Guggenheim Enhanced Equity Income Fund's (the "Fund") reported amounts and sources of distributions are estimates and are not being provided for tax reporting purposes. The actual amounts and sources for tax reporting purposes will depend upon the Fund's investment experience during the year and may be subject to changes based on the tax regulations. If the Fund has distributed more than its income and net realized capital gains, a portion of the distribution may be a return of capital. A return of capital may occur, for example, when some or all of a shareholder's investment in a Fund is returned to the shareholder. A return of capital distribution does not necessarily reflect a Fund's investment performance and should not be confused with "yield" or "income."

Section 19(a) notices for the Fund are available on the Fund's website at guggenheiminvestments.com/gpm.

Section 19(b) Disclosure

The Fund, acting pursuant to a Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") exemptive order and with the approval of the Fund's Board of Trustees (the "Board"), has adopted a plan, consistent with its investment objectives and policies to support a level distribution of income, capital gains and/or return of capital (the "Plan"). In accordance with the Plan, the Fund currently distributes a fixed amount per share, $0.2400, on a quarterly basis.

The fixed amounts distributed per share are subject to change at the discretion of the Fund's Board. Under its Plan, the Fund will distribute all available investment income to its shareholders, consistent with its primary investment objectives and as required by the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). If sufficient investment income is not available on a quarterly basis, the Fund will distribute capital gains and/or return of capital to shareholders in order to maintain a level distribution. Each quarterly distribution to shareholders is expected to be at the fixed amount established by the Board, except for extraordinary distributions and potential distribution rate increases or decreases to enable the Fund to comply with the distribution requirements imposed by the Code.

Shareholders should not draw any conclusions about the Fund's investment performance from the amount of these distributions or from the terms of the Plan. The Fund's total return performance on net asset value is presented in its financial highlights table.

The Board may amend, suspend or terminate the Fund's Plan without prior notice if it deems such actions to be in the best interests of the Fund or its shareholders. The suspension or termination of the Plan could have the effect of creating a trading discount (if the Fund's stock is trading at or above net asset value) or widening an existing trading discount. The Fund is subject to risks that could have an adverse impact on its ability to maintain level distributions. Examples of potential risks include, but are not limited to, economic downturns impacting the markets, decreased market volatility, companies suspending or decreasing corporate dividend distributions and changes in the Code. Please refer to the Fund's prospectus and its website, guggenheiminvestments.com/gpm for a more complete description of its risks.

(Unaudited) June 30, 2018

DEAR SHAREHOLDER:

We thank you for your investment in the Guggenheim Enhanced Equity Income Fund ("GPM" or the "Fund"). This report covers the Fund's performance for the six-month period ended June 30, 2018.

The Fund's primary investment objective is to seek a high level of current income and gains with a secondary objective of long-term capital appreciation. Guggenheim Partners Investment Management LLC ("GPIM" or the Sub-Adviser) seeks to achieve the Fund's investment objective by obtaining broadly diversified exposure to the equity markets and utilizing an option writing strategy developed by GPIM. The Fund may seek to obtain exposure to equity markets through investments in individual equity securities, through investments in exchange-traded funds ("ETFs") or other investment funds that track equity market indices, and/or through derivative instruments that replicate the economic characteristics of exposure to equity securities or markets.

All Fund returns cited—whether based on NAV or market price—assume the reinvestment of all distributions. For the six-month period ended June 30, 2018, the Fund provided a total return based on market price of 0.74% and a total return net of fees based on NAV of -0.71%. As of June 30, 2018, the Fund's closing market price of $8.47 per share represented a premium of 0.12% to its NAV of $8.46 per share.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. All NAV returns include the deduction of management fees, operating expenses, and all other Fund expenses. The market price of the Fund's shares fluctuates from time to time, and may be higher or lower than the Fund's NAV.

In each quarter of the period, the Fund paid a distribution of $0.24 per share. The most recent distribution represents an annualized distribution rate of 11.33% based on the Fund's closing market price of $8.47 as of June 30, 2018. There is no guarantee of any future distribution or that the current returns and distribution rate will be maintained. The Fund's distribution rate is not constant and the amount of distributions, when declared by the Fund's Board of Trustees, is subject to change based on the performance of the Fund. Please see Note 1(e) on page 40 for more information on distributions for the period.

Guggenheim Funds Investment Advisors, LLC ("GFIA" or the "Adviser") serves as the investment adviser to the Fund. GPIM serves as the Fund's investment sub-adviser and is responsible for the management of the Fund's portfolio of investments. Both the Adviser and the Sub-Adviser are affiliates of Guggenheim Partners, LLC ("Guggenheim"), a global diversified financial services firm.

We encourage shareholders to consider the opportunity to reinvest their distributions from the Fund through the Dividend Reinvestment Plan ("DRIP"), which is described in detail on page 53 of this report. When shares trade at a discount to NAV, the DRIP takes advantage of the discount by reinvesting the quarterly dividend distribution in common shares of the Fund purchased in the market at a price less than NAV. Conversely, when the market price of the Fund's common shares is at a premium above NAV, the DRIP reinvests participants' dividends in newly-issued common shares at the greater of NAV per share or 95% of the market price per share. The DRIP provides a cost-effective means to accumulate additional shares and enjoy the potential benefits of compounding returns over time.

61 GPM 1 GUGGENHEIM ENHANCED EQUITY INCOME FUND SEMIANNUAL REPORT

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS (Unaudited) June 30, 2018

The Guggenheim Enhanced Equity Income Fund (the "Fund" or "GPM") is managed by a team of seasoned professionals at Guggenheim Partners Investment Management, LLC ("GPIM" or the "Sub-Adviser"). This team includes Farhan Sharaff, Assistant Chief Investment Officer, Equities; Jayson Flowers, Senior Managing Director and Head of Equity and Derivative Strategies; Scott Hammond, Managing Director and Senior Portfolio Manager; Qi Yan, Managing Director and Portfolio Manager; and Daniel Cheeseman, Director and Portfolio Manager. In the following interview, the investment team discusses the market environment and the Fund's performance for the six-month period ended June 30, 2018.

Please describe the Fund's investment objective and explain how GPIM's investment strategy seeks to achieve it. The Fund's primary investment objective is to seek a high level of current income and gains with a secondary objective of long-term capital appreciation. Under normal market conditions, the Fund invests at least 80% of its net assets, plus the amount of any borrowings for investment purposes, in equity securities. GPIM seeks to achieve the Fund's investment objective by obtaining broadly diversified exposure to the equity markets and utilizing an option-writing strategy developed by GPIM (the "portable alpha model"). The Fund may seek to obtain exposure to equity markets through investments in individual equity securities, through investments in exchange-traded funds ("ETFs") or other investment funds that track equity market indices, and/or through derivative instruments that replicate the economic characteristics of exposure to equity securities or markets.

The Fund utilizes leverage to seek to deliver excess returns from the portable alpha model while maintaining a risk profile similar to the large cap U.S. equity market, presenting the potential benefit of greater income and a focus on capital appreciation. Although the use of financial leverage by the Fund may create an opportunity for increased return for the Fund's common shares, it may also result in additional risks and may magnify the effect of any losses. There can be no assurance that a leveraging strategy will be successful during any period during which it is employed. Can you describe the options strategy in more detail?

The Fund has the ability to write call options on the ETFs or on indices that the ETFs may track, which will typically be at- or out-of-the-money. GPIM's strategy typically targets one-month options, although options of any strike price or maturity may be used. The Fund may, but does not have to, write options on 100% of the equity holdings in its portfolio. The typical hedge ratio (i.e., the percentage of the Fund's equity holdings on which options are written) for the Fund is 67%, which is designed to produce a portfolio that, inclusive of leverage, has a beta of one to broad market indices. The hedge ratio, however, may be adjusted depending on the investment team's view of the market and GPIM's macroeconomic views. Changing the hedge ratio will impact the beta (represents the systematic risk of a portfolio and measures its sensitivity to a benchmark) of the portfolio resulting in a portfolio that has either higher or lower risk-adjusted exposure to broad market equities.

GPIM may engage in selling call options on indices, which could include securities that are not specifically held by the Fund. An option on an index is considered covered if the Fund also holds shares of a passively managed ETF that fully replicates the respective index and has a value at least equal to the notional value of the option written.

The Fund may also write call options on securities, including ETFs, that are not held by the Fund, or on indices other than the indices tracked by the ETFs held by the Fund. As such transactions would involve uncovered option writing, they may be subject to more risks compared to the Fund's covered call option strategies involving writing options on securities, including ETFs, held by the Fund or indices tracked by the ETFs held by the Fund. When the Fund writes uncovered call options it will earmark or segregate cash or liquid securities in accordance with applicable guidance provided by the staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

The Fund seeks to achieve its primary investment objective of seeking a high level of current income through premiums received from selling options and dividends paid on securities owned by the Fund. Although the Fund will receive premiums from the options written, by writing a covered call option, the Fund forgoes any potential increase in value of the underlying securities above the strike price specified in an option contract through the expiration date of the option.

How are managed assets allocated?

Following the mergers of Guggenheim Enhanced Equity Strategy Fund (GGE) and Guggenheim Equal Weight Enhanced Equity Income Fund (GEQ) with and into GPM in March 2017, the Fund seeks to have ~67% of total assets (~100% of net assets) invested in the 500 individual stocks comprising the S&P 500 in equal weights (i.e., the S&P 500 Equal Weight Index) and ~33% of total assets (~50% of net assets) invested in a basket of broad index ETFs (S&P 500, Russell 2000, and NASDAQ 100). The hedge ratio remains ~67%, with options primarily written on indexes tracked by the ETFs which the Fund invests in.

The long equity exposure (100% of net assets) comes from an allocation to the stocks, equally weighted and rebalanced quarterly, in the S&P 500 Equal Weight Index (the "Equal Weight Index"). The exposure to the Equal Weight Index is expected to provide a higher level of beta than the capitalization weighted S&P 500 Index, as the Equal Weight Index has outperformed the market-capitalization weighted S&P 500 Index by an average of 1.8% annually since its introduction in 1990.

The other 50% of net assets is allocated in accordance with GPIM's portable alpha model, which in this strategy currently consists of ETFs tracking the S&P 500, Russell 2000, and NASDAQ 100 Indices paired with options written for a notional amount of 100% of net assets against the S&P 500, Russell 2000, and NASDAQ 100 Indices. This portfolio will be actively rebalanced to maintain a constant net market exposure similar to the large cap U.S. equity market, which GPIM believes will allow the Fund to dynamically capture the volatility risk premium in both rising and falling equity markets.

8 I GPM I GUGGENHEIM ENHANCED EQUITY INCOME FUND SEMIANNUAL REPORT

Please provide an overview of the economic and market environment during the six months ended June 30, 2018. As the U.S. economy powers along, with second quarter 2018 gross domestic product ("GDP") tracking models pointing to a robust growth rate of nearly 5% annualized, geopolitical risk continues to weigh on the market. Positive headlines surrounding growth and the labor market are offset by concerns over trade tariffs launched by the U.S. against both its rivals and its allies. In May, the Trump administration allowed the aluminum and steel tariff exemptions to expire for Canada, Mexico, and the European Union, instituting 25% tariffs on steel and 10% tariffs on aluminum imported from these regions. In June, the U.S. administration announced it would also impose 25% tariffs on $50 billion worth of Chinese imports ($34 billion of which would be tariffed beginning in July), followed by publication of a list of $200 billion in additional Chinese goods to be targeted, to which China promised retaliation. The European Union has also announced retaliation, approving tariffs of 25% on a long list of American goods. Over this period, 10-year Treasury yields peaked at 3.1% and finished the quarter at 2.9%.

The bond market's reaction to trade rhetoric indicates that there is a tug of war at hand. While fiscal stimulus pushed up bond yields initially, tariffs are weighing them down. Markets are right to be concerned about the consequences of trade tariffs. Outside of the U.S., these trade tariffs will have the intended impact of squeezing economic growth in export-heavy regions, but among the losers will also be U.S. consumers. Some corporations may slow or postpone hiring as they manage for rising input costs. Others will pass higher prices on to the consumer, causing disposable incomes to suffer. In either case, tariffs reduce the benefit of the fiscal stimulus.

The U.S. Federal Reserve's (the "Fed") confidence in the U.S. economy seems to have sharpened in recent weeks despite uncertainty. In the June Summary of Economic Projections ("SEP"), the U.S. Federal Reserve Open Market Committee's ("FOMC") median expectations for 2018 GDP growth rose from 2.7% to 2.8%. The FOMC now expects a lower unemployment rate, higher personal consumption expenditures inflation and a higher fed funds rate for 2018 and 2019 than previously expected. The Fed is determined to tighten financial conditions until economic growth and hiring slow to a more sustainable pace.

We believe that the net effect of all factors affecting rates—fiscal stimulus, tariffs, and monetary policy tightening—will keep long-term interest rates from moving much higher than current levels. The market is currently pricing this in to the yield curve; in July the difference between 30-year and two-year Treasury yields hit its lowest level since July 2007. The bond market is sending a warning signal that makes us wary of taking on too much credit risk at this stage. We maintain our view that a recession will likely come in 2020 and markets will discount this as early as 2019. In the meantime, we are watching for exogenous factors that may cause the recession to come sooner than we currently expect.

How did the Fund perform for the six months ended June 30, 2018?

All Fund returns cited—whether based on NAV or market price—assume the reinvestment of all distributions. For the six-month period ended June 30, 2018, the Fund provided a total return based on market price of 0.74% and a total return net of fees based on NAV of -0.71%. As of June 30, 2018, the Fund's closing market price of $8.47 per share represented a premium of 0.12% to its NAV of $8.46 per share. As of December 31, 2017, the Fund's closing market price of $8.90 per share represented a discount of 1.22% to its NAV of $9.01 per share.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. All NAV returns include the deduction of management fees, operating expenses, and all other Fund expenses. The market price of the Fund's shares fluctuates from time to time, and may be higher or lower than the Fund's NAV.

What were the Fund's distributions during the period?

In each quarter of the period, the Fund paid a distribution of $0.24 per share. The most recent distribution represents an annualized distribution rate of 11.33% based on the Fund's closing market price of $8.47 as of June 30, 2018. The Fund adopted a managed distribution policy effective with the June 30, 2017, distribution, under which the Fund will pay a quarterly distribution in a fixed amount until such amount is modified by the Fund's Board of Trustees. If sufficient net investment income is not available, the distribution will be supplemented by capital gains and, to the extent necessary, return of capital.

There is no guarantee of any future distribution or that the current returns and distribution rate will be maintained. The Fund's distribution rate is not constant and the amount of distributions, when declared by the Fund's Board of Trustees, is subject to change based on the performance of the Fund. Please see Note 1(e) on page 40 for more information on distributions for the period.

Discuss market volatility over the period.

The market continued to chug along in the first half of 2018, although there were mixed returns among the major market indices. The NASDAQ 100 Index (10.65%) and Russell 2000 Index (7.66%) were among the best-performing measures, reflecting continuing outperformance of the tech sector and small caps. The new tax reform plan was expected to benefit small-sized companies given their typically higher tax brackets. For the first half, the S&P 500 Index eked out a small gain (2.65%), while the Dow Jones Industrial Average Index slipped (-0.73%), the only major U.S. index with a negative return for the first half.

The Chicago Board Options Exchange Volatility Index ("VIX"), which reflects market anticipation of trading conditions in the coming month, finished 2017 with the lowest average daily level in its history, following an abnormally quiet 2017 for equity volatility. That changed in 2018, with volatility registering its highest level in more than a year, as the short volatility trade went awry in February, setting off a 10% correction in U.S. stocks. The VIX ultimately retreated to its historical trading range before shifting up in June in response to increasing rhetoric around the implementation of trade tariffs. After averaging about 11 from January 2017 through January 2018, it has averaged about 18 since February 4, 2018.

The Fund's long equity exposure is tied to the S&P 500 Equal Weight Index, which returned 1.77% for the period.

10 I GPM I GUGGENHEIM ENHANCED EQUITY INCOME FUND SEMIANNUAL REPORT

What most influenced the Fund's performance?

For the period, the return on the underlying portfolio holdings contributed to performance. The Fund benefited from the allocation to ETFs that track the S&P 500 as well as other indices, some of which (including the NASDAQ 100 and Russell 2000) significantly outperformed the S&P 500.

The Fund's derivative use, consisting mostly of options sold to generate income and gains, also contributed to the Fund's return, as the implied-realized volatility spread that the Fund attempts to capture widened at times over the period. Although the VIX has been trading near historical lows, realized volatility has been even lower, as the S&P 500 has continued to glide steadily upward for the past few years.

The Fund typically does better in a sustained volatility environment, whether at a low or a high level, rather than in rapidly changing markets. A fast market rise, in particular, can be a headwind, as a result of the option strategy limiting upside potential.

Can you discuss the Fund's approach to leverage?

Leverage was also a detractor from return during the period, as the Fund's total return was below that of the cost of leverage. There is no guarantee that the Fund's leverage strategy will be successful, and the Fund's use of leverage may cause the Fund's NAV and market price of common shares to be more volatile. Please see Note 6 on page 44 for more information on the Fund's credit facility agreement.

Our approach to leverage is dynamic, and we tend to have a higher level of leverage when we are more constructive on equity market returns in accordance with our macroeconomic outlook and when we believe volatility is most attractive. Leverage at the end of the period was about 31% of the Fund's total managed assets.

As the U.S. economy powers along, with second quarter 2018 gross domestic product (GDP) reaching a 4.1% annualized growth rate, geopolitical risk continues to weigh on the market. Positive headlines surrounding growth and the labor market are offset by concerns over trade tariffs launched by the U.S. against both its rivals and its allies. Markets have started to focus more on trade and tariffs because of the concern over their potential negative impact on asset values and the negative impact on the economy.

Index Definitions

Indices are unmanaged, reflect no expenses and it is not possible to invest directly in an index.

CBOE (Chicago Board Options Exchange) Volatility Index, often referred to as the VIX (its ticker symbol), the fear index or the fear gauge, is a measure of the implied volatility of S&P 500 Index options. It represents a measure of the market's expectation of stock market volatility over the next 30 day period. Quoted in percentage points, the VIX represents the expected daily movement in the S&P 500 Index over the next 30-day period, which is then annualized. Risks and Other Considerations

Investing involves risk, including the possible loss of principal and fluctuation of value. Stock markets can be volatile. Investments in securities of small and medium capitalization companies may involve greater risk of loss and more abrupt fluctuations in market price than investments in larger companies. There are risks associated with options. As the writer of a covered call option, the Fund forgoes, during the option's life, the opportunity to profit from increases in the market value of the security covering the call option above the sum of the premium and the strike price of the call but has retained the risk of loss should the price of the underlying security decline. A writer of a put option is exposed to the risk of loss if fair value of the underlying securities declines, but profits only to the extent of the premium received if the underlying security increases in value. The writer of an option has no control over the time when it may be required to fill its obligation as writer of the option. Once an option writer has received an exercise notice, it cannot effect a closing purchase transaction in order to terminate its obligation under the option and must deliver the underlying security at the exercise price. The Fund's use of leverage involves risk. Although the use of financial leverage by the Fund may create an opportunity for increased return for the common shares, it also results in additional risks and can magnify the effect of any losses. There can be no assurance that a leveraging strategy will be successful during any period during which it is employed.
