Dear Fellow Shareholder,

You may have seen Park City Capital, LLC's (Park City) most recent press release concerning ARI Network Services, Inc. (ARI or ARIS). Instead of making the case for the qualifications and track record of its nominees, Park City has immediately reduced itself to a strategy of character assassination, misleading half-truths and manipulation of facts. We consider Park City's allegations and statements in the release to be little more than a distraction, and they do nothing to support their own candidates or refute ARI's strong performance record. We expect similarly styled press releases and communications from Park City in the future as they are unable to stand on the qualifications and track record of their own nominees. We refuse to engage in the point-by-point mudslinging contest that Park City seemingly wishes to provoke. Rather, we want to reiterate the points in our prior communication as well as address four issues that we believe are of primary importance to our shareholders.

Park City's Baseless Allegations Against William C. Mortimore Regarding Merge Healthcare

Mr. Mortimore has served on ARI's board since 2004 and has been Chairman of ARI's audit committee since 2007. During his tenure, and due in large part to his careful and conscientious oversight, ARI's corporate governance and financial reporting have been strong and transparent, with:

- No instances of financial restatements
- No material weaknesses in internal controls over financial reporting or similar issues

It is clear that Park City's distorted version of Mr. Mortimore's history at Merge Healthcare Inc. was carefully crafted to impugn his character and reputation by implying that he was in some way implicated in fraudulent activities. However, even a close reading of Park City's own account reveals that any such implication is completely unfounded. In fact, after an extremely thorough and exhaustive investigation of the events in question, the SEC affirmatively notified Mr. Mortimore that he would not be the subject of any enforcement action or ongoing investigation, effectively exonerating him from any allegation of wrongdoing in the matter. It is telling that the Board of Merge Healthcare had the confidence in Mr. Mortimore to turn to him in 2006 to help shepherd the company through the complex investigation as its interim CEO, stating in a company press release that, “With a continuing commitment to the Company he originally built, Bill is uniquely suited to lead the Company at this time.”

Mr. Mortimore founded Merge Healthcare in the basement of his home and built it into a thriving enterprise. Merge Healthcare was recently acquired by IBM in a transaction valued at $1 billion.

In order to further attempt to distract you from the weakness of its own position and the strength of ARIS’s nominees and performance, we anticipate that Park City may next raise a 35+ year-old matter in which Mr. Mortimore was subject to an SEC consent decree relating to alleged misrepresentations made to investors in the course of a project financing, presumably without mentioning that Mr. Mortimore incurred no sanctions or fines and admitted no wrongdoing in connection with that matter. We do not believe this decades-old matter in any way detracts from Mr. Mortimore’s value as a member of our Board of Directors. Mr. Mortimore enjoys the full support and confidence of ARI’s Board of Directors.

We reject in the strongest possible terms Park City’s obvious and shameful attempt to distort Mr. Mortimore’s track record, and we are confident that our fellow shareholders will do the same.

ARI's Strategy IS Working

We believe ARIS's performance over past few years speaks for itself. Most notably:

- For the calendar year-to-date 2016 through November 30, total shareholder return for ARIS was 18%, outperforming the NASDAQ Composite Index (NASDAQ) by 12% and the Dow Jones Industrial Average (DOW) by 8%
  - For each of the 12-, 24- and 36-month periods ended November 30, 2016, total shareholder return outperformed NASDAQ by no less than 27% and the DOW by no less than 29%
- For the five-year period ended November 30, total shareholder return was 271%, outperforming NASDAQ by 168% and the DOW by 212%
- Since the Financial Crisis of 2007 to 2008, ARIS has delivered a total shareholder return of 391%, outperforming NASDAQ by 153% and the DOW by 273%
- ARIS's stock price has increased from $0.50 in October 2010 to $5.44 in October 2016

These strong returns were made possible due to management of ARIS, under the careful direction of our Board of Directors, executing on our growth strategy, delivering:

- Revenue growth from $30.1 million to $47.7 million, or 58%
- A transition from an operating loss to operating income of over $3.5 million
- Cash flow from operations growing from $2.4 million to $7.7 million or 221%
- A three-year daily trading volume increase of 3130%; and a five-year daily trading volume increase of 382%

Your Board and management team are confident in our belief that our strategy will continue to work and produce significant results. The highly qualified, experienced Directors nominated by your Board have been, and continue to be, critical members of our team. We have maintained our diligent focus on growing the business both organically and by acquisition. By executing on our strategic plan, we have been able to invest in the future while continuing to deliver results for shareholders.

At Board meetings, our Directors regularly review comparable market valuation metrics and comparable transactions in the marketplace, consistently weighing that data against our view of the long-term prospects of ARIS. Further, contrary to assertions made by Mr. Fox, our ultimate goal is to maximize value for ARIS' shareholders, which may or may not include selling the Company.

ARIS Board Nominees

ARIS believes its director nominees bring unique, relevant and important experience to the Board.

William C. Mortimore

- Extensive public company experience as a business operator, board member and audit committee chair
- Extensive technical background that brings unique expertise with IT infrastructure, cyber security and software development
- Lead the successful initial public offering of Merge Healthcare while serving as the CEO
- A long track record of delivering results to ARI's shareholders

Robert Y. Newell, IV

- Extensive public company experience, serving three public companies as CFO and completing four initial public offerings

- Experience with strategic corporate collaborations, licensing agreements and sales
- Experience as founding investor in technology and life science companies in Silicon Valley
- Long-term relationships in commercial and investment banking markets
- A long track record of delivering results to ARI's shareholders

Neither of Park City's Nominees possess these skills or would bring any new or relevant experience, skills or competencies to the Board. We would encourage you to review our Letter and definitive Proxy Statement dated November 28, 2016, for additional information.

Executive Compensation

ARIS's strategy as it relates to executive compensation is to align short-term cash compensation and long-term equity compensation to shareholder value. Park City failed to mention in its release that a majority of our CEO's and CFO's long-term compensation is in the form of restricted shares of ARIS common stock that will not vest until ARIS's volume weighted average stock price reaches and maintains at $6.00 per share, $7.00 per share, $8.00 per share and $9.00 per share. We believe the current long-term equity compensation clearly aligns with shareholder interests.

Short-term cash compensation consists of an annual salary and bonus. A survey of executive compensation at publicly traded software companies with revenues between $25 million and $100 million (roughly half our size to two times our size) reveals that the aggregate compensation of our three named executive officers is below the average compensation of their peers within the survey companies. This means that over 50% of the public companies in the survey pay executives more than ARI. Further, the bonus portion of our officers' compensation is a higher percentage of their total earnings, meaning they have more compensation at risk than their counterparts.

For reference, in order for ARI's executives to earn their bonus, they must perform against an annual recurring revenue growth target and an annual adjusted EBITDA target. Lastly, a survey with the same criteria run by the same organization reveals that the compensation of our directors is also below the average compensation of directors in similar size organizations. While our executive compensation is below the average of our peers, an analysis of the five-year stock price returns of companies in the same survey places ARI at the very top.

In Conclusion — ARIS Board is Highly Qualified, Delivering Results and Aligned with ALL Shareholders

Your Board is comprised of six highly qualified and very experienced Directors, five of who are independent and all of who are actively engaged in overseeing initiatives for enhancing shareholder value. There is a broad and diverse set of skills and experiences represented on your Board, including in the areas of technology, strategic planning, mergers and acquisitions, corporate governance, legal, accounting, finance, marketing, risk management, capital allocation and the public markets. With an aggregate ownership of over 10.30% of ARIS's equity, the interests of your entire Board and your Executive Officers are fully aligned with our fellow shareholders, and we are fully invested in the future success of ARIS.

We believe that our two highly-qualified and very experienced director nominees for election to your Board at the upcoming Annual Meeting – Robert Y. Newell, IV and William C. Mortimore – have the integrity, knowledge, investor perspective, breadth of relevant and diverse experiences, relationships and commitment to the long-term success of ARIS necessary to enable ARIS to continue executing on its strategic initiatives.
