Pursuant to the Shareholders Agreement, Huang River received certain board representation rights, as well as certain registration rights (each of which survived the completion of the IPO), a brief summary of which (as well as certain transfer restrictions) is set forth below.

Tencent Lock-up: In addition to the restrictions in the Lock-Up Agreement, under the Shareholders Agreement, Huang River has agreed not to, directly or indirectly, sell, transfer or dispose of any Class A Shares acquired by Huang River under the Subscription Agreement or the IPO Subscription Agreement for three years commencing from March 10, 2014, subject to certain limited exceptions including ability to transfer to affiliates and transfer of 4,927,204 Class A Shares. Huang River has also agreed under the terms of the Shareholders Agreement not to directly or indirectly, sell, transfer or dispose of any Class A Shares held by it to certain persons mutually agreed between the Reporting Persons, the Issuer and Mr. Richard Qiangdong Liu.

Board Representation: Huang River is entitled to appoint one director on the board of the Issuer (x) prior to the closing of the IPO, so long as it holds in aggregate 80% of the aggregate number of shares it acquired on March 10, 2014 plus the shares acquired by Huang River concurrently with the IPO, and (y) following the completion of the IPO, until the earlier of March 10, 2017 and the date on which Huang River holds less than 75% of the aggregate of the number of shares it acquired on March 10, 2014 plus the shares acquired by Huang River concurrently with the IPO.

Piggyback Registration Rights: If the Issuer proposes to file a registration statement for a public offering of its securities other than an offering relating to any employee benefit plan or a corporate reorganization, the Issuer must offer holders of its registrable securities (including securities held by Huang River) an opportunity to include in the registration all or any part of their registrable securities. The demand registration rights in the Shareholders Agreement are subject to customary restrictions, such as limitations on the number of securities to be included in any underwritten offering imposed by the underwriter.

Form F-3 Registration Rights: Once the Issuer is eligible to file a shelf registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, holders of at least 15% of the Issuer's outstanding registrable securities have the right to request the Issuer to effect registration statements on Form F-3 at any time after the IPO. The Issuer is however not required to prepare and file more than three Form F-3 registrations in any 12-month period.

Expenses of Registration: The Issuer will bear all registration expenses, other than underwriting discounts and selling commissions incurred in connection with any demand, piggyback or F-3 registration, except each holder that exercised its demand, piggyback or F-3 registration rights will bear such holder's proportionate share (based on the total number of shares sold in such registration other than for the Issuer's account) of all underwriting discounts and selling commissions or other amounts payable to underwriters or brokers.

Termination of Obligations. The Issuer has no obligation to effect any demand, piggyback or Form F-3 registration upon the earlier of (i) the second anniversary after the completion of the IPO; and (ii) as to any registrable security holder, at such time as all registrable securities owned by such holder may be sold in any 90-day period without registration pursuant to Rule 144 under the Securities Act, except that Huang River has the right to demand on one occasion registration of its shares during the two-year period following March 10, 2017.

The foregoing description of the Shareholders Agreement does not purport to be a complete description of the terms thereof and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Shareholders Agreement. A copy of the Shareholders Agreement is filed as Exhibit 6 hereto and is incorporated herein by reference.
