Edgar Filing: VISTEON CORP - Form 8-K

Visteon may, from time to time, make forward-looking statements, including statements projecting, forecasting or estimating company performance and industry trends. The achievement of the projections, forecasts or estimates contained in the company's forward-looking statements is subject to certain risks and uncertainties, including the following:

- Changes in the operations (including products and product planning), financial condition, results of operations or market share of Visteon's customers, particularly its largest customer, Ford Motor Company.
- Changes in economic conditions, currency exchange rates or political stability in the major markets where Visteon procures materials, components or supplies or where its products are manufactured, distributed or sold, particularly a decline in the vehicle production rate in North America or Europe.
- Significant changes in the competitive environment in the major markets where Visteon procures materials, components or supplies or where its products are manufactured, distributed or sold.
- Legal and administrative proceedings, investigations and claims, including product liability, warranty, environmental and safety claims, and any recalls of products manufactured or sold by Visteon.
- Shortages of materials or interruptions in transportation systems, labor strikes, work stoppages or other interruptions to or difficulties in the employment of labor in the major markets where Visteon purchases materials, components or supplies to manufacture its products or where its products are manufactured, distributed or sold.
- Changes in laws, regulations, policies or other activities of governments, agencies and similar organizations that may tax or otherwise increase the cost of, or otherwise affect, the manufacture, licensing, distribution, sale, ownership or use of Visteon's products or assets.
- Visteon's ability to increase sales to customers other than Ford; to maintain current business with, and to win future business from, Ford; to generate cost savings to offset or exceed contractually- or competitively-required price reductions or price reductions to win additional business; to recover engineering and tooling costs; to streamline and focus its product portfolio; to sustain technological competitiveness; and to exit non-performing businesses on satisfactory terms, particularly due to limited flexibility under existing labor agreements.
- Other risks and uncertainties detailed from time to time in Visteon's Securities and Exchange Commission filings.

If any of these risks and uncertainties develop into actual events, actual results and events may differ materially from those projected, forecasted or estimated. Please note that the risks and uncertainties mentioned above are not the only ones facing Visteon. Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to Visteon or currently believed to be immaterial may also adversely affect Visteon's business.
