2 AUTHORIZED SPOKESPERSON USE ONLY. NOT DISTRIBUTED. This makes us a larger organization and will bring more opportunities for our employees. Also the transaction makes good financial sense and is expected to enhance returns for our stockholders (owners). HFFC-Steve Bianchi: Our companies share a lot in common. We are both committed to building strong relationships in the communities we serve. We remain very excited about this opportunity and believe Great Western Bank is the optimal strategic partner for HF Financial. We look forward to working with Ken Karels and the rest of the Great Western team as we proceed together on a path towards becoming part of an even stronger organization. As a result of this merger, our stockholders will be rewarded, and our employees, customers and communities will have greater opportunities available to them by being associated with one of the top performing regional banks in the Midwest. Meaningful Expansion of Footprint/Customer Impact: GWB-Ken Karels: This merger solidifies GWB's market leadership in the highly attractive Sioux Falls market, enhances our state-wide presence in South Dakota and allows us to establish a branch presence in the desirable Fargo, ND and suburban Minneapolis, MN markets. We expect this combination will contribute to profitability and future success – for example, by enhancing some of our key business lines, including wealth management and mortgage. Upon completion of the transaction, GWB is projected to have $11.3 billion in assets, $8.6 billion in total deposits, $8.5 billion in total loans and will serve 127 communities in nine states. It's business as usual. We will continue to Make Life Great for our customers, communities and our stakeholders. HFFC – Steve Bianchi: Great Western is an experienced acquirer with a robust integration playbook and a process based on transparency and open communication. We are confident we can have a seamless integration given our close proximity and their familiarity with all of our markets. Great Western intends to maintain and grow the current business lines operated by Home Federal. Great Western's primary goals in this merger are to ensure that we preserve the value of the business and to continue providing the outstanding service our customers expect. This transaction allows us to meet the needs and growing expectations of our customers, stockholders and employees. The bottom line is this combination will have a positive impact on our customers. Impact to Employees: GWB-Ken Karels: We expect this merger will have minimal impact on client-facing employees. Having access to great talent is one of the most exciting aspects of this opportunity. Our frontline employees will play an important role in retaining the lasting relationships they have built with customers.
