Item 8.01 Other Events.

As previously disclosed, on March 2, 2016, International Business Machines Corporation ("IBM") filed a complaint in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware against Groupon, Inc. (the "Company") alleging that the Company has infringed and continues to willfully infringe certain IBM patents relating to the presentation of applications and advertising in an interactive service, preserving state information in online transactions and single sign-on processes in a computing environment. On July 27, 2018, a jury in this matter returned a verdict finding the Company willfully infringed these patents and awarded damages of $82.5 million to IBM. The court has the discretion to enhance this award for willfulness, impose interest, impose a continuing royalty for the unexpired patents or award injunctive relief. The court also has the discretion to reduce or vacate the damages award or enter judgment for the Company on some or all of the claims notwithstanding the jury verdict. The Company intends to seek to overturn the verdict and reduce the damages award through post-trial motions and appeal.
