- o This appraisal does not reflect events and their respective impacts, occurring after the date of issue of this report.

4. APPRAISAL METHODOLOGY

ASSETS APPROACH - NET EQUITY AT MARKET PRICES

This methodology derives from generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP), where financial statements are prepared based on the principle of historic or acquisition cost. According to these principles and to the fundamental principle of accounting, the book value of the assets of a company less the book value of its liabilities equals the book value of its net equity.

The application of this methodology contemplates, as a starting point, the book values of assets and liabilities and requires that some of these items be adjusted so as to reflect their probable realization values. The result from the application of this method may provide an initial basis towards the estimate of the company's value, as well as a useful basis of comparison with results from other methodologies.

On the other hand, the basic economics principles allow us to create the following appraisal technique: the value defined for assets less the value defined for liabilities equals the value defined for a company's net equity. From an appraisal perspective, the relevant value definitions are those appropriate to the purpose of the appraisal.

The assessment of assets, therefore, aims at appraising a company according to the adjustment of book value (net balance) to its respective fair market values. The assets and liabilities deemed relevant are appraised on the basis of their fair market value, with a comparison being made between this amount and the book value (net balance) .

The general appraisal criteria applied towards the adjustment of assets subject to an appraisal at market prices are detailed in Chapter 7 of this report.

After being duly analyzed, these adjustments are added to the book Net Equity value, thus establishing the market value of the company through the assets approach. The company's fair market value will be the Net Equity value after adjustments found for assets and liabilities appraised and accounted for.

It's worth pointing out that the identification and quantification of liabilities that were neither recorded nor disclosed by the Company's Management was not included in our work.

In this appraisal, the methodology and scope adopted aimed at appraising a company's going concern. Therefore, expenses incurred in asset realization or liability requirements, as well as those related to the companies' bankruptcy or liquidation processes were not contemplated in the calculations.

MAIN APPRAISAL STAGES

- o Reading and analysis of the companies' balance sheet.
- o Analysis of asset and liability accounts registered on the company's balance sheet, aiming at identifying accounts which are subject to adjustments, and calculations of their probable market values.
- o Adjustment of relevant intangible operating assets to their respective market values, based on premises and appraisal criteria developed by Apsis.
- o Application of the equity method of accounting to the net equities at market value of subsidiary and affiliated companies in order to calculate the value of investments.
- o Calculation of the market value of the companies' net equity.

8. APPRAISAL OF GAFISA'S SHAREHOLDERS- EQUITY AT MARKET VALUE

This report adopted the assets approach for appraising GAFISA's Shareholders' Equity at market value. We appraised the relevant assets and liabilities in order to reflect their fair market value according to the criteria stated in Chapter 7.

RELEVANT ASSETS

For us to arrive at the amount of GAFISA's Shareholders Equity at market value, it was necessary carry out appraisals of its relevant operating assets.

INTANGIBLE ASSETS

In order to appraise GAFISA's registered trademarks, a derivation of the approach for valuing intangible assets from brands was chosen as the methodology to do so as recommended in industries with the common practice of paying royalties. This approach is known as the 'relief-from-royalty' approach, Valuation of Intellectual Property and Intangible Assets (Smith, Parr) and has as its base the growth of cash flow after taxes derived from the fact that the company does not need to pay royalties to third parties for using a certain brand. The brand's fair market value can then be attributed to the cash flow generated by these savings, bringing to present value by a discount rate that represents the associated risk. Since brands do not have a measurable life, perpetuity is added to the cash flow.

ESTIMATES

Based on the Cash Flow of the savings generated by not paying royalties for each brand it owns, forecasted into the next 07 years, we discounted these amounts at present value using a discount rate of 9.3% p.a.

FINAL AMOUNT REACHED

Based on the studies carried out by APSIS on the date of September 30, 2009, the appraisers reached the following market values for the GAFISA brands for purposes of buying and selling.

| | | |
|-------------------------------------|----|--------|
| GAFISA'S BRAND VALUE (R$ millions) | | |
| discount rate (p.a.) | | 9.3% |
| GAFISA'S BRAND VALUE (R$ millions) | $ | 166.24 |
| AUSA'S BRAND VALUE (R$ millions) | $ | 54.61 |
| TOTAL | $ | 220.85 |

APPRAISAL OF OTHER GAFISA INVESTMENTS

GAFISA's other investments were considered by their respective book value, whether due to their strategic relevance or the make-up of their assets (cash or cash equivalents) .

APPRAISAL OF OTHER ASSETS AND LIABILITIES

For GAFISA's other assets and liabilities, the criteria stated in Chapter 8 were adopted, as demonstrated on the calculation spreadsheets of attachment 1.

This report adopted the assets approach for appraising the Shareholders' Equity at TENDA's market value. In this approach we appraised the relevant assets and liabilities in order to reflect their fair market value according to the criteria stated in Chapter 7.

RELEVANT ASSETS

For us to arrive at the amount of the TENDA's Shareholders Equity at market value, it was necessary to carry out appraisals of TENDA's relevant operating assets.

INTANGIBLE ASSETS

In order to appraise TENDA's registered trademarks, a derivation of the approach for valuing income from brands was chosen as the methodology to do so that is recommended in industries with the common practice of paying royalties. This approach is known as the 'relief-from-royalty' approach, Valuation of Intellectual Property and Intangible Assets (Smith, Parr) and has as its base the growth of cash flow after taxes derived from the fact that the company does not need to pay royalties to third parties for using a certain brand. The brand's fair market value can then be attributed to the cash flow generated by these economies, bringing to present value by a discount rate that represents the associated risk. Since brands do not have a measurable life, perpetuity also added to the cash flow.

ESTIMATES

Based on the Cash Flow of the savings generated by not paying royalties for each brand it owns, forecasted into the next 07 years, we discounted these amounts at present value using a discount rate of 9.3% p.a.

FINAL AMOUNT REACHED

Based on the studies carried out by APSIS on the date of September 30, 2009, the appraisers reached the following market values for the TENDA brand for purposes of buying and selling:

|------------------------------------|-----------|
| TENDA'S BRAND VALUE (R$ millions) | |
| discount rate (p.a.) | 9.3% |
| TENDA'S BRAND VALUE (R$ millions) | R$ 55.60 |

APPRAISAL OF OTHER TENDA INVESTMENTS

TENDA's other investments were considered by their respective book value, whether due to their sm relevance or by the make-up of their assets (cash or cash equivalents) .

APPRAISAL OF OTHER ASSETS AND LIABILITIES

For TENDA's other assets and liabilities, the criteria stated in Chapter 8 were adopted, as demonstrated on the calculation spreadsheets of attachment 1.

1. VALUATION METHODOLOGY - INTANGIBLE ASSETS

The acknowledgment of importance of intangible assets has been speedily growing, as more and more companies have been trading in view of their off-balance assets.

The valuation study of intellectual property and intangible assets does not exactly determine a specific value, but rather collect the largest amount of data and information about the business and its market, which analyzed and modeled, allows the appraiser to determine a probable number for the subject matter under study, in view of specific features of situation and purpose studied.

All companies have a portfolio of assets, which responsible for the performance and continuation of operations, and aim to generate profits representing a satisfactory return on capital invested. Such assets are divided into three categories:

- o Monetary assets - represented by net current capital, which is the difference between current assets (cash, short-term investments, invoices receivable, inventories, etc.) and current liabilities (suppliers, accounts payable, income tax, etc.)..
- o Fixed assets (tangible assets) - are those assets, which can be swapped, that is to say, they have a physical existence. They include machinery and equipment, land, vehicles, real properties, amongst others;
- o Intangible assets and intellectual property -intangible assets are those, which do not have physical existence, but they provide rights and privileges to their owners. They are mainly represented by client portfolios, agreements, and relationships with clients, franchising, etc. Intellectual property generally refers to trademarks and patents, copyrights and know-how. It represents a special classification within intangible assets, as their owner is protected by law against third parties illegal exploration of intellectual property.

APSIS CONSULTORIA
REPORT RJ-0434/09

All approaches for asset valuation start from the swap principle. Such principle presumes that a prudent buyer will not pay for a property a higher value than the acquisition cost of a property with the same usefulness.

From the swap principle, three types of approaches are defined, which can be used to determine the value of an intangible asset. For each valuation, the most appropriate approach is chosen, however they can also be used jointly. They are:

- o Market approach - it aims at comparing the asset under analysis with other similar assets recently sold or under offer;
- o Cost approach - it measures the investment necessary to reproduce a similar asset, which should have an identical capacity to generate benefits;
- o Income approach - it defines the asset value as being the current value of future benefits resulting from property rights associated with the asset.

In the specific case of valuation of GAFISA and TENDA trademarks, a derivation of income approach was chosen as methodology, recommended in industries with payment of royalties as a common practice. This approach, known as relief-from-royalty approach, is based on the incremental cash flow after taxes derived from the fact a company is not required to pay royalties to third parties for the utilization of a certain trademark. As there is a worldwide and active market of royalties, then it is possible to dissociate the trademarks value from other less explicit intangible assets, which participate in the generation of company cash, such as goodwill. The market value (fair value) of trademarks can be attributed to the cash flow generated by such economies and than to the present value through a discount rate representing the associated risk. Since trademarks do not have a measurable life, perpetuity of the cash flow is assumed.

DISCOUNT RATE

The discount rate to be used to calculate the present value of yields determined in the projected cash flow represents the minimum profitability required by investors, considering that a company financed by its own capital, which requires a higher yield when compared to a standard risk investment, and third-party capital.

The discount rate is calculated by the WACC (Weighted Average Cost of Capital) methodology, in which the cost of capital is determined by the weighted average market value of the capital structure components (own and third-parties capital), as described below.

APSIS CONSULTORIA
REPORT RJ-0434/09

Edgar Filing: Construtora Tenda SA - Form 425

discount rate $WACC = (Re \times We) + Rd (1 -t) \times Wd$
Re = cost of own capital

Rd = cost of third-party capital

We = percentage of own capital in the capital structure

Wd = percentage of third-parties capital in the capital

T = company's income tax and social contribution

Cost of own capital $Re = Rf + \text{beta} \times (Rm - Rf) + Rp$

Rf Risk-free rate - it is based on US Treasury annual interest rate for 30-year bonds, net of the US long-term inflation

Rp Country Risk - it represents the risk of investing in an asset in a specific country when compared to a similar investment in a country deemed as safe.

Rm Market Risk - it measures the appreciation of a fully diversified stock portfolio for a 30-year period

Beta It adjusts the market risk to the risk of a specific industry

beta alavancado It adjusts the industry beta for risk of a company.

Cost of third parties capital $Rd = Rf (*) + \text{alfa} + Rp$

Rf (*) Risk-free rate - it is based on US Treasury annual interest rate for 10-year bonds, net of the US long-term inflation

Alfa Specific Risk - it represents the risk of investing in the company under analysis.
