached as Annex C and Annex D, respectively, of this proxy statement/prospectus. As a result, the rights of Rite Aid stockholders who become stockholders of ACI in the merger will continue to be governed by the laws of the State of Delaware, the new ACI certificate of incorporation and the new ACI bylaws. For more information, see the sections entitled "Comparison of Rights of ACI Stockholders and Rite Aid Stockholders" beginning on page 332 of this proxy statement/prospectus and "The Merger - Amendment and Restatement of ACI Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws" beginning on page 145 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: Am I entitled to appraisal rights under the DGCL?

A: No, Rite Aid stockholders will not have appraisal rights under the DGCL with respect to the merger because holders of shares of Rite Aid common stock are not required to receive consideration other than shares of ACI common stock (and cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any) in the merger and shares of ACI common stock will be listed on the NYSE immediately following the merger. The election to receive cash consideration is voluntary and dependent upon a stockholder's election (other than cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any).

Q: Who can help answer my questions?

A: If you have any questions concerning the merger, the special meeting or this proxy statement/prospectus, or would like additional copies of this proxy statement/prospectus or need help voting your shares of Rite Aid common stock, please contact Rite Aid's proxy solicitor:

30 Hunter Lane

Camp Hill, Pennsylvania 17011

(717) 761-2633

Rite Aid Corporation, a Delaware corporation, which we refer to as Rite Aid, was incorporated in 1968 and, after giving effect to the sale of certain stores to Walgreens Boots Alliance, Inc., which we refer to as WBA, is one of the largest retail drugstore chains in the United States based on both revenues and number of stores. As of May 7, 2018, Rite Aid operated 2,533 stores in 19 states across the country. Rite Aid is a pharmacy retail healthcare company that provides its customers and communities with a high level of care and service through various programs it offers through its two reportable business segments, its Retail Pharmacy segment and its Pharmacy Services segment. Rite Aid accomplishes its goal of delivering comprehensive care to its customers through its retail drugstores, RediClinic walk-in retail health clinics and transparent and traditional EnvisionRxOptions and MedTrak pharmacy benefit managers, which we refer to as PBMs. Rite Aid also offers fully integrated mail-order and specialty pharmacy services through EnvisionPharmacies. Additionally through Envision Insurance Company, EnvisionRxOptions also serves one of the fastest-growing demographics in healthcare: seniors enrolled in Medicare Part D. When combined with Rite Aid's retail platform, this comprehensive suite of services allows Rite Aid to provide value and choice to customers, patients and payors and allows it to succeed in today's evolving healthcare marketplace. Rite Aid is headquartered in Camp Hill, Pennsylvania.

Rite Aid common stock is listed on the NYSE under the symbol RAD.

Albertsons Companies, Inc.

250 Parkcenter Blvd.

Boise, Idaho 83706

(208) 395-6200

Albertsons Companies, Inc., a Delaware corporation, which we refer to as ACI, was formed in 2015 in connection with the planned reorganizational transactions of AB Acquisition. For more information on the ACI Reorganization Transactions, see the section entitled Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of ACI The ACI Reorganization Transactions beginning on page 212 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

ACI is one of the largest food and drug retailers in the United States, with both a strong local presence and national scale. As of February 24, 2018, ACI operated 2,318 stores across 35 states and the District of Columbia under 20 well-known banners including Albertsons, Safeway, Vons, Jewel-Osco, Shaw's, Acme, Tom Thumb, Randalls, United Supermarkets, Pavilions, Star Market, Haggen and Carrs, as well as meal kit company Plated (as defined herein) based in New York City. ACI operated 1,777 pharmacies, 1,275 in-store branded coffee shops and 397 adjacent fuel centers. Over the past five years, ACI has completed a series of acquisitions, beginning in March 2013 with its acquisition of New Albertsons, Inc., which we refer to as NAI (now known as New Albertsons L.P., which we refer to as NALP) from SUPERVALU INC., which we refer to as SuperValu, which included the Albertsons stores that ACI did not already own and stores operating under the Acme, Jewel-Osco, Shaw's and Star Market banners. In December 2013, ACI acquired United Supermarkets, LLC, which we refer to as United, a regional grocery chain in North and West Texas. In January 2015, ACI acquired Safeway Inc., which we refer to as Safeway, which at the time of the acquisition was the second-largest publicly traded food retailer in the United States, in a transaction that significantly increased ACI's scale and geographic reach. For the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI achieved annual run-rate synergies related to the acquisition of Safeway of approximately $750 million. ACI also completed the acquisition of 73 stores from The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, Inc., which we refer to as A&P, for ACI's Acme banner and 35 stores from Haggen Holdings, LLC, which we refer to as Haggen, during the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016, and ACI acquired an additional 29 stores from Haggen during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, 15 of which operate under the Haggen banner.

Ranch Acquisition Corp.

c/o Albertsons Companies, Inc.

250 Parkcenter Blvd.

Boise, Idaho 83706

(208) 395-6200

Ranch Acquisition Corp., a Delaware corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of Merger Sub II (as defined herein), was formed solely for the purpose of facilitating the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. We refer to Ranch Acquisition Corp. as Merger Sub I. Merger Sub I has not carried on any activities or operations to date, except for those activities incidental to its formation and undertaken in connection with the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. Pursuant to the merger agreement, at the closing of the merger, Merger Sub I will be merged with and into Rite Aid, with Rite Aid surviving the merger as a wholly-owned subsidiary of ACI.

Ranch Acquisition II LLC

c/o Albertsons Companies, Inc.

250 Parkcenter Blvd.

Boise, Idaho 83706

(208) 395-6200

Ranch Acquisition II LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and a wholly-owned subsidiary of ACI, was formed solely for the purpose of facilitating the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. We refer to Ranch Acquisition II LLC as Merger Sub II. Merger Sub II has not carried on any activities or operations to date, except for those activities incidental to its formation and undertaken in connection with the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. Pursuant to the merger agreement, immediately after the merger, Rite Aid, as the corporation surviving the merger, will be merged with and into Merger Sub II, with Merger Sub II surviving the subsequent merger as a wholly-owned subsidiary of ACI and a limited liability company.

The Merger and the Merger Agreement (Page 94 and Page 149)

The terms and conditions of the merger are contained in the merger agreement, a copy of which is attached as Annex A to this proxy statement/prospectus. We encourage you to read the merger agreement carefully and in its entirety, as it is the legal document that governs the merger.

The proposed transaction is a series of two mergers whereby Rite Aid will become a subsidiary of ACI pursuant to the merger agreement. If the merger proposal is approved by the requisite number of holders of Rite Aid common stock and the other closing conditions under the merger agreement have been satisfied or waived, Merger Sub I will merge with and into Rite Aid, with Rite Aid surviving the merger as a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of Merger Sub II, and, immediately following the merger, Rite Aid will merge with and into Merger Sub II, with Merger Sub II surviving the subsequent merger as a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of ACI and a limited liability company. As a result of the mergers, Rite Aid will become a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of ACI.

Following the merger, ACI common stock will be listed on the NYSE under the ticker symbol ACI, Rite Aid common stock will be delisted from the NYSE, deregistered under the Exchange Act and will cease to be publicly traded.

Merger Consideration (Page 94)

At the effective time of the merger, each share of Rite Aid common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger (other than shares of Rite Aid common stock owned, directly or indirectly, by ACI, Merger Sub I or Rite Aid (including shares of Rite Aid common stock held as treasury stock by Rite Aid), and in each case not held on behalf of third parties, immediately prior to the effective time of the merger) will be converted into the right to receive and become exchangeable for 0.1000, which we refer to as the base exchange ratio, of a fully paid and nonassessable share of ACI common stock, without interest, which we refer to as the base consideration, plus, at the election of the holder of Rite Aid common stock, either:

for each share of Rite Aid common stock with respect to which an election to receive cash has been effectively made and not revoked or redeemed, and for each share of Rite Aid common stock with respect to which a Rite Aid stockholder has not made an election to receive cash or stock, an amount in cash equal to $0.1832 per share, without interest, which we refer to as the additional cash consideration (and which, together with the base consideration, we refer to as the cash election consideration); provided, that to the extent the aggregate additional cash consideration to be paid to any holder of shares of Rite Aid common stock for all such holder's shares of Rite Aid common stock held in a single account would result in such stockholder being entitled to a fraction of a cent in cash with respect to the shares of Rite Aid common stock held in such account, such aggregate amount will be rounded down to the nearest whole cent; or

for each share of Rite Aid common stock with respect to which an election to receive additional ACI common stock has been effectively made and not revoked, 0.0079, which we refer to as the additional stock election exchange ratio (and which, together with the base exchange ratio, we refer to as the stock election exchange ratio), of a fully paid and nonassessable share of ACI common stock, without interest, which we refer to as the additional stock consideration (and which, together with the base consideration, we refer to as the stock election consideration).

For the avoidance of doubt, the cash election consideration consists of both the base consideration, which consists of ACI common stock, and the additional cash consideration, which consists of cash. No fractional shares of ACI common stock will be issued in the merger, and in lieu thereof, holders of Rite Aid common stock who would otherwise have been entitled to a fraction of a share of ACI common stock will be paid upon surrender of shares of Rite Aid common stock (and after taking into account and aggregating the total number of shares of ACI common stock to be issued in exchange for the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented by all certificates, or book-entry shares, as applicable, surrendered by such holder and the shares of ACI common stock received by such holder as a result of both the base exchange ratio and the additional stock election exchange ratio) cash in an amount, without interest and rounded to the nearest cent, representing such holder's proportionate interest in the net proceeds from the sale by the exchange agent, on behalf of all such holders, of all fractional shares of ACI common stock which would otherwise be issued.

Ownership of the Combined Company (Page 95)

Assuming all Rite Aid stockholders elect to receive the additional cash consideration, approximately 28.0% of the outstanding ACI common stock will be held by stockholders that were holders of Rite Aid common stock immediately prior to the effectiveness of the merger and approximately 72.0% of the ACI common stock will be held by stockholders that were holders of ACI common stock immediately prior to the effectiveness of the merger. Assuming all Rite Aid stockholders elect to receive the stock election exchange ratio, approximately 29.6% of the outstanding ACI common stock will be held by stockholders that were holders of Rite Aid common stock immediately prior to the effectiveness of the merger and approximately 70.4% of the ACI common stock will be held by stockholders that were holders of ACI common stock immediately prior to the effectiveness of the merger.

Headquarters

ACI and Rite Aid have agreed that ACI will have co-corporate headquarters, one in Boise, Idaho, and one in the Harrisburg, Pennsylvania metropolitan area.

Board of Directors

Upon the closing of the merger, the board of directors of the combined company will be comprised of nine (9) members. As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, Rite Aid and ACI have identified all nine (9) members of the combined company's board of directors:

ACI has identified its four (4) designees: Robert G. Miller, who was selected to be Chairman, Lenard B. Tessler, who was selected to be Lead Director, Allen M. Gibson and B. Kevin Turner;

Rite Aid has identified its four (4) designees: John T. Standley, David R. Jessick, Michael N. Regan and Marcy Syms; and

ACI and Rite Aid have identified Sharon L. Allen as the joint designee.

ACI first proposed that Allen M. Gibson or another identified person be jointly designated to the ninth director seat. Rite Aid requested that a different independent candidate be considered who, among other criteria and unlike the first two proposed persons, did not have any affiliation with or investment in Cerberus. ACI then proposed Sharon L. Allen to be jointly designated to the ninth director seat. Ms. Allen was asked to join the board of a predecessor company to ACI as an independent director when ACI was considering its proposed initial public offering in 2015, and has been on the board since June 2015. Ms. Allen had been the former Executive Chairman of Deloitte LLP from 2003 until her retirement in 2011, and currently is a director and Chair of the Audit Committee of each of Bank of America Corporation and First Solar Inc. Ms. Allen also served as the past Chairman of the National Board of the YMCA from 2012 to 2014 and she appeared on the Forbes list of The 100 Most Powerful Women in the World for four consecutive years from 2006 to 2009 and Directorships 100 Most Influential People in Corporate Governance for four consecutive years from 2007 to 2010. Other than her service on the ACI board and its predecessor, Ms. Allen has no relationships with ACI, its current shareholders including Cerberus or Rite Aid, or their respective officers and directors. After carefully reviewing her qualifications, including through an interview of Ms. Allen conducted by Rite Aid's lead independent director and all members of its nominating and governance committee, the Rite Aid board of directors unanimously approved the designation of Ms. Allen to the ACI board upon consummation of the merger.

After the effective time, and until such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least ten percent (10%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause two nominees designated by Cerberus to be elected to the ACI board of directors. From and after such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least ten percent (10%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, but beneficially owns at least five percent (5%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause one nominee designated by Cerberus to be elected to the ACI board of directors. Until such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least fifteen percent (15%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause directors designated by Cerberus to be elected Chairman and Lead Director, provided that, if Robert G. Miller has ceased to serve as Chairman, either the Chairman or the Lead Director will qualify as independent under the rules of the NYSE and will not be a partner or employee of Cerberus, its affiliates or any of the ACI Institutional Investors. Until such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least ten percent (10%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause a director designated by Cerberus to be elected Lead Director. Other than as described above, there are no agreements between Rite Aid and ACI regarding, and no decisions have been made with respect to, the selection of directors of ACI following the merger.

Management

ACI and Rite Aid expect that following the merger John T. Standley, the current Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Rite Aid, will serve as Chief Executive Officer of ACI, although no agreement has been negotiated as of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus with respect to the terms of Mr. Standley's expected employment. There can be no assurances that any such agreement with respect to Mr. Standley's employment with ACI will be reached. Mr. Robert G. Miller, the current Chief Executive Officer of ACI, is expected to be the Chairman of the combined company following the merger. In addition to Mr. Standley, the leadership team is expected to include ACI's recently appointed President and Chief Operating Officer, Jim Donald, who previously served as Chief Executive Officer of Starbucks Corporation and as a senior executive at several food and drug retailers, including Wal Mart Stores, Inc., Albertson's, Inc. and Safeway Inc., and Rite Aid's current President and Chief Operating Officer, Kermit Crawford, who has significant experience in the drug retail and healthcare industries, including serving as a senior executive at Walgreens Boots Alliance, Inc.

The rest of the combined company's executive team will be identified in due course prior to the closing of the merger.

The Rite Aid board of directors, after considering various factors described herein, unanimously determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, are advisable, fair to and in the best interests of Rite Aid and its stockholders, and adopted, approved and declared advisable the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

The Rite Aid board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote (i) FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, (ii) FOR the proposal to approve, by a non-binding, advisory vote, compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger and (iii) FOR the proposal to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes to adopt the merger agreement at the time of the special meeting.

For more information on Rite Aid's reasons for the merger and the recommendation of the Rite Aid board of directors, see the section entitled "The Merger Recommendation of the Rite Aid Board of Directors; Rite Aid's Reasons for the Merger" beginning on page 122 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Opinion of Rite Aid's Financial Advisor (Page 129)

In connection with the proposed mergers, Rite Aid's financial advisor, Citigroup Global Markets Inc., which we refer to as Citi, delivered a written opinion, dated February 17, 2018, to the Rite Aid board of directors as to the fairness, from a financial point of view and as of the date of the opinion, of (i) the base exchange ratio plus the additional cash consideration or (ii) the stock election exchange ratio, as applicable, provided for in the merger agreement. The full text of Citi's written opinion, dated February 17, 2018, to the Rite Aid board of directors, which describes the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations and qualifications on the review undertaken, is attached as Annex B to this proxy statement/prospectus and is incorporated herein by reference. The description of Citi's opinion set forth below is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of Citi's opinion. Citi's opinion was provided for the information of the Rite Aid board of directors (in its capacity as such) in connection with its evaluation of (i) the base exchange ratio plus the additional cash consideration or (ii) the stock election exchange ratio, as applicable, from a financial point of view and did not address any other terms, aspects or implications of the mergers. Citi expressed no view as to, and its opinion did not address, the underlying business decision of Rite Aid to effect or enter into the mergers, the relative merits of the mergers as compared to any alternative business strategies that might exist for Rite Aid or the effect of any other transaction which Rite Aid might engage in or consider. Citi's opinion is not intended to be and does not constitute a recommendation to any securityholder as to any election made by such securityholder or how such securityholder should vote or act on any matters relating to the proposed mergers or otherwise.

Information About the Special Meeting (Page 86)

Date, Time and Place

The special meeting of Rite Aid stockholders will be held on August 9, 2018 at the office of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP, 4 Times Square, New York, NY 10036, at 8:30 a.m., Eastern time.

Purpose

At the special meeting, Rite Aid will ask Rite Aid stockholders of record as of the close of business on June 22, 2018, which we refer to as the record date, to vote on proposals (i) to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, (ii) to approve, by a non-binding, advisory vote, compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger, and (iii) to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes to adopt the merger agreement at the time of the special meeting.

Record Date; Shares Entitled to Vote

You are entitled to vote at the special meeting if you owned shares of Rite Aid common stock on the record date. You will have one vote at the special meeting for each share of Rite Aid common stock you owned at the close of business on the record date.

Quorum

As of the record date, there were approximately 1,067,312,183 shares of Rite Aid common stock outstanding and entitled to be voted at the special meeting. A quorum of stockholders is necessary to hold a special meeting. The holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Rite Aid common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting, either present in person or represented by proxy, will constitute a quorum at the special meeting. As a result, 533,656,092 shares must be represented by proxy or by stockholders present and entitled to vote at the special meeting to have a quorum.

Required Vote

The affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Rite Aid common stock entitled to vote thereon is required to approve the merger proposal. Assuming a quorum is present, approval of the compensation proposal requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented at the special meeting, either in person or by proxy, and entitled to vote thereon. Approval of the adjournment proposal, whether or not a quorum is present, requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented at the special meeting, either in person or by proxy, and entitled to vote thereon.

Share Ownership of Rite Aid Directors and Executive Officers

At the close of business on June 22, 2018, the record date, Rite Aid directors and executive officers beneficially owned and were entitled to vote, in the aggregate, 8,474,826 shares of Rite Aid common stock (excluding any shares of Rite Aid common stock that would be delivered upon exercise or conversion of stock options or other equity-based awards), which represented approximately 0.79% of the outstanding shares of Rite Aid common stock on that date. Rite Aid's directors and executive officers have informed Rite Aid that they currently intend to vote all of their shares of Rite Aid common stock (i) FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, (ii) FOR the proposal to approve, by a non-binding, advisory vote, compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger and (iii) FOR the proposal to approve one or more adjournments or postponements of the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes in favor of approval of the merger agreement.

Voting of Proxies

Any Rite Aid stockholder of record entitled to vote at the special meeting may submit a proxy by returning a signed proxy card by mail or voting electronically over the Internet or by telephone, or may vote in person by appearing at the special meeting. If you are a beneficial owner and hold your shares of Rite Aid common stock in street name through a broker, bank or other nominee, you should instruct your broker, bank or other nominee on how you wish to vote your shares of Rite Aid common stock using the instructions provided by your broker, bank or other nominee. Under applicable stock exchange rules, if you fail to instruct your broker, bank or other nominee on how to vote your shares, your broker, bank or other nominee only has discretion to vote your shares on routine matters. Proposals 1, 2 and 3 in this proxy statement/prospectus are non-routine matters, and brokers, banks and other nominees therefore cannot vote on these proposals without your instructions. Therefore, it is important that you cast your vote or instruct your broker, bank or other nominee on how you wish to vote your shares.

If you are a stockholder of record, you may change your vote or revoke your proxy at any time before it is voted at the special meeting by submitting a new proxy electronically over the Internet or by telephone after the date of the earlier submitted proxy, signing another proxy card with a later date and returning it to Rite Aid prior to the special meeting or attending the special meeting and voting in person. If you hold your shares of common stock in street name, you should contact your broker, bank or other nominee for instructions regarding how to change your vote; or contact Rite Aid's proxy solicitor, Morrow Sodali LLC at (800) 662-5200.

The merger agreement provides that Rite Aid's equity awards that are outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will be subject to the following treatment at the effective time of the merger:

Options. Each Rite Aid stock option will be assumed by ACI and converted into an ACI stock option, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable immediately prior to the completion of the merger, to acquire a number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Rite Aid stock option immediately prior to the effective time and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded down to the next lower whole number of shares after aggregating each individual holder's Rite Aid stock options with the same exercise price. The exercise price of each such ACI stock option will be equitably adjusted to be equal to the quotient of (x) the excess of (i) the exercise price per share of Rite Aid common stock subject to such option over (ii) the additional cash consideration and (y) the base exchange ratio (which results will be rounded up to the nearest whole cent).

Rollover RSUs. Each Rollover RSU will be assumed by ACI and converted into an ACI RSU, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable immediately prior to the completion of the merger, relating to a number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of Rollover RSUs held by the holder thereof immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement, and (y) the stock election exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares.

Rollover RSAs. Each Rollover RSA will be assumed by ACI and converted into an ACI RSA, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable immediately prior to the completion of the merger, relating to the number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Rollover RSA immediately prior to the effective time and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares, plus a number of shares of ACI common stock or an amount in cash equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Rollover RSA immediately prior to the effective time and (ii) the additional stock consideration or the additional cash consideration, as elected by the holder and settled or paid to the holder shortly following the completion of the merger.

Former Service Provider RSAs. Each Former Service Provider RSA will vest and the holder will be entitled to receive a number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSA immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares, plus a number of shares of ACI common stock or an amount in cash equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSA immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (ii) the additional stock consideration or the additional cash consideration, as elected by the holder.

Former Service Provider RSUs. Each Former Service Provider RSU will vest and the holder will be entitled to receive a number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSU immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of performance and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares, plus a number of shares of ACI common stock or an amount in cash equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSU immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (ii) the additional stock consideration or the additional cash consideration, as elected by the holder. To the extent that any Former Service Provider RSU by its terms provides for settlement in cash, the holder instead will be entitled to receive the cash value of the number of whole shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSU immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares, plus an amount in cash equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSU immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (ii) the additional cash consideration.

Rite Aid stockholders should be aware that the directors and executive officers of Rite Aid may have certain interests in the merger that are different from, and in addition to, the interests of Rite Aid stockholders generally. The Rite Aid board of directors was aware of and considered these interests to the extent that such interests existed at the time, among other matters, in evaluating and overseeing the negotiation of the merger agreement, in approving the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby and recommending that Rite Aid stockholders vote in favor of the merger proposal. These interests may include, among others:

Continued indemnification and directors and officers liability insurance to be provided by the combined company.

The treatment of outstanding equity awards described above in the section entitled Treatment of Equity and Equity-Based Awards beginning on page 296 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Mr. Standley is expected to serve as Chief Executive Officer of the combined company following the merger.

The entitlement of a Rite Aid executive officer to receive severance benefits under his or her employment agreement if (i) the officer is terminated other than for cause or (ii) the officer resigns with good reason (as such terms are defined in the employment agreements), which we refer to as a qualifying termination, as follows:

Cash Severance. Cash severance equal to two times the executive's annual base salary and target annual bonus for each of Messrs. Standley, Karst, Crawford, Everett and Schroeder, and cash severance equal to two times the executive's annual base salary for each other executive officer (including Ms. Konrad).

Pro Rata Bonus. A pro rata target annual bonus to the extent that such targets have been achieved or exceeded for the fiscal year (based on the number of days in the fiscal year prior to termination).

Health Benefit Continuation. Two (2) years of continued coverage under the combined company's health and medical plans for the executive and his or her covered dependents.

Accelerated Vesting of Certain Outstanding Equity Awards.

The employment agreement with Mr. Standley provides for the accelerated vesting of then-outstanding unvested Rite Aid options upon the occurrence of a change in control. The merger is expected to constitute a change in control for the purposes of Mr. Standley's employment agreement. As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, the exercise price of the options held by Mr. Standley that would vest exceeds the per share merger consideration assumed for purposes of this proxy statement/prospectus as further described in the section entitled "Interests of the Directors and Officers of Rite Aid in the Merger - Accelerated Vesting of Equity and Equity-Based Awards Upon Certain Terminations - Acceleration of Equity and Equity-Based Awards Upon Termination" beginning on page 298 of this proxy statement/prospectus. Mr. Standley's employment agreement further provides that, upon a qualifying termination, all outstanding restrictions with respect to any Rite Aid restricted stock awards will lapse to the extent the restrictions would have lapsed had Mr. Standley remained employed by Rite Aid for a period of three (3) years following the date of such termination.

The employment agreements with each of the other executive officers (including other named executive officers) provides that, upon a qualifying termination, all outstanding Rite

Aid stock options will immediately vest and become exercisable and, other than with respect to one executive officer, all restrictions with respect to any Rite Aid restricted stock awards will lapse, in each case, to the extent the restrictions would have lapsed had the executives remained employed by Rite Aid for a period of two (2) years following the date of such termination. As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, the exercise price of the options that would vest which are held by Rite Aid's executive officers other than Mr. Crawford exceeds the per share merger consideration assumed for purposes of this proxy statement/prospectus as further described in the section entitled Interests of the Directors and Officers of Rite Aid in the Merger Accelerated Vesting of Equity and Equity-Based Awards Upon Certain Terminations Acceleration of Equity and Equity-Based Awards Upon Termination beginning on page 298 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

The entitlement of a Rite Aid executive officer to accelerated vesting of the unvested portion of his or her individual account balance under Rite Aid's supplemental executive retirement plan upon a termination without cause within twelve (12) months of the completion of the merger.

The entitlement of a Rite Aid executive officer to accelerated vesting of his or her retention awards upon a qualifying termination.

If the proposal to adopt the merger agreement is approved by the Rite Aid stockholders and the merger closes, under the terms of the merger agreement, any shares of Rite Aid common stock held by Rite Aid's directors and executive officers, including such shares held following the vesting or settlement of equity and equity-based awards, will be treated in the same manner as outstanding shares of common stock held by all other stockholders of Rite Aid entitled to receive the merger consideration described above in the section entitled Merger Consideration beginning on page 16 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

General

Rite Aid and ACI have agreed to use their reasonable best efforts to take, and to assist and cooperate with each other in taking, all actions and to use their reasonable best efforts to do all things reasonably necessary, proper or advisable, to consummate the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, subject to certain specified limitations under the merger agreement. These approvals include approval under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended, which we refer to as the HSR Act. Although Rite Aid and ACI expect that all required regulatory clearances and approvals will be obtained, Rite Aid and ACI cannot assure you that these regulatory clearances and approvals will be timely obtained or obtained at all, or that the granting of these regulatory clearances and approvals will not involve the imposition of additional conditions on the completion of the merger, including the requirement to divest assets, or require changes to the terms of the merger agreement. These conditions or changes could result in the conditions to the closing of the merger not being satisfied.

HSR Act and U.S. Antitrust Matters

Under the merger agreement, the merger cannot be completed until the applicable waiting periods under the HSR Act (and any extension thereof) have expired or been terminated. Rite Aid and ACI filed their respective HSR Act notifications on February 26, 2018. The required 30-day waiting period under the HSR Act expired at 11:59 p.m. Eastern time on March 28, 2018.

Other Regulatory Approvals

Approval (or non-objection, grant of exemption or, in certain circumstances, alternative resolution, as the case may be) will be sought from (i) the state insurance regulator in the State of Ohio for the change of control of Envision Insurance Company, (ii) the Board of Pharmacy of the State of California with respect to the transfer of certain licenses, (iii) the Insurance Department of the State of Texas with respect to the change of control of Rite Aid's subsidiaries licensed as third-party administrators in Texas, (iv) the state insurance regulator in the State of Utah with respect to the change of ownership of Rite Aid's subsidiary licensed as a health discount program operator, and (v) the Boards of Pharmacy of the States of California, Georgia, Virginia, North Carolina and Maine and the California Department of Managed Care with respect to the application for certain licenses. To obtain these approvals, ACI and its applicable stockholders, or the applicable Rite Aid subsidiary, as the case may be, has filed or will file, acquisition of control or similar statements, notices or applications (or requests for grants of exemption relating thereto), as required by the insurance and health care laws and regulations of each applicable state or jurisdiction. The approval of a Form A application with the Ohio Department of Insurance for ACI and its applicable stockholder(s) (which was filed on April 24, 2018) is a condition to the completion of the merger. In addition, either prior to or following the completion of the merger, ACI or Rite Aid will be required to make change of control notification filings with various federal, state and local regulators pursuant to applicable insurance, pharmacy, health care, money transmitter, check cashing, liquor, tobacco, lottery/gaming, food stamp, seed/nursery agriculture, dairy, weights/measures and other laws and regulations (none of which notification filings are conditions to the completion of the merger).

No Appraisal Rights (Page 345)

Rite Aid stockholders will not have appraisal rights under the DGCL with respect to the merger because holders of shares of Rite Aid common stock are not required to receive consideration other than shares of ACI common stock (and cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any) in the merger and shares of ACI common stock will be listed on the NYSE immediately following the merger. The election to receive cash consideration is voluntary and dependent upon Rite Aid stockholders' election (other than cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any).

Listing of ACI Common Stock on the NYSE (Page 147)

At this time, there is no established public trading market for ACI common stock. ACI common stock is not currently traded or quoted on a stock exchange or quotation system. At the closing of the merger, ACI will become a publicly traded company and the ACI common stock is expected to be listed on the NYSE under the symbol ACI.

Conditions to Completion of the Mergers (Page 176)

The obligations of ACI, Merger Sub I, Merger Sub II and Rite Aid to effect the merger are subject to the satisfaction or waiver by each of the parties to the merger agreement of the following conditions at or prior to the effective time:

Approval of the merger agreement by holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Rite Aid common stock entitled to vote on the merger;

Expiration or earlier termination of the waiting period under the HSR Act (which condition was satisfied on March 28, 2018);

Table of Contents

The absence of any law or order prohibiting the merger;

Receipt by each of Rite Aid and ACI of the opinion of its respective counsel to the effect that the mergers, taken together, will be treated as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code;

Approval for listing on the NYSE of the shares of ACI common stock to be issued in the merger and to be reserved for issuance in connection with the merger (which approval was obtained on June 21, 2018);

Approval by the Ohio Department of Insurance (which Form A application was filed with the Ohio Department of Insurance on April 24, 2018);

Effectiveness of the registration statement on Form S-4 of which this proxy statement/prospectus forms a part;

Receipt by Rite Aid of no less than $4.076 billion of gross proceeds under the WBA asset purchase agreement (which condition was satisfied on March 13, 2018);

Distribution by Albertsons Investor of all shares of ACI common stock owned by it to its respective equityholders;

Delivery by ACI to Rite Aid of lock-up agreements, no action agreements and the standstill agreement, in each case, in the form agreed to by the parties to the merger agreement; and

Absence of a material adverse effect on Rite Aid and ACI, in each case, as defined in the merger agreement. For a more complete summary of the conditions that must be satisfied or waived prior to completion of the merger, see the section entitled "The Merger Agreement Conditions to Completion of the Mergers" beginning on page 176 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

No Solicitation or Negotiation of Acquisition Proposals (Page 164)

As of the date of the merger agreement, Rite Aid agreed to immediately cease all activities, discussions or negotiations with any parties that may have been ongoing prior to the date of the merger agreement with respect to an acquisition proposal (as described below), to request that such parties promptly return or destroy all confidential information relating to Rite Aid or its subsidiaries previously furnished to such persons prior to the date of the merger agreement in connection with the consideration of alternative proposals and to immediately terminate access to data rooms previously granted to such parties.

Under the merger agreement, Rite Aid is generally not permitted to solicit or discuss acquisition proposals with third parties, subject to certain exceptions. Except as otherwise provided in the merger agreement, Rite Aid may not, and has agreed to cause its subsidiaries and its and its subsidiaries' directors, officers and employees not to, and has agreed to use its reasonable best efforts to cause its and its subsidiaries' representatives not to, directly or indirectly:

initiate, solicit, knowingly encourage, knowingly induce or knowingly facilitate (including by providing nonpublic information relating to Rite Aid or its subsidiaries) the making of any acquisition proposal or any inquiry, offer or proposal that would reasonably be expected to lead to an acquisition proposal;

engage or otherwise participate in any negotiations or discussions concerning, or provide access to its properties, books and records or any confidential or nonpublic information or data

to, any person in connection with, relating to or for the purpose of encouraging or facilitating, an acquisition proposal or any inquiry, offer or proposal that would reasonably be expected to lead to an acquisition proposal (other than as described below);

approve, endorse or recommend, or propose publicly to approve, endorse or recommend, any acquisition proposal, which we refer to as an alternative acquisition agreement; or execute or enter into any letter of intent, agreement in principle, merger agreement, acquisition agreement or other similar written or oral agreement relating to any acquisition proposal.

For more information, see the section entitled The Merger Agreement Additional Agreements No Solicitation beginning on page 164 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Alternative Proposals

Notwithstanding the restrictions described above, prior to, but not after, obtaining the stockholder approval of the proposal to adopt the merger agreement, Rite Aid is permitted to, in response to the receipt of a bona fide acquisition proposal made after the date of the merger agreement in circumstances not otherwise involving a breach of the merger agreement by Rite Aid and if the Rite Aid board of directors determines in good faith, after consultation with Rite Aid's outside legal counsel and financial advisor, that such acquisition proposal constitutes or could reasonably be expected to lead to a superior proposal:

furnish information with respect to Rite Aid to the party making such acquisition proposal pursuant to a confidentiality agreement, which we refer to as an acceptable confidentiality agreement, that contains terms (including standstill restrictions; provided that such standstill restrictions need not restrict a person from making an offer or proposal to Rite Aid (including the Rite Aid board of directors) in respect of an acquisition proposal) substantially no less restrictive to Rite Aid's counterparty than those contained in the confidentiality agreement entered into by Rite Aid and ACI, dated September 18, 2017, which we refer to as the confidentiality agreement; and engage in discussions or negotiations with such party regarding such acquisition proposal.

In addition, following the receipt of an acquisition proposal made after the date of the merger agreement in circumstances not otherwise involving a breach of the merger agreement by Rite Aid, Rite Aid may contact the person who had made such acquisition proposal solely for the purpose of clarifying the material terms of any such proposal and the likelihood and timing of consummation thereof. For more information, see the section entitled The Merger Agreement Additional Agreements No Solicitation beginning on page 164 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

No Change in Recommendation or Alternative Acquisition (Page 166)

The merger agreement provides that prior to, but not after, obtaining the stockholder approval of the proposal to adopt the merger agreement, the Rite Aid board of directors may, in response to a bona fide, unsolicited acquisition proposal that was made after the date of the merger agreement in circumstances not otherwise involving a material violation of the provisions of the merger agreement regarding acquisition proposals by Rite Aid, effect a change of recommendation if:

The Rite Aid board of directors determines in good faith, after consultation with Rite Aid's outside legal counsel and financial advisor, that such acquisition proposal constitutes a superior proposal and determines in good faith, after consultation with Rite Aid's outside legal counsel, that the failure to effect the change of recommendation would be reasonably likely to be inconsistent with the Rite Aid board of directors' fiduciary duties under applicable law;

The Rite Aid board of directors provides ACI written notice of its intention to make a change of recommendation, which notice must include the material terms and conditions with respect to the acquisition proposal, including the identity of the party making such acquisition proposal and copies of any written proposals or offers, including proposed agreements;

During the four (4) business days following such written notice, or such shorter period as described in the merger agreement, if requested by ACI, Rite Aid and its representatives negotiate in good faith with ACI and its representatives regarding any adjustments to the terms of the merger agreement proposed by ACI in response to the superior proposal; and

After the four (4) business day period described above (as extended, if applicable, as described in the merger agreement) the Rite Aid board of directors reaffirms in good faith, after consultation with Rite Aid's outside counsel and financial advisor (and taking into account any adjustment or modification of the terms of the merger agreement to which ACI has proposed), that the acquisition proposal continues to be a superior proposal and (after consultation with Rite Aid's outside legal counsel) that the failure to effect the change of recommendation would be reasonably likely to be inconsistent with the Rite Aid board of directors' fiduciary duties under applicable law.

In addition to the foregoing, the Rite Aid board of directors is permitted to effect a change of recommendation based on events, developments, circumstances, changes, effects, conditions or occurrences that were not known by the Rite Aid board of directors (or if known, the consequences of which were not known or reasonably foreseeable) as of the date of the merger agreement, in each case other than involving or relating to an acquisition proposal, if:

The Rite Aid board of directors determines in good faith, after consultation with Rite Aid's outside legal counsel, that the failure to effect the change of recommendation would be reasonably likely to be inconsistent with the Rite Aid board of directors' fiduciary duties under applicable law;

The Rite Aid board of directors provides ACI four (4) business days prior written notice of its intention to take such action, which notice must include the basis of the proposed action; and

During the four (4) business days following such written notice, if requested by ACI, Rite Aid and its representatives negotiate in good faith with ACI and its representatives regarding any adjustments to the terms of the merger agreement proposed by ACI so that such event, development, circumstance, change, effect, condition or occurrence would cease to warrant a change of recommendation.

For more information, see the section entitled "The Merger Agreement - Additional Agreements - Change of Recommendation" beginning on page 166 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Termination of the Merger Agreement (Page 178)

The merger agreement may be terminated and the merger may be abandoned at any time prior to the effective time of the merger:

By the mutual written consent of ACI and Rite Aid;

by either ACI or Rite Aid:

if any court of competent jurisdiction or other governmental entity has issued a legal restraint that prevents, makes illegal, prohibits, restrains or enjoins the consummation of the mergers and such legal restraint is or will become final and nonappealable, except this termination right will not be available to a party whose breach of the merger agreement was the primary cause of, or primarily resulted in, the issuance of such legal restraint, which we refer to as the Legal Restraint Termination Right;

if the effective time of the merger has not occurred on or before August 18, 2018, which we refer to as the end date, except that this termination right will not be available to a party whose breach of the merger agreement was the primary cause of, or primarily resulted in, the failure of the effective time of the merger to occur on or before the end date; provided that either party may extend the end date to November 18, 2018 if on August 18, 2018 all of the conditions set forth in the merger agreement have been satisfied (or, with respect to the conditions that by their terms must be satisfied at the closing, would have been so satisfied if the closing would have occurred) or remain capable of being satisfied except for certain closing conditions relating to Rite Aid stockholder approval (due to the Rite Aid stockholders meeting not having been held yet), the antitrust consents, the Form S-4 effectiveness and the Form A application with the Ohio Department of Insurance, which we refer to as the End Date Termination Right; or if Rite Aid's stockholders do not adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby at the stockholders meeting or at any adjournment or postponement of the stockholders meeting at which a vote on the adoption of the merger agreement was taken, which we refer to as the Stockholder Vote Termination Right.

by Rite Aid:

if there has been a breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement by ACI, Merger Sub I or Merger Sub II, or if any such representation or warranty has become inaccurate, such that the closing conditions relating to the accuracy of the representations and warranties of ACI, Merger Sub I and Merger Sub II and performance of the obligations of ACI, Merger Sub I and Merger Sub II would not be satisfied, and such breach or inaccuracy has not been cured within thirty (30) days after the receipt of notice thereof or such breach or inaccuracy is not reasonably capable of being cured within such period; or prior to obtaining the Rite Aid stockholder approval, if (i) the Rite Aid board of directors has, after complying with its obligations with respect to acquisition proposals, entered into a definitive agreement in connection with a superior proposal concurrently with such termination and (ii) Rite Aid pays to ACI the termination fee under the merger agreement of $65 million; which we refer to as the Rite Aid Alternative Acquisition Termination Right;

by ACI:

if there has been a breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement by Rite Aid, or if any such representation or warranty has become inaccurate, such that the closing conditions relating to the accuracy of the representations and warranties of Rite Aid and performance of the obligations of Rite Aid would not be satisfied, and such breach or inaccuracy has not been cured within thirty (30) days after the receipt of notice thereof or such breach or inaccuracy is not reasonably capable of being cured within such period, which we refer to as the Obligations of Rite Aid Termination Right; or if prior to obtaining stockholder approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, the Rite Aid board of directors effects a change of recommendation, which we refer to as the ACI Change of Recommendation Termination Right.

For more information, see the section entitled "The Merger Agreement - Termination of the Merger Agreement - Termination" beginning on page 178 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Termination Fees and Expenses (Page 180)

Under the merger agreement, Rite Aid will be required to pay a termination fee of $65 million (less ACI expenses of up to $10 million, to the extent previously paid by Rite Aid) in connection with a termination of the merger agreement under the following circumstances:

in the event the merger agreement is terminated by Rite Aid pursuant to the Rite Aid Alternative Acquisition Termination Right;

in the event the merger agreement is terminated by ACI pursuant to the ACI Change of Recommendation Termination Right (provided that such termination was not the result of a material adverse effect on ACI); or in the event the merger agreement is terminated by Rite Aid or ACI pursuant to the Stockholder Vote Termination Right or End Date Termination Right or by ACI pursuant to the Obligations of Rite Aid Termination Right, and in either such case prior to such termination, any person has publicly announced an intention to make an acquisition proposal, or an acquisition proposal has otherwise become publicly known, and within twelve (12) months after such termination, (i) Rite Aid or any of its subsidiaries enter into a definitive agreement with respect to such acquisition proposal or (ii) an acquisition proposal is consummated involving Rite Aid or any of its subsidiaries, provided that for the purposes of this bullet, references to twenty percent (20%) in the definition of acquisition proposal are deemed to be references to fifty percent (50%).

Under the merger agreement, ACI will be required to pay a termination fee of $65 million in the event the merger agreement is terminated by ACI or Rite Aid pursuant to (i) the Legal Restraint Termination Right if the applicable legal restraint giving rise to such termination right is issued under or pursuant to any antitrust law or (ii) the End Date Termination Right, in each case of (i) and (ii), if on the termination date the only conditions to closing that have not been satisfied (other than those conditions that by their nature are to be satisfied at the closing which conditions would be capable of being satisfied at the closing if the closing date were on the termination date) are the Legal Restraints Condition (and the applicable legal restraint causing the Legal Restraints Condition not to be satisfied is issued under or pursuant to any antitrust law) and/or the condition that the applicable waiting periods under the HSR Act have expired or been earlier terminated. Notwithstanding the foregoing, ACI will not be required to pay a termination fee of $65 million to Rite Aid if ACI confirms in writing that ACI is willing to agree to the sale, divestiture or disposition of assets of Rite Aid or its subsidiaries in excess of the threshold of $45 million in retail four-wall EBITDA, described in the section entitled "The Merger Agreement - Further Action; Efforts" beginning on page 167 of this proxy statement/prospectus, in order to obtain any required antitrust consents and Rite Aid determines not to agree to such a sale, divestiture or disposition.

If the merger agreement is terminated by either Rite Aid or ACI pursuant to the Stockholder Vote Termination Right, and, prior to the Rite Aid stockholder vote having not been obtained, (i) an acquisition proposal has been publicly announced and (ii) the Rite Aid board of directors has made a change of recommendation or taken no position on such acquisition proposal, then Rite Aid will be required to reimburse ACI (or its designee) for up to $10 million of the documented out-of-pocket expenses incurred by ACI, Merger Sub I or Merger Sub II in connection with or related to the authorization, preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. The amount of any termination fee payable by Rite Aid to ACI would be reduced by any such expense reimbursement amount paid.

For more information, see the sections entitled The Merger Agreement Termination of the Merger Agreement Termination Fees beginning on page 180, The Merger Agreement Expense Reimbursement beginning on page 180 and The Merger Agreement Expenses beginning on page 181 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Other Related Agreements (Page 183)

Registration Rights Agreement

At the closing of the merger, ACI will enter into a registration rights agreement, which we refer to as the registration rights agreement, with each holder of ACI common stock immediately prior to the closing of the merger, who we refer to as the ACI Holders. Pursuant to the registration rights agreement, ACI will grant each ACI Holder certain registration rights with respect to the shares of ACI common stock owned by them (whether directly or by means of beneficial ownership) as of the date of the closing of the merger, which we refer to as the registrable securities. These rights will include certain demand registration rights for Cerberus and the ACI Institutional Investors, as well as piggyback registration rights for all ACI Holders, and customary indemnification. The registration rights are subject to certain delay, suspension and cutback provisions. All fees, costs and expenses related to registrations generally will be borne by ACI, other than underwriting discounts and commissions attributable to the sale of registrable securities. The ACI Holders may be required to deliver lock-up agreements to underwriters in connection with registered offerings of shares.

See the section entitled Other Related Agreements Registration Rights Agreement beginning on page 183 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Lock-Up Agreements

Prior to the closing of the merger, each ACI Holder will deliver a lock-up agreement to ACI. Pursuant to the lock-up agreements, each such ACI Holder will agree, subject to certain exceptions, that it will not offer, sell, contract to sell, pledge, grant any option to purchase, make any short sale or otherwise dispose of any shares of ACI common stock held by them or any options or warrants to purchase common stock of ACI, or any securities convertible into, exchangeable for or that represent the right to receive common stock of ACI, owned by them (whether directly or by means of beneficial ownership) immediately prior to the closing of the merger. Beginning six months after the closing of the merger, ACI Holders will be permitted to sell up to one-third (which amount may be increased in certain circumstances) of the initial number of such restricted shares in a registered offering pursuant to the registration rights agreement. Beginning twelve months after the closing of the merger, ACI Holders will be permitted to sell up to two-thirds (which amount may be increased in certain circumstances) of the initial number of such restricted shares, minus the amounts sold in months 6-12, in a registered offering pursuant to the registration rights agreement. Beginning eighteen months after the closing of the merger, the restrictions of the lock-up agreements will expire, except that ACI Holders that beneficially own at least 5% of the total outstanding shares of ACI common stock must continue to sell shares in registered offerings pursuant to the terms of the registration rights agreement.

See the section entitled Other Related Agreements Lock-Up Agreements beginning on page 184 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Standstill Agreement

On February 18, 2018, Rite Aid entered into a standstill agreement, which we refer to as the standstill agreement, with ACI and Cerberus, pursuant to which Cerberus has agreed not to: (i) purchase shares of ACI common stock or other securities issued by ACI, except Cerberus may acquire beneficial ownership of ACI common stock provided that such beneficial ownership does not result in ownership of 30% or more of the issued and outstanding shares of ACI common stock in the aggregate following such transaction, (ii) make any public statement or public disclosure regarding any intent, purpose, plan or proposal by Cerberus or any of its controlled affiliates to the composition of the ACI board of directors, any merger, consolidation or acquisition of ACI or its subsidiaries, (iii) engage in any solicitation of proxies or otherwise solicit the stockholders of ACI or (iv) enter into any agreements to make any investment with any person that engages or offers or proposes to engage in any of (i) through (iii) during the standstill period. The standstill period commences at the effective time of the merger and terminates upon the earliest to occur of (a) thirty days following the date that Cerberus does not have any of its designees on the ACI board of directors, (b) the date on which Cerberus no longer has the right to appoint (and has not appointed) at least one director to the ACI board of directors and (c) the date on which ACI materially breaches or takes any action challenging the validity or enforceability of the provisions of the merger agreement that grant Cerberus certain rights to appoint directors to the ACI board of directors. In addition, pursuant to the standstill agreement, from February 18, 2018 until the effective time of the merger, Cerberus has agreed not to acquire or agree to acquire beneficial ownership of any shares of ACI common stock, Rite Aid common stock or other securities or debt issued by ACI or Rite Aid that would result in beneficial ownership of 30% or more of the issued and outstanding shares of ACI common stock at the effective time of the merger (assuming for the purposes of such calculation that the effective time occurred immediately after such acquisition).

See the section entitled Other Related Agreements Standstill Agreement beginning on page 186 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

No Action Agreements

At or prior to the consummation of the merger, ACI is required to cause each of Cerberus and the ACI Institutional Investors (excluding Colony NorthStar, Inc.) to enter into no action agreements, substantially in the form attached as Annex H to this proxy statement/prospectus. Pursuant to the terms of the no action agreements, each such party will agree for a period of the earlier of five years after the consummation of the merger or until such party ceases to beneficially own five percent of the outstanding ACI common stock that such party will not (i) coordinate the exercise of voting rights of ACI common stock with Cerberus or any other ACI Institutional Investor, (ii) form a group within the meaning of Section 13(d)(3) of the Exchange Act with Cerberus or any other ACI Institutional Investor or (iii) purchase any ACI common stock from Cerberus or any other ACI Institutional Investor.

See the section entitled Other Related Agreements No Action Agreements beginning on page 186 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Accounting Treatment (Page 147)

ACI prepares its financial statements in accordance with GAAP. The merger will be accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting. ACI will be treated as the acquirer for accounting purposes.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences (Page 320)

The obligations of Rite Aid and ACI to complete the mergers are subject to, among other customary closing conditions described in this proxy statement/prospectus, the receipt by each of Rite Aid and ACI of the opinion of its respective counsel to the effect that the mergers, taken together, will be treated as a reorganization within the meaning of the Code. Assuming the mergers qualify as a reorganization, the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the mergers to each Rite Aid stockholder will depend on whether such stockholder receives shares of ACI common stock or a combination of cash and shares of ACI common stock in exchange for such stockholder's shares of Rite Aid common stock pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement.

For more information on the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the mergers, see the section entitled "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" beginning on page 320 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Rite Aid stockholders are strongly urged to consult with their tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of the merger to them, including the effects of U.S. federal, state and local, foreign and other tax laws.

Federal Securities Law Consequences (Page 147)

All ACI common stock received by Rite Aid stockholders upon consummation of the merger will be freely tradable without restriction under the Securities Act, except that ACI common stock received in the merger by persons who become affiliates of ACI for purposes of Rule 144 under the Securities Act may be resold by them only in transactions permitted by Rule 144, or as otherwise permitted under the Securities Act.

Debt Matters (Page 95)

ACI received the debt commitment letter on February 18, 2018, as amended and restated on March 12, 2018 and as further amended and restated on May 8, 2018 (which we refer to, as so amended and restated, as the debt commitment letter), with Bank of America, N.A., Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated, Credit Suisse AG, Credit Suisse Loan Funding LLC, Goldman Sachs Bank USA, Morgan Stanley Senior Funding, Inc., Deutsche Bank Securities Inc., Deutsche Bank AG New York Branch, Deutsche Bank AG Cayman Islands Branch, Barclays Bank PLC, Royal Bank of Canada, Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, Wells Fargo Securities, LLC, PNC Bank, National Association, PNC Capital Markets LLC, Suntrust Robinson Humphrey Inc., Suntrust Bank, U.S. Bank, National Association, The Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi UFJ, Ltd., Bank of Montreal, Fifth Third Bank, TD Bank, N.A. and Capital One, National Association (which we refer to collectively as the Commitment Parties), pursuant to which, among other things, the Commitment Parties have committed to provide ACI with (i) $4,667 million of commitments to a new $5,000 million aggregate principal amount best efforts asset-based revolving credit facility (which we refer to as the Best-Efforts ABL Facility); (ii) incremental commitments under the ACI ABL Facility (as defined herein) in an aggregate principal amount of $1,000 million in the event that the Best-Efforts ABL Facility does not become effective on the closing date; (iii) a new asset-based term loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of $1,500 million (which we refer to as the ABL Term Loan Facility); and (iv) a new secured bridge loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of $500 million less the gross proceeds received by ACI and its subsidiaries of new senior notes issued prior to the closing date (which we refer to as the Secured Bridge Facility) (which we refer to, collectively, as the Financing), in each case on the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the debt commitment letter. The proceeds of the Financing will be used, among other things, to partially refinance certain of Rite Aid's existing indebtedness that is outstanding as of the closing date, including Rite Aid's 6.75% Senior Notes due 2021, which we refer to as the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, and Rite Aid's 6.125% Senior Notes due 2023, which we refer to as the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, and the Amended and Restated Credit Agreement, dated as of June 27, 2001, as amended and restated as of January 13, 2015 (as amended, restated, amended and restated, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time), among Rite Aid, the lenders from time to time party thereto and Citicorp North America, Inc., as administrative agent and collateral agent, which we refer to as Rite Aid's credit agreement, pay fees and expenses in connection with the merger and finance cash consideration, if any, in connection with the merger. The Best-Efforts ABL Facility will be utilized by ACI only if the remaining $333 million of commitments are fully allocated to new or existing lenders prior to the date on which the merger is consummated, in which case the incremental commitments described under clause (ii) above will cease to apply.

On March 12, 2018, ACI, Bank of America, N.A., as administrative and collateral agent, and the co-borrowers, guarantors and lenders party to the ACI ABL Facility, entered into an amendment to the ACI ABL Facility, which we refer to as the ABL Amendment. The ABL Amendment, among other things, permits the incurrence of the ABL Term Loan Facility and the Secured Bridge Facility and implements other modifications in connection with the merger.

The merger agreement provides that Rite Aid may redeem, repurchase or otherwise satisfy and discharge its 9.25% Senior Notes due 2020, which we refer to as the 2020 Rite Aid Notes, the 2021 Rite Aid Notes and the 2023 Rite Aid Notes (and, together with the 2021 Rite Aid Notes and the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, we refer to as the Rite Aid Notes), at any time prior to the closing date and to the extent that any Rite Aid Notes remain outstanding on the closing date, such notes will be redeemed or otherwise satisfied and discharged in full.

On February 27, 2018, Rite Aid announced that it had commenced an offer to purchase up to $900,000,000 of the outstanding Rite Aid Notes, pursuant to the asset sale provisions of the indentures of the Rite Aid Notes. On March 29, 2018, Rite Aid accepted for payment, pursuant to its offer to purchase, $3,454,000 principal amount of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.38% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes, $3,471,000 principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.43% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, and $41,751,000 principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, representing 2.32% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes. On April 12, 2018, Rite Aid redeemed all of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes that remained outstanding pursuant to the terms of the indenture of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes. On April 19, 2018, Rite Aid announced that it had commenced a similar asset sale offer to purchase up to $700,000,000 of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes and the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, pursuant to the respective indentures governing the 2021 Rite Aid Notes and the 2023 Rite Aid Notes. On May 21, 2018, Rite Aid accepted for payment, pursuant to its offer to purchase, $1,360,000 principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.17% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, and $4,759,000 principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.27% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes. On May 25, 2018, Rite Aid announced that it had issued a notice of redemption for all $805,169,000 aggregate principal amount of the outstanding 2021 Rite Aid Notes on June 25, 2018, pursuant to the terms of the indenture of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes.

On June 6, 2018, ACI priced its private offering of $750.0 million in aggregate principal amount of new floating rate senior secured notes due 2024 (such notes, which we refer to as the Floating Rate Notes) at an issue price of 99.5%. The proceeds to be received pursuant to such offering, in addition to ACI's cash on hand and borrowings under the ACI ABL Facility and ABL Term Loan Facility, will be used (i) to pay a portion of the cash portion, if any, of the merger consideration in connection with the merger, (ii) to repay certain indebtedness of Rite Aid outstanding on the date the merger is completed, (iii) to pay fees and expenses in connection with the merger and the offering of the Floating Rate Notes and (iv) for general corporate purposes. In the event the merger is not completed, ACI will be required to use such proceeds to redeem the Floating Rate Notes. The Floating Rate Notes are expected to be issued on or about June 25, 2018, subject to customary closing conditions. The Floating Rate Notes will bear interest at LIBOR (with a floor of 0%) plus 3.75% per annum. The Floating Rate Notes will mature on January 15, 2024 and interest on the Floating Rate Notes will be payable quarterly in arrears on January 15, April 15, July 15 and October 15, commencing on October 15, 2018. The Floating Rate Notes will be secured by the same collateral that would have secured the Secured Bridge Facility. Upon the issuance of the Floating Rate Notes, the commitments with respect to the Secured Bridge Facility will terminate pursuant to the terms of the debt commitment letter.

In addition, the merger agreement also provides that all amounts outstanding under Rite Aid's revolving credit facility, if any, will be repaid on or prior to the closing date and all commitments thereunder will be terminated. ACI and Rite Aid expect that Rite Aid's 7.70% Senior Notes due 2027, which we refer to as the 2027 Rite Aid Notes, and Rite Aid's 6.875% Senior Notes due 2028, which we refer to as the 2028 Rite Aid Notes, will remain outstanding following the closing date. On the closing date, the 2027 Rite Aid Notes and the 2028 Rite Aid Notes will receive an equal and ratable lien solely on the assets of Rite Aid (and not its subsidiaries) that secure the ACI Term Loan Facility (as defined herein). The closing of the merger is not subject to any debt financing condition or contingency.

ACI expects that on the closing date, it will enter into the Best-Efforts ABL Facility and the ABL Term Loan Facility. For a description of the Best-Efforts ABL Facility, the ABL Term Loan Facility, the Floating Rate Notes, the 2027 Rite Aid Notes and the 2028 Rite Aid Notes, see the section entitled "The Merger - Debt Matters" beginning on page 95 of this proxy statement/prospectus and the section entitled "Description of Indebtedness" beginning on page 306 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

For more information on debt matters, see the section entitled "The Merger - Debt Matters" beginning on page 95 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Amendment and Restatement of ACI Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws (Page 145)

Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, immediately prior to the closing of the merger, ACI's certificate of incorporation and bylaws will be amended to be in substantially the forms attached as Annex C and Annex D, respectively, of this proxy statement/prospectus. We refer to these as the new ACI certificate of incorporation and the new ACI bylaws. For a more detailed description of the new ACI charter and new ACI bylaws, see the section entitled "Description of ACI Capital Stock" beginning on page 325 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Comparison of Rights of ACI Stockholders and Rite Aid Stockholders (Page 332)

The rights of Rite Aid stockholders are governed by Rite Aid's amended and restated articles of incorporation, which we refer to as the Rite Aid certificate of incorporation, by Rite Aid's amended and restated bylaws, which we refer to as the Rite Aid bylaws, and by the DGCL. Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, immediately prior to the closing of the merger, ACI's certificate of incorporation and bylaws will be amended to be in substantially the forms attached as Annex C and Annex D, respectively, of this proxy statement/prospectus. As a result, your rights as a stockholder of ACI following the merger will be governed by the new ACI certificate of incorporation, by the new ACI bylaws and by the DGCL. Your rights under the new ACI certificate of incorporation, the new ACI bylaws and the DGCL will differ in certain material respects from your rights under the Rite Aid certificate of incorporation, the Rite Aid bylaws and the DGCL. For more detailed information regarding a comparison of your rights as a stockholder of Rite Aid and as a stockholder of ACI, see the section entitled Comparison of Rights of ACI Stockholders and Rite Aid Stockholders beginning on page 332 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Litigation Related to the Merger (Page 148)

On April 24, 2018, Mel Aklile, a Rite Aid stockholder, brought a putative class action in Delaware Court of Chancery against Rite Aid, ACI, Merger Sub I, Merger Sub II and each of the Rite Aid directors, which we refer to as the Director Defendants, Del. C.A. No. 2018-0305-AGB. Mr. Aklile contends that Rite Aid stockholders have appraisal rights under Section 262 of the DGCL because, notwithstanding that (i) Rite Aid stockholders are not required to receive consideration other than shares of ACI common stock (and cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any) in the merger and shares of ACI common stock will be listed on the NYSE immediately after the merger, and (ii) the election to receive cash consideration is voluntary and dependent upon Rite Aid stockholders' election (other than cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any), the alleged disparity in value between the additional cash consideration of $0.1832 per share and the additional stock exchange ratio of 0.0079 ACI common stock per share of Rite Aid common stock amounts to a false choice designed to deprive Rite Aid stockholders of their alleged appraisal rights. Plaintiff alleges breach of fiduciary duty claims against the Director Defendants for their alleged failure to provide, and inform Rite Aid stockholders of, their alleged statutory appraisal rights under Delaware law and for allegedly falsely informing Rite Aid stockholders that they will not have appraisal rights. Plaintiff further contends that the proxy statement/prospectus previously filed on April 6, 2018 was deficient under Section 262(d)(1) of the DGCL for failure to inform stockholders of their alleged appraisal rights. Mr. Aklile seeks declarations from the Delaware Court of Chancery that the action is a proper class action and that the Director Defendants breached their fiduciary duties by failing to adequately inform class members of their appraisal rights under Delaware law, to enjoin the proposed action from closing until such time as class members are afforded the ability to seek appraisal of their shares, or otherwise permit class members to petition the Delaware Court of Chancery for appraisal, and attorneys, fees, expenses and costs to Plaintiff.

On May 9, 2018, the Delaware Court of Chancery denied Plaintiff's motion to expedite and declined to schedule a preliminary injunction hearing, ruling that Plaintiff failed to state a colorable claim. On May 16, 2018, Defendants filed a motion to dismiss Plaintiff's complaint.

Defendants oppose Plaintiff's claims on the ground that Rite Aid stockholders have no right of appraisal under the DGCL because they have a right to receive all stock consideration as described in the proxy statement/prospectus previously filed on April 6, 2018.

For more information on litigation related to the merger, see the section entitled The Merger Litigation Related to the Merger beginning on page 148 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Risk Factors (Page 50)

You should also carefully consider the risks that are described in the section entitled Risk Factors beginning on page 50 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Table of ContentsInformation on the Combined Company

The combination of ACI and Rite Aid will create a diversified leader in food, health and wellness. The combined company is expected to operate 4,868 stores and 4,327 pharmacies across 38 states and the District of Columbia under 21 well-known banners, including Albertsons, Rite Aid, Safeway, Jewel-Osco, Shaw's, Acme, Vons, Tom Thumb, United Supermarkets, Market Street, Pavilions, Randalls, Star Market, Carrs, and Haggen. On a pro forma basis for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, the combined company would have generated approximately $81.4 billion in revenue and been the largest integrated food and drug retailer on the U.S. West Coast by sales. With approximately 336,000 talented and dedicated employees between the two companies currently, the combined company is expected to serve over 40 million customers each week and fill over 317 million prescriptions per year. The company will strive to provide its customers with innovative, convenient and value-added services and product offerings through its 25 million active loyalty program accounts, its leading portfolio of own brands, its PBM (EnvisionRxOptions), its 75 RediClinics and Health Dialog business, and its sophisticated online ordering platform and array of delivery models. Upon completion of the merger, the combined company will continue to honor ACI's and Rite Aid's pledge to running great stores and offering customers personalized, convenient and innovative experiences that differentiate the company from its competitors.

The combined company's leadership team is expected to include Chief Executive Officer John Standley and Chairman of the Board Robert Miller, each of whom shares significant industry experience and a commitment to driving sales through improvements to the customer experience. Messrs. Standley and Miller will be supported by a best-in-class management team with decades of operating experience in the food and drug retail industry. The leadership team is expected to include ACI's recently appointed President and Chief Operating Officer, Jim Donald, who previously served as Chief Executive Officer of Starbucks Corporation and as a senior executive at several food and drug retailers, including Wal Mart Stores, Inc., Albertson's, Inc. and Safeway Inc., and Rite Aid's current President and Chief Operating Officer, Kermit Crawford, who has significant experience in the drug retail and healthcare industries, including serving as a senior executive at Walgreens Boots Alliance, Inc. The remainder of ACI's executive team will be identified prior to the closing of the merger, and is expected to include highly talented members of each of ACI's and Rite Aid's management teams.

Opportunities for Enhanced Growth

The combination of ACI and Rite Aid will provide opportunities to deploy each company's innovative service solutions and store offerings across the combined company. With over 25 million active loyalty accounts on a combined basis and a large database of historical transactions, the combined company will have the ability to leverage its data analytics capabilities to offer customers more personalized offerings and provide divisional and local managers with targeted marketing strategies and optimized shelf assortment. In addition, the combination will allow the company to deploy ACI's $11.5 billion portfolio of own brand grocery products, including ACI's O Organics and Signature products, and Rite Aid's over-the-counter medications and personal care, vitamin supplements and health and beauty care products, including Rite Aid's own brands, Rite Aid and Daylogic, across the nationwide footprint. By leveraging each company's respective product offerings and expertise, the combined company will be well-positioned to drive significant additional sales penetration for its own brands portfolio. In addition, the combined company will seek to drive sales through the roll out of many of ACI's value-added product offerings, including an assortment of grab-and-go, individually packaged, and snack-sized meals, to Rite Aid stores.

The combined company intends to provide its customers with choices of how, when and where they shop with a sophisticated and comprehensive online ordering platform and several new delivery models, including same-day delivery, one-to-two hour delivery by Instacart and unattended delivery, as well as drive-up pharmacy service and a growing number of stores offering Drive Up and Go pick-up service. Today, ACI is able to offer its customers grocery delivery in eight of the top ten MSAs in the U.S. through a combination of more than 1,000 ACI home delivery trucks and Instacart delivery from 1,700 ACI stores. The combined network of stores is expected to provide the company with an effective solution to the last mile delivery challenge of online ordering by allowing the combined company to provide convenient delivery to its customers while preserving the value, quality and freshness they receive from the combined company's stores. In addition, the combined company expects to leverage its current delivery models as well as consider additional delivery models to offer expanded prescription drug home delivery from its ACI and Rite Aid stores. In addition to company specific websites such as Albertsons.com and Riteaid.com, the combined company's products are expected to be available on Instacart's Marketplace providing an additional channel for the combined company's customers.

In addition to combining ACI's and Rite Aid's store base to build out a food and drug retail network, the combined company will seek to become a diversified leader in health and wellness. By leveraging its 4,327 pharmacies in 38 states and the District of Columbia, EnvisionRxOptions and Rite Aid's growing network of 75 convenient and affordable RediClinics, the company will have opportunities to attract additional pharmacy customers and strengthen relationships with other PBMs and regional payors. We believe this is most evident in the West Coast regions where increased choice, convenience and access driven by the combination of ACI and Rite Aid stores will provide strong incentives for PBMs, payors and individual customers to build relationships with the combined company, including through the creation of preferred or limited narrow network partnerships. In addition, the combined company will seek to strengthen its preferred relationships by offering additional healthcare services, such as the expected roll out of additional RediClinics and dieticians in its stores and offering of tailored meal solutions for specific health programs. ACI customers who fill prescriptions in-store typically spend more than 2.5x more on groceries each week compared to those who do not. As the combined company attracts additional pharmacy customers, the company should be well positioned to drive incremental sales.

The combined company also intends to grow EnvisionRxOptions, a fully integrated provider with a differentiated approach to pharmacy benefits. Following the merger, EnvisionRxOptions will continue to provide both transparent and traditional PBM options through its EnvisionRxOptions and MedTrak PBMs, respectively. In addition, EnvisionRxOptions's LakerSoftware will continue to provide a modern, scalable adjudication platform to power both EnvisionRxOptions and MedTrakRx, as well as other PBMs across the country that currently license this system. EnvisionRxOptions will also offer fully integrated mail, specialty and compounding pharmacy services through EnvisionPharmacies; provide discounts for under and uninsured patients through EnvisionSavings; and serve one of the fastest growing demographics in healthcare seniors enrolled in Medicare Part D through Envision Insurance Company and the company's national prescription drug plan, EnvisionRxPlus.

Synergy and Revenue Opportunities

The combination of ACI and Rite Aid is expected to drive significant cost synergies, approximately two-thirds of which are expected to be achieved within the first two fiscal years following completion of the merger. ACI and Rite Aid management have identified approximately $375 million in potential annual run rate cost synergies that they believe can be realized by February 26, 2022, with associated one-time costs of approximately $400 million. These expected cost synergies consist of approximately:

24% from reduction in costs from reduced cost of goods on branded products, increased vendor funding, and the elimination of certain duplicative third-party merchandising fees;

24% related to increased penetration of higher margin private label products and reduction of combined cost of goods, through leveraging ACI's fresh, natural and organics category expertise and Rite Aid's health and beauty aids, and general merchandise category expertise;

20% from reduction in costs related to combined pharmacy purchasing, formulary optimization and expansion of central fill capabilities;

15% from reduction in costs related to other services including print advertising, agency and production, lowered insurance premiums, credit card swipe fees and goods not for resale;

10% from reduction in costs related to consolidated back office corporate administrative functions and the combination of regional pharmacy operations; and

7% from reduction in costs related to supply chain and manufacturing efficiencies, including the self-manufacture of milk and bread for Rite Aid stores utilizing ACI's plants.

In addition, the combination of ACI and Rite Aid is expected to provide significant revenue opportunities, particularly as the combined company targets additional high-value pharmacy customers who typically spend 2.5x more on groceries each week than non-pharmacy customers. ACI and Rite Aid management have identified approximately $3.6 billion in potential annual revenue opportunities that they believe can be realized by February 26, 2022, with associated one-time costs of approximately $300 million. These expected revenue opportunities are primarily related to:

the creation of preferred or limited narrow network partnerships on the U.S. West Coast and the Northeast as a result of offering payors and PBMs, including Rite Aid's PBM, additional convenient locations and reduced drug costs for the customers, which is expected to result in the addition of new pharmacy customers, greater script count and improved food and drug revenue;

increased brand awareness through use of Rite Aid branded pharmacies in the majority of existing ACI stores and the planned combination of ACI and Rite Aid loyalty programs, with resulting estimated increases in store traffic and basket size;

increased script volume as a result of the addition of RediClinics using pre-built clinic spaces in ACI stores and an increased branding focus on health and wellness;

the leveraging of ACI's expertise in grocery including fresh, organic and prepared foods to grow Rite Aid's front end sales and Rite Aid's broad over-the-counter medications and personal care, vitamin supplements and health and beauty care product selection to grow ACI's grocery revenues, including through offering ACI's O Organics and Signature own brand products and Rite Aid's Rite Aid and Daylogic own brand products; and the expansion of ACI e-commerce investments and third-party delivery partnerships to Rite Aid stores, the expansion of prescription delivery to drive additional customers, the introduction of Drive Up and Go pick up services in Rite Aid stores and the introduction of dietary-specific Plated meal kits tailored to customers' and health providers' needs.

The first two categories above are expected to make up more than 75% of the identified potential annual revenue opportunities.

Estimating synergies and revenue opportunities and, in each case, the components thereof, is inherently uncertain and there can be no assurance that the combined company will be able to realize such cost synergies or revenue opportunities in the currently anticipated amounts, percentages, categories and time-frame, if at all. The above estimates of cost synergies and revenue opportunities represent the estimates of ACI and Rite Aid management and remain subject to risks and uncertainties as further described in the sections entitled Risk Factors Risks Relating to the Combined Company Following the Merger beginning on page 56 and Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements beginning on page 83 of this proxy statement/prospectus. Actual cost savings and revenue opportunities, if achieved, may be lower than what the combined company expects, may take longer to achieve than anticipated and may require greater charges than currently anticipated. Even if the combined company achieves cost synergies or revenue opportunities, there can be no assurance that the combined company will realize such synergies and opportunities in the categories and related amounts and percentages described above.

Significant Owned Real Estate

ACI owns or ground-leases 42% of its operating stores and 59% of its industrial properties (distribution centers, Plated fulfillment centers, warehouses and manufacturing plants). The total ACI owned and ground leased properties have a value of approximately $11.2 billion, based on appraisals of ACI real estate conducted by Cushman and Wakefield, Inc. during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, after taking into account asset sales of properties since the respective dates of the appraisals. Rite Aid owns or ground-leases 9% of its operating stores and 64% of its industrial properties (distribution centers, warehouses and manufacturing plants).

The following illustrative map represents the combined company's store network as of February 24, 2018 (reflecting Rite Aid stores that have been sold to WBA):

Upon completion of the merger and prior to the anticipated consolidation and rationalization of any facilities, the combined company is also expected to operate 34 strategically located distribution centers and 21 manufacturing facilities (adjusting for the pending sale of certain Rite Aid distribution centers to WBA). ACI has recently implemented a plan to automate several of its distribution centers in the upcoming fiscal years, and the combined company is expected to benefit from improved labor productivity, storage density, stocking times and inventory management as these capital improvements are completed.

Strong Financial Position

The combined company is expected to maintain a strong financial position and substantial liquidity as a result of continued operating cash flow generation and availability under the combined company's asset based revolving credit facility. As of the end of the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI and Rite Aid had approximately $3.1 billion and $2.9 billion, respectively, of availability under their asset based revolving credit facilities (which will be refinanced and combined as part of the transaction). ACI and Rite Aid management believe the combined company will maintain the ability to generate strong operating cash flows following completion of the acquisition. In addition, as of February 24, 2018, on a pro forma basis assuming completion of the merger transactions and the debt refinancing transactions contemplated thereby (see the section entitled "The Merger Debt Matters" beginning on page 95 of this proxy statement/prospectus), the combined company would have had $3.2 billion of availability under its asset based revolving credit facilities.

The combined company intends to pursue opportunities to further generate operating cash flow and could also utilize asset sales to reduce leverage levels. For example, during the third and fourth quarters of the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI completed two sale-leaseback transactions of approximately 94 stores, generating net proceeds of approximately $962 million. In addition to potential sales of real estate assets, the combined company's financial position and liquidity are expected to benefit from the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act signed into law in December 2017, which we refer to as the Tax Act, as well as both companies' expecting to benefit from their respective net operating loss carryforwards, which we refer to as NOLs, in the combined company. There can be no assurances if or when the combined company will consummate any such transaction or the magnitude of such transaction, or whether the combined company will be able to utilize any remaining NOLs in the future.

Summary Selected Historical Consolidated Financial Data of ACI

Albertsons Companies, Inc. was formed for the purpose of reorganizing the organizational structure of AB Acquisition and its direct and indirect consolidated subsidiaries. Prior to December 3, 2017, Albertsons Companies, Inc. had no material assets or operations. On December 3, 2017, Albertsons Companies, LLC and its parent, AB Acquisition, completed a reorganization of their legal entity structure whereby the existing equityholders of AB Acquisition each contributed their equity interests in AB Acquisition to Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI. In exchange, equityholders received a proportionate share of units in Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI, respectively. Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI then contributed all of the equity interests they received to Albertsons Companies, Inc. in exchange for common stock issued by Albertsons Companies, Inc. As a result, Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI became the parents of Albertsons Companies, Inc., owning all of its outstanding common stock with AB Acquisition and its subsidiary, Albertsons Companies, LLC, becoming wholly-owned subsidiaries of Albertsons Companies, Inc. On February 25, 2018, Albertsons Companies, LLC merged with and into Albertsons Companies, Inc., with Albertsons Companies, Inc. as the surviving corporation. Prior to February 25, 2018, substantially all of the assets and operations of Albertsons Companies, Inc. were those of its subsidiary, Albertsons Companies, LLC. The ACI Reorganization Transactions were accounted for as a transaction between entities under common control, and accordingly, there was no change in the basis of the underlying assets and liabilities. The Consolidated Financial Statements are reflective of the changes that occurred as a result of the Reorganization Transactions. Prior to February 25, 2018, the Consolidated Financial Statements of ACI reflect the net assets and operations of Albertsons Companies, Inc.

(1) Adjusted EBITDA is a Non-GAAP Measure defined as earnings (net income (loss)) before interest, income taxes, depreciation and amortization, further adjusted to eliminate the effects of items management does not consider in assessing ongoing performance. Adjusted Net Income is a Non-GAAP Measure defined as net income (loss) adjusted to eliminate the effects of items management does not consider in assessing ongoing performance. ACI defines Free Cash Flow as Adjusted EBITDA less capital expenditures.

Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted Net Income and Free Cash Flow are Non-GAAP Measures that provide supplemental information ACI believes is useful to analysts and investors to evaluate ongoing results of operations, when considered alongside other GAAP measures such as net income, operating income and gross profit. These Non-GAAP Measures exclude the financial impact of items management does not consider in assessing ongoing operating performance, and thereby facilitate review of our operating performance on a period-to-period basis. Other companies may have different capital structures or different lease terms, and comparability to ACI's results of operations may be impacted by the effects of acquisition accounting on our depreciation and amortization. As a result of the effects of these factors and factors specific to other companies, ACI believes Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted Net Income and Free Cash Flow provide helpful information to analysts and investors to facilitate a comparison of ACI's operating performance to that of other companies. Set forth below is a reconciliation of Adjusted Net Income and Adjusted EBITDA to net income (see the section entitled Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of ACI beginning on page 212 of this proxy statement/prospectus, for a reconciliation of cash flow from operating activities to Free Cash Flow):

Table of ContentsSummary Selected Historical Consolidated Financial Data of Rite Aid

The selected consolidated financial information set forth below is derived from Rite Aid's audited financial statements for the fiscal years ended March 3, 2018, March 4, 2017, February 27, 2016, February 28, 2015 and March 1, 2014. The financial statements for the fiscal years ended March 4, 2017, February 27, 2016 and February 28, 2015 are incorporated by reference in this proxy statement/prospectus.

As previously disclosed, on September 18, 2017, Rite Aid entered into the WBA asset purchase agreement with WBA and Walgreen Co., a wholly-owned subsidiary of WBA, which we refer to as the Buyer. Under the WBA asset purchase agreement, the Buyer has purchased or will purchase a total of 1,932 stores, three distribution centers and related inventory from Rite Aid, which we refer to collectively as the Disposal Group, for an all-cash purchase price of $4.375 billion on a cash-free, debt-free basis. We refer to such transaction as the Sale. As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, all 1,932 stores and related inventory have been transferred to Buyer. The transfer of the three distribution centers and related inventory is expected to begin after September 1, 2018. The majority of the closing conditions to the Sale have been satisfied, and the subsequent transfer of the distribution centers and related assets remains subject to minimal customary closing conditions applicable only to the distribution centers being transferred at such distribution center closing, as specified in the WBA asset purchase agreement. The information set forth below reflects the Disposal Group as a discontinued operation.

The information set forth below is only a summary and is not necessarily indicative of future results. You should read the data set forth in the table below in conjunction with Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and Rite Aid's audited and unaudited financial statements and the accompanying notes incorporated by reference in this proxy statement/prospectus.

- (1) As of February 27, 2016, Rite Aid early adopted Accounting Standard Update No. 2015-03, Interest Imputation of Interest (Subtopic 835-30): Simplifying the Presentation of Debt Issuance Costs issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board in April 2015. The effect of the adoption on Rite Aid's consolidated balance sheet is a reduction in other assets and long-term debt, net of current maturities of $85,827 and $84,199 as of February 28, 2015 and March 1, 2014, respectively.

- (2) As noted above, in connection with the Sale, Rite Aid has applied discontinued operations treatment for the Sale as required by Accounting Standards Codification 210-05 Discontinued Operations, which we refer to as ASC 210-05. In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification 205-20, which we refer to as ASC 205-20, Rite Aid reclassified the Disposal Group to assets and liabilities held for sale on its consolidated balance sheets, and reclassified the financial results of the Disposal Group in its consolidated statements of operations and consolidated statements of cash flows for all periods presented.

Table of ContentsRISK FACTORS

By voting in favor of the merger proposal, Rite Aid stockholders will be choosing to invest in ACI common stock following the completion of the merger. An investment in ACI common stock involves a high degree of risk. Before you vote, you should carefully consider the risks described below, those described in the section entitled Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements beginning on page 83 of this proxy statement/prospectus and the other information contained in this proxy statement/prospectus or in the documents of Rite Aid incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus, particularly the risk factors discussed in this section of this proxy statement/prospectus entitled Risk Factors and in the section entitled Risk Factors in Rite Aid's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 3, 2018, which is incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus. See the section entitled Where You Can Find More Information beginning on page 353 of this proxy statement/prospectus. In addition to the risks set forth below, new risks may emerge from time to time and it is not possible to predict all risk factors, nor can ACI or Rite Aid assess the impact of all factors on the merger and the combined company following the merger or the extent to which any factor or combination of factors may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in or implied by any forward-looking statements.

Risks Relating to the Merger

The market price for ACI common stock may be affected by factors different from those that historically have affected Rite Aid common stock.

Following the merger, Rite Aid stockholders will become stockholders of ACI. The combined company's business will differ from that of Rite Aid, and accordingly the results of operations of ACI following the merger will be affected by some factors that are different from those currently affecting the results of operations of Rite Aid. This proxy statement/prospectus describes the business of ACI and incorporates by reference important information regarding the business of Rite Aid and also describes important factors to consider in connection with those businesses and the business of the combined company. For a discussion of these matters, see, for example, the sections entitled Business of ACI, Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of ACI, Index to Financial Statements of Albertsons Companies, Inc. and Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Statements in this proxy statement/prospectus as well as the section entitled Where You Can Find More Information beginning on page 353 of this proxy statement/prospectus for the location of information incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus.

Regulatory approval could prevent, or substantially delay, consummation of the merger.

The special meeting of Rite Aid stockholders at which the merger agreement will be considered may take place before all of the required regulatory approvals have been obtained and before all conditions to such approvals, if any, are known. In this event, if the merger proposal is approved, ACI and Rite Aid may subsequently agree to conditions without further seeking stockholder approval, even if such conditions could have an adverse effect on Rite Aid, ACI or the combined company, except as required by applicable law.

For a more complete summary of the requirements of ACI and Rite Aid related to regulatory approvals and the regulatory approvals that must be satisfied or waived prior to completion of the merger, see the sections entitled The Merger Agreement Further Action; Efforts beginning on page 167 and The Merger Agreement Conditions to Completion of the Mergers beginning on page 176 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

The closing of the merger is subject to many conditions and if these conditions are not satisfied or waived, the merger will not be completed.

The closing of the merger is subject to a number of conditions as set forth in the merger agreement that must be satisfied or waived, including, among other things, approval of the merger agreement by holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Rite Aid common stock entitled to vote on the merger; expiration or earlier termination of the waiting period (and any extension thereof) under the HSR Act (which condition was satisfied on March 28, 2018); absence of any law or order prohibiting the merger; approval for listing on the NYSE of the shares of ACI common stock to be issued in the merger and to be reserved for issuance in connection with the merger (which approval was obtained on June 21, 2018); the approval of a Form A application with the Ohio Department of Insurance for ACI and its applicable stockholder(s) (which was filed on April 24, 2018); effectiveness of the registration statement on Form S-4 of which this proxy statement/prospectus forms a part; receipt by Rite Aid of not less than $4.076 billion of gross proceeds under the WBA asset purchase agreement (which condition was satisfied on March 13, 2018); distribution by Albertsons Investor of all shares of ACI common stock owned by it to its respective equityholders; delivery by ACI to Rite Aid of the lock-up agreements, no action agreements and standstill agreement, in each case, in the form agreed to by the parties to the merger agreement; and absence of a material adverse effect on Rite Aid and ACI, in each case, as defined in the merger agreement.

The closing of the merger is also dependent on the accuracy of representations and warranties made by the parties to the merger agreement (subject to customary materiality qualifiers and other customary exceptions) and the performance in all material respects by the parties of obligations imposed under the merger agreement.

For a more complete summary of the conditions that must be satisfied or waived prior to completion of the merger, see the section entitled "The Merger Agreement Conditions to Completion of the Mergers" beginning on page 176 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

There can be no assurance as to whether or when the conditions to the closing of the merger will be satisfied or waived or as to whether or when the merger will be consummated.

The merger is subject to approval by Rite Aid stockholders.

The merger cannot be completed unless Rite Aid stockholders approve the merger proposal by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Rite Aid common stock entitled to vote on the merger. If Rite Aid stockholders do not approve the merger proposal, the merger will not be completed.

Litigation filed against ACI, Rite Aid, Merger Sub I, Merger Sub II and/or the members of the Rite Aid board of directors could prevent or delay the consummation of the mergers or result in the payment of damages following completion of the mergers.

In connection with the mergers, third parties may file lawsuits against ACI, Rite Aid, Merger Sub I, Merger Sub II and/or the members of the Rite Aid board of directors. The outcome of any such litigation is uncertain. If a dismissal is not granted or a settlement is not reached, any such lawsuits could prevent or delay completion of the mergers and result in substantial costs to ACI, Rite Aid or the combined company following the mergers. The defense or settlement of any lawsuit or claim that remains unresolved at the time the mergers are completed may adversely affect the combined company's business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

The pendency of the merger may cause disruptions in Rite Aid s and ACI s businesses, which could have an adverse effect on its business, financial condition or results of operations.

The pendency of the merger could cause disruptions in and create uncertainty regarding Rite Aid s and ACI s businesses, which could have an adverse effect on their financial conditions and results of operations, regardless of whether the merger is completed. These risks, which could be exacerbated by a delay in the completion of the merger, include the following:

certain vendors may change their programs or processes which might adversely affect the supply or cost of the products, which then might adversely affect Rite Aid s and ACI s stores sales or gross profit;

negotiations with third party payors might be adversely affected which then might adversely affect Rite Aid s and ACI s stores sales or gross profit;

Rite Aid s and ACI s current and prospective associates may experience uncertainty about their future roles with ACI, which might adversely affect Rite Aid s and ACI s ability to attract and retain key personnel;

key management and other employees may be difficult to retain or may become distracted from day-to-day operations because matters related to the merger may require substantial commitments of their time and resources, which could adversely affect Rite Aid s and ACI s operations and financial results;

Rite Aid s and ACI s current and prospective customers may experience uncertainty about the ability of Rite Aid s and ACI s stores to meet their needs, which might cause customers to make purchases or fill their prescriptions elsewhere;

Rite Aid s and ACI s ability to pursue alternative business opportunities, including strategic acquisitions, is limited by the terms of the merger agreement. If the merger is not completed for any reason, there can be no assurance that any other transaction acceptable to Rite Aid or ACI will be offered or that its business, prospects or results of operations will not be adversely affected;

Rite Aid s and ACI s ability to make appropriate changes to their businesses may be restricted by covenants in the merger agreement; these restrictions generally require Rite Aid and ACI to conduct their businesses in the ordinary course and subject Rite Aid and ACI to a variety of specified limitations absent ACI s or Rite Aid s prior written consent, as applicable. Rite Aid and ACI may find that these and other contractual restrictions in the merger agreement may delay or prevent Rite Aid or ACI from responding, or limit Rite Aid s and ACI s ability to respond effectively, to competitive pressures, industry developments and future business opportunities that may arise during such period, even if Rite Aid s or ACI s management believes they may be advisable; and the costs and potential adverse outcomes of litigation relating to the merger.

The merger agreement contains restrictions on the ability of Rite Aid to pursue other alternatives to the merger.

The merger agreement contains non-solicitation provisions that, subject to limited exceptions, restrict the ability of Rite Aid to solicit, initiate or knowingly facilitate any inquiries regarding any third-party offer or proposal that might reasonably be expected to lead to a takeover proposal. Further, subject to limited exceptions, consistent with applicable law, the merger agreement provides that the Rite Aid board of directors will not withhold, withdraw or modify in a manner adverse to ACI its recommendation that Rite Aid stockholders vote in favor of the merger proposal, and in specified circumstances, if ACI requests, ACI has a right to negotiate with Rite Aid in order to match any competing takeover proposals that may be made. Although the Rite Aid board of directors is permitted to take certain actions in response to a superior proposal or a takeover proposal that is reasonably likely to result in a superior proposal if it determines that the failure to do so would be reasonably likely to be inconsistent with its fiduciary duties, doing so in specified situations could require Rite Aid to pay to ACI a termination fee of $65 million. In addition, Rite Aid may be required to reimburse ACI for its reasonable and documented out-of-pocket transaction fees and expenses, up to an amount of $10 million (with such payment credited to any termination fee subsequently paid by Rite Aid). See the sections entitled The Merger Agreement Additional Agreements No Solicitation beginning on page 164 of this proxy statement/prospectus and The Merger Agreement Termination of the Merger Agreement beginning on page 178 of this proxy statement/prospectus for a more complete discussion of these restrictions and consequences.

Such provisions could discourage a potential acquirer that might have an interest in making a proposal from considering or proposing any such transaction, even if it were prepared to pay consideration with a higher value to Rite Aid stockholders than that to be paid in the merger. There also is a risk that the requirement to pay the termination fee or expense payment to ACI in certain circumstances may result in a potential acquirer proposing to pay a lower per share price to acquire Rite Aid than it might otherwise have proposed to pay.

The merger agreement may be terminated in accordance with its terms and the merger may not be completed.

The merger agreement is subject to a number of conditions that must be fulfilled to complete the merger, including, among other things, approval of the merger agreement by holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Rite Aid common stock entitled to vote on the merger; expiration or earlier termination of the waiting period (and any extension thereof) under the HSR Act (which condition was satisfied on March 28, 2018); absence of any law or order prohibiting the merger; approval for listing on the NYSE of the shares of ACI common stock to be issued in the merger and to be reserved for issuance in connection with the merger (which approval was obtained on June 21, 2018); the approval of a Form A application with the Ohio Department of Insurance for ACI and its applicable stockholder(s) (which was filed on April 24, 2018); effectiveness of the registration statement on Form S-4 of which this proxy statement/prospectus forms a part; receipt by Rite Aid of not less than $4.076 billion of gross proceeds under the WBA asset purchase agreement (which condition was satisfied on March 13, 2018); distribution by Albertsons Investor of all shares of ACI common stock owned by it to its respective equityholders; delivery by ACI to Rite Aid of the lock-up agreements, no action agreements and standstill agreement, in each case, in the form agreed to by the parties to the merger agreement; and absence of a material adverse effect on Rite Aid and ACI, in each case, as defined in the merger agreement. These conditions to the closing of the merger may not be fulfilled and, accordingly, the mergers may not be completed. In addition, either ACI or Rite Aid may terminate the merger agreement under certain circumstances including, among other reasons, if the merger is not completed by August 18, 2018. For a discussion of the circumstances under which the merger agreement could be terminated and when a termination fee and expense payment may be payable by Rite Aid, see the sections entitled The Merger Agreement Additional Agreements No Solicitation beginning on page 164, The Merger Agreement Termination of the Merger Agreement Termination Fees beginning on page 180 and The Merger Agreement Expense Reimbursement beginning on page 180 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

The termination of the merger agreement could negatively impact Rite Aid.

If the merger is not completed for any reason, including as a result of Rite Aid stockholders failing to approve the merger proposal, the ongoing businesses of Rite Aid may be adversely affected and, without realizing any of the anticipated benefits of having completed the merger, Rite Aid would be subject to a number of risks, including the following:

Rite Aid may experience negative reactions from the financial markets, including a decline of its stock price (which may reflect a market assumption that the merger will be completed);

Table of Contents

Rite Aid may experience negative reactions from its customers, regulators and employees;

Rite Aid will be required to pay certain costs relating to the merger, whether or not the merger is completed; and matters relating to the merger (including integration planning) will require substantial commitments of time and resources by Rite Aid management, which would otherwise have been devoted to day-to-day operations and other opportunities that may have been beneficial to Rite Aid as an independent company.

If the merger agreement is terminated and the Rite Aid board of directors seeks another merger, business combination or other transaction, Rite Aid stockholders cannot be certain that Rite Aid will be able to find a party willing to offer equivalent or more attractive consideration than the consideration Rite Aid stockholders would receive in the merger. If the merger agreement is terminated under certain circumstances specified in the merger agreement, Rite Aid may be required to pay ACI a termination fee of $65 million, depending on the circumstances surrounding the termination. In addition, Rite Aid may be required to reimburse ACI for its reasonable and documented out-of-pocket transaction fees and expenses, up to an amount of $10 million (with such payment credited to any termination fee subsequently paid by Rite Aid). See the section entitled The Merger Agreement Termination of the Merger Agreement beginning on page 178 of this proxy statement/prospectus for a more complete discussion of the circumstances under which the merger agreement could be terminated and when the termination fee and expense payment may be payable by Rite Aid.

Directors and executive officers of Rite Aid have interests in the merger that are different from, and in addition to, those of Rite Aid stockholders generally.

The directors and executive officers of Rite Aid have interests in the merger that are different from, and in addition to, those of Rite Aid stockholders generally. These interests include the continued employment of certain executive officers of Rite Aid, including John T. Standley, who is expected to serve as Chief Executive Officer of the combined company, the treatment in the merger of Rite Aid stock options, Rollover RSUs, Rollover RSAs, Former Service Provider RSAs and Former Service Provider RSUs, annual bonus opportunities and other rights held by Rite Aid's directors and executive officers, and the indemnification of former Rite Aid directors and officers by ACI. Rite Aid stockholders should be aware of these interests when they consider the recommendation of the Rite Aid board of directors that they vote in favor of the merger proposal. The Rite Aid board of directors was aware of and considered these interests when it determined that the terms of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby were fair to, and in the best interests of, Rite Aid and its stockholders, and recommended that Rite Aid stockholders approve the merger proposal and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

See the section entitled Interests of the Directors and Officers of Rite Aid in the Merger beginning on page 296 of this proxy statement/prospectus for additional details regarding these interests.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements included in this proxy statement/prospectus are presented for illustrative purposes only and the actual financial condition and results of operations of the combined company following the merger may differ materially.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements contained in this proxy statement/prospectus are presented for illustrative purposes only, are based on various adjustments, assumptions and preliminary estimates, and may not be an indication of financial condition or results of operations of the combined company following the merger for several reasons. The actual financial condition and results of operations of the combined company following the merger may not be consistent with, or evident from, these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements. In addition, the assumptions used in preparing the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements may not prove to be accurate, and other factors may affect the combined company's financial condition or results of operations following the merger. Any potential decline in the combined company's financial condition or results of operations may cause significant variations in the stock price of ACI following the closing of the merger.

Rite Aid stockholders will have less influence, as a group, as stockholders of ACI following the closing of the merger than as stockholders of Rite Aid.

Following the merger, former Rite Aid stockholders, who currently collectively own 100% of Rite Aid, will own, on a fully diluted basis, between approximately 28.0% and 29.6% of the outstanding ACI common stock, depending on the number of holders of Rite Aid common stock who elect to receive the additional cash consideration. Consequently, Rite Aid stockholders, as a group, will exercise less influence over the management and policies of the combined company than they currently may have over the management and policies of Rite Aid.

The shares of ACI common stock to be received by Rite Aid stockholders as a result of the merger will have rights different from the shares of Rite Aid common stock.

Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, immediately prior to the closing of the merger, ACI's certificate of incorporation and bylaws will be amended to be in substantially the forms attached as Annex C and Annex D, respectively, of this proxy statement/prospectus. As a result, the rights of Rite Aid stockholders, who will become stockholders of ACI following the merger, will be governed by the new ACI certificate of incorporation, by the new ACI bylaws and by the DGCL. The rights under the new ACI certificate of incorporation and the new ACI bylaws will differ in certain material respects from the rights under the Rite Aid certificate of incorporation and the Rite Aid bylaws. See the section entitled "Comparison of Rights of ACI Stockholders and Rite Aid Stockholders" beginning on page 332 of this proxy statement/prospectus for a discussion of these rights.

The mergers, taken together, are expected to, but may not, qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of the Code.

The parties expect the mergers, taken together, to be treated as a reorganization within the meaning of the Code, and the obligation of Rite Aid and ACI to complete the mergers is conditioned upon the receipt of U.S. federal income tax opinions to that effect from their respective tax counsel. These tax opinions represent the legal judgment of counsel rendering the opinion and are not binding on the Internal Revenue Service, which we refer to as the IRS, or the courts. The expectation that the mergers, taken together, will be treated as a reorganization within the meaning of the Code reflects assumptions and was prepared taking into account the relevant information available to ACI and Rite Aid at the time. However, this information is not fact and should not be relied upon as necessarily indicative of future results. Furthermore, such expectation constitutes a forward looking statement. For information on forward looking statements, see the section entitled "Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements" beginning on page 83 of this proxy statement/prospectus. If the mergers do not qualify as a reorganization, then a Rite Aid stockholder may be required to recognize any gain with respect to the entire consideration received in the merger, including any shares of ACI common stock received as well as any cash amount received. For further information, please refer to the section entitled "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" beginning on page 320 of this proxy statement/prospectus. You should consult your tax advisor to determine the particular tax consequences of the merger to you.

The financial forecasts for each of Rite Aid and ACI contained herein have not been audited and are subject to change.

This document includes certain financial forecasts for Rite Aid and ACI. The financial forecasts have been prepared by management of ACI or Rite Aid, as applicable, and neither company's independent accountants have audited or reviewed such financial information. There can be no assurance that ACI's or Rite Aid's actual results for the periods presented herein will not differ from the financial forecasts presented herein and such changes could be material.

Risks Relating to the Combined Company Following the Merger

ACI may fail to realize the anticipated benefits of the merger.

The success of the merger will depend on, among other things, ACI's ability to combine its business with that of Rite Aid in a manner that facilitates growth opportunities and cost savings, including projected revenue opportunities and cost synergies. ACI believes that the merger will provide an opportunity for revenue growth, including a number of new business areas for ACI and Rite Aid.

However, ACI must successfully combine the businesses of ACI and Rite Aid in a manner that permits these anticipated benefits to be realized. In addition, the combined company must achieve the anticipated growth and cost savings without adversely affecting current revenues and investments in future growth. If the combined company is not able to successfully achieve these objectives, the anticipated benefits of the merger may not be realized fully, or at all, or may take longer to realize than expected.

The combined company may be unable to retain Rite Aid and/or ACI personnel during the pendency of the merger or after the merger is completed. ACI and Mr. Standley may be unable to reach an agreement with respect to Mr. Standley's employment with the combined company.

The success of the merger will depend in part on the combined company's ability to retain the talents and dedication of key employees currently employed by ACI and Rite Aid. It is possible that these employees may decide not to remain with ACI or Rite Aid, as applicable, while the merger is pending or with the combined company after the merger is consummated. Additionally, ACI may be unable to reach an agreement with John T. Standley, who is currently expected to serve as Chief Executive Officer of the combined company, with respect to Mr. Standley's employment with the combined company. If certain executive officers or key employees choose not to continue or terminate their employment, or if an insufficient number of employees is retained to maintain effective operations, the combined company's business activities may be adversely affected and management's attention may be diverted from successfully integrating Rite Aid to hiring suitable replacements, all of which may cause the combined company's business to suffer. In addition, ACI and Rite Aid may not be able to locate suitable replacements for any key employees who leave either company, or offer employment to potential replacements on reasonable terms.

The failure by the combined company to integrate successfully the business and operations of Rite Aid and ACI and execute on its business strategy in the expected time frame may adversely affect the combined company's future results.

Historically, ACI and Rite Aid have operated as independent companies, and they will continue to do so until the completion of the merger. There can be no assurances that their businesses can be integrated successfully or that the combined company can increase revenue growth or profitability. ACI and Rite Aid currently expect to achieve $375 million in annual cost synergies, with associated one-time costs of $400 million, as a result of the merger, as well as $3.6 billion in additional revenue opportunities, with associated one-time costs of $300 million, as a result of the merger. However, there is no guarantee that ACI and Rite Aid will successfully realize these anticipated cost synergies or revenue opportunities in full or at all (or in the anticipated categories and/or percentages), and the anticipated benefits of the integration plan may not be realized. Actual revenue opportunities and cost savings, if achieved, may be lower than what the combined company expects and may take longer to achieve than anticipated or require greater charges than anticipated. If ACI is not able to adequately address integration challenges, the combined company may be unable to successfully integrate ACI's and Rite Aid's operations or to realize the anticipated benefits of the integration of the two companies.

Furthermore, it is possible that the integration process could result in the loss of key ACI or Rite Aid employees, the loss of customers, the disruption of either company's or both companies' ongoing businesses or in unexpected integration issues, higher than expected integration costs and an overall post-completion integration process that takes longer than originally anticipated. Specifically, the following issues, among others, must be addressed in integrating the operations of ACI and Rite Aid in order to realize the anticipated benefits of the merger:

combining the companies' operations;

combining the businesses of ACI and Rite Aid and meeting the capital requirements of the combined company in a manner that permits ACI and Rite Aid to achieve the cost savings and revenue opportunities anticipated to result from the merger, the failure of which would result in the material anticipated benefits of the merger not being realized in the time frame currently anticipated or at all;

integrating the companies' technologies (see Risks Relating to ACI's Business and Industry; ACI may be adversely affected by risks related to its dependence on IT systems. Any future changes to or intrusion into these IT systems, even if ACI is compliant with industry security standards, could materially adversely affect its reputation, financial condition and operating results beginning on page 72 of this proxy statement/prospectus for more information); integrating and unifying the offerings and services available to customers, including ACI's just for U, MyMixx and fuel rewards programs and Rite Aid's Wellness+ loyalty program;

identifying and eliminating redundant and underperforming functions and assets;

harmonizing the companies' operating practices, employee development and compensation programs, internal controls and other policies, procedures and processes;

integrating the companies' financial reporting and internal control systems, including compliance by the combined company with Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, as amended, and the rules promulgated thereunder by the SEC;

maintaining existing agreements with customers, distributors, providers and vendors and avoiding delays in entering into new agreements with prospective customers, distributors, providers and vendors, including clients of EnvisionRxOptions;

addressing possible differences in business backgrounds, corporate cultures and management philosophies;

consolidating the companies' administrative and information technology infrastructure; coordinating distribution and marketing efforts;

managing the movement of certain positions to different locations; and effecting actions that may be required in connection with obtaining regulatory approvals.

Table of Contents

In addition, at times the attention of certain members of either company's or both companies' management and resources may be focused on completion of the merger and the integration of the businesses of the two companies and diverted from day-to-day business operations, which may disrupt each company's ongoing business and the business of the combined company following the merger.

Combining the businesses of ACI and Rite Aid may be more difficult, costly or time-consuming than expected, which may adversely affect the combined company's results and negatively affect the value of its common stock following the merger.

ACI and Rite Aid have entered into the merger agreement because each believes that the merger will be beneficial to its respective companies and stockholders and that combining the businesses of ACI and Rite Aid will produce revenue opportunities and cost savings. If the combined company is not able to successfully combine the businesses of ACI and Rite Aid in an efficient and effective manner, the anticipated revenue opportunities and cost savings of the merger may not be realized fully, or at all, or may take longer to realize than expected, and the value of ACI common stock may be affected adversely.

An inability to realize the full extent of the anticipated benefits of the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, as well as any delays encountered in the integration process, could have an adverse effect upon the revenues, level of expenses and operating results of the combined company, which may adversely affect the value of ACI common stock following the merger.

In addition, the actual integration may result in additional and unforeseen expenses, and the anticipated benefits of the integration plan may not be realized. Rite Aid is also obligated to continue providing services to WBA pursuant to a transition services agreement, which may result in difficulties in integrating Rite Aid's and ACI's businesses. Actual growth and cost savings, if achieved, may be lower than what the combined company expects and may take longer to achieve than anticipated. If ACI is not able to adequately address integration challenges, the combined company may be unable to successfully integrate ACI's and Rite Aid's operations or to realize the anticipated benefits of the integration of the two companies.

ACI and Rite Aid will incur significant integration, transaction and merger-related costs in connection with the merger.

ACI and Rite Aid have incurred and expect to incur a number of non-recurring costs associated with the merger. These costs and expenses include fees paid to financial, legal and accounting advisors, facilities and systems consolidation costs, capital expenditures, severance and other potential employment-related costs, including payments that may be made to certain Rite Aid executive officers, filing fees, printing expenses and other related charges. Some of these costs are payable by ACI and Rite Aid regardless of whether or not the merger is completed. There are also a large number of processes, policies, procedures, operations, technologies and systems that must be integrated in connection with the merger and the integration of the two companies' businesses. While both ACI and Rite Aid have assumed that a certain level of expenses would be incurred in connection with the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, there are many factors beyond their control that could affect the total amount or the timing of the integration and implementation expenses.

ACI and Rite Aid also expect to incur significant costs in connection with achieving the cost synergies and revenue opportunities that ACI and Rite Aid expect to achieve as a result of the merger. These costs may be higher than expected, and the expected cost synergies and revenue opportunities may not be achieved in full or at all, or within the identified categories or at the estimated amounts.

and/or percentages. There may also be additional unanticipated significant costs and charges in connection with the merger that the combined company may not recoup. These costs and expenses could reduce the realization of efficiencies, strategic benefits and additional income ACI and Rite Aid expect to achieve from the merger. Although ACI and Rite Aid expect that these benefits will offset the transaction expenses and implementation costs over time, this net benefit may not be achieved in the near term or at all.

Third parties may terminate or alter existing contracts or relationships with ACI or Rite Aid.

ACI and Rite Aid have contracts with customers, suppliers, vendors, landlords, licensors and other business partners which may require ACI or Rite Aid to obtain consents from these other parties in connection with the merger. Additionally, Envision Insurance Company is party to several health plan agreements featuring change of control provisions that may give third parties the right to terminate or alter their contracts with Envision Insurance Company as a result of the merger. If consents under these and other agreements cannot be obtained, ACI or Rite Aid may suffer a loss of potential future revenues and may lose rights that are material to its respective businesses and the business of the combined company. In addition, third parties with whom ACI or Rite Aid currently have relationships may terminate or otherwise reduce the scope of their relationship with either party in anticipation of the merger. Any such disruptions could limit the combined company's ability to achieve the anticipated benefits of the merger. The adverse effect of such disruptions could also be exacerbated by a delay in the completion of the merger or the termination of the merger agreement.

The combined company may be unable to retain Rite Aid and/or ACI personnel successfully after the merger is completed.

The success of the merger will depend in part on the combined company's ability to retain the talents and dedication of key employees currently employed by ACI and Rite Aid. It is possible that these employees may decide not to remain with ACI or Rite Aid, as applicable, while the merger is pending or with the combined company after the merger is consummated. If key employees terminate their employment, or if an insufficient number of employees is retained to maintain effective operations, the combined company's business activities may be adversely affected and management's attention may be diverted from successfully integrating Rite Aid to hiring suitable replacements, all of which may cause the combined company's business to suffer. In addition, ACI and Rite Aid may not be able to locate suitable replacements for any key employees who leave either company, or offer employment to potential replacements on reasonable terms.

Rite Aid will experience an ownership change under Section 382 of the Code, potentially limiting its use of tax attributes, such as net operating losses and other tax attributes, to reduce future tax liabilities after completion of the mergers.

Rite Aid has substantial net operating losses and other tax attributes for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The utilization of these tax attributes following completion of the mergers depends on the timing and amount of taxable income earned by ACI and Rite Aid in the future, which Rite Aid is not able to predict. Moreover, Rite Aid will experience an ownership change under Section 382 of the Code as a result of the mergers, potentially limiting the use of Rite Aid's tax attributes to reduce future tax liabilities of ACI and Rite Aid for U.S. federal income tax purposes. This limitation may affect the timing of when these tax attributes may be used which, in turn, may impact the timing and amount of cash taxes payable by ACI and Rite Aid.

Risks Relating to Ownership of ACI Common Stock

Because there is currently no public market for ACI common stock, the market price and trading volume of ACI common stock may be volatile, and holders of common stock may not be able to sell shares of ACI common stock following the merger or sell shares of ACI common stock at an attractive price.

Prior to the completion of the merger, ACI common stock will not be publicly traded and there will not have been any public market for ACI common stock. Following the completion of the merger, an active trading market for the ACI common stock may not develop or be sustained. As a result, no public market price is available to Rite Aid stockholders for use in determining the value of ACI common stock they are entitled to receive as merger consideration. We cannot predict the extent to which investor interest will lead to the development of an active trading market in shares of ACI common stock or whether such a market will be sustained following the merger.

The market price of ACI common stock after the completion of the merger will be subject to significant fluctuations in response to, among other factors, variations in operating results and market conditions specific to the combined company's industry. If an active public market does not develop or is not sustained, it may be difficult for you to sell your shares at a price that is attractive to you, or at all. The market price of ACI common stock could fluctuate significantly for many reasons, including, without limitation:

as a result of the risk factors listed in this proxy statement/prospectus;

actual or anticipated fluctuations in the combined company's operating results;

for reasons unrelated to operating performance, such as reports by industry analysts, investor perceptions, or negative announcements by the combined company's customers or competitors regarding their own performance;

regulatory changes that could impact the combined company's business; and general economic and industry conditions.

Following the merger, Cerberus will have significant influence over the combined company and may have conflicts of interest with the combined company in the future.

Following the merger, Cerberus will own approximately 25.8% of ACI common stock on a fully diluted basis, assuming all Rite Aid stockholders elect to receive the stock election exchange ratio, or 26.3% of ACI common stock on a fully diluted basis, assuming all Rite Aid stockholders elect to receive the additional cash consideration. Additionally, so long as Cerberus continues to directly or indirectly own a significant amount of the outstanding shares of ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to cause certain Cerberus nominees to be appointed to the ACI board of directors following the effective time. After the effective time of the merger, and until such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least ten percent (10%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause two nominees designated by Cerberus to be elected to the ACI board of directors. From and after such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least ten percent (10%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, but beneficially owns at least five percent (5%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause one nominee designated by Cerberus to be elected to the ACI board of directors. Until such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least fifteen percent (15%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause directors designated by Cerberus to be elected Chairman and Lead Director, provided that, if Robert G. Miller has ceased to serve as Chairman, either the Chairman or the Lead Director will qualify as independent under the rules of the NYSE and will not be a partner or employee of Cerberus, its affiliates or any of the ACI Institutional Investors. Until such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least ten percent (10%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause a director designated by Cerberus to be elected Lead Director.

As a result, Cerberus will have significant influence over the management of the combined company and decisions of the board of directors as well as over any action requiring the approval of the holders of ACI common stock, including adopting any amendments to the new ACI certificate of incorporation, electing directors and approving mergers or sales of substantially all of the combined company's capital stock or its assets. Any directors designated by Cerberus will have significant influence over decisions affecting the capital structure of the combined company, including the issuance of additional capital stock, incurrence of additional indebtedness, the implementation of stock repurchase programs and the decision of whether or not to declare dividends. Cerberus is in the business of making investments in companies and may, from time to time, acquire and hold interests in businesses that compete directly or indirectly with ACI. Cerberus may also separately pursue acquisition opportunities that may be complementary to ACI's business and, as a result, those acquisition opportunities may not be available to ACI. For more information about Cerberus's nomination rights following the effective time of the merger, see the section entitled "The Merger Governance of ACI Following the Merger" beginning on page 144 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Future sales of ACI common stock in the public market by existing holders of ACI common stock could cause volatility in the price of ACI common stock or cause the share price to fall.

If Cerberus or the other ACI Holders, and in particular, the ACI Institutional Investors, sell substantial amounts of ACI common stock in the public market following the merger, the market price of ACI common stock could decrease. The perception in the public market that Cerberus and the ACI Institutional Investors might sell shares of common stock could also create a perceived overhang and depress our market price. Upon the closing of the merger, between 63.7% (assuming that all Rite Aid stockholders elect to receive the stock election consideration pursuant to the merger agreement) and 65.1% (assuming that all Rite Aid stockholders elect to receive the cash election consideration pursuant to the merger agreement) of the shares of ACI common stock will be held by Cerberus or the ACI Institutional Investors on a fully diluted basis. Prior to the closing of the merger, each ACI Holder, including Cerberus and the ACI Institutional Investors, will deliver a lock-up agreement to ACI. Pursuant to the lock-up agreements, each ACI Holder will agree, subject to certain exceptions, that it will not offer, sell, contract to sell, pledge, grant any option to purchase, make any short sale or otherwise dispose of any shares of ACI common stock, or any options or warrants to purchase common stock of ACI, or any securities convertible into, exchangeable for or that represent the right to receive common stock of ACI, owned by them (whether directly or by means of beneficial ownership) held by them immediately prior to the closing of the merger. Beginning six months after the closing of the merger, the ACI Holders will be permitted to sell up to one-third (which amount may be increased in certain circumstances) of the initial number of such restricted shares in a registered offering pursuant to the registration rights agreement. Beginning twelve months after the closing of the merger, the ACI Holders will be permitted to sell up to two-thirds (which amount may be increased in certain circumstances) of the initial number of such restricted shares in a registered offering pursuant to the registration rights agreement. Beginning eighteen months after the closing of the merger, the restrictions of the lock-up agreements will expire, except that ACI Holders that beneficially own at least 5% of the total outstanding shares of ACI common stock would continue to be required to sell shares in a registered offering pursuant to the terms of the registration rights agreement. Under certain circumstances, shares may be sold outside of a registered offering during the lock-up period. See the section entitled "Other Related Agreements Lock-Up Agreements" beginning on page 184 of this proxy statement/prospectus. The market price for shares of ACI common stock may drop when the restrictions on resale by Cerberus and the other ACI Holders lapse.

In addition, Cerberus and the ACI Institutional Investors will have substantial demand and piggyback registration rights. Cerberus and the ACI Institutional Investors will have the ability to cause ACI to file registration statements and engage in underwritten offerings so that they can sell their restricted shares. These registration rights could cause ACI to expend significant time and expense and we cannot assure you if or when such holders will exercise their registration rights. See Other Related Agreements Registration Rights Agreement beginning on page 183 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

ACI does not currently intend to pay a dividend and its ability to pay regular dividends to its stockholders is subject to the discretion of the board of directors and may be limited by ACI's debt agreements and limitations under Delaware law.

It is not currently anticipated that ACI will pay a regular quarterly dividend following the closing of the merger. In addition, any such determination to pay dividends will be at the discretion of the board of directors and will be dependent on then-existing conditions, including the combined company's financial condition, earnings, legal requirements, including limitations under Delaware law, restrictions in ACI's debt agreements that limit its ability to pay dividends to stockholders and other factors the board of directors deems relevant. The ACI board of directors may, in its sole discretion, change the amount or frequency of dividends or discontinue the payment of dividends entirely. For these reasons, you will not be able to rely on dividends to receive a return on your investment. Accordingly, realization of a gain on your shares of ACI common stock received in the merger may depend on the appreciation of the price of ACI common stock, which may not occur.

The new ACI certificate of incorporation will designate the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware as the sole and exclusive forum for certain types of actions and proceedings that may be initiated by ACI stockholders, which could limit ACI stockholders' ability to obtain a favorable judicial forum for disputes with ACI or its directors, officers, employees or agents.

Similar to the exclusive forum provision in the Rite Aid bylaws, the new ACI certificate of incorporation will provide that, unless ACI consents in writing to the selection of an alternative forum, the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware will be the sole and exclusive forum for (i) any derivative action or proceeding brought on ACI's behalf, (ii) any action asserting a breach of a fiduciary duty owed by any of ACI's directors, officers employees or agents to ACI or ACI stockholders, (iii) any action asserting a claim pursuant to any provision of the DGCL, the new ACI certificate of incorporation or the new ACI bylaws or (iv) any action asserting a claim governed by the internal affairs doctrine. Any person or entity purchasing or otherwise acquiring any interest in any share of ACI common stock will be deemed to have notice of and to consent to these provisions of the new ACI certificate of incorporation. This exclusive forum provision may limit a stockholder's ability to bring a claim in a judicial forum that it finds favorable for disputes with ACI or its current or former directors, officers, employees or agents, which may discourage such lawsuits against ACI and such persons. Alternatively, if a court were to find these provisions of the new ACI certificate of incorporation inapplicable to, or unenforceable in respect of, one or more of the specified types of actions or proceedings, ACI may incur additional costs associated with resolving such matters in other jurisdictions, which could adversely affect ACI's business, results of operations, and financial condition.

Risks Relating to ACI's Business and Industry

You should read and consider the following risk factors specific to ACI's business, which will also affect the combined company after the merger. Please note that the risk factors described below apply only to ACI's business and do not address risks relating to Rite Aid's business or the combined company. For information on risks relating to the merger and the combined company following the merger, please see the prior sections entitled "Risks Relating to the Merger" and "Risks Relating to the Combined Company Following the Merger." For more information on risks relating to Rite Aid's business, please see the section entitled "Risk Factors" in Rite Aid's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 3, 2018, and in other documents incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus. See the section entitled "Where You Can Find More Information" beginning on page 353 of this proxy statement/prospectus for the location of information incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus.

Various operating factors and general economic conditions affecting the food retail industry may affect ACI's business and may adversely affect ACI's business and operating results.

ACI's operations and financial performance are affected by economic conditions such as macroeconomic conditions, credit market conditions and the level of consumer confidence. While the combination of improved economic conditions, the trend towards lower unemployment, higher wages and lower gasoline prices have contributed to improved consumer confidence, there is continued uncertainty about the strength of the economic recovery. If the economy does not continue to improve or if it weakens, or if gasoline prices rebound, consumers may reduce spending, trade down to a less expensive mix of products or increasingly rely on food discounters, all of which could impact ACI's sales. In addition, consumers' perception or uncertainty related to the economic recovery and future fuel prices could also dampen overall consumer confidence and reduce demand for ACI's product offerings. Both inflation and deflation affect ACI's business. Food deflation could reduce sales growth and earnings, while food inflation could reduce gross profit margins. Several food items and categories, such as meat, eggs and dairy, experienced price deflation in the fiscal years ended February 25, 2017 and February 24, 2018, and this deflation could continue in the future. ACI is unable to predict if the economy will continue to improve, the rate at which the economy may improve, the direction of gasoline prices or if deflationary trends will occur. If the economy does not continue to improve or if it weakens, fuel prices increase or deflationary trends continue, ACI's business and operating results could be adversely affected.

Competition in ACI's industry is intense, and ACI's failure to compete successfully may adversely affect ACI's profitability and operating results.

The food and drug retail industry is large and dynamic, characterized by intense competition among a collection of local, regional and national participants. ACI faces strong competition from other brick and mortar food and/or drug retailers, supercenters, club stores, discount stores, online retailers, specialty and niche supermarkets, drug stores, general merchandisers, wholesale stores, convenience stores, natural food stores, farmers' markets, local chains and stand-alone stores that cater to the individual cultural preferences of specific neighborhoods, restaurants and home delivery and meal solution companies. Shifts in the competitive landscape, consumer preference or market share may have an adverse effect on ACI's profitability and results of operations.

As a result of consumers' growing desire to shop online, ACI also faces increasing competition from both ACI's existing competitors that have incorporated the internet as a direct-to-consumer channel and online providers that sell grocery products. Although ACI has a growing internet presence and offers ACI customers the ability to shop online for both home delivery and in-store pick-up, there is no assurance that these online initiatives will be successful. In addition, these initiatives may have an adverse impact on ACI's profitability as a result of lower gross profits or greater operating costs to compete.

ACI's ability to attract customers is dependent, in large part, upon a combination of channel preference, location, store conditions, quality, price, service, convenience and selection. In each of these areas, traditional and non-traditional competitors compete with ACI and may successfully attract ACI's customers by matching or exceeding what ACI offers or by providing greater shopping convenience. In recent years, many of ACI's competitors have aggressively added locations and adopted a multi-channel approach to marketing and advertising. ACI's responses to competitive pressures, such as additional promotions, increased advertising, additional capital investment and the development of ACI's internet offerings, could adversely affect ACI's profitability and cash flow. ACI cannot guarantee that ACI's competitive response will succeed in increasing or maintaining ACI's share of retail food sales.

An increasingly competitive industry and deflation in the prices of certain foods have made it difficult for food retailers to achieve positive identical store sales growth on a consistent basis. ACI and its competitors have attempted to maintain or grow ACI's and their respective share of retail food sales through capital and price investment, increased promotional activity and new store growth, creating a more difficult environment to consistently increase year-over-year sales. Several of ACI's primary competitors are larger than ACI is or have greater financial resources available to them and, therefore, may be able to devote greater resources to invest in price, promotional activity and new or remodeled stores in order to grow their share of retail food sales. Price investment by ACI's competitors has also, from time to time, adversely affected ACI's operating margins. In recent years, ACI has invested in price in order to remain competitive and generate sales growth; however, there can be no assurance this strategy will be successful.

Because ACI faces intense competition, ACI needs to anticipate and respond to changing consumer preferences and demands more effectively than its competitors. ACI devotes significant resources to differentiating ACI's banners in the local markets where ACI operates and invests in loyalty programs to drive traffic. ACI's local merchandising teams spends considerable time working with store directors to make sure ACI is satisfying consumer preferences. In addition, ACI strives to achieve and maintain favorable recognition of its own brands and offerings, and market these offerings to consumers and maintain and enhance a perception of value for consumers. While ACI seeks to continuously respond to changing consumer preferences, there are no assurances that ACI's responses will be successful.

ACI's continued success is dependent upon its ability to control operating expenses, including managing health care and pension costs stipulated by its collective bargaining agreements to effectively compete in the food retail industry. Several of ACI's primary competitors are larger than it is, or are not subject to collective bargaining agreements, allowing them to more effectively leverage their fixed costs or more easily reduce operating expenses. Finally, ACI needs to source, market and merchandise efficiently. Changes in ACI's product mix also may negatively affect its profitability. Failure to accomplish ACI's objectives could impair its ability to compete successfully and adversely affect its profitability.

Profit margins in the food retail industry are low. In order to increase or maintain ACI's profit margins, ACI develops operating strategies to increase revenues, increase gross margins and reduce costs, such as new marketing programs, new advertising campaigns, productivity improvements, shrink reduction initiatives, distribution center efficiencies, manufacturing efficiencies, energy efficiency programs and other similar strategies. ACI's failure to achieve forecasted revenue growth, gross margin improvement or cost reductions could have a material adverse effect on its profitability and operating results.

Increased commodity prices may adversely impact ACI's profitability.

Many of ACI's own and sourced products include ingredients such as wheat, corn, oils, milk, sugar, proteins, cocoa and other commodities. Commodity prices worldwide have been volatile. Any increase in commodity prices may cause an increase in ACI's input costs or the prices ACI's vendors seek from it.

Although ACI typically is able to pass on modest commodity price increases or mitigate vendor efforts to increase its costs, ACI may be unable to continue to do so, either in whole or in part, if commodity prices increase materially. If ACI is forced to increase prices, ACI's customers may reduce their purchases at ACI's stores or trade down to less profitable products. Both may adversely impact ACI's profitability as a result of reduced revenue or reduced margins.

Fuel prices and availability may adversely affect ACI's results of operations.

ACI currently operates 397 fuel centers that are adjacent to many of ACI's store locations. As a result, ACI sells a significant amount of gasoline. Increased regulation or significant increases in wholesale fuel costs could result in lower gross profit on fuel sales, and demand could be affected by retail price increases as well as by concerns about the effect of emissions on the environment. ACI is unable to predict future regulations, environmental effects, political unrest, acts of terrorism and other matters that may affect the cost and availability of fuel, and how ACI's customers will react, which could adversely affect ACI's results of operations.

ACI's stores rely heavily on sales of perishable products, and product supply disruptions may have an adverse effect on ACI's profitability and operating results.

Reflecting consumer preferences, ACI has a significant focus on perishable products. Sales of perishable products accounted for approximately 41.0% of ACI's total sales in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. ACI relies on various suppliers and vendors to provide and deliver ACI's perishable product inventory on a continuous basis. ACI could suffer significant perishable product inventory losses and significant lost revenue in the event of the loss of a major supplier or vendor, disruption of ACI's distribution network, extended power outages, natural disasters or other catastrophic occurrences.

Severe weather and natural disasters may adversely affect ACI's business.

Severe weather conditions such as hurricanes, earthquakes, floods, extended winter storms, heat waves or tornadoes, as well as other natural disasters, in areas in which ACI has stores or distribution centers or from which ACI sources or obtains products may cause physical damage to ACI's properties, closure of one or more of ACI's stores, manufacturing facilities or distribution centers, lack of an adequate work force in a market, temporary disruption in the manufacture of products, temporary disruption in the supply of products, disruption in the transport of goods, delays in the delivery of goods to ACI's distribution centers or stores, a reduction in customer traffic and a reduction in the availability of products in ACI's stores. In addition, adverse climate conditions and adverse weather patterns, such as drought or flood, that impact growing conditions and the quantity and quality of crops yielded by food producers may adversely affect the availability or cost of certain products within the grocery supply chain. Any of these factors may disrupt ACI's business and adversely affect its business.

ACI's quarterly results may fluctuate significantly.

ACI's operating results have historically varied on a quarterly basis and may continue to fluctuate significantly in the future. Factors that may affect our quarterly operating results, some of which are beyond the control of management, include, but are not limited to inflation, fluctuations in inventory, energy, transportation, labor, healthcare and other costs, significant acquisitions, dispositions, joint ventures and other strategic initiatives, asset impairment charges, weather conditions, the timing of holidays and other risk factors discussed herein. Accordingly, investors should not rely on the results of any particular quarter as an indication of ACI's future performance.

Table of ContentsThreats or potential threats to security of food and drug safety, the occurrence of a widespread health epidemic or regulatory concerns in ACI's supply chain may adversely affect ACI's business.

Acts or threats, whether perceived or real, of war or terror or other criminal activity directed at the food or drug store industry or the transportation industry, whether or not directly involving ACI's stores, could increase ACI's operating costs and operations, or impact general consumer behavior and consumer spending. Other events that give rise to actual or potential food contamination, drug contamination or food-borne illnesses, or a widespread regional, national or global health epidemic, such as pandemic flu, could have an adverse effect on ACI's operating results or disrupt production and delivery of its products, its ability to appropriately staff its stores and potentially cause customers to avoid public gathering places or otherwise change their shopping behaviors.

ACI sources its products from vendors and suppliers and related networks across the globe who may be subject to regulatory actions or face criticism due to actual or perceived social injustices, including human trafficking, child labor or environmental, health and safety violations. A disruption in ACI's supply chain due to any regulatory action or social injustice could have an adverse impact on its supply chain and ultimately its business, including potential harm to its reputation.

ACI could be affected if consumers lose confidence in the food supply chain or the quality and safety of ACI's products.

ACI could be adversely affected if consumers lose confidence in the safety and quality of certain food products. Adverse publicity about these types of concerns, whether valid or not, may discourage consumers from buying ACI's products or cause production and delivery disruptions. The real or perceived sale of contaminated food products by ACI could result in product liability claims, a loss of consumer confidence and product recalls, which could have a material adverse effect on ACI's business.

Consolidation in the healthcare industry could adversely affect ACI's business, financial condition and results of operations after the merger.

Many organizations in the healthcare industry, including PBMs, have consolidated to create larger healthcare enterprises with greater market power, which has resulted in greater pricing pressures. If this consolidation trend continues, it could give the resulting enterprises even greater bargaining power, which may lead to further pressure on the prices for ACI's products and services, including after the proposed merger. If these pressures result in reductions in ACI's prices, ACI will become less profitable unless it is able to achieve corresponding reductions in costs or develop profitable new revenue streams. ACI expects that market demand, government regulation, third-party reimbursement policies, government contracting requirements, and societal pressures will continue to cause the healthcare industry to evolve, potentially resulting in further business consolidations and alliances among the industry participants ACI will engage with after the merger, which may adversely impact ACI's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Certain risks are inherent in providing pharmacy services, and ACI's insurance may not be adequate to cover any claims against ACI.

ACI currently operates 1,777 pharmacies and, after the merger, will operate 4,327 pharmacies, and, as a result, ACI is exposed to risks inherent in the packaging, dispensing, distribution, and disposal of pharmaceuticals and other healthcare products, such as risks of liability for products which cause harm to consumers, as well as increased regulatory risks and related costs. Although ACI maintains insurance, ACI cannot guarantee that the coverage limits under its insurance programs will be adequate to protect it against future claims, or that ACI will be able to maintain this insurance on

acceptable terms in the future, or at all. ACI's results of operations, financial condition or cash flows may be materially adversely affected if in the future ACI's insurance coverage proves to be inadequate or unavailable, or there is an increase in the liability for which ACI self-insures, or ACI suffers harm to its reputation as a result of an error or omission.

ACI is subject to numerous federal and state regulations. Each of ACI's in-store pharmacies must be licensed by the state government. The licensing requirements vary from state to state. An additional registration certificate must be granted by the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, which we refer to as the DEA, and, in some states, a separate controlled substance license must be obtained to dispense controlled substances. In addition, pharmacies selling controlled substances are required to maintain extensive records and often report information to state and federal agencies. If ACI fails to comply with existing or future laws and regulations, ACI could suffer substantial civil or criminal penalties, including the loss of its licenses to operate pharmacies and its ability to participate in federal and state healthcare programs. As a consequence of the severe penalties ACI could face, ACI must devote significant operational and managerial resources to complying with these laws and regulations.

During the fiscal year ended February 28, 2015, ACI received two subpoenas from the DEA requesting information concerning its record keeping, reporting and related practices concerning the theft or significant loss of controlled substances. On June 7, 2016, ACI received a third subpoena requesting information concerning potential diversion by one former employee in the Seattle/Tacoma area (Washington State). On July 18, 2017, the DEA and U.S. Department of Justice announced that they had reached an agreement with Safeway with respect to the matters under investigation. Under the agreement, Safeway (1) has paid a penalty of $3.0 million; (2) has surrendered its controlled substances license at one of its pharmacies in California and has had its controlled substances license at one of its pharmacies in Washington State suspended for four months; and (3) is subject to a three year corrective action plan.

Recently, pharmaceutical manufacturers, wholesale distributors and retailers have faced intense scrutiny and, in some cases, investigations and litigation relating to the distribution of prescription opioid pain medications. On May 22, 2018, ACI received a subpoena from the Office of the Attorney General for the State of Alaska, which we refer to as the Alaska Attorney General, stating that the Alaska Attorney General has reason to believe ACI has engaged in unfair or deceptive trade practices under Alaska's Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Act and seeking documents regarding our policies, procedures, controls, training, dispensing practices and other matters in connection with the sale and marketing of opioid pain medications. ACI intends to cooperate with the Alaska Attorney General in this investigation. ACI does not currently have a basis to believe it has violated Alaska's Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Act. However, due to the early stages of the investigation, ACI is unable to predict the outcome of this matter or estimate a range of reasonably possible loss.

Application of federal and state laws and regulations could subject ACI's current practices to allegations of impropriety or illegality, or could require ACI to make significant changes to its operations. In addition, ACI cannot predict the impact of future legislation and regulatory changes on its pharmacy business or assure that it will be able to obtain or maintain the regulatory approvals required to operate its business.

Integrating acquisitions may be time-consuming and create costs that could reduce ACI's net income and cash flows.

Part of ACI's strategy includes pursuing acquisitions that ACI believes will be accretive to its business, including the merger. With respect to the merger and any possible future acquisitions, the process of integrating the acquired business may be complex and time consuming, may be disruptive to the business and may cause an interruption of, or a distraction of management's attention from, the business as a result of a number of obstacles, including, but not limited to:

failure to consummate the merger or a potential future acquisition;

transaction litigation;

a failure of ACI's due diligence process to identify significant risks or issues;

the loss of customers of the acquired company or ACI; negative impact on the brands or banners of the acquired company or ACI;

a failure to maintain or improve the quality of customer service;

difficulties assimilating the operations and personnel of the acquired company;

ACI's inability to retain key personnel of the acquired company;

the incurrence of unexpected expenses and working capital requirements;

ACI's inability to achieve the financial and strategic goals, including synergies, for the combined businesses; and difficulty in maintaining internal controls, procedures and policies.

Any of the foregoing obstacles, or a combination of them, could decrease gross profit margins or increase selling, general and administrative expenses in absolute terms and/or as a percentage of net sales, which could in turn negatively impact ACI's net income and cash flows.

ACI may not be able to consummate acquisitions in the future on terms acceptable to ACI, or at all. In addition, acquisitions are accompanied by the risk that the obligations and liabilities of an acquired company may not be adequately reflected in the historical financial statements of that company and the risk that those historical financial statements may be based on assumptions which are incorrect or inconsistent with ACI's assumptions or approach to accounting policies. Any of these material obligations, liabilities or incorrect or inconsistent assumptions could adversely impact ACI's results of operations and financial condition.

See Risks Relating to the Merger beginning on page 50 of this proxy statement/prospectus for more information about risks relating to the proposed merger.

A significant majority of ACI's employees are unionized, and ACI's relationship with unions, including labor disputes or work stoppages, could have an adverse impact on ACI's operations and financial results.

As of February 24, 2018, approximately 187,000 of ACI's employees were covered by collective bargaining agreements and, including the addition of Rite Aid's employees after the merger, approximately 204,500 of ACI's employees after the merger will be covered by collective bargaining agreements. During the fiscal year ending February 23, 2019, collective bargaining agreements covering approximately 54,000 of ACI's employees are scheduled to expire. In future negotiations with labor unions, ACI expects that health care, pension costs and/or contributions and wage costs, among other issues, will be important topics for negotiation. If, upon the expiration of such collective bargaining agreements, ACI is unable to negotiate acceptable contracts with labor unions, it could result in strikes by the affected workers or lockouts by the employer and thereby significantly disrupt ACI's operations. As part of ACI's collective bargaining agreements, ACI may need to fund additional pension contributions, which would negatively impact its Free Cash Flow. Further, if ACI is unable to control health care and pension costs provided for in the collective bargaining agreements, ACI may experience increased operating costs and an adverse impact on its financial results.

Table of ContentsIncreased pension expenses, contributions and surcharges may have an adverse impact on ACI's financial results.

ACI is party to defined benefit retirement plans for employees at its Safeway, United and NALP stores and distribution centers. The funded status of these plans (the difference between the fair value of the plan assets and the projected benefit obligation) is a significant factor in determining annual pension expense and cash contributions to fund the plans. In recent years, cash contributions have declined due to improved market conditions and the impact of the pension funding stabilization legislation, which increased the discount rate used to determine pension funding.

If financial markets do not improve or if financial markets decline, increased pension expense and cash contributions may have an adverse impact on ACI's financial results. Under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended, which we refer to as ERISA, the PBGC has the authority to petition a court to terminate an underfunded pension plan under limited circumstances. In the event that ACI's defined benefit pension plans are terminated for any reason, ACI could be liable to the PBGC for the entire amount of the underfunding, as calculated by the PBGC based on its own assumptions (which would result in a larger obligation than that based on the actuarial assumptions used to fund such plans). Under ERISA and the Code, the liability under these defined benefit plans is joint and several with all members of the control group, such that each member of the control group would be liable for the defined benefit plans of each other member of the control group.

In addition, ACI participates in various multiemployer pension plans for substantially all employees represented by unions that require ACI to make contributions to these plans in amounts established under collective bargaining agreements. Under the Pension Protection Act of 2006, which we refer to as the PPA, contributions in addition to those made pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement may be required in limited circumstances in the form of a surcharge that is equal to 5% of the contributions due in the first year and 10% each year thereafter until the applicable bargaining agreement expires.

Pension expenses for multiemployer pension plans are recognized by ACI as contributions are made. Benefits generally are based on a fixed amount for each year of service. ACI's contributions to multiemployer plans were $431.2 million, $399.1 million and $379.8 million during the fiscal years ended February 24, 2018, February 25, 2017 and February 27, 2016, respectively.

Based on an assessment of the most recent information available, ACI believes that most of the multiemployer plans to which it contributes are underfunded. ACI is only one of a number of employers contributing to these plans, and the underfunding is not a direct obligation or liability of ACI. However, ACI has attempted, as of February 24, 2018, to estimate its share of the underfunding of multiemployer plans to which ACI contributes, based on the ratio of its contributions to the total of all contributions to these plans in a year. As of February 24, 2018, ACI's estimate of its share of the underfunding of multiemployer plans to which it contributes was $4.1 billion. ACI's share of underfunding described above is an estimate and could change based on the results of collective bargaining efforts, investment returns on the assets held in the plans, actions taken by trustees who manage the plans' benefit payments, interest rates, if the employers currently contributing to these plans cease participation, and requirements under the PPA, the Multiemployer Pension Reform Act of 2014 and applicable provisions of the Code.

Additionally, underfunding of the multiemployer plans means that, in the event ACI were to exit certain markets or otherwise cease making contributions to these plans, ACI could trigger a substantial withdrawal liability. Any accrual for withdrawal liability will be recorded when a withdrawal is probable and can be reasonably estimated, in accordance with GAAP. All trades or businesses in the employer's control group are jointly and severally liable for the employer's withdrawal liability.

ACI is subject to withdrawal liability from certain multiemployer plans related to Safeway's previous closure of its Dominick's division. One of the plans, the UFCW & Employers Midwest Pension Fund, which we refer to as the Midwest Plan, had asserted ACI may be liable for mass withdrawal liability, if the plan has a mass withdrawal, in addition to the liability the Midwest Plan already has assessed. ACI's management believes it is unlikely that a mass withdrawal will occur in the foreseeable future and disputes that the Midwest Plan would have the right to assess mass withdrawal liability against ACI if the Midwest Plan had a mass withdrawal. A mass withdrawal would require monthly installment payments to be made by ACI in perpetuity. ACI's installment payments would be limited to 20 years if it is not part of, or the Midwest Plan does not experience, a mass withdrawal. ACI is disputing in arbitration the amount of the withdrawal liability the Midwest Plan has assessed. The amount of withdrawal liability ACI recorded as of February 24, 2018 for the closure of the Dominick's division was $160.1 million.

See Note 12 Employee Benefit Plans and Collective Bargaining Agreements in ACI's consolidated financial statements, included elsewhere in this prospectus, for more information relating to ACI's participation in these multiemployer pension plans.

Unfavorable changes in government regulation may have a material adverse effect on ACI's business.

ACI's stores are subject to various federal, state, local and foreign laws, regulations and administrative practices. ACI must comply with numerous provisions regulating health and sanitation standards, food labeling, energy, environmental, equal employment opportunity, minimum wages, pension, health insurance and other welfare plans, and licensing for the sale of food, drugs and alcoholic beverages. ACI cannot predict either the nature of future laws, regulations, interpretations or applications, or the effect either additional government laws, regulations or administrative procedures, when and if promulgated, or disparate federal, state, local and foreign regulatory schemes would have on ACI's future business. In addition, regulatory changes could require the reformulation of certain products to meet new standards, the recall or discontinuance of certain products not able to be reformulated, additional record keeping, expanded documentation of the properties of certain products, expanded or different labeling and/or scientific substantiation. Any or all of such requirements could have an adverse effect on ACI's business.

The minimum wage continues to increase and is subject to factors outside of ACI's control. Changes to wage regulations could have an impact on ACI's future results of operations.

A considerable number of ACI's employees are paid at rates related to the federal minimum wage. Additionally, many of ACI's stores are located in states, including California, where the minimum wage is greater than the federal minimum wage and where a considerable number of employees receive compensation equal to the state's minimum wage. For example, as of February 24, 2018, ACI employed approximately 71,000 associates in California, where the current minimum wage was recently increased to $11.00 per hour effective January 1, 2018, and will gradually increase to $15.00 per hour by January 1, 2022. In Maryland, where ACI employed approximately 8,000 associates as of February 24, 2018, the minimum wage was recently increased to $9.25 per hour, and will increase to $10.10 per hour on July 1, 2018. Moreover, municipalities may set minimum wages above the applicable state standards. For example, the minimum wage in Seattle, Washington, where ACI employed approximately 2,000 associates as of February 24, 2018, was recently increased to $15.00 per hour effective January 1, 2017 for employers with more than 500 employees nationwide. In Chicago, Illinois, where ACI employed approximately 6,200 associates as of February 24, 2018, the minimum wage was recently increased to $11.00 per hour, and will gradually increase to $13.00 per hour by July 1, 2019. Any further increases in the federal minimum wage or the enactment of additional state or local minimum wage increases could increase ACI's labor costs, which may adversely affect ACI's results of operations and financial condition.

Table of Contents

The food retail industry is labor intensive. ACI's ability to meet its labor needs, while controlling wage and labor-related costs, is subject to numerous external factors, including the availability of qualified persons in the workforce in the local markets in which ACI is located, unemployment levels within those markets, prevailing wage rates, changing demographics, health and other insurance costs and changes in employment and labor laws. Such laws related to employee hours, wages, job classification and benefits could significantly increase operating costs. In the event of increasing wage rates, if ACI fails to increase its wages competitively, the quality of ACI's workforce could decline, causing ACI's customer service to suffer, while increasing wages for ACI's employees could cause ACI's profit margins to decrease. If ACI is unable to hire and retain employees capable of meeting ACI's business needs and expectations, ACI's business and brand image may be impaired. Any failure to meet ACI's staffing needs or any material increase in turnover rates of ACI's employees may adversely affect its business, results of operations and financial condition.

Failure to attract and retain qualified associates could materially adversely affect ACI's financial performance.

ACI's ability to continue to conduct and expand its operations depends on its ability to attract and retain a large and growing number of qualified associates. ACI's ability to meet its labor needs, including its ability to find qualified personnel to fill positions that become vacant at ACI's existing stores and distribution centers, while controlling its associate wage and related labor costs, is generally subject to numerous external factors, including the availability of a sufficient number of qualified persons in the work force of the markets in which ACI operates, unemployment levels within those markets, prevailing wage rates, changing demographics, health and other insurance costs and adoption of new or revised employment and labor laws and regulations. If ACI is unable to locate, to attract or to retain qualified personnel, the quality of service ACI provides to its customers may decrease and its financial performance may be adversely affected.

Unfavorable changes in, failure to comply with or increased costs to comply with environmental laws and regulations could adversely affect ACI. The storage and sale of petroleum products could cause disruptions and expose ACI to potentially significant liabilities.

ACI's operations, including its 397 fuel centers, are subject to various laws and regulations relating to the protection of the environment, including those governing the storage, management, disposal and cleanup of hazardous materials. Some environmental laws, such as the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act and similar state statutes, impose strict, and under certain circumstances joint and several, liability for costs to remediate a contaminated site, and also impose liability for damages to natural resources.

Federal regulations under the Clean Air Act require phase out of the production of ozone-depleting refrigerants that include hydrochlorofluorocarbons, the most common of which is R-22. By 2020, production of new R-22 refrigerant gas will be completely phased out; however, recovered and recycled/reclaimed R-22 will be available for servicing systems after 2020. ACI is reducing its R-22 footprint while continuing to repair leaks, thus extending the useful lifespan of existing equipment. For the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, $15 million was budgeted for system retrofits, and ACI has budgeted approximately $15 million in subsequent years. Leak repairs are part of the ongoing refrigeration maintenance budget. ACI may be required to spend additional capital above and beyond what is currently budgeted for system retrofits and leak repairs which could have a significant impact on ACI's business, results of operations and financial condition.

Third-party claims in connection with releases of or exposure to hazardous materials relating to ACI's current or former properties or third-party waste disposal sites can also arise. In addition, the presence of contamination at any of ACI's properties could impair its ability to sell or lease the contaminated properties or to borrow money using any of these properties as collateral. The costs and liabilities associated with any such contamination could be substantial, and could have a material adverse effect on ACI's business. Under current environmental laws, ACI may be held responsible for the remediation of environmental conditions regardless of whether ACI leases, sublease or own the stores or other facilities and regardless of whether such environmental conditions were created by ACI or a prior owner or tenant. In addition, the increased focus on climate change, waste management and other environmental issues may result in new environmental laws or regulations that negatively affect ACI directly or indirectly through increased costs on its suppliers. There can be no assurance that environmental contamination relating to prior, existing or future sites or other environmental changes will not adversely affect ACI through, for example, business interruption, cost of remediation or adverse publicity.

ACI is subject to, and may in the future be subject to, legal or other proceedings that could have a material adverse effect on ACI.

From time to time, ACI is a party to legal proceedings, including matters involving personnel and employment issues, personal injury, antitrust claims, intellectual property claims and other proceedings arising in or outside of the ordinary course of business. In addition, there are an increasing number of cases being filed against companies generally, which contain class-action allegations under federal and state wage and hour laws. ACI estimates its exposure to these legal proceedings and establishes reserves for the estimated liabilities. Assessing and predicting the outcome of these matters involves substantial uncertainties. Although not currently anticipated by management, unexpected outcomes in these legal proceedings or changes in management's forecast assumptions or predictions, could have a material adverse impact on ACI's results of operations.

ACI may be adversely affected by risks related to its dependence on IT systems. Any future changes to or intrusion into these IT systems, even if ACI is compliant with industry security standards, could materially adversely affect its reputation, financial condition and operating results.

ACI has complex IT systems that are important to the success of its business operations and marketing initiatives. If ACI were to experience failures, breakdowns, substandard performance or other adverse events affecting these systems, or difficulties accessing the proprietary business data stored in these systems, or in maintaining, expanding or upgrading existing systems or implementing new systems, ACI could incur significant losses due to disruptions in ACI's systems and business.

ACI's ability to effectively manage the day-to-day business of approximately 515 NALP stores depends significantly on IT services and systems provided by SuperValu pursuant to two transition services agreements, which we refer to as the SVU TSAs. Prior to NALP's transition onto Safeway's IT systems, the failure of SuperValu's systems to operate effectively or to integrate with other systems, or unauthorized access into SuperValu's systems, could cause ACI to incur significant losses due to disruptions in ACI's systems and business. On October 17, 2017, Albertson's LLC and NALP entered into wind-down agreements with SuperValu providing for, among other things, the termination of the SVU TSAs on September 21, 2018. Although ACI expects to complete the transition of the properties covered by the SVU TSAs onto Safeway's IT systems prior to September 1, 2018, ACI may experience disruptions as a part of that process. As a result, if ACI is unable to complete the transition of certain properties by September 1, 2018, ACI will be required to pay SuperValu additional fees under the wind-down agreements and remain dependent upon SuperValu to provide these services until the transition is complete.

ACI receives and stores personal information in connection with its marketing and human resources organizations. The protection of ACI's customer and employee data is critically important to

ACI. Despite ACI's considerable efforts to secure its respective computer networks, security could be compromised, confidential information could be misappropriated or system disruptions could occur, as has occurred with a number of other retailers. If ACI (or through SuperValu) experiences a data security breach, ACI could be exposed to government enforcement actions, possible assessments from the card brands if credit card data was involved and potential litigation. In addition, ACI's customers could lose confidence in its ability to protect their personal information, which could cause them to stop shopping at ACI's stores altogether. The loss of confidence from a data security breach involving ACI's employees could hurt its reputation and cause employee recruiting and retention challenges.

Improper activities by third parties, exploitation of encryption technology, new data-hacking tools and discoveries and other events or developments may result in future intrusions into or compromise of ACI's networks, payment card terminals or other payment systems. In particular, the techniques used by criminals to obtain unauthorized access to sensitive data change frequently and often cannot be recognized until launched against a target; accordingly, ACI may not be able to anticipate these frequently changing techniques or implement adequate preventive measures for all of them. Any unauthorized access into ACI's customers' sensitive information, or data belonging to ACI or its suppliers, even if ACI is compliant with industry security standards, could put ACI at a competitive disadvantage, result in deterioration of its customers' confidence in ACI, and subject it to potential litigation, liability, fines and penalties and consent decrees, resulting in a possible material adverse impact on its financial condition and results of operations.

As merchants who accept debit and credit cards for payment, ACI is subject to the Payment Card Industry, which we refer to as PCI, Data Security Standard, which we refer to as PCI DSS, issued by the PCI Council. PCI DSS contains compliance guidelines and standards with regard to ACI's security surrounding the physical administrative and technical storage, processing and transmission of individual cardholder data. By accepting debit cards for payment, ACI is also subject to compliance with American National Standards Institute, which we refer to as ANSI, data encryption standards and payment network security operating guidelines. In addition, ACI is required to comply with PCI DSS version 3.2 for its 2018 assessment, and is replacing or enhancing ACI's in-store systems to comply with these standards. Failure to be PCI compliant or to meet other payment card standards may result in the imposition of financial penalties or the allocation by the card brands of the costs of fraudulent charges to ACI. Despite ACI's efforts to comply with these or other payment card standards and other information security measures, ACI cannot be certain that all of its (or through SuperValu) IT systems will be able to prevent, contain or detect all cyber-attacks or intrusions from known malware or malware that may be developed in the future. To the extent that any disruption results in the loss, damage or misappropriation of information, ACI may be adversely affected by claims from customers, financial institutions, regulatory authorities, payment card associations and others. In addition, the cost of complying with stricter privacy and information security laws and standards, including PCI DSS version 3.2 and ANSI data encryption standards, could be significant.

Furthermore, on October 1, 2015, the payment card industry began to shift liability for certain transactions to retailers who are not able to accept Europay, Mastercard, and Visa, which we refer to as EMV, chip card transactions, which we refer to as the EMV Liability Shift. ACI has substantially completed the process of implementing EMV chip card technology in ACI's stores and is currently implementing EMV chip card technology in its fuel centers. Before the implementation of EMV chip card technology is completed by ACI, it may be liable for costs incurred by payment card issuing banks and other third parties or subject to fines and higher transaction fees, which could have an adverse effect on ACI's business, financial condition or cash flows.

Table of ContentsTermination of the SuperValu transition services agreement or the failure of SuperValu to perform its obligations thereunder could adversely affect ACI's business, financial results and financial condition.

ACI's ability to effectively monitor and control the operations of its company depends to a large extent on the proper functioning of its IT and business support systems. In connection with ACI's acquisition of NALP, Albertson's LLC and NALP each entered into an SVU TSA. Pursuant to the SVU TSAs, Albertson's LLC and NALP each pay fees to SuperValu for certain services, including back office, administrative, IT, procurement, insurance and accounting services. The SVU TSAs limit the liability of SuperValu to instances in which SuperValu has committed gross negligence in regard to the provision of services or has breached its obligations under the SVU TSAs. The SVU TSAs terminated and replaced a transition services agreement providing for substantially similar services, which ACI had previously entered into with SuperValu in connection with ACI's June 2006 acquisition of certain Albertsons stores. ACI is dependent upon SuperValu to continue to provide these services to Albertson's LLC and NALP until ACI transitions Albertson's LLC and NALP onto Safeway's IT system and otherwise replaces SuperValu as a service provider to Albertson's LLC and NALP. In addition, ACI may depend on SuperValu to manage IT services and systems for additional stores ACI acquires, including the stores ACI has acquired from A&P, until ACI is able to transition such stores onto Safeway's IT system. The failure by SuperValu to perform its obligations under the SVU TSAs prior to Albertson's LLC's and NALP's transition onto Safeway's IT systems and to other service providers (external or internal) could adversely affect ACI's business, financial results, prospects and results of operations.

On October 17, 2017, Albertson's LLC and NALP entered into wind-down agreements with SuperValu providing for, among other things, the termination of the SVU TSAs on September 21, 2018. Although ACI expects to complete the transition of the properties covered by the SVU TSAs onto Safeway's IT systems prior to September 1, 2018, ACI may suffer disruptions as part of that process. As a result, if ACI is unable to complete the transition of certain properties by September 1, 2018, ACI will be required to pay SuperValu additional fees under the wind-down agreements and remain dependent upon SuperValu to provide these services until ACI's transition is complete.

Furthermore, SuperValu manages and operates NALP's distribution center located in the Lancaster, Pennsylvania area. Under an operating and supply agreement with SuperValu for the operation of, and supply of products from, the distribution center located in the Lancaster, Pennsylvania area, which we refer to as the Lancaster Agreement, SuperValu supplies NALP's Acme and Shaw's stores from the distribution center under a shared costs arrangement. The failure by SuperValu to perform its obligations under the Lancaster Agreement could adversely affect ACI's business, financial results and financial condition.

ACI's third-party IT services provider discovered unauthorized computer intrusions in 2014. These intrusions could adversely affect ACI's brands and could discourage customers from shopping in ACI's Albertsons and NALP stores.

ACI's third-party IT services provider for Albertsons and NALP, SuperValu, informed ACI in the summer of 2014 that it discovered unlawful intrusions to approximately 800 Shaw's, Star Market, Acme, Jewel-Osco and Albertsons banner stores in an attempt to obtain payment card data. ACI has contacted the appropriate law enforcement authorities regarding these incidents and has coordinated with ACI's merchant bank and payment processors to address the situation. ACI maintains insurance to address potential liabilities for cyber risks and, in the case of ACI and NALP, is self-insured for cyber risks for periods prior to August 11, 2014. ACI has also notified its various insurance carriers of these incidents and is providing further updates to the carriers as the investigation continues.

On October 6, 2015, ACI received a letter from the Office of the Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania stating that the Illinois and Pennsylvania Attorneys General Offices are leading a multi-state group that includes the attorneys general for 14 other states requesting specified information concerning the two data breach incidents. The multistate group has not made a monetary demand, and ACI is unable to estimate the possibility of or reasonable range of loss, if any. ACI has cooperated with the investigation. In addition, the payment card networks required that forensic investigations be conducted of the intrusions. The forensic firm retained by ACI to conduct an investigation has issued separate reports for each intrusion (copies of which have been provided to the payment card networks).

In both reports, the forensic firm found that not all of the PCI DSS standards had been met at the time of the intrusions and that some of this non-compliance may have contributed to or caused at least some portion of the compromise that occurred during the intrusions. On August 5, 2016, ACI was notified that MasterCard had asserted its initial assessment for incremental counterfeit fraud losses and non-ordinary course expenses (such as card reissuance costs) as well as its case management assessment. On December 5, 2016, ACI was further notified that MasterCard had asserted its final assessment of approximately $6.0 million, which ACI paid on December 9, 2016; however ACI disputes the MasterCard assessment. and, on March 10, 2017, filed a lawsuit against MasterCard seeking recovery of the assessment. On May 5, 2017, MasterCard filed a motion to dismiss the litigation. In a decision dated August 25, 2017, the court denied MasterCard's motion, and the litigation is ongoing. On January 2, 2018, ACI was notified that Visa, Inc., which we refer to as Visa, had asserted its assessment for incremental fraud losses and card reissuance costs for $1.0 million. ACI paid the assessment in the fiscal quarter ended February 24, 2018. On October 20, 2015, ACI agreed with one of its third-party payment administrators to provide a $15 million letter of credit to cover any claims from the payment card networks and to maintain a minimum level of card processing until the potential claims from the payment card networks are resolved. On January 4, 2018, this third-party payment administrator agreed to reduce the letter of credit to the Visa assessment amount of approximately $1.0 million. ACI has recorded an estimated liability for probable losses that ACI expects to incur in connection with the claims or potential claims to be made by the payment card networks. The estimated liability is based on information currently available to ACI and may change as new information becomes available or if other payment card networks assert their claims against ACI. ACI will continue to evaluate information as it becomes available and will record an estimate of additional loss, if any, when it is both probable that a loss has been incurred and the amount of the loss is reasonably estimable. Currently, the potential range of any loss above ACI's currently recorded amount cannot be reasonably estimated given other claims may still be asserted by the payment card networks other than MasterCard and Visa and because significant factual and legal issues remain unresolved.

ACI believes the intrusions may have been an attempt to collect payment card data. As a result of the criminal intrusions, two class action complaints were filed against ACI by consumers and are currently pending, Mertz v. SuperValu Inc. et al., filed in federal court in the state of Minnesota and Rocke v. SuperValu Inc. et al., filed in federal court in the state of Idaho, alleging deceptive trade practices, negligence and invasion of privacy. The plaintiffs seek unspecified damages. The Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation has consolidated the class actions and transferred the cases to the District of Minnesota. On August 10, 2015, ACI, together with SuperValu, filed a motion to dismiss the class actions, which was granted without prejudice on January 7, 2016. The plaintiffs filed a motion to alter or amend the court's judgment, which was denied on April 20, 2016. The court also denied leave to amend the complaint. On May 18, 2016, the plaintiffs filed a notice of appeal to the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals and defendants filed a cross-appeal. In a decision dated August 30, 2017, the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the District Court's dismissal of the case as to one of the 16 named plaintiffs, affirmed the dismissal as to the remaining 15 named plaintiffs and remanded the case to the District Court for further proceedings. On November 3, 2017, ACI filed a motion to dismiss with respect to the remaining plaintiff's claim on the basis that the plaintiff was not a customer of any of ACI's stores, and on March 7, 2018, ACI's motion to dismiss was granted with prejudice and these complaints are now resolved.

There can be no assurance that ACI will not suffer a similar criminal attack in the future or that unauthorized parties will not gain access to personal information of ACI's customers. While ACI has recently implemented additional security software and hardware designed to provide additional protections against unauthorized intrusions, there can be no assurance that unauthorized individuals will not discover a means to circumvent ACI's security. Computer intrusions could adversely affect ACI's brands, have caused ACI to incur legal and other fees, may cause ACI to incur additional expenses for additional security measures and could discourage customers from shopping in ACI's stores.

Three of ACI's insurance carriers have denied its claim for cyber insurance coverage for losses resulting from the intrusions based on, among other things, the insurers' conclusions that the intrusions began prior to the start date for coverage under the cyber insurance policy. ACI responded to the insurers' denials disagreeing with the conclusions and reserving ACI's rights. ACI's claims with other of its insurance carriers remain outstanding.

ACI uses a combination of insurance and self-insurance to address potential liabilities for workers' compensation, automobile and general liability, property risk (including earthquake and flood coverage), director and officers liability, employment practices liability, pharmacy liability and employee health care benefits.

ACI uses a combination of insurance and self-insurance to address potential liabilities for workers' compensation, automobile and general liability, property risk (including earthquake and flood coverage), director and officers liability, employment practices liability, pharmacy liability and employee health care benefits and cyber and terrorism risks. ACI estimates the liabilities associated with the risks retained by ACI, in part, by considering historical claims experience, demographic and severity factors and other actuarial assumptions which, by their nature, are subject to a high degree of variability. Among the causes of this variability are unpredictable external factors affecting future inflation rates, discount rates, litigation trends, legal interpretations, benefit level changes and claim settlement patterns.

The majority of ACI's workers' compensation liability is from claims occurring in California. California workers compensation has received intense scrutiny from the state's politicians, insurers, employers and providers, as well as the public in general.

ACI's long-lived assets, primarily goodwill and store-level assets, are subject to periodic testing for impairment.

ACI's long-lived assets, primarily goodwill and store-level assets, are subject to periodic testing for impairment. ACI has incurred significant impairment charges to earnings in the past. Long-lived asset impairment charges were $100.9 million, $46.6 million and $40.2 million in the fiscal years ended February 24, 2018, February 25, 2017 and February 27, 2016, respectively. Failure to achieve sufficient levels of cash flow at reporting units and at store-level could result in impairment charges on long-lived assets. During the second quarter of the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI recorded a goodwill impairment loss of $142.3 million. The annual evaluation of goodwill performed for ACI's reporting units during the fourth quarters of the fiscal years ended February 24, 2018, February 25, 2017 and February 27, 2016 did not result in impairment.

ACI's operations are dependent upon the availability of a significant amount of energy and fuel to manufacture, store, transport and sell products.

ACI's operations are dependent upon the availability of a significant amount of energy and fuel to manufacture, store, transport and sell products. Energy and fuel costs are influenced by international, political and economic circumstances and have experienced volatility over time. To reduce the impact of volatile energy costs, ACI has entered into contracts to purchase electricity and natural gas at fixed prices to satisfy a portion of ACI's energy needs. ACI also manages its exposure to changes in energy prices utilized in the shipping process through the use of short-term diesel fuel derivative contracts. Volatility in fuel and energy costs that exceeds offsetting contractual arrangements could adversely affect ACI's results of operations.

ACI may have liability under certain operating leases that were assigned to third parties.

ACI may have liability under certain operating leases that were assigned to third parties. If any of these third parties fail to perform their obligations under the leases, ACI could be responsible for the lease obligation.

With respect to other leases ACI has assigned to third parties, because of the wide dispersion among third parties and the variety of remedies available, ACI believes that if an assignee became insolvent it would not have a material effect on ACI's financial condition, results of operations or cash flows. No liability has been recorded for assigned leases in ACI's consolidated balance sheet related to these contingent obligations.

ACI may be unable to attract and retain key personnel, which could adversely impact its ability to successfully execute its business strategy.

The continued successful implementation of ACI's business strategy depends in large part upon the ability and experience of members of its senior management. In addition, ACI's performance is dependent on its ability to identify, hire, train, motivate and retain qualified management, technical, sales and marketing and retail personnel. ACI cannot assure you that it will be able to retain such personnel on acceptable terms or at all. If ACI loses the services of members of its senior management or is unable to continue to attract and retain the necessary personnel, ACI may not be able to successfully execute its business strategy, which could have an adverse effect on its business.

Risks Relating to ACI's Safeway, A&P and Haggen Acquisitions and Integration

ACI may not be able to achieve the full amount of synergies that are anticipated, or achieve the synergies on the schedule anticipated, from the Safeway acquisition.

Although ACI currently expects to achieve annual synergies from the Safeway acquisition of approximately $823 million on a run-rate basis by February 23, 2019 with remaining associated one-time costs of approximately $200 million, including approximately $65 million of Safeway integration-related capital expenditures, inclusion of the projected synergies in this proxy statement/prospectus should not be viewed as a representation that ACI in fact will achieve this annual synergy target by February 23, 2019, or at all. ACI achieved synergies from the Safeway acquisition of approximately $575 million and $675 million during the fiscal years ended February 25, 2017 and February 24, 2018, respectively, or approximately $750 million on an annual run-rate basis by February 24, 2018, principally from savings related to corporate and division overhead, ACI's own brands, the conversion of Albertsons and NALP onto Safeway's IT systems, marketing and advertising cost reduction and operational efficiencies within ACI's back office and distribution and manufacturing organizations.

To the extent ACI fails to achieve these synergies, its results of operations may be impacted, and any such impact may be material. Actual synergies, the expenses and cash required to realize the synergies and the sources of the synergies could differ materially from these estimates, and ACI cannot assure you that it will achieve the full amount of synergies on the schedule anticipated, or at all, or that these synergy programs will not have other adverse effects on ACI's business. In light of these significant uncertainties, you should not place undue reliance on ACI's estimated synergies.

ACI has incurred, and will continue to incur, significant integration costs in connection with Safeway.

ACI expects that it will continue to incur a number of costs associated with integrating the operations of Safeway to achieve expected synergies. The substantial majority of these costs will be non-recurring expenses resulting from the Safeway acquisition and will consist of ACI's transition of NALP to Safeway's IT systems, consolidation costs and employment-related costs. Anticipated synergies are expected to require approximately $200 million of remaining associated one-time costs, including approximately $65 million of one-time integration-related capital expenditures during the fiscal year ending February 23, 2019. Additional unanticipated costs may be incurred in the integration of Safeway's business. Although ACI expects that the elimination of duplicative costs, as well as the realization of other efficiencies related to the integration of the businesses, may offset incremental transaction and merger-related costs over time, this net benefit may not be achieved in the near term, or at all.

New business initiatives and strategies may be less successful than anticipated and could adversely affect ACI's business.

The introduction, implementation, success and timing of new business initiatives and strategies, including, but not limited to, initiatives to increase revenue or reduce costs, may be less successful or may be different than anticipated, which could adversely affect ACI's business.

See "Risks Relating to the Combined Company Following the Merger" The failure by the combined company to integrate successfully the business and operations of Rite Aid and ACI and execute on its business strategy in the expected time frame may adversely affect the combined company's future results beginning on page 56 of this proxy statement/prospectus for a discussion of risks relating to the integration of the business and operations of Rite Aid and ACI.

Risks Relating to ACI's Indebtedness

ACI's substantial level of indebtedness could adversely affect its financial condition and prevent ACI from fulfilling its obligations under its indebtedness.

ACI has a significant amount of indebtedness. As of February 24, 2018, on an actual basis, ACI had $11.3 billion of debt outstanding, and ACI would have been able to borrow an additional $3.1 billion under the borrowing bases under the ACI ABL Facility. In addition, as of February 24, 2018 and on a pro forma basis for the consummation of the merger and the refinancing transactions contemplated thereby (as further discussed in the section entitled "The Merger Debt Matters" beginning on page 95 of this proxy statement/prospectus), ACI's total indebtedness would have been approximately $14.9 billion, and ACI expects that it would have been able to borrow an additional $3.2 billion under the ACI ABL Facility (or the Best-Efforts ABL Facility).

ACI's substantial indebtedness could have important consequences to you. For example, it could:

adversely affect the market price of ACI common stock;

increase ACI's vulnerability to general adverse economic and industry conditions;

Table of Contents

require ACI to dedicate a substantial portion of ACI's cash flow from operations to payments on its indebtedness, thereby reducing the availability of ACI's cash flow to fund working capital, capital expenditures and other general corporate purposes, including acquisitions;

limit ACI's flexibility in planning for, or reacting to, changes in its business and the industry in which it operates;

place ACI at a competitive disadvantage compared to its competitors that have less debt; and limit ACI's ability to borrow additional funds.

In addition, ACI cannot assure you that it will be able to refinance any of its debt or that it will be able to refinance its debt on commercially reasonable terms. If ACI were unable to make payments or refinance its debt or obtain new financing under these circumstances, ACI would have to consider other options, such as:

sales of assets;

sales of equity; or

negotiations with ACI's lenders to restructure the applicable debt.

ACI's debt instruments may restrict, or market or business conditions may limit, ACI's ability to use some of its options.

Despite ACI's significant indebtedness levels, ACI may still be able to incur substantially more debt, which could further exacerbate the risks associated with its substantial leverage.

ACI and its subsidiaries may be able to incur substantial additional indebtedness in the future. The terms of the credit agreements that govern the ACI ABL Facility and the ACI Term Loan Facility (which, together with the ACI ABL Facility, we refer to as the Senior Secured Credit Facilities) and the indentures that govern the NALP Notes (as defined herein), the Safeway Notes and the ACI Unsecured Notes (as defined herein), as well as the indentures governing the 2027 Rite Aid Notes and the 2028 Rite Aid Notes that will remain outstanding after the merger, permit ACI to incur significant additional indebtedness, subject to certain limitations. Additionally, it is expected that the agreements that will govern the Best-Efforts ABL Facility, the ABL Term Loan Facility, and the Floating Rate Indenture (as defined herein) will permit ACI to incur significant additional indebtedness, subject to certain limitations. If new indebtedness is added to ACI's and ACI's subsidiaries' current debt levels, the related risks that ACI and they now face would intensify. See the section entitled "Description of Indebtedness" beginning on page 306 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

To service its indebtedness, the combined company will require a significant amount of cash and its ability to generate cash depends on many factors beyond its control.

The combined company's ability to make cash payments on and to refinance the combined company indebtedness and to fund planned capital expenditures will depend on its ability to generate significant operating cash flow in the future, as described in the section entitled "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of ACI Liquidity and Financial Resources" beginning on page 228 of this proxy statement/prospectus. This ability is, to a significant extent, subject to general economic, financial, competitive, legislative, regulatory and other factors that will be beyond the combined company's control.

The combined company's business may not generate sufficient cash flow from operations to enable the combined company to pay its indebtedness or to fund its other liquidity needs. In any such circumstance, the combined company may need to refinance all or a portion of its indebtedness, on or before maturity. The combined company may not be able to refinance any indebtedness on commercially reasonable terms or at all. If the combined company cannot service its indebtedness, it may have to take actions such as selling assets, seeking additional equity or reducing or delaying capital expenditures, strategic acquisitions and investments. Any such action, if necessary, may not be effected on commercially reasonable terms or at all. The instruments governing the combined company's indebtedness may restrict the combined company's ability to sell assets and the combined company's use of the proceeds from such sales.

If the combined company is unable to generate sufficient cash flow or are otherwise unable to obtain funds necessary to meet required payments of principal, premium, if any, and interest on its indebtedness, or if it otherwise fail to comply with the various covenants in the instruments governing its indebtedness, it could be in default under the terms of the agreements governing such indebtedness. In the event of such default, the holders of such indebtedness could elect to declare all the funds borrowed thereunder to be due and payable, together with accrued and unpaid interest, the lenders under ACI credit agreement, or any replacement revolving credit facility in respect thereof, could elect to terminate their revolving commitments thereunder, cease making further loans and institute foreclosure proceedings against the combined company's assets, and the combined company could be forced into bankruptcy or liquidation.

ACI's debt instruments limit its flexibility in operating its business.

ACI's debt instruments contain various covenants that limit its and its restricted subsidiaries' ability to engage in specified types of transactions, including, among other things:

incur additional indebtedness or provide guarantees in respect of obligations of other persons, or issue disqualified or preferred stock;

pay dividends on, repurchase or make distributions in respect of ACI's capital stock or make other restricted payments;

repay, redeem or repurchase debt;

make loans, investments and capital expenditures;

sell or otherwise dispose of certain assets;

incur liens;

engage in sale and leaseback transactions;

restrict dividends, loans or asset transfers from ACI's subsidiaries; consolidate, merge, sell or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of ACI's assets;

enter into a new or different line of business; and enter into certain transactions with ACI's affiliates.

A breach of any of these covenants could result in a default under ACI's debt instruments. In addition, any debt agreements (including in connection with the Financing) ACI enters into in the future may further limit its ability to enter into certain types of transactions. In addition, the restrictive covenants in the ACI ABL Facility require, and the Best-Efforts ABL Facility and ABL Term Loan Facility are expected to require, ACI, in certain circumstances, to maintain a specific fixed charge coverage ratio. ACI's ability to meet that financial ratio can be affected by events beyond its control, and ACI cannot assure you that ACI will meet it. A breach of this covenant could result in a default under such facilities. Moreover, the occurrence of a default under the ACI ABL Facility could result in an event of default under ACI's other indebtedness. Upon the occurrence of an event of default under the ACI ABL Facility or the Best-Efforts ABL Facility, the lenders could elect to declare all amounts outstanding under such facilities to be immediately due and payable and terminate all commitments to extend further credit. Even if ACI is able to obtain new financing, it may not be on commercially reasonable terms, or terms that are acceptable to ACI. See the section entitled "Description of Indebtedness" beginning on page 306 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Currently, substantially all of ACI's assets are pledged as collateral under the Senior Secured Credit Facilities.

As of February 24, 2018, on an actual basis, ACI's total indebtedness was approximately $11.3 billion, including $5.7 billion outstanding under ACI's Senior Secured Credit Facilities. As of February 24, 2018, on an actual basis, ACI had $576.8 million of outstanding standby letters of credit under its Senior Secured Credit Facilities. In addition, as of February 24, 2018 and on a pro forma basis for the consummation of the merger and the refinancing transactions contemplated thereby (as further discussed in the section entitled "The Merger Debt Matters" beginning on page 95 of this proxy statement/prospectus), ACI's total indebtedness would have been approximately $14.9 billion. Substantially all of ACI's and ACI's subsidiaries' assets are pledged as collateral for this indebtedness. Additionally, as a result of the refinancing transactions contemplated in connection with the merger, the 2027 Rite Aid Notes and the 2028 Rite Aid Notes will receive an equal and ratable lien solely on the assets of Rite Aid (and not on its subsidiaries) that secure the ACI Term Loan Facility. As of February 24, 2018, the ACI ABL Facility would have permitted additional borrowings of up to a maximum of $3.1 billion under the borrowing bases as of that date. If ACI is unable to repay all secured borrowings under its Senior Secured Credit Facilities when due, whether at maturity or if declared due and payable following a default, the administrative agents or the lenders, as applicable, would have the right to proceed against the collateral pledged to secure the indebtedness and may sell the assets pledged as collateral in order to repay those borrowings, which could have a material adverse effect on ACI's business, financial condition, results of operations or cash flows.

Additionally, subject to certain exceptions, the Best-Efforts ABL Facility, the ABL Term Loan Facility and the Floating Rate Notes will also be secured by ACI's and ACI's subsidiaries' (including Rite Aid and its subsidiaries) assets after the merger. For a description of the collateral securing these facilities, see the section entitled "The Merger Debt Matters" beginning on page 95 of this proxy statement/prospectus for more information.

Increases in interest rates and/or a downgrade of ACI's credit ratings could negatively affect its financing costs and its ability to access capital.

ACI has exposure to future interest rates based on the variable rate debt under ACI's credit facilities and to the extent ACI raises additional debt in the capital markets to meet maturing debt obligations, to fund ACI's capital expenditures and working capital needs and to finance future acquisitions. Daily working capital requirements are typically financed with operational cash flow and through the use of various committed lines of credit. The interest rate on these borrowing arrangements is generally determined from the inter-bank offering rate at the borrowing date plus a pre-set margin. Although ACI employs risk management techniques to hedge against interest rate volatility, significant and sustained increases in market interest rates could materially increase ACI's financing costs and negatively impact its reported results.

ACI relies on access to bank and capital markets as sources of liquidity for cash requirements not satisfied by cash flows from operations. A downgrade in ACI's credit ratings from the internationally recognized credit rating agencies could negatively affect its ability to access the bank and capital markets, especially in a time of uncertainty in either of those markets. A rating downgrade could also impact ACI's ability to grow its business by substantially increasing the cost of, or limiting access to, capital.

Risks Relating to Rite Aid's Business

You should read and consider risk factors specific to Rite Aid's business that will also affect the combined company after the merger. These risks are described in the section entitled "Risk Factors" in Rite Aid's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 3, 2018, and in other documents incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus. See the section entitled "Where You Can Find More Information" beginning on page 353 of this proxy statement/prospectus for the location of information incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus.

The registration statement on Form S-4 of which this proxy statement/prospectus forms a part, and the documents to which ACI and Rite Aid refer you to in this proxy statement/prospectus as well as oral statements made or to be made by ACI and Rite Aid, include certain forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Securities Act and the Exchange Act, both as amended by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, with respect to the businesses, strategies and plans of ACI and Rite Aid, their expectations relating to the merger and their future financial condition and performance. Statements included in or incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus that are not historical facts, including statements about the beliefs and expectations of the management of each of ACI and Rite Aid, are forward-looking statements. Words such as believes, plans, anticipates, estimates, expects, intends, aims, potential, will, would, could, considered, likely, estimate and words and similar future or conditional expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements but are not the exclusive means of identifying such statements. Statements regarding cost synergies and revenue opportunities (and in each case, the components, amounts and/or percentages thereof) are forward-looking statements. While ACI and Rite Aid believe these expectations, assumptions, estimates and projections are reasonable, such forward-looking statements are only predictions and involve known and unknown risks and uncertainties, many of which are beyond the control of ACI and Rite Aid. By their nature, forward-looking statements involve risk and uncertainty because they relate to events and depend upon future circumstances that may or may not occur. Actual results may differ materially from the current expectations of ACI and Rite Aid depending upon a number of factors affecting their businesses and risks associated with the successful execution of the merger and the integration and performance of their businesses following the merger. These factors include, but are not limited to, risks and uncertainties detailed in Rite Aid's periodic public filings with the SEC, including those discussed in the section of this proxy statement/prospectus entitled Risk Factors beginning on page 50 of this proxy statement/prospectus and in the section entitled Risk Factors in Rite Aid's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 3, 2018, factors contained or incorporated by reference into such documents and in subsequent filings by Rite Aid with the SEC, and the following factors:

the occurrence of any change, effect, event, occurrence, development, matter, state of facts, series of events or circumstances that could give rise to the termination of the merger agreement, including a termination of the merger agreement under circumstances that could require Rite Aid to pay a termination fee and/or expenses to ACI;

access to significant debt financing for the proposed merger on a timely basis and on reasonable terms;

uncertainties related to the timing and likelihood of the completion of the merger, including the risk that the transaction may not close due to one or more closing conditions to the merger not being satisfied or waived, such as regulatory approvals not being obtained, on a timely basis or otherwise, or that a governmental entity prohibited, delayed or refused to grant approval for the consummation of the transaction or required certain conditions, limitations or restrictions in connection with such approvals;

risks relating to the integration of ACI and Rite Aid operations, products and employees into the combined company and the possibility that the anticipated cost synergies, growth opportunities and other benefits of the proposed merger (including the components, amounts and/or percentages thereof) will not be realized in whole or in part, within the expected timeframe, or at all, or that the costs related to such activities will not be greater than anticipated;

the inability to complete the merger due to the failure to obtain Rite Aid stockholder approval of the merger proposal or the failure to satisfy other conditions to the closing of the merger;

INFORMATION ABOUT THE SPECIAL MEETING

General

This proxy statement/prospectus is being provided to Rite Aid stockholders as part of a solicitation of proxies by the Rite Aid board of directors for use at the special meeting to be held at the time and place specified below, and at any adjournment or postponement thereof.

Date, Time and Place

Rite Aid will hold the special meeting on August 9, 2018 at the office of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP, 4 Times Square, New York, NY 10036, at 8:30 a.m., Eastern time.

Purpose of the Special Meeting

At the special meeting, Rite Aid will ask Rite Aid stockholders of record as of the record date to vote on proposals (i) to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, (ii) to approve, by a non-binding, advisory vote, compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger, and (iii) to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes to adopt the merger agreement at the time of the special meeting.

Recommendation of the Rite Aid Board of Directors

The Rite Aid board of directors, after considering various factors described under the section entitled "The Merger Recommendation of the Rite Aid Board of Directors; Rite Aid's Reasons for the Merger" beginning on page 122 of this proxy statement/prospectus, unanimously determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, are advisable, fair to and in the best interests of Rite Aid and its stockholders, and approved, adopted and declared advisable the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

The Rite Aid board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote (i) FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, (ii) FOR the proposal to approve, by a non-binding, advisory vote, compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger and (iii) FOR the proposal to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes to adopt the merger agreement at the time of the special meeting.

Record Date; Stockholders Entitled to Vote; Quorum

Only stockholders of record as of the close of business on June 22, 2018 are entitled to notice of the special meeting and to vote at the special meeting or at any adjournments or postponements thereof. A list of stockholders entitled to vote at the special meeting will be available in Rite Aid's offices located at 30 Hunter Lane, Camp Hill, Pennsylvania 17011, during regular business hours for a period of at least ten (10) days before the special meeting and at the place of the special meeting during the special meeting.

As of the record date, there were approximately 1,067,312,183 shares of Rite Aid common stock outstanding and entitled to be voted at the special meeting.

Table of Contents

A quorum of stockholders is necessary to hold a special meeting. The holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Rite Aid common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting, either present in person or represented by proxy, will constitute a quorum at the special meeting. As a result, 533,656,092 shares must be represented by proxy or by stockholders present and entitled to vote at the special meeting to have a quorum.

In the event that a quorum is not present at the special meeting, it is expected that the meeting would be adjourned or postponed to a later date to solicit additional proxies.

Voting by Rite Aid's Directors and Executive Officers

As of the record date, Rite Aid directors and executive officers beneficially owned and were entitled to vote, in the aggregate, 8,474,826 shares of Rite Aid common stock (excluding any shares of Rite Aid common stock that would be delivered upon exercise or conversion of stock options or other equity-based awards), which represented approximately 0.79% of the outstanding shares of Rite Aid common stock on that date. The directors and executive officers of Rite Aid have informed Rite Aid that they currently intend to vote all of their shares of Rite Aid common stock (i) FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, (ii) FOR the proposal to approve, by a non-binding, advisory vote, compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger and (iii) FOR the proposal to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes to adopt the merger agreement at the time of the special meeting.

Required Vote; Failure to Vote, Broker Non-Votes and Abstentions

The affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Rite Aid common stock entitled to vote thereon is required to approve the merger proposal. Adoption of the merger agreement by Rite Aid stockholders is a condition to the closing of the merger.

Assuming a quorum is present, approval of the compensation proposal requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented at the special meeting, either in person or by proxy, and entitled to vote thereon. Approval of the adjournment proposal, whether or not a quorum is present, requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented at the special meeting, either in person or by proxy, and entitled to vote thereon.

If a Rite Aid stockholder abstains from voting, the abstention will have the same effect as if the stockholder voted AGAINST the merger proposal, the compensation proposal and the adjournment proposal.

If you hold your shares in street name, the failure to instruct your broker, bank or other nominee on how to vote your shares will count as a vote AGAINST the merger proposal, but will have no effect on the compensation proposal or the adjournment proposal.

Broker non-votes are shares held by a broker, bank or other nominee that are present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting, but with respect to which the broker, bank or other nominee is not instructed by the beneficial owner of such shares on how to vote on a particular proposal and the broker does not have discretionary voting power on such proposal. Because brokers, banks and other nominee holders of record do not have discretionary voting authority with respect to any of the three proposals, if a beneficial owner of shares of Rite Aid common stock held in street name does not give voting instructions to the broker, bank or other nominee with respect to any of the proposals, then those shares will not be present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting. If there are any broker non-votes, then such broker non-votes will be counted as a vote AGAINST the merger proposal, but will have no effect on the compensation proposal or the adjournment proposal.

Voting of Proxies

If your shares are registered in your name with Rite Aid's transfer agent, Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc., you may cause your shares to be voted by returning a signed proxy card, or you may vote in person at the special meeting. Additionally, you may submit electronically over the Internet or by phone a proxy authorizing the voting of your shares by following the instructions on your proxy card. You must have the enclosed proxy card available, and follow the instructions on the proxy card, in order to submit a proxy electronically over the Internet or by telephone. Based on your proxy cards or Internet and telephone proxies, the proxy holders will vote your shares according to your directions.

If you plan to attend the special meeting and wish to vote in person, you will be given a ballot at the meeting. If your shares are registered in your name, you are encouraged to vote by proxy even if you plan to attend the special meeting in person. If you attend the special meeting and vote in person, your vote by ballot will revoke any proxy previously submitted.

Voting instructions are included on your proxy card. All shares represented by properly executed proxies received in time for the special meeting will be voted at the special meeting in accordance with the instructions of the stockholder. Properly executed proxies that do not contain voting instructions will be voted (i) FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, (ii) FOR the proposal to approve, by a non-binding, advisory vote, compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger and (iii) FOR the proposal to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes to adopt the merger agreement at the time of the special meeting. No proxy that is specifically marked against the merger proposal will be voted in favor of the compensation proposal, unless it is specifically marked FOR the approval of the compensation proposal.

If your shares are held in street name through a broker, bank or other nominee, you may vote through your broker, bank or other nominee by completing and returning the voting form provided by your broker, bank or other nominee, or by the Internet or telephone through your broker, bank or other nominee if such a service is provided. To vote via the Internet or telephone through your broker, bank or other nominee, you should follow the instructions on the voting form provided by your broker, bank or other nominee. Under applicable stock exchange rules, brokers, banks or other nominees have the discretion to vote your shares on routine matters if you fail to instruct your broker, bank or other nominee on how to vote your shares with respect to such matters. Proposals 1, 2 and 3 in this proxy statement/prospectus are non-routine matters, and brokers, banks and other nominees therefore cannot vote on these proposals without your instructions. If you do not return your broker's, bank's or other nominee's voting form, do not vote via the Internet or telephone through your broker, bank or other nominee, if applicable, or do not attend the special meeting and vote in person with a proxy from your broker, bank or other nominee, such actions will have the same effect as if you voted AGAINST the merger proposal but will not have any effect on the compensation proposal or the adjournment proposal.

Revocation of Proxies

If you are a stockholder of record, you may change your vote or revoke your proxy at any time before it is voted at the special meeting by:

Submitting a new proxy electronically over the Internet or by telephone after the date of the earlier submitted proxy;

Delivering a written notice of revocation to Rite Aid's Secretary;

Signing another proxy card with a later date and returning it to Rite Aid prior to the special meeting; or

Attending the special meeting and voting in person.

Please note that to be effective, your new proxy card, Internet or telephonic voting instructions or written notice of revocation must be received by Rite Aid's Secretary prior to the special meeting and, in the case of Internet or telephonic voting instructions, must be received before 11:59 p.m., Eastern time on August 8, 2018. If you have submitted a proxy, your appearance at the special meeting, in the absence of voting in person or submitting an additional proxy or revocation, will not have the effect of revoking your prior proxy.

If you hold your shares of common stock in street name, you should contact your broker, bank or other nominee for instructions regarding how to change your vote; or contact Rite Aid's proxy solicitor, Morrow Sodali LLC at (800) 662-5200. You may also vote in person at the special meeting if you obtain a valid legal proxy from your broker, bank or other nominee. Any adjournment of the special meeting for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies will allow Rite Aid stockholders who have already sent in their proxies to revoke them at any time prior to their use at the special meeting, as adjourned.

Solicitation of Proxies

The expense of soliciting proxies in the enclosed form will be borne by Rite Aid. Rite Aid has retained Morrow Sodali LLC, a proxy solicitation firm, to solicit proxies in connection with the special meeting at a cost of approximately $30,000 plus expenses. In addition, Rite Aid may reimburse brokers, banks and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries representing beneficial owners of shares for their expenses in forwarding soliciting materials to such beneficial owners, and representatives of ACI may solicit proxies in connection with the special meeting at the expense of ACI. Proxies may also be solicited by some of Rite Aid's directors, officers and employees, personally or by telephone, facsimile or other means of communication. No additional compensation will be paid for such services.

Anticipated Date of Completion of the Merger

While there is no assurance that the merger will close, the parties are working toward completing the merger early in the second half of calendar year 2018. However, the exact timing of completion of the merger cannot be predicted because the completion of the merger is subject to conditions, including, among other things, adoption of the merger agreement by Rite Aid stockholders and the receipt of regulatory approvals.

Proposal No. 1 Approval of the Merger Proposal

This proxy statement/prospectus is being furnished to you as a Rite Aid stockholder as part of the solicitation of proxies by the Rite Aid board of directors for use at the special meeting to consider and vote upon the merger proposal.

The merger cannot be completed without the approval of the merger proposal by the affirmative vote of a majority of the outstanding Rite Aid common stock. If you do not vote, the effect will be the same as a vote against approving the merger agreement. The merger agreement is attached as Annex A to this proxy statement/prospectus.

The Rite Aid board of directors has unanimously (i) determined that the merger agreement, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement are fair to and in the best interests of Rite Aid and its stockholders, (ii) approved and declared it advisable that Rite Aid enter into the merger agreement and (iii) adopted the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the mergers.

The Rite Aid board of directors unanimously recommends that Rite Aid stockholders vote FOR the merger proposal.

Proposal No. 2 Approval of the Compensation Proposal

The Non-Binding Advisory Proposal

Section 14A of the Exchange Act, which was enacted as part of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010, requires that Rite Aid provide Rite Aid stockholders with the opportunity to vote to approve, on an advisory non-binding basis, the payment of certain compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger. These payments are disclosed in the section entitled Interests of the Directors and Officers of Rite Aid in the Merger Golden Parachute Compensation and the accompanying footnotes beginning on page 303 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Rite Aid is asking Rite Aid stockholders to indicate their approval of the compensation that will or may become payable by Rite Aid to its named executive officers in connection with the merger. In general, the various plans and arrangements pursuant to which these compensation payments may be made formed part of Rite Aid's overall compensation program for its named executive officers, and have previously been disclosed to Rite Aid stockholders as part of the Compensation Discussion and Analysis and related sections of Rite Aid's annual proxy statements, as modified or supplemented by any applicable documents filed with the SEC since the date of such proxy statements. The Compensation Committee of the Rite Aid board of directors, which is composed solely of non-management directors, believes such compensatory arrangements to be reasonable.

The Rite Aid board of directors encourages you to review carefully the named executive officer merger-related compensation information disclosed in this proxy statement/prospectus. The Rite Aid board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote FOR the following resolution:

RESOLVED, that the stockholders of Rite Aid approve, on a nonbinding, advisory basis, the compensation that will or may become payable to Rite Aid's named executive officers that is based on or otherwise relates to the merger as disclosed pursuant to Item 402(t) of Regulation S-K in the section entitled Interests of the Directors and Officers of Rite Aid in the Merger Golden Parachute Compensation in Rite Aid's proxy statement/prospectus for the special meeting.

Stockholders should note that this proposal is not a condition to completion of the merger, and as an advisory vote, the result will not be binding on Rite Aid, the Rite Aid board of directors or ACI. Further, the underlying plans and arrangements are contractual in nature and not, by their terms, subject to stockholder approval. Accordingly, regardless of the outcome of the advisory vote, if the merger is consummated, Rite Aid's named executive officers will be entitled to receive the compensation that is based on or otherwise relates to the merger in accordance with the terms and conditions applicable to those payments.

Vote Required and Board of Directors Recommendation

Assuming a quorum is present, approval of the compensation proposal requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented at the special meeting, either in person or by proxy, and entitled to vote thereon.

The Rite Aid board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote FOR the compensation proposal.

Proposal No. 3 Approval of the Adjournment Proposal

The Adjournment Proposal

Rite Aid is asking you to approve a proposal to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes to adopt the merger agreement at the time of the special meeting. If Rite Aid stockholders approve the adjournment proposal, Rite Aid could adjourn the special meeting and any adjourned session of the special meeting and use the additional time to solicit additional proxies, including the solicitation of proxies from stockholders that have previously returned properly executed proxies voting against adoption of the merger agreement. Among other things, approval of the adjournment proposal could mean that, even if Rite Aid had received proxies representing a sufficient number of votes against adoption of the merger agreement such that the merger proposal would be defeated, Rite Aid could adjourn the special meeting without a vote on the adoption of the merger agreement and seek to convince the holders of those shares to change their votes to votes in favor of adoption of the merger agreement. Additionally, Rite Aid may seek to adjourn the special meeting if a quorum is not present at the special meeting.

Vote Required and Board of Directors Recommendation

Approval of the adjournment proposal, whether or not a quorum is present, requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented at the special meeting, either in person or by proxy, and entitled to vote thereon.

The Rite Aid board of directors believes that it is in the best interests of Rite Aid and its stockholders to be able to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies in respect of the merger proposal if there are insufficient votes to adopt the merger agreement at the time of the special meeting.

The Rite Aid board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote FOR the adjournment proposal.

Other Matters to Come Before the Rite Aid Special Meeting

At this time, Rite Aid knows of no other matters to be submitted at the special meeting.

PARTIES TO THE MERGER

30 Hunter Lane

(717) 761-2633

Rite Aid Corporation, a Delaware corporation, was incorporated in 1968 and, after giving effect to the sale of certain stores to WBA is one of the largest retail drugstore chains in the United States based on both revenues and number of stores. As of May 7, 2018, Rite Aid operated 2,533 stores in 19 states across the country. Rite Aid is a pharmacy retail healthcare company that provides its customers and communities with a high level of care and service through various programs it offers through its two reportable business segments, its Retail Pharmacy segment and its Pharmacy Services segment. Rite Aid accomplishes its goal of delivering comprehensive care to its customers through its retail drugstores, RediClinic walk-in retail health clinics and transparent and traditional EnvisionRxOptions and MedTrak PBMs. Rite Aid also offers fully integrated mail-order and specialty pharmacy services through EnvisionPharmacies. Additionally through Envision Insurance Company, EnvisionRxOptions also serves one of the fastest-growing demographics in healthcare: seniors enrolled in Medicare Part D. When combined with Rite Aid's retail platform, this comprehensive suite of services allows Rite Aid to provide value and choice to customers, patients and payors and allows it to succeed in today's evolving healthcare marketplace. Rite Aid is headquartered in Camp Hill, Pennsylvania.

Rite Aid common stock is listed on the NYSE under the symbol RAD.

Albertsons Companies, Inc.

250 Parkcenter Blvd.

Boise, Idaho 83706

(208) 395-6200

Albertsons Companies, Inc., a Delaware corporation, was formed in 2015 in connection with the planned reorganizational transactions of AB Acquisition. For more information on the ACI Reorganization Transactions, see the section entitled Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of ACI The ACI Reorganization Transactions beginning on page 212 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

ACI is one of the largest food and drug retailers in the United States, with both a strong local presence and national scale. As of February 24, 2018, ACI operated 2,318 stores across 35 states and the District of Columbia under 20 well-known banners including Albertsons, Safeway, Vons, Jewel-Osco, Shaw's, Acme, Tom Thumb, Randalls, United Supermarkets, Pavilions, Market Street, Star Market, Haggen and Carrs, as well as meal kit company Plated based in New York City. ACI operated 1,777 pharmacies, 1,275 in-store branded coffee shops and 397 adjacent fuel centers. Over the past five years, ACI has completed a series of acquisitions, beginning in March 2013 with its acquisition of NALP from SuperValu, which included the Albertsons stores that ACI did not already own and stores operating under the Acme, Jewel-Osco, Shaw's and Star Market banners. In December 2013, ACI acquired United, a regional grocery chain in North and West Texas. In January 2015, ACI acquired Safeway which at the time of acquisition was the second-largest publicly traded food retailer in the United States, in a transaction that significantly increased ACI's scale and geographic reach. For the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI achieved annual run-rate synergies related to the acquisition of Safeway of approximately $750 million. ACI also completed the acquisition of 73 stores from A&P for ACI's Acme banner and 35 stores from Haggen during the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016, and ACI acquired an additional 29 stores from Haggen during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, 15 of which operate under the Haggen banner.

Ranch Acquisition II LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and a wholly-owned subsidiary of ACI, was formed solely for the purpose of facilitating the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. We refer to Ranch Acquisition II LLC as Merger Sub II. Merger Sub II has not carried on any activities or operations to date, except for those activities incidental to its formation and undertaken in connection with the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. Pursuant to the merger agreement, immediately after the merger, Rite Aid, as the corporation surviving the merger, will be merged with and into Merger Sub II, with Merger Sub II surviving the subsequent merger as a wholly-owned subsidiary of ACI and a limited liability company.

Table of ContentsTHE MERGER

This section describes the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. The description in this section and elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus is qualified in its entirety by reference to the complete text of the merger agreement, a copy of which is attached as Annex A and is incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus. This summary does not purport to be complete and may not contain all of the information about the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement that is important to you. You are encouraged to read the merger agreement carefully and in its entirety. This section is not intended to provide you with any factual information about ACI or Rite Aid. Such information can be found elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus and in the public filings Rite Aid makes with the SEC, as described in the section entitled "Where You Can Find More Information" beginning on page 353 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

The Merger

The proposed transaction is a series of two mergers whereby Rite Aid will become a subsidiary of ACI pursuant to the merger agreement. If the merger proposal is approved by the requisite number of holders of Rite Aid common stock and the other closing conditions under the merger agreement have been satisfied or waived, Merger Sub I will merge with and into Rite Aid, with Rite Aid surviving the merger as a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of Merger Sub II, and, immediately following the merger, Rite Aid will merge with and into Merger Sub II, with Merger Sub II surviving the subsequent merger as a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of ACI and a limited liability company. As a result of the mergers, Rite Aid will become a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of ACI.

Merger Consideration

At the effective time of the merger, each share of Rite Aid common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger (other than shares of Rite Aid common stock owned, directly or indirectly, by ACI, Merger Sub I or Rite Aid (including shares of Rite Aid common stock held as treasury stock by Rite Aid), and in each case not held on behalf of third parties, immediately prior to the effective time of the merger) will be converted into the right to receive and become exchangeable for 0.1000, which we refer to as the base exchange ratio, of a fully paid and nonassessable share of ACI common stock, without interest, which we refer to as the base consideration, plus, at the election of the holder of Rite Aid common stock, either:

for each share of Rite Aid common stock with respect to which an election to receive cash has been effectively made and not revoked or redeemed, and for each share of Rite Aid common stock with respect to which a Rite Aid stockholder has not made an election to receive cash or stock, an amount in cash equal to $0.1832 per share, without interest, which we refer to as the additional cash consideration (and which, together with the base consideration, we refer to as the cash election consideration); provided, that to the extent the aggregate additional cash consideration to be paid to any holder of shares of Rite Aid common stock for all such holder's shares of Rite Aid common stock held in a single account would result in such stockholder being entitled to a fraction of a cent in cash with respect to the shares of Rite Aid common stock held in such account, such aggregate amount will be rounded down to the nearest whole cent; or

for each share of Rite Aid common stock with respect to which an election to receive additional ACI common stock has been effectively made and not revoked, 0.0079, which we refer to as the additional stock election exchange ratio (and which, together with the base exchange ratio, we refer to as the stock election exchange ratio), of a fully paid and nonassessable share of ACI common stock, without interest, which we refer to as the additional stock consideration (and which, together with the base consideration, we refer to as the stock election consideration).

Table of Contents

For the avoidance of doubt, the cash election consideration consists of both the base consideration, which consists of ACI common stock, and the additional cash consideration, which consists of cash. No fractional shares of ACI common stock will be issued in the merger, and in lieu thereof, holders of Rite Aid common stock who would otherwise have been entitled to a fraction of a share of ACI common stock will be paid upon surrender of shares of Rite Aid common stock (and after taking into account and aggregating the total number of shares of ACI common stock to be issued in exchange for the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented by all certificates, or book-entry shares, as applicable, surrendered by such holder and the shares of ACI common stock received by such holder as a result of both the base exchange ratio and the additional stock election exchange ratio) cash in an amount, without interest and rounded to the nearest cent, representing such holder's proportionate interest in the net proceeds from the sale by the exchange agent, on behalf of all such holders, of all fractional shares of ACI common stock which would otherwise be issued.

Ownership of the Combined Company

As a result of the merger, upon closing, we anticipate that:

if all Rite Aid stockholders elect to receive the cash election consideration, approximately 72.0% of the outstanding common stock of the combined company will be held by stockholders that were stockholders (or were affiliates of stockholders) of ACI immediately prior to the effectiveness of the merger and approximately 28.0% of the outstanding common stock of the combined company will be held by stockholders that were Rite Aid stockholders immediately prior to the effectiveness of the merger; or if all Rite Aid stockholders elect to receive the stock election consideration, approximately 70.4% of the outstanding common stock of the combined company will be held by stockholders that were stockholders (or were affiliates of stockholders) of ACI immediately prior to the effectiveness of the merger and approximately 29.6% of the outstanding common stock of the combined company will be held by stockholders that were Rite Aid stockholders immediately prior to the effectiveness of the merger.

Debt Matters

Rite Aid

As of March 3, 2018, Rite Aid had approximately $3,942 million of long-term indebtedness (including capital leases) outstanding, primarily consisting of:

$902 million aggregate principal amount of 2020 Rite Aid Notes;

$810 million aggregate principal amount of 2021 Rite Aid Notes;

$1,800 million aggregate principal amount of 2023 Rite Aid Notes;

$295 million aggregate principal amount of 2027 Rite Aid Notes;

$128 million aggregate principal amount of 2028 Rite Aid Notes; and

$53 million of capital leases.

As of March 3, 2018, Rite Aid has repaid in full the Tranche I term loan and the Tranche II term loan. The Rite Aid revolving credit facility will be repaid in full on or prior to the closing date.

Rite Aid may redeem, repurchase or otherwise satisfy and discharge the Rite Aid Notes at any time prior to the closing date and to the extent that any Rite Aid Notes remain outstanding on the closing date, such notes will be redeemed or otherwise satisfied and discharged in full. On February 27, 2018, Rite Aid announced that it had commenced an offer to purchase up to $900,000,000 of the outstanding Rite Aid Notes, pursuant to the asset sale provisions of the indentures of the Rite Aid Notes. On March 29, 2018, Rite Aid accepted for payment, pursuant to its offer to purchase, $3,454,000 principal amount of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.38% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes, $3,471,000 principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.43% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, and $41,751,000 principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, representing 2.32% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes. On April 12, 2018, Rite Aid redeemed all of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes that remained outstanding, pursuant to the terms of the indenture of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes. On April 19, 2018, Rite Aid announced that it had commenced a similar asset sale offer to purchase up to $700,000,000 of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes and the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, pursuant to the respective indentures governing the 2021 Rite Aid Notes and the 2023 Rite Aid Notes. On May 21, 2018, Rite Aid accepted for payment, pursuant to its offer to purchase, $1,360,000 principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.17% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, and $4,759,000 principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.27% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes. On May 25, 2018, Rite Aid announced that it had issued a notice of redemption for all $805,169,000 aggregate principal amount of the outstanding 2021 Rite Aid Notes on June 25, 2018, pursuant to the terms of the indenture of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes.

ACI and Rite Aid expect the 2027 Rite Aid Notes and the 2028 Rite Aid Notes to remain outstanding following the closing date. On the closing date, the 2027 Rite Aid Notes and the 2028 Rite Aid Notes will receive an equal and ratable lien solely on the assets of Rite Aid (and not its subsidiaries) that secure the ACI Term Loan Facility.

ACI

As of February 24, 2018, ACI had approximately $11,876 million of long-term indebtedness (including capital leases) outstanding, primarily consisting of:

no secured revolving loans under the ACI ABL Facility (excluding issued but undrawn letters of credit of $576.8 million);

$5,611 million of secured term loans outstanding under the ACI Term Loan Facility;

$2,476 million of ACI Unsecured Notes;

$1,394 million of NALP Notes;

$1,267 million of Safeway Notes; and

$865 million of capital leases.

ACI received a debt commitment letter dated as of February 18, 2018, as amended and restated on March 12, 2018 and as further amended and restated on May 8, 2018, pursuant to which, among other things, the Commitment Parties have committed to provide ACI with (i) $4,667 million of commitments to a new $5,000 million aggregate principal amount best efforts asset-based revolving credit facility; (ii) incremental commitments under the ACI ABL Facility in an aggregate principal amount of $1,000 million in the event that the Best-Efforts ABL Facility does not become effective on the closing date; (iii) a new asset-based term loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of $1,500 million; and (iv) a new secured bridge loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of $500 million less the gross proceeds received by ACI and its subsidiaries of new senior notes issued prior to the closing date, which we refer to as the Senior Secured Bridge Facility, in each case on the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the debt commitment letter. The proceeds of the Financing will be used, among other things, to partially refinance certain of Rite Aid's existing indebtedness that is outstanding as of the closing date, including the Rite Aid Notes and Rite Aid's revolving credit facility, pay fees and expenses in connection with the Merger and finance cash consideration, if any is elected, in connection with the merger. The Best-Efforts ABL Facility will be utilized by ACI only if the remaining $333 million of commitments are fully allocated to new or existing lenders prior to the date on which the merger is consummated, in which case the incremental commitments described under clause (ii) above will cease to apply.

The Best-Efforts ABL Facility, the incremental commitments under the ACI ABL Facility and the ABL Term Loan Facility will be guaranteed on a joint and several basis by each of ACI's existing and future direct and indirect wholly-owned domestic subsidiaries that is not a borrower, excluding certain immaterial and other subsidiaries, such as insurance subsidiaries. In addition, the Best-Efforts ABL Facility, the incremental commitments under the ACI ABL Facility and the ABL Term Loan Facility will be secured, subject to certain exceptions, by (i) perfected first priority (subject to permitted liens) security interests and liens on the ABL Priority Collateral (as defined herein) (which includes Rite Aid assets that will constitute ABL Priority Collateral at closing) and (ii) perfected second priority (subject to permitted liens) security interests in and liens on the Term Loan Priority Collateral (as defined herein). For more information about the ACI ABL Facility, the ABL Term Loan Facility, the ABL Priority Collateral and the Term Loan Priority Collateral, see the section entitled "Description of Indebtedness" beginning on page 306 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

The Secured Bridge Facility will be guaranteed on a joint and several basis by each of ACI's existing and future direct and indirect wholly-owned domestic subsidiaries that are not borrowers, excluding certain immaterial and other subsidiaries, such as insurance subsidiaries. In addition, the Secured Bridge Facility will be secured, subject to certain exceptions, by (i) perfected first priority (subject to permitted liens) security interests and liens on the Term Loan Priority Collateral (which includes Rite Aid assets that will constitute Term Loan Priority Collateral at closing) and (ii) perfected second priority (subject to permitted liens) security interests in and liens on the ABL Priority Collateral (which includes Rite Aid assets that will constitute ABL Priority Collateral at closing). The Secured Bridge Facility will not be secured by any of NALP's assets and, to the extent applicable, will be subject to a cap regarding Safeway assets with value not to exceed 10% of Safeway consolidated net tangible assets (as determined on the date of such lien incurrence).

Any loans under the Senior Secured Bridge Facility not paid in full on or before the first anniversary of the closing of the merger will be automatically converted into a senior secured term loan, which we refer to as a Senior Term Loan, with a maturity of eight years after the closing of the merger. At any time on or after the date of such conversion, the applicable lenders may choose to exchange Senior Term Loans in whole or in part for senior exchange notes, which we refer to as Senior Exchange Notes. The principal amount of Senior Exchange Notes issued will equal the principal amount of Senior Term Loans exchanged. The Senior Exchange Notes will mature eight years after the closing of the merger and will remain private.

The Commitment Parties' commitment to provide the Financing is subject to certain conditions, including consummation of the merger in accordance with the merger agreement substantially concurrently with the initial borrowing under the Financing; the negotiation and execution of definitive documentation in respect of the Financing consistent with the debt commitment letter (including certain customary closing deliverables); delivery of certain historical and pro forma financial information in respect of ACI and Rite Aid and their respective subsidiaries; the absence of a Company Material Adverse Effect (as defined in the merger agreement); the accuracy of certain specified representations and warranties in the merger agreement and in the definitive documentation in respect of the Financing; completion of a customary marketing period in connection with a notes offering to replace certain portions of the Financing; completion of a third party appraisal and field examination in respect of the assets of Rite Aid and its subsidiaries; minimum excess availability under the applicable asset-based revolving credit facility of not less than $2,000,000,000 (including up to $500,000,000 of cash on hand); and certain other customary closing conditions.

The merger agreement provides that Rite Aid may redeem, repurchase or otherwise satisfy and discharge the Rite Aid Notes at any time prior to the closing date and to the extent that any Rite Aid Notes remain outstanding on the closing date, such notes other than the 2027 Rite Aid Notes and the 2028 Rite Aid Notes will be redeemed or otherwise satisfied and discharged in full. On February 27, 2018, Rite Aid announced that it had commenced an offer to purchase up to $900,000,000 of the outstanding Rite Aid Notes, pursuant to the asset sale provisions of the indentures of the Rite Aid Notes. On March 29, 2018, Rite Aid accepted for payment, pursuant to its offer to purchase, $3,454,000 principal amount of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.38% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes, $3,471,000 principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.43% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, and $41,751,000 principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, representing 2.32% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes. On April 12, 2018, Rite Aid redeemed all of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes that remained outstanding pursuant to the terms of the indenture of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes. On April 19, 2018, Rite Aid announced that it had commenced a similar asset sale offer to purchase up to $700,000,000 of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes and the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, pursuant to the respective indentures governing the 2021 Rite Aid Notes and the 2023 Rite Aid Notes. On May 21, 2018, Rite Aid accepted for payment, pursuant to its offer to purchase, $1,360,000 principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.17% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, and $4,759,000 principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.27% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes. On May 25, 2018, Rite Aid announced that it had issued a notice of redemption for all $805,169,000 aggregate principal amount of the outstanding 2021 Rite Aid Notes on June 25, 2018, pursuant to the terms of the indenture of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes. In addition, the merger agreement also provides that all amounts outstanding under Rite Aid's revolving credit facility, if any, will be repaid on or prior to the closing date and all commitments thereunder will be terminated. ACI and Rite Aid expect that the 2027 Rite Aid Notes and the 2028 Rite Aid Notes will remain outstanding following the closing date. On the closing date, the 2027 Rite Aid Notes and the 2028 Rite Aid Notes will receive an equal and ratable lien solely on the assets of Rite Aid (and not its subsidiaries) that secure the ACI Term Loan Facility.

On June 6, 2018, ACI priced its private offering of $750.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the Floating Rate Notes at an issue price of 99.5%. The proceeds to be received pursuant to such offering, in addition to ACI's cash on hand and borrowings under the ACI ABL Facility and ABL Term Loan Facility, will be used (i) to pay a portion of the cash portion, if any, of the merger consideration in connection with the merger, (ii) to repay certain indebtedness of Rite Aid outstanding on the date the merger is completed, (iii) to pay fees and expenses in connection with the merger and the offering of the Floating Rate Notes and (iv) for general corporate purposes. In the event the merger is not completed, ACI will be required to use such proceeds to redeem the Floating Rate Notes. The Floating Rate Notes are expected to be issued on or about June 25, 2018, subject to customary closing conditions. The Floating Rate Notes will bear interest at LIBOR (with a floor of 0%) plus 3.75% per annum. The Floating Rate Notes will mature on January 15, 2024 and interest on the Floating Rate Notes will be payable quarterly in arrears on January 15, April 15, July 15 and October 15, commencing on October 15, 2018. The Floating Rate Notes will be secured by the same collateral that would have secured the Secured Bridge Facility. Upon the issuance of the Floating Rate Notes, the commitments with respect to the Secured Bridge Facility will terminate pursuant to the terms of the debt commitment letter.

Background of the Merger

Reconciliations of Non-GAAP Measures have not been provided in the Background of the Merger section of this proxy statement/prospectus because such reconciliations could not be produced without unreasonable effort.

The Rite Aid board of directors regularly reviews and assesses Rite Aid's performance, risks, opportunities and strategy at board meetings. Additionally, the Rite Aid board of directors and Rite Aid management regularly review and evaluate the possibility of pursuing various strategic alternatives and relationships as part of Rite Aid's ongoing efforts to strengthen its businesses and maximize value for its stockholders, taking into account economic, regulatory, competitive and other conditions. From time to time, at Rite Aid's request, Citi, a financial advisor to Rite Aid, has assisted Rite Aid management and the Rite Aid board of directors in evaluating various potential strategic alternatives available to Rite Aid. Additionally, Rite Aid management provides regular financial updates to the Rite Aid board of directors. Since 2014, Rite Aid has pursued several strategic alternatives, including the acquisition of EnvisionRxOptions, the attempted merger with WBA which was ultimately terminated and the subsequent asset sale transaction with WBA.

Throughout 2014 and 2015, the Rite Aid board of directors met from time to time to discuss any approaches directed to Rite Aid, as well as outreaches made by Rite Aid, concerning potential strategic transactions. During this period, Rite Aid had discussions relating to an acquisition of, or business combination involving, Rite Aid with approximately 10 parties in total, which included, among others, retailers that operate pharmacies, retailers that operate grocery stores, pharmacy benefit management companies, which we refer to as PBMs, as well as other companies in the healthcare space. During this period, Rite Aid management kept the Rite Aid board of directors apprised of the status of these discussions.

In the first half of 2014 through the summer of 2014, Mr. Standley and other members of Rite Aid management, together with representatives of Citi, had preliminary discussions with representatives of ACI regarding a potential business combination transaction involving Rite Aid and ACI.

On August 15, 2014, Rite Aid and ACI executed a confidentiality agreement obligating Rite Aid to protect confidential information of ACI in connection with discussions regarding a potential business combination transaction. Subsequently, Rite Aid began conducting a due diligence review of ACI.

On September 30, 2014, the Rite Aid board of directors met in-person at a regular meeting, which was attended by members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi. Rite Aid management and Citi provided their respective views on the current state of, and prospects for, the retail drugstore sector, as well as potential strategic alternatives available to Rite Aid, including remaining an independent company, potential business combinations and sale and acquisition transactions, including, among others, the potential acquisition of EnvisionRxOptions and potential business combination transactions with ACI and Party A. At this meeting, Citi informed the Rite Aid board of directors as to the general nature of Citi's material relationships with ACI and Cerberus. Following this discussion, the Rite Aid board of directors directed Rite Aid management to continue exploratory discussions with parties that potentially may be interested in pursuing a strategic transaction with Rite Aid, including ACI.

As directed by the Rite Aid board of directors at the September 30, 2014 meeting, Mr. Standley and other members of Rite Aid management continued discussions with representatives of ACI regarding a potential strategic transaction with ACI. Mr. Standley also called a senior executive of Party A to explore a potential strategic transaction with Party A. Party A declined to consider exploration of a potential strategic transaction between Party A and Rite Aid.

On October 9, 2014, Rite Aid submitted a letter of interest to ACI setting forth certain preliminary terms for exploring a possible business combination transaction.

On October 14, 2014, Rite Aid and ACI executed a confidentiality agreement, in addition to the one previously executed on August 15, 2014, obligating ACI to protect the confidential information of Rite Aid in connection with discussions regarding the potential business combination transaction.

Beginning on October 22, 2014, representatives of Jones Day, antitrust counsel to Rite Aid, together with antitrust counsel to ACI and third-party economic experts, began their review and discussions regarding possible regulatory matters relating to a potential business combination transaction involving Rite Aid and ACI. These discussions continued during the months of November and December 2014.

On October 23, 2014, representatives of Rite Aid and ACI and their respective advisors had a telephonic meeting to discuss organizational matters relating to a potential business combination transaction between Rite Aid and ACI.

Throughout this time, Rite Aid management had discussions with, and considered a transaction with, EnvisionRxOptions, and continued to discuss other strategic alternatives with third parties and kept the Rite Aid board of directors apprised of such discussions.

At a special telephonic meeting of the Rite Aid board of directors on December 5, 2014, which was attended by members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi, Mr. Standley informed the Rite Aid board of directors that ACI had not formally responded to Rite Aid's letter of interest submitted on October 9, 2014. Also at that meeting, the Rite Aid board of directors authorized Rite Aid management to communicate Rite Aid's continued interest in acquiring EnvisionRxOptions.

During the first week of January 2015, representatives of ACI approached Mr. Standley to express ACI's interest in re-engaging in discussions to explore a potential business combination transaction with Rite Aid. In response, Mr. Standley communicated that Rite Aid was in the process of considering another transaction (which was the acquisition of EnvisionRxOptions) but that he would review ACI's proposal with the Rite Aid board of directors.

In early 2015, Rite Aid management, Citi and Moelis & Company LLC, which we refer to as Moelis, which had been retained by Rite Aid in light of ACI's expression of interest in re-engaging in discussions and Citi's then-ongoing services to ACI and Cerberus, reviewed with the Rite Aid board of directors management's ongoing exploration of third-party interest in pursuing a potential business combination transaction, including with ACI, WBA and EnvisionRxOptions. At the direction of the Rite Aid board of directors, Mr. Standley contacted WBA to discuss a potential business combination transaction involving Rite Aid and WBA.

On January 9, 2015, the Rite Aid board of directors held a special telephonic meeting which was attended by members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi, Skadden and Moelis. Management and Rite Aid's advisors reviewed with the Rite Aid board of directors management's view that the Rite Aid board of directors should consider, given the status of discussions with each party at that time, whether to suspend discussions with EnvisionRxOptions to further explore a potential business combination transaction with ACI. Mr. Standley updated the Rite Aid board of directors regarding ACI's renewed interest in exploring a possible business combination transaction with Rite Aid. Management, Citi and Moelis discussed with the Rite Aid board of directors preliminary financial matters relating to a potential transaction with ACI, and Rite Aid management's business and strategic rationale for, and the value creation potential for Rite Aid stockholders of, a potential transaction with ACI as compared to an acquisition of EnvisionRxOptions. The representatives of Skadden then discussed in detail with the directors their fiduciary duties in considering alternative transactions, including evaluating the benefits and risks to Rite Aid and its stockholders of each transaction and the merits of each transaction as compared to other potential strategic alternatives for Rite Aid. The Rite Aid board of directors, Rite Aid management and advisors engaged in a discussion about potential transactions with ACI and EnvisionRxOptions, including, among other things, the business, strategic and potential value creation rationales for each transaction, regulatory aspects associated with each transaction, the assessment of the potential interest of third parties in acquiring Rite Aid and the potential strategic implications of a transaction with ACI. After discussion, the Rite Aid board of directors directed Rite Aid management to re-engage in discussions with ACI to explore further the potential for a transaction with ACI and, at that time, suspend its consideration of the EnvisionRxOptions transaction. The Rite Aid board of directors also directed Rite Aid management to continue to explore other potential strategic alternatives.

Between January 12 and January 16, 2015, representatives of Rite Aid and ACI and their respective advisors held several telephonic meetings to discuss further the potential synergies that might be realized in a business combination transaction involving ACI and Rite Aid.

On January 15, 2015, representatives of Rite Aid and ACI and their respective advisors held an in-person meeting to discuss the strategic rationale, opportunities and risks, including antitrust and financing risks, in a potential merger of ACI and Rite Aid, including, among other things, cost and revenue synergies that could be achieved by the potential combined company. During this meeting, representatives of ACI indicated that ACI was reconsidering whether it was interested at that time in continuing with discussions regarding a potential business combination transaction between the parties.

On January 17, 2015, ACI's representatives informed Rite Aid that ACI was no longer in a position to pursue a transaction with Rite Aid at that time and would not be able to re-engage in discussions with Rite Aid regarding a potential business combination transaction for at least several months. ACI consummated the acquisition of Safeway on January 30, 2015.

On January 19, 2015, the Rite Aid board of directors held a special telephonic meeting which was attended by members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi, Moelis and Skadden to discuss ACI's decision not to pursue a transaction with Rite Aid at that time as well as other potential transactions. Mr. Standley reported to the Rite Aid board of directors on his meeting with WBA regarding a potential business combination transaction, including that WBA would require an agreement from Rite Aid to negotiate exclusively with WBA as a condition to continuing discussions. The Rite Aid board of directors discussed at length with management, Moelis and Citi potential strategic alternatives for Rite Aid and certain financial matters, including management's financial and strategic rationales, the relative merits and benefits and risks for Rite Aid and its stockholders, and the value creation potential for Rite Aid stockholders, of potential transactions with ACI, EnvisionRxOptions, WBA or Party B and of remaining independent. Mr. Standley advised the Rite Aid board of directors of a proposed telephonic meeting scheduled the next day with Party B's Chief Executive Officer, at the request of the Chief Executive Officer of Party B. The Rite Aid board of directors also discussed whether to re-engage with EnvisionRxOptions with respect to a potential strategic transaction and the impact that an acquisition of EnvisionRxOptions could have on a potential transaction with ACI, WBA or another potential acquiror of Rite Aid. The Rite Aid board of directors determined that it would be in the best interests of Rite Aid stockholders to pursue a transaction with EnvisionRxOptions and authorized Rite Aid management to re-engage in discussions with EnvisionRxOptions regarding a potential transaction with EnvisionRxOptions, which discussions continued during the remainder of January and early February 2015.

Also on January 19, 2015, representatives of Jones Day and third-party economic experts were instructed to cease their review on a preliminary basis of possible regulatory matters related to a potential business combination transaction involving ACI and Rite Aid.

On January 20, 2015, Mr. Standley had a telephonic meeting with Party B's Chief Executive Officer. During this meeting, the Chief Executive Officer of Party B indicated Party B was not interested in pursuing a business combination transaction with Rite Aid.

In January and February 2015, Rite Aid management continued discussions with EnvisionRxOptions and WBA, keeping the Rite Aid board of directors up to date on such discussions.

On February 9, 2015, the Rite Aid board of directors held a special telephonic meeting to discuss potential transactions with EnvisionRxOptions and WBA. Members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi and Skadden also attended. During this meeting, Mr. Standley reviewed with the Rite Aid board of directors his previous discussions with WBA regarding a potential acquisition of Rite Aid by WBA, including the impact that an acquisition of EnvisionRxOptions could have on a potential transaction with WBA or another possible acquiror of Rite Aid. Among other matters, representatives of Skadden discussed in detail with the directors their fiduciary duties in considering alternative transactions, including with EnvisionRxOptions and WBA. The Rite Aid board of directors further discussed having a thorough review process to assess the benefits and risks to Rite Aid and its stockholders of the potential transactions, the merits of the transactions as compared to other potential strategic alternatives for Rite Aid, including a potential sale of control or merger transaction, the level of potential interest of third parties in a sale or business combination transaction with Rite Aid, and the impact of pursuing an acquisition of EnvisionRxOptions on such a potential sale or business combination transaction.

Also at its February 9, 2015 meeting, the Rite Aid board of directors, Rite Aid management and advisors discussed the significant cost and revenue synergies for Rite Aid and potential value creation for its stockholders that could result from a transaction with EnvisionRxOptions and that, based on Rite Aid's previous discussions with other parties, there was no certainty that Rite Aid could enter into an alternative strategic transaction with WBA or another party. After further consideration, the Rite Aid board of directors unanimously agreed that Rite Aid should proceed with negotiating the final terms of a merger agreement with EnvisionRxOptions and authorized entry into the merger agreement on terms substantially similar to those presented.

Rite Aid and EnvisionRxOptions entered into a merger agreement on February 10, 2015 pursuant to which Rite Aid would acquire EnvisionRxOptions.

On July 8, 2015, a representative of ACI contacted Mr. Standley to inform him of ACI's interest in potentially re-engaging with Rite Aid in discussions regarding a potential business combination transaction involving ACI and Rite Aid.

As a result of the discussion on July 8, 2015, with the Rite Aid board of directors informed of the recent developments regarding ACI's potential interest in re-engaging with Rite Aid, during the period between July 9 and July 15, 2015, representatives of Rite Aid, Citi and ACI resumed discussions regarding a potential business combination transaction.

On July 15, 2015, representatives of ACI met with members of Rite Aid management and a representative of Citi and orally communicated a preliminary, non-binding indication of interest to Rite Aid.

On July 17, 2015, Rite Aid and ACI, with the assistance of Citi and ACI's financial advisor, commenced a review of potential synergies, the pro forma capital structure, the feasibility and impact of a proposed equity issuance on the combined company, and the potential utilization of Rite Aid's NOLs by the combined company in connection with a potential business combination transaction involving Rite Aid and ACI. This review continued through early August 2015.

During the summer of 2015, Rite Aid management also continued discussions with WBA, ACI and other parties, including Parties C, D, E and F, and renewed contact with Party B, keeping the Rite Aid board of directors apprised of any developments.

On August 2, 2015, the Rite Aid board of directors held a special telephonic meeting to discuss with members of Rite Aid management and representatives from Citi and Skadden, among other things, the status of discussions with ACI and WBA, other potential strategic alternatives, other parties that might potentially be interested in an acquisition of or business combination transaction with Rite Aid, previous discussions with such parties that had declined to pursue a transaction with Rite Aid, the strategic, business and potential stockholder value creation rationale for and terms of the ACI and WBA transactions and relative benefits and risks for Rite Aid and its stockholders, and Citi's preliminary financial perspectives concerning these potential transactions. The representatives of Skadden reviewed with the Rite Aid board of directors certain legal matters with respect to the current proposals including, among other things, the directors' fiduciary duties, consideration of WBA's request for a period of exclusive negotiations and the amount and triggers for the payment to WBA of a termination fee in the event Rite Aid accepted a superior acquisition proposal and terminated the definitive merger agreement. Citi again discussed with the Rite Aid board of directors the nature of its material relationships with ACI and Cerberus. In light of the completion in January 2015 of ACI's Safeway acquisition for which Citi acted as ACI's financial advisor, the Rite Aid board of directors concluded that there was no need to retain a second financial advisor at this time. A discussion then followed regarding the possibility of discussions with other potentially interested parties. The Rite Aid board of directors determined that Rite Aid should continue discussions with ACI and WBA, renew contacts with certain other potential transactional parties and approach another potential transactional party to determine its possible interest in pursuing an acquisition of or business combination with Rite Aid.

Throughout August 2015, Rite Aid continued discussions with WBA. In addition the Rite Aid board of directors directed Citi to ascertain if certain other parties had interest in a potential acquisition of or business combination with Rite Aid.

On August 10, 2015, ACI orally communicated to Citi a revised preliminary, non-binding indication of interest regarding a possible business combination with Rite Aid.

On August 12, 2015, at Rite Aid's direction, a representative of Citi informed a representative of ACI on behalf of the Rite Aid board of directors that Rite Aid was in the process of considering another transaction and would provide an update to ACI during the week of August 17, 2015 regarding whether Rite Aid remained interested in proceeding with the negotiation of a possible transaction with ACI. The Rite Aid board of directors met multiple times throughout August 2015 to discuss Rite Aid management's discussions with WBA, ACI and other parties. The Rite Aid board of directors considered other parties with which Rite Aid had discussions regarding a potential business combination, and determined that a transaction with WBA would provide the best value reasonably available at that time to Rite Aid stockholders. In reaching such determination, the Rite Aid board of directors considered a variety of factors, including, among other things, Rite Aid's business and financial condition at that time, trends in the retail drugstore industry at that time, Rite Aid's leveraged balance sheet, the perceived challenges and risks of continuing as a standalone public company at that time, Rite Aid's discussions with multiple potential strategic partners and acquirors over the course of several years, including ACI, and the Board's belief that WBA was offering the best price reasonably attainable for Rite Aid's stockholders at that time. For more information on Rite Aid's reasons for the attempted merger with WBA, see the section entitled "The Merger Recommendation of Our Board of Directors and Reasons for the Merger" beginning on page 51 of the definitive proxy statement that Rite Aid filed with the SEC on December 21, 2015.

On August 16, 2015, as directed by the Rite Aid board of directors, a representative of Citi informed a representative of ACI that Rite Aid was in the process of considering an alternative transaction and would provide an update to ACI at a later date as to whether Rite Aid was interested in exploring a possible business combination transaction with ACI.

On August 18, 2015, at Rite Aid's direction, a representative of Citi further informed a representative of ACI that Rite Aid would be proceeding with negotiations involving another party (which other party was WBA).

From August to September 2015, Rite Aid and WBA conducted due diligence and continued to negotiate the terms of a potential transaction.

During the third week of September 2015, given Rite Aid management's concern that it was possible WBA may no longer be prepared to pursue a transaction with Rite Aid on acceptable terms, at Rite Aid's direction, a representative of Citi contacted a representative of ACI regarding the possibility of exploring a potential business combination transaction. In response, ACI indicated that it was pursuing an alternative strategic direction and would not be in a position to discuss a potential transaction with Rite Aid until after completion of its alternative plan.

Following additional negotiations and meetings of the Rite Aid board of directors, Rite Aid and WBA executed a merger agreement, which we refer to as the original merger agreement with WBA, on October 27, 2015, pursuant to which Rite Aid would have been acquired by WBA.

Following the date of the execution of the original merger agreement with WBA, Rite Aid generally was prohibited from soliciting alternative acquisition proposals, or engaging in negotiations or discussions with third parties concerning alternative acquisition proposals under the terms of the original merger agreement with WBA. Until the time that stockholder approval was obtained to adopt the original merger agreement with WBA, in response to unsolicited acquisition proposals, Rite Aid would have been permitted to furnish certain information and engage in discussions or negotiations with a third party regarding such alternative acquisition proposal that could have been superior to the merger with WBA, subject to certain procedures set forth in the original merger agreement with WBA. However, Rite Aid did not receive any alternative acquisition proposals.

On February 4, 2016, Rite Aid stockholders approved the original merger agreement with WBA at the special meeting of stockholders. Following the approval and adoption of the original merger agreement with WBA by Rite Aid's stockholders, pursuant to the terms of the original merger agreement with WBA, Rite Aid was no longer permitted to engage in discussions or negotiations with third parties regarding any alternative acquisition proposals.

Rite Aid and WBA continued to work to obtain antitrust approval of the original merger agreement with WBA over the course of the year. Rite Aid did not receive any inbound communications from any third parties relating to the possibility of a strategic transaction during this period, and Rite Aid would have been precluded from discussing strategic transactions or accepting any proposals after the receipt of stockholder approval pursuant to the terms of the original merger agreement with WBA. In January 2017, Rite Aid and WBA negotiated a merger agreement amendment which, among other things, reduced the per share merger consideration, extended the end date of the original merger agreement and amended WBA's antitrust obligations under the original merger agreement to require WBA to accept the divestiture of additional stores. Rite Aid and WBA agreed that the merger agreement amendment would re-open the fiduciary out provisions that would allow Rite Aid to respond to unsolicited acquisition proposals and potentially enter into a superior proposal between the date of the merger agreement amendment and the date of the stockholders' approval of the amended merger agreement, because Rite Aid's stockholders would be required to vote again to adopt the amended merger agreement. Rite Aid, Skadden and Citi previously had discussed these fiduciary out provisions and Citi had conveyed that it believed it was unlikely that another viable buyer would make a superior offer to acquire Rite Aid at that time, taking into consideration, among other things, Rite Aid's outreach to potential buyers prior to signing the original merger agreement with WBA and the fact that no proposal for an alternative transaction had been made after signing the original merger agreement with WBA. Nonetheless, the Rite Aid board of directors and Rite Aid's advisors believed that, in endeavoring to maximize value for Rite Aid's stockholders, it was important as part of the amendment to allow third parties to make a superior proposal to acquire Rite Aid before the stockholders' approval of the amended merger agreement. WBA agreed that the fiduciary out provisions would be re-opened between signing the amendment and the stockholders' approval of the amended merger agreement on substantially the same terms as in the original merger agreement with WBA.

Rite Aid and WBA finalized and executed the merger agreement amendment on January 29, 2017.

On January 30, 2017, a representative of Citi received an unsolicited phone call from a representative of Cerberus inquiring as to whether Rite Aid was in a position to entertain a merger proposal from ACI. In accordance with Rite Aid's directives, the Citi representative referred the caller to Rite Aid's publicly filed merger agreement amendment. No terms or conditions of a proposal were provided, and no documents were sent by ACI to Rite Aid or any of its representatives. Several days later, the representative of Citi received another unsolicited phone call from the same representative of Cerberus who indicated that ACI did not intend to submit a proposal and was not interested in pursuing a transaction with Rite Aid at that time, without stating its reasoning. For the next several months, Rite Aid, WBA, Jones Day and Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP, as antitrust legal counsel to WBA, continued to work with the FTC Staff to try to resolve the FTC Staff's questions about the proposed merger transaction involving Rite Aid and WBA. Accounting for the possibility that Rite Aid might not obtain FTC clearance to consummate the merger, with the authorization of the Rite Aid board of directors, Rite Aid management began to consider other potential business plans, including an alternative asset sale to WBA and began negotiating the terms of an asset sale in the event that the merger could not be consummated. After receiving feedback from the FTC that led Rite Aid to believe that the parties would not obtain FTC clearance to consummate the merger with WBA, on June 28, 2017, Rite Aid, with the authorization of the Rite Aid board of directors, and WBA terminated the original merger agreement with WBA, as amended, and simultaneously entered into the asset purchase agreement, which we refer to as the original asset purchase agreement with WBA. In authorizing the termination of the original merger agreement, as amended, and entry into the original asset purchase agreement, the Rite Aid board of directors considered, among other things, certain challenges and benefits of operating as a stand-alone company, including that Rite Aid was highly leveraged and would be able to pay down debt with the proceeds of the asset sale, that Rite Aid had generated substantial net operating losses that could be used to offset the gain from the original asset sale transaction, and that despite its smaller size, Rite Aid would be more viable than absent the transaction with WBA and would have the option to purchase generic drugs that would be sourced through an affiliate of WBA at a cost substantially equivalent to Walgreen's for a period of 10 years. Citi advised the Rite Aid board of directors that it believed it was unlikely that another viable buyer would make a superior offer at that time to acquire Rite Aid or to acquire the assets to be sold pursuant to the original asset purchase agreement, taking into consideration, among other things, Rite Aid's prior discussions with other parties and then current market, financial and business dynamics impacting Rite Aid. In connection with the termination, WBA paid Rite Aid a $325 million termination fee. Pursuant to the original asset purchase agreement with WBA and subject to the conditions set forth therein, Rite Aid agreed to sell to WBA 2,186 stores, related distribution assets and inventory for an all-cash purchase price of $5.175 billion, on a cash-free, debt-free basis, plus assumption of certain liabilities of Rite Aid and its affiliates. Rite Aid also negotiated the option to purchase generic drugs that are sourced through an affiliate of WBA at a cost substantially equivalent to Walgreen's for a period of 10 years. Pursuant to the terms of the original asset purchase agreement with WBA, Rite Aid was generally restricted from soliciting a proposal from a third party for the sale of the assets to be sold to WBA or the entire company for 60 days after entering into the agreement, but was permitted to respond to unsolicited acquisition proposals.

On July 13, 2017, as subsequently disclosed by Citi to the Rite Aid board of directors and management on November 16, 2017, certain members of the Citi coverage team for ACI who meet periodically with ACI to discuss potential strategic matters and who at the time were not part of the Rite Aid transaction team (but who subsequently joined the Rite Aid transaction team), met with members of ACI management to provide a routine investment banking update to ACI with an overview of certain strategic, business and financial considerations in the retail sector, which included, among other things, a discussion of the then recently announced acquisition of Whole Foods Market Inc. by Amazon.com Inc. In connection with such overview, such Citi-ACI coverage team members provided ACI with certain discussion materials regarding potential strategic alternatives for ACI, including, among other potential transactions, a preliminary hypothetical reverse IPO merger transaction with potential identified counterparties, including Rite Aid, although such a transaction with Rite Aid was not discussed at the meeting among such Citi-ACI coverage team members and ACI or thereafter (except on behalf of Rite Aid as a Rite Aid transaction team member). The preliminary hypothetical reverse merger involving Rite Aid that was referenced in the discussion materials reflected, using certain assumptions based on publicly available information, an implied pro forma ownership of approximately 33.8% for Rite Aid's stockholders. In addition to the above, representatives of Citi confirmed for the Rite Aid board of directors and Rite Aid management that no representatives of Citi on the Rite Aid transaction team at the time had any input on or knowledge of such discussion materials, and that, at the time of such discussion with ACI, the members of the Citi-ACI coverage team who attended the meeting with ACI management had not yet become part of the Rite Aid transaction team, were not at that time involved in discussions with Rite Aid regarding strategic matters or potential transactions and did not represent (or purport to represent) Rite Aid at such meeting. Citi did not represent ACI on strategic business combination transactions after Rite Aid and ACI restarted discussions concerning a potential transaction in August 2017 and did not at any time represent ACI on the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

The implied illustrative pro forma ownership described above was based on different assumptions and financial information than was employed during the subsequent merger negotiations with ACI and reflected circumstances at that time when Rite Aid's original announced sale of assets to WBA as of June 2017 for $5.175 billion was higher than the final announced sale of assets to WBA as of September 2017 for $4.375 billion. The implied illustrative pro forma ownership assumed an equity value for ACI based on an adjusted EBITDA multiple for ACI of 5.5x taking into consideration then current selected grocery industry sector peer multiples and an assumed adjusted EBITDA of $3 billion. Rite Aid's implied equity value pro forma for the sale of assets to WBA was based on Rite Aid's then current market adjusted EBITDA multiple and an assumed pro forma adjusted EBITDA and net debt which were reduced by the impact of the sale of assets to WBA as originally announced in June 2017 (which was for more stores and a higher purchase price than the final announced asset sale in September 2017). This implied an illustrative equity value for Rite Aid at the time of approximately $3 billion (which was higher than Rite Aid's market capitalization on July 13, 2017, at which point Rite Aid's market capitalization was approximately $2.4 billion, and was higher than when Rite Aid and ACI entered into the merger agreement on February 18, 2018, at which point Rite Aid's market capitalization was approximately $2.3 billion).

On August 31, 2017, Mr. Robert Miller, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of ACI, called a representative of Citi and discussed scheduling a meeting with Rite Aid regarding a potential strategic transaction involving ACI and Rite Aid.

Also on August 31, 2017, a representative of Party F called a representative of Citi to discuss a potential acquisition of EnvisionRxOptions. Rite Aid and Party F executed a confidentiality agreement on that date.

On September 15, 2017, a representative of ACI called a representative of Rite Aid and discussed entering into a confidentiality agreement for purposes of protecting confidential information of each party and the confidentiality of discussions between Rite Aid and ACI. ACI sent Rite Aid a draft confidentiality agreement, which the parties negotiated from September 15, 2017 to September 18, 2017.

On September 18, 2017, Rite Aid and ACI executed a confidentiality agreement obligating each party to protect confidential information of the other party and the confidentiality of their discussions. Subsequently, Rite Aid and ACI began conducting due diligence reviews of the other company's business.

Also on September 18, 2017, the Rite Aid board of directors held a special telephonic meeting which was attended by members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi, Skadden and Jones Day. With the authorization of the Rite Aid board of directors, Rite Aid entered into an amended and restated asset purchase agreement with WBA, which amended and restated in its entirety the original asset purchase agreement with WBA, and which we refer to as the WBA asset purchase agreement. Pursuant to the WBA asset purchase agreement and subject to the conditions set forth therein, Rite Aid agreed to sell to WBA 1,932 stores (reduced from 2,186 stores in the original asset purchase agreement with WBA, after discussions between Rite Aid and WBA and the FTC) and certain distribution and other specified assets related thereto for an all-cash purchase price of $4.375 billion (reduced from $5.175 billion in the original asset purchase agreement with WBA), on a cash-free, debt-free basis, plus the assumption of certain liabilities of Rite Aid and its affiliates. The revised purchase price was determined after negotiations with WBA with the assistance of Rite Aid's management and advisors and taking into account, among other things, the reduced number of stores being sold to WBA, the revisions to the original asset purchase agreement with WBA, including the reallocation of certain assets and liabilities resulting from the different set of stores being sold, and the financial performance and other characteristics of the different set of stores being sold. On September 19, 2017, Rite Aid announced that the waiting period under the HSR Act expired with respect to the sale of assets to WBA pursuant to the WBA asset purchase agreement.

On September 19, 2017, the Rite Aid board of directors held a regular meeting at Rite Aid's office in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, which was attended by members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi, to discuss, among other matters, potential strategic alternatives for Rite Aid, giving effect to the consummation of the asset purchase transaction with WBA, including potential strategic transactions involving ACI, other third parties, an additional transaction with WBA and additional asset sales. Rite Aid management and the Rite Aid board of directors reflected on the discussions with ACI during 2014 and 2015, and based on those earlier discussions understood that ACI needed to address CEO succession, given the age of ACI's CEO, and that ACI likely would be interested in having Mr. Standley serve as Chief Executive Officer of the combined company in any potential strategic transaction. The Rite Aid board of directors and Mr. Standley agreed that Mr. Standley would not pursue any discussions regarding, or negotiate any terms of, any potential employment arrangement prior to agreement with ACI on all economic and other material terms of any potential strategic transaction. The Rite Aid board of directors authorized Rite Aid management to explore such potential strategic transactions and engage in discussions with potential counterparties, including ACI.

Beginning in late September 2017 after entering into the confidentiality agreement, Rite Aid and ACI began conducting preliminary financial due diligence to assess potential synergies in a transaction involving a merger of Rite Aid and ACI.

On September 21, 2017, representatives of Rite Aid, Citi, ACI and Cerberus met at Cerberus' office in New York to discuss a potential transaction involving Rite Aid and ACI.

On September 29, 2017, representatives of Party F again discussed with representatives of Citi a potential transaction involving EnvisionRxOptions and Party F.

On October 12, 2017, representatives of Rite Aid and ACI management held a meeting at ACI's office in Boise, Idaho where management of each company made presentations to the other concerning its business and discussed potential synergies and began working together to develop a financial model of the combined company if a transaction were pursued. On October 18, 2017, representatives of Rite Aid, ACI, Cerberus and Citi met at Cerberus' office in New York to discuss EnvisionRxOptions, each company's expected financial results for their respective then current fiscal year and potential synergies. In addition, the ACI board of directors held a telephonic board call on that date at which ACI management and Cerberus representatives on the ACI board updated the ACI directors concerning the due diligence process and preliminary views concerning potential synergies.

On October 30, 2017, Rite Aid management provided an update to the Rite Aid board of directors on the meetings in Boise and New York. Rite Aid management indicated that the parties would continue preliminary diligence and a quantification of synergies for the next two weeks with a goal of meeting to discuss a possible deal structure that could be presented to the Rite Aid board of directors for further consideration in the coming weeks. Additionally, Rite Aid management provided an update to the Rite Aid board of directors about Party F and its interest in EnvisionRxOptions. The Rite Aid board of directors discussed that a sale of EnvisionRxOptions would not be in Rite Aid's interests because, among other things, Rite Aid intended to diversify its business to mitigate the adverse impact of reimbursement rate pressure and selling EnvisionRxOptions would have the opposite effect and Rite Aid considered EnvisionRxOptions to be a critical asset in advancing its strategy of driving additional growth in its pharmaceutical business.

Also on October 30, 2017, the ACI board of directors held a telephonic meeting at which ACI management and Cerberus representatives on the ACI board updated the ACI directors concerning the expected process for the coming weeks.

On November 13, 2017, the Rite Aid board of directors held a special telephonic meeting which was attended by members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi, Skadden and Jones Day. Rite Aid management and representatives from Citi updated the Rite Aid board of directors on discussions with ACI and Cerberus, including the meetings held in October and a meeting scheduled for the following day in New York. Mr. Standley discussed that ACI's geographic footprint complemented the footprint of Rite Aid (adjusted for the WBA asset sale) well, and that Rite Aid management was in the process of assessing the value of ACI. Mr. Standley also described challenges in ACI's industry, including, among others, that ACI was facing a trend of deflation in the grocery industry sector and a competitive market. Citi provided a preliminary overview of potential cost synergies as estimated by management, industry trends in the grocery business and an implied pro forma hypothetical ownership structure in the event that Rite Aid and ACI merged, giving effect to the consummation of the WBA asset purchase transaction. This preliminary overview reflected implied pro forma hypothetical ownership ranges based on (i) Rite Aid's closing stock price of $1.57 per share on November 10, 2017, (ii) adjusted EBITDA multiples for ACI of 5.0x to 5.5x based on then current selected grocery industry sector peer multiples (which multiples increased over the course of negotiations with ACI) and (iii) ACI adjusted EBITDA of approximately $2.7 billion (in a base case provided by ACI management) and approximately $2.5 billion (in a sensitized case calculated for illustrative purposes). This preliminary overview indicated an implied pro forma hypothetical ownership of approximately 28-42% of the combined company for Rite Aid stockholders. Citi also provided an illustrative overview of Rite Aid's implied pro forma hypothetical ownership of the combined company of 21-44% based on discounted cash flows of each of Rite Aid and ACI (based on Rite Aid management's preliminary forecasts for Rite Aid and the base case and sensitized estimates for ACI). Citi indicated that these implied pro forma hypothetical ownership percentages depended on ACI's actual financial results and further due diligence on potential synergies. The Rite Aid board of directors and Rite Aid management discussed that, based on preliminary information then known, Rite Aid should start negotiations towards the high end of the implied ranges reflected in this illustrative overview with a pro forma ownership of 35-40% for its stockholders, with the understanding that the higher end of the proposed range would be difficult to obtain but a proposal at that range would be useful in negotiations. The Rite Aid board of directors authorized Rite Aid management to continue conducting due diligence on ACI and to continue discussions with ACI regarding a potential combination.

On November 14, 2017, Rite Aid, including Mr. Frank A. Savage (a member of the Rite Aid board of directors), ACI, Cerberus, Citi and ACI's financial advisors, Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC, which we refer to as Credit Suisse, and Goldman Sachs & Co, LLC., which we refer to as Goldman Sachs, met in New York to discuss the economic terms for a stock-for-stock merger transaction. ACI made an initial non-binding proposal, giving effect to the consummation of the asset purchase transaction with WBA, which we refer to as the First November 14 ACI Proposal, for a stock-for-stock merger transaction that would result in pre-merger Rite Aid stockholders owning in the aggregate 25% of the combined company and pre-merger ACI stockholders owning in the aggregate 75% of the combined company. This proposal by ACI contemplated the possibility that, immediately following the transaction, pre-merger ACI stockholders would subscribe to a $1 billion rights offering by the combined company at a price equivalent to $1.75 per Rite Aid share. Pre-merger ACI stockholders would agree to terminate the stockholders arrangements among them prior to closing such that pre-merger ACI stockholders would not act as a group post-merger. Mr. Standley and Mr. Savage indicated that Rite Aid did not agree with the methodology that ACI and its advisors used to value the combined company, and Rite Aid believed that a transaction providing for 25% ownership would not be acceptable. As previously authorized by the Rite Aid board of directors, Mr. Standley and Mr. Savage then proposed an exchange ratio that would result in pre-merger Rite Aid stockholders owning in the aggregate 35-40% of the combined company. ACI and its advisors indicated they would conduct additional analysis on the exchange ratio.

Following these discussions and also on November 14, 2017, ACI revised the First November 14 ACI Proposal and made a non-binding proposal with a revised exchange ratio, giving effect to the consummation of the asset purchase transaction with WBA, that would result in pre-merger Rite Aid stockholders owning in the aggregate 30% of the combined company and pre-merger ACI stockholders owning in the aggregate 70% of the combined company, which we refer to as the Second November 14 ACI Proposal. This proposal by ACI contemplated the possibility that, immediately following the transaction, pre-merger ACI stockholders would purchase up to $500 million of the combined company's equity at a price equivalent to $2.00 per Rite Aid share, which would dilute pre-merger Rite Aid stockholders' ownership of the combined company below a 30% ownership level immediately upon the consummation of the transaction. Rite Aid management indicated that they would discuss the Second November 14 ACI Proposal with the Rite Aid board of directors. On the same date, at the request of Cerberus senior management and Mr. Miller, and as previously had been discussed with the Rite Aid board of directors, Mr. Standley met with the Cerberus Investment Committee and the ACI board of directors to discuss the potential transaction and answer questions about Rite Aid's business. Following Mr. Standley's departure from the ACI board of directors meeting, ACI management and the Cerberus representatives on the ACI board of directors updated the ACI board of directors concerning the negotiation of the exchange ratio, and Goldman Sachs and Credit Suisse provided their respective views concerning the potential market perception of the anticipated cost synergies and revenue opportunities.

As was known to the Rite Aid board of directors at the time of Mr. Savage's involvement in these discussions, Mr. Savage has been a Senior Advisor to investment banking firm Lazard Ltd. (Lazard) since January 1, 2014. Prior to assuming the part-time Senior Advisor role at Lazard, Mr. Savage served in various senior positions with Lazard, including Vice Chairman of U.S. Investment Banking at Lazard from 2009 to December 31, 2013, Co-Head of Lazard's Restructuring Group from June 1999 to December 31, 2013 and a member of Lazard's Deputy Chairman Committee from 2006 to December 2013. Mr. Savage was appointed to the board of directors of Supervalu Inc. (from which ACI acquired New Albertson's Inc. in 2013), as an independent director designee of an investment consortium led by Cerberus. Mr. Savage has continued to serve on the board of Supervalu but has not been a designee of such investment consortium since his original appointment. Mr. Savage also had served on the board of directors of Freedom Group, Inc. (a former Cerberus portfolio company now known as The Remington Outdoor Company) from August 8, 2007 to February 11, 2013. The Rite Aid board of directors viewed Mr. Savage's prior business background as a former senior officer of Lazard, resulting in his familiarity with Cerberus, as an asset in connection with the negotiations.

On November 16, 2017, the Rite Aid board of directors held a special telephonic meeting, which was attended by Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi, Skadden and Jones Day, to discuss the Second November 14 ACI Proposal and other updates about a potential transaction with ACI. Citi summarized the financial terms of, and discussed certain other preliminary financial information pertaining to, the First November 14 ACI Proposal and the Second November 14 ACI Proposal. After further discussion, the Rite Aid board of directors determined that, based on the information available at that time and based on the status of negotiations between the parties at that time, it could support a proposal that would result in Rite Aid stockholders owning a range of 33% to 35% of the combined company with an equity infusion of $500 million from ACI stockholders (which equity infusion would dilute Rite Aid stockholders' ownership percentage), subject to the completion of additional diligence and the resolution of other transaction terms. Such 33% to 35% range was within the range of illustrative implied pro forma ownership percentages discussed at the November 13, 2017 meeting of the Rite Aid board of directors. Rite Aid again considered that the higher end of the proposed range would be difficult to obtain but a proposal at that range would be useful in negotiations. The Rite Aid board of directors considered whether Rite Aid should continue discussions in the absence of an agreement on the pro forma ownership for Rite Aid's stockholders and decided that Rite Aid and ACI should continue to conduct their due diligence review of each other's businesses in order to determine an appropriate exchange ratio. The Rite Aid board of directors instructed management to convey these positions to ACI. Also at this meeting, Citi provided the Rite Aid board of directors with updated disclosure regarding Citi's material relationships with Rite Aid, ACI and Cerberus, including the July 13, 2017 meeting between certain Citi coverage team members and ACI. The Rite Aid board of directors requested and, in accordance with such request, Citi gathered additional information regarding such matters. On December 9, 2017, Rite Aid's management provided an update to the Rite Aid board of directors, including providing to the Rite Aid board of directors a more detailed description prepared by Citi of the July 13, 2017 meeting and Citi's material relationships with ACI and Cerberus. The Rite Aid board of directors considered this information (including the information described herein regarding the July 13 meeting) and, based on this information and a consideration of all relevant factors, believed that the Citi representatives on the Rite Aid transaction team had acted, and would continue to act, in the best interests of Rite Aid.

Also on November 16, 2017, a representative of Rite Aid met with a representative of Party G in New York to discuss potential strategic transactions involving Party G and Rite Aid. At this meeting, the representative of Party G indicated that Party G was only interested in a transaction to acquire EnvisionRxOptions.

On November 17, 2017, Mr. Savage and Mr. Standley had a call with Mr. Lenard Tessler, Vice Chairman and Senior Managing Director of Cerberus and a member of the ACI board of directors. Mr. Savage and Mr. Standley conveyed that the Rite Aid board of directors would not support a transaction at the exchange ratios and on the other terms proposed by ACI in the Second November 14 ACI Proposal. As instructed by the Rite Aid board of directors, Mr. Savage and Mr. Standley informed Mr. Tessler that, subject to resolving other transaction terms, the Rite Aid board of directors could support a transaction that would result in Rite Aid stockholders owning a range of 33% to 35% of the combined company with an equity infusion of $500 million from ACI stockholders. Mr. Tessler stated that Cerberus (which had a blocking vote with respect to the approval of a potential strategic transaction with ACI) would not support a transaction on those terms. After further discussion, the parties agreed that, while there was no agreement on the exchange ratio at that time, the proposed exchange ratios were close enough that the parties should finalize their due diligence and seek to resolve other open items, and then Rite Aid and ACI could determine if they could narrow the proposed exchange ratios and ultimately agree upon a mutually acceptable exchange ratio. On November 19, 2017, Rite Aid management provided an update to the Rite Aid board of directors regarding this conversation.

On November 20, 2017, Rite Aid management met with Party H regarding strategic business alternatives and opportunities. Party H indicated it would discuss further and would follow up with Rite Aid if there was any interest in a potential strategic transaction. Party H did not follow up with Rite Aid.

On November 21, 2017, Skadden had a call with Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP, counsel to ACI, which we refer to as Schulte, to discuss documentation needed for the transaction, the due diligence process and the potential structure, principles and timing considerations of the transaction, including, among other things, that Rite Aid required that pre-merger ACI stockholders would not be permitted to act as a group post-merger. Also on November 21, 2017, a consulting firm was retained by Rite Aid to conduct financial due diligence on ACI's business, began conducting financial due diligence on ACI.

On November 29, 2017, Schulte delivered an initial draft merger agreement to Skadden. The exchange ratio remained an open point and other significant open items in the draft merger agreement from Rite Aid's view included, among others, ACI's positions with respect to the covenant regarding its required efforts to obtain antitrust approvals, the absence of a reverse termination fee payable by ACI to Rite Aid if the deal failed to close due to the failure to obtain antitrust approvals, the amount of the termination fee payable to ACI, ACI's request for expense reimbursement if Rite Aid's stockholders did not approve the transaction, and restrictive interim operating covenants and representations and warranties.

On November 29 and November 30, 2017, representatives of Rite Aid, ACI and Cerberus met at Skadden's office in New York to conduct business and financial due diligence on each of Rite Aid and ACI. Representatives of Citi, Credit Suisse and Goldman Sachs also attended this meeting. The parties did not discuss the terms of a transaction at this meeting. Business, financial and legal due diligence continued from December 2017 through early February 2018.

On December 6, 2017, representatives of Rite Aid and Party F met to discuss potential strategic transactions involving Party F and Rite Aid. At this meeting, representatives of Party F indicated that they were only interested in a transaction to acquire EnvisionRxOptions and were not interested in any broader transaction or commercial arrangement, including a transaction to acquire Rite Aid.

Also on December 6, 2017, the ACI board of directors held a telephonic board meeting in which ACI management and representatives of Cerberus and Schulte participated. The ACI board of directors reviewed recent trends in ACI's business, the status of due diligence, including the work undertaken by McKinsey & Company, which we refer to as McKinsey, which had been retained by ACI to assist in conducting diligence on, and quantification of, synergies, and a potential synergies assessment. Schulte reviewed the terms of the merger agreement that had been sent to Skadden and the proposed lock-up and other arrangements contemplated for the pre-merger ACI stockholders in the transaction.

On December 11, 2017, Skadden sent to Schulte a revised draft of the merger agreement, which did not take a position on the exchange ratio but reflected Rite Aid's position on the issues it had raised regarding Schulte's initial draft.

On December 12, 2017, Rite Aid management provided an update to the Rite Aid board of directors regarding the progress that Rite Aid and ACI had made on due diligence and the issues relating to and the status of the draft merger agreement that Skadden had sent to Schulte the previous day.

On December 13, 2017, ACI management and Schulte provided an update to the ACI board regarding the status of due diligence and outstanding points relating to the draft merger agreement that Skadden sent to Schulte on December 11, 2017.

On December 15, 2017, representatives of Rite Aid, ACI, Cerberus, Citi, Goldman Sachs, Credit Suisse and McKinsey met at Rite Aid's office in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania to discuss and conduct due diligence on EnvisionRxOptions and the PBM industry.

On December 19, 2017, Schulte sent to Skadden initial term sheets for a registration rights agreement and lock-up agreement to be signed by the stockholders of ACI, as previously had been discussed with the Rite Aid board of directors. The drafts provided for, among other things, a restriction on ACI's stockholders' ability to sell their shares of ACI common stock for at least 18 months following the closing of the merger.

Also on December 19, 2017, Citi received an email from Party I indicating that Party I was interested in exploring either a take private transaction involving Rite Aid or an acquisition of Rite Aid's subsidiary EnvisionRxOptions. After discussing this message with Rite Aid, and in accordance with Rite Aid's instructions, a representative of Citi responded on Rite Aid's behalf and spoke with Party I later that day about a potential transaction. Rite Aid scheduled a meeting with Party I for early January 2018 to discuss a potential strategic transaction. On December 20, 2017, ACI management provided an update to the ACI board of directors concerning the proposed merger with Rite Aid.

On December 23, 2017, Rite Aid management provided an update to the Rite Aid board of directors that Rite Aid and ACI were continuing to make progress on due diligence and anticipated completing a majority of the due diligence in the following weeks. Rite Aid management also informed the Rite Aid board of directors that ACI was reviewing the latest draft of the merger agreement and the parties expected to resume negotiations on the merger agreement in early January 2018.

On December 29, 2017, a representative of Rite Aid had a discussion with a representative of Party F. Party F made it clear that it was only interested in an acquisition of EnvisionRxOptions and was not otherwise interested in a strategic transaction or commercial arrangement involving Rite Aid.

On January 3, 2018, the Rite Aid board of directors held a special telephonic meeting which was attended by members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi, Skadden and Jones Day. Rite Aid management provided the Rite Aid board of directors with an update on recent conversations with Party F and on the status of discussions with ACI. Rite Aid management and the Rite Aid board of directors discussed ACI's financial performance and other aspects of ACI's business and the results of due diligence to date. The Rite Aid board of directors also discussed the adoption of a tax benefits preservation plan, including that such plan could protect certain of Rite Aid's tax attributes, particularly Rite Aid's significant amount of net operating losses that could be used, among other things, to offset the gain generated from the asset sale to WBA. With the authorization of the Rite Aid board of directors, Rite Aid entered into the Tax Benefits Preservation Plan, which we refer to as the tax benefits preservation plan, dated January 3, 2018, with Broadridge Corporate Issuer Solutions, as rights agent. The Rite Aid board of directors also considered that the Rite Aid board of directors could exempt any potential acquiror in its sole discretion from the restrictions in the tax benefits preservation plan and that the Rite Aid board of directors had the discretion to terminate the plan at any time.

On January 4, 2018, the ACI board of directors held a telephonic board meeting in which ACI management and representatives of Cerberus, ACI's financial advisors and Schulte participated. ACI management and the Cerberus representatives on the ACI board of directors reviewed Rite Aid's recent financial results, their assessment of the impact that the pendency of the WBA merger transaction had had on Rite Aid's performance and other aspects of RiteAid's business. The ACI board discussed the results of due diligence to date, including the anticipated cost synergies and revenue opportunities if the merger transaction was pursued. The ACI board of directors also considered the risks of the potential transaction.

On January 10, 2018, representatives of Rite Aid and Party I met in San Francisco. Party I indicated that it was only interested in an acquisition of EnvisionRxOptions at that time.

Later in the day on January 10, 2018, at the request of Rite Aid management, Mr. Miller and Mr. Justin Ewing, Executive Vice President, Corporate Development & Real Estate of ACI, presented ACI's business plan and their views of the grocery industry sector to the Rite Aid board of directors at a board meeting in California. Mr. Standley informed the Rite Aid board of directors that, on or about January 4, 2018, ACI and Cerberus had approached him about serving as the Chief Executive Officer of the combined company after the closing of the merger. Mr. Standley indicated that he had not accepted, that there had been no negotiation of any terms of a potential employment arrangement with the combined company and that he had informed ACI and Cerberus that he would not pursue any discussions regarding, or negotiate any terms of, a potential employment arrangement prior to the negotiation of all economic and other material terms of the merger agreement. Following an executive session of the independent directors to discuss these matters, the Rite Aid board of directors agreed that there should be no negotiations of an employment arrangement between Mr. Standley and ACI prior to negotiation of all economic and other material terms of the merger agreement.

On January 11, 2018, representatives of Rite Aid, ACI and Cerberus met at ACI's office in Boise, Idaho to conduct diligence on the businesses of Rite Aid and ACI and to review and analyze potential transaction synergies. On January 12, 2018, the ACI board of directors held a telephonic board meeting at which the results of the January 11, 2018 meeting in Boise were discussed.

On January 16, 2018, Schulte sent a revised draft of the merger agreement to Skadden. In addition to the open issue of the exchange ratio, significant issues, in Rite Aid's view, included, among others, ACI's limited obligation to accept divestitures if required by the antitrust authorities in approving a transaction, ACI's control of the governmental approval review process, the amount of the termination fee payable by ACI to Rite Aid under certain circumstances, including if the merger agreement were terminated due to the failure to obtain antitrust approval, and the amount of the reverse termination fee payable by Rite Aid to ACI under certain circumstances, including if Rite Aid entered into a superior proposal, and ACI's request for expense reimbursement from Rite Aid if Rite Aid's stockholders did not approve the transaction.

On January 17 and January 18, 2018, representatives of Rite Aid, ACI, Cerberus and McKinsey met at Cerberus' office in New York to discuss potential transaction synergies and each company's historical and projected financial results.

On January 18, 2018, Citi received a phone call from Party J inquiring about a potential strategic transaction involving Rite Aid without providing any specific information. Citi responded that if Party J had a proposal, then Citi would relay such proposal to Rite Aid. Party J never provided a proposal, any additional information or followed up with Citi or Rite Aid.

On January 22, 2018, Schulte sent to Skadden initial drafts of a registration rights agreement and lock-up agreement to be signed by the stockholders of ACI.

On January 24, 2018, representatives of Rite Aid, ACI, Cerberus, Citi, Credit Suisse, Goldman Sachs, McKinsey and Bank of America Merrill Lynch, an additional financial advisor to ACI that also is providing committed financing for the proposed transaction together with Credit Suisse and Goldman Sachs, met at Cerberus' office in New York to discuss the proposed financing of the transaction with prospective lenders.

On January 24, 2018, the Rite Aid board of directors held a special telephonic meeting, which was attended by members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi, Skadden and Jones Day, to discuss, among other things, updates on the status of Rite Aid's and ACI's ongoing financial and business due diligence. Members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi updated the Rite Aid board of directors on the status of due diligence and discussions regarding the implied pro forma ownership of the combined company. Mr. Standley reminded the Rite Aid board of directors that, on or about January 4, 2018, ACI and Cerberus had approached him about serving as the Chief Executive Officer of the combined company after the closing of the merger. Mr. Standley confirmed, as previously had been discussed with the board, that there had been no negotiation of any terms of a potential employment arrangement for Mr. Standley with ACI or Cerberus for the combined company and, as agreed between the Rite Aid board of directors and Mr. Standley, Mr. Standley would not pursue any discussions, and there would be no negotiation, of any terms of a potential employment arrangement for him prior to the negotiation of all economic and other material terms of the merger agreement. However, to avoid even the appearance of any potential conflict of interest, Mr. Standley and the Rite Aid board of directors determined to establish a committee of directors (exclusive of Mr. Standley), which we refer to as the negotiating committee, to negotiate, for the Rite Aid board of directors consideration, the exchange ratio and other financial terms of the transaction with ACI. The Rite Aid board of directors held an executive session of the independent directors to discuss these matters. The Rite Aid board of directors then established the negotiating committee at this meeting, which consisted of directors Michael N. Regan, David R. Jessick and Mr. Savage.

On January 31, 2018 and February 1, 2018, at the request of Cerberus and Mr. Miller, members of Rite Aid management attended Cerberus' investment committee meeting and the ACI board of directors meeting, respectively, at Cerberus' office in New York. Rite Aid, ACI and Cerberus discussed the potential combined company's business plan and merits of the combination. The parties did not discuss any transaction terms at these meetings. Following Mr. Standley's departure from the ACI board of directors meeting, the ACI directors discussed the merits of the proposed transaction and authorized the Cerberus representatives on the ACI board of directors to negotiate the exchange ratio with Rite Aid and its advisors, subject to subsequent approval by the ACI board of directors.

Also on January 31, 2018, Schulte sent to Skadden further revised drafts of a registration rights agreement and lock-up agreement to be signed by the stockholders of ACI.

On February 2, 2018, Schulte and Skadden held calls to negotiate provisions of the merger agreement and the registration rights agreement. On February 4, 2018, Schulte sent to Skadden a chart outlining ACI's positions on open points in the merger agreement.

Also on February 4, 2018, representatives of Goldman Sachs had a call with representatives of Citi during which the representatives of Goldman Sachs indicated that ACI had updated its financial perspectives taking into account then current market factors and due diligence findings, which, in ACI's view, supported a pro forma ownership for Rite Aid stockholders of less than ACI's previous proposal of 30%. According to the representatives of Goldman Sachs, ACI's further financial review supported a higher stand-alone value for ACI and focused on discounted cash flows in determining an exchange ratio. Based on its discussions with Rite Aid management, Citi indicated that such a proposal from ACI would not be productive and challenged ACI's approach for determining the exchange ratio. Citi also requested that Goldman Sachs provide materials regarding ACI's methodology and updated Rite Aid management as to this discussion.

On February 5, 2018, the Rite Aid board of directors held a special telephonic meeting, which was attended by members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi, Skadden and Jones Day, to discuss, among other things, the latest updates on discussions with ACI, the status of financial, business and legal due diligence, and key outstanding items in the draft merger agreement, the draft registration rights agreement and the draft lock-up agreement. Members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Rite Aid's advisors discussed financial, business and legal due diligence findings with the Rite Aid board of directors, which findings were provided to the Rite Aid board of directors in advance of the meeting. In particular, Rite Aid management confirmed that Rite Aid was more comfortable that ACI would be able to meet its financial projections for the following fiscal year because Rite Aid's due diligence indicated that ACI was closer to meeting its projections for the then current fiscal year than Rite Aid originally had anticipated. Members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Skadden also updated the Rite Aid board of directors on the material outstanding points in the draft merger agreement, including, among others, ACI's limited obligation to accept antitrust divestitures in connection with ACI's control of the governmental approval review process, the amount of the termination fee payable by ACI to Rite Aid under certain circumstances, including if the merger agreement were terminated due to the failure to obtain antitrust approval, and the amount of the reverse termination fee payable by Rite Aid to ACI under certain circumstances, including if Rite Aid entered into a superior proposal, and ACI's request for expense reimbursement if Rite Aid's stockholders did not approve the transaction.

At this board meeting, Citi also updated the Rite Aid board of directors regarding certain financial matters. Citi provided an updated overview of industry trends in the grocery business and an implied pro forma hypothetical ownership structure in the event that Rite Aid and ACI merged, giving effect to the consummation of the WBA asset purchase transaction. This updated overview reflected implied pro forma hypothetical ownership ranges based on (i) Rite Aid's closing stock price of $2.06 per share on February 2, 2018, (ii) adjusted EBITDA multiples for ACI of 6.0x to 7.0x based on then current selected grocery industry sector peer multiples (which multiples had increased since the November 13, 2017 Rite Aid board of directors meeting) and (iii) ACI adjusted EBITDA for the fiscal year ending February 28, 2019 of approximately $2.7 billion (in a base case provided by ACI management) and approximately $2.5 billion (in a sensitized case calculated for illustrative purposes). This updated overview indicated an implied pro forma hypothetical ownership of approximately 22-36% of the combined company for Rite Aid stockholders. Citi also provided an illustrative overview of Rite Aid's implied pro forma hypothetical ownership of the combined company of 20-30% based on discounted cash flows of each of Rite Aid and ACI (based on Rite Aid management's preliminary forecasts for Rite Aid and the base case and sensitized estimates for ACI). Citi indicated that these implied pro forma hypothetical ownership percentages depended on further due diligence on ACI's financial results and on potential synergies. Members of Rite Aid management and Rite Aid's advisors then discussed the pre-merger ownership of ACI and pro forma ownership of the combined company. Rite Aid management and Rite Aid's advisors also discussed that if ACI's pre-merger stockholders decided to sell their shares after the closing of the merger, there was a need to have an orderly disposition of the shares. After extensive discussion, the Rite Aid board of directors authorized the negotiating committee to negotiate an exchange ratio that would result in Rite Aid stockholders owning 30-35% of the combined company's stock, which was at the high end to above the range of the implied pro forma hypothetical ownership for Rite Aid stockholders as described above. Rite Aid again considered that the higher end of the proposed range would be difficult to obtain but a proposal at that range would be useful in negotiations.

Also on February 5, 2018, Goldman Sachs and Credit Suisse provided materials to Citi regarding ACI's methodology and basis for revising its proposed exchange ratio. These materials suggested an exchange ratio that would result in Rite Aid stockholders owning 25% in the aggregate of the combined company after the closing based on discounted cash flows, a present value of future share price and then current EBITDA multiples for selected companies, which multiples for the grocery industry sector had increased over the course of negotiations with ACI.

On February 6, 2018, Rite Aid (including the directors on the negotiating committee) and Cerberus, together with representatives of Citi, Credit Suisse and Goldman Sachs, held meetings at Skadden's New York office to negotiate the exchange ratio and pro forma ownership of the combined company. The negotiating committee consulted Rite Aid management and Citi, but the negotiating discussions were conducted directly between Cerberus and the negotiating committee without management or financial advisors present.

Prior to the meeting between the negotiating committee and Cerberus, representatives of Citi, Goldman Sachs and Credit Suisse met to discuss the exchange ratio. Goldman Sachs and Credit Suisse noted at the meeting that Rite Aid was operating in a difficult macro-environment and that Rite Aid common stock reflected an option value tied to potential strategic activity, as demonstrated by a lack of a meaningful trading multiple discount to purportedly much stronger retail pharmacy peers. Rite Aid and its advisors countered this perspective of macro-environment trends by arguing that Rite Aid's earnings results had stabilized and Rite Aid was further deleveraged from applying the WBA sale proceeds. At this meeting, in accordance with Rite Aid's directives, Citi discussed with Goldman Sachs and Credit Suisse, among other things, an illustrative pro forma ownership for Rite Aid stockholders of approximately 29% to 41% implied based on (i) Rite Aid's closing stock price of $2.00 per share on February 5, 2018, (ii) adjusted EBITDA multiple for ACI of 6.0x based on then current selected grocery industry sector peer multiples and (iii) ACI projected adjusted EBITDA for the fiscal year ending February 28, 2019 of approximately $2.7 billion (in a base case provided by ACI management) and historical adjusted EBITDA of approximately $2.35 billion (based on information provided by ACI management). Citi indicated that changes in ACI's assumed adjusted EBITDA multiples and/or utilizing historical (versus projected) financial results for ACI could support a significantly higher exchange ratio in favor of Rite Aid's stockholders.

Following the meeting among ACI's and Rite Aid's respective financial advisors, the negotiating committee proposed to Cerberus an exchange ratio that would result in Rite Aid stockholders owning 35% in the aggregate of the combined company after the closing. Cerberus indicated it could not accept a deal at that exchange ratio and did not agree with Rite Aid's methodology for determining the exchange ratio, including because, in Cerberus' view, Rite Aid's stock price at that time reflected a potential deal premium given market expectations that Rite Aid was an acquisition target and that Rite Aid's stock was therefore effectively trading as an option on a transaction. Cerberus (which had a blocking vote with respect to the approval of a potential strategic transaction with ACI) indicated that it would terminate discussions if Rite Aid was not willing to entertain a lower exchange ratio because Cerberus would not accept a deal that would result in Rite Aid stockholders owning 35% in the aggregate of the combined company after the closing. Cerberus did not provide a specific counterproposal. After discussions regarding, among other things, the financial overview discussed with the Rite Aid board of directors at previous board meetings, potential transaction synergies and the prospects of the combined company, the negotiating committee proposed an exchange ratio that would result in Rite Aid stockholders owning 30% in the aggregate of the combined company at the closing. Cerberus again indicated it could not accept a deal at that exchange ratio, and did not provide a specific counterproposal. The negotiating committee indicated that if Cerberus could not accept an exchange ratio that would result in Rite Aid stockholders owning 30% of the combined company, then the negotiating committee had no authority to continue negotiations on the exchange ratio. Mr. Stephen Feinberg, Chief Executive Officer of Cerberus, then requested a one-on-one meeting with Mr. Savage. In that meeting, both sides reiterated their positions and agreed that there was no need for further discussions if neither side was willing to compromise on their position. The parties then departed the meeting without an agreement on the exchange ratio or the other remaining issues in the draft merger agreement.

On February 7, 2018, the negotiating committee updated the Rite Aid board of directors regarding the discussions with Cerberus the previous day. Also on February 7, 2018, Citi received a call from Credit Suisse and Goldman Sachs to discuss the exchange ratio negotiations. In accordance with the directives of the negotiating committee, Citi responded that Rite Aid could not accept a deal that would result in Rite Aid stockholders owning below 30% of the combined company (including that the Rite Aid board of directors had only authorized the negotiating committee to negotiate a deal at 30% or higher). Later that day, ACI provided a counterproposal that Rite Aid stockholders would receive (i) stock consideration that would result in Rite Aid stockholders owning 28% of the combined company in the aggregate and (ii) $200 million in cash, which we refer to as the February 7 ACI Proposal. ACI also proposed that the initial combined company board would consist of four directors appointed by Rite Aid, four directors (including the chairman) appointed by ACI and one additional director appointed by ACI subject to Rite Aid's right to consent to such director. The negotiating committee responded that it would convey the February 7 ACI Proposal to the full Rite Aid board of directors, but that it was not authorized to negotiate a deal within those parameters without approval of the full Rite Aid board of directors.

On February 8, 2018, the Rite Aid board of directors held a special telephonic meeting, which was attended by members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi, Skadden and Jones Day, to discuss the February 7 ACI Proposal. The negotiating committee, members of Rite Aid management and Citi updated the Rite Aid board of directors on the negotiations, and Citi reviewed the potential financial impact of the proposed $200 million cash consideration on the implied pro forma ownership of the combined company given various assumptions regarding the financial performance of the combined company, indicating that Rite Aid stockholders' 28% aggregate ownership of the combined company plus the $200 million cash consideration provided substantially equivalent value to Rite Aid stockholders as the prior 30% exchange ratio position as this was effectively the equivalent of the Rite Aid stockholders owning approximately 29.6% in the aggregate of the combined company based on a market multiples approach consistent with prior financial perspectives previously discussed with the Rite Aid board of directors. The Rite Aid board of directors discussed that both Rite Aid and ACI wanted to maximize the stock consideration received by their respective stockholders to increase their ability to participate in the potential upside of the combined company. The Rite Aid board of directors authorized the negotiating committee, Rite Aid management and Rite Aid's advisors to negotiate the other terms of the transaction on the assumption that the Rite Aid board of directors may be willing to substantially accept terms similar to those in the February 7 ACI Proposal. The Rite Aid board of directors accepted ACI's proposal on the composition of the initial combined company board of directors, subject to resolving the other remaining deal points in a manner acceptable to Rite Aid.

The ACI board of directors also held a special telephonic meeting on February 8, 2018 which was attended by members of ACI management and representatives of Schulte to discuss the ongoing negotiations concerning the exchange ratio. On February 9, 2018, the negotiating committee and ACI and their respective advisors held several calls to negotiate the terms of the February 7 ACI Proposal. Rite Aid (including the directors on the negotiating committee), ACI and their respective advisors also held several calls to negotiate the other remaining open points in the draft merger agreement, including the board composition of the combined company, ACI's obligations to accept antitrust divestitures in connection with the governmental approval review process, the amount of the termination fee payable by ACI to Rite Aid under certain circumstances, including if the merger agreement were terminated due to the failure to obtain antitrust approval, and amount of the reverse termination fee payable by Rite Aid to ACI under certain circumstances, including if Rite Aid entered into a superior proposal, and ACI's request for expense reimbursement from Rite Aid if Rite Aid's stockholders did not approve the transaction. The negotiating committee and Rite Aid's advisors requested that, instead of the $200 million in cash payable to Rite Aid stockholders, such stockholders would be provided the right to elect at their option to receive either (i) a portion of the merger consideration in cash in an amount that would be substantially equivalent to a $200 million cash payment to Rite Aid stockholders in the aggregate if all Rite Aid stockholders elected to receive the additional cash consideration or (ii) additional stock consideration in an amount that would be in lieu of the $200 million cash payment to Rite Aid stockholders in the aggregate if all Rite Aid stockholders elected to receive the additional stock consideration (which amount would result in Rite Aid stockholders owning approximately 29.6% in the aggregate of the combined company if all stockholders elected to receive the additional stock consideration). The negotiating committee considered this election mechanic important to allow Rite Aid stockholders to increase their stock consideration in order to participate in the potential upside of the combined company if they chose to do so. ACI accepted this proposal.

Rite Aid and ACI determined the merger consideration, including the base exchange ratio and additional stock election exchange ratio, following extensive negotiations based on, among other things, each party's assessment of (i) Rite Aid's and ACI's business and operations, strategy, current and historical financial condition and results of operations, and business plan and projected performance, (ii) economic conditions in the industries in which Rite Aid and ACI operate, (iii) Rite Aid's future prospects, including the Rite Aid Forecast, (iv) ACI's future prospects, including the ACI Forecast, (v) the terms of the merger agreement and (vi) the results of extensive due diligence conducted by Rite Aid and ACI on each company's business over the course of several months. It was not possible to determine the price at which the combined company would trade following consummation of the merger. However, Rite Aid and ACI took into account certain factors that the companies expected the market to take into account in determining the potential value of the combined company after the mergers. Specifically, Rite Aid valued the ACI common stock issuable to Rite Aid stockholders in the transaction in light of, among other things, all of the foregoing factors, in addition to (x) the trading multiples of selected public companies in the industries in which Rite Aid and ACI operate, (y) the financial forecasts for Rite Aid and ACI and (z) the potential synergies, revenue opportunities and other benefits to the combined company that could result from the mergers. For additional information regarding the factors that the parties considered in determining the merger consideration and valuing the transaction, see the sections entitled "The Merger Financial Forecast" beginning on page 138 of this proxy statement/prospectus, "The Merger Recommendation of the Rite Aid Board of Directors; Rite Aid's Reasons for the Merger" beginning on page 122 of this proxy statement/prospectus, "The Merger ACI's Reasons for the Merger" beginning on page 141 of this proxy statement/prospectus and "Summary Opportunities for Enhanced Growth" beginning on page 37 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

On February 12, 2018, Skadden sent a revised draft of the merger agreement to Schulte reflecting Rite Aid and ACI's negotiations over the past several days. Also on that date, the ACI board of directors held a telephonic board meeting at which ACI management and representatives of Schulte participated. At the meeting, the results of negotiations since the last ACI board of directors' meeting were discussed, including the merger consideration and corporate governance matters for the combined company. A Cerberus representative on the ACI board of directors also reviewed the expected terms of the financing commitments that ACI intended to receive to refinance certain of Rite Aid's outstanding debt. Rite Aid, ACI and their respective advisors continued to negotiate the disclosure schedules and other transaction agreements over the course of the next several days.

On February 13, 2018, the negotiating committee, members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi and Skadden held a call to update the negotiating committee on the latest developments in discussions with ACI and their advisors. In particular, the negotiating committee provided guidance on the negotiation of corporate governance matters of the combined company, including the rights of Rite Aid, ACI and Cerberus to nominate directors to the combined company.

On February 14 and February 15, 2018, Rite Aid, ACI and Cerberus, together with representatives of Citi, Credit Suisse, Goldman Sachs, Skadden and Schulte, met at Cerberus' office in New York to discuss an investor presentation and communications plan for the proposed transaction. Also on February 14, 2018, the parties exchanged term sheets reflecting their respective positions on the registration rights agreement and lock-up agreement.

On February 14, 2018, Skadden and Schulte negotiated certain terms of the merger agreement and related documents, at the direction and with the input of the negotiating committee and ACI, respectively. During the course of negotiations, the negotiating committee, members of Rite Aid management, Citi and Skadden held calls to discuss the proposed terms of the merger agreement and related documents.

On February 15, 2018, Schulte sent Skadden a revised draft of the merger agreement. Skadden sent a further revised draft of the merger agreement to Schulte later the same day.

On February 16, 2018, Schulte sent a further revised draft of the merger agreement to Skadden and a draft of the no action agreement, which would restrict pre-merger ACI stockholders from taking certain actions as a group after the closing of the merger, as previously had been discussed with the Rite Aid board of directors. Also on February 16, 2018, Skadden sent Schulte a draft of the standstill agreement, which would restrict Cerberus from, among other things, acquiring or agreeing to acquire beneficial ownership of any additional shares of ACI common stock or Rite Aid common stock and which restricted certain other actions of Cerberus relating to ACI following consummation of the merger. Rite Aid, ACI and their respective advisors continued to negotiate the disclosure schedules and other transaction agreements as well. ACI also requested that certain ACI stockholders receive board observer rights at the combined company after the closing.

On February 16, 2018, the ACI board of directors held a telephonic meeting which was attended by members of ACI's management and representatives of Schulte to discuss the status of negotiations, and review of the merger agreement, including the merger consideration, the lock-up agreement, registration rights agreement, no-action agreement and standstill agreement, summaries of which documents previously had been provided to the ACI directors. A Cerberus representative on the ACI board of directors reviewed the debt commitments for the proposed financing for the merger. Following discussion, the ACI board of directors voted unanimously to approve the merger agreement, the mergers and the other transactions and the stockholders of ACI delivered their written consents to the merger agreement and the mergers.

Also on February 16, 2018, the Rite Aid board of directors held a meeting at Skadden's New York office, which was attended by members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi, Skadden and Jones Day, to discuss the status of negotiations with ACI and to review the merger agreement, the lock-up agreement, registration rights agreement, no action agreement and standstill agreement. At the meeting, Citi provided the Rite Aid board of directors with updated disclosure regarding Citi's material relationships with Rite Aid, ACI and Cerberus. Representatives of Skadden thoroughly reviewed with the Rite Aid board of directors its fiduciary duties, including its duties of care, loyalty, good faith and disclosure to Rite Aid and its stockholders, in considering the transaction.

Citi then reviewed its preliminary financial analysis of the merger consideration with the Rite Aid board of directors and indicated that, assuming there were no material changes in the information considered, it was prepared to provide an opinion to the Rite Aid board of directors if requested to do so by the Rite Aid board of directors. The representatives of Skadden then reviewed with the Rite Aid board of directors the terms of the transaction and open points. Management and the Rite Aid board of directors then discussed Rite Aid's business, strategic, financial and stockholder value creation rationale for the transaction, including certain considerations discussed in the section entitled "The Merger Recommendation of the Rite Aid Board; Rite Aid's Reasons for the Merger" beginning on page 122 of this proxy statement/prospectus. As part of this discussion, Citi indicated that based on, among other things, its knowledge of the industry and market generally and Rite Aid's discussions with other potential buyers, it believed it was unlikely that another viable buyer would make a superior offer to acquire Rite Aid at that time.

Following an executive session of the independent directors, the Rite Aid board of directors expressed its unanimous support for completing negotiations of the transaction and determined to reconvene the following night after further negotiations.

On February 17, 2018, Skadden sent a revised draft of the merger agreement to Schulte. Rite Aid, ACI and their advisors also exchanged drafts of other transaction documents.

On the evening of February 17, 2018, the Rite Aid board of directors held a special telephonic meeting, which was attended by members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Citi, Skadden and Jones Day. At the meeting, representatives of Skadden updated the Rite Aid board of directors on the parties' progress finalizing the transaction documents and confirmed that there were no significant issues that had arisen with respect to the merger agreement since the meeting the previous night and that the transaction documents were substantially finalized, except that ACI had requested that certain ACI Institutional Holders have observation rights on the combined company's board of directors. The Rite Aid board of directors authorized Rite Aid management to continue negotiating the board observer issue, conditioned upon the imposition of a standstill agreement and other limitations on the ACI Institutional Holders that had requested observer rights. These ACI Institutional Holders did not accept these conditions and Skadden ultimately negotiated with Schulte that no ACI stockholders would have board observer rights.

Citi then reviewed its financial analysis of the merger consideration with the Rite Aid board of directors and rendered an oral opinion, confirmed by delivery of a written opinion dated February 17, 2018, to the Rite Aid board of directors to the effect that, as of that date and based on and subject to various assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations and qualifications on the review undertaken described in such opinion, (i) the base exchange ratio plus the additional cash consideration or (ii) the stock election exchange ratio, as applicable, provided for in the merger agreement was fair, from a financial point of view, to holders of Rite Aid common stock (other than, to the extent applicable, ACI, Merger Sub I, Merger Sub II and their respective affiliates).

The Rite Aid board of directors then unanimously determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, are advisable, fair to and in the best interests of Rite Aid and its stockholders, and adopted, approved and declared advisable the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, and resolved, subject to the terms of the merger agreement, to recommend that Rite Aid stockholders approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby.

Rite Aid and ACI finalized the merger agreement and ancillary documents and executed the merger agreement and Rite Aid, ACI and Cerberus finalized and executed the standstill agreement. Before market open on February 20, 2018, the next trading day after entering into the merger agreement, Rite Aid and ACI issued a joint press release publicly announcing the execution of the merger agreement.

In connection with the preparation of this proxy statement/prospectus, it was determined that Rite Aid management's operating cash flow calculations had not included an addback of LIFO charges of approximately $30 million annually, resulting in a reduction (which in the view of Rite Aid management was immaterial) in Rite Aid's projected cash flow from operations. On March 25, 2018, the Rite Aid board of directors held a telephonic meeting, which was attended by members of Rite Aid management and representatives of Skadden and Citi. At this meeting, among other matters, Rite Aid management reviewed with the Rite Aid board of directors a revision to Rite Aid management's cash flow forecasts to reflect the addback for this annual LIFO charge. Citi confirmed that the results of the financial analyses performed in connection with its opinion rendered to the Rite Aid board of directors on February 17, 2018, recalculated solely to reflect such annual LIFO charge addback would not have changed the conclusion reached in such opinion when rendered, based on and subject in all other respects to the matters considered and the assumptions, limitations and qualifications set forth in such opinion, noting that the implied equity value per share ranges for Rite Aid and implied exchange ratio ranges derived from the selected public companies analysis and discounted cash flow analysis on which such opinion was based, solely taking into account such addback, would have been approximately $0.88-$1.93 per share and 0.0474x-0.0825x in the case of the selected public companies analysis (vs. approximately $0.87-$1.92 per share and 0.0471x-0.0823x) and approximately $1.92-$3.08 per share and 0.0654x-0.0856x in the case of the discounted cash flow analysis (vs. approximately $1.83-$2.96 per share and 0.0614x-0.0823x). The Rite Aid board of directors concluded that the revision to Rite Aid management's forecasts to reflect the annual LIFO charge addback would not have changed its determination that the merger agreement was in the best interests of the Rite Aid stockholders at the time of such determination.

Subsequent to the initial filing of the preliminary proxy statement/prospectus, Mr. Savage informed the Rite Aid board of directors that, although he at all times acted in the best interests of the Rite Aid shareholders and has received no remuneration and will not receive any remuneration from Cerberus or its affiliates (except for director fees that he had previously received from Freedom Group on whose board he previously sat from 2007 through 2013), in connection with his status as Senior Advisor at Lazard since 2014, he has received compensation from Lazard in the form of an annual salary of $250,000 and an annual bonus payment (which annual bonus payment Lazard refers to as a supplemental or special payment), with the bonus payment based on his contributions to Lazard, and that for the years 2015, 2016 and 2017 the bonus payments were $1,000,000, $750,000 and $500,000, respectively. Mr. Savage informed the board of directors that he understands that the following information, among other considerations, is taken into account in Lazard's determination of the amount of his annual bonus payment: the contributions made by Mr. Savage to Lazard, as well as by a long-term former business partner of Mr. Savage at Lazard who is also a Senior Advisor to Lazard; the amount of fees received by Lazard from engagements facilitated by Mr. Savage and his former business partner; as well as Mr. Savage's contributions to the mentoring of Lazard employees and to firm culture. Mr. Savage informed the board of directors that there never has been any specification by either Lazard or Mr. Savage regarding what portion of such bonus payments might be attributable to the assistance by Mr. Savage or his former business partner at Lazard in the origination of business engagements between Lazard and Cerberus and its affiliates; however, for each of the years 2015, 2016 and 2017, revenues related to engagements with Cerberus or its affiliates constituted less than 10% of the total revenues generated by Lazard that might be attributable to any fees received by Lazard from engagements facilitated by Mr. Savage or his business partner. Prior to the execution of the merger agreement, Cerberus had no knowledge that Mr. Savage, in his capacity as Senior Advisor to Lazard, has been receiving (and may receive in the future) compensation from Lazard based on Mr. Savage's assistance in originating business engagements between Cerberus and Lazard.

Subsequent to the initial filing of the preliminary proxy statement/prospectus, Mr. Savage also informed the Rite Aid board of directors that in connection with his role as Senior Advisor to Lazard, Mr. Savage and Cerberus would periodically communicate about potential business opportunities involving the possible engagement of Lazard by Cerberus and its affiliates, and that these communications continued through 2017 and 2018; however, none of these potential business opportunities that were communicated in 2017 or 2018 resulted in any engagement (or expected engagement) of Lazard, or were otherwise pursued. In addition, Mr. Savage informed the Rite Aid board of directors that on November 17, 2017, an affiliate of Remington Outdoor Company, a long-term

Lazard client and a former portfolio company of Cerberus, engaged Lazard to assist in connection with a potential restructuring of the company. The Rite Aid board of directors understands that this engagement has not been taken into account in any bonus paid to Mr. Savage to date, but given the fees generated and expected to be generated by Lazard with respect to this restructuring and based on the bonuses paid to Mr. Savage in prior years, Mr. Savage would expect this matter to be taken into account in any bonus paid to him by Lazard for 2018, consistent with prior years' bonuses.

Subsequent to the initial filing of the preliminary proxy statement/prospectus, Mr. Savage informed the Rite Aid board of directors that, prior to and after the execution of the merger agreement, he has conveyed to Cerberus his desire to be a member of the board of directors of the combined company.

On May 14, 2018, the Rite Aid board of directors held a telephonic meeting, which was attended by representatives of Skadden. Previous telephonic meetings had been held on May 6, 2018 and May 13, 2018, with representatives of Skadden in attendance, to inform the board of directors of the information learned about, and to discuss, these matters. A representative of Citi also attended a portion of the May 13 meeting. Mr. Savage recused himself from the May 13 and May 14 board meetings as well as the relevant portion of the May 6 board meeting. The Rite Aid board of directors unanimously (with Mr. Savage recused) concluded at the May 14 board meeting that the information learned regarding Mr. Savage, including, among other things, his actual and potential future payments from Lazard, would not have changed the board's determination that the merger agreement was in the best interests of the Rite Aid stockholders at the time of such determination. The board's conclusion was based on the reasons discussed in this proxy statement explaining why it supported the merger agreement as of February 18, 2018 in the section entitled "The Merger Recommendation of the Rite Aid board of directors; Rite Aid's Reasons for the Merger" beginning on page 122 of this proxy statement/prospectus, and took into account the nature of the new information regarding Mr. Savage (including, among other things, the prior and unquantified anticipated payments from Lazard and the extent of Lazard's work for Cerberus and its affiliates) as well as the facts relating to the negotiating committee, including, among other things: that the negotiating committee was comprised of three individuals, consisting of two independent directors in addition to Mr. Savage; that it negotiated within a framework established, reviewed and monitored by the board of directors; that the full board of directors actively directed and oversaw the negotiations; that the negotiating committee on a continuing basis reported to and sought authorization from the board of directors, which in turn received advice from Citi and Rite Aid management regarding valuation issues; and that the full board of directors, and not the negotiating committee, was required to approve the transaction with ACI.

Recommendation of the Rite Aid Board of Directors; Rite Aid's Reasons for the MergersRecommendation of the Rite Aid Board of Directors to Approve the Merger Agreement and the Transactions Contemplated Thereby

At a meeting held on February 17, 2018, the Rite Aid board of directors, after considering various factors described below, unanimously determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers, are advisable, fair to and in the best interests of Rite Aid and its stockholders, and adopted, approved and declared advisable the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

The Rite Aid board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers.

Reasons for the Mergers

In evaluating the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, the Rite Aid board of directors consulted with Rite Aid's management and legal and financial advisors and, in reaching its determinations, the Rite Aid board of directors considered a variety of factors with respect to the mergers and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the factors listed below (not necessarily in order of relative importance).

Rite Aid's Current Condition. Rite Aid's business and operations, strategy, current and historical financial condition and results of operations, and business plan and projected performance, including Rite Aid's recent EBITDA trends and historical trading prices with respect to shares of Rite Aid common stock.

Economic Conditions. The current environment in the retail drugstore industry, including the trend of consolidation in the healthcare industry, increased competition and the downward trend in third-party reimbursement levels for prescription drugs, and the likely effect of these factors on Rite Aid's financial performance and Rite Aid's ability to compete in the market in the absence of the mergers.

Rite Aid's Future Prospects.

Rite Aid's forecasts for revenue and earnings over the next five (5) years.

The challenges and risks of continuing as a stand-alone public company and the assessment that no other internally developed alternatives were reasonably likely to create greater value for Rite Aid's stockholders than the mergers, taking into account business, competitive, industry and market risks.

Despite Rite Aid's continued use of the proceeds received under the WBA asset purchase agreement to reduce its debt and the resulting reduction in its leverage, Rite Aid is still more highly leveraged than certain of its competitors, limiting its ability to compete effectively with competitors, including retail drugstore companies, healthcare companies and multinational pharmacy retailers and distributors, that have more diversified business models and/or greater financial resources to invest in the expansion of their businesses and absorb the impact of reimbursement rate decreases.

Accretion and Synergies.

The Rite Aid board of directors' understanding of the respective businesses, operations, financial condition, earnings, strategy and prospects of Rite Aid and ACI, taking into consideration the results of Rite Aid's due diligence review of ACI and its assets, liabilities, earnings and financial condition, as well as Rite Aid's and ACI's historical and projected financial performance, including the expectation the combined company would have the ability to generate higher pro forma Adjusted EBITDA than Rite Aid as a stand-alone company, achieve cost synergies and realize revenue opportunities.

The potential synergies and other benefits to the combined company that could result from the mergers, including an enhanced competitive and financial position, increased diversity and depth in Rite Aid's product lines and geographic scope and the potential to realize $375 million of cost synergies and $3.6 billion of identified revenue opportunities by February 26, 2022.

The opportunity for Rite Aid stockholders to realize the potential benefit of ACI's forecasted improved financial performance since Rite Aid stockholders will own approximately 28.0% to 29.6% of the combined company, depending on the results of the cash elections.

Revenue Opportunities. The below factors relate to the $3.6 billion of potential revenue opportunities that the Rite Aid board considered:

The expected ability to expand Rite Aid's pharmacy coverage and gain volume in limited pharmacy networks on the West Coast and the Northeast, driving script growth and improved food and drug revenue;

The expected ability to invest in EnvisionRxOptions and use additional lives to drive customers into Rite Aid pharmacies and ACI stores;

The opportunity to attract more pharmacy customers into ACI stores by rebranding a majority of the ACI pharmacies as Rite Aid pharmacies;

The plan for Rite Aid and ACI to combine their loyalty programs, including the data sets of such loyalty programs, to increase customer traffic in stores and create new revenue opportunities for the combined company;

The opportunity to enhance the front end offerings in Rite Aid stores using ACI's own brands in food and consumables, including organic and natural products; and

The opportunity to enhance the e-commerce offerings of the combined company and expand existing delivery programs to provide customers with greater convenience.

Cost Synergies. The below factors relate to the $375 million potential cost synergies that the Rite Aid board considered:

The expected ability to reduce the combined company's acquisition cost on third party branded and own brand merchandise as well as brand and generic pharmaceutical drugs;

The opportunity to increase penetration of higher margin own brand products as a result of the combined company's broader portfolio of own brand products;

The opportunity to leverage ACI's fresh, natural and organics category expertise and to sell ACI manufactured products (including dairy and bread) in Rite Aid stores;

The opportunity to reduce costs related to other services and other goods not for resale;

The opportunity to realize cost synergies through the optimization of the consolidated supply chain; and

The opportunity to reduce costs by, among other things, consolidating corporate administrative functions.

Business Rationale.

The combination of the number three drug store player with regional coverage and a full-service pharmacy benefit manager and the number two grocery player with national coverage and leading supply chain capabilities is expected to result in a differentiated competitor across the food, health and wellness industries, with the expected ability of the combined company to provide differentiated experiences for customers across these industries.

The expanded geographic coverage of the combined entity with an expected network of approximately 4,900 stores with 4,345 pharmacies and pro forma annual revenues for the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 of approximately $82.3 billion is much greater than Rite Aid's current network and annual revenues.

The opportunity to reduce exposure to pharmacy reimbursement rates as a proportion of revenues due to diversifying the business.

The increase in financial strength of the combined company compared to Rite Aid, including as a result of the diversification of product and revenue streams that are expected to drive strong cash flow for future investment, including that the combined company's pro forma net leverage ratio is expected to be 4.1x at transaction close (including year one cost synergies).

The ability to achieve lower cost and increased efficiency across stores leveraging ACI's supply chain and manufacturing in order to drive profitability.

The fact that ACI's pharmacy customers are on average the highest spenders in ACI's grocery business, providing the opportunity to leverage the expanded pharmacy business of the combined company to drive growth in the grocery business.

Rite Aid management's belief, based on Rite Aid's diligence on ACI's business, that there is evidence to suggest that ACI is in the early stages of enjoying the benefits of its turnaround strategy, with increasing sales and profitability, and that Rite Aid stockholders would be able to share in this upside by becoming stockholders of the combined company.

Thorough Review of a Potential Business Combination. The Rite Aid board of directors' belief that it engaged in a thorough review of a potential business combination and whether to enter into the merger agreement, including that:

the Rite Aid board of directors reviewed potential strategic alternatives available to Rite Aid and considered operating as a stand-alone company;

during the pendency of the merger agreement with WBA, following the announcement of the termination of the merger agreement with WBA and during the pendency of the asset purchase agreement with WBA, there was limited interest in Rite Aid from potential strategic partners and acquirors, that discussions Rite Aid had with potential counterparties did not seem more favorable than a transaction with ACI and that Rite Aid did not receive any proposal from any party other than ACI that was prepared to pursue a business combination on attractive terms with Rite Aid;

at a meeting of the Rite Aid board of directors held on February 16, 2018, Citi indicated that based on, among other things, its knowledge of the industry and market generally and Rite Aid's discussions with other potential buyers, it believed it was unlikely that another viable buyer would make a superior offer to acquire Rite Aid at that time; and based on its review and the process conducted, the Rite Aid board of directors' belief that the merger consideration was the best price reasonably available for Rite Aid's stockholders under the circumstances, that no other alternative transactions would create greater value for Rite Aid's stockholders than the transaction with ACI and that operating Rite Aid as a stand-alone company would not create greater value for Rite Aid's stockholders than the transaction with ACI.

Merger Consideration.

The fact that Rite Aid stockholders will own approximately 28.0% to 29.6% of the combined company, depending on the results of the cash elections, and as stockholders of ACI will have the opportunity to participate in the future earnings and expected growth of the combined company and any future appreciation in the value of the combined company's common stock should they decide to retain the shares of ACI common stock received in the merger.

The fact that Rite Aid stockholders may elect to receive a portion of the merger consideration in cash, giving Rite Aid stockholders an opportunity to realize value at closing for a portion of their investment in Rite Aid common stock.

The fact that the merger and the subsequent merger are intended to be treated as a single integrated transaction that is expected to qualify as a reorganization for applicable U.S. federal income tax purposes and that the Rite Aid stockholders' receipt of ACI stock in the merger is not expected to be taxable to them for applicable U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Opinion of Rite Aid's Financial Advisor. The opinion, dated February 17, 2018, of Citi to the Rite Aid board of directors as to the fairness, from a financial point of view and as of the date of the opinion, of (i) the base exchange ratio plus the additional cash consideration or (ii) the stock election exchange ratio, as applicable, provided for in the merger agreement, which opinion was based on and subject to various assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations and qualifications on the review undertaken as more fully described in the section entitled "The Merger" Opinion of Rite Aid's Financial Advisor beginning on page 129 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Likelihood of Consummation. Rite Aid management's and the Rite Aid board of directors' belief that the mergers and related transactions with ACI have a reasonable chance of being completed successfully taking into account, among other things, their knowledge of ACI's financial condition and ability to fund any cash consideration, all amounts payable in connection with any change of control offers required to be made and all other payments required in connection with the transaction, including associated fees and expenses, and the level of commitment by ACI to obtain applicable consents and approvals under antitrust and similar laws and to assume the risks related to certain conditions and requirements that may be imposed by regulators in connection with securing such approvals up to a specified threshold.

Arms-length Negotiations. Rite Aid's view that the merger agreement was the product of arm's-length negotiations, including negotiations of financial terms by an independent committee of non-management members of the Rite Aid board of directors, and that the merger agreement contained terms and conditions that were, in the Rite Aid board of directors' view, favorable to Rite Aid and its stockholders.

Best Alternative for Maximizing Stockholder Value. The belief of the Rite Aid board of directors that at the time of its approval of the mergers, the merger consideration provided the best value reasonably available to Rite Aid stockholders, taking into consideration, among other factors, the limited interest in Rite Aid expressed by, and discussions with, other potential parties and the views of Rite Aid's management and financial advisor that it was unlikely that another buyer would pay in excess of the merger consideration, and the fact that if there was such a buyer that presented a superior proposal prior to the stockholder vote to approve the mergers, Rite Aid would have certain rights in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement, as further described below.

Independent Consideration. The fact that the merger agreement was unanimously approved by the Rite Aid board of directors, which is comprised of a majority of independent directors who are not affiliated with ACI and are not employees of Rite Aid or any of its subsidiaries, and which received advice from Rite Aid's senior management and outside legal and financial advisors in evaluating and negotiating the terms of the mergers.

Terms of the Merger Agreement. The Rite Aid board of directors also specifically considered the terms of the merger agreement, in addition to the terms relating to the merger consideration, including the following:

The Rite Aid board of directors view that the terms of the merger agreement, including Rite Aid's obligation to pay a termination fee of $65 million, if the merger agreement is terminated under certain circumstances, as well as the right of ACI to match any competing acquisition proposal that the Rite Aid board of directors determines in good faith constitutes a superior proposal, are reasonable and would not deter interested third parties from making a superior proposal;

Rite Aid's ability, under circumstances described in the merger agreement, to provide information to and engage in discussions or negotiations with a third party that makes an unsolicited bona fide acquisition proposal if the Rite Aid board of directors, prior to taking any such actions, determines in good faith that such acquisition proposal either constitutes a superior proposal or is reasonably likely to constitute a superior proposal;

That if Rite Aid were to receive, prior to the approval of the mergers by the Rite Aid stockholders, an acquisition proposal from a third party that provided superior value to Rite Aid and its stockholders, so long as Rite Aid followed certain procedures, Rite Aid and its board of directors would be able to consider such superior value and the Rite Aid board of directors may change its recommendation that Rite Aid stockholders vote in favor of the merger proposal and/or terminate the merger agreement to enter into an alternative acquisition agreement providing for a superior proposal, provided that Rite Aid concurrently pays a $65 million termination fee to ACI;

The ability of the Rite Aid board of directors, subject to certain conditions, to change its recommendation supporting the mergers in response to any event, development, circumstance, change, effect, condition or occurrence (other than an acquisition proposal) that was not known by the Rite Aid board of directors, or, if known, the consequences of which were not known or reasonably foreseeable, as of the date of merger agreement, if the Rite Aid board of directors determines that failure to take such action would be reasonably likely to be inconsistent with its fiduciary duties under applicable law;

The $65 million termination fee payable by ACI to Rite Aid if the transaction is terminated because the end date is reached and all conditions to the closing of the merger other than antitrust approval are satisfied, or if there is a legal restraint from an antitrust authority prohibiting the transaction's consummation (unless ACI confirms in writing that ACI is willing to agree to the sale, divestiture or disposition of assets of Rite Aid in excess of the threshold set forth in the merger agreement in order to obtain any required antitrust consents and Rite Aid determines not to agree to such a sale, divestiture or disposition);

The lack of a financing contingency to ACI's obligation to complete the merger;

The fact that Cerberus has entered into a standstill agreement that will limit its ability to acquire additional ACI common stock or to take certain other actions so long as Cerberus is represented on ACI's board of directors;

The fact that ACI is obligated to cause each ACI Holder to enter into a lock-up agreement at or prior to closing restricting transfers of such holder's shares of ACI common stock held at the time of the closing of the merger, subject to certain exceptions; beginning six months after the closing of the merger, ACI Holders will be permitted to sell up to one-third (which amount may be increased in certain circumstances) of the initial number of such restricted shares in a registered offering pursuant to the registration rights agreement, and beginning 12 months after the closing of the merger, ACI Holders will be permitted to sell up to two-thirds (which amount may be increased in certain circumstances) of the initial number of such restricted shares, minus the amounts sold in months 6-12, in a registered offering pursuant to the registration rights agreement;

beginning 18 months after the closing of the merger, the restrictions of the lock-up will expire except that ACI Holders that beneficially own at least 5% of the outstanding shares of ACI common stock must continue to sell shares in registered offerings pursuant to the registration rights agreement;

The fact that ACI is obligated to cause Cerberus and the other ACI Institutional Investors (excluding Colony NorthStar, Inc.) to enter into an agreement at or prior to closing restricting their ability to coordinate the exercise of voting rights or to form a group within the meaning of Section 13(d)(3) of the Exchange Act with one another or Colony NorthStar, Inc.; and

Rite Aid's ability to specifically enforce ACI's obligations under the merger agreement, including ACI's obligations to consummate the merger, and Rite Aid's ability to seek damages upon any breach by ACI of the merger agreement.

The Rite Aid board of directors weighed the foregoing against a number of potentially negative factors, including:

Possible Failure to Achieve Benefits of the Merger

Challenging trends for retail grocery and retail pharmacy with pressure on prescription margins and the potential threat of competitors in the grocery and pharmacy industries.

The risk that the significant synergies and other benefits expected to result from the transaction may not be fully realized, or will be realized at greater cost than planned.

The challenges inherent in combining the businesses, operations and workforces of Rite Aid and ACI, including the potential for unforeseen difficulties in integrating operations and systems and the possible distraction of management attention for an extended period.

The fact that ACI common stock is not currently publicly traded and the belief that it is difficult to assess how the combined company's stock will trade, including the difficulty in assessing how ACI's financial results will impact the trading price of the combined company's stock.

Regulatory Risk. The risk that regulatory, governmental and competition authorities might seek to impose conditions on or otherwise prevent or delay the merger, or impose restrictions or requirements on the operation of the business of the combined company after the completion of the merger.

Regulatory Approvals. The risk that the completion of the merger would require expiration or termination of the applicable waiting periods under the HSR Act and the amount of time that might be required to obtain such expiration or termination, including that it may not be obtained at all, and the risk that the FTC, the Ohio Department of Insurance or other regulatory agencies may not approve the merger.

Costs and Expenses Associated with the Merger. The significant costs involved in connection with entering into and completing the mergers and the substantial time and effort of management required to complete the mergers, which may divert management's attention from other business matters during the pendency of the mergers or otherwise disrupt Rite Aid's business operations, and the challenge in absorbing the effect of any failure to complete the mergers, including stockholder and market reactions.

Ownership of Combined Company. Current ACI stockholders will own more than 50% of the combined company, and Cerberus will be the largest stockholder of the combined company.

Pendency of Consummation.

Rite Aid stockholders could be asked to vote on approval of the merger agreement well in advance of the completion of the transaction, depending on when the transaction actually closes.

While Rite Aid expects the merger to be consummated if the proposal to adopt the merger agreement is approved by Rite Aid's stockholders, there can be no assurance that all conditions to the parties' obligations to consummate the merger will be satisfied.

The merger could be delayed or not completed.

The pendency of the merger could adversely affect Rite Aid's relationships with its customers, regulators, employees, suppliers and agents or Rite Aid's other commercial relationships.

ACI's financial profile could change between the date of the merger agreement and the completion of the merger, which could impact the value of the combined company's common stock that Rite Aid stockholders will receive as merger consideration.

Interim Operating Covenants. The restrictions on Rite Aid's conduct of business prior to completion of the merger under the standard covenants in the merger agreement, which could prevent Rite Aid from undertaking business opportunities that may arise or taking other actions with respect to its operations during the pendency of the merger.

Non-solicitation Provision. The fact that, pursuant to the merger agreement and subject to certain conditions, Rite Aid is prohibited from soliciting other acquisition proposals.

Termination Fee. The fact that, upon termination of the merger agreement under certain circumstances, including the failure of the Rite Aid stockholders to approve the merger under certain circumstances, Rite Aid will be required to pay to ACI a termination fee of $65 million in cash.

Expense Reimbursement. The fact that, if the merger agreement is terminated in certain limited circumstances, Rite Aid could be required to reimburse ACI for up to $10 million of ACI's documented out-of-pocket expenses (which would be credited against the termination fee if paid).

Participation in Future Gains of the Stand-alone Company. The fact that Rite Aid's stockholders would forego the opportunity to realize the potential long-term value of a successful execution of Rite Aid's current strategy as an independent stand-alone company.

Divestitures. The fact that ACI is not required to accept divestiture and other remedies imposed by governmental authorities other than the sale, divestiture or disposition of any assets of Rite Aid that do not exceed $45 million in retail four-wall EBITDA if necessary or advisable in order to obtain any required antitrust consents.

Interests of Rite Aid Directors and Officers. The fact that directors and officers of Rite Aid may have interests different from and in addition to Rite Aid stockholders.

The Rite Aid board of directors believed that, overall, the potential benefits of the mergers to Rite Aid's stockholders outweighed the risks and uncertainties of the mergers.

The foregoing discussion of factors considered by the Rite Aid board of directors is not intended to be exhaustive, but the Rite Aid board of directors believes that it includes the material factors considered by the Rite Aid board of directors. These factors are not listed in any particular order of priority. In light of the variety of factors considered in connection with its evaluation of the mergers, the Rite Aid board of directors did not find it practicable to, and did not, quantify or otherwise assign relative weights to the specific factors considered in reaching its determinations and recommendations. Moreover, each member of the Rite Aid board of directors present applied his or her own personal business judgment to the process and may have given different weight to different factors. The Rite Aid board of directors did not undertake to make any specific determination as to whether any factor, or any particular aspect of any factor, supported or did not support its ultimate determination. The Rite Aid board of directors based its recommendation on the totality of the information presented.

Opinion of Rite Aid's Financial Advisor

Rite Aid has engaged Citi as its financial advisor in connection with the mergers. In connection with this engagement, Rite Aid requested that Citi evaluate the fairness, from a financial point of view, of (i) the base exchange ratio plus the additional cash consideration or (ii) the stock election exchange ratio, as applicable, provided for in the merger agreement. On February 17, 2018, at a meeting of the Rite Aid board of directors held to evaluate the mergers, Citi rendered an oral opinion, confirmed by delivery of a written opinion dated February 17, 2018, to the Rite Aid board of directors to the effect that, as of such date and based on and subject to various assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations and qualifications on the review undertaken described in such opinion, (i) the base exchange ratio plus the additional cash consideration or (ii) the stock election exchange ratio, as applicable, provided for in the merger agreement was fair, from a financial point of view, to holders of Rite Aid common stock (other than, to the extent applicable, ACI, Merger Sub I, Merger Sub II and their respective affiliates).

The full text of Citi's written opinion, dated February 17, 2018, to the Rite Aid board of directors, which describes the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations and qualifications on the review undertaken, is attached as Annex B to this proxy statement/prospectus and is incorporated herein by reference. The description of Citi's opinion set forth below is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of Citi's opinion. Citi's opinion was provided for the information of the Rite Aid board of directors (in its capacity as such) in connection with its evaluation of (i) the base exchange ratio plus the additional cash consideration or (ii) the stock election exchange ratio, as applicable, from a financial point of view and did not address any other terms, aspects or implications of the mergers. Citi expressed no view as to, and its opinion did not address, the underlying business decision of Rite Aid to effect or enter into the mergers, the relative merits of the mergers as compared to any alternative business strategies that might exist for Rite Aid or the effect of any other transaction which Rite Aid might engage in or consider. Citi's opinion is not intended to be and does not constitute a recommendation to any securityholder as to any election made by such securityholder or how such securityholder should vote or act on any matters relating to the proposed mergers or otherwise.

In arriving at its opinion, Citi:

reviewed a draft, dated February 15, 2018, of the merger agreement;

held discussions with certain senior officers, directors and other representatives of Rite Aid and certain senior officers and other representatives of ACI concerning the businesses, operations and prospects of Rite Aid and ACI;

reviewed certain publicly available and other business and financial information, including certain financial forecasts and other information and data relating to Rite Aid provided to or discussed with Citi by the management of Rite Aid and certain financial forecasts and other information and data relating to ACI provided to or discussed with Citi by the management of ACI and as extrapolated by the management of Rite Aid;

reviewed certain information and data relating to the potential strategic implications and financial and operational benefits (including the amount, timing and achievability thereof) expected by the managements of Rite Aid and ACI to result from the mergers;

reviewed the financial terms of the mergers as set forth in the merger agreement in relation to, among other things, the financial condition and certain historical and projected financial and operating data of Rite Aid and ACI, and the capitalization of Rite Aid and ACI;

analyzed certain financial, stock market and other publicly available information relating to the businesses of certain other companies whose operations Citi considered relevant in evaluating those of Rite Aid and ACI;

reviewed, for informational reference, certain sensitivities to the financial forecasts and other information and data relating to Rite Aid and ACI referred to above, which sensitivities reflected higher and lower potential future financial performance for Rite Aid and lower potential future financial performance for ACI, as provided to or discussed with Citi by the management of Rite Aid (which sensitivities we collectively refer to in this section as the Rite Aid/ACI sensitivities);

reviewed, for informational reference, certain potential pro forma financial effects of the mergers relative to Rite Aid on a stand-alone basis utilizing the financial forecasts and other information and data (other than the Rite Aid/ACI sensitivities) referred to above; and conducted such other analyses and examinations and considered such other information and financial, economic and market criteria as Citi deemed appropriate in arriving at its opinion.

In rendering its opinion, Citi assumed and relied, without independent verification, upon the accuracy and completeness of all financial and other information and data publicly available or provided to or otherwise reviewed by or discussed with Citi and upon the assurances of the managements and other representatives of Rite Aid and ACI that they were not aware of any relevant information that was omitted or that remained undisclosed to Citi. As Rite Aid was aware, based on the assessments of the management of Rite Aid and at Rite Aid's direction, Citi utilized and relied upon, for purposes of Citi's opinion, the financial forecasts and other information and data relating to ACI referred to above without giving effect to the Rite Aid/ACI sensitivities. With respect to the financial forecasts and other information and data relating to Rite Aid and ACI (including, without limitation, extrapolations therefrom and as to tax attributes of Rite Aid and ACI) that Citi was directed to utilize and rely upon for purposes of its opinion, Citi was advised by the managements of Rite Aid and ACI, as the case may be, and Citi assumed, with Rite Aid's consent, that such financial forecasts and other information and data were reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best currently available estimates and judgments of the respective managements of Rite Aid and ACI as to, and were a reasonable basis upon which to evaluate, the future financial performance of Rite Aid and ACI, the pro forma financial effects of the mergers and the other matters covered thereby. Citi expressed no opinion as to any financial forecasts and other information or data (or underlying assumptions on which any such financial forecasts and other information or data were based) provided to or otherwise reviewed by or discussed with Citi.

Citi relied, at Rite Aid's direction, upon the assessments of the managements of Rite Aid and ACI, as the case may be, as to, among other things, (i) matters relating to the pending sale by Rite Aid to WBA of certain assets of Rite Aid, which we refer to as the Rite Aid-WBA Transaction, including the timing and likelihood of all closings and Rite Aid's receipt of the full amount of the net proceeds contemplated, and matters relating to certain prior sale and acquisition transactions of ACI, including, as applicable, the assets, liabilities and financial and other terms involved, the timing and likelihood of closing and ACI's ability to realize the full amount of expected synergies, (ii) the potential impact on Rite Aid and ACI of certain market, competitive, cyclical, seasonal and other trends and developments in and prospects for, and governmental, regulatory and legislative matters relating to or otherwise affecting, the traditional food retail, pharmacy retail, pharmacy services and mass retail industries, including with respect to the pricing and availability of food products and other commodities, which are subject to significant volatility and, if different than as assumed by the managements of Rite Aid and ACI, could have a meaningful impact on Citi's analyses and opinion, (iii) existing and future contracts and relationships, agreements and arrangements with, and the ability to attract, retain and/or replace, key employees, suppliers, vendors, third-party payors, partners and other commercial relationships of Rite Aid and ACI, (iv) matters relating to ACI's pension and benefit plans, including with respect to related liabilities and expenses, the expected return on plan assets and the required amounts and timing for funding of such pension and benefit plans, (v) matters relating to certain internal corporate restructurings to be undertaken by, and the capitalization of, ACI, and certain equity award and other securities issuances of Rite Aid and ACI contemplated to be effected prior to consummation of the mergers, and (vi) certain corporate governance matters (including stockholder agreements, obligations or other arrangements) relating to the pro forma combined company and the ability to integrate the operations of Rite Aid and ACI. Citi assumed, with Rite Aid's consent, that there would be no developments with respect to any such matters that would have an adverse effect on Rite Aid, ACI or the mergers (including the contemplated benefits thereof) or that otherwise would be meaningful in any respect to Citi's analyses or opinion.

Citi did not make, and it was not provided with, an independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets or liabilities (contingent, accrued, derivative, off-balance sheet or otherwise) of Rite Aid, ACI or any other entity and Citi did not make any physical inspection of the properties or assets of Rite Aid, ACI or any other entity. Citi did not evaluate the solvency or fair value of Rite Aid, ACI or any other entity under any state, federal or other laws relating to bankruptcy, insolvency or similar matters. Citi expressed no view or opinion as to the potential impact on Rite Aid, ACI or any other entity of any pending or potential litigation, claims or governmental, regulatory or other proceedings, enforcement actions or investigations. Citi assumed, with Rite Aid's consent, that the mergers would be consummated in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement and in compliance with all applicable laws, documents and other requirements, without waiver, modification or amendment of any material term, condition or agreement, and that, in the course of obtaining the necessary governmental, regulatory or third-party approvals, consents, releases, waivers and agreements for the mergers, no delay, limitation, restriction, condition or other action, including any divestiture requirements, amendments or modifications, would be imposed or exist that would have an adverse effect on Rite Aid, ACI or the mergers (including the contemplated benefits thereof) or that otherwise would be meaningful in any respect to Citi's analyses or opinion. Citi also assumed, with Rite Aid's consent, that the mergers, taken together, would qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Citi did not express any view or opinion as to the actual value of ACI common stock or other securities when issued in connection with the merger or the prices at which ACI common stock, Rite Aid common stock or any other securities would trade or otherwise be transferable at any time, including following the announcement or consummation of the mergers. Representatives of Rite Aid advised Citi, and Citi further assumed, that the final terms of the merger agreement would not vary materially from those set forth in the draft reviewed by Citi. Citi did not express any view or opinion with respect to accounting, tax, regulatory, legal or similar matters, including, without limitation, tax consequences resulting from the mergers or otherwise, or changes in, or the impact of, health care or tax laws, regulations and governmental and legislative policies on Rite Aid, ACI or the mergers (including the contemplated benefits thereof), and Citi relied, with Rite Aid's consent, upon the assessments of representatives of Rite Aid as to such matters.

Citi's opinion related to the relative values of Rite Aid and ACI. Citi evaluated the base exchange ratio and additional cash consideration, at Rite Aid's direction, assuming all holders of shares of Rite Aid common stock made a cash election in respect of all such shares and that such base exchange ratio and additional cash consideration collectively were reflective, in the event solely of a cash election, of the fully diluted pro forma equity ownership in the combined company upon consummation of the merger of former holders of Rite Aid common stock. Citi evaluated the stock election exchange ratio, at Rite Aid's direction, assuming all holders of shares of Rite Aid common stock made a stock election in respect of all such shares and that the stock election exchange ratio was reflective, in the event solely of a stock election, of the fully diluted pro forma equity ownership in the combined company upon consummation of the merger of former holders of Rite Aid common stock.

Citi's opinion addressed only the fairness, from a financial point of view and as of the date of such opinion, of the (i) base exchange ratio plus the additional cash consideration or (ii) stock election exchange ratio, as the case may be, to the extent expressly specified in the opinion, without taking into account any premium or discount for control, voting, liquidity or otherwise and without regard to individual circumstances of specific holders with respect to any rights or aspects which may distinguish such holders or the securities of Rite Aid or ACI held by such holders. Citi's opinion did not in any way address any other consideration to be received in connection with the mergers or proportionate allocation or relative fairness. Citi's opinion did not address any other terms, aspects or implications of the mergers, including, without limitation, the form or structure of the mergers or any registration rights, lock-up or standstill agreement or other agreement, arrangement or understanding to be entered into in connection with or contemplated by the mergers or otherwise. In connection with its engagement, Citi

was not requested to, and Citi did not, undertake a third-party solicitation process on behalf of Rite Aid with respect to the acquisition of all or a part of Rite Aid. Citi expressed no view as to, and its opinion did not address, the underlying business decision of Rite Aid to effect or enter into the mergers, the relative merits of the mergers as compared to any alternative business strategies that might exist for Rite Aid or the effect of any other transaction which Rite Aid might engage in or consider. Citi also expressed no view as to, and its opinion did not address, the fairness (financial or otherwise) of the amount or nature or any other aspect of any compensation or other consideration to any officers, directors or employees of any parties to the mergers, or any class of such persons, relative to the base exchange ratio and additional cash consideration or stock election exchange ratio, as the case may be, or otherwise. Citi's opinion was necessarily based upon information available, and financial, stock market and other conditions and circumstances existing and disclosed, to Citi as of the date of Citi's opinion. Although subsequent developments may affect Citi's opinion, Citi has no obligation to update, revise or reaffirm its opinion. As the Rite Aid board of directors was aware, the credit, financial and stock markets, and the industries in which Rite Aid and ACI operate, have experienced and continue to experience volatility and Citi expressed no view or opinion as to any potential effects of such volatility on Rite Aid, ACI or the mergers (including the contemplated benefits thereof). The issuance of Citi's opinion was authorized by Citi's fairness opinion committee.

In preparing its opinion, Citi performed a variety of financial and comparative analyses, including those described below. The summary of the analyses below is not a complete description of the analyses underlying, and factors considered in connection with, Citi's opinion. The preparation of a financial opinion is a complex analytical process involving various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analysis and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances and, therefore, a financial opinion is not readily susceptible to summary description. Citi arrived at its ultimate opinion based on the results of all analyses and factors assessed as a whole, and it did not draw, in isolation, conclusions from or with regard to any one factor or method of analysis. Accordingly, Citi believes that such analyses and factors must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses and factors or focusing on information presented in tabular format, without considering all analyses and factors or the narrative description of the analyses, could create a misleading or incomplete view of the processes underlying such analyses and its opinion.

In its analyses, Citi considered industry performance, general business, economic, market and financial conditions and other matters existing as of the date of its opinion, many of which are beyond the control of Rite Aid and ACI. No company or business reviewed is identical or directly comparable to Rite Aid, ACI or their respective businesses and an evaluation of these analyses is not entirely mathematical; rather, the analyses involve complex considerations and judgments concerning financial and operating characteristics and other factors that could affect the public trading, acquisition or other values of the companies or businesses reviewed or the results from any particular analysis.

The estimates contained in Citi's analyses and the implied reference ranges resulting from any particular analysis are not necessarily indicative of actual values or predictive of future results or values, which may be significantly more or less favorable than those suggested by such analyses. In addition, analyses relating to the value of companies, businesses or securities do not purport to be appraisals or to reflect the prices at which companies, businesses or securities actually may be sold or acquired. Accordingly, the estimates used in, and the results derived from, Citi's analyses are inherently subject to substantial uncertainty.

Citi was not requested to, and it did not, recommend or determine the specific consideration payable in the mergers. The type and amount of consideration payable in the mergers were determined through negotiations between Rite Aid and ACI and the decision to enter into the merger agreement was solely that of the Rite Aid board of directors. Citi's opinion was only one of many factors considered by the Rite Aid board of directors in its evaluation of the mergers, and should not be viewed as determinative of the views of the Rite Aid board of directors or Rite Aid management with respect to the mergers or the consideration payable or exchange ratios provided for in the mergers.

Financial Analyses

The summary of the financial analyses described below under this heading Financial Analyses is a summary of the material financial analyses prepared and reviewed with the Rite Aid board of directors in connection with Citi's opinion, dated February 17, 2018. The summary set forth below does not purport to be a complete description of the financial analyses performed by, and underlying the opinion of, Citi nor does the order of the financial analyses described represent the relative importance or weight given to those financial analyses by Citi. Certain financial analyses summarized below include information presented in tabular format. In order to fully understand the financial analyses, the tables must be read together with the text of each summary as the tables alone do not constitute a complete description of the financial analyses. Considering the data in the tables below without considering the full narrative description of the financial analyses, including the methodologies and assumptions underlying the financial analyses, could create a misleading or incomplete view of such financial analyses. Future results may differ from those described and such differences may be material. For purposes of the financial analyses described below, (i) the term adjusted EBITDA generally means earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, excluding non-cash and one-time non-recurring items, as applicable, and with respect to Rite Aid, the term adjusted EBITDA means net income (loss) excluding the impact of income taxes, interest expense, depreciation and amortization, LIFO adjustments, charges or credits for facility closing and impairment, inventory write-downs related to store closings, debt retirements, the merger termination fee paid to Rite Aid by WBA pursuant to the WBA asset purchase agreement, and other items (including stock-based compensation expense, merger and acquisition-related costs, severance and costs related to distribution center closures, gain or loss on sale of assets, and revenue deferrals related to Rite Aid's customer loyalty program) and including corporate administration expense net of applicable transition services agreement fees related to the Rite Aid-WBA Transaction, and (ii) references to Rite Aid forecasts mean financial forecasts and other information and data relating to Rite Aid provided to or discussed with Citi by the management of Rite Aid, and references to ACI forecasts mean financial forecasts and other information and data relating to ACI provided to or discussed with Citi by the management of ACI and as extrapolated by Rite Aid management. In calculating implied exchange ratio reference ranges as reflected in the financial analyses described below, Citi (a) divided the low-ends of the approximate implied per share equity value reference ranges derived for Rite Aid from such analyses by the low-ends of the approximate implied per share equity value reference ranges derived for ACI from such analyses in order to calculate the low-ends of such implied exchange ratio reference ranges and (b) divided the high-ends of the approximate implied per share equity value reference ranges derived for Rite Aid from such analyses by the high-ends of the approximate implied per share equity value reference ranges derived for ACI from such analyses in order to calculate the high-ends of such implied exchange ratio reference ranges.

Selected Public Companies Analyses. Citi performed separate selected public companies analyses of Rite Aid and ACI in which Citi reviewed certain publicly available financial and other information relating to ACI and certain publicly available financial and stock market information relating to Rite Aid and the selected publicly traded companies listed below.

Rite Aid. Citi reviewed publicly available financial and stock market information relating to Rite Aid and the following six selected publicly traded companies that Citi considered relevant, consisting of two pharmacy retail companies, which we refer to as the selected pharmacy retail companies, and four traditional grocery companies, which we refer to as the selected traditional grocery companies and, together with the selected pharmacy retail companies, which we collectively refer to as the Rite Aid selected companies:

Selected Pharmacy Retail Companies
CVS Health Corporation
Walgreens Boots Alliance, Inc.

Selected Traditional Grocery Companies
Ingles Markets, Incorporated
Koninklijke Ahold Delhaize N.V.
The Kroger Co.
Supervalu Inc.

Citi reviewed, among other information, enterprise values, calculated as fully-diluted equity values based on closing stock prices on February 15, 2018 plus total debt, preferred stock and minority interests (as applicable) and less cash and cash equivalents and investments in unconsolidated affiliates (as applicable), as a multiple of fiscal year 2019 (ending in February 2019) estimated adjusted EBITDA. Financial data of the Rite Aid selected companies were based on publicly available Wall Street research analysts' estimates and public filings. Financial data of Rite Aid was based on the Rite Aid forecasts.

The overall low to high fiscal year 2019 estimated adjusted EBITDA multiples observed for the Rite Aid selected companies were 5.1x to 8.5x, with overall low to high fiscal year 2019 estimated adjusted EBITDA multiples observed for the selected pharmacy retail companies and the selected traditional grocery companies of 7.6x to 8.5x (with a mean and a median of 8.0x) and 5.1x to 7.0x (with a mean and a median of 6.2x), respectively. Citi then applied a selected range of fiscal year 2019 estimated adjusted EBITDA multiples derived from the Rite Aid selected companies of 6.2x to 8.0x to corresponding data of Rite Aid. This analysis indicated an approximate implied per share equity value reference range for Rite Aid of $0.87 to $1.92.

ACI. Citi reviewed publicly available financial and other information relating to ACI and publicly available financial and stock market information relating to the following six selected publicly traded companies that Citi considered relevant, consisting of four traditional grocery companies, which we refer to as the selected traditional grocery companies, and two mass retailer companies, which we refer to as the selected mass retailer companies and, together with the selected traditional grocery selected companies, which we collectively refer to as the ACI selected companies:

Selected Traditional Grocery Companies
Ingles Markets, Incorporated
Koninklijke Ahold Delhaize N.V.
The Kroger Co.
Supervalu Inc.

Selected Mass Retailer Companies
Target Corporation
Wal-Mart Stores, Inc.

Citi reviewed, among other information, enterprise values, calculated as fully-diluted equity values based on closing stock prices on February 15, 2018 plus total debt, preferred stock and minority interests (as applicable) and less cash and cash equivalents and investments in unconsolidated affiliates (as applicable), as a multiple of fiscal year 2019 (ending in February 2019) estimated adjusted EBITDA. Financial data of the ACI selected companies were based on publicly available Wall Street research analysts' estimates and public filings. Financial data of ACI was based on the ACI forecasts.

The overall low to high fiscal year 2019 estimated adjusted EBITDA multiples observed for the ACI selected companies were 5.1x to 10.3x, with overall low to high fiscal year 2019 estimated adjusted EBITDA multiples observed for the selected traditional grocery companies and the selected mass retailer companies of 5.1x to 7.0x (with a mean and a median of 6.2x) and 7.8x to 10.3x (with a mean and a median of 9.1x), respectively. Citi then applied a selected range of fiscal year 2019 estimated adjusted EBITDA multiples derived from the ACI selected companies of 6.0x to 6.5x to corresponding data of ACI. This analysis indicated an approximate implied per share equity value reference range for ACI of $18.57 to $23.34.

Table of Contents

Utilizing the approximate implied per share equity value reference ranges derived for Rite Aid and ACI as described above, Citi calculated the following approximate implied exchange ratio reference range, as compared to the base exchange ratio (the applicable exchange ratio in an all-cash election scenario) and the stock election exchange ratio:

0.0471x 0.0823x	0.1000x	0.1079x

Discounted Cash Flow Analyses. Citi performed separate discounted cash flow analyses of Rite Aid and ACI by calculating the estimated present value (as of February 28, 2018) of the stand-alone unlevered, after-tax free cash flows that Rite Aid and ACI each were forecasted to generate during the fiscal years ending February 28, 2019 through February 28, 2023 based on the Rite Aid forecasts and the ACI forecasts, respectively (inclusive of tax attributes of Rite Aid and ACI each on a stand-alone basis).

Rite Aid. In connection with its discounted cash flow analysis of Rite Aid, Citi calculated implied terminal values for Rite Aid by applying to the fiscal year 2023 estimated adjusted EBITDA of Rite Aid a selected range of latest 12 months adjusted EBITDA multiples of 6.3x to 8.3x. The present values (as of February 28, 2018) of the cash flows and terminal values were then calculated using a selected range of discount rates of 9.0% to 9.7%. This analysis indicated an approximate implied per share equity value reference range for Rite Aid of $1.83 to $2.96.

ACI. In connection with its discounted cash flow analysis of ACI, Citi calculated implied terminal values for ACI by applying to the fiscal year 2023 estimated adjusted EBITDA of ACI a selected range of latest 12 months adjusted EBITDA multiples of 6.0x to 6.5x. The present values (as of February 28, 2018) of the cash flows and terminal values were then calculated using a selected range of discount rates of 6.8% to 7.5%. This analysis indicated an approximate implied per share equity value reference range for ACI of $29.83 to $35.97.

Utilizing the approximate implied per share equity value reference ranges derived for Rite Aid and ACI as described above, Citi calculated the following approximate implied exchange ratio reference range, as compared to the base exchange ratio (the applicable exchange ratio in an all-cash election scenario) and the stock election exchange ratio:

0.0614x 0.0823x	0.1000x	0.1079x

Certain Additional Information

Citi observed certain additional information that was not considered part of Citi's financial analyses with respect to its opinion but was noted for informational purposes, including the following:

a review of the illustrative approximate implied exchange ratios derived from utilizing generally the same methodologies as described above under the headings Financial Analyses Selected Public Companies Analyses ACI and Financial Analyses Discounted Cash Flow Analyses ACI after taking into account certain

Miscellaneous

Rite Aid has agreed to pay Citi for its services in connection with the proposed mergers an aggregate fee of $25 million, of which a portion was payable upon delivery of Citi's opinion and $22 million is payable contingent upon consummation of the mergers. In addition, Rite Aid has agreed to reimburse Citi for Citi's expenses, including fees and expenses of counsel, and to indemnify Citi and related parties against certain liabilities, including liabilities under federal securities laws, arising out of Citi's engagement.

As the Rite Aid board of directors was aware, Citi and its affiliates in the past have provided, currently are providing and in the future may provide investment banking, commercial banking and other similar financial services to Rite Aid and certain of its affiliates unrelated to the proposed mergers, for which services Citi and its affiliates have received and expect to receive compensation, including, during the two-year period prior to the date of Citi's opinion, having acted or acting as (i) financial advisor to Rite Aid in connection with the Rite Aid-WBA Transaction and certain related transactions, including the previously terminated merger transaction involving Rite Aid and WBA and related divestitures, and (ii) administrative agent and/or co-lead arranger or joint bookrunning manager for, and as a lender under, certain credit facilities of Rite Aid. As the Rite Aid board of directors also was aware, Citi and its affiliates in the past have provided, currently are providing and in the future may provide investment banking, commercial banking and other similar financial services to ACI, Cerberus and certain of their respective affiliates and/or portfolio companies, as the case may be, for which services Citi and its affiliates have received and expect to receive compensation, including, during the two-year period prior to the date of Citi's opinion, having acted or acting as (i) in the case of ACI, (a) co-financial advisor to an affiliate of ACI in connection with an acquisition transaction (not consummated), (b) joint lead bookrunning manager for ACI's withdrawn initial public offering and as lead bookrunning manager or initial purchaser for certain debt offerings of ACI and/or certain of its affiliates, and (c) joint lead arranger, joint bookrunning manager, administrative agent and/or co-syndication agent for, and as a lender and/or letter of credit issuer under, certain credit facilities of ACI and/or certain of its affiliates, and (ii) in the case of Cerberus, (a) financial advisor to Cerberus and/or certain of its portfolio companies in connection with valuation matters and certain disposition or acquisition transactions, (b) joint or lead bookrunning manager in connection with certain debt and equity offerings of certain portfolio companies of Cerberus, and (c) arranger or lead arranger in connection with, and as a lender under, certain credit facilities of Cerberus and/or certain of its portfolio companies. From January 1, 2015 through December 31, 2017, Citi and its affiliates received aggregate fees from Rite Aid of approximately $45 million, from ACI and certain of its affiliates of approximately $80 million, and from Cerberus and certain of its affiliates and/or portfolio companies of approximately $50 million for investment banking services. In the ordinary course of business, Citi and its affiliates may actively trade or hold the securities of Rite Aid and its affiliates and/or the securities of certain affiliates and/or portfolio companies of Cerberus for their own account or for the account of their customers and, accordingly, may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities. In addition, Citi and its affiliates (including Citigroup Inc. and its affiliates) may maintain relationships with Rite Aid, ACI, Cerberus and their respective affiliates and/or portfolio companies, as the case may be.

Rite Aid selected Citi as its financial advisor in connection with the proposed mergers based on Citi's reputation, experience and familiarity with Rite Aid, ACI and their respective businesses. Citi is an internationally recognized investment banking firm that regularly engages in the valuation of businesses and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, negotiated underwritings, competitive bids, secondary distributions of listed and unlisted securities, private placements and valuations for estate, corporate and other purposes.

Financial Forecast

As part of its annual strategic planning process and as required by its bank group, Rite Aid management prepares a long-range financial plan containing certain non-public unaudited prospective financial information, which it updates from time to time and which we refer to as the Rite Aid Forecast. Rite Aid management provided the Rite Aid board of directors and Citi with the Rite Aid Forecast in connection with Rite Aid's evaluation of the merger and provided ACI with certain portions of the Rite Aid Forecast in connection with ACI's due diligence review in connection with the merger. Additionally, in connection with the discussions regarding the proposed merger, ACI management provided to Rite Aid and Citi certain financial forecasts and other information and data relating to ACI, which Rite Aid management extrapolated for certain fiscal years based on the information provided, which we refer to as the ACI Forecast and, together with the Rite Aid Forecast, we refer to as the Forecasts.

The Forecasts were not prepared with a view to public disclosure and are included in this proxy statement/prospectus only because such information was made available as described above. The Forecasts were not prepared with a view to compliance with GAAP (although projections are prepared on an accounting basis consistent with ACI and Rite Aid's financial statements, except for inter-segment revenue eliminations), the published guidelines of the SEC regarding projections and forward-looking statements or the guidelines established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants for preparation and presentation of prospective financial information. Furthermore, Deloitte & Touche LLP, which is the independent auditor for each of Rite Aid and ACI, has not examined, reviewed, compiled or otherwise applied procedures to the Rite Aid Forecast and the ACI Forecast, as applicable, and, accordingly, assumes no responsibility for, and expresses no opinion on, the Rite Aid Forecast and ACI Forecast, as applicable. The Rite Aid Forecast and ACI Forecast included in this proxy statement/prospectus have been prepared by, and are the responsibility of, Rite Aid and ACI management, respectively. The Forecasts were prepared solely for internal use of Rite Aid and ACI, as applicable, and are subjective in many respects.

Although a summary of the Forecasts is presented with numerical specificity, the Forecasts each reflect numerous assumptions and estimates as to future events made by Rite Aid and ACI management, as applicable, including with respect to indebtedness and capital expenditure levels for the applicable periods, that Rite Aid and ACI management believed were reasonable at the time the Rite Aid Forecast and the ACI Forecast were prepared taking into account the relevant information available to such company's management at the time. However, this information is not fact and should not be relied upon as necessarily indicative of actual future results. Important factors that may affect actual results and cause the Rite Aid Forecast and/or the ACI Forecast not to be achieved include, with respect to Rite Aid or ACI, as applicable, general economic conditions, certain accounting assumptions, changes in actual or projected cash flows, timing of business investments, competitive pressures, changes in tax laws and other factors described or referenced in the section entitled "Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements" beginning on page 83 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

In addition, the Forecasts do not take into account any circumstances or events occurring after the date that they were prepared, do not take into account any potential cost synergies or revenue opportunities arising out of the merger, and do not give effect to the merger. As a result, there can be no assurance that the Forecasts will or would be realized, and actual results may be materially better or worse than those contained in the Forecasts.

The inclusion of this information should not be regarded as an indication that the Rite Aid board of directors, the ACI board of directors, Rite Aid, ACI or any of their affiliates or their respective directors, officers, employees or advisors or any other recipient of this information considered, or now considers, the Forecasts to be material information of Rite Aid or ACI, as applicable, or predictive of actual future results, nor should the Forecasts be construed as financial guidance, and the Forecasts should not be relied upon as such. The summary of the Forecasts is not included in this proxy statement/prospectus in order to induce any stockholder to vote in favor of the proposal to adopt the merger agreement or any of the other proposals to be voted on at the special meeting or to influence any stockholder to make any investment decision with respect to the merger.

The Forecasts should be evaluated, if at all, in conjunction with the historical financial statements and other information regarding Rite Aid or ACI, as applicable, contained in their respective public filings with the SEC. Rite Aid and ACI management reviewed the Forecasts with their respective boards of directors, which considered the Forecasts in connection with their evaluation and approval of the merger agreement and the merger. The Forecasts were also provided to Citi for its use and reliance in connection with its financial analyses and opinion summarized in the section entitled Opinion of Rite Aid's Financial Advisor beginning on page 129 of this proxy statement/prospectus, and Citi relied on the accuracy and completeness of the information provided with respect to the Forecasts and the assurances of Rite Aid and ACI management and other representatives that they were not aware of any facts or circumstances that would make such information inaccurate or misleading.

The Forecasts constitute forward-looking statements. For information on factors that may cause ACI's or Rite Aid's future results to materially vary, see the section entitled Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements beginning on page 83 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Except to the extent required by applicable federal securities laws, Rite Aid and ACI do not intend, and expressly disclaim any responsibility, to update or otherwise revise the Forecasts to reflect circumstances existing after the date when Rite Aid or ACI prepared the Forecasts or to reflect the occurrence of future events or changes in general economic or industry conditions, even in the event that any of the assumptions underlying the Forecasts are shown to be inappropriate.

In light of the foregoing factors and the uncertainties inherent in the Forecasts, stockholders are cautioned not to place undue reliance on the Forecasts.

Certain of the measures included in the Forecasts are not defined under or calculated in accordance with GAAP. However, as information provided to a financial advisor in connection with its analysis, such financial measures are not deemed to be non-GAAP financial measures under the rules and regulations of the SEC. These measures are useful to investors and management in understanding current profitability levels that may serve as a basis for evaluating future performance and facilitating comparability of results. These financial measures should not be considered in isolation from, or as a substitute for, financial information presented in compliance with GAAP, and such measures as used by Rite Aid or ACI may not be comparable to similarly titled amounts used by other companies.

prepared, do not take into account any potential cost synergies or revenue opportunities arising out of the merger, and do not give effect to the merger:

($ in millions)	Fiscal Year Ending February 28,
	2019E	2020E	2021E	2022E	2023E
Revenues(1)	21,931	23,407	25,289	27,425	29,807
Adjusted EBITDA(2)	647	702	744	794	872
Unlevered Free Cash Flow(3)	370	409	375	408	498

- (1) Revenues include inter-segment transactions that have not been eliminated.
- (2) For purposes of the Rite Aid Forecast, the term adjusted EBITDA is defined as net income (loss) excluding the impact of income taxes, interest expense, depreciation and amortization, LIFO adjustments, charges or credits for facility closing and impairment, inventory write-downs related to store closings, debt retirements, the merger termination fee paid to Rite Aid by WBA pursuant to the original merger agreement with WBA, as amended, and other items (including stock-based compensation expense, merger and acquisition-related costs, severance and costs related to distribution center closures, gain or loss on sale of assets, and revenue deferrals related to Rite Aid's customer loyalty program) and including corporate administration expense net of applicable transition services agreement fees related to the Rite Aid-WBA Transaction. Adjusted EBITDA is a financial measure that is not defined under or calculated in accordance with GAAP.
- (3) Based on the Rite Aid Forecast provided by Rite Aid management to Citi for purposes of its discounted cash flow analysis calculated by Citi as net operating profit after tax, plus non-cash items, less change in net working capital, less cash flow used in investing activities. Unlevered free cash flow is a financial measure that is not defined under or calculated in accordance with GAAP.

In connection with the preparation of this proxy statement/prospectus, it was determined that Rite Aid management's operating cash flow calculations had not included an addback of LIFO charges of approximately $30 million annually, resulting in a reduction in Rite Aid's projected cash flow from operations. The unlevered free cash flow of Rite Aid in the chart below reflects this revision:

($ in millions)	Fiscal Year Ending February 28,
	2019E	2020E	2021E	2022E	2023E
Unlevered Free Cash Flow	401	440	407	440	531

The revised unlevered free cash flow amounts were provided by Rite Aid management to the Rite Aid board of directors, ACI and Citi.

ACI Forecast

The following table reflects selected metrics reflected in, or generated from, the ACI Forecast, which do not take into account any circumstances or events occurring after the date that they were prepared, do not take into account any potential cost synergies or revenue opportunities arising out of the merger, and do not give effect to the merger:

Fiscal Year Ending February 28,

($ in millions)	2019E	2020E	2021E	2022E	2023E
Revenues	60,884	63,458	63,631	64,904	66,202
Adjusted EBITDA(1)	2,700	2,933	3,018	3,126	3,237
Unlevered Free Cash Flow(2)	1,250	1,398	1,461	1,447	1,510

- (1) For purposes of the ACI Forecast, the term adjusted EBITDA is defined as earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, excluding non-cash and one-time non-recurring items, as applicable.

Table of Contents

- (2) Based on the ACI Forecast provided by ACI management as extrapolated by Rite Aid management and provided to Citi for purposes of its discounted cash flow analysis as net operating profit after tax, plus non-cash items, less change in net working capital, less cash flow used in investing activities. Unlevered free cash flow is a financial measure that is not defined under or calculated in accordance with GAAP.

In this proxy statement/prospectus, reference is made to adjusted EBITDA and unlevered free cash flow, which are financial measures that are not defined under or calculated in accordance with GAAP. Rite Aid and ACI use these measures in assessing their performance in addition to net income and cash flow from operations, the most directly comparable GAAP financial measures to adjusted EBITDA and unlevered free cash flow, respectively. Rite Aid and ACI believe adjusted EBITDA and unlevered free cash flow serve as appropriate measures in evaluating the performance of their respective businesses and help their respective investors better compare Rite Aid's and ACI's operating performance with their competitors. Adjusted EBITDA and unlevered free cash flow should not be considered in isolation from, and are not intended to represent alternative measures of, operating results or of cash flow from operations, as determined in accordance with GAAP. Rite Aid's and ACI's definitions of adjusted EBITDA and unlevered free cash flow may not be comparable to similarly titled measurements reported by other companies and are not identical to similar terms in Rite Aid's and ACI's debt facilities or the merger agreement.

ACI's Reasons for the Merger

At its meeting held on February 16, 2018, after due consideration and consultation with ACI's management and legal and financial advisors, the ACI board of directors approved ACI's entry into the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers and the payment of the merger consideration to Rite Aid stockholders. In doing so, the ACI board of directors considered the business, assets and liabilities, results of operations, financial performance, strategy and prospects of each of ACI and Rite Aid and determined that the merger was in the best interests of ACI and its stockholders. In making its determination, the ACI board of directors considered a number of factors, including the following:

The combination of ACI and Rite Aid would create a differentiated leader in the food, health and wellness industries, with approximately 4,900 stores and 4,345 pharmacies in a complementary store and distribution network, with more than 40 million customers per week and 323 million prescriptions filled per year, and leading positions in most West Coast geographies;

The increasing importance of scale in the food and drug retail industries as the industries undergo consolidation and rapid change;

ACI's management's belief, based on ACI's diligence on Rite Aid's business, that Rite Aid's financial performance, which ACI believes was adversely affected by the prolonged merger and asset sale process with WBA, is beginning to show signs of recovery;

Pharmacy customers are ACI's highest spending customers, on average spending more than 2.5x per week on groceries at ACI stores than pure grocery customers. The rebranding of a majority of ACI's in-store pharmacies to Rite Aid's nationally recognized brand provides the opportunity to increase customer traffic and script counts at ACI's stores, while providing the combined company's customers with enhanced options and convenience through a significantly expanded network of stores;

The merger is expected to result in cost-out savings of approximately $375 million per year by February 26, 2022, consisting of approximately:

24% from reduction in costs from reduced cost of goods on branded products, increased vendor funding, and the elimination of certain duplicative third-party merchandising fees;

Table of Contents

24% related to increased penetration of higher margin private label products and reduction of combined cost of goods, through leveraging ACI's fresh, natural and organics category expertise and Rite Aid's health and beauty aids, and general merchandise category expertise;

20% from reduction in costs related to combined pharmacy purchasing, formulary optimization and expansion of central fill capabilities;

15% from reduction in costs related to other services including print advertising, agency and production, lowered insurance premiums, credit card swipe fees and goods not for resale;

10% from reduction in costs related to consolidated back office corporate administrative functions and the combination of regional pharmacy operations; and

7% from reduction in costs related to supply chain and manufacturing efficiencies, including the self-manufacture of milk and bread for Rite Aid stores utilizing ACI's plants.

The combination of ACI and Rite Aid is anticipated to provide annual revenue opportunities of up to $3.6 billion by February 26, 2022, including through:

the creation of preferred or limited narrow network partnerships on the U.S. West Coast and the Northeast as a result of offering payors and PBMs, including Rite Aid's PBM, additional convenient locations and reduced drug costs for the customers, which is expected to result in the addition of new pharmacy customers, greater script count and improved food and drug revenue;

increased brand awareness through use of Rite Aid branded pharmacies in the majority of existing ACI stores and the planned combination of ACI and Rite Aid loyalty programs, with resulting estimated increases in store traffic and basket size;

increased script volume as a result of the addition of RediClinics using pre-built clinic spaces in ACI stores and an increased branding focus on health and wellness;

the leveraging of ACI's expertise in grocery (including fresh, organic and prepared foods) to grow Rite Aid's front end sales and Rite Aid's over-the-counter medications and personal care, vitamin supplements and health and beauty care product selection to grow ACI's grocery revenues, including through offering ACI's O Organics and Signature own brand products and Rite Aid's Rite Aid and Daylogic own brand products;

the expansion of ACI e-commerce investments and third-party delivery partnerships to Rite Aid stores, the expansion of prescription delivery to drive additional customers, the introduction of Drive Up and Go pick up services in Rite Aid stores and the introduction of dietary-specific Plated meal kits tailored to customers and health providers needs;

The past experience and track record of ACI in successfully integrating acquisitions, including Safeway, and that the types of cost synergies expected to be achieved in the merger are substantially the same as those already achieved in the Safeway acquisition;

The familiarity of the senior management of the two companies with each other, including that Robert Miller, the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of ACI, had previously served as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Rite Aid, including during a period in which John Standley was also an executive at Rite Aid. The board also considered that John Standley, the Chief Executive Officer of Rite Aid, has substantial experience in the grocery business, including having served as Chief Executive Officer of Pathmark;

The ability of the combined company to generate strong operating cash flow, supplemented by ACI's $11.2 billion portfolio of owned properties, enabling the combined company to invest in its business while reducing debt over the 36 months following the merger; and

The benefits to ACI and its stockholders of ACI becoming a publicly traded company, including greater access to the equity capital markets, having a traded equity security as potential consideration to be offered for acquisitions, and potential liquidity for the existing ACI stockholders over time.

The ACI board of directors also considered a number of potentially negative factors in its deliberations concerning the merger, including:

Challenging trends for retail grocery and retail pharmacy with pressure on prescription margins and the potential threat of competitors in the grocery and pharmacy industries;

The difficulties and management challenges inherent in completing the merger and integrating the businesses, operations and workforces of ACI and Rite Aid, including the potential for unforeseen difficulties in integrating operations and systems and possible distraction of management attention for an extended period of time;

The risk that expected cost savings and revenue opportunities will not be realized, or will be realized at lower levels or at greater cost than planned;

The risk that Rite Aid's financial performance, which ACI believes was adversely affected by the prolonged merger and asset sale process with WBA, does not recover to the extent expected;

The risk that all of the conditions to the obligations of the parties to consummate the merger might not be satisfied or that the merger might not otherwise be completed, or that completion may be unduly delayed, including the effect of the pendency of the merger on, or the effect of failure to complete the merger on, ACI's operating results, key personnel, suppliers and customers;

The risk that ACI may be required to pay a termination fee of $65 million in the event that antitrust clearance of the merger is not obtained;

The fact that Cerberus and the ACI Institutional Investors will cease to have control over ACI and its board of directors, including that each of Cerberus and the ACI Institutional Investors has agreed not to act in concert with each other and that Cerberus has agreed to a standstill agreement with ACI and Rite Aid;

The fact that representation of Cerberus and the ACI Institutional Investors on the ACI board of directors will be limited to two directors designated by Cerberus and that the ACI Institutional Investors will not have representation on the ACI board of directors despite ownership of substantial amounts of ACI common stock; and

The fact that each of the pre-merger ACI stockholders is required to deliver a lock-up agreement pursuant to which they will be restricted from selling their shares of ACI common stock for six months following the merger, and will thereafter be limited in the amount of shares they can sell for a period of 18 months following the merger.

The foregoing discussion of the information and factors is not intended to be exhaustive, but is meant to include the material factors that the ACI board of directors considered. The ACI board of directors collectively reached the conclusion to approve the merger agreement, the merger and other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement in light of the various factors described above and other factors that the members of the ACI board of directors believed were appropriate. In view of the complexity and wide variety of factors, both positive and negative, that the ACI board of directors considered in connection with its evaluation of the merger, the ACI board of directors did not find it practical, and did not attempt, to quantify, rank or otherwise assign relative or specific weights or values to any of the factors as a whole and concluded, based on the totality of the information presented to them and the investigation conducted by it, that, on balance, the positive factors outweighed the negative factors and that they supported a determination to adopt the merger agreement and declare it to be in the best interests of the stockholders of ACI. In considering the factors discussed above, individual directors may have given different weights to different factors.

See the section entitled Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements beginning on page 83 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Approval of the New ACI Certificate of Incorporation and Issuance of ACI Common Stock

Concurrently with entering into the merger agreement, ACI obtained all approvals and consents of its holders of capital stock necessary to effect the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including approval of the issuance of ACI common stock as merger consideration to the Rite Aid stockholders and the amendment of the ACI certificate of incorporation to be in the form of the new ACI certificate of incorporation. No further approvals by the holders of ACI common stock are required to consummate the merger or the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

Governance of ACI Following the Merger

Headquarters

ACI and Rite Aid have agreed that ACI will have co-corporate headquarters, one in Boise, Idaho and the other in the Harrisburg, Pennsylvania metropolitan area.

Board of Directors

Upon the closing of the merger, the board of directors of the combined company will be comprised of nine (9) members. As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, Rite Aid and ACI have identified all nine (9) members of the combined company's board of directors:

ACI has identified its four (4) designees: Robert G. Miller, who was selected to be Chairman, Lenard B. Tessler, who was selected to be Lead Director, Allen M. Gibson and B. Kevin Turner;

Rite Aid has identified its four (4) designees: John T. Standley, David R. Jessick, Michael N. Regan and Marcy Syms; and

ACI and Rite Aid have identified Sharon L. Allen as the joint designee.

ACI first proposed that Allen M. Gibson or another identified person be jointly designated to the ninth director seat. Rite Aid requested that a different independent candidate be considered who, among other criteria and unlike the first two proposed persons, did not have any affiliation with or investment in Cerberus. ACI then proposed Sharon L. Allen to be jointly designated to the ninth director seat. Ms. Allen was asked to join the board of a predecessor company to ACI as an independent director when ACI was considering its proposed initial public offering in 2015, and has been on the board since June 2015. Ms. Allen had been the former Executive Chairman of Deloitte LLP from 2003 until her retirement in 2011, and currently is a director and Chair of the Audit Committee of each of Bank of America Corporation and First Solar Inc. Ms. Allen also served as the past Chairman of the National Board of the YMCA from 2012 to 2014 and she appeared on the Forbes list of The 100 Most Powerful Women in the World for four consecutive years from 2006 to 2009 and Directorships 100 Most Influential People in Corporate Governance for four consecutive years from 2007 to 2010. Other than her service on the ACI board and its predecessor, Ms. Allen has no relationships with ACI, its current shareholders including Cerberus or Rite Aid, or their respective officers and directors. After carefully reviewing her qualifications, including through an interview of Ms. Allen conducted by Rite Aid's lead independent director and all members of its nominating and governance committee, the Rite Aid board of directors unanimously approved the designation of Ms. Allen to the ACI board upon consummation of the merger.

After the effective time, and until such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least ten percent (10%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause two nominees designated by Cerberus to be elected to the ACI board of directors. From and after such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least ten percent (10%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, but beneficially owns at least five percent (5%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause one nominee designated by Cerberus to be elected to the ACI board of directors. Until such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least fifteen percent (15%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause directors designated by Cerberus to be elected Chairman and Lead Director, provided that, if Robert G. Miller has ceased to serve as Chairman, either the Chairman or the Lead Director will qualify as independent under the rules of the NYSE and will not be a partner or employee of Cerberus, its affiliates or any of the ACI Institutional Investors. Until such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least ten percent (10%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause a director designated by Cerberus to be elected Lead Director. Other than as described above, there are no agreements between Rite Aid and ACI regarding, and no decisions have been made with respect to, the selection of directors of ACI following the merger.

Management

ACI and Rite Aid expect that following the merger John T. Standley, the current Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Rite Aid, will serve as Chief Executive Officer of ACI, although no agreement has been negotiated as of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus with respect to the terms of Mr. Standley's expected employment. There can be no assurances that any such agreement with respect to Mr. Standley's employment with ACI will be reached. Mr. Robert G. Miller, the current Chief Executive Officer of ACI, is expected to be the Chairman of the combined company following the merger. In addition to Mr. Standley, the leadership team is expected to include ACI's recently appointed President and Chief Operating Officer, Jim Donald, who previously served as Chief Executive Officer of Starbucks Corporation and as a senior executive at several food and drug retailers, including Wal Mart Stores, Inc., Albertson's, Inc. and Safeway Inc., and Rite Aid's current President and Chief Operating Officer, Kermit Crawford, who has significant experience in the drug retail and healthcare industries, including serving as a senior executive at Walgreens Boots Alliance, Inc.

The rest of the combined company's executive team will be identified in due course prior to the closing of the merger.

Amendment and Restatement of ACI Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws

Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, immediately prior to the closing of the merger, ACI's certificate of incorporation and bylaws will be amended to be in substantially the forms attached as Annex C and Annex D, respectively, of this proxy statement/prospectus. For a more detailed description of the new ACI charter and new ACI bylaws, see the section entitled "Description of ACI Capital Stock" beginning on page 325 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Closing and Effective Time of the Merger

Unless another date is agreed upon by the parties, the closing for the mergers will take place on the third (3rd) business day following the day on which the conditions to closing (described in the section entitled "The Merger Agreement Conditions to Completion of the Mergers" beginning on page 176 of this proxy statement/prospectus) (other than those conditions that by their nature are to be satisfied at the closing, but subject to the satisfaction or, to the extent permitted by applicable law, waiver of those conditions at the closing) have been satisfied or waived in accordance with the merger

agreement; provided, however, that if the marketing period has not ended at the time of the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions to closing in the merger agreement (other than those conditions that by their nature are to be satisfied at the closing), then the closing will occur on the third (3rd) business day after the final day of the marketing period. The marketing period is, subject to a blackout period specified in the debt commitment letter, a period of 15 consecutive days beginning on the delivery by Rite Aid to ACI of certain financial information and other pertinent information regarding Rite Aid and its subsidiaries as may reasonably be requested by ACI.

As soon as practicable following the closing, Rite Aid and ACI will cause to be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware executed certificates of merger with respect to the mergers as provided in the DGCL. The merger will become effective upon the filing of a certificate of merger with respect to the merger or at such later time as may be agreed by Rite Aid and ACI in writing and be specified in such certificate of merger. The subsequent merger will become effective upon the filing of a certificate of merger with respect to the subsequent merger, which will be immediately after the effective time of the merger.

Regulatory ApprovalsGeneral

Rite Aid and ACI have agreed to use their reasonable best efforts to take, and to assist and cooperate with each other in taking, all actions and to use their reasonable best efforts to do all things reasonably necessary, proper or advisable, to consummate the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, subject to certain specified limitations under the merger agreement. These approvals include approval under the HSR Act. Although Rite Aid and ACI expect that all required regulatory clearances and approvals will be obtained, Rite Aid and ACI cannot assure you that these regulatory clearances and approvals will be timely obtained or obtained at all, or that the granting of these regulatory clearances and approvals will not involve the imposition of additional conditions on the completion of the merger, including the requirement to divest assets, or require changes to the terms of the merger agreement. These conditions or changes could result in the conditions to the closing of the merger not being satisfied.

HSR Act and U.S. Antitrust Matters

Under the merger agreement, the merger cannot be completed until the applicable waiting periods under the HSR Act (and any extension thereof) have expired or been terminated. Rite Aid and ACI filed their respective HSR Act notifications on February 26, 2018. The required 30-day waiting period under the HSR Act expired at 11:59 p.m. Eastern time on March 28, 2018.

Other Regulatory Approvals

Approval (or non-objection, grant of exemption or, in certain circumstances, alternative resolution, as the case may be) will be sought from (i) the state insurance regulator in the State of Ohio for the change of control of Envision Insurance Company, (ii) the Board of Pharmacy of the State of California with respect to the transfer of certain licenses, (iii) the Insurance Department of the State of Texas with respect to the change of control of Rite Aid's subsidiaries licensed as third-party administrators in Texas, (iv) the state insurance regulator in the State of Utah with respect to the change of ownership of Rite Aid's subsidiary licensed as a health discount program operator, and (v) the Boards of Pharmacy of the States of California, Georgia, Virginia, North Carolina and Maine and the California Department of Managed Care with respect to the application for certain licenses. To obtain these approvals, ACI and its applicable stockholders, or the applicable Rite Aid subsidiary, as the case may be, has filed or will file, acquisition of control or similar statements, notices or applications (or requests for grants of exemption relating thereto), as required by the insurance and health care laws and regulations of each applicable state or jurisdiction. The approval of a Form A application with the Ohio Department of Insurance for ACI and its applicable stockholder(s) (which was filed on April 24, 2018) is a condition to the completion of the merger. In addition, either prior to or following the completion of the merger, ACI or Rite Aid will be required to make change of control notification filings with various federal, state and local regulators pursuant to applicable insurance, pharmacy, health care, money transmitter, check cashing, liquor, tobacco, lottery/gaming, food stamp, seed/nursery agriculture, dairy, weights/measures and other laws and regulations (none of which notification filings are conditions to the completion of the merger).

Federal Securities Law Consequences

Following the effectiveness of the registration statement on Form S-4, of which this proxy statement/prospectus forms a part, shares of ACI common stock issued in the merger will not be subject to any restrictions on transfer arising under the Securities Act or the Exchange Act, except for shares of ACI common stock issued to any Rite Aid stockholder who may be deemed an affiliate of ACI for the purposes of Rule 144 of the Securities Act after the completion of the merger. Persons who may be deemed affiliates of the combined company generally include individuals or entities that control, are controlled by or are under common control with, the combined company and may include the executive officers and directors of the combined company as well as its principal stockholders. Shares of ACI common stock outstanding before the merger will be subject to contractual restrictions on transfers for specified periods of time. Such shares will also have the benefit of certain demand and piggyback registration rights. See the sections entitled Other Related Agreements Registration Rights Agreement and Other Related Agreements Lock-Up Agreements beginning on page 183 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

This proxy statement/prospectus also registers the sale of ACI common stock by ACI following the merger pursuant to the exercise of Rite Aid options held by former Rite Aid employees that will be assumed by ACI in connection with the merger.

This proxy statement/prospectus does not cover resales of ACI common stock received by any person upon the completion of the merger, and no person is authorized to make any use of this proxy statement/prospectus in connection with any resale of ACI common stock.

Accounting Treatment

ACI prepares its financial statements in accordance with GAAP. The merger will be accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting. ACI will be treated as the acquirer for accounting purposes.

Dividend Policy Following the Merger

Following the merger, the parties do not intend to declare or pay a dividend for the foreseeable future. Any dividends or changes to ACI's dividend policy will be made at the discretion of the board of directors of ACI and will depend upon many factors, including the financial condition of ACI, earnings, legal requirements, including limitations imposed by Delaware law, and restrictions in ACI's debt agreements that limit its ability to pay dividends to stockholders and other factors the board of directors of ACI deems relevant.

Listing of ACI Common Stock on the NYSE

At this time, there is no established public trading market for ACI common stock. ACI common stock is currently not traded or quoted on a stock exchange or quotation system. Following the merger, ACI common stock is expected to be listed for trading on the NYSE under the symbol ACI.

Delisting and Deregistration of Rite Aid Common Stock

If the merger is completed, Rite Aid common stock will be delisted from the NYSE and deregistered under the Exchange Act, and Rite Aid will no longer be required to file periodic reports with the SEC.

Litigation Related to the Merger

On April 24, 2018, Mel Aklile, a Rite Aid stockholder, brought a putative class action in Delaware Court of Chancery against Rite Aid, ACI, Merger Sub I, Merger Sub II and the Director Defendants, Del. C.A. No. 2018-0305-AGB. Mr. Aklile contends that Rite Aid stockholders have appraisal rights under Section 262 of the DGCL because, notwithstanding that (i) Rite Aid stockholders are not required to receive consideration other than shares of ACI common stock (and cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any) in the merger and shares of ACI common stock will be listed on the NYSE immediately after the merger, and (ii) the election to receive cash consideration is voluntary and dependent upon Rite Aid stockholders' election (other than cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any), the alleged disparity in value between the additional cash consideration of $0.1832 per share and the additional stock exchange ratio of 0.0079 ACI common stock per share of Rite Aid common stock amounts to a false choice designed to deprive Rite Aid stockholders of their alleged appraisal rights. Plaintiff alleges breach of fiduciary duty claims against the Director Defendants for their alleged failure to provide, and inform Rite Aid stockholders of, their alleged statutory appraisal rights under Delaware law and for allegedly falsely informing Rite Aid stockholders that they will not have appraisal rights. Plaintiff further contends that the proxy statement/prospectus previously filed on April 6, 2018 was deficient under Section 262(d)(1) of the DGCL for failure to inform stockholders of their alleged appraisal rights. Mr. Aklile seeks declarations from the Delaware Court of Chancery that the action is a proper class action and that the Director Defendants breached their fiduciary duties by failing to adequately inform class members of their appraisal rights under Delaware law, to enjoin the proposed action from closing until such time as class members are afforded the ability to seek appraisal of their shares, or otherwise permit class members to petition the Delaware Court of Chancery for appraisal, and attorneys, fees, expenses and costs to Plaintiff.

On May 9, 2018, the Delaware Court of Chancery denied Plaintiff's motion to expedite and declined to schedule a preliminary injunction hearing, ruling that Plaintiff failed to state a colorable claim. On May 16, 2018, Defendants filed a motion to dismiss Plaintiff's complaint.

Defendants oppose Plaintiff's claims on the ground that Rite Aid stockholders have no right of appraisal under the DGCL because they have a right to receive all stock consideration as described in the proxy statement/prospectus previously filed on April 6, 2018.

Table of ContentsTHE MERGER AGREEMENT

The following summary describes certain material provisions of the merger agreement. This summary is not complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the merger agreement, which is attached to this proxy statement/prospectus as Annex A and incorporated into this proxy statement/prospectus by reference. Rite Aid encourages you to read the merger agreement carefully in its entirety because this summary may not contain all the information about the merger agreement that is important to you. The rights and obligations of the parties are governed by the express terms of the merger agreement and not by this summary or any other information contained in this proxy statement/prospectus.

The representations, warranties, covenants and agreements described below and included in the merger agreement were made for purposes of the merger agreement and as of specific dates, were for the benefit of the parties to the merger agreement except as expressly stated therein and may be subject to important qualifications, limitations and supplemental information agreed to by Rite Aid, ACI, Merger Sub I and Merger Sub II in connection with negotiating the terms of the merger agreement, including certain qualifications, limitations and supplemental information disclosed in the confidential disclosure schedules to the merger agreement. In addition, the representations and warranties were included in the merger agreement for the purpose of allocating contractual risk between Rite Aid, ACI, Merger Sub I and Merger Sub II, and may be subject to standards of materiality applicable to such parties that differ from those generally applicable to investors. In reviewing the representations, warranties and covenants contained in the merger agreement or any description thereof in this summary, it is important to bear in mind that such representations, warranties, covenants and agreements or any descriptions were not intended by the parties to the merger agreement to be characterizations of the actual state of facts or condition of Rite Aid, ACI, Merger Sub I and Merger Sub II or any of their respective affiliates or businesses except as expressly stated in the merger agreement. Moreover, information concerning the subject matter of the representations and warranties may change after the date of the merger agreement. In addition, you should not rely on the covenants in the merger agreement as actual limitations on the respective businesses of Rite Aid, ACI, Merger Sub I and Merger Sub II because the parties to the merger agreement may take certain actions that are either expressly permitted in the confidential disclosure schedules to the merger agreement or as otherwise consented to by the appropriate party, which consent may be given without prior notice to the public. The merger agreement is described below, and attached as Annex A hereto, with the intention of providing you with information regarding the terms of the merger. Accordingly, the representations, warranties, covenants and other agreements in the merger agreement should not be read alone, and you should read the information provided elsewhere in this document and in Rite Aid's filings with the SEC regarding Rite Aid and its business. Please see the section entitled "Where You Can Find More Information" beginning on page 353 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Structure of the Merger

Upon the terms and subject to the conditions of the merger agreement and in accordance with the DGCL, at the effective time of the merger, (i) Merger Sub I will be merged with and into Rite Aid and the separate corporate existence of Merger Sub I will cease, (ii) Rite Aid will be the surviving corporation in the merger, which we refer to as the surviving corporation, and a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of Merger Sub II and (iii) the separate corporate existence of Rite Aid, with all of its properties, rights, privileges, immunities, powers and franchises, will continue unaffected by the merger, except as set forth in the merger agreement. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing and subject thereto, at the effective time of the merger, all the properties, rights, privileges, immunities, powers and franchises of Rite Aid and Merger Sub I will vest in Rite Aid as the surviving corporation and all claims, obligations, debts, liabilities and duties of Rite Aid and Merger Sub I will become the claims, obligations, debts, liabilities and duties of Rite Aid as the surviving corporation.

Table of Contents

Upon the terms and subject to the conditions of the merger agreement and in accordance with the DGCL and the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act immediately following the effectiveness of the merger, (i) ACI will cause the surviving corporation to be merged with and into Merger Sub II and the separate corporate existence of the surviving corporation will cease and (ii) Merger Sub II will be the surviving company in the subsequent merger and a wholly-owned direct subsidiary of ACI. Immediately following the effectiveness of the subsequent merger, all the properties, rights, privileges, immunities, powers and franchises of the surviving corporation and Merger Sub II will vest in Merger Sub II as the surviving company and all claims, obligations, debts, liabilities and duties of the surviving corporation and Merger Sub II will become the claims, obligations, debts, liabilities and duties of Merger Sub II as the surviving company.

Closing and the Effective Time of the Merger

Unless another date is agreed upon by the parties, the closing for the mergers will take place on the third (3rd) business day following the day on which the conditions to closing (described in the section entitled "The Merger Agreement - Conditions to Completion of the Mergers" beginning on page 176 of this proxy statement/prospectus) (other than those conditions that by their nature are to be satisfied at the closing, but subject to the satisfaction or, to the extent permitted by applicable law, waiver of those conditions at the closing) have been satisfied or waived in accordance with the merger agreement; provided, however, that if the marketing period has not ended at the time of the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions to closing in the merger agreement (other than those conditions that by their nature are to be satisfied at the closing), then the closing will occur on the third (3rd) business day after the final day of the marketing period. The marketing period is, subject to a blackout period specified in the debt commitment letter, a period of 15 consecutive days beginning on the delivery by Rite Aid to ACI of certain financial information and other pertinent information regarding Rite Aid and its subsidiaries as may reasonably be requested by ACI.

As soon as practicable following the closing, Rite Aid and ACI will cause to be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware executed certificates of merger with respect to the mergers as provided in the DGCL. The merger will become effective upon the filing of a certificate of merger with respect to the merger or at such later time as may be agreed by the Rite Aid and ACI in writing and be specified in such certificate of merger. The subsequent merger will become effective upon the filing of a certificate of merger with respect to the subsequent merger, which will be immediately after the effective time of the merger.

Directors and Officers; Certificate of Incorporation; Bylaws

The parties to the merger agreement will take all actions necessary so that ACI will, from and after the effective time of the merger, be the sole managing member of the surviving company until its successor has been duly appointed and qualified or until its earlier resignation or removal in accordance with the certificate of formation and limited liability company agreement of the surviving company.

The parties to the merger agreement will take all actions necessary so that the officers of Rite Aid immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will, from and after the effective time of the merger, be the officers of the surviving company until their successors have been duly elected or appointed and qualified or until their earlier death, resignation or removal in accordance with the certificate of formation and limited liability company agreement of the surviving company.

At the effective time of the merger, the certificate of incorporation of Merger Sub I in effect immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will be the certificate of incorporation of the surviving corporation until thereafter amended as provided therein or by applicable law, except that such certificate of incorporation will be amended by ACI as of the effective time of the merger to change the name of the surviving corporation to Rite Aid Corporation and to contain such provisions as are necessary to give full effect to the provisions described in the section entitled Directors and Officers Indemnification and Insurance beginning on page 171 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

At the effective time of the merger, and without any further action on the part of Rite Aid and Merger Sub I, the bylaws of Merger Sub I in effect immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will be the bylaws of the surviving corporation until thereafter amended as provided therein or by applicable law, except that such bylaws will be amended by ACI as of the effective time of the merger to change the name of the surviving corporation to Rite Aid Corporation and to contain such provisions as are necessary to give full effect to the provisions described in the section entitled Directors and Officers Indemnification and Insurance beginning on page 171 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

The certificate of formation and limited liability company agreement of Merger Sub II will remain in effect from and after the effective time of the merger until the merger of the surviving corporation of the merger into Merger Sub II immediately following the effective time of the merger, at which time the certificate of formation and limited liability company agreement of Merger Sub II will each remain in effect, except that such certificate of formation and limited liability company agreement will each be amended by ACI as of the effective time of the merger to change the name of the surviving company as used therein to Rite Aid LLC and to contain such provisions as are necessary to give full effect to the provisions described under Directors and Officers Indemnification and Insurance beginning on page 171.

Merger Consideration

Common Stock

At the effective time of the merger, each share of Rite Aid common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger (other than shares of Rite Aid common stock owned, directly or indirectly, by ACI, Merger Sub I or Rite Aid (including shares of Rite Aid common stock held as treasury stock by Rite Aid), and in each case not held on behalf of third parties, immediately prior to the effective time of the merger) will be converted into the right to receive and become exchangeable for 0.1000, which we refer to as the base exchange ratio, of a fully paid and nonassessable share of ACI common stock, without interest, which we refer to as the base consideration, plus, at the election of the holder of Rite Aid common stock, either:

for each share of Rite Aid common stock with respect to which an election to receive cash has been effectively made and not revoked or redeemed, and for each share of Rite Aid common stock with respect to which a Rite Aid stockholder has not made an election to receive cash or stock, an amount in cash equal to $0.1832 per share, without interest, which we refer to as the additional cash consideration (and which, together with the base consideration, we refer to as the cash election consideration); provided, that to the extent the aggregate additional cash consideration to be paid to any holder of shares of Rite Aid common stock for all such holder's shares of Rite Aid common stock held in a single account would result in such stockholder being entitled to a fraction of a cent in cash with respect to the shares of Rite Aid common stock held in such account, such aggregate amount will be rounded down to the nearest whole cent; or

for each share of Rite Aid common stock with respect to which an election to receive additional ACI common stock has been effectively made and not revoked, 0.0079, which we refer to as the additional stock election exchange ratio (and which, together with the base exchange ratio, we refer to as the stock election exchange ratio), of a fully paid and nonassessable share of

ACI common stock, without interest, which we refer to as the additional stock consideration (and which, together with the base consideration, we refer to as the stock election consideration).

For the avoidance of doubt, the cash election consideration consists of both the base consideration, which consists of ACI common stock, and the additional cash consideration, which consists of cash. No fractional shares of ACI common stock will be issued in the merger, and in lieu thereof, holders of Rite Aid common stock who would otherwise have been entitled to a fraction of a share of ACI common stock will be paid upon surrender of shares of Rite Aid common stock (and after taking into account and aggregating the total number of shares of ACI common stock to be issued in exchange for the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented by all certificates, or book-entry shares, as applicable, surrendered by such holder and the shares of ACI common stock received by such holder as a result of both the base exchange ratio and the additional stock election exchange ratio) cash in an amount, without interest and rounded to the nearest cent, representing such holder's proportionate interest in the net proceeds from the sale by the exchange agent, on behalf of all such holders, of all fractional shares of ACI common stock which would otherwise be issued.

Treatment of Equity and Equity-Based Awards

Rite Aid Stock Options. At the effective time of the merger, each Rite Aid stock option will be assumed by ACI and converted into an ACI stock option, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable immediately prior to the completion of the merger, to acquire a number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Rite Aid stock option immediately prior to the effective time and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded down to the next lower whole number of shares after aggregating each individual holder's Rite Aid stock options with the same exercise price. The exercise price of each such ACI stock option will be equitably adjusted to be equal to the quotient of (x) the excess of (i) the exercise price per share of Rite Aid common stock subject to such option over (ii) the additional cash consideration and (y) the base exchange ratio (which results will be rounded up to the nearest whole cent).

Rite Aid Restricted Stock Units. Except as provided under Certain Restricted Stock Awards and Restricted Stock Units, at the effective time of the merger, each Rollover RSU will be assumed by ACI and converted into an ACI RSU, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable immediately prior to the completion of the merger, relating to a number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of Rollover RSUs held by the holder thereof immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement, and (y) the stock election exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares.

Rite Aid Restricted Stock Awards. Except as provided under Certain Restricted Stock Awards and Restricted Stock Units, at the effective time of the merger, each Rollover RSA will be assumed by ACI and converted into an ACI RSA, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable immediately prior to the completion of the merger, relating to the number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Rollover RSA immediately prior to the effective time and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares, plus a number of shares of ACI common stock or an amount in cash equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Rollover RSA immediately prior to the effective time and (ii) the additional stock consideration or the additional cash consideration, as elected by the holder and settled or paid to the holder shortly following the completion of the merger.

Certain Restricted Stock Awards and Restricted Stock Units. At the effective time of the merger, each Former Service Provider RSA will vest and the holder will be entitled to receive a number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSA immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares, plus a number of shares of ACI common stock or an amount in cash equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSA immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (ii) the additional stock consideration or the additional cash consideration, as elected by the holder.

Each Former Service Provider RSU will vest and the holder will be entitled to receive a number of shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSU immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of performance and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares, plus a number of shares of ACI common stock or an amount in cash equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSU immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (ii) the additional stock consideration or the additional cash consideration, as elected by the holder. To the extent that any Former Service Provider RSU by its terms provides for settlement in cash, the holder instead will be entitled to receive the cash value of the number of whole shares of ACI common stock equal to the product of (x) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSU immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (y) the base exchange ratio, with any fractional shares rounded to the nearest whole number of shares, plus an amount in cash equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Rite Aid common stock subject to such Former Service Provider RSU immediately prior to the effective time, assuming achievement of any applicable performance metrics at the target level of achievement and (ii) the additional cash consideration.

Exchange and Election Procedures

Prior to the effective time of the merger, ACI will deposit with the exchange agent, for the benefit of the holders of Rite Aid common stock, (i) evidence of its ability to issue the ACI common stock to be issued pursuant to the merger in book-entry form and (ii) cash in an amount sufficient to pay any cash payable in the merger. Following the effective time of the merger, ACI will deposit promptly with the exchange agent any dividends or distributions to which the holders of ACI common stock issued in the merger may be entitled in an amount sufficient to pay such dividends or distributions to such holders of ACI common stock. Such evidence of book-entry form for shares of ACI common stock, together with any dividends or distributions with respect thereto and the cash payable in lieu of fractional shares, are hereinafter referred to as the exchange fund. No interest will be paid or accrued for the benefit of holders of the certificates or book-entry shares on cash amounts payable.

ACI will instruct the exchange agent to mail, as promptly as practicable after the effective time of the merger (and in no event more than four (4) business days following the effective time), to each record holder, as of the effective time, which holders we refer to as former holders, of Rite Aid common stock, which we refer to as former shares:

a letter of transmittal; and instructions for use in effecting the surrender of certificates or book-entry shares for exchange of the applicable merger consideration therefor.

Table of Contents

Not less than thirty days prior to the election deadline, which we refer to as the mailing date, ACI will instruct the exchange agent to send to each record holder of Rite Aid common stock as of five business days prior to such date, an election form. Each election form will permit the stockholder (or the beneficial owner through customary documentation and instructions) to specify (i) the number of shares of such stockholder's Rite Aid common stock with respect to which such holder elects to receive the stock election consideration, (ii) the number of shares of such holder's Rite Aid common stock with respect to which such holder elects to receive the cash election consideration or (iii) that such holder makes no election with respect to such holder's Rite Aid common stock, and, in the case of each of (i) and (ii), the particular shares for which the holder desires to make such election. Any shares of Rite Aid common stock with respect to which the exchange agent does not receive a properly completed election form during the period from the mailing date to the election deadline will be deemed to be shares with respect to which no election has been made, which we refer to as no election shares. As used in the merger agreement, unless otherwise jointly agreed in advance by Rite Aid and ACI, the election deadline is 5:00 p.m. New York City time on a date mutually agreed by Rite Aid and ACI but which in no event will be less than one day prior to the anticipated closing date. ACI and Rite Aid will issue a joint press release announcing the anticipated date of the election deadline not more than fifteen business days before, and at least five business days prior to, the anticipated date of the election deadline. If Rite Aid and ACI jointly agree to postpone the election deadline to a later date, ACI and Rite Aid will promptly announce any such delay and, when determined, the rescheduled election deadline. Any election will have been properly made only if the exchange agent has received a properly completed election form by the election deadline. In the event an election form is revoked prior to the election deadline and no subsequent election is properly made prior to the election deadline, the shares of Rite Aid common stock represented by such election form will be deemed no election shares. Subject to the terms of the merger agreement and of the election form, the exchange agent will have reasonable discretion to determine whether any election has been properly or timely made and to disregard immaterial defects in the election form, and any good faith decisions of the exchange agent regarding such matters will be binding and conclusive. None of ACI, Merger Sub I, Merger Sub II, Rite Aid or the exchange agent will be under any obligation to notify any person of any defect in an election form. The election form will indicate in a clear and unambiguous manner that a stockholder's failure to make a proper election prior to the election deadline will result in such stockholder receiving cash election consideration for such shares for which no proper election has been made, and will provide stockholders with a toll-free number to contact the exchange agent with any questions concerning making an election. For the avoidance of doubt, the cash election consideration consists of both the base consideration, which consists of ACI common stock, and the additional cash consideration, which consists of cash.

Upon surrender by a former holder to the exchange agent of a certificate or a book-entry share of Rite Aid common stock, as applicable, together with a letter of transmittal, duly completed and validly executed in accordance with the instructions thereto, and such other documents as the exchange agent may reasonably require, each former holder will be entitled to receive in exchange therefor:

a book entry representing that number of shares of ACI common stock (rounded down) which such former holder has the right to receive in respect of its former shares after taking into account all stock then held by such former holder, and any certificate surrendered in respect thereof will be cancelled; and a check in an amount of U.S. dollars (after giving effect to any required withholdings described in the section entitled "The Merger Merger Consideration Withholding Rights" beginning on page 156 of this proxy statement/prospectus) equal to any cash in lieu of fractional shares that such former holder has the right to receive plus any cash dividends or other distributions that such former holder has the right to receive.

Any holder of book-entry shares will not be required to deliver a certificate but will be required to deliver an executed letter of transmittal and/or an agent's message to the exchange agent to receive the merger consideration that such holder is entitled to receive. Each holder of record of one or more book-entry shares whose shares were converted into the right to receive the merger consideration will automatically upon the effective time of the merger or following the exchange agent's receipt of an agent's message and/or the applicable letter of transmittal (or, at any later time at which such book-entry shares will be so converted) be entitled to receive, and ACI will cause the exchange agent to pay and deliver as promptly as practicable after such time, the merger consideration to which such holder is entitled to receive pursuant to the merger agreement.

From and after the effective time of the merger, no interest will be paid or accrued for the benefit of holders of the certificates or book-entry shares on the merger consideration payable in respect of the certificates or book-entry shares.

No dividends or other distributions declared or made with respect to shares of ACI common stock with a record date on or following the effective time of the merger issuable with respect to the former shares, nor the cash payment in lieu of fractional shares, will be paid to the holder of any unsurrendered certificates or book-entry shares until those certificates or book-entry shares are surrendered. Upon surrender, there will be issued to the holder of former shares issued in exchange therefor, without interest, (i) at the time of surrender, the amount of any dividends or other distributions payable with respect to those shares of ACI common stock with a record date on or after the date of the effective time of the merger and a payment date on or prior to the date of surrender and not previously paid and (ii) at the appropriate payment date, the amount of dividends or other distributions payable with respect to shares of ACI common stock with a record date on or after the date of the effective time of the merger but with a payment date subsequent to surrender.

Unless a longer period is prescribed by applicable law, any portion of the exchange fund that remains undistributed to holders of Rite Aid common stock on the nine month anniversary of the effective time of the merger will be delivered to ACI, upon demand by ACI, and any holder of Rite Aid common stock who has not theretofore complied with the merger agreement will thereafter look only to ACI for payment of their claim for any part of the merger consideration and any dividends or distributions with respect to shares of ACI common stock.

To the extent permitted under applicable law, any merger consideration and any dividends or other distributions payable to any holder of Rite Aid common stock that remained undistributed to the holders of Rite Aid common stock will be deemed to and become the property of ACI on the business day immediately prior to the day that such property is required to be delivered to any public official pursuant to any applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar law. To the extent permitted under applicable law, none of Merger Sub I, ACI, Rite Aid or the exchange agent will be liable to any holder of Rite Aid common stock for any such property delivered to ACI or to a public official pursuant to any applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar law.

Any portion of the exchange fund and trust held for the benefit of the holders of shares of Rite Aid common stock pursuant to the merger agreement that remains unclaimed by former stockholders of Rite Aid entitled thereto one hundred eighty (180) days after the effective time of the merger will be returned to ACI and such former stockholders will thereafter look only to ACI for payment of the merger consideration, without any interest thereon. Any such portion of the exchange fund and trust remaining unclaimed by such former stockholders five (5) years after the effective time of the merger (or such earlier date immediately prior to such time as such amounts would otherwise escheat to or become property of any governmental entity) will, to the extent permitted by law, become the property of ACI free and clear of any claims or interest of any person previously entitled thereto.

Withholding Rights

Each of ACI, Rite Aid, the surviving company or the exchange agent, as applicable, will be entitled to deduct and withhold from the merger consideration and any amounts otherwise payable pursuant to the merger agreement to any holder of shares of Rite Aid stock options, Rite Aid restricted stock awards and Rite Aid restricted stock units, such amounts as ACI, Rite Aid, the surviving company or the exchange agent is required to deduct and withhold with respect to the making of such payment under any provision of applicable tax law. To the extent that amounts are so deducted or withheld and paid over to the appropriate taxing authority by ACI, Rite Aid, the surviving company or the exchange agent, as applicable, such deducted or withheld amounts will be treated for all purposes of the merger agreement as having been paid to the person in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made by ACI, Rite Aid, the surviving company or the exchange agent, as applicable.

Representations and Warranties

The merger agreement contains a number of representations and warranties made by the parties thereto that are subject in some cases to exceptions and qualifications, including material adverse effect qualifications. Please see the definition of material adverse effect on page 158 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

The representations and warranties of Rite Aid in the merger agreement relate to, among other things:

due organization, valid existence, good standing and qualification to do business;

certificate of incorporation and bylaws;

capitalization and ownership of subsidiaries;

corporate authorization of execution, delivery and performance of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement and the valid and binding nature of the merger agreement;

Certain of the representations and warranties made by the parties are qualified as to knowledge, materiality or material adverse effect. For purposes of the merger agreement, material adverse effect means, with respect to Rite Aid or ACI, any event, development, circumstance, change, effect, condition, or occurrence that, individually or in the aggregate, with all other events, developments, circumstances, changes, effects, conditions or occurrences, (i) has, or would reasonably be expected to have, a material adverse effect on or with respect to the business, assets, liabilities, results of operations or financial condition of such party and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole or (ii) prevents, materially delays or materially impairs the ability of such party to consummate the mergers and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. However, in the case of clause (i), any event, development, circumstance, change, effect, condition or occurrence to the extent arising out of or resulting from any of the following after the date of the merger agreement will not be deemed, either alone or in combination, to constitute or be taken into account in determining whether there has been, a material adverse effect:

(A) any change or development generally affecting the economy or the financial, debt, capital, credit or securities markets in the United States or elsewhere in the world, including as a result of changes or developments in prevailing interest or exchange rates or the disruption of any securities markets,

(B) national or international political or social conditions,

(C) the execution and delivery of the merger agreement or the public announcement or pendency of the mergers or other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the impact thereof on relationships, contractual or otherwise, with customers, suppliers, distributors, or employees of such party or its subsidiaries,

(D) any change in any applicable laws or applicable accounting regulations or principles, including GAAP, or interpretations thereof,

(E) any hurricane, tornado, earthquake, flood, tsunami or other natural disaster or outbreak or escalation of hostilities or war (whether or not declared), military actions or any act of sabotage, terrorism or other international or national emergency, or other force majeure event or natural disaster or act of God or other comparable events,

(F) any change in the price or trading volume of such party's common stock or the credit rating of such party, in and of itself,

(G) any failure by such party to meet (1) any published analyst estimates, expectations, projections or forecasts of such party's revenue, earnings, cash flow, cash positions or other financial performance or results of operations for any period or (2) its internal or published projections, budgets, plans, forecasts, guidance, estimates, milestones of its revenues, earnings or other financial performance or results of operations, in and of itself (provided that the underlying cause of such failure may be considered),

(H) any change or development in the industries in which such party and its subsidiaries operate,

(I) the identity of the other party or its subsidiaries,

(J) any communication by the other party or its subsidiaries regarding the plans or intentions of the other party with respect to the conduct of the business of the surviving company or its subsidiaries or

(K) any action taken by such party, or which such party causes to be taken by any of its subsidiaries, in each case which is expressly required or permitted by the merger agreement or at the other party's express written request.

The events, developments, circumstances, changes, effects, conditions or occurrences described in subsections (A), (B), (D), (E) and (H) above will be taken into account in determining whether a material adverse effect has occurred to the extent (but only to such extent) such events, developments, circumstances, changes, effects, conditions or occurrences are disproportionately adverse to the business, assets, liabilities, results of operations or financial condition of such party and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, as compared to other participants in the industries in which such party and its subsidiaries operate. In addition, the changes and failures described in subsections (F) and (G) above will not prevent or otherwise affect a determination that any events, developments, circumstances, changes, effects, conditions or occurrences underlying such changes or failures constitute or contribute to a material adverse effect. Furthermore, the exception described in subsection (C) above does not apply with respect to references to a material adverse effect in those portions of the representations and warranties contained in the merger agreement relating to the absence of conflicts to the extent the purpose of such representations and warranties is to address the consequences resulting from the execution, delivery and performance of the merger agreement by such party or the consummation of the mergers and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

None of the representations and warranties contained in the merger agreement survive the consummation of the merger.

Conduct of Business of Rite Aid Pending the Merger

From the date of the merger agreement until the earlier of the effective time of the merger and the termination of the merger agreement, except (i) as expressly contemplated or permitted by the merger agreement or as expressly contemplated by the WBA asset purchase agreement and the ancillary agreements relating thereto, (ii) as set forth in Rite Aid's confidential disclosure schedules, (iii) as required by applicable laws, or (iv) as consented to by ACI in writing (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), Rite Aid will, and will cause its subsidiaries to (a) conduct its business in all material respects in the ordinary course, consistent with past practice, (b) use its commercially reasonable efforts to (x) preserve intact, in all material respects, its business organization, and its assets and properties, in each case, that are material to Rite Aid and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, and (y) maintain in all material respects the benefits of its existing business relationships with its customers, suppliers, distributors and key payors, in each case whose business relationships are material to Rite Aid and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, and (c) not, subject to certain exceptions:

amend its certificate of incorporation, bylaws or equivalent governing instruments;

acquire any business or person or make any investment in any person;

acquire or license any intellectual property from any third party that would be material to Rite Aid and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole;

issue, deliver, sell, pledge, dispose of, grant, award or encumber any shares of capital stock, ownership interests or voting securities, or any options, warrants, convertible securities or other rights of any kind to acquire or receive any shares of capital stock, any other ownership interests or any voting securities, of Rite Aid or any of its subsidiaries, or adopt a plan of complete or partial liquidation;

reclassify, combine, split, subdivide, redeem, purchase or otherwise acquire any shares of capital stock of Rite Aid, or reclassify, combine, split or subdivide any capital stock or other ownership interests of any of Rite Aid's subsidiaries;

waive any rights under or amend the Rite Aid tax benefits preservation plan (which the Rite Aid board of directors terminated effective as of March 27, 2018), except as contemplated by the merger agreement create or incur liens;

make loans or advances;

except for the transactions contemplated by the WBA asset purchase agreement, sell or otherwise dispose of assets or any corporation, partnership or other business organization or division thereof, or sublicense, transfer, allow to lapse or expire, pledge, abandon, discontinue, fail to maintain or otherwise dispose of any right, title or interest of Rite Aid or any of its subsidiaries in any intellectual property;

declare, authorize, set aside, make or pay dividends or other distributions, payable in cash, stock, property or otherwise, with respect to any of Rite Aid or its subsidiaries' capital stock;

commit, make or authorize capital expenditures;

modify in a manner adverse and material to Rite Aid and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, or terminate, material contracts;

amend, modify, rescind, cancel or waive any rights of Rite Aid or its subsidiaries under certain agreements listed on Rite Aid's confidential disclosure schedules, in each case, in a manner that is materially adverse to Rite Aid and its subsidiaries taken as a whole;

causing to be taken, all actions required by the WBA asset purchase agreement and each of the ancillary agreements relating thereto and to use its reasonable best efforts to do all things reasonably necessary, proper or advisable under the WBA asset purchase agreement and each of the ancillary agreements relating thereto and applicable law to consummate and make effective the transactions contemplated by the WBA asset purchase agreement and the ancillary agreements relating thereto, in each case only to the extent required by the WBA asset purchase agreement and such ancillary agreements.

The Rite Aid board of directors and Rite Aid will also take all actions necessary to render the Rite Aid tax benefits preservation plan inapplicable to the mergers and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. The Rite Aid board of directors terminated the tax benefits preservation plan effective as of March 27, 2018.

Conduct of Business of ACI Pending the Merger

From the date of the merger agreement until the earlier of the effective time of the merger and the termination of the merger agreement, except (i) as expressly contemplated or permitted by the merger agreement, (ii) as set forth in ACI's confidential disclosure schedules, (iii) as required by applicable laws, or (iv) as consented to by Rite Aid in writing (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), ACI will, and will cause its subsidiaries to (a) conduct its business in all material respects in the ordinary course, consistent with past practice, (b) use its commercially reasonable efforts to (x) preserve intact, in all material respects, its business organization, and its assets and properties, in each case, that are material to ACI and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, and (y) maintain in all material respects the benefits of its existing business relationships with its customers, suppliers, distributors and key payors, in each case whose business relationships are material to ACI and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, and (c) not, subject to certain exceptions:

amend its certificate of incorporation, bylaws or equivalent governing instruments;

acquire any business or person or make any investment in any person;

acquire or license any intellectual property from any third party that would be material to ACI and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole;

issue, deliver, sell, pledge, dispose of, grant, award or encumber any shares of capital stock, ownership interests or voting securities, or any options, warrants, convertible securities or other rights of any kind to acquire or receive any shares of capital stock, any other ownership interests or any voting securities, of ACI or any of its subsidiaries, or adopt a plan of complete or partial liquidation;

reclassify, combine, split, subdivide, redeem, purchase or otherwise acquire any shares of capital stock of ACI, or reclassify, combine, split or subdivide any capital stock or other ownership interests of any of ACI's subsidiaries;

create or incur liens;

make any loans or advances to any person;

sell or otherwise dispose of any assets or any corporation, partnership or other business organization or division thereof, or sublicense, transfer, allow to lapse or expire, pledge, abandon, discontinue, fail to maintain or otherwise dispose of any right, title or interest of ACI or any of its subsidiaries in any intellectual property;

declare, authorize, set aside, make or pay any dividend or other distribution, payable in cash, stock, property or otherwise, with respect to any of ACI or its subsidiaries capital stock;

commit, make or authorize capital expenditures;

Additional Agreements

No Solicitation

As of the date of the merger agreement, Rite Aid agreed to immediately cease or cause to be terminated any solicitations of discussions or negotiations with any parties that may have been ongoing prior to the date of the merger agreement with respect to an acquisition proposal (as described below), to request that such parties promptly return or destroy all confidential information relating to Rite Aid or its subsidiaries previously furnished to such persons prior to the date of the merger agreement in connection with the consideration of alternative proposals and to immediately terminate access to data rooms previously granted to such parties.

Under the merger agreement, Rite Aid is generally not permitted to solicit or discuss acquisition proposals with third parties, subject to certain exceptions.

Except as otherwise provided in the merger agreement, Rite Aid may not, and has agreed to cause its subsidiaries and its and its subsidiaries' directors, officers and employees not to, and has agreed to use its reasonable best efforts to cause its and its subsidiaries' representatives not to, directly or indirectly:

initiate, solicit, knowingly encourage, knowingly induce or knowingly facilitate (including by providing nonpublic information relating to Rite Aid or its subsidiaries) the making of any acquisition proposal or any inquiry, offer or proposal that would reasonably be expected to lead to an acquisition proposal;

engage or otherwise participate in any negotiations or discussions concerning, or provide access to its properties, books and records or any confidential or nonpublic information or data to, any person in connection with, relating to or for the purpose of encouraging or facilitating, an acquisition proposal or any inquiry, offer or proposal that would reasonably be expected to lead to an acquisition proposal (other than as described below);

execute or enter into any letter of intent, agreement in principle, merger agreement, acquisition agreement or other similar written or oral agreement relating to any acquisition proposal, which we refer to as an alternative acquisition agreement.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the merger agreement, nothing contained in the merger agreement prevents Rite Aid or the Rite Aid board of directors from making any disclosure to stockholders if the Rite Aid board of directors determines in good faith that the failure to make such disclosure would be reasonably likely to be inconsistent with the Rite Aid board of directors' fiduciary duties under applicable law (provided that neither Rite Aid nor the Rite Aid board of directors may effect a change of recommendation unless expressly permitted by the merger agreement and that any such disclosure that has the substantive effect of withdrawing or adversely modifying the Rite Aid board of directors' recommendation that Rite Aid stockholders adopt the merger agreement will be deemed to be a change of recommendation), and the issuance by Rite Aid or the Rite Aid board of directors of a stop, look and listen communication as contemplated by Rule 14d-9(f) promulgated under the Exchange Act (or any similar communication to its stockholders) in which Rite Aid has not indicated that the Rite Aid board of directors has changed its recommendation that Rite Aid stockholders adopt the merger agreement will not constitute a change of recommendation.

Notwithstanding the restrictions described above, prior to, but not after, obtaining the stockholder approval of the proposal to adopt the merger agreement, Rite Aid is permitted to, in response to the receipt of a bona fide acquisition proposal made after the date of the merger agreement in circumstances not otherwise involving a breach of the merger agreement by Rite Aid and that the Rite Aid board of directors determines in good faith, after consultation with Rite Aid's outside legal counsel and financial advisor, constitutes or could reasonably be expected to lead to a superior proposal:

furnish information with respect to Rite Aid to the party making such acquisition proposal pursuant to an acceptable confidentiality agreement that contains terms (including standstill restrictions; provided that such standstill restrictions need not restrict a person from making an offer or proposal to Rite Aid (including the Rite Aid board of directors) in respect of an acquisition proposal) substantially no less restrictive to Rite Aid's counterparty than those contained in the confidentiality agreement; and engage in discussions or negotiations with such party regarding such acquisition proposal.

In addition, following the receipt of an acquisition proposal made after the date of the merger agreement in circumstances not otherwise involving a breach of the merger agreement by Rite Aid, Rite Aid may contact the person who had made such acquisition proposal solely for the purpose of clarifying the material terms of any such proposal and the likelihood and timing of consummation thereof.

For purposes of the merger agreement, acquisition proposal means any proposal or offer (including a tender offer or exchange offer, but excluding the transactions contemplated by the WBA asset purchase agreement), from any person or group of persons (other than ACI, Merger Sub I or Merger Sub II) relating to:

any merger, consolidation, dissolution, liquidation, recapitalization, reorganization, share exchange, business combination, purchase, or similar transaction with respect to Rite Aid or any of its subsidiaries whose business constitutes twenty percent (20%) or more of the consolidated revenues, net income or assets of Rite Aid and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole (after giving pro forma effect to the portion of the transactions contemplated by the WBA asset purchase agreement that have been completed as of the date of such proposal or offer); or any direct or indirect acquisition or purchase, in one transaction or a series of related transactions, of assets (including equity securities of any subsidiary of Rite Aid) or businesses that constitute twenty percent (20%) or more of the consolidated revenues, net income or assets of Rite Aid and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, or twenty percent (20%) or more of the total voting power of the equity securities of Rite Aid (in each case after giving pro forma effect to the portion of the transactions contemplated by the WBA asset purchase agreement that have been completed as of the date of such proposal or offer).

For purposes of the merger agreement, superior proposal means any bona fide written acquisition proposal (with all references to twenty percent (20%) or more in the definition of acquisition proposal being deemed to reference fifty percent (50%) or more) that the Rite Aid board of directors in good faith, after consultation with Rite Aid's financial advisors and outside legal counsel, determines would, if consummated, result in a transaction more favorable from a financial point of view to the stockholders of Rite Aid than the mergers, taking into account all financing (including availability thereof) and regulatory aspects of such acquisition proposal, the likelihood and timing of consummation thereof (as compared to the transactions contemplated hereby), such other matters as the Rite Aid board of directors deems relevant and any changes to the terms of the merger agreement proposed by ACI in response to such superior proposal pursuant to, and in accordance with, the merger agreement.

Change of Recommendation

As described in the section entitled "The Merger Recommendation of the Rite Aid Board of Directors; Rite Aid's Reasons for the Merger" beginning on page 122 of this proxy statement/prospectus, and subject to the provisions described below, the Rite Aid board of directors has made the recommendation that the holders of Rite Aid common stock vote FOR the proposal to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the mergers. The merger agreement provides that the Rite Aid board of directors may not effect a change of recommendation except as described below.

The merger agreement provides that prior to, but not after, obtaining the stockholder approval of the proposal to adopt the merger agreement, the Rite Aid board of directors may, in response to a bona fide, unsolicited acquisition proposal that was made after the date of the merger agreement in circumstances not otherwise involving a material violation of the provisions of the merger agreement regarding acquisition proposals by Rite Aid, effect a change of recommendation if:

The Rite Aid board of directors determines in good faith, after consultation with Rite Aid's outside legal counsel and financial advisor, that such acquisition proposal constitutes a superior proposal and determines in good faith, after consultation with Rite Aid's outside legal counsel, that the failure to effect the change of recommendation would be reasonably likely to be inconsistent with the Rite Aid board of directors' fiduciary duties under applicable law;

The Rite Aid board of directors provides ACI written notice of its intention to make a change of recommendation, which notice must include the material terms and conditions with respect to the acquisition proposal, including the identity of the party making such acquisition proposal and copies of any written proposals or offers, including proposed agreements;

During the four (4) business days following such written notice, or such shorter period as described in the merger agreement, if requested by ACI, Rite Aid and its representatives negotiate in good faith with ACI and its representatives regarding any adjustments to the terms of the merger agreement proposed by ACI in response to the superior proposal; and

After the four (4) business day period described above (as extended, if applicable, as described in the merger agreement) the Rite Aid board of directors reaffirms in good faith, after consultation with Rite Aid's outside counsel and financial advisor (and taking into account any adjustment or modification of the terms of the merger agreement which ACI has proposed), that the acquisition proposal continues to be a superior proposal and (after consultation with Rite Aid's outside legal counsel) that the failure to effect the change of recommendation would be reasonably likely to be inconsistent with the Rite Aid board of directors' fiduciary duties under applicable law.

Under the merger agreement, any amendment to the financial terms or any other material amendment to the terms and conditions of any superior proposal will be deemed to be a new superior proposal, except if the Rite Aid board of directors seeks to make a change of recommendation as provided above, the notice period and the period during which Rite Aid and its representatives are required, if requested by ACI, to negotiate with ACI regarding any revisions to the terms of the merger agreement proposed by ACI in response to such new acquisition proposal will expire on the later of (x) two (2) business days after Rite Aid provides notice of the new superior proposal to ACI and (y) the end of the original four (4) business day period described above.

In addition to the foregoing, the Rite Aid board of directors is permitted to effect a change of recommendation based on events, developments, circumstances, changes, effects, conditions or occurrences that were not known by the Rite Aid board of directors (or if known, the consequences of which were not known or reasonably foreseeable) as of the date of the merger agreement, in each case other than involving or relating to an acquisition proposal, if:

The Rite Aid board of directors determines in good faith, after consultation with Rite Aid's outside legal counsel, that the failure to effect the change of recommendation would be reasonably likely to be inconsistent with the Rite Aid board of directors' fiduciary duties under applicable law;

The Rite Aid board of directors provides ACI four (4) business days prior written notice of its intention to take such action, which notice must include the basis of the proposed action; and

During the four (4) business days following such written notice, if requested by ACI, Rite Aid and its representatives negotiate in good faith with ACI and its representatives regarding any adjustments to the terms of the merger agreement proposed by ACI so that such event, development, circumstance, change, effect, condition or occurrence would cease to warrant a change of recommendation.

Notwithstanding the right of the Rite Aid board of directors to effect a change of recommendation under the merger agreement, Rite Aid is not entitled to terminate the merger agreement in connection therewith based on a change of recommendation alone. If the Rite Aid board of directors effects a change of recommendation under the merger agreement, ACI may either (i) terminate the merger agreement and receive the termination fee as more fully described in the section entitled "Termination of the Merger Agreement - Termination Fees" beginning on page 180 of this proxy statement/prospectus or (ii) continue to require the Rite Aid stockholders be afforded the opportunity to vote on the proposal to adopt the merger agreement.

For the purpose of the merger agreement, the term change of recommendation is defined as the Rite Aid board of directors' (i) failure to include in the proxy statement/prospectus its recommendation that Rite Aid stockholders adopt the merger agreement, (ii) approval, endorsement or recommendation, or public proposal to approve, endorse or recommend, or otherwise declare advisable to the stockholders of Rite Aid, an acquisition proposal, (iii) following the commencement of a tender offer or exchange offer that constitutes an acquisition proposal, failure to publish, send or give to its stockholders, pursuant to the Exchange Act, within ten (10) business days after such tender offer or exchange offer is first published, sent or given, or subsequently amended in any material respect, a statement recommending that stockholders reject such tender offer or exchange offer and affirming its recommendation that Rite Aid stockholders adopt the merger agreement or (iv) formal resolution to effect or publicly announce an intention to effect any of the foregoing, in each case prior to obtaining the approval of the stockholders.

Stock Exchange Listing

ACI and Rite Aid will use reasonable best efforts to cause the shares of ACI common stock to be issued in the merger and such other shares to be reserved for issuance in connection with the merger to, prior to closing, be approved for listing on the NYSE, subject to official notice of issuance. On June 21, 2018, ACI received approval from the NYSE to list shares of ACI common stock on the NYSE under the symbol "ACI".

Further Action; Efforts

Rite Aid and ACI have each agreed to use their reasonable best efforts to take, or cause to be taken, and to assist and cooperate with the other parties to the merger agreement in taking or causing to be taken, all actions and to use its reasonable best efforts to do, or cause to be done, all things reasonably necessary, proper or advisable under the merger agreement and applicable law to consummate and make effective the mergers and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement in the most expeditious manner practicable.

Notwithstanding the obligations of Rite Aid and ACI summarized in the immediately foregoing paragraph, ACI and Rite Aid are not required to take any action, including entering into any consent decree, hold separate orders or other arrangements, that (i) requires the divestiture of any assets of any of Rite Aid, ACI or any of their subsidiaries, (ii) limits ACI's or its subsidiaries' freedom of action with respect to, or its or their ability to retain Rite Aid and its subsidiaries or any portion thereof or any of ACI's or its affiliates' other assets or businesses, or (iii) in ACI's reasonable judgment would be expected to have a material adverse impact on any of its or its subsidiaries' businesses or the businesses to be acquired by it pursuant to the merger agreement, either individually or in the aggregate, except that ACI will agree to the sale, divestiture or disposition of any assets of Rite Aid or its subsidiaries that do not exceed $45 million in retail four-wall EBITDA if necessary or advisable in order to obtain any required antitrust consents.

In addition, the parties to the merger agreement will not, and will not permit any of their respective subsidiaries to, engage in, publicly propose or enter into any transaction that would reasonably be expected to (i) result in any material delay in the obtaining or materially increase the risk of not obtaining any required consent from any governmental entity with respect to the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement or (ii) materially increase the risk of any governmental entity entering a legal restraint prohibiting or materially delaying the consummation of the mergers or the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. In addition, ACI may not enter into a transaction that would materially and adversely impact the ability of ACI, Merger Sub I or Merger Sub II to obtain the debt financing contemplated by the merger agreement (or alternative financing in lieu thereof).

If any objections are asserted with respect to the merger or the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement under any antitrust law or if any suit or proceeding, whether judicial or administrative, is instituted by any governmental entity or other person challenging the merger or other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement under any antitrust law, each of ACI and Rite Aid will use its reasonable best efforts to: (i) oppose or defend against any action to prevent or enjoin consummation of the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, and/or (ii) take such action as reasonably necessary to overturn any legal restraint or regulatory action by any governmental entity to block consummation of the merger or the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including by defending any suit, action, or other legal proceeding through litigation on the merits of any claim asserted by any governmental entity or other person in order to avoid entry of, or to have vacated, overturned or terminated, including by appeal if necessary, in order to resolve any such objections or challenge as such governmental entity or other person may have to such transactions under such antitrust law so as to permit consummation of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement prior to the end date in the merger agreement. ACI and Rite Aid have agreed to cooperate with one another in connection with all proceedings related to the foregoing.

In addition, ACI and Rite Aid each agreed to:

no later than February 26, 2018, make appropriate filings of Notification and Report Forms pursuant to the HSR Act, which the parties filed on February 26, 2018;

as promptly as practicable (unless a later time is mutually agreed between the parties), make appropriate filings with appropriate insurance governmental entities;

as promptly as practicable and advisable, make appropriate filings under any healthcare law or insurance law that are necessary or advisable in connection with the mergers or any of the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement; and as promptly as practicable and advisable, prepare and submit all other filings, notifications, information updates and other presentations required by or in connection with seeking, and obtain, all consents from any governmental entity or other third party, in each case that are necessary or advisable in connection with the mergers or any of the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, and to assist and cooperate with the other party in connection with the foregoing, except that Rite Aid will have no obligation to amend or modify any contract or pay any fee to any third party for the purpose of obtaining any such consent, or pay any costs and expenses of any third party resulting from the process of obtaining such consent.

Subject to the limitations on divestitures described above, each of ACI, on the one hand, and Rite Aid, on the other hand, will in connection with the reasonable best efforts referenced above, as applicable:

cooperate in all respects with each other and their respective representatives in connection with any filing or submission and in connection with any proceeding by or before a governmental entity, including any proceeding initiated by a private party;

promptly inform the other party and/or its counsel, and provide copies, of any substantive communication received by such party from, or given by such party to, the FTC, the DOJ or any other governmental entity or such private party, in each case regarding any such filing, submission, proceeding or the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement;

comply, as early as practicable and advisable, with any request for additional information, documents or other materials received by such party or any of its subsidiaries from the FTC, the DOJ or any such other governmental entity, and without limiting the foregoing, to the extent there is a Request for Additional Information from the FTC or DOJ, which we refer to as a second request, following the HSR Act filing, the parties will certify substantial compliance with the second request no later than one hundred twenty (120) days following receipt of the second request; not directly or indirectly extend any waiting period under the HSR Act except with the prior written consent of the other party (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed);

permit the other party and/or its counsel to review and discuss reasonably in advance, and consider in good faith the views of the other party and/or its counsel in connection with, any proposed substantive communication to be given by it to the DOJ, the FTC or any such other governmental entity or, in connection with any proceeding by such private party, any other person; and to the extent not prohibited by the DOJ, the FTC or such other governmental entity, give the other party and/or its counsel reasonable advance notice of any in-person meeting, and any conference call that is initiated by such party or scheduled in advance, with such governmental entity or such private party and not participate independently therein without first giving the other party and/or its counsel reasonable opportunity to attend and participate therein or, in the event such other party and/or its counsel does not attend or participate therein, consulting with such other party and/or its counsel reasonably in advance and considering in good faith the views of such other party and/or its counsel in connection therewith.

ACI and Rite Aid have agreed to cooperate to make all strategic decisions and jointly undertake all discussions, negotiations and other proceedings, and coordinate all activities with respect to any requests that may be made by, or any actions, consents, undertakings, approvals, or waivers that may be sought by or from, any governmental entity, including determining the strategy for contesting, litigating or otherwise responding to objections to, or proceedings challenging, the consummation of the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. Neither Rite Aid nor ACI will permit any of its representatives to, make any offer, acceptance or counter-offer to or otherwise engage in negotiations or discussions with any governmental entity with respect to any proposed settlement, consent decree, commitment or remedy or, in the event of litigation, discovery, admissibility of evidence, timing or scheduling without consent from the other party, except that Rite

Aid's consent with respect to any offer made by ACI to any governmental entity, or ACI's acceptance of any offer made by any governmental entity, in each case, with respect to the sale, divestiture or disposition of any assets of Rite Aid or its subsidiaries necessary or advisable in order to obtain any required antitrust consents that exceeds the $45 million in retail four-wall EBITDA threshold described above will not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. ACI will not be required to pay a termination fee of $65 million to Rite Aid if ACI confirms in writing that ACI is willing to agree to the sale, divestiture or disposition of assets of Rite Aid or its subsidiaries in excess of such $45 million in retail four-wall EBITDA threshold in order to obtain any required antitrust consents and Rite Aid determines not to agree to such a sale, divestiture or disposition. See the section entitled "Termination of the Merger Agreement - Termination Fees" beginning on page 180 of this proxy statement/prospectus for more information.

Employees and Employee Benefits

For the twelve (12) month period following the completion of the merger (or, if shorter, during an employee's period of employment following the closing), ACI has agreed to provide, or cause the surviving company to provide, to the employees of Rite Aid or its subsidiaries who are not represented by a labor organization and who continue to be employed by Rite Aid or the surviving company or any subsidiary or affiliate thereof, which we refer to as the continuing non-union employees:

the same base salary and wage rate as the base salary and wage rate provided to such continuing non-union employee immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, employee incentive compensation opportunities, but excluding equity incentive compensation opportunities, that are no less favorable in the aggregate than the incentive compensation opportunities provided to such continuing non-union employees immediately prior to the effective time of the merger;

equity incentive compensation opportunities that are no less favorable than the equity incentive compensation opportunities provided to comparable employees of ACI who are not represented by a labor organization immediately following the effective time of the merger; and employee benefits that are substantially comparable in the aggregate (including with respect to the proportion of employee cost) to the employee benefits provided to such continuing non-union employees immediately prior to the effective time of the merger.

Following the completion of the merger, the surviving company will observe the terms of all existing collective bargaining agreements that govern the wages, hours and other terms and conditions of employment of employees of Rite Aid or its subsidiaries who are covered by such collective bargaining agreements and who continued to be employed by the surviving company or any subsidiary or affiliate thereof, which we refer to as the continuing union-represented employees.

For the twelve (12) month period following the completion of the merger, ACI has agreed to provide, or cause the surviving company to provide, to the continuing non-union employees, severance benefits which are no less favorable than those set forth on Rite Aid's confidential disclosure schedules. From and after the effective time of the merger, ACI had agreed to cause the surviving company and its subsidiaries to honor Rite Aid's employee benefit plans and arrangements set forth on Rite Aid's confidential disclosure schedules; except that the surviving company may amend or terminate any such employee benefit plan and arrangement in accordance with its terms. ACI and Rite Aid have agreed that the occurrence of the closing of the merger will constitute a Change in Control for purposes of the Rite Aid stock plans, employee benefit plans and arrangements and related trusts set forth on Rite Aid's confidential disclosure schedules.

With respect to each benefit plan, program, practice, policy or arrangement maintained by ACI following the effective time of the merger and in which any of the continuing non-union employees or continuing union-represented employees, which we refer to as the continuing employees, participate, which we refer to as the ACI plans, and except to the extent necessary to avoid duplication of benefits, for purposes of determining eligibility to participate, vesting, accrual of and entitlement to benefits (but not for accrual of or entitlement to pension benefits, post-employment or retiree welfare benefits, special or early retirement programs or window separation programs), service with Rite Aid (or predecessor employers to the extent Rite Aid provides or has recognized past service credit) will be treated as service with ACI. Each applicable ACI plan will waive eligibility waiting periods and pre-existing condition limitations to the extent waived or not included under the corresponding Rite Aid plan. ACI will use commercially reasonable efforts to give the continuing employees credit under the applicable ACI plan for amounts paid prior to the effective time of the merger during the calendar year in which the effective time of the merger occurs under a corresponding Rite Aid plan for purposes of applying deductibles, copayments and out-of-pocket maximums as though such amounts had been paid in accordance with the terms and conditions of the ACI plan.

Directors and Officers Indemnification and Insurance

For six (6) years from and after the effective time of the merger, the surviving company will indemnify and hold harmless each present and former director, officer and employee of Rite Aid or any of its subsidiaries (in each case, when acting or having acted in such capacity), determined as of the effective time of the merger, against any costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees), judgments, fines, losses, claims, damages or liabilities incurred in connection with any proceeding arising out of matters existing or occurring at or prior to the effective time of the merger, to the fullest extent that Rite Aid would have been permitted under applicable law, the organizational documents of Rite Aid or its subsidiaries, as applicable, and any indemnification agreements with any directors, officers and employees of Rite Aid or any of its subsidiaries in effect on the date of the merger agreement to indemnify such person (and the surviving company will also advance expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses) as incurred to the fullest extent permitted under applicable law; provided that the person to whom expenses are advanced provides an undertaking to repay such advances if it is ultimately determined that such person is not entitled to indemnification).

Prior to the effective time of the merger, Rite Aid will be permitted to and, if Rite Aid fails to do so, ACI will cause the surviving company as of the effective time of the merger to, obtain and fully pay for tail insurance policies for the extension of the directors and officers liability coverage of Rite Aid's existing directors and officers insurance policies for a claims reporting or discovery period of at least six (6) years from and after the effective time of the merger, that will be from an insurance carrier with the same or better credit rating as Rite Aid's insurance carrier as of the date of the merger agreement with respect to directors and officers liability insurance with benefits and levels of coverage (including terms relating thereto) that are at least as favorable as Rite Aid's existing policies with respect to matters existing or occurring prior to the effective time of the merger (including in connection with the merger agreement, the mergers or the transactions contemplated thereby). In no event will Rite Aid expend, or will ACI or the surviving company be required to expend, for such policies an aggregate premium amount in excess of three hundred percent (300%) of the annual premiums currently paid by Rite Aid for such insurance. If Rite Aid and the surviving company for any reason fail to obtain such tail insurance policies as of the effective time of the merger, (i) the surviving company will, and ACI will cause the surviving company to, continue to maintain in effect for a period of at least six (6) years from and after the effective time of the merger the directors and officers insurance in place as of the date of the merger agreement with benefits and levels of coverage (including terms relating thereto) that are at least as favorable as provided in Rite Aid's existing policies as of the date of the merger agreement, or (ii) the surviving company will, and ACI will cause the surviving company to, obtain directors and officers insurance for such six (6) year period with benefits and levels of coverage (including terms relating thereto) that are at least as favorable as Rite Aid's existing policies as of the date of the merger agreement. However, in no event will ACI or the surviving company be required to expend for such policies an annual premium amount in excess of three hundred percent (300%) of the annual premiums currently paid by Rite Aid for such insurance. If the annual premiums of such insurance coverage exceed such amount, the surviving company will obtain a policy with the best available coverage for a cost not exceeding such amount. The surviving company will maintain such policies in full force and effect, and continue to honor the obligations thereunder for a period of not less than six (6) years from and after the effective time of the merger.

Please see the section entitled "Description of ACI Capital Stock Limitation of Liability of Officers and Directors; Indemnification" beginning on page 328 of this proxy statement/prospectus for additional information.

Transaction Litigation

Subject to entry into a customary joint defense agreement, each of Rite Aid and ACI will give the other party the opportunity to consult regarding, and participate in the defense of, any litigation related to the merger agreement, the merger or the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement brought by a stockholder of such party against such party or any member of the board of directors of such party after the date of the merger agreement and prior to the effective time of the merger, and each of Rite Aid and ACI will not settle or agree to settle any such transaction litigation without the other party's prior written consent (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), subject to certain exceptions.

Financing

The merger agreement contains certain other covenants and agreements regarding SEC reporting and financial cooperation, including:

Prior to the effective time of the merger, Rite Aid and ACI will use all reasonable efforts to take such steps as may be reasonably necessary or advisable to cause any dispositions of Rite Aid equity securities (including derivative securities) or acquisitions of ACI equity securities (including derivative securities) pursuant to, or resulting from, the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement by each individual who is subject to the reporting requirements of Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act with respect to Rite Aid (or will become subject to the reporting requirements with respect to ACI) to be exempt under Rule 16b-3 promulgated under the Exchange Act.

Rite Aid will, and will cause its subsidiaries and its and their respective representatives to, use its and their respective commercially reasonable efforts to provide such cooperation as may be reasonably requested by ACI, Merger Sub I or Merger Sub II in connection with the Financing, subject to certain specified limitations under the merger agreement.

As soon as reasonably practicable after the receipt of any written request by ACI to do so, and without limiting Rite Aid's ability to otherwise redeem, repurchase, tender, discharge or make an asset sale offer, Rite Aid will take all actions and prepare and deliver all other documents (including any officers certificates and legal opinions) as may be reasonably required under the applicable Rite Aid indenture (i) to issue a notice of redemption for all of the outstanding aggregate principal amount of the applicable series of the Rite Aid Notes (together with all accrued and unpaid interest and applicable premiums related to such series of such Rite Aid

Notes) pursuant to the applicable provisions of the applicable Rite Aid indentures, which we refer to as the redemptions, except that such notice will not be required to be issued by Rite Aid prior to the effective time of the merger unless the redemption provided for in such notice is conditioned on the occurrence of the effective time of the merger and such condition is permitted under the applicable Rite Aid indenture governing the series of Rite Aid Notes that are the subject of such redemption as determined by Rite Aid after consultation with its legal counsel and (ii) (a) subject to the bullet immediately below, with respect to the 2020 Rite Aid Notes (which were fully redeemed on April 12, 2018) and 2021 Rite Aid Notes, irrevocably depositing with the applicable trustee on the closing date funds sufficient to pay in full the then outstanding aggregate principal amount of, accrued and unpaid interest through the redemption date on, and applicable premiums or consent payments related to, such series of Rite Aid Notes and to take such other actions as are necessary to cause the satisfaction and discharge of the applicable Rite Aid indentures and such series of Rite Aid Notes substantially concurrently with the closing and (b) with respect to the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, take such actions as are necessary to cause the satisfaction and discharge of the applicable Rite Aid indentures and such series of Rite Aid Notes substantially concurrently with the closing, subject to the irrevocable deposit by ACI with the applicable trustee on the closing date of funds sufficient to pay in full the then outstanding aggregate principal amount of, accrued and unpaid interest through the redemption date on, and applicable premiums or consent payments related to, such series of Rite Aid Notes, as arranged by ACI, after giving effect to the net cash proceeds from the transactions contemplated by the WBA asset purchase agreement available therefor, less the payoff amounts for Rite Aid's credit agreement, and with respect to the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, the amounts deposited with the applicable trustees.

In the event that there remains any outstanding amounts or obligations under the Rite Aid Notes or Rite Aid's credit agreement following Rite Aid's use of the net cash proceeds received under the WBA asset purchase agreement, ACI will make available to Rite Aid on or prior to the effective time of the merger all funds necessary to satisfy any such remaining obligations under such Rite Aid Notes and Rite Aid's credit agreement.

ACI will make available to Rite Aid on or prior to the effective time of the merger all funds necessary to satisfy any obligations of Rite Aid to Rite Aid's debt holders under the Rite Aid Notes that may arise as a result of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including any funds necessary to complete the redemption of any Rite Aid Notes.

To the extent Rite Aid's credit agreement has not previously been discharged or terminated on or prior to the second (2nd) business day prior to the closing date, Rite Aid will use its reasonable best efforts to cause the agent under the credit agreement to deliver to ACI a copy of a draft payoff letter, in customary form evidencing the termination of security interests and release of guarantees upon the repayment of all outstanding obligations payable thereunder and the termination of all commitments thereunder.

ACI will, promptly upon written request by Rite Aid, reimburse Rite Aid for all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket costs, fees and expenses (including attorneys' fees and expenses) to the extent such costs, fees and expenses are incurred by Rite Aid, its subsidiaries or their respective representatives in connection with any such party complying with the obligations under the financing cooperation covenant and the redemptions covenant, and ACI will indemnify and hold harmless Rite Aid, its subsidiaries and their respective representatives from and against any and all losses, damages, claims, interest, awards, judgments, penalties, costs or expenses suffered or incurred by them to the extent such losses, damages, claims, interest, awards, judgments, penalties, costs or expenses arose out of the actions taken by Rite Aid, its subsidiaries or their respective representatives pursuant to the financing cooperation covenant and the redemptions covenant (other than information provided by Rite Aid, its subsidiaries or representatives in writing), except in the event such losses, damages, claims, interest, awards, judgments, penalties, costs or expenses are determined by a final non-appealable judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction to have arisen out of or resulted from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of Rite Aid, any of its subsidiaries or any of their respective representatives.

Corporate Governance Covenants

ACI Board of Directors

The ACI board of directors will cause the number of directors that will constitute the full ACI board of directors at the effective time of the merger to be nine (9). The ACI board of directors at the effective time of the merger will be composed of: (i) Robert G. Miller, who was selected to be Chairman, and Lenard B. Tessler, who was selected to be Lead Director (provided, however, that if either Mr. Miller or Mr. Tessler is unable to so serve, their replacement will be designated in writing by ACI); (ii) John T. Standley (provided, however, that if Mr. Standley is unable to so serve, his replacement will be designated in writing by Rite Aid); (iii) two (2) directors designated in writing by ACI, at least one of whom will qualify as independent under the listing rules of the NYSE and will not be a partner or employee of Cerberus or its affiliates (including its portfolio companies), or of a co-investor in ACI (or its affiliates (including its portfolio companies)) as of immediately prior to the mergers; (iv) three (3) directors designated in writing by Rite Aid, each of whom will qualify as independent under the listing rules of the NYSE; and (v) one (1) director jointly designed by ACI and Rite Aid, who will qualify as independent under the listing rules of the NYSE and who will not be a partner or employee of Cerberus or its affiliates (including its portfolio companies), or of a co-investor in ACI (or its affiliates (including its portfolio companies)) as of immediately prior to the mergers.

Subject to the foregoing paragraph (and not in addition to the foregoing paragraph), ACI's Board of Directors will take all necessary action to nominate and cause, from and after the effective time of the merger:

until such time as Cerberus ceases to hold at least ten percent (10%) of the issued and outstanding shares of ACI common stock, two (2) individuals designated in writing by Cerberus to be elected to ACI's Board of Directors; and from and after the time that Cerberus ceases to hold at least ten percent (10%) of the issued and outstanding shares of ACI common stock and until such time as Cerberus ceases to hold at least five percent (5%) of the issued and outstanding shares of ACI common stock, one (1) individual designated in writing by Cerberus to be elected to ACI's Board of Directors.

Subject to the first paragraph of this section, until such time as Cerberus ceases to hold at least fifteen percent (15%) of the issued and outstanding shares of ACI common stock, ACI's Board of Directors will take all necessary action to cause a director designated in writing by Cerberus to be elected as Lead Director and if Robert Miller has ceased to be Chairman, a director designated by Cerberus to be Chairman, provided that either the Lead Director or the Chairman will qualify as independent under the listing rules of the NYSE and will not be a partner or employee of Cerberus or its affiliates (including its portfolio companies) or of a co-investor in ACI (or its affiliates (including its portfolio companies)) as of immediately prior to the mergers.

From and after the time that Cerberus ceases to hold at least fifteen percent (15%) of the issued and outstanding shares of ACI common stock and until such time as Cerberus ceases to hold at least ten percent (10%) of the issued and outstanding shares of ACI common stock, ACI's Board of Directors will take all action necessary to cause a director designated in writing by Cerberus to be elected as Lead Director.

Corporate Headquarters

Immediately after the effective time of the merger, ACI will have co-corporate headquarters in Boise, Idaho, and in the Harrisburg, Pennsylvania metropolitan area.

Table of ContentsTermination of Agreements

Prior to the effective time of the merger, ACI will (i) terminate the ACI stockholders agreement and any other agreement with respect to the voting of any capital stock or voting securities of, or voting of other equity interests in, ACI, without any continuing liabilities or obligations for ACI, Rite Aid or any of their subsidiaries, other than the registration rights agreement and lock-up agreements to be entered into pursuant to the merger agreement, and (ii) take all action necessary to terminate or amend any agreement to which ACI or any of its subsidiaries is a party that provides for the payment of a management fee or any other payments to any stockholder of ACI such that no management fees or any other payments remain payable to any stockholder of ACI after February 18, 2018.

Assumption of Certain Obligations

ACI will, upon consummation of the mergers, assume (including by operation of law) any remaining obligations of Rite Aid under the WBA asset purchase agreement, the Transition Services Agreement, dated as of October 17, 2017, by and between Rite Aid and Walgreen Co. and the Transitional Trademark License Agreement, dated as of October 17, 2017, by and among Rite Aid, Walgreen Co. and Name Rite, L.L.C.

Use of Proceeds

An amount equal to the net proceeds received by Rite Aid under the WBA asset purchase agreement will be, or will have been, used to (i) redeem or otherwise repurchase the 2020 Rite Aid Notes and the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, (ii) effect a pre-effective time redemption of the Rite Aid Notes, (iii) pay down amounts due under the Rite Aid credit agreement, Rite Aid's Tranche 1 Term Loan due August 2020, or Rite Aid's Tranche 2 Term Loan due June 2021, or (iv) extinguish current liabilities associated with the stores sold and employees transferred to the extent such liabilities exceed current assets retained associated with the stores sold. Notwithstanding the foregoing, pending application of such net cash proceeds, Rite Aid may temporarily reduce its credit agreement borrowings without a reduction in commitments. Rite Aid has repaid the Tranche I Term Loan and Tranche II Term Loan in full. On February 27, 2018, Rite Aid announced that it had commenced an offer to purchase up to $900,000,000 of the outstanding Rite Aid Notes, pursuant to the asset sale provisions of the indentures of the Rite Aid Notes. On March 29, 2018, Rite Aid accepted for payment, pursuant to its offer to purchase, $3,454,000 principal amount of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.38% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes, $3,471,000 principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.43% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, and $41,751,000 principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, representing 2.32% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes. On April 12, 2018, Rite Aid redeemed all of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes that remained outstanding pursuant to the terms of the indenture of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes. On April 19, 2018, Rite Aid announced that it had commenced a similar asset sale offer to purchase up to $700,000,000 of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes and the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, pursuant to the respective indentures governing the 2021 Rite Aid Notes and the 2023 Rite Aid Notes. On May 21, 2018, Rite Aid accepted for payment, pursuant to its offer to purchase, $1,360,000 principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.17% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, and $4,759,000 principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, representing 0.27% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes. On May 25, 2018, Rite Aid announced that it had issued a notice of redemption for all $805,169,000 aggregate principal amount of the outstanding 2021 Rite Aid Notes on June 25, 2018, pursuant to the terms of the indenture of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes.

Share Limitation

Immediately prior to the effective time of the merger, (i) ACI will have no shares of ACI preferred stock and no more than 282,877,942 shares of ACI common stock (including any phantom units and management incentive units) and (ii) Rite Aid will have no shares of Rite Aid preferred stock and no more than 1,118,750,658 shares of Rite Aid common stock (assuming Rite Aid's tax benefits preservation plan (which the Rite Aid board of directors terminated effective as of March 27, 2018) has not been triggered and not including any restricted stock unit that by its terms provides for settlement in cash), in each case, outstanding on a fully diluted, as converted and as exercised basis.

Conditions to Completion of the Mergers

The respective obligations of Rite Aid, ACI, Merger Sub I and Merger Sub II to effect the mergers are subject to the satisfaction (or, to the extent permitted by applicable law, waiver by each of Rite Aid and ACI) at or prior to the closing of the following conditions:

receipt of Rite Aid stockholder approval to adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby;

no law or injunction (whether temporary, preliminary or permanent) has been enacted, entered, promulgated or enforced by any governmental entity of competent jurisdiction that prevents, makes illegal, prohibits, restrains or enjoins the consummation of the mergers, which we refer to as the Legal Restraints Condition;

the waiting period (and any extension thereof) applicable to the consummation of the mergers under the HSR Act has expired or been earlier terminated (which condition was satisfied on March 28, 2018);

shares of ACI common stock to be issued in the merger and such other shares to be reserved for issuance in connection with the merger have been approved for listing on the NYSE, subject to official notice of issuance (which approval was obtained on June 21, 2018);

the Form S-4 has become effective under the Securities Act, and no stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Form S-4 has been issued and no proceedings for that purpose will have been initiated by the SEC;

Rite Aid has received no less than $4.076 billion of gross proceeds under the WBA asset purchase agreement (which condition was satisfied on March 13, 2018); and the approval of a Form A application with the Ohio Department of Insurance for ACI and its applicable stockholder(s) (which was filed on April 24, 2018).

The obligations of ACI, Merger Sub I and Merger Sub II to effect the mergers are further subject to the satisfaction (or, to the extent permitted by applicable law, waiver by ACI) at or prior to the closing of the following conditions:

the representations and warranties of Rite Aid relating to certain organization and qualification matters, authority, the absence of certain changes and events and brokers are true and correct as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the closing date (except to the extent that any such representation and warranty expressly speaks as of an earlier date, in which case such representation and warranty will be true and correct as of such earlier date);

the representations and warranties of Rite Aid relating to certain capitalization matters are true and correct (except for de minimis inaccuracies) as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the closing date as though made on and as of such date and time (except to the extent that any such representation and warranty expressly speaks as of an earlier date, in which case such representation and warranty is true and correct in all but de minimis respects as of such earlier date);

each of the representations and warranties of Rite Aid, other than those specifically identified in the two immediately preceding bullets, is true and correct as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the closing date as though made on and as of such date and time (except to the extent that any such representation and warranty expressly speaks as of an earlier date, in which case such representation and warranty is true and correct as of such earlier date), except to the extent the failure of such representations and warranties of Rite Aid to be so true and correct (without giving effect to any material adverse effect, materiality or similar qualifications contained therein), individually or in the aggregate, has had or would reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect with respect to Rite Aid;

Rite Aid has performed in all material respects each of the obligations, and complied in all material respects with each of the agreements and covenants, required to be performed by, or complied with by, it under the merger agreement at or prior to the closing;

since the date of the merger agreement, there has not occurred a material adverse effect with respect to Rite Aid;

ACI has received a certificate of the Chief Executive Officer or the Chief Financial Officer of Rite Aid, certifying that the conditions set forth in the five preceding bullet points have been satisfied; and

Rite Aid has received an opinion of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP, tax counsel to Rite Aid, on the basis of certain facts, representations and assumptions set forth in such opinion, dated as of the date on which the effective time occurs, to the effect that the mergers, taken together, will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code.

The obligation of Rite Aid to effect the mergers is further subject to the satisfaction (or, to the extent permitted by applicable law, waiver by Rite Aid) at or prior to the closing of the following conditions:

the representations and warranties of ACI, Merger Sub I and Merger Sub II relating to certain organization matters, authority, absence of certain changes and events and brokers are true and correct as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the closing date as though made on and as of such date and time (except to the extent that any such representation and warranty expressly speaks as of an earlier date, in which case such representation and warranty is true and correct as of such earlier date);

the representations and warranties of ACI, Merger Sub I and Merger Sub II relating to certain capitalization matters are true and correct (except for de minimis inaccuracies) as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the closing date as though made on and as of such date and time (except to the extent that any such representation and warranty expressly speaks as of an earlier date, in which case such representation and warranty is true and correct in all but de minimis respects as of such earlier date);

the representations and warranties of ACI set forth in the merger agreement (other than those identified in the preceding two bullets) are true and correct, in each case as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the closing date as though made on and as of such date (except to the extent that any such representation or warranty expressly speaks as of an earlier date, in which case such representation and warranty is true and correct as of such earlier date), except to the extent the failure of such representations and warranties of ACI to be so true and correct (without giving effect to any material adverse effect, materiality or similar qualifications contained therein), individually or in the aggregate, has had or would reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect with respect to ACI;

each of ACI, Merger Sub I and Merger Sub II has performed in all material respects each of the obligations, and complied in all material respects with each of the agreements and covenants, required to be performed by, or complied with by, it under the merger agreement at or prior to the closing;

since the date of the merger agreement, there has not occurred a material adverse effect with respect to ACI;

Rite Aid has received a certificate of the Chief Executive Officer or the Chief Financial Officer of ACI, certifying that the conditions set forth in the five preceding bullet points have been satisfied;

ACI has received an opinion of Schulte Roth & Zabel LLP, tax counsel to ACI, on the basis of certain facts, representations and assumptions set forth in such opinion, dated as of the date on which the effective time occurs, to the effect that the mergers, taken together, will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code;

Albertsons Investor Holdings LLC has distributed all ACI common stock held by it to its respective equity holders; and ACI has delivered to Rite Aid the lock-up agreement, no action agreement and the standstill agreement, in each case substantially in the form attached to the merger agreement and such agreements remain in full force in effect as of the closing.

Termination of the Merger Agreement

Termination

The merger agreement may be terminated and the merger may be abandoned at any time prior to the effective time of the merger:

By the mutual written consent of ACI and Rite Aid;

by either ACI or Rite Aid:

if any court of competent jurisdiction or other governmental entity has issued a legal restraint that prevents, makes illegal, prohibits, restrains or enjoins the consummation of the mergers and such legal restraint is or will become final and nonappealable, except this termination right will not be available to a party whose breach of the merger agreement was the primary cause of, or primarily resulted in, the issuance of such legal restraint, which we refer to as the Legal Restraint Termination Right;

if the effective time of the merger has not occurred on or before August 18, 2018, which we refer to as the end date, except that this termination right will not be available to a party whose breach of the merger agreement was the primary cause of, or primarily resulted in, the failure of the effective time of the merger to occur on or before the end date; provided that either party may extend the end date to November 18, 2018 if on August 18, 2018 all of the conditions set forth in the merger agreement have been satisfied (or, with respect to the conditions that by their terms must be satisfied at the closing, would have been so satisfied if the closing would have occurred) or remain capable of being satisfied except for certain closing conditions relating to Rite Aid stockholder approval (due to the Rite Aid stockholders meeting not having been held yet), the antitrust consents, the Form S-4 effectiveness and the Form A application with the Ohio Department of Insurance, which we refer to as the End Date Termination Right; or if Rite Aid's stockholders do not adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby at the stockholders meeting or at any adjournment or postponement of the stockholders meeting at which a vote on the adoption of the merger agreement was taken, which we refer to as the Stockholder Vote Termination Right.

by Rite Aid:

if there has been a breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement contained in the merger agreement by ACI, Merger Sub I or Merger Sub II, or if any such representation or warranty has become inaccurate, such that the closing conditions relating to the accuracy of the representations and warranties of ACI, Merger Sub I and Merger Sub II and performance of the obligations of ACI, Merger Sub I and Merger Sub II would not be satisfied, and such breach or inaccuracy has not been cured within thirty (30) days after the receipt of notice thereof or such breach or inaccuracy is not reasonably capable of being cured within such period; or prior to obtaining the Rite Aid stockholder approval, if (i) the Rite Aid board of directors has, after complying with its obligations with respect to acquisition proposals, entered into a definitive agreement in connection with a superior proposal concurrently with such termination and (ii) Rite Aid pays to ACI the termination fee under the merger agreement of $65 million; which we refer to as the Rite Aid Alternative Acquisition Termination Right;

by ACI:

if there has been a breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement contained in the merger agreement by Rite Aid, or if any such representation or warranty has become inaccurate, such that the closing conditions relating to the accuracy of the representations and warranties of Rite Aid and performance of the obligations of Rite Aid would not be satisfied, and such breach or inaccuracy has not been cured within thirty (30) days after the receipt of notice thereof or such breach or inaccuracy is not reasonably capable of being cured within such period, which we refer to as the Obligations of Rite Aid Termination Right; or if prior to obtaining stockholder approval of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, the Rite Aid board of directors effects a change of recommendation, which we refer to as the ACI Change of Recommendation Termination Right.

Effect of Termination

If the merger agreement is terminated as described in the section entitled Termination beginning on page 178 of this proxy statement/prospectus, the merger agreement will be void and have no effect, and there will not be any liability or obligation on the part of any party, except that:

no termination will affect the obligations of the parties contained in the confidentiality agreement or the Clean Team Agreement, dated as of November 17, 2017, by and between Rite Aid, together with its subsidiaries and affiliates, and Albertsons Companies, LLC, together with its subsidiaries and affiliates, including Cerberus;

no termination will relieve any party from liability for damages resulting from fraud or willful breach (as described below) prior to such termination, in which case the aggrieved party will be entitled to all rights and remedies available at law or in equity; and certain other provisions of the merger agreement, including (i) covenants with respect to publicity concerning the transaction and (ii) provisions with respect to the allocation of fees and expenses, including, if applicable, the termination fees described below, will survive such termination.

For the purpose of the merger agreement, the term willful breach means a material breach of, or failure to perform any of the covenants or other agreements contained in, the merger agreement that is a consequence of an act or failure to act by the breaching or non-performing party with actual knowledge, or knowledge that a person acting reasonably under the circumstances should have, that such party's act or failure to act would, or would be reasonably expected to, result in or constitute a breach of or failure of performance under the merger agreement. In addition, the failure, for any reason, of ACI, Merger Sub I or Merger Sub II to consummate the mergers and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement on the date that the closing is required to occur constitutes a willful breach of the merger agreement.

Termination Fees

Under the merger agreement, Rite Aid will be required to pay a termination fee of $65 million (less ACI expenses of up to $10 million, to the extent previously paid by Rite Aid) in connection with a termination of the merger agreement under the following circumstances:

in the event the merger agreement is terminated by Rite Aid pursuant to the Rite Aid Alternative Acquisition Termination Right;

in the event the merger agreement is terminated by ACI pursuant to the ACI Change of Recommendation Termination Right (provided that such termination was not the result of a material adverse effect on ACI); or in the event the merger agreement is terminated by Rite Aid or ACI pursuant to the Stockholder Vote Termination Right or End Date Termination Right or by ACI pursuant to the Obligations of Rite Aid Termination Right, and in either such case prior to such termination, any person has publicly announced an intention to make an acquisition proposal, or an acquisition proposal has otherwise become publicly known, and within twelve (12) months after such termination, (i) Rite Aid or any of its subsidiaries enter into a definitive agreement with respect to such acquisition proposal or (ii) an acquisition proposal is consummated involving Rite Aid or any of its subsidiaries, provided that for the purposes of this bullet, references to twenty percent (20%) in the definition of acquisition proposal are deemed to be references to fifty percent (50%).

Under the merger agreement, ACI will be required to pay a termination fee of $65 million in the event the merger agreement is terminated by ACI or Rite Aid pursuant to (i) the Legal Restraint Termination Right if the applicable legal restraint giving rise to such termination right is issued under or pursuant to any antitrust law or (ii) the End Date Termination Right, in each case of (i) and (ii), if on the termination date the only conditions to closing that have not been satisfied (other than those conditions that by their nature are to be satisfied at the closing which conditions would be capable of being satisfied at the closing if the closing date were on the termination date) are the Legal Restraints Condition (and the applicable legal restraint causing the Legal Restraints Condition not to be satisfied is issued under or pursuant to any antitrust law) and/or the condition that the applicable waiting periods under the HSR Act have expired or been earlier terminated. Notwithstanding the foregoing, ACI will not be required to pay a termination fee of $65 million to Rite Aid if ACI confirms in writing that ACI is willing to agree to the sale, divestiture or disposition of assets of Rite Aid or its subsidiaries in excess of the threshold of $45 million in retail four-wall EBITDA, described in the section entitled Further Action; Efforts beginning on page 167 of this proxy statement/prospectus, in order to obtain any required antitrust consents and Rite Aid determines not to agree to such a sale, divestiture or disposition.

In no event will Rite Aid or ACI be required to pay the termination fees described above on more than one occasion. Except in the case of fraud or willful breach, in the event the termination fee becomes payable and is actually paid to the other party, the payment of the termination fee (and any expense reimbursement payments) will be the sole and exclusive remedy of the party that receives the termination fee against the other party relating to or arising out of the merger agreement or the transactions contemplated thereby.

Expense Reimbursement

If the merger agreement is terminated by either Rite Aid or ACI pursuant to the Stockholder Vote Termination Right, and, prior to the Rite Aid stockholder vote having not been obtained, (i) an acquisition proposal has been publicly announced and (ii) the Rite Aid board of directors has made a change of recommendation or taken no position on such acquisition proposal, then Rite Aid will be required to reimburse ACI (or its designee) for up to $10 million of the documented out-of-pocket expenses incurred by ACI, Merger Sub I or Merger Sub II in connection with or related to the authorization, preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. The amount of any termination fee payable by Rite Aid to ACI would be reduced by any such expense reimbursement amount paid.

Expenses

Except for the provisions described above under Expense Reimbursement beginning on page 180 and as specifically provided in the merger agreement, each party will bear its own expenses in connection with the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby.

Amendment and Waiver

Amendment

Subject to the provisions of applicable law, at any time prior to the effective time of the merger, the parties to the merger agreement (by action of their respective boards of directors) may modify, amend or supplement the merger agreement only by written agreement, executed and delivered by duly authorized officers of the respective parties; provided, however, that unless otherwise agreed by the parties, after the Rite Aid stockholder approval has been obtained there will be no amendment of the merger agreement that would require the further approval of the stockholders of Rite Aid under applicable law without such approval having first been obtained.

Waiver

At any time prior to the effective time of the merger, the parties to the merger agreement may:

extend the time for the performance of any of the obligations or other acts of the other parties to the merger agreement;

waive any inaccuracies in the representations and warranties contained in the merger agreement or in any document delivered pursuant to the merger agreement; and subject to the requirements of applicable law, waive compliance with any of the agreements or conditions contained in the merger agreement.

Governing Law

The merger agreement is governed by the laws of the state of Delaware (without giving effect to choice of law principles thereof).

Specific Performance

The parties are entitled to injunctions, specific performance and other equitable relief to prevent breaches or threatened breaches of the merger agreement and to enforce specifically the terms of the merger agreement in addition to any other remedy to which they are entitled at law or equity. The right of Rite Aid to seek specific performance, injunctive relief or other equitable remedies in connection with enforcing the obligation to cause the debt financing to be funded, including by demanding ACI and/or Merger Sub I enforce its rights against the parties to the debt commitment letter, in order to consummate the closing, will be subject to the requirements that (i) all the conditions in the merger agreement have been satisfied (and continue to be satisfied) or waived (other than those conditions that by their terms are to be satisfied at the closing but subject to the satisfaction or waiver of those conditions at closing) at the time when the closing would have occurred (not taking into account the failure of the Financing to be funded) or been required to occur pursuant to the merger agreement and (ii) all of the conditions to the consummation of the debt financing provided for by the debt commitment letters have been satisfied or waived (other than those conditions that by their terms are to be satisfied at the closing or at the time of funding).

OTHER RELATED AGREEMENTS

Registration Rights Agreement

The following is a summary of the material provisions of the registration rights agreement to be entered into between ACI and each ACI Holder, and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the form of such registration rights agreement attached as Annex E to this proxy statement/prospectus and incorporated by reference herein.

At the closing of the merger, ACI will enter into the registration rights agreement with each ACI Holder. Pursuant to the registration rights agreement, ACI will grant each ACI Holder certain registration rights with respect to the registrable securities. These rights will include certain demand registration rights for Cerberus and the ACI Institutional Investors, as well as piggyback registration rights for all ACI Holders. The registration rights only apply to registrable securities, and shares cease to be registrable securities under certain conditions including (i) they are sold pursuant to an effective registration statement, (ii) they are sold pursuant to Rule 144 under the Securities Act, or (iii) they are eligible to be resold without regard to the volume or public information requirements of Rule 144 and the resale of such shares is not prohibited by the lock-up agreements described below. The registration rights are subject to certain delay, suspension and cutback provisions.

The registration rights agreement includes customary indemnification and contribution provisions. All fees, costs and expenses related to registrations generally will be borne by ACI, other than underwriting discounts and commissions attributable to the sale of registrable securities.

The ACI Holders may be required to deliver lock-up agreements to underwriters in connection with registered offerings of shares.

Demand Registration Rights for Non-Shelf Registered Offerings. The registration rights agreement will grant Cerberus and each ACI Institutional Investor certain demand registration rights. Until ACI is eligible to file a registration statement on Form S-3, Cerberus and each other ACI Institutional Investor will be limited to a single demand right for an underwritten offering pursuant a registration statement on Form S-1. Such registration statement would be required to include at least 6.25% of the total number of shares of ACI common stock outstanding immediately prior to the merger, which we refer to as the pre-merger common stock, or all of the remaining registrable securities of the demanding holder, and such request will require the consent of the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding registrable securities.

Shelf Registration Rights. When ACI becomes eligible to file a registration statement on Form S-3, the registration rights agreement will grant Cerberus and each ACI Institutional Investor certain rights to demand that ACI file a shelf registration statement covering any registrable securities that ACI Holders are permitted to sell pursuant to the lock-up agreements with ACI described above or any other lock-up restrictions. The number of shares covered by the shelf registration statement may also be reduced by ACI based on any advice of any potential underwriters, after consultation with ACI, to limit such number of shares.

Demand Registration Rights for Shelf Takedowns. The registration rights agreement will grant Cerberus and each ACI Institutional Investor certain rights to demand takedowns from a shelf registration statement. For the first two underwritten offerings pursuant to the registration rights agreement (which may include the offering on Form S-1 described above), any such takedown demand would be required to include at least 6.25% of the registrable pre-merger common stock or all of the remaining registrable securities of the demanding holder. Any subsequent takedown demand would be required to include at least 4.00% of the pre-merger common stock or all of the remaining registrable securities of the demanding holder. Holders lose their remaining demand registration rights when they, together with their affiliates, but not including any portfolio companies, cease to beneficially own at least 5% of ACI's common stock. Further, ACI is not required to effect more than one demand registration in any 30-day period (with such 30-day period commencing on the closing date of any underwritten offering pursuant to a preceding demand registration).

Piggyback Registration Rights. The registration rights agreement will grant each ACI Holder piggyback registration rights. If ACI registers any of its shares of common stock, either for its own account or for the account of other stockholders, including an exercise of demand rights, each ACI Holder will be entitled, subject to certain exceptions, to include its shares of common stock in the registration. To the extent that the managing underwriters in an offering advise that the number of shares proposed to be included in the offering exceeds the amount that can be sold without adversely affecting the distribution, the number of shares included in the offering will be limited as follows:

in the case of an offering pursuant to a demand under the registration rights agreement, (1) the stockholders that are parties to the registration rights agreement will have first priority to include their registrable securities, (2) ACI will have second priority to the extent that ACI elects to sell any shares for its own account and (3) any other holders with registration rights will have third priority; and in the case of any offering not pursuant to a demand under the registration rights agreement, (1) ACI will have first priority to the extent that ACI elects to sell any shares for its own account, (2) the stockholders that are parties to the registration rights agreement will have second priority to include their registrable securities and (3) any other holders with registration rights will have third priority.

Underwriter Lock-ups. Notwithstanding the registration rights described above, if there is an offering of ACI common stock, ACI, ACI's directors and executive officers and the stockholders that are parties to the registration rights agreement will agree to deliver lock-up agreements to the underwriters of such offering to restrict transfers of their ACI common stock. The restrictions will apply for up to 90 days in connection with or prior to the second underwritten offering demanded pursuant to the registration rights agreement and up to 45 days in connection with any offering thereafter.

Suspension Periods. ACI may postpone the filing or the effectiveness of a demand registration, including an underwritten shelf takedown, if, based on the good faith judgment of ACI, upon consultation with outside counsel, such filing, the effectiveness of a demand registration, or the consummation of an underwritten shelf takedown, as the case may be, would (i) reasonably be expected to materially impede, delay, interfere with or otherwise have a material adverse effect on any material acquisition of assets (other than in the ordinary course of business), merger, consolidation, tender offer, financing or any other material business transaction by ACI or (ii) require disclosure of information that has not been, and is otherwise not required to be, disclosed to the public, the premature disclosure of which ACI, after consultation with outside counsel to ACI, believes would be detrimental to ACI; provided that ACI will not be permitted to impose any such blackout period more than two times in any 12-month period and provided further that any such delay will not be more than an aggregate of 120 days in any 12-month period.

Lock-Up Agreements

The following is a summary of the material provisions of the lock-up agreements to be delivered by each ACI Holder prior to the closing of the merger to ACI, and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the form of such lock-up agreements attached as Annex G to this proxy statement/prospectus and incorporated by reference herein.

Table of Contents

Prior to the closing of the merger, each ACI Holder will deliver a lock-up agreement to ACI. Pursuant to the lock-up agreements, each ACI Holder will agree, subject to certain exceptions, that it will not offer, sell, contract to sell, pledge, grant any option to purchase, make any short sale or otherwise dispose of any shares of ACI common stock or any options or warrants to purchase common stock of ACI, or any securities convertible into, exchangeable for or that represent the right to receive common stock of ACI, owned by them (whether directly or by means of beneficial ownership) immediately prior to the closing of the merger.

Lock-Up Period

Beginning six months after the closing of the merger, ACI Holders will be permitted to sell up to one-third of the initial number of such restricted shares in a registered, underwritten offering pursuant to the registration rights agreement, and may be permitted to sell additional shares to the extent that the managing underwriters of such registered, underwritten offering conclude that additional shares may be sold in such offering without adversely affecting the distribution.

Beginning twelve months after the closing of the merger, ACI Holders will be permitted to sell up to two-thirds of the initial number of such restricted shares, minus the amounts sold in months 6-12, in a registered, underwritten offering pursuant to the registration rights agreement, and may be permitted to sell additional shares to the extent that the managing underwriters of such registered, underwritten offering conclude that additional shares may be sold in such offering without adversely affecting the distribution.

Beginning eighteen months after the closing of the merger, the restrictions of the lock-up agreements will expire, except any ACI Holder that beneficially owns at least 5% of the total outstanding shares of ACI common stock must continue to sell shares in a registered, underwritten offering pursuant to the registration rights agreement.

In addition, to the extent that any ACI Holder elects not to participate in a registered, underwritten offering described above or does not elect to sell the maximum number of shares as described above (not including any increase in the number of shares based on the advice of the managing underwriters), such ACI Holder may sell an equivalent number of shares in a non-underwritten registered shelf-takedown or an unregistered offering pursuant to Rule 144 or another exemption from registration under the Securities Act.

Exceptions. The restrictions described above will not apply to the transfer of shares (1) as a bona fide gift or gifts, provided that the donee or donees thereof agree to be bound in writing by the restrictions of the lock-up agreement, (2) to any trust for the direct or indirect benefit of the undersigned or the immediate family of the undersigned, provided that the trustee of the trust agrees to be bound in writing by the restrictions of the lock-up agreement, and provided further that any such transfer will not involve a disposition for value, (3) to any affiliate of such ACI Holder or any investment fund or other entity controlled or managed by such ACI Holder or its affiliates, (but in each case under this clause (3), not including a portfolio company), provided that such person agrees to be bound in writing by the restrictions of the lock-up agreement, (4) to a nominee or custodian of a person or entity to whom a disposition or transfer would be permissible under clauses (2) through (3) above provided that such person agrees to be bound in writing by the restrictions of the lock-up agreement, (5) pursuant to an order of a court or regulatory agency, (6) the pledge, hypothecation or other granting of a security interest in such ACI Holder's shares to one or more banks or financial institutions as bona fide collateral or security for any loan, advance or extension of credit and any transfer upon foreclosure upon such shares or thereafter or (7) with the prior written consent of ACI.

Pro-Rata Release. In the event that any ACI Holder is permitted by ACI to sell or otherwise transfer or dispose of any shares of ACI common stock for value (whether in one or multiple releases) then the same percentage of shares of ACI common stock held by the other ACI Holders subject to the lock-up agreements will be immediately and fully released on the same terms from any remaining lock-up restrictions set forth in the lock-up agreements, subject to a number of exceptions listed therein.

Standstill Agreement

The following is a summary of the material provisions of the standstill agreement among Rite Aid, ACI and Cerberus, dated as of February 18, 2018, and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the form of the standstill agreement attached as Annex F to this proxy statement/prospectus and incorporated by reference herein.

On February 18, 2018, Rite Aid entered into the standstill agreement with ACI and Cerberus, pursuant to which Cerberus has agreed not to: (i) purchase shares of ACI common stock or other securities issued by ACI, except Cerberus may acquire beneficial ownership of ACI common stock provided that such beneficial ownership does not result in ownership of 30% or more of the issued and outstanding shares of ACI common stock in the aggregate following such transaction, (ii) make any public statement or public disclosure regarding any intent, purpose, plan or proposal by Cerberus or any of its controlled affiliates to the composition of the ACI board of directors, any merger, consolidation or acquisition of ACI or its subsidiaries, (iii) engage in any solicitation of proxies or otherwise solicit the stockholders of ACI or (iv) enter into any agreements to make any investment with any person that engages or offers or proposes to engage in any of (i) through (iii) during the standstill period. The standstill period commences at the effective time of the merger and terminates upon the earliest to occur of (a) thirty days following the date that Cerberus does not have any of its designees on the ACI board of directors, (b) the date on which Cerberus no longer has the right to appoint (and has not appointed) at least one director to the ACI board of directors and (c) the date on which ACI materially breaches or takes any action challenging the validity or enforceability of the provisions of the merger agreement that grant Cerberus certain rights to appoint directors to the ACI board of directors. In addition, pursuant to the standstill agreement, from February 18, 2018 until the effective time of the merger, Cerberus has agreed not to acquire or agree to acquire beneficial ownership of any shares of ACI common stock, Rite Aid common stock or other securities or debt issued by ACI or Rite Aid that would result in beneficial ownership of 30% or more of the issued and outstanding shares of ACI common stock at the effective time of the merger (assuming for the purposes of such calculation that the effective time occurred immediately after such acquisition).

No Action Agreements

The following is a summary of the material provisions of the no action agreements to be delivered by ACI, Cerberus and the ACI Institutional Investors (excluding Colony NorthStar, Inc.) immediately prior to the closing of the merger, and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the form of such no action agreements attached as Annex H to this proxy statement/prospectus and incorporated by reference herein.

At or prior to the consummation of the merger, ACI is required to cause each of Cerberus and the ACI Institutional Investors (excluding Colony NorthStar, Inc.) to enter into no action agreements, substantially in the form attached as Annex H to this proxy statement/prospectus. Pursuant to the terms of the no action agreements, each such party will agree for a period of the earlier of five years after the consummation of the merger or until such party ceases to beneficially own five percent of the outstanding ACI common stock that such party will not (i) coordinate the exercise of voting rights of ACI common stock with Cerberus or any other ACI Institutional Investor, (ii) form a group within the meaning of Section 13(d)(3) of the Exchange Act with Cerberus or any other ACI Institutional Investor or (iii) purchase any ACI common stock from Cerberus or any other ACI Institutional Investor.

Table of ContentsSELECTED HISTORICAL CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL DATA OF RITE AID

The selected consolidated financial information set forth below is derived from Rite Aid's audited financial statements for the fiscal years ended March 3, 2018, February 27, 2016, February 28, 2015 and March 1, 2014. The financial statements for the fiscal years ended March 4, 2017, February 27, 2016 and February 28, 2015 are incorporated by reference in this proxy statement/prospectus.

As previously disclosed, on September 18, 2017, Rite Aid entered into the WBA asset purchase agreement with WBA and Walgreen Co., a wholly-owned subsidiary of WBA, which we refer to as the Buyer. Under the WBA asset purchase agreement, the Buyer has purchased or will purchase a total of 1,932 stores, three distribution centers and related inventory from Rite Aid, which we refer to collectively as the Disposal Group, for an all-cash purchase price of $4.375 billion on a cash-free, debt-free basis. We refer to such transaction as the Sale. As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, all 1,932 stores and related inventory have been transferred to Buyer. The transfer of the three distribution centers and related inventory is expected to begin after September 1, 2018. The majority of the closing conditions to the Sale have been satisfied, and the subsequent transfer of the distribution centers and related assets remains subject to minimal customary closing conditions applicable only to the distribution centers being transferred at such distribution center closing, as specified in the WBA asset purchase agreement. The information set forth below reflects the Disposal Group as a discontinued operation.

The information set forth below is only a summary and is not necessarily indicative of future results. You should read the data set forth in the table below in conjunction with Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and Rite Aid's audited and unaudited financial statements and the accompanying notes incorporated by reference in this proxy statement/prospectus.

The effect of the adoption on Rite Aid's consolidated balance sheet is a reduction in other assets and long-term debt, net of current maturities of $85,827 and $84,199 as of February 28, 2015 and March 1, 2014, respectively.
- (2) As noted above, in connection with the Sale, Rite Aid has applied discontinued operations treatment for the Sale as required by ASC 210-05. In accordance with ASC 205-20, Rite Aid reclassified the Disposal Group to assets and liabilities held for sale on its consolidated balance sheets, and reclassified the financial results of the Disposal Group in its consolidated statements of operations and consolidated statements of cash flows for all periods presented.

Table of ContentsSELECTED HISTORICAL CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL DATA OF ACI

Albertsons Companies, Inc. was formed for the purpose of reorganizing the organizational structure of AB Acquisition and its direct and indirect consolidated subsidiaries. Prior to December 3, 2017, Albertsons Companies, Inc. had no material assets or operations. On December 3, 2017, Albertsons Companies, LLC and its parent, AB Acquisition, completed a reorganization of their legal entity structure whereby the existing equityholders of AB Acquisition each contributed their equity interests in AB Acquisition to Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI. In exchange, equityholders received a proportionate share of units in Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI, respectively. Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI then contributed all of the equity interests they received to Albertsons Companies, Inc. in exchange for common stock issued by Albertsons Companies, Inc. As a result, Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI became the parents of Albertsons Companies, Inc., owning all of its outstanding common stock with AB Acquisition and its subsidiary, Albertsons Companies, LLC, becoming wholly-owned subsidiaries of Albertsons Companies, Inc. On February 25, 2018, Albertsons Companies, LLC merged with and into Albertsons Companies, Inc., with Albertsons Companies, Inc. as the surviving corporation. Prior to February 25, 2018, substantially all of the assets and operations of Albertsons Companies, Inc. were those of its subsidiary, Albertsons Companies, LLC. The ACI Reorganization Transactions were accounted for as a transaction between entities under common control, and accordingly, there was no change in the basis of the underlying assets and liabilities. The Consolidated Financial Statements are reflective of the changes that occurred as a result of the Reorganization Transactions. Prior to February 25, 2018, the Consolidated Financial Statements of ACI reflect the net assets and operations of Albertsons Companies, Inc. For more information about the ACI Reorganization Transactions, see Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of ACI The ACI Reorganization Transactions on page 212 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

The information set forth below is not necessarily indicative of future results and should be read together with the other information contained in the section entitled Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of ACI beginning on page 212 of this proxy statement/prospectus and with ACI's consolidated financial statements and notes thereto beginning on page F-2 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information presents the estimated effects of the merger, which was announced on February 20, 2018, and the Transactions (as defined below). Immediately prior to the consummation of the merger, each share of Rite Aid common stock issued and outstanding at such time will be converted into the right to receive 0.1000 of a share of ACI common stock, plus at the Rite Aid stockholder's election, either (i) an amount in cash equal to $0.1832 per share of Rite Aid common stock, without interest, or (ii) 0.0079 of a share of ACI common stock per share of Rite Aid common stock.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined balance sheet as of February 24, 2018 and the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statements of continuing operations for the 52 weeks ended February 24, 2018 are based upon the consolidated historical financial statements of ACI and Rite Aid, after giving effect to the Transactions and the assumptions and adjustments described in the accompanying notes to these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements.

ACI's balance sheet as of February 24, 2018 and statement of operations information for the 52 weeks ended February 24, 2018 are derived from ACI's audited consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus. Rite Aid's balance sheet as of March 3, 2018 and statement of operations for the 52 weeks ended March 3, 2018 are derived from the audited consolidated financial statements included in Rite Aid's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 3, 2018.

The merger will be accounted for under the acquisition method of accounting for business combinations pursuant to the provisions of ASC Topic 805, Business Combinations, which we refer to as ASC 805. Given that the current stockholders of ACI will own approximately 72.0% of the shares of the combined company common stock on a fully diluted basis immediately following the closing of the merger (assuming that each Rite Aid stockholder elects to receive the cash election consideration) and ACI is issuing shares of common stock and paying cash consideration, if any, to consummate the merger, ACI is the acquiring company for accounting purposes. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements set forth below primarily give effect to the following, which we refer to collectively as the Transactions:

Conformance of accounting policies relating to the merger;

Completion of Rite Aid's sale of 1,932 stores, three distribution centers and other specified assets related thereto to WBA together with Rite Aid's repayment of certain of its indebtedness with the proceeds of the sale and the continuing impacts of the transition services agreement between Rite Aid and WBA;

Application of the acquisition method of accounting to the merger and related issuance of ACI common stock to Rite Aid stockholders, including the assumed election by the Rite Aid stockholders to receive cash of $0.1832 per share of Rite Aid common stock;

Transaction costs directly attributable to the merger; and

Estimated effects of the incremental financing relating to the merger.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined balance sheet gives effect to the Transactions as if they had occurred on February 24, 2018, and combines the historical balance sheets of ACI as of February 24, 2018 and Rite Aid as of March 3, 2018. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined statements of continuing operations for the 52 weeks ended February 24, 2018 give effect to the Transactions as if they had occurred on February 26, 2017, the first day of ACI's 52 weeks ended February 24, 2018, and combines the historical results of ACI and Rite Aid.

ACI operates on a fiscal year ending on the last Saturday in February and Rite Aid operates on a fiscal year ending on the Saturday closest to February 29th or March 1st. This difference resulted in a one week difference in the close of the 2017 fiscal years in which ACI closed on Saturday, February 24, 2018, while Rite Aid closed on Saturday, March 3, 2018. As both historical statements of operations represent 52 week periods and only one week of separation is noted, no adjustments to align these dates have been made as both periods represent full and equivalent length fiscal years.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information is prepared in accordance with SEC Regulation S-X Article 11, using the assumptions set forth in the notes to the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information. The results set forth in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information include adjustments that give effect to events that are directly attributable to the Transactions described above, are factually supportable and are expected to have a continuing impact.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information presented is for informational purposes only and is not necessarily indicative of the financial position or results of operations that would have been realized if the Transactions had been completed on the dates set forth above, nor is it indicative of future results or financial position. Additionally, the final determination of the merger consideration and purchase price allocation, upon the completion of the merger, will be based on Rite Aid's share price and net assets as of the closing date of the merger and will depend on a number of factors that cannot be predicted with certainty at this time. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information does not reflect any anticipated synergies, operating efficiencies, revenue opportunities or cost savings that may result from the merger or any acquisition and integration costs that may be incurred. Furthermore, the effect of any potential divestitures that may be required as a result of the merger has not been reflected in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements. The pro forma adjustments, which ACI believes are reasonable under the circumstances, are preliminary and are based upon available information and certain assumptions described in the accompanying notes to the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information. Actual results and valuations may differ materially from the assumptions within the accompanying unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information.

Certain financial information of Rite Aid, as presented in its historical consolidated financial statements, has been reclassified to the historical presentation in ACI's consolidated financial statements, for purposes of preparing the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements. Refer to Note 3 to the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information beginning on page 196 of this proxy statement/prospectus for an explanation of these reclassifications.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information should be read in conjunction with the historical financial statements of the respective companies included elsewhere or incorporated by reference in this proxy statement/prospectus.

Table of ContentsNOTES TO UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED COMBINED FINANCIAL INFORMATION1. Basis of Presentation

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information and related notes are prepared in accordance with SEC Article 11 of Regulation S-X and present the historical financial information of ACI and Rite Aid adjusted to give pro forma effect to events that are: (1) directly attributable to the Transactions (2) factually supportable and (3) with respect to the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statements of operations, expected to have a continuing impact on the combined results.

The merger will be accounted for under the acquisition method of accounting for business combinations pursuant to the provisions of ASC 805. Under the acquisition method of accounting, the purchase price will be allocated to Rite Aid's assets acquired and liabilities assumed based upon their estimated fair values, using the fair value concepts defined in ASC Topic 820, Fair Value Measurement, at the date of completion of the merger. Any excess of merger consideration over the preliminary estimate of the fair value of identified assets acquired and liabilities assumed will be recognized as goodwill. Significant judgment is required in determining the preliminary fair values of identified intangible assets, inventory, property, plant and equipment, certain other assets, debt and other assumed liabilities. These preliminary valuations of assets acquired and liabilities assumed are determined using market, income and cost approaches from the perspective of a market participant, which requires estimates and assumptions including, but not limited to, estimating future cash flows in addition to developing the appropriate market discount rates and obtaining available market pricing for comparable assets. The final valuation may materially change the allocation of the purchase price, which could materially affect the fair values assigned to the assets and liabilities and could result in a material change to the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information.

Under ASC 805, the purchase price in a business combination will be measured at fair value. Given that shares of ACI common stock are not publicly traded and do not have a readily observable market price, the per share value used in these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements equals the average of Rite Aid's closing share price over the five consecutive trading days immediately following the first public announcement of the merger. ASC 805 provides that in an exchange of equity interests, an acquiree's stock may be a more reliable measure of fair value. The quoted price of a share of Rite Aid common stock has been determined to be the most factually supportable measure available to support the determination of the fair value of the merger consideration transferred, given the market participant element of a widely held stock in an actively traded market. The number of shares of Rite Aid common stock used to calculate merger consideration in these unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements is based on the outstanding equity capitalization of Rite Aid as of March 3, 2018.

Upon completion of the merger, ACI will perform a comprehensive review of Rite Aid's accounting policies. This review may identify differences between the accounting policies of the two companies, which when conformed, could have a material impact on the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information. The pro forma adjustments represent ACI's best estimates and are based upon currently available information and certain assumptions that ACI believes are reasonable under the circumstances.

2. Description of the Merger and Incremental FinancingMerger

On February 20, 2018, ACI and Rite Aid announced that they entered into a definitive merger agreement. Immediately prior to the consummation of the merger, subject to the terms of the merger agreement, each share of Rite Aid common stock issued and outstanding at such time will be converted into the right to receive 0.1000 of a share of ACI common stock, plus at the Rite Aid stockholder's election, either an amount in cash equal to $0.1832 per share of Rite Aid common stock, without interest, which we refer to as the additional cash consideration, or 0.0079 of a share of ACI common stock per share of Rite Aid common stock, which we refer to as the additional stock consideration.

Additionally, and subject to the terms of the merger agreement, with respect to equity awards granted under any Rite Aid stock plan:

- (a) each stock option to purchase shares of Rite Aid common stock that is outstanding and unexercised immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will be assumed by ACI and will be converted into a stock option to purchase shares of ACI common stock on the same terms and conditions as were applicable immediately prior to the merger;
- (b) except as described below, ACI will assume each Rollover RSU, whether or not then vested at the effective time of the merger, and will convert each Rollover RSU into an ACI RSU on the same terms and conditions as were applicable immediately prior to the merger;
- (c) except as described below, ACI will assume each Rollover RSA, whether or not then vested at the effective time of the merger, and will convert each Rollover RSA into an ACI RSA on the same terms and conditions as were applicable immediately prior to the merger; and
- (d) Rollover RSUs and Rollover RSAs held by current and former Rite Aid employees and service providers who will not be continuing employees or continuing service providers of the combined company at the effective time of the merger, will become fully vested at the effective time of the merger and all restrictions thereupon will lapse. Each such Rollover RSA and stock-settled Rollover RSU will be converted into the right to receive 0.1000 of a share of ACI common stock addition, plus at the holder's election, either the additional cash consideration or the additional stock consideration. Each such cash-settled Rollover RSU will be converted into the right to receive the cash value of 0.1000 of a share of ACI common stock addition, plus the additional cash consideration.

After giving effect to the exchange of Rite Aid common stock, the treatment of Rite Aid equity awards, and assuming that all Rite Aid stockholders and equity award holders elect to receive the additional cash consideration, it is anticipated that existing ACI stockholders will own approximately 72.0% of the outstanding shares of common stock in the combined company and former Rite Aid stockholders will own approximately 28.0% of the outstanding shares in the combined company, in each case on a fully diluted basis.

For additional details, refer to the section entitled "The Merger", beginning on page 94 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Financing Related to the Merger

In connection with the merger, ACI received debt commitments on February 18, 2018, as amended and restated on March 12, 2018 and as further amended and restated on May 8, 2018, with several financial institutions, which we refer to collectively as the Commitment Parties, pursuant to which, among other things, the Commitment Parties have committed to provide ACI with (i) $4,667 million of commitments to a new $5,000 million aggregate principal amount best efforts asset-based revolving credit facility, which we refer to as the Best-Efforts ABL Facility; (ii) incremental commitments under ACI's existing asset-based revolving credit facility in an aggregate principal amount of $1,000 million; (iii) a new asset-based term loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of $1,500 million, which we refer to as the ABL Term Loan Facility; and (iv) a new secured bridge loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of $500 million, which we refer to as the Secured Bridge Facility less the gross proceeds of new notes, which we refer to as the Secured Notes, that are obtained on or prior to the closing date of the merger (we refer to the above, collectively, as the Financing), in each case on the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the debt commitment letter. The proceeds of the Financing will be used, among other things, to partially refinance certain of Rite Aid's existing indebtedness, as of the effective time of the merger, pay fees and expenses in connection with the merger and pay cash consideration, if any, in connection with the merger. The Best-Efforts ABL Facility will be utilized by ACI only if the additional $333 million of commitments are fully allocated to new or existing lenders prior to the date on which the merger is consummated, in which case the incremental commitments described under clause (ii) above will cease to apply. The debt commitments include conditions typical for facilities of this kind, including a condition as to the execution and delivery of the definitive financing documentation by ACI and certain of its subsidiaries.

On June 6, 2018, ACI priced its private offering of $750.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the Floating Rate Notes at an issue price of 99.5%. The proceeds to be received pursuant to such offering, in addition to ACI's cash on hand and borrowings under the ACI ABL Facility and ABL Term Loan Facility, will be used (i) to pay a portion of the cash portion, if any, of the merger consideration in connection with the merger, (ii) to repay certain indebtedness of Rite Aid outstanding on the date the merger is completed, (iii) to pay fees and expenses in connection with the merger and the offering of the Floating Rate Notes and (iv) for general corporate purposes. In the event the merger is not completed, ACI will be required to use such proceeds to redeem the Floating Rate Notes. The Floating Rate Notes are expected to be issued on or about June 25, 2018, subject to customary closing conditions. The Floating Rate Notes will bear interest at LIBOR (with a floor of 0%) plus 3.75% per annum. The Floating Rate Notes will mature on January 15, 2024 and interest on the Floating Rate Notes will be payable quarterly in arrears on January 15, April 15, July 15 and October 15, commencing on October 15, 2018. The Floating Rate Notes will be secured by the same collateral that would have secured the Secured Bridge Facility. Upon the issuance of the Floating Rate Notes, the commitments with respect to the Secured Bridge Facility will terminate pursuant to the terms of the debt commitment letter.

3. Accounting Policies and Reclassifications

The accounting policies used in the preparation of this unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information are those set out in ACI's financial statements as of and for the 52 weeks ended February 24, 2018. With the information currently available, ACI has determined that no significant adjustments are necessary to conform Rite Aid's financial statements to the accounting policies used by ACI in the preparation of the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information. Upon consummation of the merger, ACI will perform a comprehensive review of Rite Aid's accounting policies. As a result of that review, ACI may identify differences between the accounting policies of the two companies which, when conformed, could have a material impact on the combined financial statements.

Certain reclassification and classification adjustments have been made to the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information to conform Rite Aid's historical financial statements to ACI's financial statement presentation.

Unless otherwise indicated, defined line items included in the footnotes have the meanings given to them in the historical financial statements of ACI.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information may not reflect all reclassifications necessary to conform Rite Aid's financial statement presentation to that of ACI due to limitations on the availability of information as of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus. Additional reclassification and classification adjustments may be identified as more information becomes available.

4. Pre-merger ActivitiesRite Aid Asset Purchase Agreement with WBA and Repayment of Indebtedness

On September 18, 2017, Rite Aid entered into the WBA asset purchase agreement with WBA and Walgreen Co., a wholly-owned subsidiary of WBA, which we refer to as the Buyer. Under the WBA asset purchase agreement, the Buyer has purchased or will purchase a total of 1,932 stores, three distribution centers, related inventory from Rite Aid, which we refer to collectively as the Disposal Group, for an all-cash purchase price of approximately $4.375 billion, which we refer to as the Proceeds, on a cash-free, debt-free basis. We refer to such transaction as the Sale. As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, all 1,932 stores and related assets have been transferred to Buyer in exchange for $4.157 billion in cash proceeds. On January 25, 2018, Rite Aid used a portion of the Proceeds to fully repay the outstanding $970 million balance on its two tranches of second priority secured term loans. The transfer of the three distribution centers and related inventory is expected to begin after September 1, 2018. The majority of the closing conditions have been satisfied, and the subsequent transfer of the distribution centers and related assets remain subject to minimal customary closing conditions applicable only to the distribution centers being transferred at such distribution center closing, as specified in the WBA asset purchase agreement. In addition, on February 27, 2018, Rite Aid announced that it had commenced an offer to purchase up to $900.0 million of the outstanding Rite Aid Notes, pursuant to the asset sale provisions of the indentures of the Rite Aid Notes. On March 29, 2018, Rite Aid accepted for payment, pursuant to its offer to purchase, approximately $3.5 million principal amount of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes, approximately $3.5 million principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, and approximately $41.8 million principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes. The purchase price for the Rite Aid Notes was equal to 100% of the principal amount of the Rite Aid Notes, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, for such series of Rite Aid Notes up to the date of payment. On April 12, 2018, Rite Aid redeemed, all of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes that remained outstanding, pursuant to the terms of the indenture of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes. The redemption price for the 2020 Rite Aid Notes is equal to 100% of the principal amount of the 2020 Rite Aid Notes to be redeemed plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, up to but excluding April 12, 2018. On April 19, 2018, Rite Aid announced that it had commenced a similar asset sale offer to purchase up to $700.0 million of the outstanding 2021 Rite Aid Notes and its 2023 Rite Aid Notes pursuant to the terms of such indentures. On May 21, 2018, Rite Aid accepted for payment, pursuant to its offer to purchase, approximately $1.4 million principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes and approximately $4.8 million principal amount of the 2023 Rite Aid Notes. The purchase price for the 2021 Rite Aid Notes and the 2023 Rite Aid Notes is equal to 100% of the principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes and the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, as applicable, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, for the 2021 Rite Aid Notes and the 2023 Rite Aid Notes, as applicable, up to, but excluding, May 21, 2018. On May 25, 2018, Rite Aid issued a notice of redemption to redeem $805,169,000 aggregate principal amount of the outstanding 2021 Rite Aid Notes on June 25, 2018, pursuant to the terms of the indenture of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes. The purchase price for the 2021 Rite Aid Notes pursuant to the redemption is equal to 100% of the principal amount of the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, for the 2021 Rite Aid Notes, up to, but excluding, June 25, 2018.

Rite Aid applied discontinued operations treatment for the Sale as required by ASC Topic 210-05, Discontinued Operations, which is reflected in the historical financial statements of Rite Aid incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus. As a result, the revenues and direct expenses of the Disposal Group are not included in consolidated income statements of Rite Aid, and the net assets of the Disposal Group which remain on the consolidated balance sheet of Rite Aid have been eliminated on a pro forma basis to reflect the receipt and subsequent use of the remaining Proceeds.

- (a) The following table sets forth the completion of the Sale to WBA and the sources and uses of the Proceeds, with the related pro forma adjustments, as if they had occurred on February 24, 2018 (in millions).

- (b) Also, in connection with the WBA asset purchase agreement, Rite Aid agreed to provide transitional services to WBA for up to three years after the initial closing of the Sale. In exchange for the transition services, Rite Aid will receive a transition service fee of $96 million per year once the store sales are completed based on providing transition services for all 1,932 stores to be sold. The transition service fee decreases proportionally with any decrease in the number of stores being serviced under the transition services agreement.

Transition services fees have been included in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statements of operations as a reduction of Selling, general and administrative expenses, with the corresponding income tax impact using an estimated 37.0% tax rate for each period presented. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined statement of continuing operations for the 52 weeks ended February 24, 2018 includes an adjustment of $87.6 million to reflect a full $96.0 million of transition service fees and a corresponding income tax expense of $32.4 million.

ACI Reorganization Transactions

On December 3, 2017, Albertsons Companies, LLC and its parent, AB Acquisition, completed a reorganization of their legal entity structure whereby the existing equity holders of AB Acquisition each contributed their equity interests in AB Acquisition to Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI. In exchange, equityholders received a proportionate share of units in Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI, respectively. Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI then contributed all of the equity interests they received to ACI in exchange for common stock issued by ACI. As a result, AB Acquisition and its subsidiary, Albertsons Companies, LLC, became wholly-owned subsidiaries of ACI. On February 25, 2018, Albertsons Companies, LLC merged with and into ACI, with ACI as the surviving corporation (we refer to such transactions collectively as the ACI Reorganization Transactions). Prior to February 25, 2018, substantially all of the assets and operations of ACI and Albertsons Companies, LLC were those of Albertsons Companies, LLC's wholly-owned operating subsidiaries. The ACI Reorganization Transactions adjustments are already included in ACI's historical consolidated financial statements. As such, no adjustments are needed to the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statements.

5. Calculation of Estimated Merger Consideration and Preliminary Purchase Price Allocation

The estimated merger consideration for the purpose of this unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information is $2.5 billion. The calculation of estimated merger consideration is as follows (in millions):

Estimated cash paid(1)	$ 200.0
Estimated aggregate value of ACI common stock issued for outstanding Rite Aid common stock(2)	2,288.5
Estimated replacement equity awards for Rite Aid's equity awards(3)	33.6
Total estimated merger consideration	$ 2,522.1

- (1) Represents the total assumed cash consideration paid to Rite Aid stockholders of $0.1832 per share of Rite Aid common stock.
- (2) Represents the value of approximately 107 million shares of ACI common stock estimated to be issued to Rite Aid stockholders in exchange for the Rite Aid common stock estimated to be outstanding at the effective time of the merger.

For purposes of this presentation only, the value of each share of ACI common stock is based on the average of Rite Aid's closing share price over the five consecutive trading days immediately following the first public announcement of the merger on February 20, 2018, or $2.14 per share.

- (3) Estimated consideration for replacement of Rite Aid's outstanding equity awards. As discussed in Note 2, Rite Aid's outstanding equity awards will be replaced by ACI equity awards with the same terms and conditions. Approximately $33.6 million of the fair value of ACI's equity awards issued represents consideration transferred, while approximately $30.2 million represents post-combination compensation expense to be recognized based on the vesting terms of the replacement equity awards and approximately $2.2 million to be recognized as a one-time charge for outstanding unvested equity awards that will be accelerated based on the terms of the merger agreement.

Preliminary Purchase Price Allocation

Under the acquisition method of accounting, the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed of Rite Aid are recognized and measured as of the acquisition date at fair value and added to those of ACI. The determination of fair value used in the pro forma adjustments presented herein are preliminary and based on management estimates of the fair value and useful lives of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed and have been prepared to illustrate the estimated effect of the merger. The final determination of the merger consideration and purchase price allocation, upon the completion of the merger, will be based on Rite Aid's share price and net assets as of the closing date of the merger and will depend on a number of factors that cannot be predicted with certainty at this time. Therefore, the actual allocations will differ from the pro forma adjustments presented. The allocation is dependent upon certain valuation and other studies that have not yet been completed. Accordingly, the pro forma purchase price allocation is subject to further adjustment as additional information becomes available and as additional analyses and final valuations are completed. There can be no assurances that these additional analyses and final valuations will not result in significant changes to the estimates of fair value set forth below.

The following table sets forth a preliminary allocation of the estimated merger consideration to the identifiable tangible and intangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed of Rite Aid based on Rite

Aid's audited consolidated balance sheet as of February 24, 2018, with the excess recorded to goodwill (in millions):

Tangible assets acquired:
Inventories	$ 2,380.6
Property, plant and equipment	1,494.0
Other current assets	2,380.3
Other assets	217.3
Total tangible assets acquired	6,472.2
Intangible assets acquired	2,681.0
Debt and capital lease obligations (including current portion)	(3,463.8)
Deferred tax liability related to acquired tangible and intangible assets	(113.8)
Other liabilities assumed, excluding debt	(3,445.9)
Total assets acquired in excess of liabilities assumed	2,129.7
Goodwill(1)	392.4
Estimated merger consideration	$ 2,522.1

- (1) Goodwill represents the excess of merger consideration over the preliminary fair value of the underlying net identifiable assets acquired. Among the factors that contributed to a purchase price in excess of the fair value of the net tangible and intangible assets were the acquired workforce of experienced personnel and various sources of synergies, which include cost savings in merchandising, marketing, distribution and back office administrative functions; leveraging of information technology platforms; and incremental revenue opportunities particularly with pharmacy customers. Furthermore, goodwill will not be amortized, but instead will be tested for impairment at least annually and whenever events or circumstances have occurred that may indicate a possible impairment.

The final estimated merger consideration could significantly differ from the amounts presented in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information due to movements in the Rite Aid common stock price up to the closing date of the merger. A sensitivity analysis related to the fluctuation in the Rite Aid common stock price was performed to assess the impact of a hypothetical change of 15% on the per share price of Rite Aid common stock (using the average closing price for the five consecutive trading days immediately following the first public announcement of the merger) and related impact on the estimated merger consideration and goodwill as of the closing date of the merger.

Change in Stock Price	Stock Price	Estimated Purchase Price (dollars in millions, except stock price)	Goodwill
Increase of 15%	$ 2.47	$ 2,865.3	$ 735.6
Decrease of 15%	1.82	2,178.8	49.1

Financing costs related to the Financing	88.1
Estimated ACI and Rite Aid acquisition related transaction costs	150.0
Total uses	$ 3,491.1
Net effect on cash	$ (300.0)

(1) Includes the historical debt of Rite Aid at March 3, 2018 with the exception of the 2027 Rite Aid Notes and the 2028 Rite Aid Notes.

(b) Represents the adjustment necessary to state inventories acquired as of the pro forma merger date to their preliminary estimated fair value. The valuation approaches used in the preliminary assessment of the fair value of inventories were the replacement cost approach and the comparative sales method approach. The fair value adjustment to the inventories was excluded from the pro forma condensed combined statements of operations as it was determined not to have a continuing effect (in millions).

Fair value of acquired inventory	$ 2,380.6
Elimination of Rite Aid historical inventory, net	(1,799.5)
Pro forma adjustment to inventory	$ 581.1

(c) The adjustment to property, plant and equipment relate to the preliminary fair values resulting from acquisition method of accounting and the elimination of Rite Aid's historical net book value of property, plant and equipment. The valuation approaches used in the preliminary assessment of the fair value of the property, plant and equipment were the sales comparison approach and the cost approach for owned real property and personal property, respectively. The related impact of these fair value adjustments to property, plant and equipment on depreciation expense has been reflected in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statement of operations. The net adjustment to property, plant and equipment is calculated as follows (in millions):

Fair value of acquired property, plant and equipment	$ 1,494.0
Elimination of Rite Aid historical net book value of property, plant and equipment	(1,431.2)
Pro forma adjustment to property, plant and equipment	$ 62.8

(d) The adjustment to goodwill is comprised of the elimination of Rite Aid's historical goodwill and the preliminary merger consideration in excess of the fair value of the net assets acquired. The net adjustments are calculated as follows (in millions):

Preliminary merger consideration in excess of fair value of net assets acquired	$ 392.4
Elimination of Rite Aid's historical goodwill	(1,421.1)
Pro forma adjustment to goodwill	$ (1,028.7)

(e) The adjustment to intangible assets relates to the removal of Rite Aid's historical net book value of intangible assets and the fair value of the newly acquired intangible assets. The related impact of these newly acquired intangibles on amortization expense has been reflected in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statement of operations. The net adjustments are calculated as follows (in millions):

Fair value of acquired intangibles	$ 2,681.0
Elimination of Rite Aid's historical net book value of intangible assets	(590.4)
Pro forma adjustment to intangible assets, net	$ 2,090.6

Preliminary fair values for the intangible assets were determined based on a combination of market, income and cost approaches. The intangible assets identified were trade names, trademarks and domain names, Rx script customers, PBM customer relationships, licenses, the CMS license, software, and favorable leases.

	(in millions)
	Rite Aid	Useful Lives
Trade names, trademarks, and domain names	$ 500.0	40 years
Rx script customers	1,600.0	10 years
PBM customer relationships	320.0	10 years
Licenses	10.0	Indefinite
CMS license	54.0	25 years
Software	45.0	5 years
Favorable leases	152.0	Remaining lease term

Intangible assets	$ 2,681.0
-------------------	------------

The identifiable intangible assets and related amortization are preliminary and are based on ACI management's estimates after consideration of Rite Aid specifics and consideration of similar transactions. As discussed above, the amount that will ultimately be allocated to identifiable intangible assets and liabilities, and the related amount of amortization, may differ materially from this preliminary allocation. In addition, the periods the amortization impacts will ultimately be based upon the periods in which the associated economic benefits or detriments are expected to be derived, or where appropriate, based on the use of a straight-line method. Therefore, the amount of amortization following the merger may differ significantly between periods based upon the final value assigned and amortization methodology used for each identifiable intangible asset and liability.

- (f) Adjustments to other assets and deferred income tax liabilities include recording deferred tax liabilities, which we refer to as DTLs, resulting from pro forma fair value adjustments of the acquired assets based on applicable statutory tax rates for the jurisdictions associated with the respective estimated purchase price allocation. The estimate of DTLs is preliminary and is subject to change based upon ACI final determination of the fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed, by jurisdiction including the final allocation across such legal entities and related jurisdictions. The net adjustment is calculated as follows (in millions):

Increase in deferred tax liabilities on acquired assets(1)	$ 617.8
Historical Rite Aid deferred tax assets, net	(504.0)
Pro forma adjustment to deferred income taxes	$ 113.8

(1) Tax related adjustments included in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined balance sheet are based on the tax law in effect during the period for which the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information is being presented, and therefore considers the effects of U.S. tax reform legislation enacted on December 22, 2017. Because the tax rates used for these pro forma financial statements are an estimate, the blended statutory rate of 25.7% will likely vary from the actual effective rate in periods subsequent to completion of the merger.

(g) To record the payment for accrued transaction related costs of $10.7 million. Of these costs, ACI has accrued for $8.6 million and Rite Aid has accrued for $2.1 million as of February 24, 2018.

(h) To record the proceeds, net of deferred financing fees and record the corresponding current and long-term debt related to the planned Financing to fund the merger. As described in Note 2 of these Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Statements, beginning on page 194 of this proxy statement/prospectus, ACI has received commitments from several financial institutions for incremental borrowings, which ACI anticipates will consist of $1,500 million under the ABL Term Loan Facility, $750 million of Floating Rate Notes, and $1,191.1 million under ACI's new Best-Efforts ABL Facility. In addition, subject to customary closing conditions, ACI expects to issue $750 million of Floating Rate Notes on or about June 25, 2018. The proceeds from these facilities will be used to repay certain indebtedness of Rite Aid that will be outstanding prior to the effective time of the merger, including associated make-whole redemption premiums and accrued interest, and to pay estimated transaction costs related to the merger and the Financing. The adjustment to current and long-term debt is comprised of the following items (in millions):

Fair value of debt and capital lease obligations assumed	$ 3,463.8
Historical debt and capital lease obligations of Rite Aid	(3,391.6)
Proceeds from Financing	3,191.1
Repayments of debt assumed at closing of merger	(3,050.6)
Debt issuance costs related to Financing	(88.1)
Net change in debt and capital lease obligations	$ 124.6
Pro forma adjustments for net change in debt and capital lease obligations:

Table of Contents

The following table represents, on a pro forma basis, the amount of scheduled repayments remaining related to the incremental financing and the remaining assumed debt of Rite Aid, including the scheduled maturities of such debt instruments and excluding deferred financing costs and debt discounts of $88.1 million as of February 24, 2018:

Debt Instrument (in millions)	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5	Thereafter	Total
Long-term debt maturities, excluding capital lease obligations, deferred financing costs and debt discounts	$ 14.9	$ 15.0	$ 15.0	$ 15.0	$ 2,631.1	$ 861.9	$ 3,552.9

- (i) Adjustments to other long-term liabilities include recording the fair value of unfavorable leases acquired and the elimination of historical Rite Aid deferred rent balances in purchase accounting. The net adjustment is calculated as follows (in millions):

Fair value of Rite Aid unfavorable leases	$ 417.0
Elimination of Rite Aid historical net book value of unfavorable leases and deferred rent	(158.8)
Pro forma adjustment to other long-term liabilities	$ 258.2

- (j) Reflects the addition of common stock and additional paid-in capital of $2.3 billion exchanged in the merger, the addition of stockholder's equity related to the replacement stock-based awards of $33.6 million and the elimination of Rite Aid's additional paid in capital of $4.9 billion as detailed below (in millions):

Common Stock
Common stock exchanged(1)	$ 1.0
Elimination of Rite Aid's historical common stock	(1,067.3)
Total pro forma adjustment to common stock	$ (1,066.3)
Additional Paid-in Capital

Replacement stock-based awards(2)	33.6
Elimination of Rite Aid's historical additional paid-in capital	(4,850.7)
Total pro forma adjustment to additional paid-in capital	$ (2,529.7)

- (1) Represents common stock and additional paid in capital exchanged in the merger, estimated based on approximately 1.1 billion shares of Rite Aid common stock outstanding multiplied by the exchange ratio of 0.1000 and ACI's implied stock price of $21.44 (which excludes the assumed payment of $0.1832 per share).

- (2) Represents the additional paid-in capital related to the replacement equity awards of $33.6 million included in merger consideration.

(k) Reflects the payment of transaction costs, acceleration of unvested Rite Aid equity awards and the elimination of Rite Aid's accumulated deficit after adjustments (in millions).

Estimated transaction costs(1)	$ (130.4)
Amounts paid to redeem Rite Aid's outstanding unvested stock-based compensation awards related to post-merger service periods(2)	(2.2)
Elimination of Rite Aid's accumulated deficit after adjustments	4,110.0
Total pro forma adjustment to accumulated deficit	$ 3,977.4

- (1) ACI and Rite Aid are expected to incur a total of $150.0 million in transaction-related costs. These costs consist primarily of financial advisory, consulting, legal and accounting fees and are not reflected in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statements of continuing operations because they do not have a continuing effect on the combined company. Of the $150.0 million, approximately $130.4 million is estimated ACI transaction related costs to still be incurred and is reflected as an increase to accumulated deficit, $8.9 million is estimated Rite Aid transaction related costs still to be incurred and $10.7 million of costs already incurred and accrued in the respective historical financial statements of ACI and Rite Aid, all of which, are assumed to be paid with proceeds from the Financing.
- (2) Represents the one-time expense for the recognition of $2.2 million of stock based compensation expense incurred to settle Rite Aid's outstanding unvested stock based compensation awards that will be accelerated based on the terms of the merger agreement. The associated stock based compensation expense is not reflected in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statements of continuing operations as it will not have a continuing impact.

(l) Reflects the elimination of Rite Aid's historical accumulated other comprehensive loss.

7. Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Statement of Operations

Adjustments included in the Pro Forma Adjustments column in the accompanying unaudited pro forma condensed combined statement of operations for the 52 weeks ended February 24, 2018 are as follows:

(a) Rite Aid provides pharmacy services to ACI and these adjustments eliminate Rite Aid revenue of $17.3 million and ACI selling and administrative expenses of $17.3 million for the 52 weeks ended February 24, 2018, to reflect the intra-entity nature of this arrangement to the combined company.

Adjustments have been included in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statement of operations to eliminate Rite Aid's historical depreciation and amortization expense and record depreciation and amortization expense in cost of sales, and selling and administrative expense. Depreciation of property and equipment is based on the estimated remaining useful lives of the assets and is calculated on a straight-line basis. The amortization of intangible assets is based on the periods over which the economic benefits of the intangible assets are expected to be realized.

Depreciation and amortization expense are allocated among costs of sales, and selling and administrative expenses based upon the nature of the activities associated with the assets acquired.

The net pro forma adjustment to costs of sales is comprised of the following items (in millions):

Depreciation and Amortization
Depreciation and amortization expense on new fair value of assets	$ 10.6
Elimination of Rite Aid's historical depreciation and amortization expense	(9.7)
Pro forma adjustment to cost of sales	$ 0.9

	52 Weeks Ended February 24, 2018
Depreciation and Amortization
Depreciation and amortization expense on new fair value of assets	$ 440.0
Elimination of Rite Aid's historical depreciation and amortization expense	(376.4)
Adjustment to depreciation and amortization	$ 63.6
Other
Elimination of transaction costs related to merger currently recorded in ACI and Rite Aid historical financial statements	$ (10.7)
Elimination of intra-entity arrangements	(17.3)
Pro forma adjustment to selling and administrative expenses	$ 35.6

(b) To record the change in interest expense related to the merger and incremental Financing to fund the merger.

	52 Weeks Ended February 24, 2018
Interest expense on the incremental Financing	$ 174.8
Amortization of deferred Financing costs	15.0
Elimination of historical interest expense	(165.2)
Pro forma adjustment to interest expense	$ 24.6

The interest expense adjustments included in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statements of continuing operations reflect the additional interest expense using an estimated weighted average interest rate of 6.4% during the 52 weeks ended February 24, 2018, excluding amortization of deferred financing costs and original issue discount. For purposes of estimating the weighted average interest rates, we have made certain assumptions about the aggregate principal amount allocated to each component of the incremental financing. The actual weighted average interest rate will likely differ from the estimated interest rates due to changes in market conditions and the relative principal amounts.

A sensitivity analysis on interest expense for the 52 weeks ended February 24, 2018 has been performed to assess the effect of a change of 12.5 basis points to the assumed weighted average interest rate. The following table shows the change in interest expense for the incremental Financing:

Change in interest expense assuming (in millions)	52 Weeks Ended February 24, 2018
Decrease of 0.125%	(4.4)

- (c) To reflect the income tax expense/benefit effects of the pro forma adjustments based on estimated applicable statutory tax rates of the combined company for the jurisdictions associated with the respective pro forma adjustments. Because the tax rates used for these pro forma financial statements are an estimate, the blended statutory rate of 37.0% will likely vary from the actual effective rate in periods subsequent to completion of the merger. Currently, no adjustments to the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information have been made as it relates to limitations on the use of net deferred tax assets of the combined company, or for decreases to pre-existing valuation allowances. Adjustments to established deferred tax assets and liabilities as well as the recognition of additional deferred tax assets and liabilities may occur in conjunction with the finalization of the purchase accounting and these items could be material. Furthermore, tax related adjustments included in the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statement of operations are based on the tax law in effect during the period for which the unaudited pro forma condensed combined statements of operations is being presented, and therefore reflects U.S. tax reform legislation enacted on December 22, 2017 for the portion of ACI's fiscal year occurring after the enactment date.

8. UNAUDITED PRO FORMA PER SHARE DATA

The following selected unaudited pro forma per share information for the 52 weeks ended February 24, 2018 reflects the estimated shares of the combined company to be issued to ACI and Rite Aid stockholders, after giving effect to the merger and related transactions as if they had occurred on February 24, 2018. The information in the table is based on, and should be read together with, the historical financial information of ACI and Rite Aid included in this proxy statement/prospectus and that Rite Aid has presented in its filings with the SEC that are incorporated herein by reference. See the section entitled "Where You Can Find More Information" beginning on page 353 of this proxy statement/prospectus and also the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial information and accompanying discussion and notes beginning on page 190 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

The unaudited pro forma combined per share data are presented for illustrative purposes only and are not necessarily indicative of actual or future financial position or results of operations that would have been realized if the proposed merger had been completed as of the dates indicated or will be realized upon the completion of the proposed merger. The summary pro forma information is preliminary, based on initial estimates of the fair value of assets acquired (including intangible assets) and liabilities assumed, and is subject to change as more information regarding the fair values are obtained, which changes could be materially different than the initial estimates.

Under Rite Aid's current dividend policy, Rite Aid has never declared or paid any cash dividends on its capital stock and has retained any future earnings to support operations and to finance the growth and development of its business. Under the terms of the merger agreement, from the date of the merger agreement until the earlier of the effective time of the merger or the termination of the merger agreement, Rite Aid may not declare or pay any cash dividends on its common stock without ACI's written consent.

The closing price of Rite Aid common stock on the NYSE on February 16, 2018, the last trading day prior to the date on which public announcement of the merger agreement was made, was $2.13 per share. On June 22, 2018, the last practicable trading day prior to the filing of the registration statement of which this proxy statement/prospectus forms a part, the closing price of Rite Aid common stock on the NYSE was $2.02 per share. You are encouraged to obtain current market quotations for Rite Aid common stock.

Following the merger, there will be no further market for Rite Aid common stock and Rite Aid anticipates that its stock will be delisted from the NYSE and deregistered under the Exchange Act. As a result, following the merger and such deregistration, Rite Aid would no longer file periodic reports with the SEC.

FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS OF ACI

The following discussion and analysis of ACI's financial condition and results of operations should be read in conjunction with Selected Historical Consolidated Financial Data of ACI, Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Statements and Albertsons Companies, Inc.'s consolidated financial statements and related notes included elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus. This discussion contains forward-looking statements based upon current expectations that involve numerous risks and uncertainties, including those described in the Risk Factors section of this proxy statement/prospectus. ACI's actual results may differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statements.

Please note that this discussion and analysis of ACI's financial condition and results of operations only addresses the financial condition and results of operations of ACI, and does not address the financial condition and results of operations of Rite Aid or the combined company, including the indebtedness to be incurred to finance the transaction. For more information on the financial condition and results of operations of Rite Aid, please see the section entitled Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations in Rite Aid's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 3, 2018, and in other documents incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus. ACI's last three fiscal years consisted of the 52-week period ended February 24, 2018, the 52-week period ended February 25, 2017 and the 52-week period ended February 27, 2016. Comparability is affected by income and expense items that vary significantly between and among the periods.

The ACI Reorganization Transactions

Albertsons Companies, Inc. was formed for the purpose of reorganizing the organizational structure of AB Acquisition and its direct and indirect consolidated subsidiaries. Prior to December 3, 2017, Albertsons Companies, Inc. had no material assets or operations. On December 3, 2017, Albertsons Companies, LLC and its parent, AB Acquisition, completed a reorganization of their legal entity structure whereby the existing equityholders of AB Acquisition each contributed their equity interests in AB Acquisition to Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI. In exchange, equityholders received a proportionate share of units in Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI, respectively. Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI then contributed all of the equity interests they received to Albertsons Companies, Inc. in exchange for common stock issued by Albertsons Companies, Inc. As a result, Albertsons Investor and KIM ACI became the parents of Albertsons Companies, Inc., owning all of its outstanding common stock with, AB Acquisition and its subsidiary, Albertsons Companies, LLC, becoming wholly-owned subsidiaries of Albertsons Companies, Inc. On February 25, 2018, Albertsons Companies, LLC merged with and into Albertsons Companies, Inc., with Albertsons Companies, Inc. as the surviving corporation. Prior to February 25, 2018, substantially all of the assets and operations of Albertsons Companies, Inc. were those of its subsidiary, Albertsons Companies, LLC. The ACI Reorganization Transactions were accounted for as a transaction between entities under common control, and accordingly, there was no change in the basis of the underlying assets and liabilities. The Consolidated Financial Statements are reflective of the changes that occurred as a result of the ACI Reorganization Transactions. Prior to February 25, 2018, the Consolidated Financial Statements of ACI reflect the net assets and operations of Albertsons Companies, LLC.

Table of ContentsBusiness Overview

ACI is one of the largest food and drug retailers in the United States, with both a strong local presence and national scale. As of February 24, 2018, ACI operates stores across 35 states and the District of Columbia under 20 well-known banners including Albertsons, Safeway, Vons, Jewel-Osco, Shaw's, Acme, Tom Thumb, Randalls, United Supermarkets, Market Street, Pavilions, Star Market, Haggen and Carrs, as well as meal kit company Plated based in New York City. Over the past five years, ACI has completed a series of acquisitions that has significantly increased its portfolio of stores. ACI operated 2,318, 2,324, 2,271, 2,382, 1,075 and 192 stores as of February 24, 2018, February 25, 2017, February 27, 2016, February 28, 2015, February 20, 2014 and February 21, 2013, respectively. In addition, as of February 24, 2018, ACI operated 1,777 pharmacies, 1,275 in-store branded coffee shops, 397 adjacent fuel centers, 23 dedicated distribution centers, five Plated fulfillment centers and 20 manufacturing facilities. ACI's operations are predominantly located in the Western, Southern, Midwest, Northeast, and Mid-Atlantic regions of the United States and are reported in a single reportable segment.

ACI's operations and financial performance are affected by U.S. economic conditions such as macroeconomic conditions, credit market conditions and the level of consumer confidence. While the combination of improved economic conditions, the trend towards lower unemployment, higher wages and lower gasoline prices have contributed to improved consumer confidence, there is continued uncertainty about the strength of the economic recovery. If the current economic situation does not continue to improve or if it weakens, or if gasoline prices rebound, consumers may reduce spending, trade down to a less expensive mix of products or increasingly rely on food discounters, all of which could impact ACI's sales growth. In addition, consumers' perception or uncertainty related to the economic recovery and future fuel prices could also dampen overall consumer confidence and reduce demand for ACI's product offerings. Both inflation and deflation affect ACI's business. Food deflation could reduce sales growth and earnings, while food inflation could reduce gross profit margins. Several food items and categories, such as meat, eggs and dairy, experienced price deflation in 2016 and 2017, and such price deflation could continue in the future. ACI is unable to predict if the economy will continue to improve, or predict the rate at which the economy may improve, the direction of gasoline prices or if deflationary trends will occur. If the economy does not continue to improve or if it weakens or fuel prices increase, ACI's business and results of operations could be adversely affected.

ACI currently expects to achieve approximately $823 million in annual run-rate synergies by February 23, 2019 from its acquisition of Safeway, with remaining associated one-time costs of approximately $200 million, including approximately $65 million of Safeway integration-related capital expenditures. ACI achieved synergies from the Safeway acquisition of approximately $575 million and $675 million during the fiscal years ended February 25, 2017 and February 24, 2018, respectively, or approximately $750 million on an annual run-rate basis by February 24, 2018, principally from savings related to corporate and division overhead, ACI's own brands, the conversion of Albertsons and NALP onto Safeway's IT systems, marketing and advertising cost reduction and operational efficiencies within ACI's back office and distribution and manufacturing organizations.

ACI has identified various synergies including corporate and division overhead savings, its own brands, vendor funds, the conversion of Albertsons and NALP to Safeway's IT systems, marketing and advertising cost reduction and operational efficiencies within its back office, distribution and manufacturing organizations. Actual synergies, the expenses and cash required to realize the synergies and the sources of the synergies could differ materially from these estimates, and ACI cannot assure you that it will achieve the full amount of synergies on the schedule anticipated, or that these synergy programs will not have other adverse effects on its business. In light of these significant uncertainties, you should not place undue reliance on ACI's estimated synergies.

Total debt, including both the current and long-term portions of capital lease obligations and net of debt discounts and deferred financing costs, decreased by $462.1 million to $11.9 billion as of February 24, 2018 compared to $12.3 billion as of February 25, 2017. The decrease in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 was primarily due to the repurchase of certain NALP Notes and the repayment of term loans made in connection with ACI's term loan repricing that occurred in June 2017. ACI's substantial indebtedness could have important consequences for you. For example it could: adversely affect the market price of its common stock; increase its vulnerability to general adverse economic and industry conditions; require ACI to dedicate a substantial portion of its cash flow from operations to payments on its indebtedness, thereby reducing the availability of its cash flow to fund working capital, capital expenditures and other general corporate purposes, including acquisitions and costs related to revenue opportunities in connection with the merger; limit ACI's flexibility in planning for, or reacting to, changes in its business and the industry in which it operates; place ACI at a competitive disadvantage compared to its competitors that have less debt; and limit ACI's ability to borrow additional funds. See Debt Management and Liquidity and Financial Resources. For the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI's interest expense, net was $874.8 million. ACI has exposure to future interest rates based on the variable rate debt under its credit facilities and to the extent ACI raises additional debt in the capital markets to meet maturing debt obligations, to fund its capital expenditures and working capital needs and to finance future acquisitions. Daily working capital requirements are typically financed with cash flow from operations and through the use of various committed lines of credit. The interest rate on these borrowing arrangements is generally determined from the London Inter-Bank Offering Rate, which we refer to as LIBOR, at the borrowing date plus a pre-set margin. ACI manages its exposure to interest rate fluctuations through the use of interest rate swaps. Although ACI employs risk management techniques to hedge against interest rate volatility, significant and sustained increases in market interest rates could materially increase ACI's financing costs and negatively impact its reported results. The interest rates ACI pays on borrowings under the Senior Secured Credit Facilities are dependent on LIBOR. ACI believes a 100 basis point increase on its variable interest rates would impact its interest expense by approximately $26 million. ACI relies on access to bank and capital markets as sources of liquidity for cash requirements not satisfied by cash flows from operations. A downgrade in ACI's credit ratings from the internationally recognized credit rating agencies could negatively affect its ability to access the bank and capital markets, especially in a time of uncertainty in either of those markets. A rating downgrade could also impact ACI's ability to grow its business by substantially increasing the cost of, or limiting access to, capital.

In the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI spent approximately $1,547 million for capital expenditures, including approximately $200 million of Safeway integration-related capital expenditures. ACI expects to spend approximately $1,200 million in total for capital expenditures by February 23, 2019, or approximately 2.0% of its sales in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, including $65 million of Safeway integration-related capital expenditures. For the fiscal year ended February 23, 2019, ACI expects to have completed 110 to 120 upgrade and remodel projects and opened 12 new stores. For additional information on ACI's capital expenditures, see the table under the caption Projected Capital Expenditures During the Fiscal Year Ended February 23, 2019 contained in Liquidity and Financial Resources.

Reflecting consumer preferences, ACI has a significant focus on perishable products. Sales of perishable products accounted for approximately 40.9% and 41.0% of ACI's total sales in the fiscal years ended February 25, 2017 and February 24, 2018, respectively. ACI could suffer significant perishable product inventory losses and significant lost revenue in the event of the loss of a major supplier or vendor, disruption of ACI's distribution network, extended power outages, natural disasters or other catastrophic occurrences. See the section entitled Risk Factors Risks Relating to ACI's Business and Industry ACI's stores rely heavily on sales of perishable products, and product supply disruptions may have an adverse effect on ACI's profitability and operating results. beginning on page 65 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

ACI employed a diverse workforce of approximately 275,000, 273,000 and 274,000 associates as of February 24, 2018, February 25, 2017 and February 27, 2016, respectively. As of February 24, 2018, approximately 187,000 of ACI's employees were covered by collective bargaining agreements. During the fiscal year ending February 23, 2019, collective bargaining agreements covering approximately 54,000 employees are scheduled to expire. If, upon the expiration of such collective bargaining agreements, ACI is unable to negotiate acceptable contracts with labor unions, it could increase ACI's operating costs and disrupt its operations.

A considerable number of ACI's employees are paid at rates related to the federal minimum wage. Additionally, many of ACI's stores are located in states, including California, where the minimum wage is greater than the federal minimum wage and where a considerable number of employees receive compensation equal to the state's minimum wage. For example, as of February 24, 2018, ACI employed approximately 71,000 associates in California, where the current minimum wage was recently increased to $11.00 per hour effective January 1, 2018 and will gradually increase to $15.00 per hour by January 1, 2022. In Maryland, where ACI employed approximately 8,000 associates as of February 24, 2018, the minimum wage was recently increased to $9.25 per hour, and will increase to $10.10 per hour on July 1, 2018. Moreover, municipalities may set minimum wages above the applicable state standards. For example, the minimum wage in Seattle, Washington, where ACI employed approximately 2,000 associates as of February 24, 2018, was recently increased to $15.00 per hour effective January 1, 2017 for employers with more than 500 employees nationwide. In Chicago, Illinois, where ACI employed approximately 6,200 associates as of February 24, 2018, the minimum wage was recently increased to $11.00 per hour, and will gradually increase to $13.00 per hour by July 1, 2019. Any further increases in the federal minimum wage or the enactment of additional state or local minimum wage increases could increase ACI's labor costs, which may adversely affect its results of operations and financial condition.

ACI participates in various multiemployer pension plans for substantially all employees represented by unions that require ACI to make contributions to these plans in amounts established under collective bargaining agreements. In the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI contributed $431.2 million to multiemployer pension plans. During the fiscal year ending February 23, 2019, ACI expects to contribute approximately $450 million to multiemployer pension plans, subject to collective bargaining conditions.

Acquisitions Prior to the Merger with Rite Aid

Plated

On September 20, 2017, ACI acquired DineInFresh, Inc., which we refer to as Plated, a provider of meal kit services. The deal advanced a shared strategy to reinvent the way consumers discover, purchase, and experience food. In teaming up with Plated, ACI added a meal kit company with leading technology and data capabilities.

El Rancho

On November 16, 2017, ACI acquired a 45% equity interest in each of Mexico Foods Parent LLC and La Fabrica Parent LLC, which together we refer to as El Rancho, a Texas-based specialty grocer with 16 stores that focuses on Latino customers. ACI has the option to acquire the remaining 55% of El Rancho at any time until six months after the delivery of El Rancho's financial results for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2021. The price to be paid by ACI for the remaining outstanding equity of El Rancho will be calculated using a predetermined market-based formula. The agreement with El Rancho provides ACI an opportunity to invest in the fast-growing Latino grocery sector and complements ACI's successful operation of a variety of store banners in neighborhoods with significant Latino populations.

Table of ContentsCasa Ley

During the fourth quarter of the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI completed the sale of its equity method investment in Casa Ley and distributed approximately $0.934 in cash per Casa Ley CVR (or approximately $222 million in the aggregate) pursuant to the terms of the Casa Ley CVR agreement.

MedCart

ACI recently acquired MedCart Specialty Care LLC, which we refer to as Medcart Specialty Pharmacy, a URAC-accredited specialty pharmacy with accreditation and license to operate in over 40 states, which will extend ACI's ability to service its customers' health needs.

Haggen Transaction

During the fiscal quarter ended February 28, 2015, in connection with the acquisition of Safeway, ACI announced that it had entered into agreements to sell 168 stores as required by the FTC as a condition of closing the Safeway acquisition. ACI sold 146 of these stores to Haggen. On September 8, 2015, Haggen commenced a case under Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware. After receiving FTC and state attorneys general clearance, and Bankruptcy Court approval, during the fiscal quarter ended February 27, 2016, ACI re-acquired 35 stores from Haggen for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $33 million.

Haggen also secured Bankruptcy Court approval for bidding procedures for the sale of 29 additional stores. On March 25, 2016, ACI entered into a purchase agreement to acquire the 29 additional stores, which included 15 stores originally sold to Haggen as part of the FTC divestitures, and certain trade names and other intellectual property, for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $114 million. ACI completed the acquisition of these 29 stores on June 2, 2016. ACI refers to this acquisition, together with the acquisition of 35 stores from Haggen during the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016, in this proxy statement/prospectus as the Haggen Transaction.

A&P Transaction

In the fiscal quarter ended February 27, 2016, ACI's indirect wholly-owned subsidiary, Acme Markets, completed its acquisition of 73 stores from A&P. The purchase price for the 73 stores, including the cost of acquired inventory, was $292.7 million. The acquired stores, which are principally located in the northern New York City suburbs, northern New Jersey and the greater Philadelphia area, are complementary to Acme Markets' existing store and distribution base and were re-bannered as Acme stores. ACI refers to this acquisition as the A&P Transaction.

Safeway Acquisition

On January 30, 2015, ACI completed its acquisition of Safeway by acquiring all of the outstanding shares of Safeway for cash consideration of $34.92 per share or $8,263.5 million, and issuing contingent value rights with an estimated fair value of $1.03 and $0.05 per share relating to Safeway's 49% interest in Casa Ley and deferred consideration related to Safeway's previous sale of the PDC assets, respectively, for an aggregate fair value of $270.9 million. At the time of the Safeway acquisition, Safeway operated 1,325 retail food stores under the banners Safeway, Vons, Tom Thumb, Pavilions, Randalls and Carrs located principally in California, Hawaii, Oregon, Washington, Alaska, Colorado, Arizona, Texas, and the Mid-Atlantic region. In addition, at the time of the Safeway acquisition, Safeway had 353 fuel centers, 15 distribution centers and 19 manufacturing facilities.

United Acquisition

On December 29, 2013, ACI acquired United Supermarkets for $362.1 million in cash, expanding ACI's presence in North and West Texas, in a transaction that offered significant synergies and added a differentiated upscale store format, Market Street, to the Albertsons portfolio. At the time of the United acquisition, United operated 51 traditional, specialty and Hispanic retail food stores under its United Supermarkets, Market Street and Amigos banners, seven convenience stores and 26 fuel centers under its United Express banner and three distribution centers. United is located in 30 markets across North and West Texas.

NALP Acquisition

On March 21, 2013, ACI acquired all of the issued and outstanding shares of NALP from SuperValu pursuant to a stock purchase agreement for a total purchase consideration of $253.6 million, including $69.9 million of working capital adjustments, and assumed debt and capital lease obligations with a carrying value prior to the acquisition date of $3.2 billion. The purchase consideration was primarily cash and a short-term payable that was fully paid as of February 20, 2014. At the time of the NALP acquisition, NALP operated 871 retail food stores under its Jewel-Osco, Acme, Shaw's, Star Market and Albertsons banners, primarily located in the Northeast, Midwest, Mid-Atlantic and Western regions of the United States. In addition, ACI acquired NALP's 10 distribution centers.

(2) Primarily includes the 1,325 stores acquired through the Safeway acquisition on January 30, 2015.

(3) Stores acquired during this period include 871 stores acquired through the NALP acquisition on March 21, 2013, four stores acquired from Vons REIT, Inc. on October 10, 2013, and 51 stores acquired through the United acquisition on December 29, 2013.

ACI's Strategy

ACI's operating philosophy is simple: ACI runs great stores with a relentless focus on sales growth. ACI believes there are significant opportunities to grow sales and enhance profitability and Free Cash Flow, through execution of the following strategies:

Enhancing and Upgrading ACI's Fresh, Natural and Organic Offerings and Signature Products. ACI continues to enhance and upgrade its fresh, natural and organic offerings across its meat, produce, service deli and bakery departments to meet the changing tastes and preferences of its customers. ACI is rapidly growing its portfolio of USDA-certified organic products to include over 1,500 Own Brands products. In ACI's recent acquisition of Plated, ACI added a meal kit company with leading technology and data capabilities, a strategic step for

ACI as it continues to focus on innovation, personalization and customization. ACI also believes that continued innovation and expansion of its high-volume, high-quality and differentiated signature products will contribute to stronger sales growth.

Expanding ACI's Own Brands Offerings. ACI continues to drive sales growth and profitability by extending its Own Brands offerings across its banners, including high-quality and recognizable brands such as O Organics, Open Nature, Signature and Lucerne. ACI's Own Brands products achieved over $11.5 billion in sales in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018.

Leveraging ACI's Effective and Scalable Loyalty Programs. ACI believes it can grow basket size and improve the shopping experience for its customers by expanding its just for U, MyMixx and fuel rewards programs. Over 13 million members are currently enrolled in ACI's loyalty rewards program. ACI believes it can further enhance its merchandising and marketing programs by utilizing its customer analytics capabilities, including advanced digital marketing and mobile applications, to improve customer retention and provide targeted promotions to its customers. For example, ACI's just for U and fuel rewards customers have demonstrated greater basket size, improved customer retention rates and an increased likelihood to redeem promotions offered in ACI's stores. ACI and Rite Aid expect that the merger will empower the combined company to improve their targeted marketing by linking ACI's loyalty program and data analytics capabilities with Rite Aid's Wellness+ loyalty program.

Providing ACI's Customers with Convenient Digital Solutions. ACI seeks to provide its customers with the means to shop how, when and where they choose. As consumer preferences evolve towards greater convenience, ACI is improving its online offerings, including home delivery and Drive Up and Go services. ACI continues to enhance its delivery platform to offer more delivery options and windows across its store base, including early morning deliveries, same-day deliveries, one-to-two hour deliveries by Instacart and unattended deliveries. In addition, ACI is seeking to expand its curbside Drive Up and Go program in order to enable customers to conveniently pick up their goods on the way home or to the office. ACI has added to its delivery offerings with its recent alliance with Instacart, offering delivery in as little as an hour across key market areas. ACI believes its strategy of providing customers with a variety of in-store and online options that suit their varying individual needs will drive additional sales growth and differentiate ACI from many of its competitors.

Capitalizing on Demand for Health and Wellness Services. ACI intends to leverage its portfolio of 1,777 pharmacies and its growing network of wellness clinics to capitalize on increasing customer demand for health and wellness services. Pharmacy customers are among ACI's most loyal, and their average weekly spend on groceries is over 2.5x that of its non-pharmacy customers. ACI plans to continue to grow its pharmacy script counts through new patient prescription transfer programs and initiatives such as clinic, hospital and preferred network partnerships, which ACI believes will expand its access to more customers. To further enhance its pharmacy offerings, ACI recently acquired MedCart Specialty Pharmacy, a URAC-accredited specialty pharmacy with accreditation and license to operate in over 40 states, which will extend ACI's ability to service its customers' health needs. ACI believes that these efforts will drive sales and generate customer loyalty.

Continuously Evaluating and Upgrading ACI's Store Portfolio. ACI plans to pursue a disciplined but committed capital allocation strategy to upgrade, remodel and relocate stores to attract customers to its stores and to increase store volumes. ACI opened 15 new stores in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, and expects to open a total of 12 new stores and complete 110 to 120 upgrade and remodel projects during the fiscal year ended February 23, 2019. ACI believes that its store base is in excellent condition, and ACI has developed a remodel strategy that is both cost-efficient and effective. In addition to store remodels, ACI continuously evaluates and optimizes store formats to better serve the different customer demographics of each local community. ACI has re-merchandised 170 stores to its Premium format in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, and has identified an additional 300 stores across its divisions that it will re-merchandise to its Premium format. In its Premium format, ACI offers a greater assortment of unique items in its fresh and service departments, as well as more natural, organic and healthy products throughout the store. Additionally, ACI has started to reposition approximately 100 stores across its divisions from its Premium format to an Ultra-Premium format that also offers gourmet and artisanal products, upscale décor and experiential elements including walk-in wine cellars and wine and cheese tasting counters.

Driving Innovation. ACI intends to drive traffic and sales growth through constant innovation. ACI will remain focused on identifying emerging trends in food and sourcing new and innovative products. ACI is adjusting its store layouts to accommodate a greater assortment of grab-and-go, individually packaged, and snack-sized meals. ACI is also rolling out new merchandising initiatives across its store base, including the introduction of meal kits, product sampling events, quality prepared foods and in-store dining.

Sharing Best Practices Across Divisions. ACI's division leaders collaborate closely to ensure the rapid sharing of best practices. Recent examples include the expansion of ACI's O Organics and Open Nature offerings across banners, the accelerated roll-out of signature products such as Albertsons' in-store fresh-cut fruit and vegetables and implementing Safeway's successful wine and floral shop strategies, with broader product assortments and new fixtures across many of its banners.

ACI believes the combination of these actions and initiatives, together with the attractive industry trends described in more detail under Business of ACI ACI's Industry, will position ACI to achieve sales growth.

Enhance ACI's Operating Margin. ACI's focus on sales growth provides an opportunity to enhance its operating margin by leveraging its fixed costs. ACI plans to realize further margin benefits through added scale from partnering with vendors and by achieving efficiencies in manufacturing and distribution. ACI is investing in its supply channel, including the automation of several of its distribution centers, in order to create efficiencies and reduce costs. In addition, ACI maintains a disciplined approach to expense management and budgeting.

Implement ACI's Synergy Realization Plan. ACI currently expects to achieve $823 million in annual run-rate synergies by February 23, 2019 from its acquisition of Safeway, with remaining associated one-time costs of approximately $200 million, including approximately $65 million of Safeway integration-related capital expenditures. During the fiscal years ended February 25, 2017 and February 24, 2018, ACI achieved synergies from the Safeway acquisition of approximately $575 million and $675 million, respectively, or approximately $750 million on an annual run-rate basis by February 24, 2018, principally from savings related to corporate and division overhead, ACI's own brands, vendor funds, the conversion of Albertsons and NALP onto Safeway's IT systems, marketing and advertising cost reduction and operational efficiencies within ACI's back office and distribution and manufacturing organizations. ACI's detailed synergy plan was developed on a bottom-up, function-by-function basis by combined Albertsons and Safeway teams. The plan includes capturing opportunities from corporate and division cost savings, simplifying business processes and rationalizing headcount. By February 23, 2019, Safeway's information technology systems are expected to support all of ACI's stores, distribution centers and systems, including financial reporting and payroll processing, as ACI winds down its transition services agreement for its Albertsons, Acme, Jewel-Osco, Shaw's and Star Market banners with SuperValu. ACI is extending the expansive and high-quality own brands program developed at Safeway across all of ACI's banners. ACI believes its increased scale will help it to optimize and improve its vendor relationships. ACI also plans to achieve marketing and advertising savings from lower print, production and broadcast rates in overlapping regions and reduced agency spend. Finally, ACI intends to consolidate managed care provider reimbursement programs, increase vaccine penetration and leverage its combined scale.

Selectively Grow ACI's Store Base Organically and Through Acquisition. ACI intends to continue to grow its store base organically through disciplined but committed investment in new stores. ACI opened 15 new stores in each of the fiscal years ended February 25, 2017 and February 24, 2018, and expects to open a total of 12 new stores and complete 110 to 120 upgrade and remodel projects during the fiscal year ended February 23, 2019. ACI acquired 73 stores from A&P for ACI's Acme banner and 35 stores from Haggen for ACI's Albertsons banner during the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016, and ACI acquired an additional 29 stores from Haggen during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, of which 15 operate under the Haggen banner. ACI evaluates acquisition opportunities on an ongoing basis as ACI seeks to strengthen its competitive position in existing markets or expand its footprint into new markets. ACI believes its healthy balance sheet and decentralized structure provide ACI with strategic flexibility and a strong platform to make acquisitions. ACI believes its successful track record of integration and synergy delivery provides ACI with an opportunity to further enhance sales growth, leverage its cost structure and increase profitability and Free Cash Flow through selected acquisitions. On November 16, 2017, ACI acquired an equity interest in El Rancho, a Texas-based specialty grocer with 16 stores that focuses on Latino customers. The agreement with El Rancho provides ACI an opportunity to invest in the fast-growing Latino grocery sector, and complements ACI's successful operation of a variety of store banners in neighborhoods with significant Latino populations. Consistent with this strategy, ACI regularly evaluates potential acquisition opportunities, including ones that would be significant to ACI, and ACI is currently participating in processes regarding several potential acquisition opportunities, including ones that would be significant to it.

Comparison of Fiscal Years Ended February 24, 2018, February 25, 2017 and February 27, 2016

The following table and related discussion sets forth certain information and comparisons regarding the components of ACI's consolidated statements of operations for the fiscal years ended February 24, 2018, February 25, 2017 and February 27, 2016.

Identical Store Sales, Excluding Fuel

Identical store sales, on an actual basis, is defined as stores operating during the same period in both the current year and the prior year, comparing sales on a daily basis, excluding fuel. Acquired stores become identical on the one-year anniversary date of their acquisition. Identical store sales results, on an actual basis, for the past three fiscal years were as follows:

	Fiscal Year Ended February 24, 2018	Fiscal Year Ended February 25, 2017	Fiscal Year Ended February 27, 2016
Identical store sales, excluding fuel	(1.3)%	(0.4)%	4.4%

ACI's identical store sales decrease in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 was driven by a decrease of 2.9% in customer traffic partially offset by an increase of 1.6% in average ticket size. During the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 and the first half of the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI's identical store sales were negatively impacted by food price deflation in certain categories, including meat, eggs and dairy, together with selective investments in price. ACI's identical store sales for the fourth quarter of the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 were positive at 0.6%, which reflected the benefit from improvements in customer traffic trends and an increase in average ticket. ACI expects overall identical store sales growth of 1.5% to 2.0% during the fiscal year ending February 23, 2019, with such growth being weighted more to the second half of the fiscal year.

Operating Results Overview

Net income was $46.3 million in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 compared to net loss of $373.3 million in the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, an increase of $419.6 million. This improvement was primarily attributable to the Income tax benefit of $963.8 million, a $129.0 million reduction in interest expense and incremental synergies related to the Safeway acquisition, partially offset by a decrease in operating income of $645.4 million. The decrease in operating income was primarily driven by lower gross profit, goodwill and other asset impairment charges, higher employee related costs and increased depreciation and amortization expense.

The declines in identical store sales and operating results in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 compared to the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 were driven by ACI's performance during the first three quarters of the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 as ACI's fourth quarter results realized increases in identical store sales and improved operating results compared to the fourth quarter of the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017. ACI believes the recent fourth quarter improvements in the trends and operating results of ACI's business are attributable, in part, to ACI's selective investments in price and the increasing offerings ACI is providing to its customers and that they will continue into the fiscal year ending February 23, 2019.

Table of ContentsNet Sales and Other Revenue

Net sales and other revenue increased $246.4 million, or 0.4%, from $59,678.2 million in the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 to $59,924.6 million in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. The components of the change in Net sales and other revenue for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 were as follows (in millions):

	Fiscal Year Ended February 24, 2018
Net sales and other revenue for the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017	$ 59,678.2
Additional sales due to new stores and acquisitions, net of store closings	589.4
Increase in fuel sales	411.2
Identical store sales decline of 1.3%	(740.4)
Other(1)	(13.8)
Net sales and other revenue for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018	$ 59,924.6

(1) Primarily relates to changes in non-identical store sales and other revenue.

The primary increase in Net sales and other revenue in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 as compared to the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 was driven by an increase of $589.4 million from new stores and acquisitions, net of store closings, and an increase of $411.2 million in fuel sales primarily driven by higher average retail pump prices, partially offset by a decline of $740.4 million from our 1.3% decline in identical store sales.

Net sales and other revenue increased $944.2 million, or 1.6%, from $58,734.0 million in the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016 to $59,678.2 million in the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017. The components of the change in Net sales and other revenue for the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 were as follows (in millions):

	Fiscal Year Ended February 25, 2017
Net sales and other revenue for the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016	$ 58,734.0
Additional sales due to A&P and Haggen Transactions, for the period not considered identical	1,843.4
Decline in sales from FTC-mandated divestitures	(444.5)
Decline in fuel sales	(261.4)
Identical store sales decrease of 0.4%	(213.3)
Other(1)	20.0
Net sales and other revenue for the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017	$ 59,678.2

(1) Primarily relates to changes in non-identical store sales and other revenue.

The primary increase in net sales and other revenue was driven by an increase of $1,843.4 million from the acquired A&P and Haggen stores, partially offset by a decline of $213.3 million from ACI's 0.4% decline in identical store sales, a decline of $444.5 million in sales related to stores sold as part of the FTC divestiture process and $261.4 million in lower fuel sales driven by lower average retail pump prices.

Table of ContentsGross Profit

Gross profit represents the portion of sales and other revenue remaining after deducting the cost of goods sold during the period, including purchase and distribution costs. These costs include inbound freight charges, purchasing and receiving costs, warehouse inspection costs, warehousing costs and other costs associated with our distribution network. Advertising, promotional expenses and vendor allowances are also components of cost of goods sold.

Gross profit margin decreased 60 basis points to 27.3% in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 compared to 27.9% in the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017. Excluding the impact of fuel, the gross profit margin decreased 50 basis points. The decrease in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 as compared to the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 was primarily attributable to ACI's investment in promotions and price and higher shrink expense as a percentage of sales, which was partially due to system conversions related to ACI's integration.

Gross profit margin increased 60 basis points to 27.9% in the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 compared to 27.3% in the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016. Excluding the impact of fuel, the gross profit margin increased 50 basis points. The increase was primarily attributable to synergies achieved as part of the Safeway integration related to the deployment of ACI's own brand products across its Albertsons and NALP stores, improved vendor pricing and savings related to the consolidation of its distribution network. These increases were partially offset by higher shrink expense as a percentage of sales during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 compared to the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016.

Selling and Administrative Expenses

Selling and administrative expenses consist primarily of store level costs, including wages, employee benefits, rent, depreciation and utilities, in addition to certain back-office expenses related to ACI's corporate and division offices.

Selling and administrative expenses increased 30 basis points to 27.1% of Net sales and other revenue in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 from 26.8% in the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017. Excluding the impact of fuel, Selling and administrative expenses as a percentage of Net sales and other revenue increased 40 basis points during the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 compared to the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017.

Total	40

Increased employee wage and benefit costs, asset impairments and lease exit costs, higher depreciation and amortization expense and higher store related costs during the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 compared to the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 were offset by lower pension costs and increased Safeway acquisition synergies. Increased employee wage and benefit costs and higher store related costs were primarily attributable to deleveraging of sales on fixed costs. Higher asset impairments and lease exit costs were primarily related to asset impairments in underperforming and closed stores. These increases were partially offset by lower pension expense, net driven by a $25.4 million settlement gain during the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 primarily due to an annuity settlement on a portion of ACI's defined benefit pension obligation.

Selling and administrative expenses increased 10 basis points to 26.8% of sales in the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 from 26.7% in the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016. Excluding the impact of fuel, selling and administrative expenses as a percentage of sales was flat during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 compared to the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016.

Increased depreciation and amortization expense in addition to higher pension and employee wage and benefit costs during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 compared to the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016 were offset by gains on property dispositions, a decrease in acquisition and integration costs and increased Safeway acquisition synergies in the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 compared to the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016. The increase in pension expense is primarily driven by the $78.9 million charge related to the acquisition of Collington from C&S Wholesale Grocers, Inc. during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017. The increase in depreciation and amortization expense is primarily driven by an increase in property, equipment and intangibles balances primarily related to the A&P Transaction and the Haggen Transaction and capital expenditures.

Table of ContentsInterest Expense, Net

Interest expense, net was $874.8 million in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, $1,003.8 million in the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 and $950.5 million in the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016. The decrease in Interest expense, net for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 compared to the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 is primarily due to lower average interest rates on outstanding borrowings reflecting the benefit of ACI's refinancing transactions during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 in addition to higher write off of deferred financing costs in the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 related to the refinancing transactions.

The following details ACI's components of Interest expense, net for the respective fiscal years (in millions):

	Fiscal Year Ended February 24, 2018	Fiscal Year Ended February 25, 2017	Fiscal Year Ended February 27, 2016
ACI ABL Facility, senior secured and unsecured notes, term loans and debentures	$ 701.5	$ 764.3	$ 777.0
Capital lease obligations	96.3	106.8	97.0
Amortization and write off of deferred financing costs	56.1	84.4	69.3
Amortization and write off of debt discount	16.0	22.3	12.9
Other interest expense (income)	4.9	26.0	(5.7)
Interest expense, net	$ 874.8	$ 1,003.8	$ 950.5

The weighted average interest rate during the year was 6.5%, excluding amortization of debt discounts and deferred financing costs. The weighted average interest rate during the fiscal years ended February 25, 2017 and February 27, 2016 was 6.8%.

(Gain) Loss on Debt Extinguishment

During the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI repurchased NALP Notes with a par value of $160.0 million and a book value of $140.2 million for $135.5 million plus accrued interest of $3.7 million, which we refer to as the NALP Notes Repurchase. In connection with the NALP Notes Repurchase, ACI recorded a gain on debt extinguishment of $4.7 million.

On June 24, 2016, a portion of the net proceeds from the issuance of ACI's 2024 Notes (as defined herein) was used to fully redeem $609.6 million of the principal amount of ACI's 7.750% Senior Secured Notes due 2022. In connection with such redemption, ACI recorded a $111.7 million loss on debt extinguishment comprised of an $87.7 million make-whole premium and a $24.0 million write off of deferred financing costs and original issue discount.

Other Expense (Income)

For the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, other expense was $42.5 million primarily driven by changes in ACI's equity method investment in Casa Ley, changes in the fair value of the contingent value rights, which we refer to as CVRs, and gains and losses on the sale of investments. For the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, other income was $11.4 million, primarily driven by gains related to the sale of certain investments. For the fiscal year ended

February 27, 2016, other income was $7.0 million, primarily driven by equity in the earnings of ACI's unconsolidated affiliate, Casa Ley.

Table of ContentsIncome Tax Benefit

Income tax was a benefit of $963.8 million in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, $90.3 million in the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, and $39.6 million in the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016. Prior to the ACI Reorganization Transactions, a substantial portion of the businesses and assets were held and operated by limited liability companies, which are generally not subject to entity-level federal or state income taxation. On December 22, 2017, the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act, which we refer to as the Tax Act, was signed into law and based on ACI's current view of the Tax Act, ACI expects it to result in a significant ongoing benefit to ACI, primarily as the result of a reduction in the corporate tax rate from 35% to 21% and the ability to accelerate depreciation deductions for qualified property purchases. Beginning in the fiscal year ending February 23, 2019, ACI expects its effective tax rate to be in the mid-twenties before discrete items. The components of the change in income taxes for the last three fiscal years were as follows:

	Fiscal Year Ended February 24, 2018	Fiscal Year Ended February 25, 2017	Fiscal Year Ended February 27, 2016
Income tax benefit at federal statutory rate	$ (301.5)	$ (162.3)	$ (189.6)

Income tax benefit	$ (963.8)	$ (90.3)	$ (39.6)

The income tax benefit in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 includes a net $218.0 million non-cash benefit from the reversal of a valuation allowance during the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 and a net non-cash benefit of $430.4 million in the fourth quarter of the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 as a result of a reduction in net deferred tax liabilities due to the lower corporate income tax rate from the enactment of the Tax Act, partially offset by an increase of $46.7 million in net deferred tax liabilities from ACI's limited liability companies related to the ACI Reorganization Transactions.

Adjusted EBITDA

Adjusted EBITDA is a non-GAAP financial measure that ACI defines as earnings before interest, income taxes, depreciation and amortization, as further adjusted to eliminate the effects of items management does not consider in assessing ongoing performance. ACI believes that Adjusted EBITDA provides a meaningful representation of operating performance because it excludes the impact of items that could be considered non-core in nature. ACI uses Adjusted EBITDA to measure overall performance and assess performance against peers. Adjusted EBITDA also provides useful information for ACI's investors, securities analysts and other interested parties. Adjusted EBITDA is not a measure of performance under GAAP and should not be considered as a substitute for net earnings, cash flows from operating activities and other income or cash flow statement data. ACI's definition of Adjusted EBITDA may not be identical to similarly titled measures reported by other companies.

For the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, Adjusted EBITDA was $2.4 billion, or 4.0% of Net sales and other revenue compared to $2.8 billion, or 4.7% of Net sales and other revenue, for the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017. The decrease in Adjusted EBITDA primarily reflects lower gross profit, higher employee wage and benefit costs and deleveraging of sales on fixed costs in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 compared to the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017.

The following is a reconciliation of Net income (loss) to Adjusted EBITDA (in millions):

- (2) Includes expenses related to acquisition and financing activities, including management fees of $13.8 million in each year. The fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 and the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016 include adjustments to tax indemnification assets of $12.3 million and $30.8 million, respectively. The fiscal year ended February 27, 2016 also includes losses of $44.2 million related to acquired contingencies in connection with the Safeway acquisition.
- (3) The fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 includes asset impairment losses of $100.9 million primarily related to underperforming stores. The fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 includes a net gain of $42.9 million related to the disposition of a portfolio of surplus properties. The fiscal year ended February 27, 2016 includes losses of $30.6 million related to leases assigned to Haggen as part of the FTC-mandated divestitures that were subsequently rejected during the Haggen bankruptcy proceedings and additional losses of $41.1 million related to the Hagen divestitures and its related bankruptcy.

- (4) The fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 charge to pension expense, net related to the settlement of a pre-existing contractual relationship and assumption of the pension plan related to the Collington acquisition.
- (5) Includes costs related to facility closures and the transition to ACI's decentralized operating model.

Table of ContentsNet Cash Provided By Operating Activities

Net cash provided by operating activities was $1,018.8 million during the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 compared to net cash provided by operating activities of $1,813.5 million during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017. The decrease in net cash flow from operating activities during the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 compared to the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 was primarily due to the decrease in Adjusted EBITDA, principally reflecting the results in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 compared to the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, and changes in working capital primarily related to accounts payable and accrued liabilities and the $42.3 million payment on the Rodman litigation (as described herein), partially offset by a decrease in interest and income taxes paid of $110.7 million and $113.4 million, respectively. Cash provided by operating activities for the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 also includes a correction in the classification of certain book overdrafts resulting in an increase of $139.2 million.

Net cash provided by operating activities was $1,813.5 million during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 compared to net cash provided by operating activities of $901.6 million during the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016. The $911.9 million increase in net cash flow from operating activities during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 compared to the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016 was primarily due to an increase in operating income of $238.8 million, a Safeway appraisal settlement payment of $133.7 million in the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016 and changes in working capital primarily related to inventory and accounts payable partially offset by an increase in income taxes paid of $207.5 million. Cash provided by operating activities during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 also includes a correction in the classification of certain book overdrafts discussed above.

Net Cash Used In Investing Activities

Net cash used in investing activities during the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 was $469.6 million primarily due to payments for property and equipment, including lease buyouts, of $1,547.0 million, which includes approximately $200 million of Safeway integration-related capital expenditures, and payments for business acquisitions of $148.8 million partially offset by proceeds from the sale of assets of $939.2 million and proceeds from the sale of our equity method investment in Casa Ley of $344.2 million. Asset sale proceeds primarily relate to the sale and subsequent leaseback of 94 store properties during the third and fourth quarters of the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018.

Net cash used in investing activities during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 was $1,076.2 million primarily due to payments for property and equipment, including lease buyouts, of $1,414.9 million, which includes approximately $250 million of Safeway integration-related capital expenditures, and payments for business acquisitions of $220.6 million partially offset by proceeds from the sale of assets of $477.0 million. Asset sale proceeds include the sale and subsequent short-term leaseback of two distribution centers in Southern California and the sale of a portfolio of surplus properties.

Net cash used in investing activities during the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016 was $811.8 million primarily due to the merger consideration paid in connection with the Safeway acquisition appraisal settlement, purchase consideration paid for the A&P Transaction and the Haggen Transaction and cash paid for capital expenditures, partially offset by proceeds from the sale of ACI's FTC-mandated divestitures in connection with the Safeway acquisition and a decrease in restricted cash due to the elimination of certain collateral requirements.

Table of Contents

In the fiscal year ending February 23, 2019, ACI expects to spend approximately $1,200 million in capital expenditures, including approximately $65 million of Safeway integration-related capital expenditures, as follows (in millions):

Projected Capital Expenditures During the Fiscal Year Ended February 23, 2019
Integration capital	$ 65.0
New stores and remodels	400.0
Maintenance	180.0
Supply chain	125.0
IT	150.0
Real estate and expansion capital	280.0
Total	$ 1,200.0

Net Cash Used In Financing Activities

Net cash used in financing activities was $1,098.1 million in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 due primarily to payments on long-term debt and capital lease obligations of $977.8 million, payment of the Casa Ley CVR and a member distribution of $250.0 million, partially offset by proceeds from the issuance of long-term debt. Net cash used in financing activities was $97.8 million in the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 due primarily to payments on long-term debt and capital lease obligations, partially offset by proceeds from the issuance of long-term debt. Net cash used in financing activities was $635.9 million in the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016 due primarily to payments on ACI's asset-based revolving credit facility and term loan borrowings from the proceeds of the FTC-mandated divestitures, partially offset by $300.0 million in borrowings to fund the A&P Transaction.

Debt Management

Total debt, including both the current and long-term portions of capital lease obligations and net of debt discounts and deferred financing costs, decreased $462.1 million to $11.9 billion as of the end of the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 compared to $12.3 billion as of the end of the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017. The decrease in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 was primarily due to the repurchase of the NALP Notes and the repayment made in connection with the term loan repricing described below.

Outstanding debt, including current maturities and net of debt discounts and deferred financing costs, principally consisted of (in millions):

	February 24, 2018
Term loans	$ 5,610.7
Notes and debentures	5,136.9
Capital leases	864.6
Other notes payable and mortgages	263.6
Total debt, including capital leases	$ 11,875.8

On June 16, 2017, ACI repaid $250.0 million of the existing term loans. In addition, on June 27, 2017, ACI entered into a repricing amendment to the Term Loan Agreement which established three new term loan tranches. The new tranches currently consist of $2,998.6 million of a new Term B-4 Loan, $1,133.6 million of a new Term B-5 Loan and $1,588.0 million of a new Term B-6 Loan (which we refer to, collectively, as the New Term Loans). The (i) new Term B-4 Loan will mature on August 25, 2021, and has an interest rate of LIBOR, subject to a 0.75% floor, plus 2.75%, (ii) new Term B-5 Loan will mature on December 21, 2022, and has an interest rate of LIBOR, subject to a 0.75% floor, plus 3.00%, and (iii) new Term B-6 Loan will mature on June 22, 2023, and has an interest rate of LIBOR, subject to a 0.75% floor, plus 3.00%. The New Term Loans, together with cash on hand, were used to repay the term loans then outstanding under the Term Loan Agreement.

During the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, certain subsidiaries of, ACI sold 94 of ACI's store properties for an aggregate purchase price, net of closing costs, of approximately $962 million. In connection with the sale and subsequent leaseback, ACI entered into lease agreements for each of the properties for initial terms of 20 years with varying multiple five-year renewal options. The aggregate initial annual rent payments for the 94 properties will be approximately $65 million, with scheduled rent increases occurring generally every one or five years over the initial 20-year term. ACI qualified for sale-leaseback and operating lease accounting on 80 of the store properties and recorded a deferred gain of $360.1 million, which is being amortized over the respective lease periods. The remaining 14 stores did not qualify for sale-leaseback accounting primarily due to continuing involvement with adjacent properties that have not been legally subdivided from the store properties. ACI expects these store properties to qualify for sale-leaseback accounting once the adjacent properties have been legally subdivided. The financing lease liability recorded for the 14 store properties was $133.4 million.

For additional information on ACI's recent refinancing transactions, see the section entitled "Description of Indebtedness" beginning on page 306 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

See Note 8 "Long-Term Debt" in ACI's consolidated financial statements, included elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus, for additional information related to ACI's outstanding debt.

Liquidity and Factors Affecting Liquidity

ACI estimates its liquidity needs over the next fiscal year to be in the range of $3.75 billion to $4.25 billion, which includes anticipated requirements for working capital, capital expenditures, interest payments and scheduled principal payments of debt, operating leases, capital leases and ACI's TSA agreements with SuperValu. Based on current operating trends, ACI believes that cash flows from operating activities and other sources of liquidity, including borrowings under the ACI ABL Facility, will be adequate to meet its liquidity needs for the next 12 months and for the foreseeable future. ACI believes it has adequate cash flow to continue to maintain its current debt ratings and to respond effectively to competitive conditions. In addition, ACI may enter into refinancing transactions from time to time. There can be no assurance, however, that ACI's business will continue to generate cash flow at or above current levels or that ACI will maintain its ability to borrow under the ACI ABL Facility. See the section entitled "Contractual Obligations" beginning on page 232 of this proxy statement/prospectus for a more detailed description of ACI's commitments as of February 24, 2018.

As of February 24, 2018, ACI had no borrowings outstanding under the ACI ABL Facility and total availability of approximately $3.1 billion (net of letter of credit usage). As of February 25, 2017, ACI had no borrowings outstanding under the ACI ABL Facility and total availability of approximately $3.0 billion (net of letter of credit usage).

The ACI ABL Facility contains no financial maintenance covenants unless and until (i) excess availability is less than (a) 10% of the lesser of the aggregate commitments and the then-current borrowing base at any time or (b) $250 million at any time or (ii) an event of default is continuing. If any such event occurs, ACI must maintain a fixed charge coverage ratio of 1.0:1.0 from the date such triggering event occurs until such event of default is cured or waived and/or the 30th day that all such triggers under clause (i) no longer exist.

During the fiscal years ended February 24, 2018 and February 25, 2017, there were no financial maintenance covenants in effect under the ACI ABL Facility because the conditions listed above (and similar conditions in ACI's refinanced asset-based revolving credit facilities) had not been met.

Contractual Obligations

Other than the sale-leaseback transaction as previously described under Debt Management, there have been no material changes to ACI's contractual obligations during the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018.

The table below presents ACI's significant contractual obligations as of February 24, 2018 (in millions):

	Total	Payments Due Per Fiscal Year Ending(1)				Thereafter
		February 23, 2019	February 27, 2021	February 29, 2020-	February 26, 2022-
Long-term debt (2)	$ 11,340.5	$ 66.1	$ 535.5	$ 4,186.3	$ 6,552.6
Estimated interest on long-term debt (3)	4,398.0	625.1	1,232.4	987.7	1,552.8
Operating leases (4)	6,970.9	798.6	1,499.0	1,167.7	3,505.6
Capital leases (4)	1,399.4	184.6	324.0	260.3	630.5
Other long-term liabilities (5)	1,267.7	308.5	409.5	169.5	380.2
SuperValu TSA (6)	58.3	58.0	0.3
Purchase obligations (7)	367.2	140.9	87.9	66.7	71.7
Total contractual obligations	$ 25,802.0	$ 2,181.8	$ 4,088.6	$ 6,838.2	$ 12,693.4

- (1) The contractual obligations table excludes funding of pension and other postretirement benefit obligations, which totaled $21.9 million in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 and is expected to total $55.8 million in the fiscal year ended February 23, 2019. This table excludes contributions under various multiemployer pension plans, which totaled $431.2 million the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 and is expected to total approximately $450 million in the fiscal year ended February 23, 2019.
- (2) Long-term debt amounts exclude any debt discounts and deferred financing costs. See Note 8 - Long-term debt in ACI's consolidated financial statements, included elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus, for additional information.
- (3) Amounts include contractual interest payments using the interest rate as of February 24, 2018 applicable to ACI's variable interest term debt instruments and stated fixed rates for all other debt instruments, excluding interest rate swaps. See Note 8 Long-term debt in ACI's consolidated financial statements, included elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus, for additional information.
- (4) Represents the minimum rents payable under operating and capital leases, excluding common area maintenance, insurance or tax payments, for which ACI is obligated.
- (5) Consists of self-insurance liabilities, which have not been reduced by insurance-related receivables, and deferred cash consideration related to Plated. Excludes the $160.1 million of assumed withdrawal liabilities related to Safeway's previous closure of its Dominick's division, and excludes the unfunded pension and postretirement benefit obligation of $564.7 million. The amount of unrecognized tax benefits of $356.0 million as of February 24, 2018 has been excluded from the contractual obligations table because a reasonably reliable estimate of the timing of future tax settlements cannot be determined. Excludes contingent consideration because the timing and settlement is uncertain. Also excludes deferred tax liabilities and certain other deferred liabilities that will not be settled in cash and other lease-related liabilities already reflected as operating lease commitments.

- (6) Represents minimum contractual commitments expected to be paid under the SVU TSA and the wind-down agreement, executed on April 16, 2015. See Note 13 - Related parties and other relationships in ACI's consolidated financial statements, included elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus, for additional information.
- (7) Purchase obligations include various obligations that have specified purchase commitments. As of February 24, 2018, future purchase obligations primarily relate to fixed asset, marketing and information technology commitments, including fixed price contracts. In addition, not included in the contractual obligations table are supply contracts to purchase product for resale to consumers which are typically of a short-term nature with limited or no purchase commitments. ACI also enters into supply contracts which typically include either volume commitments or fixed expiration dates, termination provisions and other customary contractual considerations. The supply contracts that are cancelable have not been included above.

Off-Balance Sheet ArrangementsGuarantees

ACI is party to a variety of contractual agreements pursuant to which it may be obligated to indemnify the other party for certain matters. These contracts primarily relate to ACI's commercial contracts, operating leases and other real estate contracts, trademarks, intellectual property, financial agreements and various other agreements. Under these agreements, ACI may provide certain routine indemnifications relating to representations and warranties (for example, ownership of assets, environmental or tax indemnifications) or personal injury matters. The terms of these indemnifications range in duration and may not be explicitly defined. ACI believes that if it were to incur a loss in any of these matters, the loss would not have a material effect on its financial statements.

ACI is liable for certain operating leases that were assigned to third parties. If any of these third parties fail to perform their obligations under the leases, ACI could be responsible for the lease obligation. See Note 14 Commitments and contingencies and off balance sheet arrangements in ACI's consolidated financial statements, included elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus for additional information. Because of the wide dispersion among third parties and the variety of remedies available, ACI believes that if an assignee became insolvent it would not have a material effect on ACI's financial condition, results of operations or cash flows.

In the ordinary course of business, ACI enters into various supply contracts to purchase products for resale and purchase and service contracts for fixed asset and information technology commitments. These contracts typically include volume commitments or fixed expiration dates, termination provisions and other standard contractual considerations.

Letters of Credit

ACI had letters of credit of $576.8 million outstanding as of February 24, 2018. The letters of credit are maintained primarily to support ACI's performance, payment, deposit or surety obligations. ACI pays bank fees ranging from 1.25% plus a fronting fee of 0.125% on the face amount of the letters of credit.

New Accounting Policies Not Yet Adopted

See Note 1 Description of Business, Basis of Presentation and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies in ACI's consolidated financial statements, included elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus, for new accounting pronouncements which have not yet been adopted.

Table of ContentsCritical Accounting Policies and Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

ACI has chosen accounting policies that it believes are appropriate to report accurately and fairly ACI's operating results and financial position, and ACI applies those accounting policies in a fair and consistent manner. See Note 1 Description of Business, Basis of Presentation and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies in ACI's consolidated financial statements, included elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus, for a discussion of its significant accounting policies. Management believes the following critical accounting policies reflect its more subjective or complex judgments and estimates used in the preparation of ACI's consolidated financial statements.

Vendor Allowances

Consistent with standard practices in the retail industry, ACI receives allowances from many of the vendors whose products ACI buys for resale in its stores. These vendor allowances are provided to increase the sell-through of the related products. ACI receives vendor allowances for a variety of merchandising activities: placement of the vendors' products in its advertising; display of the vendors' products in prominent locations in its stores; supporting the introduction of new products into its retail stores and distribution systems; exclusivity rights in certain categories; and compensation for temporary price reductions offered to customers on products held for sale at retail stores. ACI also receives vendor allowances for buying activities such as volume commitment rebates, credits for purchasing products in advance of their need and cash discounts for the early payment of merchandise purchases. The majority of the vendor allowance contracts have terms of less than one year.

ACI recognizes vendor allowances for merchandising activities as a reduction of cost of sales when the related products are sold. Vendor allowances that have been earned because of completing the required performance under the terms of the underlying agreements but for which the product has not yet been sold are recognized as reductions of inventory. The amount and timing of recognition of vendor allowances as well as the amount of vendor allowances to be recognized as a reduction of ending inventory require management judgment and estimates. ACI determines these amounts based on estimates of current year purchase volume using forecast and historical data and a review of average inventory turnover data. These judgments and estimates affect ACI's reported gross profit, operating earnings (loss) and inventory amounts. ACI's historical estimates have been reliable in the past, and ACI believes the methodology will continue to be reliable in the future. Based on previous experience, ACI does not expect significant changes in the level of vendor support.

Self-Insurance Liabilities

ACI is primarily self-insured for workers' compensation, property, automobile and general liability. The self-insurance liability is undiscounted and determined actuarially, based on claims filed and an estimate of claims incurred but not yet reported. ACI has established stop-loss amounts that limit its further exposure after a claim reaches the designated stop-loss threshold. In determining its self-insurance liabilities, ACI performs a continuing review of its overall position and reserving techniques. Since recorded amounts are based on estimates, the ultimate cost of all incurred claims and related expenses may be more or less than the recorded liabilities.

Any actuarial projection of self-insured losses is subject to a high degree of variability. Litigation trends, legal interpretations, benefit level changes, claim settlement patterns and similar factors influenced historical development trends that were used to determine the current year expense and, therefore, contributed to the variability in the annual expense. However, these factors are not direct inputs into the actuarial projection, and thus their individual impact cannot be quantified.

Long-Lived Asset Impairment

ACI regularly reviews its individual stores' operating performance, together with current market conditions, for indications of impairment. When events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of an individual store's assets may not be recoverable, its future undiscounted cash flows are compared to the carrying value. If the carrying value of store assets to be held and used is greater than the future undiscounted cash flows, an impairment loss is recognized to record the assets at fair value. For property and equipment held for sale, ACI recognizes impairment charges for the excess of the carrying value plus estimated costs of disposal over the fair value. Fair values are based on discounted cash flows or current market rates. These estimates of fair value can be significantly impacted by factors such as changes in the current economic environment and real estate market conditions. Long-lived asset impairment charges were $100.9 million, $46.6 million and $40.2 million in the fiscal years ended February 24, 2018, February 25, 2017 and February 27, 2016 respectively.

Business Combination Measurements

In accordance with applicable accounting standards, ACI estimates the fair value of acquired assets and assumed liabilities as of the acquisition date of business combinations. These fair value adjustments are input into the calculation of goodwill related to the excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the tangible and identifiable intangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed in the acquisition.

The fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed are determined using market, income and cost approaches from the perspective of a market participant. The fair value measurements can be based on significant inputs that are not readily observable in the market. The market approach indicates value for a subject asset based on available market pricing for comparable assets. The market approach used includes prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving comparable assets, as well as pricing guides and other sources. The income approach indicates value for a subject asset based on the present value of cash flows projected to be generated by the asset. Projected cash flows are discounted at a required market rate of return that reflects the relative risk of achieving the cash flows and the time value of money. The cost approach, which estimates value by determining the current cost of replacing an asset with another of equivalent economic utility, was used, as appropriate, for certain assets for which the market and income approaches could not be applied due to the nature of the asset. The cost to replace a given asset reflects the estimated reproduction or replacement cost for the asset, adjusted for obsolescence, whether physical, functional or economic.

Goodwill

As of February 24, 2018, ACI's goodwill totaled $1,183.3 million, of which $917.3 million was recorded as part of its acquisition of Safeway. ACI reviews goodwill for impairment in the fourth quarter of each year, and also upon the occurrence of triggering events. ACI performs reviews of each of its reporting units that have goodwill balances. ACI reviews goodwill for impairment by initially considering qualitative factors to determine whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying amount, including goodwill, as a basis for determining whether it is necessary to perform a quantitative analysis. If it is determined that it is more likely than not that the fair value of reporting unit is less than its carrying amount, a quantitative analysis is performed to identify goodwill impairment. If it is determined that it is not more likely than not that the fair value of the reporting unit is less than its carrying amount, it is unnecessary to perform a quantitative analysis. ACI may elect to bypass the qualitative assessment and proceed directly to performing a quantitative analysis. Beginning on February 26, 2017, ACI prospectively adopted accounting guidance that simplifies goodwill impairment testing. See Note 1 Description of Business, Basis of Presentation and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies in ACI's consolidated financial statements, included elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus, for additional information.

In the second quarter of the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, there was a sustained decline in the market multiples of publicly traded peer companies. In addition, during the second quarter of fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI revised its short-term operating plan. As a result, ACI determined that an interim review of the recoverability of its goodwill was necessary. Consequently, ACI recorded a goodwill impairment loss of $142.3 million, substantially all within the Acme reporting unit relating to the November 2015 acquisition of stores from A&P, due to changes in the estimate of ACI's long-term future financial performance to reflect lower expectations for growth in revenue and earnings than previously estimated. The goodwill impairment loss was based on a quantitative analysis using a combination of a discounted cash flow model (income approach) and a guideline public company comparative analysis (market approach).

Goodwill has been allocated to all of ACI's reporting units and none of its reporting units have a zero or negative carrying amount of net assets. As of February 24, 2018, there are two reporting units with no goodwill due to the impairment loss recorded during the second quarter of the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. There are nine reporting units with an aggregate goodwill balance of $1,093.9 million of which the fair value of each reporting unit was substantially in excess of its carrying value to indicate a remote likelihood of a future impairment loss. There are two reporting units with an aggregate goodwill balance of $89.4 million where it is reasonably possible that future changes in judgments, assumptions and estimates ACI made in assessing the fair value of the reporting unit could cause ACI to recognize impairment charges on a portion of the goodwill balance within each reporting unit. For example, a future decline in market conditions, continued under performance of these two reporting units or other factors could negatively impact the estimated future cash flows and valuation assumptions used to determine the fair value of these two reporting units and lead to future impairment charges.

The annual evaluation of goodwill performed for its reporting units during the fourth quarters of the fiscal years ended February 24, 2018, February 25, 2017 and February 27, 2016 did not result in impairment.

Employee Benefit Plans

Substantially all of ACI's employees are covered by various contributory and non-contributory pension, profit sharing or 401(k) plans, in addition to dedicated defined benefit plans for Safeway, Shaw's and United employees. Certain employees participate in a long-term retention incentive bonus plan. ACI also provides certain health and welfare benefits, including short-term and long-term disability benefits to inactive disabled employees prior to retirement. Most union employees participate in multiemployer retirement plans pursuant to collective bargaining agreements, unless the collective bargaining agreement provides for participation in plans sponsored by ACI.

ACI recognizes a liability for the under-funded status of the defined benefit plans as a component of pension and post-retirement benefit obligations. Actuarial gains or losses and prior service costs or credits are recorded within other comprehensive income (loss). The determination of ACI's obligation and related expense for its sponsored pensions and other post-retirement benefits is dependent, in part, on management's selection of certain actuarial assumptions in calculating these amounts. These assumptions include, among other things, the discount rate and expected long-term rate of return on plan assets.

The objective of ACI's discount rate assumptions was intended to reflect the rates at which the pension benefits could be effectively settled. In making this determination, ACI takes into account the timing and amount of benefits that would be available under the plans.

As of February 27, 2016, ACI changed the method used to estimate the service and interest rate components of net periodic benefit cost for its defined benefit pension plans and other post-retirement benefit plans. Historically, the service and interest rate components were estimated using a single weighted average discount rate derived from the yield curve used to measure the benefit obligation at the beginning of the period. ACI has elected to use a full yield curve approach in the estimation of service and interest cost components of net pension and other post-retirement benefit plan expense by applying the specific spot rates along the yield curve used in the determination of the projected benefit obligation to the relevant projected cash flows. ACI utilized weighted discount rates of 4.21% and 4.25% for its pension plan expenses for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 and the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, respectively. To determine the expected rate of return on pension plan assets held by ACI for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI considered current and forecasted plan asset allocations as well as historical and forecasted rates of return on various asset categories. ACI's weighted assumed pension plan investment rate of return was 6.40% and 6.96% for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 and the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, respectively. See Note 12 Employee benefit plans and collective bargaining agreements in ACI's consolidated financial statements, included elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus, for more information on the asset allocations of pension plan assets.

Sensitivity to changes in the major assumptions used in the calculation of ACI's pension and other post-retirement plan liabilities is illustrated below (dollars in millions):

	Percentage Point Change	Projected Benefit Obligation Decrease / (Increase)	Expense Decrease / (Increase)
Discount rate	+/- 1.00%	$258.9 / $(321.0)	$20.3 / $ 4.9
Expected return on assets	+/- 1.00%	/	$18.7 / $(18.7)

In the fiscal years ended February 24, 2018 and February 25, 2017, ACI contributed $21.9 million and $11.5 million, respectively, to its pension and post-retirement plans. ACI expects to contribute $55.8 million to its pension and post-retirement plans in the fiscal year ending February 23, 2019.

Income Taxes and Uncertain Tax Positions

ACI reviews the tax positions taken or expected to be taken on tax returns to determine whether and to what extent a benefit can be recognized in its consolidated financial statements. See Note 11 Income Taxes in ACI's consolidated financial statements, included elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus, for the amount of unrecognized tax benefits and other disclosures related to uncertain tax positions. Various taxing authorities periodically examine ACI's income tax returns. These examinations include questions regarding ACI's tax filing positions, including the timing and amount of deductions and the allocation of income to various tax jurisdictions. In evaluating these various tax filing positions, including state and local taxes, ACI assesses its income tax positions and records tax benefits for all years subject to examination based upon management's evaluation of the facts, circumstances and information available at the reporting date. For those tax positions where it is more likely than not that a tax benefit will be sustained, ACI has recorded the largest amount of tax benefit with a greater than 50% likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement with a taxing authority that has full knowledge of all relevant information. For those income tax positions where it is not more likely than not that a tax benefit will be sustained, no tax benefit has been recognized in ACI's financial statements. A number of years may elapse before an uncertain tax position is examined and fully resolved. As of February 24, 2018, ACI is no longer subject to federal income tax examinations for fiscal years prior to 2012 and in most states ACI is no longer subject to state income tax examinations for fiscal years before 2007. Tax years 2007 through 2017 remain under examination. The assessment of ACI's tax position relies on the judgment of management to estimate the exposures associated with its various filing positions.

Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

ACI is exposed to market risk from a variety of sources, including changes in interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates and commodity prices. ACI has from time to time selectively used derivative financial instruments to reduce these market risks. ACI does not utilize financial instruments for trading or other speculative purposes, nor does ACI utilize leveraged financial instruments. ACI's market risk exposures related to interest rates, foreign currency and commodity prices are discussed below and have not materially changed from the prior fiscal year. ACI uses derivative financial instruments to reduce these market risks related to interest rates.

Interest Rate Risk and Long-Term Debt

ACI is exposed to market risk from fluctuations in interest rates. ACI manages its exposure to interest rate fluctuations through the use of interest rate swaps, which we refer to as Cash Flow Hedges. ACI's risk management objective and strategy is to utilize these interest rate swaps to protect ACI against adverse fluctuations in interest rates by reducing its exposure to variability in cash flows relating to interest payments on a portion of its outstanding debt. ACI believes that it is meeting its objectives of hedging its risks in changes in cash flows that are attributable to changes in the LIBOR rate, which is the designated benchmark interest rate being hedged, which we refer to as the hedged risk, on an amount of ACI's debt principal equal to the then-outstanding swap notional amount. In accordance with the swap agreement, we receive a floating rate of interest and pay a fixed rate of interest over the life of the contract.

Interest rate volatility could also materially affect the interest rate ACI pays on future borrowings under the Senior Secured Credit Facilities. The interest rate ACI pays on future borrowings under the Senior Secured Credit Facilities are dependent on LIBOR. ACI believes a 100 basis point increase on its variable interest rates would impact its interest expense by approximately $26 million.

The table below provides information about ACI's derivative financial instruments and other financial instruments that are sensitive to changes in interest rates, including debt instruments and interest rate swaps. For debt obligations, the table presents principal amounts due and related weighted average interest rates by expected maturity dates. For interest rate swaps, the table presents average notional amounts and weighted average interest rates by expected (contractual) maturity dates (dollars in millions):

ACI has entered into fixed price contracts to purchase electricity and natural gas for a portion of its energy needs. ACI expects to take delivery of these commitments in the normal course of business, and, as a result, these commitments qualify as normal purchases. ACI also manages its exposure to changes in diesel prices utilized in ACI's distribution process through the use of short-term heating oil derivative contracts. These contracts are economic hedges of price risk and are not designated or accounted for as hedging instruments for accounting purposes. Changes in the fair value of these instruments are recognized in earnings. ACI does not believe that these energy and commodity swaps would cause a material change to the financial position of ACI.

ACI

ACI is one of the largest food and drug retailers in the United States, with both a strong local presence and national scale. As of February 24, 2018, ACI operated 2,318 stores across 35 states and the District of Columbia under 20 well-known banners including Albertsons, Safeway, Vons, Jewel-Osco, Shaw's, Acme, Tom Thumb, Randalls, United Supermarkets, Market Street, Pavilions, Star Market, Haggen and Carrs, as well as meal kit company Plated based in New York City. ACI operates in 122 metropolitan statistical areas, which we refer to as MSAs, and are ranked #1 or #2 by market share in 66% of them. ACI provides its customers with convenient and value-added services, including through ACI's 1,777 pharmacies, 1,275 in-store branded coffee shops and 397 adjacent fuel centers. Complementary to ACI's large network of stores, ACI aims to provide its customers a seamless omni-channel shopping experience by offering a growing set of digital offerings, including home deliveries, Drive up and Go store pickup, and online prescription refills. ACI has approximately 275,000 talented and dedicated employees serving on average more than 33 million customers each week. With over 13 million loyalty rewards members and one of the largest data sets in the food and drug retail industry, ACI strives to offer each of its customers a personalized shopping experience with targeted promotions and relevant product offerings.

ACI's core operating philosophy is simple: ACI runs great stores with a relentless focus on driving sales. ACI's strategy is to drive customer loyalty and sales by offering its customers an excellent in-store experience, superior customer service, an attractive value proposition and compelling and original product offerings, including its O Organics and Open Nature brands. ACI also engages directly with its customers through a variety of digital media channels and personalized digital offers in its just for U and MyMixx rewards programs. ACI is focused on providing its customers with a choice of how, when and where they shop through the continued expansion of its online offerings, including the roll-out of new delivery models and its Drive Up and Go pick-up program.

ACI's experienced management team implements its strategy through its proven operating playbook and decentralized management structure. ACI believes this approach allows its division and district-level leadership teams to consistently create a superior customer experience and deliver outstanding operating performance. These leadership teams are empowered and incentivized to make decisions on product assortment, placement, pricing, promotional plans and capital spending in the local communities and neighborhoods they serve. ACI's store directors are responsible for implementing its operating playbook on a daily basis and ensuring that ACI's employees remain focused on delivering outstanding service to its customers. This strategy extends beyond ACI's stores to its e-commerce and loyalty platforms, where ACI's local leadership teams are instrumental in determining which promotions and offerings to target to ACI's customers in their local communities.

ACI believes that the execution of its operating playbook, among other factors, including improved economic conditions and consumer confidence, has enabled ACI to grow sales, profitability and free cash flow across its business. ACI believes its operating playbook has positioned it to improve its competitive positioning in the food retail channel, and generated an increase in identical store sales of 0.6% for the fiscal quarter ended February 24, 2018.

ACI believes that its ability to drive innovation will become increasingly important to its success as its customers preferences trend towards greater convenience and personalization.

ACI has introduced new delivery and pick-up options at many of its stores across the country, and has grown its home delivery network to include eight of the ten most populous MSAs in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. ACI has expanded its just for U, MyMixx and fuel rewards programs to over 13 million members. ACI is focused on and continues to improve the convenience of its offerings such as grab-and-go meals, prepared foods, in store dining and online pharmacy refills. ACI continues to offer a wide range of complementary amenities in its store base, including pharmacies, branded coffee shops and fuel centers.

For the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI generated net sales of $59.9 billion, Adjusted EBITDA of $2.4 billion and Free Cash Flow of $850.9 million. For the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, ACI generated net sales of $59.7 billion, Adjusted EBITDA of $2.8 billion and Free Cash Flow of $1.4 billion. For a reconciliation of Net income (loss) to Adjusted EBITDA and cash flow from operating activities to Free Cash Flow for these periods, see Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of ACI Adjusted EBITDA beginning on page 226 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

ACI's Integration History and Banners

Building on its purchase of Albertson's LLC in 2006, ACI has completed a series of acquisitions. In March 2013, ACI acquired New Albertson's, Inc., now NALP, from SuperValu, which included the Albertsons stores that ACI did not already own and stores operating under the Acme, Jewel-Osco, Shaw's and Star Market banners. In December 2013, ACI acquired United, a regional grocery chain in North and West Texas.

In January 2015, ACI acquired Safeway in a transaction that significantly increased its scale and geographic reach. ACI currently expects to achieve $823 million in annual run-rate synergies by February 23, 2019 from its acquisition of Safeway, with associated remaining one-time costs of approximately $200 million, including approximately $65 million of Safeway integration-related capital expenditures. During the fiscal years ended February 25, 2017 and February 24, 2018, ACI achieved synergies from the Safeway acquisition of approximately $575 million and $675 million, respectively, or approximately $750 million on an annual run-rate basis by February 24, 2018, principally from savings related to corporate and division overhead, ACI's own brands, vendor funds, the conversion of Albertsons and NALP onto Safeway's IT systems, marketing and advertising cost reduction and operational efficiencies within ACI's back office and distribution and manufacturing organizations.

ACI also completed the acquisition of 73 stores from A&P for its Acme banner and 35 stores from Haggen during the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016, and ACI acquired an additional 29 stores from Haggen during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, 15 of which operate under the Haggen banner. ACI continually reviews acquisition opportunities that ACI believes are synergistic with its existing store network and ACI intends to continue to participate in the ongoing consolidation of the food retail industry. Any future acquisitions may be material.

The following illustrative map represents ACI's regional banners and combined store network as of February 24, 2018. ACI also operates 23 strategically located distribution centers, five Plated fulfillment centers and 20 manufacturing facilities. Approximately 42% of ACI's stores are owned or ground-leased. Together, ACI's owned and ground-leased properties have a value of approximately $11.2 billion (see Properties). ACI's principal banners are described in more detail below.

Albertsons

Under the Albertsons banner, which dates back to 1939, ACI operates 433 stores in 15 states across the Western and Southern United States. In addition to ACI's broad grocery offering, 349 Albertsons stores include in-store pharmacies (offering prescriptions, immunizations, online prescription refills and prescription savings plans), and ACI operates five fuel centers adjacent to its Albertsons stores.

Safeway

ACI operates 1,287 Safeway stores in 19 states across the Western, Southern and Mid-Atlantic regions of the United States, as well as the District of Columbia. ACI operates these stores under the Safeway banner, which dates back to 1926, as well as the Vons, Pavilions, Randalls, Tom Thumb, Carrs and Haggen banners. ACI's Safeway stores also provide convenience to its customers through a network of 1,008 in-store pharmacies and 351 adjacent fuel centers.

The Safeway acquisition has better positioned ACI for long-term growth by providing ACI with a broader assortment of products, a more efficient supply chain, enhanced fresh and perishable offerings and a high-quality and expansive portfolio of own brand products. These improvements enable ACI to respond to changing customer tastes and preferences and compete more effectively in a highly competitive industry.

Acme, Jewel-Osco, Shaw's and Star Market

Under the Acme, Jewel-Osco, Shaw's and Star Market banners, ACI operates 515 stores, 347 in-store pharmacies and five adjacent fuel centers in 14 states across the Mid-Atlantic, Midwest and Northeast regions of the United States. Each of these banners has an operating history going back more than 100 years, has excellent store locations and has a loyal customer base.

Table of Contents

United Supermarkets

In the North and West Texas area, ACI operates 83 stores under the United Supermarkets, Amigos and Market Street banners, together with 73 in-store pharmacies, 35 adjacent fuel centers and 15 United Express convenience stores. ACI's acquisition of United in December 2013 represented a unique opportunity to add a growing and profitable business in the large Texas market with an experienced and successful management team in place. Retaining the local management team was critical to ACI's acquisition thesis. ACI has leveraged their abilities by both re-assigning and opening additional stores under their direct oversight. The United management team has considerable expertise in meeting the preferences of an upscale customer base with its Market Street format. United addresses its significant Hispanic customer base through its Amigos format, which ACI intends to leverage across other relevant regions going forward. ACI also benefits from distribution center and transportation efficiencies as a result of United's adjacencies to ACI's other operating divisions in the Southwest.

Plated

On September 20, 2017, ACI acquired Plated, a provider of meal kit services. The deal advanced a shared strategy to reinvent the way consumers discover, purchase, and experience food. In teaming up with Plated, ACI added a meal kit company with leading technology and data capabilities.

El Rancho

On November 16, 2017, ACI acquired a 45% equity interest in El Rancho, a Texas-based specialty grocer with 16 stores that focuses on Latino customers. ACI has the option to acquire the remaining 55% of El Rancho at any time until six months after the delivery of El Rancho's financial results for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2021. The price to be paid by ACI for the remaining outstanding equity of El Rancho will be calculated using a predetermined market-based formula. The agreement with El Rancho provides ACI an opportunity to invest in the fast-growing Latino grocery sector, and complements ACI's successful operation of a variety of store banners in neighborhoods with significant Latino populations.

ACI's Integration History and BannersACI's Organizational Structure

ACI is currently organized across 13 operating divisions. ACI currently operates with a decentralized management structure. ACI's division and district-level leadership teams are responsible and accountable for their own sales, profitability and capital expenditures, and are empowered and incentivized to make decisions on product assortment, placement, pricing, promotional plans and capital spending to best serve the local communities and neighborhoods they serve. ACI's division leaders collaborate to facilitate the rapid sharing of best practices. ACI's local merchandising teams spend considerable time working with store directors to make sure ACI is satisfying consumer preferences. ACI's store directors are responsible for ensuring that its employees provide outstanding service to its customers. ACI believes that this aspect of its operating playbook, combined with ongoing investments in store labor, coordinated employee training and a simple, well-understood quarterly sales and EBITDA-based bonus structure, fosters an organization that is nimble and responsive to the local tastes and preferences of its customers.

ACI's executive management team sets long-term strategy and annual objectives for its 13 divisions. They also facilitate the sharing of expertise and best practices across ACI's business, including through the operation of centers of excellence for areas such as ACI's own brands, space planning, pricing analytics, promotional effectiveness, product category trends and consumer insights. They seek to leverage ACI's national scale by driving its efforts to maintain and deepen strong relationships with large, national consumer products vendors. The executive management team also provides substantial data-driven analytical support for decision-making, providing division management teams with insights on their relative performance. Together, all of these elements reinforce ACI's high standards of store-level execution and foster a collaborative, competitive and winning culture.

ACI's Operating Playbook

ACI's management team has developed and implemented a proven and successful operating playbook to drive sales growth, profitability and Free Cash Flow. ACI's current playbook covers every major facet of store-level operations and is executed by local leadership under the supervision of its executive management team. ACI's current playbook is based on the following key concepts:

Operate ACI's Stores to the Highest Standards. ACI ensures that its stores are always full, fresh, friendly and clean. ACI's efforts are driven through its rigorous G.O.L.D. (Grand Opening Look Daily) program that is focused on delivering fresh offerings, well-stocked shelves, and clean and brightly lit departments. ACI's high-quality local stores serve as the last mile of its distribution platform for its home delivery and Drive Up and Go pick-up services and are instrumental in ensuring consistent quality and freshness of products delivered to customers.

Drive Convenience Through a Broad Array of Products and Services. ACI provides a broad array of products and services to enhance its customers' shopping experience, generate customer loyalty, drive traffic and generate sales growth. ACI is focused on deploying innovative, value-added services including in-store dining, meal kits, customized bakery orders and catering services. ACI has also introduced a greater assortment of grab-and-go, individually packaged, and snack-sized meals. To further enhance its pharmacy offerings, ACI recently acquired MedCart Specialty Pharmacy, a URAC-accredited specialty pharmacy with accreditation and license to operate in over 40 states, which will extend ACI's ability to service its customers' health needs. ACI is focused on providing its customers with a choice of how, when and where they shop. ACI has prioritized the roll-out of new delivery models, including same-day delivery, instant delivery and unattended delivery, and is expanding its Drive Up and Go pick-up program.

Leverage Data to Offer an Attractive Value Proposition to ACI's Customers. ACI maintains price competitiveness through systematic, selective and thoughtful price investment to drive customer traffic and basket size. ACI also uses its loyalty programs, including just for U, MyMixx and its fuel rewards programs, to target promotional activity and improve ACI's customers' experience. Over 13 million members are currently enrolled in its loyalty rewards programs. ACI has recently deployed and is continuing to refine cloud-based enterprise solutions to quickly process proprietary customer, product and transaction data and efficiently provide its local managers with targeted marketing strategies for customers in their communities. By leveraging customer and transaction information with data driven analytics, ACI's personalized deal engine is able to select, out of the thousands of different promotions offered by its suppliers, the offers that ACI expects will be most compelling to each of its more than 33 million weekly customers. In addition, ACI uses data analytics to optimize shelf assortment and space in its stores by continually and systematically reviewing the performance of each product. ACI believes that as it optimizes its data-driven analytic programs, it will be able to drive incremental sales and customer satisfaction through increasingly effective promotions and enhanced store product assortment and layout. ACI and Rite Aid expect that the merger will empower the combined company to improve their targeted marketing by linking ACI's loyalty program and data analytics capabilities with Rite Aid's Wellness+ loyalty program.

Deliver Superior Customer Service. ACI focuses on providing superior customer service. ACI consistently invests in store labor and training, and its simple and well-understood sales- and EBITDA-based bonus structure ensures that its employees are properly incentivized. ACI measures customer satisfaction scores weekly and holds management accountable for continuous improvement. ACI's focus on customer service is reflected in its strong customer satisfaction scores. ACI's commitment to superior customer service extends from its stores to its 1,200 home-delivery brand ambassadors. Similar to its in-store team members, ACI provides each of its brand ambassadors with best-in-class customer training and empower them to build relationships with ACI's delivery customers to promote its products and process refunds and returns at the point of delivery.

Provide a Compelling Product Offering. ACI focuses on providing the highest quality fresh, natural and organic assortments to meet the demands of its customers, including through its private label brands, which ACI refers to as its own brands, such as O Organics, Open Nature, Signature and Lucerne. ACI's own brands products achieved over $11.5 billion in sales in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, with 23% own brands penetration. ACI's portfolio of USDA-certified organic products is one of the largest and fastest growing in the industry. In addition, ACI offers high-volume, high-quality and differentiated signature products, including in-store fresh-cut fruit and vegetables, cookies and fried chicken prepared using ACI's proprietary recipes, in-store roasted turkey and freshly-baked bread. In ACI's recent acquisition of Plated, ACI added a meal kit company with leading technology and data capabilities. ACI's decentralized operating structure, together with its data analytics capabilities, enables its divisions to offer products and store layouts that are responsive to local tastes and preferences. In addition, ACI believes its store-based model provides ACI with a proven last-mile delivery solution that offers its home-delivery customers a wide variety of superior, fresh products and a variety of delivery options. ACI added to its delivery offerings with its recent alliance with Instacart, offering delivery in as little as an hour across key market areas.

Make Disciplined Capital Investments. ACI believes that its store base is modern and in excellent condition. ACI applies a disciplined approach to its capital investments, undertaking a rigorous cost-benefit analysis and targeting an attractive return on investment. ACI is investing in its supply channel, including the automation of several of its distribution centers, in order to create efficiencies and reduce costs. ACI's capital budgets are subject to approval at the corporate level, but ACI empowers its division leadership to prudently allocate capital to projects that will generate the highest return.

ACI's Competitive Strengths

ACI believes the following strengths differentiate it from its competitors and contribute to its ongoing success:

Powerful Combination of Strong Local Presence and National Scale. ACI operates a portfolio of well-known banners with both strong local presence and national scale. ACI has leading positions in many of the largest and fastest-growing MSAs in the United States. Given the long operating history of ACI's banners, many of its stores form an important part of the local communities and neighborhoods in which they operate and occupy First-and-Main locations. ACI believes that its combination of local presence and national scale provides ACI with competitive advantages in brand recognition, customer loyalty and purchasing, marketing and advertising and distribution efficiencies, particularly as customers seek additional convenience options such as home delivery and Drive Up and Go pickup services. ACI believes its network of stores provides it with an effective solution to the last mile delivery challenge of online ordering by allowing ACI to provide convenient delivery to its customers through its own services and through Instacart while preserving the value, quality and freshness they receive from its stores.

Table of Contents

Commitment to an Innovative Customer Experience. ACI believes its commitment to innovative service solutions, store offerings and data-driven analytics positions it to drive sales and capture market share. With over 13 million loyalty members, tens of thousands of products and a large database of historical transactions, ACI is able to leverage its data analytics capabilities to offer its customers more personalized offerings and increase customer loyalty. ACI now uses the power of cloud-based enterprise solutions to quickly process proprietary customer, product and transaction data in order to efficiently provide its divisional and local managers with targeted marketing strategies. In addition to driving targeted customer promotions, ACI is beginning to utilize its data analytics capabilities to optimize shelf assortment and space by continually and systematically reviewing product performance. ACI is also continuously upgrading its online web portal and mobile application, which is currently the fourth-largest home delivery portal nationwide among food retailers, to improve ease-of-use and visual design for ACI's desktop and mobile customers and to better integrate its customers' loyalty rewards accounts.

Best-in-Class Management Team with a Proven Track Record. ACI has assembled a best-in-class management team with decades of operating experience in the food and drug retail industry. ACI's current Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Bob Miller, has over 50 years of food and drug retail experience, including serving as Chairman and CEO of Fred Meyer and Rite Aid and Vice Chairman of Kroger. During the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI appointed Kevin Turner, former Chief Operating Officer of Microsoft and former CEO and President of Sam's Club, as its Vice Chairman and Senior Advisor to its CEO, and believes Mr. Turner will complement its experienced operations team and recently expanded digital team to enhance ACI's ability to connect with and serve its customers in innovative ways. ACI also recently appointed James L. Donald to serve as its President and Chief Operating Officer. Mr. Donald is an experienced retail operator, having previously served as Chief Executive Officer of Starbucks Corporation and as a senior executive at several food and drug retailers, including Wal Mart Stores, Inc., Albertson's, Inc. and Safeway Inc. Shane Sampson, Executive Vice President & Chief Marketing and Merchandising Officer, brings both significant leadership and operational experience to ACI's management team with a long tenure at ACI and within the industry. ACI's Executive and Senior Vice Presidents and its division, district and store-level leadership teams are also critical to the success of its business. ACI's nine Executive Vice Presidents, 19 Senior Vice Presidents and 12 division Presidents have an average of over 21, 21, and 35 years of service, respectively, with ACI. ACI is actively building out its digital marketing and information technology teams to ensure ACI is best positioned to capitalize on dynamic changes occurring in its industry.

Proven Operating Playbook Driving Strong Free Cash Flow Generation. ACI believes that the execution of its operating playbook has been an important factor in enabling ACI to achieve sales growth and increase its profitability. ACI's strong operating results, in combination with its disciplined approach to capital allocation, have resulted in the generation of strong Free Cash Flow. ACI generated Free Cash Flow of approximately $1.4 billion and $850.9 million in the fiscal years ended February 25, 2017 and February 24, 2018, respectively.

Significant Acquisition and Integration Expertise. Growth through acquisition is an important component of ACI's strategy, both to enhance its competitiveness in existing markets and to expand its footprint into new markets. ACI acquired 73 stores from A&P for its Acme banner and 35 stores from Haggen for its Albertsons banner during the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016, and ACI acquired an additional 29 stores from Haggen during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, including 15 stores that operate under the Haggen banner. ACI continually reviews acquisition opportunities that ACI believes are synergistic with its existing store network. ACI has developed a proprietary and repeatable blueprint for integration, including a clearly defined plan for the first 100 days. ACI believes that its ability to integrate acquisitions is significantly enhanced by its decentralized approach, which allows ACI to leverage the expertise of incumbent local management teams. ACI has also developed significant expertise in synergy planning and delivery, and estimates that it will achieve $823 million in annual run-rate synergies by February 23, 2019 from its acquisition of Safeway, with associated remaining one-time costs of approximately $200 million, including approximately $65 million of Safeway integration-related capital expenditures, exceeding its $800 million original target. ACI estimates that it will achieve $375 million in annual cost synergies as a result of the merger with Rite Aid, and believes that the merger provides an additional $3.6 billion in additional revenue opportunities for the combined company. ACI believes that the acquisition and integration experience of its management team, together with the considerable transactional expertise of its equity sponsors, positions ACI well for its merger with Rite Aid and for future acquisitions as the food and drug retail industry continues to consolidate.

For more information on ACI's ability to achieve any expected synergies, see Risk Factors Risks Relating to ACI's Safeway, A&P and Haggen Acquisitions and Integration. ACI may not be able to achieve the full amount of synergies that are anticipated, or achieve the synergies on the schedule anticipated, from the Safeway acquisition.

ACI's Strategy

ACI's operating philosophy has been simple: ACI runs great stores with a relentless focus on sales growth. ACI has sought to grow sales and enhance profitability and Free Cash Flow through execution of the following strategies:

Enhancing and Upgrading ACI's Fresh, Natural and Organic Offerings and Signature Products. ACI continues to enhance and upgrade its fresh, natural and organic offerings across its meat, produce, service deli and bakery departments to meet the changing tastes and preferences of its customers. ACI is rapidly growing its portfolio of USDA-certified organic products to include over 1,500 own brands products. In ACI's recent acquisition of Plated, ACI added a meal kit company with leading technology and data capabilities, a strategic step for ACI as it continues to focus on innovation, personalization, and customization. ACI also believes that continued innovation and expansion of its high-volume, high-quality and differentiated signature products will contribute to stronger sales growth.

Expanding ACI's Own Brands Offerings. ACI continues to drive sales growth and profitability by extending its own brands offerings across its banners, including high-quality and recognizable brands such as O Organics, Open Nature, Signature and Lucerne, each of which achieved $1 billion or more in sales in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. ACI's own brands products achieved over $11.5 billion in sales in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, with 23% own brands penetration.

Leveraging ACI's Effective and Scalable Loyalty Programs. ACI believes it can grow basket size and improve the shopping experience for its customers by expanding its just for U, MyMixx and fuel rewards programs. Over 13 million members are currently enrolled in ACI's loyalty programs. ACI believes it can further enhance its merchandising and marketing programs by utilizing its customer analytics capabilities, including advanced digital marketing and mobile applications, to improve customer retention and provide targeted promotions to its customers. For example, ACI's just for U and fuel rewards customers have demonstrated greater basket size, improved customer retention rates and an increased likelihood to redeem promotions offered in ACI's stores. ACI and Rite Aid expect that the merger will empower the combined company to improve its targeted marketing by linking ACI's loyalty program and data analytics capabilities with Rite Aid's Wellness+ loyalty program.

Providing ACI's Customers with Convenient Digital Solutions. ACI seeks to provide its customers with the means to shop how, when and where they choose. As consumer preferences evolve towards greater convenience, ACI is improving its online offerings, including home delivery and Drive Up and Go services. ACI continues to enhance its delivery platform to offer more delivery options and windows across its store base, including early morning deliveries, same-day deliveries, instant deliveries and unattended deliveries. In addition, ACI seeks to expand its curbside Drive Up and Go program in order to enable customers to conveniently pick up their goods on the way home or to the office. ACI added to its delivery offerings with its recent alliance with Instacart, offering delivery in as little as an hour across key market areas. ACI believes its strategy of providing customers with a variety of in-store and online options that suit their varying individual needs will drive additional sales growth and differentiate ACI from many of its competitors.

Capitalizing on Demand for Health and Wellness Services. ACI intends to leverage its portfolio of 1,777 pharmacies and its growing network of wellness clinics to capitalize on increasing customer demand for health and wellness services. Pharmacy customers are among ACI's most loyal, and their average weekly spend on groceries is over 2.5x that of ACI's non-pharmacy customers. ACI plans to continue to grow its pharmacy script counts through new patient prescription transfer programs and initiatives such as clinic, hospital and preferred network partnerships, which ACI believes will expand its access to more customers. To further enhance its pharmacy offerings, ACI recently acquired MedCart Specialty Pharmacy, a URAC-accredited specialty pharmacy with accreditation and license to operate in over 40 states, which will extend ACI's ability to service its customers' health needs. ACI believes that these efforts will drive sales and generate customer loyalty.

Continuously Evaluating and Upgrading ACI's Store Portfolio. ACI plans to pursue a disciplined but committed capital allocation strategy to upgrade, remodel and relocate stores to attract customers to its stores and to increase store volumes. ACI opened 15 new stores in the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, and opened a total of 15 new stores and completed 166 upgrade and remodel projects during the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. ACI believes that its store base is in excellent condition, and ACI has developed a remodel strategy that is both cost-efficient and effective. In addition to store remodels, ACI continuously evaluates and optimizes store formats to better serve the different customer demographics of each local community. ACI has re-merchandised 170 stores to its Premium format in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, and has identified an additional 300 stores across its divisions that it will re-merchandise to its Premium format. In its Premium format, ACI offers a greater assortment of unique items in its fresh and service departments, as well as more natural, organic and healthy products throughout the store. Additionally, ACI has started to reposition approximately 100 stores across its divisions from its Premium format to an Ultra-Premium format that also offers gourmet and artisanal products, upscale décor and experiential elements including walk-in wine cellars and wine and cheese tasting counters.

Driving Innovation. ACI intends to drive traffic and sales growth through constant innovation. ACI will remain focused on identifying emerging trends in food and sourcing new and innovative products. ACI is adjusting its store layouts to accommodate a greater assortment of grab-and-go, individually packaged, and snack-sized meals. ACI is also rolling out new merchandising initiatives across its store base, including the introduction of meal kits, product sampling events, quality prepared foods and in-store dining.

Sharing Best Practices Across Divisions. ACI's division leaders collaborate to ensure the rapid sharing of best practices. Recent examples include the expansion of ACI's O Organics offering across banners, the accelerated roll-out of signature products such as ACI s in-store fresh-cut fruit and vegetables and implementing Safeway s successful wine and floral shop strategies, with broader product assortments and new fixtures across many of ACI s banners.

ACI believes the combination of these actions and initiatives, together with the attractive industry trends described in more detail under ACI's Industry, will position ACI to achieve sales growth.

Enhance ACI's Operating Margin. ACI's focus on sales growth provides an opportunity to enhance its operating margin by leveraging its fixed costs. ACI plans to realize further margin benefits through added scale from partnering with vendors and by achieving efficiencies in manufacturing and distribution. ACI is investing in its supply channel, including the automation of several of its distribution centers, in order to create efficiencies and reduce costs. In addition, ACI maintains a disciplined approach to expense management and budgeting.

Implement ACI's Synergy Realization Plan. ACI currently expects to achieve $823 million in annual run-rate synergies by February 23, 2019 from its acquisition of Safeway, with remaining associated one-time costs of approximately $200 million, including approximately $65 million of Safeway integration-related capital expenditures. During the fiscal years ended February 25, 2017 and February 24, 2018, ACI achieved synergies from the Safeway acquisition of approximately $575 million and $675 million, respectively, or approximately $750 million on an annual run-rate basis by February 24, 2018, principally from savings related to corporate and division overhead, ACI's own brands, vendor funds, the conversion of Albertsons and NALP onto Safeway's IT systems, marketing and advertising cost reductions and operational efficiencies within ACI's back office and distribution and manufacturing organizations. ACI's detailed synergy plan was developed on a bottom-up, function-by-function basis by combined ACI and Safeway teams. Synergies have consisted of approximately 28% from operational efficiencies within ACI's back office, distribution and manufacturing operations, 20% from the conversion of Albertsons stores onto Safeway's information technology systems, 14% from increased own brand penetration and improved synergies and 15% from improved vendor relationships. An additional 23% of synergies have come from optimizing marketing and advertising spend in adjacent regions, as well as actionable synergies in pharmacy, utilities and insurance. ACI has completed the conversion of its Albertsons stores, distribution centers and systems onto Safeway's IT systems, and expects to complete the conversion of the NALP stores, distribution centers and systems during the fiscal year ended February 23, 2019. ACI believes these conversions will result in significant savings as it winds down its transition services agreements with SuperValu.

For more information on ACI's ability to achieve any expected synergies, see Risk Factors Risks Relating to ACI's Safeway, A&P and Haggen Acquisitions and Integration. ACI may not be able to achieve the full amount of synergies that are anticipated, or achieve the synergies on the schedule anticipated, from the Safeway acquisition.

Selectively Grow ACI's Store Base Organically and Through Acquisition. ACI intends to continue to grow its store base organically through disciplined but committed investment in new stores. ACI opened 15 new stores in the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, and opened a total of 15 new stores and completed 166 upgrade and remodel projects during the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. ACI acquired 73 stores from A&P for its Acme banner and 35 stores from Haggen for its Albertsons banner during the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016, and ACI acquired an additional 29 stores from Haggen during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, of which 15 operate under the Haggen banner. ACI evaluates acquisition opportunities on an ongoing basis as ACI seeks to strengthen its competitive position in existing markets or expand its footprint into new markets. ACI believes its healthy balance sheet and decentralized structure provide it with strategic flexibility and a strong platform to make acquisitions. ACI believes its successful track record of integration and synergy delivery provides ACI with an opportunity to further enhance sales growth, leverage its cost structure and increase profitability and Free Cash Flow through selected acquisitions. On November 16, 2017, ACI acquired an equity interest in El Rancho, a Texas-based specialty grocer with 16 stores that focuses on Latino customers. The agreement with El Rancho provides ACI an opportunity to invest in the fast-growing Latino grocery sector, and complements ACI's successful operation of a variety of store banners in neighborhoods with significant Latino populations. Consistent with this strategy, ACI regularly evaluates potential acquisition opportunities, including ones that would be significant to ACI, and ACI is currently participating in processes regarding several potential acquisition opportunities, including ones that would be significant to it, including the proposed merger with Rite Aid.

ACI's Industry

ACI currently operates in the $608 billion U.S. food and drug retail industry, a highly fragmented sector with a large number of companies competing locally and a growing array of companies with a national footprint, including traditional supermarkets, pharmacies and drug stores, convenience stores, warehouse clubs, supercenters and a growing number of internet-based delivery services. The industry has also seen the widespread introduction of limited assortment retail stores, as well as local chains and stand-alone stores that cater to the individual cultural preferences of specific neighborhoods.

From 2012 through 2016, food and drug retail industry revenues increased at an average annual rate of 1.0%, driven in part by improving macroeconomic factors including gross domestic product, household disposable income, consumer confidence and employment. Several food items and categories, including meat, eggs and dairy, experienced price deflation in the fiscal years ended February 25, 2017 and February 24, 2018, and such price deflation could continue in the future. On an annual basis, Food-at-Home inflation is forecasted to be between 0.5% and 1.5% in 2018. In addition to macroeconomic factors, the following trends, in particular, are expected to drive sales across the industry:

Customer Focus on Fresh, Natural and Organic Offerings. Evolving customer tastes and preferences have caused food retailers to improve the breadth and quality of their fresh, natural and organic offerings. This, in turn, has resulted in the increasing convergence of product selections between conventional and alternative format food retailers.

Converging Approach to Health and Wellness. Customers increasingly view their food shopping experience as part of a broader approach to health and wellness. As a result, food retailers are seeking to drive sales growth and customer loyalty by incorporating pharmacy and wellness clinic offerings in their stores.

Increased Customer Acceptance of Own Brand Offerings. Increased customer acceptance has driven growth in demand for own brand offerings, including the introduction of premium store brands. In general, own brand offerings have a higher gross margin than similarly positioned products of national brands.

Loyalty Programs and Personalization. To remain competitive and generate customer loyalty, food retailers are increasing their focus on loyalty programs and data-driven analytics to target the delivery of personalized offers to their customers. Food retailers are also expected to seek to strengthen customer loyalty by introducing mobile applications that allow customers to make purchases, access loyalty card data and check prices while in-store.

Convenience as a Differentiator. Industry participants are addressing customers' desire for convenience through in-store amenities and services, including store-within-store sites such as coffee bars, fuel centers, banks and ATMs, meal kits and prepared meals. Customer convenience is important for traditional grocers that must differentiate themselves from other mass retailers, club stores and other food retailers. The increasing penetration of e-commerce competition has prompted food retailers to develop or outsource online and mobile applications for home delivery, pickup and digital shopping solutions with customer convenience in mind. The growth of e-commerce has also resulted in the emergence of a number of online-only food and drug retail offerings, including specialized meal kit services and online pharmacies.

Properties

The following table summarizes ACI's stores by size as of February 24, 2018:

Square Footage	Number of Stores	Percent of Total
Less than 30,000	211	9.1%
30,000 to 50,000	810	34.9%
More than 50,000	1,297	56.0%
Total stores	2,318	100%

ACI owns or ground-leases 42% of its operating stores and 59% of its industrial properties (distribution centers, Plated fulfillment centers, warehouses and manufacturing plants). The total ACI owned and ground leased properties have a value of approximately $11.2 billion, based on appraisals of ACI real estate conducted by Cushman and Wakefield, Inc. during the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, after taking into account asset sales of properties since the respective dates of the appraisals.

ACI's corporate headquarters are located in Boise, Idaho. ACI owns its headquarters. The premises is approximately 250,000 square feet in size. In addition to its corporate headquarters, ACI has corporate offices in Pleasanton, California and Phoenix, Arizona. ACI is in the process of consolidating its corporate campuses and division offices to increase efficiency.

On December 23, 2014, Safeway and its wholly-owned real estate development subsidiary, PDC, sold substantially all of the net assets of PDC to Terramar Retail Centers, LLC, an unrelated party. PDC's assets were comprised of shopping centers that are completed or under development. Most of these centers included grocery stores that are leased back to Safeway.

During the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, certain subsidiaries of ACI sold approximately 94 of its store properties for an aggregate purchase price, net of closing costs, of $962 million. In connection with the sale and subsequent leaseback, ACI entered into lease agreements for each of the properties for initial terms of 20 years with varying multiple five-year renewal options. The aggregate initial annual rent payments for the 94 properties will be approximately $65 million, with scheduled rent increases occurring generally every one or five years over the initial 20-year term. ACI qualified for sale-leaseback and operating lease accounting on 80 of the store properties and recorded a deferred gain of $360.1 million, which is being amortized over the respective lease periods. The remaining 14 stores did not qualify for sale-leaseback accounting primarily due to continuing involvement with adjacent properties that have not been legally subdivided from the store properties. ACI expects these store properties to qualify for sale-leaseback accounting once the adjacent properties have been legally subdivided. The financing lease liability recorded for the 14 store properties was $133.4 million.

Products

ACI's stores offer grocery products, general merchandise, health and beauty care products, pharmacy, fuel and other items and services. ACI is not dependent on any individual supplier, and one third-party supplier represented more than 5% of its sales during the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. During the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI estimates that approximately 23% of sales, excluding fuel, pharmacy, and in-store third-party kiosks, were from ACI's own brand products. The following table represents sales by revenue by similar type of product (in millions). Year over year increases in volume reflect acquisitions as well as identical store sales growth.

- (3) Consists primarily of lottery and various other commissions and other miscellaneous income.

Table of ContentsDistribution

As of February 24, 2018, ACI operated 23 strategically located distribution centers, 74% of which are owned or ground-leased, and five Plated fulfillment centers. ACI's distribution centers collectively provide approximately 61% of all products to its retail operating areas. ACI is in the process of consolidating its distribution centers and has moved Albertsons stores, distribution centers and systems onto Safeway's IT systems in order to operate ACI's entire distribution network across one unified platform. ACI is in the process of moving NALP stores, distribution centers and systems onto Safeway's IT systems. In addition, ACI is in the process of automating several distribution centers, which ACI expects will greatly improve its labor productivity, increase storage density, enhance inventory management, and shorten stocking timelines. ACI's first automated distribution center in Tolleson, Arizona became operational in the fourth quarter of 2017. While the automation of ACI's distribution centers requires a capital investment, ACI expects this automation will generate substantial EBITDA improvements going forward.

Manufacturing

As measured by units for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, 10.6% of ACI's own brand merchandise was manufactured in company-owned facilities, and the remainder of its own brand merchandise was purchased from third parties. ACI closely monitors make-versus-buy decisions on internally sourced products to optimize their quality and profitability. In addition, ACI believes that its scale will provide opportunities to leverage its fixed manufacturing costs in order to drive innovation across ACI's own brand portfolio.

ACI operated the following manufacturing and processing facilities as of February 24, 2018.

Facility Type	Number
Milk plants	7
Soft drink bottling plants	4
Bakery plants	3
Grocery/prepared food plants	2
Ice cream plants	2
Ice plant	1
Soup plant	1
Total	20

In addition, ACI operates laboratory facilities for quality assurance and research and development in certain plants and at its corporate offices.

Marketing, Advertising and Online Sales

ACI's marketing efforts involve collaboration between its national marketing and merchandising team and local divisions and stores. ACI augments the local division teams with corporate resources and is focused on providing expertise, sharing best practices and leveraging scale in partnership with leading consumer packaged goods vendors. ACI's corporate teams support divisions by providing strategic guidance in order to drive key areas of its business, including pharmacy, general merchandise and ACI's own brands. ACI's local marketing teams set brand strategy and communicate brand messages through ACI's integrated digital and physical marketing and advertising channels. ACI expanded its home delivery offering to 10 new markets in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, and has grown its home delivery network to include eight of the ten most populous MSAs in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. ACI has built on its delivery offerings with its recent alliance with online grocery delivery pioneer Instacart, offering delivery in as little as an hour across key market areas. Additionally, ACI is currently rolling out its Drive Up and Go program, in which items selected online by its customers are gathered from its store shelves by its associates and picked up by its customers from its stores.

Relationship with SuperValuTransition Services Agreements with SuperValu

Services. Currently, SuperValu provides certain business support services to Albertsons and NALP pursuant to the SVU TSAs. The services provided by SuperValu to Albertsons and NALP include back office, administrative, IT, procurement, insurance and accounting services. Albertsons provides records management and retention services and environmental services to SuperValu, and also provides office space to SuperValu at ACI's Boise offices. NALP provides pharmacy services to SuperValu.

Fees. Albertsons and NALP's fees under the SVU TSAs are 50% fixed and 50% variable, and are determined in part based on the number of stores and distribution centers receiving services, which number can be reduced by Albertsons and by NALP at any time upon five weeks' notice, with a corresponding reduction in the variable portion of the fees due to SuperValu.

Albertsons, in its capacity as a recipient of services from SuperValu, paid total fees related to the SVU TSAs of $60.0 million for the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 and $26.8 million for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. SuperValu reimburses Albertsons' monthly expenses incurred in connection with providing office space to SuperValu at ACI's Boise offices, as well as fees for records management and retention services, and environmental services.

NALP, in its capacity as a recipient of services from SuperValu, paid total fees related to the SVU TSAs of $97.1 million for the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 and $102.3 million the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. SuperValu pays NALP fees based on the number of operating SuperValu pharmacies receiving services.

Term. The provision of services commenced in March 2013 and terminates in the third quarter of 2018. Each of SuperValu, Albertsons and NALP has seven remaining one-year consecutive options to extend the term for receipt of services under the SVU TSAs, exercisable one year in advance.

Transition and Wind Down of SuperValu TSA Services

ACI is in the process of converting its NALP stores, distribution centers and systems to Safeway's IT systems, which is the first step in transitioning off of legacy SuperValu IT systems. On October 17, 2017, Albertson's LLC and NALP entered into wind-down agreements with SuperValu providing for, among other things, the termination of the SVU TSAs on September 21, 2018. Although ACI expects to complete the transition of the properties covered by the SVU TSAs onto Safeway's IT systems prior to September 1, 2018, ACI may suffer disruptions as part of that process. As a result, if ACI is unable to complete the transition of certain properties by September 1, 2018, ACI will be required to pay SuperValu additional fees under the wind-down agreements and remain dependent upon SuperValu to provide these services until ACI's transition is complete.

SuperValu Albertsons and NALP Trademark Cross Licenses

In March 2013, NALP and Albertsons each entered into a trademark cross licensing agreement with SuperValu, pursuant to which each party granted the other a non-exclusive, royalty-free license to use certain proprietary rights (e.g., trademarks, trade names, trade dress, service marks, banners, etc.) consistent with the parties' past practices and uses of the relevant proprietary rights. The cross license agreements will each remain in effect for so long as and to the extent that either party to the cross-license agreements owns any of the proprietary rights subject to the agreements.

Lancaster Operating and Supply Agreement

In March 2013, NALP entered into an operating and supply agreement with SuperValu for the operation of, and supply of products from, the distribution center located in the Lancaster, Pennsylvania area, which we refer to as the Lancaster Agreement. Under the Lancaster Agreement, NALP owns the Lancaster distribution center and SuperValu manages and operates the distribution center on behalf of NALP. In addition, SuperValu supplies NALP's Acme and Shaw's stores from the distribution center under a shared costs arrangement, allocating costs ratably based on each party's use of the distribution center. Unless earlier terminated, the initial term of the Lancaster Agreement continues until March 21, 2018. Subject to either party's right to terminate the Lancaster Agreement for any reason and without cause upon 24 months' notice, SuperValu may extend the term of the agreement for up to two consecutive periods of five years each. For the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, NALP paid SuperValu approximately $1.7 billion under the Lancaster Agreement.

Capital Expenditure Program

ACI's capital expenditure program funds new stores, remodels, distribution facilities and IT. ACI applies a disciplined approach to its capital investments, undertaking a rigorous cost-benefit analysis and targeting an attractive return on investment. In the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI spent approximately $1,547 million for capital expenditures, including approximately $200 million of Safeway integration-related capital expenditures. ACI expects to spend approximately $1.2 billion in total for capital expenditures during the fiscal year ending February 23, 2019, or approximately 2.0% of ACI's sales in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, including approximately $65 million of Safeway integration-related capital expenditures. During the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI completed 166 upgrade and remodel projects and opened 15 new stores.

Trade Names and Trademarks

ACI has invested significantly in the development and protection of Albertsons' and Safeway's as both trade names and as trademarks, and considers each to be an important business asset. ACI also owns or license more than 650 other trademarks registered and/or pending in the United States Patent and Trademark Office and other jurisdictions, including trademarks for products and services such as Essential Everyday, Wild Harvest, Baby Basics, Steakhouse Choice, Culinary Circle, Safeway, Rancher's Reserve, O Organics, Lucerne, Primo Taglio, the Deli Counter, Eating Right, mom to mom, waterfront BISTRO, Bright Green, Open Nature, Refreshes, Snack Artist, Signature Café, Signature Care, Signature Farms, Signature Kitchens, Signature Home, Signature SELECT, Value Corner, Priority, just for U, My Simple Nutrition, Ingredients for Life and other trademarks such as United Express, United Supermarkets, Amigos, Market Street, Haggen, Lucky, Pak 'N Save Foods, Vons, Pavilions, Randalls, Tom Thumb, Carrs Quality Centers, ACME, Sav-On, Shaw's, Star Market, Super Saver, Jewel-Osco and Plated.

Seasonality

ACI's business is generally not seasonal in nature.

Table of Contents

Competition

The food and drug retail industry is highly competitive. The principal competitive factors that affect ACI's business are location, quality, price, service, selection, convenience and condition of assets such as ACI's stores. The operating environment for the food and drug retailing industry continues to be characterized by intense competition, increasing specialization of retail and online formats, entry of non-traditional competitors and consolidation.

ACI faces intense competition from other food and/or drug retailers, supercenters, club stores, online retailers, specialty and niche supermarkets, limited assortment stores, drug stores, general merchandisers, wholesale stores, discount stores, convenience stores, natural food stores, farmers' markets, local chains and stand-alone stores that cater to the individual cultural preferences of specific neighborhoods, restaurants and a growing number of internet-based home delivery and meal solution companies. ACI and its competitors engage in price and non-price competition which, from time to time, has adversely affected ACI's operating margins.

For more information on the competitive pressures that ACI faces, see Risk Factors Risks Relating to ACI's Business and Industry Competition in ACI's industry is intense, and ACI's failure to compete successfully may adversely affect ACI's profitability and operating results.

Raw Materials

Various agricultural commodities constitute the principal raw materials used by ACI in the manufacture of its food products. ACI believes that raw materials for its products are not in short supply, and all are readily available from a wide variety of independent suppliers.

Environmental Laws

ACI's operations are subject to regulation under environmental laws, including those relating to waste management, air emissions and underground storage tanks. In addition, as an owner and operator of commercial real estate, ACI may be subject to liability under applicable environmental laws for clean-up of contamination at its facilities. Compliance with, and clean-up liability under, these laws has not had and is not expected to have a material adverse effect upon ACI's business, financial condition, liquidity or operating results. See Legal Proceedings and Risk Factors Risks Relating to ACI's Business and Industry Unfavorable changes in, failure to comply with or increased costs to comply with environmental laws and regulations could adversely affect ACI. The storage and sale of petroleum products could cause disruptions and expose ACI to potentially significant liabilities.

Employees

As of February 24, 2018, ACI employed approximately 275,000 full- and part-time employees, of which approximately 187,000 were covered by collective bargaining agreements. During the fiscal year ending February 23, 2019, 209 collective bargaining agreements covering approximately 54,000 employees are scheduled to expire. ACI believes that its relations with its employees are good.

Legal Proceedings

ACI is subject from time to time to various claims and lawsuits arising in the ordinary course of business, including lawsuits involving trade practices, lawsuits alleging violations of state and/or federal wage and hour laws (including alleged violations of meal and rest period laws and alleged misclassification issues), real estate disputes and other matters. Some of these suits purport or may be determined to be class actions and/or seek substantial damages.

It is ACI's management's opinion that although the amount of liability with respect to certain of the matters described herein cannot be ascertained at this time, any resulting liability of these and other matters, including any punitive damages, will not have a material adverse effect on its business or financial condition.

During the fiscal year ended February 28, 2015, ACI received two subpoenas from the DEA requesting information concerning its record keeping, reporting and related practices concerning the theft or significant loss of controlled substances. On June 7, 2016, ACI received a third subpoena requesting information concerning potential diversion by one former employee in the Seattle/Tacoma area (Washington State). On July 18, 2017, the DEA and U.S. Department of Justice announced that they had reached an agreement with Safeway with respect to the matters under investigation. Under the agreement, Safeway (1) has paid a penalty of $3.0 million; (2) has surrendered its controlled substances license at one of its pharmacies in California and has had its controlled substances license at one of its pharmacies in Washington State suspended for four months; and (3) is subject to a three year corrective action plan.

In January 2016, ACI received a subpoena from the Office of the Inspector General of the Department of Health and Human Services, which we refer to as the OIG, pertaining to the pricing of drugs offered under ACI's MyRxCare discount program and the impact on reimbursements to Medicare, Medicaid and TRICARE, which we refer to as the Government Health Programs. In particular, the OIG is requesting information on the relationship between the prices charged for drugs under the MyRxCare program and the usual and customary prices reported by ACI in claims for reimbursements to the Government Health Programs or other third party payors, and ACI is cooperating with the OIG in the investigation. ACI is currently unable to determine the probability of the outcome of this matter or the range of reasonably possible loss, if any.

On December 16, 2016, ACI received a civil investigative demand from the United States Attorney for the District of Rhode Island in connection with a False Claims Act investigation relating to ACI's influenza vaccination programs. The investigation concerns whether ACI's provision of store coupons to its customers who received influenza vaccinations in its in-store pharmacies constituted an improper benefit to those customers under the federal Medicare and Medicaid programs. ACI believes that its provision of the store coupons to its customers is an allowable incentive to encourage vaccinations. ACI is cooperating with the U.S. Attorney in the investigation. ACI is currently unable to determine the probability of the outcome of this matter or the range of possible loss, if any.

On August 14, 2014, ACI announced that it had experienced a criminal intrusion by installation of malware on a portion of its computer network that processes payment card transactions for its retail store locations including its Shaw's, Star Market, Acme, Jewel-Osco and Albertsons retail banners. On September 29, 2014, ACI announced that it had experienced a second and separate criminal intrusion. ACI believes these were attempts to collect payment card data. Relying on ACI's IT service provider, SuperValu, ACI took immediate steps to secure the affected part of the network. ACI believes that it has eradicated the malware used in each intrusion. ACI notified federal law enforcement authorities, the major payment card networks, and ACI's insurance carriers and is cooperating in their efforts to investigate these intrusions. As required by the payment card brands, ACI retained a firm to conduct a forensic investigation into the intrusions. The forensic firm has issued separate reports for each intrusion (copies of which have been provided to the card networks). Although ACI's network had previously been found to be compliant with PCI DSS, in both reports the forensic firm found that not all of these standards had been met at the time of the intrusions, and some of this non-compliance may have contributed to or caused at least some portion of the compromise that occurred during the intrusions.

On August 5, 2016, ACI was notified that MasterCard had asserted its initial assessment for incremental counterfeit fraud losses and non-ordinary course expenses (such as card reissuance costs) as well as its case management assessment. On December 5, 2016, ACI was further notified that MasterCard has asserted its final assessment of approximately $6.0 million, which ACI paid on December 9, 2016; however ACI disputes the MasterCard assessment and, on March 10, 2017, MasterCard filed a motion to dismiss the litigation. In a decision dated August 25, 2017, the court denied MasterCard's motion, and the litigation is ongoing. On January 2, 2018, ACI was notified that Visa had asserted its assessment for incremental counterfeit fraud losses and card reissuance costs for $1.0 million. ACI paid the assessment in the fiscal quarter ended December 2, 2017. On October 20, 2015, ACI agreed with one of its third-party payment administrators to provide a $15 million letter of credit to cover any claims from the payment card networks and to maintain a minimum level of card processing until the potential claims from the payment card networks are resolved. On January 4, 2018, the third party payment administrator agreed to reduce the letter of credit to the Visa assessment amount of approximately $1.0 million. ACI has recorded an estimated liability for any remaining potential claims from other card networks.

As a result of the criminal intrusions, two class action complaints were filed against ACI by consumers and are currently pending, Mertz v. SuperValu Inc. et al. filed in federal court in the state of Minnesota and Rocke v. SuperValu Inc. et al. filed in federal court in the state of Idaho, alleging deceptive trade practices, negligence and invasion of privacy. The plaintiffs seek unspecified damages. The Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation has consolidated the class actions and transferred the cases to the District of Minnesota. On August 10, 2015, ACI and SuperValu filed a motion to dismiss the class actions, which was granted without prejudice on January 7, 2016. The plaintiffs filed a motion to alter or amend the court's judgment which was denied on April 20, 2016. The court also denied leave to amend the complaint. On May 18, 2016, the plaintiffs filed a notice of appeal to the Eighth Circuit and defendants filed a cross-appeal. In a decision dated August 30, 2017, the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the District Court's dismissal of the case as to one of the 16 named plaintiffs, affirmed the dismissal as to the remaining 15 plaintiffs and remanded the case to the District Court for further proceedings. On November 3, 2017, ACI filed a motion to dismiss with respect to the remaining plaintiff's claim on the basis that the plaintiff was not a customer at any of ACI's stores, and on March 7, 2018, ACI's motion to dismiss was granted with prejudice and the complaints are now resolved.

On October 6, 2015, ACI received a letter from the Office of Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania stating that the Illinois and Pennsylvania Attorneys General Offices are leading a multi-state group that includes the attorneys general for 14 other states requesting specified information concerning the two data breach incidents. The multi-state group has not made a monetary demand, and ACI is unable to estimate the possibility of or reasonable range of loss, if any. ACI has cooperated with the investigation. Three of ACI's insurance carriers have denied its claim for cyber insurance coverage for losses resulting from the intrusions based on, among other things, the insurers' conclusions that the intrusions began prior to the start date for coverage under the cyber insurance policy. ACI responded to the insurers' denials disagreeing with the conclusions and reserving its rights. ACI's claims with other of its insurance carriers remain outstanding.

On June 17, 2011, a customer of Safeway's home delivery business (safeway.com) filed a class action complaint in the United States District Court for the Northern District of California entitled Rodman v. Safeway Inc., alleging that Safeway had inaccurately represented on its home delivery website that the prices paid there were the same as the prices in the brick-and-mortar retail store. Rodman asserted claims for breach of contract and unfair business practices under California law. The court certified a class for the breach of contract claim, but denied class treatment for the California business practices claims. On December 10, 2014, the court ruled that the terms and conditions on Safeway's website should be construed as creating a contractual promise that prices on the website would be the same as in the stores and that Safeway had breached the contract by charging more on the website. On August 31, 2015, the court denied Safeway's affirmative defenses and arguments for limiting liability, and determined that website registrants since 2006 were entitled to approximately $31.0 million in damages (which amount was reduced to $23.2 million to correct an error in the court's calculation), plus prejudgment interest. The court then set a trial date of December 7, 2015 to determine whether pre-2006 registrants are entitled to any recovery. The parties thereafter stipulated to facts regarding the pre-2006 registration process, whereupon the court vacated the December trial date and extended its prior liability and damages rulings to class members who registered before 2006. Consequently, on November 30, 2015, the court entered a final judgment in favor of the plaintiff class in the amount of $41.9 million (comprised of $31.0 million in damages and $10.9 million in prejudgment interest). Safeway filed a Notice of Appeal from that judgment to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals on December 4, 2015, contesting both liability and damages. On April 6, 2016, the plaintiff moved for discovery sanctions against Safeway in the district court, seeking an additional $2.0 million. A hearing on the sanctions motion was held on August 25, 2016, and the court awarded sanctions against ACI in an amount under $1.0 million. The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals heard oral arguments on the appeal on June 12, 2017 and, on August 4, 2017, affirmed the judgment for the plaintiff. On December 15, 2017, ACI paid $42.3 million into a qualified settlement fund escrow account to fund the judgment with interest.

Two lawsuits have been brought against Safeway and the Safeway Benefits Plan Committee (which, together with Safeway, we refer to as the Benefit Plans Defendants) and other third parties alleging breaches of fiduciary duty under ERISA with respect to Safeway's 401(k) Plan, which we refer to as the Safeway 401(k) Plan. On July 14, 2016, a complaint, which we refer to as Terraza, was filed in the United States District Court for the Northern District of California by a participant in the Safeway 401(k) Plan individually and on behalf of the Safeway 401(k) Plan. An amended complaint was filed on November 18, 2016. On August 25, 2016, a second complaint, which we refer to as Lorenz, was filed in the United States District Court for the Northern District of California by another participant in the Safeway 401(k) Plan individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated against the Safeway Benefits Plans Defendants and against the Safeway 401(k) Plan's former recordkeepers. An amended complaint was filed on September 16, 2016 and a second amended complaint was filed on November 21, 2016. In general, both lawsuits allege that the Safeway Benefits Plans Defendants breached their fiduciary duties under ERISA regarding the selection of investments offered under the Safeway 401(k) Plan and the fees and expenses related to those investments. ACI believes these lawsuits are without merit, and intend to contest each of them vigorously. The Safeway Benefits Plans Defendants filed motions to dismiss both cases. Defendants have answered the complaints, and the parties are in the initial stages of discovery. ACI is currently unable to estimate the range of loss, if any, that may result from these matters due to the early procedural status of the cases. On March 13, 2017, the United States District Court for the Northern District of California denied the Safeway Benefits Plan Defendants' motion to dismiss with respect to Terraza, and granted in part and denied in part the Safeway Benefits Plan Defendants' motion to dismiss with respect to Lorenz. On December 12, 2017, the Court in Terraza denied in part and granted in part a motion to dismiss brought by co-defendant Aon Hewitt. The parties recently entered into a scheduling stipulation in both Terraza and Lorenz wherein fact discovery will close on April 22, 2018, expert discovery will close on June 8, 2018, dispositive motions are due on June 21, 2018, and trial is set for October 22, 2018.

Three qui tam actions have been filed against ACI under the False Claims Act. In United States ex rel. Schutte and Yarberry v. SuperValu, New Albertsons, Inc. (Albertsons), et al., the relators allege that defendants (including various Albertsons subsidiaries) overcharged federal healthcare programs by not providing the government, as a part of usual and customary prices, the benefit of discounts given to customers who requested that defendants match competitor prices. The complaint was originally filed under seal and amended on November 30, 2015. In United States ex rel. Proctor v. Safeway, the relator alleges that Safeway submitted fraudulent, inflated pricing information to four government healthcare programs in connection with prescription drug claims, by failing to include pharmacy discount program pricing as a part of its usual and customary prices. On August 26, 2015, the underlying complaint was unsealed. Relator filed an amended complaint, and Safeway's motion to dismiss the amended complaint was denied. In United States ex rel. Zelikowski v. Albertsons LLC, relator alleges that Albertsons overcharged federal healthcare programs by not providing the government, as a part of its usual and customary prices to the government, the benefit of discounts given to customers who enrolled in Albertsons' discount-club program. The complaint was originally filed under seal and amended on June 20, 2017. The government previously investigated the relator's allegations in each of the cases and declined to intervene in any of the cases. Relators elected to pursue their respective cases on their own, and ACI is vigorously defending each of those matters. The matters are at an early stage in the proceedings. ACI is unable to express an opinion with respect to the likelihood of an unfavorable outcome or to estimate the amount or range of potential loss if the outcome of any of them should be unfavorable.

Table of ContentsMANAGEMENT AND OTHER INFORMATION OF THE COMBINED COMPANY*Directors of the Combined Company

Upon the closing of the merger, the board of directors of the combined company will be comprised of nine (9) members. As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, Rite Aid and ACI have identified all nine (9) members of the combined company's board of directors:

ACI has identified its four (4) designees: Robert G. Miller, who was selected to be Chairman, Lenard B. Tessler, who was selected to be Lead Director, Allen M. Gibson and B. Kevin Turner;

Rite Aid has identified its four (4) designees: John T. Standley, David R. Jessick, Michael N. Regan and Marcy Syms; and

After the effective time, and until such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least ten percent (10%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause two nominees designated by Cerberus to be elected to the ACI board of directors. From and after such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least ten percent (10%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, but beneficially owns at least five percent (5%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause one nominee designated by Cerberus to be elected to the ACI board of directors. Until such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least fifteen percent (15%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause directors designated by Cerberus to be elected Chairman and Lead Director, provided that, if Robert G. Miller has ceased to serve as Chairman, either the Chairman or the Lead Director will qualify as independent under the rules of the NYSE and will not be a partner or employee of Cerberus, its affiliates or any of the ACI Institutional Investors. Until such time as Cerberus ceases to beneficially own at least ten percent (10%) of the outstanding ACI common stock, the merger agreement requires the ACI board of directors to take all necessary action to nominate and cause a director designated by Cerberus to be elected Lead Director. Other than as described above, there are no agreements between Rite Aid and ACI regarding, and no decisions have been made with respect to, the selection of directors of ACI following the merger.

The following includes a brief biography of each person who is expected, as of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, to be a director of ACI following the merger, including their present positions and qualifications, their principal occupations and directorships held with public corporations during the past five years, their ages and the year they were first elected as a director of ACI or Rite Aid, as applicable:

He served as Chief Operating Officer of Microsoft Corporation from 2005 to 2016, and as Chief Executive Officer and President of Sam's Club, a subsidiary of Wal-Mart, from 2002 to 2005. Between 1985 and 2002, Mr. Turner held a number of positions of increasing responsibility with Wal-Mart, including Executive Vice President and Global Chief Information Officer from 2001 to 2002. Mr. Turner's strategic and operational leadership skills and expertise in online worldwide sales, global operations, supply chain, merchandising, branding, marketing, information technology and public relations provide ACI's board of directors with valuable insight relevant to ACI's business.

Director Independence

As required under the NYSE listed company manual, which is referred to in this proxy statement/prospectus as the NYSE listing standards, a majority of the members of ACI's board of directors must qualify as independent, as affirmatively determined by the board of directors within one year of listing. ACI's board of directors will consult with internal counsel to ensure that the board's determinations are consistent with relevant securities and other laws and regulations regarding the definition of independent, including those set forth in the pertinent NYSE listing standards, as in effect from time to time. It is currently expected that a majority of the board of directors of ACI will be independent directors within the meaning of the applicable NYSE listing standards upon the closing of the merger.

Board Committees

The board of directors of ACI following the merger will have a standing audit committee, a compensation committee and a nominating and corporate governance committee. At the time of listing, ACI will be required to have at least one director satisfying the independence requirements for directors serving on an audit committee, as prescribed by the NYSE listing standards and SEC rules and regulations.

Executive Officers

ACI and Rite Aid expect that immediately following the merger, Mr. John Standley will serve as Chief Executive Officer of the combined company and Robert G. Miller will serve as Chairman. The rest of ACI's executive team will be identified in due course prior to the closing of the merger. Information about Rite Aid's current executive officers is incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus from Rite Aid's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 3, 2018, as amended by Amendment No. 1 on Form 10-K/A filed with the SEC on June 1, 2018, the Definitive Proxy Statement for Rite Aid's 2017 Annual Meeting filed with the SEC on June 7, 2017 and Rite Aid's current reports on Form 8-K that are incorporated by reference herein.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION OF ACI

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

This Compensation Discussion and Analysis is designed to provide an understanding of ACI's compensation philosophy and objectives, compensation-setting process, and the compensation of ACI's named executive officers during the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, which we refer to as NEOs. This Compensation Discussion and Analysis reflects executive compensation at ACI and does not give effect to the merger. ACI's NEOs for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 are:

Robert G. Miller, ACI's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer;

Robert B. Dimond, ACI's Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer;

Wayne A. Denningham, ACI's former President and Chief Operating Officer, who retired on February 24, 2018;

Shane Sampson, ACI's Chief Marketing and Merchandising Officer; and Anuj Dhanda, ACI's Executive Vice President and Chief Information Officer.

Compensation Philosophy and Objectives

ACI's general compensation philosophy is to provide programs that attract, retain and motivate its executive officers who are critical to its long-term success. ACI strives to provide a competitive compensation package to its executive officers to reward achievement of its business objectives and align their interests with the interests of its equityholders. ACI has sought to accomplish these goals through a combination of short- and long-term compensation components that are linked to ACI's annual and long-term business objectives and strategies. To focus ACI's executive officers on the fulfillment of its business objectives, a significant portion of their compensation is performance-based.

The Role of the Compensation Committee

The compensation committee is responsible for determining the compensation of ACI's executive officers. The compensation committee's responsibilities include determining and approving the compensation of the Chief Executive Officer and reviewing and approving the compensation of all other executive officers.

Compensation Setting Process

ACI's compensation program has reflected its operations as a private company. In determining the compensation for its executive officers, ACI relied largely upon the experience of its management and its board of directors with input from its Chief Executive Officer.

ACI's board of directors has established a compensation committee to be responsible for administering its executive compensation programs. As part of the administration of ACI's executive compensation programs, the Chief Executive Officer provides the compensation committee with his assessment of the other NEOs' performance and other factors used in developing his recommendation for their compensation, including salary adjustments, cash incentives and equity grants.

ACI has engaged a compensation consultant to provide assistance in determining the compensation of its executive officers. Such assistance may include establishing a peer group and formal benchmarking process to ensure that its executive compensation program is competitive and offers the appropriate retention and performance incentives.

Table of ContentsComponents of the NEO Compensation Program for the Fiscal Year Ended February 24, 2018

ACI uses various compensation elements to provide an overall competitive total compensation and benefits package to the NEOs that is tied to creating value and commensurate with ACI's results and aligns with its business strategy. Set forth below are the key elements of the compensation program for the NEOs for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018:

base salary that reflects compensation for the NEO's role and responsibilities, experience, expertise and individual performance;

annual bonus based on ACI's financial performance for the fiscal year;

incentive compensation based on the value of ACI's equity;

severance protection; and other benefits that are provided to all employees, including healthcare benefits, life insurance, retirement savings plans and disability plans.

Base Salary

ACI provides the NEOs with a base salary to compensate them for services rendered during the fiscal year. Base salaries for the NEOs are determined on the basis of each executive's role and responsibilities, experience, expertise and individual performance. The NEOs are not eligible for automatic annual salary increases. In the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI made the following adjustments to the base salary levels applicable to its NEOs from their base salaries in effect for the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017:

Name	Fiscal Year Ended February 25, 2017 Base Salary ($)	Fiscal Year Ended February 24, 2018 Base Salary (effective April 16, 2017) ($)
Robert G. Miller	2,000,000	2,000,000
Robert B. Dimond	700,000	775,000
Wayne A. Denningham	800,000	1,000,000
Shane Sampson	800,000	900,000
Anuj Dhanda	500,000	600,000

Upon the commencement of his employment, on March 1, 2018, James Donald became entitled to receive an annual base salary of $1,000,000.

Bonuses

Performance-Based Bonus Plans

ACI recognizes that its corporate management employees shoulder responsibility for supporting its operations and in achieving positive financial results. Therefore, ACI believes that a substantial percentage of each executive officer's annual compensation should be tied directly to the achievement of performance goals.

2017 Bonus Plan. All of the NEOs participated in the Corporate Management Bonus Plan established for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, which we refer to as the 2017 Bonus Plan. Consistent with ACI's bonus plan for the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017, the 2017 Bonus Plan provided for two components:

a quarterly bonus component based on the performance achieved by each of ACI's divisions for each fiscal quarter in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 (each which we refer to as a Quarterly Division Bonus), other than ACI's United Supermarkets division and Haggen stores; and an annual bonus component based on performance for the full fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, which we refer to as the Annual Corporate Bonus.

The goals set under the 2017 Bonus Plan were designed to be challenging and difficult to achieve, but still within a realizable range so that achievement was both uncertain and objective. ACI believes that this methodology created a strong link between its NEOs and its financial performance.

The Quarterly Division Bonus component and the Annual Corporate Bonus component each constituted 50% of each NEO's target bonus opportunity for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. Consistent with its bonus plan for the fiscal year ended February 25, 2017 and the Executive Employment Agreements (as defined below), ACI established the target bonus opportunity for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 under the 2017 Bonus Plan as 60% (50% for Mr. Dhanda) of the NEO's annual base salary. ACI believes that the target bonus opportunity for its NEOs is appropriate based on their positions and responsibilities, as well as their individual ability to impact its financial performance, and places a proportionately larger percentage of total annual pay for its NEOs at risk based on its performance.

Quarterly Division Bonus. The target bonus opportunity for each fiscal quarter in the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 was calculated by dividing the NEO's target bonus opportunity for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 by 52 weeks and multiplying the result by the number of weeks in the applicable fiscal quarter, then dividing by half (each which we refer to as a Quarterly Bonus Target). Higher and lower percentages of base salary could be earned for each fiscal quarter if minimum performance levels or performance levels above target were achieved. The maximum bonus opportunity for each fiscal quarter under the 2017 Bonus Plan was 200% of the applicable Quarterly Bonus Target. No amount would be payable for the applicable fiscal quarter if results fell below established threshold levels. ACI believes that having a maximum cap serves to promote good judgment by the NEOs, reduces the likelihood of windfalls and makes the maximum cost of the plan predictable.

At the beginning of each fiscal quarter, the management of each division participating in the 2017 Bonus Plan, with approval from ACI's corporate management, established the division's EBITDA goal for the applicable fiscal quarter with threshold, plan, target and maximum goals. After the end of the fiscal quarter, ACI's corporate finance team calculated the financial results for each retail division and reported the Quarterly Division Bonus percentage earned, if any. A division earned between 0% to 100% of its bonus target amount for achievement of EBITDA for the fiscal quarter between the threshold and target levels. If the division exceeded 100% of its target EBITDA for a fiscal quarter, the amount in excess of target EBITDA would be earned in proportion to the maximum goals, subject to a cap based on achievement of division sales goals for such fiscal quarter as follows:

100% or greater	200%

The bonuses earned by the NEOs for each fiscal quarter were determined by adding together the percentage of the quarterly division bonus target amounts earned for all of the divisions and dividing the sum by the number of ACI's divisions participating in the 2017 Bonus Plan for such fiscal quarter. Thirteen ACI divisions participated in the 2017 Bonus Plan during the first quarter of the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. As a result of the consolidation of ACI's Southern and Houston divisions, twelve ACI divisions participated in the 2017 Bonus Plan during the remainder of the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. The actual amount of the bonus earned by an NEO for each fiscal quarter is approved by the compensation committee.

Table of Contents

Annual Corporate Bonus. The Annual Corporate Bonus component was based on the level of achievement by ACI of an annual Adjusted EBITDA target for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 of $3,000 million. Amounts under the Annual Corporate Bonus could be earned above or below target level. The threshold level above which a percentage of the Annual Corporate Bonus could be earned was achievement above 90% of the Adjusted EBITDA target and 100% of the Annual Corporate Bonus could be earned at achievement of 100% of the Adjusted EBITDA target, with interim percentages earned for achievement between levels. If achievement exceeded 100% of the Adjusted EBITDA target, 10% of the excess Adjusted EBITDA would be added to the bonus pool, but payout was capped at 200% on the Annual Corporate Bonus component of the NEO's target bonus opportunity for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018. ACI's board of directors has determined that ACI's actual achieved annual Adjusted EBITDA for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 was below the threshold level and therefore no amount of the target bonus opportunity for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 was earned.

The NEOs earned the following amounts under the 2017 Bonus Plan:

Robert G. Miller	102,928		102,928
Robert B. Dimond	39,330		39,330
Wayne A. Denningham	49,984		49,984
Shane Sampson	45,578		45,578
Anuj Dhanda	25,115		25,115

Special Bonuses

In addition to the annual cash incentive program, ACI may from time to time pay its NEOs discretionary bonuses as determined by the board of directors or the compensation committee to provide for additional retention or upon special circumstances. In connection with the commencement of their employment, Mr. Dimond received a retention bonus in the amount of $1,500,000 and Messrs. Sampson and Dhanda each received a retention bonus in the amount of $1,000,000. Upon his subsequent transfer to the position of Division President of Jewel-Osco and in recognition of his performance, in March 2014, Mr. Sampson's retention award was increased to $1,240,000. The final installments of Mr. Dimond's and Mr. Sampson's retention bonuses, in the amounts of $375,000 and $310,000, respectively, were paid on April 1, 2017. The second installment of Mr. Dhanda's retention bonus, in the amount of $250,000, was paid to him on February 26, 2017, and the third and fourth installments will be payable on February 25, 2018 and February 24, 2019, generally subject to Mr. Dhanda remaining actively working, without having been demoted, through the payment date.

In recognition of his performance and as an additional incentive, in March 2013, Mr. Denningham received a retention bonus in the amount of $700,000. The final installment of Mr. Denningham's retention bonus, in the amount of $175,000, was paid in April 2017.

Incentive Plans

Miller Incentive Units

In connection with the Safeway acquisition, Mr. Miller was granted a fully-vested equity award equal to a 1.0% interest in AB Acquisition on a fully participating basis, which consisted of 3,350,084 fully-vested and non-forfeitable investor incentive units of AB Acquisition. In connection with the ACI Reorganization Transactions, such investor incentive Units were exchanged for 1,109,347 investor incentive units of Albertsons Investor and 1,109,347 investor incentive units of KIM ACI.

Table of ContentsPhantom Unit Plan

In the fiscal year ended February 27, 2016, Phantom Units were granted under the Albertsons Companies, Inc. Phantom Unit Plan (formerly, the AB Acquisition LLC Phantom Unit Plan), which we refer to as the Phantom Unit Plan, to Messrs. Dimond, Denningham, Sampson and Dhanda. To align Mr. Denningham's awards with those granted to other senior executives, on August 2, 2016, he was granted an additional 132,456 Phantom Units. In connection with his promotion to the position of President, on April 19, 2017, Mr. Denningham was granted 82,785 Phantom Units. As further incentive, Mr. Dhanda was granted 82,785 Phantom Units on February 28, 2017, and each of Messrs. Denningham and Sampson was granted 132,456 Phantom Units on July 19, 2017. We refer to the grants of Phantom Units to the NEOs as the NEO Phantom Units.

Fifty percent of the NEO Phantom Units are time-based units that are subject to the NEO's continued service through each applicable vesting date. The remaining 50% of the NEO Phantom Units are Performance Units that are subject to both the NEO's continued service through each applicable vesting date and to the achievement of annual performance targets. The portion of the Performance Units subject to vesting on February 24, 2018 were subject to ACI's achievement of an annual Adjusted EBITDA target for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 of $3,000 million. In February 2018, ACI's compensation committee determined that it was unlikely that the performance measure for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 would be achieved. To maintain the retention value of such Performance Units, ACI's compensation committee determined that such Performance Units would vest solely subject to the NEO's continued service through February 24, 2018. Accordingly, all such Performance Units vested on February 24, 2018. Pursuant to the Denningham Retirement Agreement (as defined below), in connection with his retirement on February 24, 2018, Mr. Denningham became vested in his outstanding Phantom Units that would have otherwise become vested had he remained in service through February 23, 2019.

Upon the commencement of his employment, on March 1, 2018, Jim Donald was granted 214,219 Phantom Units. Subject to his continued service on each vesting date, the Phantom Units will become vested 50% on the last day of ACI's 2018 fiscal year and 50% on the last day of ACI's 2019 fiscal year.

Upon the consummation of the merger, any outstanding NEO Phantom Units will be converted into restricted stock units that upon vesting will be settled in newly issued shares of ACI common stock.

The NEO Phantom Units were granted with the right to receive a Tax Bonus that entitles the participant to receive a bonus equal to 4% of the fair value of the management incentive units paid to the participant in respect of vested Phantom Units. Participants will continue to be eligible to receive a Tax Bonus following the consummation of the merger.

Employment AgreementsEmployment Agreement with Robert G. Miller

Mr. Miller is party to an employment agreement with ACI, dated March 13, 2006, as amended, which we refer to as the Miller Employment Agreement. On January 12, 2018, ACI and Mr. Miller entered into a letter agreement, pursuant to which the term of Mr. Miller's employment under the Miller Employment Agreement was extended through January 30, 2019.

The Miller Employment Agreement provides that Mr. Miller will serve as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer (which will be the senior most executive officer) and a voting member of the board of directors and of any executive or operating committee of the board of directors other than a committee required by the rules of the SEC or the applicable securities exchange to be made up of solely independent directors. Pursuant to the January 12, 2018 letter agreement, ACI may appoint a successor Chief Executive Officer, which will not constitute a Good Reason event so long as Mr. Miller continues to hold or share the position of Chairman. ACI and Rite Aid expect that following the merger John Standley, the current Chief Executive Officer of Rite Aid, will succeed and replace Mr. Miller as Chief Executive Officer of ACI and that Mr. Miller will continue as Chairman.

The Miller Employment Agreement provides that Mr. Miller will receive an annual base salary in the amount of $2,000,000 per year.

In the event of a termination of Mr. Miller's employment by ACI without Cause or by Mr. Miller with Good Reason, subject to his execution of a release, Mr. Miller will be entitled to a lump sum payment equal to his base salary for the remainder of the term. In addition, following the term of Mr. Miller's employment, Mr. Miller will be entitled to a payment of $50,000 per month (or partial month) during his lifetime and, after his death, his spouse will become entitled to a payment of $25,000 per month for each month (or partial month) during her lifetime. In any event, such payments will cease on the tenth anniversary of the end of the term.

Pursuant to the Miller Employment Agreement, Mr. Miller is entitled to the use of corporate aircraft for up to 100 hours of personal use per year for himself, his family members and guests at no cost to him, other than to pay income tax on such usage at the lowest permissible rate. In addition, pursuant to the Miller Employment Agreement, ACI assigned $5.0 million of the key man life insurance policy that ACI had obtained on Mr. Miller's life to Mr. Miller in favor of one or more beneficiaries designated by him from time to time. ACI agreed to maintain such policy (or substitute equivalent policies) in effect through January 2025 (whether or not Mr. Miller remains employed with ACI).

For purposes of the Miller Employment Agreement, Cause generally means:

an act of fraud, embezzlement, or misappropriation by Mr. Miller intended to result in substantial personal enrichment at the expense of ACI; or

Mr. Miller's willful or intentional failure to materially comply (to the best of his ability) with a specific, written direction of the board of directors that is consistent with normal business practice and not inconsistent with the Miller Employment Agreement and his responsibilities thereunder, and that within 10 business days after the delivery of written notice of the failure is not cured to the best of his ability or that Mr. Miller has not provided notice that the failure was based on his good faith belief that the implementation of such direction would be unlawful or unethical.

For purposes of the Miller Employment Agreement, Good Reason generally means:

a change of control;

any material adverse alteration in Mr. Miller's titles, positions, duties, authorities, reporting relationships or responsibilities that is not cured within 10 business days of notice from Mr. Miller, other than the appointment of a successor Chief Executive Officer to succeed (and replace) Mr. Miller as Chief Executive Officer if he continues to hold or share the position of Chairman; or any material failure by ACI to comply with the Miller Employment Agreement that is not cured within 10 business days of notice from Mr. Miller.

The merger will not constitute a change of control for purposes of the Miller Employment Agreement.

Table of ContentsEmployment Agreements with other Executives

During the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, Messrs. Dimond, Denningham, Sampson and Dhanda were each party to employment agreements dated September 9, 2014, June 26, 2016, June 28, 2016 and November 7, 2015, respectively (which we refer to as the Executive Employment Agreements). Effective August 1, 2017, Messrs. Dimond, Denningham, Sampson and Dhanda each entered into amendments and restatements of the Executive Employment Agreements, which we refer to as the 2017 Amendments). In general, the 2017 Amendments provide for substantially the same terms as the Executive Employment Agreements. In connection with his appointment as President and Chief Operating Officer, on March 1, 2018, Mr. Donald entered into an employment agreement, which we refer to as the Donald Employment Agreement) that provides for substantially the same terms as the Executive Employment Agreements as amended by the 2017 Amendments.

Pursuant to the 2017 Amendments, the term of each NEO's employment under his Executive Employment Agreement was extended from January 30, 2018 through January 30, 2020. The Donald Employment Agreement provides for a term through March 1, 2020. Each Executive Employment Agreement and the Donald Employment Agreement provide for an annual base salary and that the respective executive is eligible to receive an annual bonus targeted at 60% (50% for Mr. Dhanda) of his annual base salary.

If the executive's employment terminates due to his death or he is terminated due to disability, the executive or his legal representative, as appropriate, would be entitled to receive a lump sum payment in an amount equal to 25% of his base salary. If the executive's employment is terminated by ACI without Cause or by the executive for Good Reason, subject to his execution of a release, the executive would be entitled to a lump sum payment in an amount equal to 200% of the sum of his base salary plus target bonus, and reimbursement of the cost of continuation coverage of group health coverage. To align ACI's severance practice with that of similarly-situated companies, the 2017 Amendments reduced the period of group health coverage reimbursement from 36 months to 12 months.

For the purposes of each Executive Employment Agreement, Cause generally means:

acts of intentional dishonesty resulting or intending to result in personal gain or enrichment at the expense of ACI, its subsidiaries or its affiliates;

a material breach of the executive's obligations under the applicable Executive Employment Agreement, including but not limited to breach of the restrictive covenants or fraudulent, unlawful or grossly negligent conduct by the executive in connection with his duties under the applicable Executive Employment Agreement;

Personal conduct by the executive which seriously discredits or damages ACI, its subsidiaries or its affiliates; or contravention of specific lawful direction from the board of directors.

For the purposes of each Executive Employment Agreement, Good Reason generally means:

a reduction in the base salary or target bonus; or without prior written consent, relocation of the executive's principal location of work to any location that is in excess of 50 miles from such location on the date of the applicable Executive Employment Agreement.

Table of ContentsDenningham Retirement Agreement

Effective February 24, 2018, Mr. Denningham retired from ACI and entered into a retirement agreement with ACI and AB Management Services Corp., which we refer to as the Denningham Retirement Agreement. Pursuant to the Denningham Retirement Agreement, in consideration for Mr. Denningham's release of claims, ACI agreed to treat Mr. Denningham's retirement in the same manner as if he were terminated without Cause and to provide Mr. Denningham with the severance payments and benefits under his Executive Employment Agreement as described above and accelerated vesting of his outstanding Phantom Units that would have otherwise become vested had he remained in service through February 23, 2019.

Deferred Compensation Plans

ACI's subsidiaries Albertson's LLC and NAI maintain the Albertson's LLC Makeup Plan and NAI Makeup Plan, respectively (which we refer to, collectively, as the Makeup Plans). The Makeup Plans are unfunded non-qualified deferred compensation arrangements. Designated employees may elect to defer the receipt of a portion of their base pay, bonus and incentive payments under the Makeup Plans. For the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, Mr. Sampson was eligible to participate in the NAI Makeup Plan, and Messrs. Miller, Dimond and Denningham were eligible to participate in the Albertson's LLC Makeup Plan. The amounts deferred are held in a book entry account and are deemed to have been invested by the participant in investment options designated by the participant from among the investment options made available by the committee under the Makeup Plans. Participants are vested in their accounts under the Makeup Plans to the same extent they are vested in their accounts under the 401(k) plan discussed below, except that accounts under the Makeup Plans will become fully vested upon a change of control. The merger will not constitute a change of control for purposes of the Makeup Plans. No deferral contributions for a year will be credited, however, until the participant has been credited with the maximum amount of elective deferrals permitted by the terms of the 401(k) plans and/or the limitations imposed by the Code. In addition, participants will be credited with an amount equal to the excess of the amount ACI would contribute to the 401(k) plans as a company contribution on the participant's behalf for the plan year without regard to any limitations imposed by the Code based on the participant's compensation over the amount of ACI's actual company contributions for the plan year. Generally, payment of the participant's account under the Makeup Plans will be made in a lump sum following the participant's separation from service. Participants may receive a distribution of up to 100% of their account during employment in the event of an emergency. Participants in the Makeup Plans are unsecured general creditors.

ACI's subsidiary Safeway maintains the Safeway Executive Deferred Compensation Program II, which we refer to as the Safeway Plan, and together with the Makeup Plans we refer to as the Deferred Compensation Plans. The Safeway Plan is an unfunded non-qualified deferred compensation arrangement. Designated employees may elect to defer the receipt of up to 100% of their base pay, bonus and incentive payments under the Safeway Plan. For the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, Mr. Dhanda was eligible to participate in the Safeway Plan, but did not elect to participate.

See the table entitled "Nonqualified Deferred Compensation" below for information with regard to the participation of the NEOs in the Deferred Compensation Plans.

401(k) Plan

Through December 31, 2017, Albertson's LLC, NALP and Safeway maintained 401(k) plans with terms that were substantially identical. Mr. Sampson was eligible to participate in the NALP 401(k) plan, Mr. Dhanda was eligible to participate in the Safeway 401(k) plan, and the other NEOs were eligible to participate in the Albertson's LLC 401(k) plan. Effective on January 1, 2018, these plans were merged into a single 401(k) plan named the Albertsons Companies 401(k) Plan, which we refer to as the ACI 401(k) Plan. The ACI 401(k) Plan permits eligible employees to make voluntary, pre-tax employee contributions, up to a specified percentage of compensation, subject to applicable tax limitations. Commencing January 1, 2018, eligible employees are also permitted to make voluntary after-tax Roth contributions, up to a specified percentage of compensation, subject to applicable tax limitations. ACI may make a discretionary matching contribution equal to a pre-determined percentage of an employee's contributions, subject to applicable tax limitations. Participants in the Safeway Pension Plan are not eligible for matching contributions under the ACI 401(k) Plan. Eligible employees who elect to participate in the ACI 401(k) Plan are generally 50% vested after one year of service and 100% vested after three years of service in any matching contribution, and fully vested at all times in their employee contributions. The ACI 401(k) plan is intended to be tax-qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code. Accordingly, contributions to the ACI 401(k) plan and income earned on plan contributions are not taxable to employees until withdrawn, and ACI's contributions, if any, will be deductible by ACI when made. ACI's board of directors determines the matching contribution rate under the ACI 401(k) plan for each year. For the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, ACI's board of directors set a matching contribution rate equal to 50% of an employee's contribution up to 7% of base salary.

Other Benefits

The NEOs participate in the health and dental coverage, company-paid term life insurance, disability insurance, paid time off and paid holidays programs applicable to other employees in their locality. ACI also maintains a relocation policy applicable to employees who are required to relocate their residence. These benefits are designed to be competitive with overall market practices and are in place to attract and retain the necessary talent in the business.

Perquisites

The NEOs generally are not entitled to any perquisites that are not otherwise available to all of ACI's employees.

Under his employment agreement, Mr. Miller is entitled to the use of corporate aircraft for up to 100 hours per year for himself, his family members and guests at no cost to him, other than to pay income tax on such usage at the lowest permissible rate. Other executives, generally those with the title of executive vice president or above, may request the personal use of a company-owned aircraft subject to availability.

For the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018, Messrs. Denningham, Dimond, Sampson and Dhanda were eligible for financial and tax planning services up to a maximum annual amount of $8,000.

Risk Mitigation

ACI's compensation committee has assessed the risk associated with its compensation practices and policies for employees, including a consideration of the balance between risk-taking incentives and risk-mitigating factors in its practices and policies. The assessment determined that any risks arising from ACI's compensation practices and policies are not reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on its business or financial condition.

Impact of Accounting and Tax Matters

As a general matter, the compensation committee is responsible for reviewing and considering the various tax and accounting implications of compensation vehicles that ACI utilizes. With respect to accounting matters, the compensation committee examines the accounting cost associated with equity compensation in light of ASC 718.

1. Amounts represent the range of annual cash incentive awards the NEO was potentially entitled to receive based on the achievement of performance goals for the fiscal year ended February 24, 2018 under ACI's 2017 Bonus Plan as more fully described in Compensation Discussion and Analysis. The amounts actually paid are reported in the Non-Equity Incentive Plan column of the Summary Compensation table. Pursuant to the 2017 Bonus Plan, performance below a specific threshold will result in no payment with respect to that performance goal. Performance at or above the threshold will result in a payment from $0 up to the maximum bonus amounts reflected in the table.
2. Represents Phantom Units granted to Mr. Denningham, as described in Compensation Discussion and Analysis.
3. Reflects the grant date fair value of $41.07 per unit with respect to the Phantom Units granted to Mr. Denningham on April 19, 2017 and Mr. Dhanda on February 28, 2017, and $37.51 per unit with respect to the Phantom Units granted to Messrs. Denningham and Sampson on July 19, 2017, as calculated in accordance with ASC 718. Assumptions used in the valuation of equity based awards are discussed in Note 10 Stockholders' Member Equity in ACI's consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus.
