Notes to Consolidated/Combined Condensed Financial Statements (Unaudited)

Note 1. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited interim consolidated or combined condensed financial statements of KPMG Consulting, Inc. (the Company) have been prepared pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) for quarterly reports on Form 10-Q and do not include all of the information and note disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles, and should be read in conjunction with our consolidated/combined financial statements and notes thereto for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2000, included in the Company s Prospectus dated February 7, 2001 filed with the SEC pursuant to rule 424 (b) under the Securities Act of 1933. The accompanying consolidated/combined condensed financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and reflect all adjustments (consisting solely of normal, recurring adjustments) which are, in the opinion of management, necessary for a fair presentation of results for these interim periods. The results of operations for the three and six months ended December 31, 2000 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2001. Certain prior period amounts have been reclassified to conform with the current period presentation.

We completed the separation of our company from KPMG LLP on January 31, 2000. For periods preceding the separation of our business from KPMG LLP, the Company refers to KPMG LLP s management and information technology consulting business, which was operated in partnership form. As a partnership, all of KPMG LLP s earnings were allocable to its partners. Accordingly, distributions and benefits to partners were not reflected as an expense in our historical financial statements through January 31, 2000. Additionally, as a partnership, KPMG LLP was not subject to income taxes and, as a result, our historical financial statements through January 31, 2000 do not include a provision for income taxes. Effective February 1, 2000, following our separation from KPMG LLP and our commencement of operations in corporate form, our historical financial statements include payments for services rendered by our managing directors, who were formerly consulting partners of KPMG LLP, in professional compensation and a provision for income taxes. Consequently, the historical results of operations for the three and six months ended December 31, 2000, which reflect a corporate basis of presentation, and the three months and six months ended December 31, 1999, which reflect a partnership basis of presentation, are not directly comparable.

On January 17, 2001, our board of directors and stockholders approved a reverse stock split of approximately one share for every 5.045 shares effective immediately prior to our initial public offering. All share and per share amounts reflect this reverse stock split.

Table of Contents

Note 2. Initial Public Offering

During February 2001, the Company sold 34.2 million shares of common stock in an initial public offering, and a selling stockholder (KPMG LLP) sold an additional 95.1 million shares of common stock (including a portion of the shares of common stock that were issued in connection with the conversion of the Series A Mandatorily Redeemable Convertible Preferred Stock that were purchased by KPMG LLP, (the Series A Preferred Stock)) for a total offering of 129.3 million shares. In connection with the initial public offering, the Company also repurchased 1.4 million shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, and the remaining shares of Series A Preferred Stock were converted into 44.6 million shares of common stock (including 29.2 million shares sold by KPMG LLP). As of February 28, 2001, there were 155,959,938 shares of common stock issued and outstanding.

The Company s proceeds from the initial public offering, net of the underwriting discount of $24.7 million and our pro rata portion of other estimated expenses of the offering of $3.1 million, were $588.6 million. Of the net proceeds, $378.3 million were used to repurchase 1.4 million shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, $112.0 million were used to repay all of the Company s outstanding indebtedness to KPMG LLP, $70.0 million were used to repay the outstanding indebtedness under the Company s receivables purchase facility with PNC Bank and $28.3 million were used for working capital purposes.

In connection with the initial public offering, the Company granted approximately 16.1 million stock options with an exercise price of $18 per share to employees. These options vest over a three and one half year period with 25% vesting on August 8, 2001 and an additional 25% vesting on August 8 in each of the years 2002 through 2004. As of February 8, 2001, the Company has approximately 20.1 million options outstanding with an exercise price of $18 and approximately 7.6 million options outstanding with an exercise price of $55.50.

Note 3. Comprehensive Income

The Company accounts for comprehensive income under Statement of Financial Accounting Standard (SFAS) No. 130, Reporting Comprehensive Income. SFAS No. 130 established standards for reporting and displaying comprehensive income and its components in a financial statement that is displayed with the same prominence as other financial statements. The components of comprehensive income are as follows:

Note 4. Segment Reporting

The Company discloses business segments under SFAS No. 131, Disclosures About Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information. SFAS No. 131 established standards for the way public business enterprises report information about operating segments in annual financial statements and required those enterprises to report selected information about operating segments in interim financial statements.

The Company provides consulting services through six major industry groups. The following is a summary of certain financial information by reportable segment:

Note 5. Investment in Affiliate

Since June 1999, the Company held a 49% joint venture interest in Qwest Cyber.Solutions, LLC (QCS), with the remaining 51% interest being held by Qwest Communications International Inc. QCS periodically required additional capital to fund its operations and acquire equipment to support the expansion of its business. The Company decided not to make any additional capital contributions to QCS. On December 27, 2000, QCS redeemed the Company's 49% ownership interest in the joint venture in exchange for a nominal amount. Accordingly, the Company's investment in QCS of $63.3 million ($58.5 million on an after tax basis) was written off through a non-cash charge to earnings in the quarter ended December 31, 2000.

Concurrent with the disposition of the Company's equity investment in QCS, the Company entered into an agreement pursuant to which the Company continues to have a significant marketing relationship with QCS. Under this arrangement, the Company will continue to work with QCS to develop sales and marketing plans for the distribution of QCS' products and services through the Company, and to market QCS' products and services. The Company's marketing relationship with QCS allows the Company to continue to offer its clients application service provider services. The Company's marketing relationship with QCS extends through June 2, 2009 or the date of an initial public offering by QCS, if earlier.

Note 6. Business Combinations

During the six months ended December 31, 2000, the company acquired the consulting businesses of KPMG International member firms in Brazil, Colombia, Ireland, and Peru. In connection with these acquisitions, the company paid cash of $2.4 million and incurred obligations of $35.9 million payable to former owners of the Irish consulting business, $7.0 million payable to former owners of the Brazilian consulting business and $.8 million payable to KPMG LLP. The preliminary allocation of the purchase price to acquired assets resulted in the allocation of $1.5 million to assembled workforce and $44.8 million to goodwill. Any adjustments to the allocation of the purchase price for these acquisitions upon finalization of our valuation of these assets acquired and liabilities assumed is not expected to have a significant effect on our balance sheet.

On February 7, 2001, the Company acquired the Netherlands Antilles consulting business of a KPMG International member firm for $10.9 million in cash. The company is currently in the process of determining the allocation of the purchase price to the acquired assets and liabilities.

The acquisitions have been accounted for as purchases and, accordingly, the purchase price of each acquisition was assigned to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their fair values at the respective dates of acquisition.

Table of ContentsPART I, ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following information should be read in conjunction with the information contained in the Consolidated/Combined Condensed Financial Statements and notes thereto appearing elsewhere in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q. This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. See the discussion relating to Forward-Looking Statements below.

Historical Overview

We completed the separation of our company from KPMG LLP on January 31, 2000. As a partnership, all of KPMG LLP's earnings were allocable to its partners. Accordingly, distributions and benefits to partners were not reflected as an expense in our historical financial statements through January 31, 2000. Additionally, as a partnership, KPMG LLP was not subject to income taxes and, as a result, our historical financial statements through January 31, 2000 do not include a provision for income taxes. Effective February 1, 2000, following our separation from KPMG LLP and our commencement of operations in corporate form, our historical financial statements include payments for services rendered by our managing directors, who were formerly consulting partners of KPMG LLP, in professional compensation and a provision for income taxes. Consequently, the historical results of operations for the three and six months ended December 31, 2000, which reflect a corporate basis of presentation, and the three months and six months ended December 31, 1999, which reflect a partnership basis of presentation, are not directly comparable. Results of operations for the six months ended December 31, 2000 are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2001.

Company Overview

We are one of the world's largest consulting firms with approximately 9,000 professionals. We serve over 2,500 clients, including global companies, Fortune 1000 companies, small and medium-sized businesses, government agencies and other organizations. We provide our clients with a range of service offerings that combine industry specific business strategy and operational improvements, technology selection and implementation. Our service offerings are designed to help our clients generate revenues, improve efficiency and contain costs.

These services include:

- business and technology strategy;
- process design and operations improvement;
- systems integration;
- network integration and infrastructure; and
- outsourcing.

We provide consulting services through six industry groups in which we have significant industry-specific knowledge. These groups are public services, financial services, communications and content, high tech, consumer and industrial markets, and health care. In addition, we have multi-national operations covering North America, Latin America, Ireland, Israel, Japan, New Zealand and South Korea.

Table of Contents

HISTORICAL RESULTS OF OPERATIONS OVERVIEW

The Company incurred a net loss of $37.6 million ($53.4 million after deducting preferred stock dividends of $15.8 million), or $.70 per share, for the three months ended December 31, 2000 and a net loss of $17.0 million ($48.7 million after deducting preferred stock dividends of $31.7 million), or $.64 per share, for the six months ended December 31, 2000. These losses were attributable to the Company's after-tax equity in losses of affiliate and loss on redemption of equity interest in affiliate of $58.5 million and $71.2 million, for the three and six months ended December 31, 2000, respectively. Excluding the effect of equity in losses of affiliate and loss on redemption of equity interest in affiliate, the Company earned $20.9 million ($5.1 million after deducting preferred stock dividends, or $.07 per share) for the three months ended December 31, 2000, and $54.2 million ($22.5 million after deducting preferred stock dividends, or $.30 per share) for the six months ended December 31, 2000. As a result of the redemption of our equity interest in QCS on December 27, 2000, we are no longer committed to making capital contributions to support the expansion of its business. In addition, there will be no further losses associated with this investment.

Three Months Ended December 31, 2000 Compared to Three Months Ended December 31, 1999

The following table sets forth the dollars and percent of revenues represented by items in our statements of operations for the three month periods ended December 31, 2000 and December 31, 1999. As discussed in Note 1 of the Consolidated/Combined Condensed Financial Statements, the historical results of operations for the three months ended December 31, 2000, which reflect a corporate basis of presentation, and the three months ended December 31, 1999, which reflect a partnership basis of presentation, are not directly comparable.

Revenues. Revenues increased $162.0 million, or 30.0%, from $540.6 million in the three months ended December 31, 1999 to $702.6 million in the three months ended December 31, 2000. This overall increase is primarily attributable to a 20% increase in client service hours billed due to growth in several of our operating segments, including communications and content, high tech, public services and financial services, as well as several international acquisitions completed over the past year.

Strong revenue growth was experienced in the communications and content and high tech segments, which increased 85.3% and 58.8%, respectively. This growth was partially due to joint marketing relationships with our alliance partners, growth in our next generation operations support systems / business support systems offerings, business-to-business Internet-related services, and growth from our key accounts. In addition, international revenue grew 381% to $59.4 million due to the completion of 12 acquisitions since December, 1999.

Gross Margin. Gross margin as a percentage of revenue decreased from 26.2% to 20.6% from the three months ended December 31, 1999 to the three months ended December 31, 2000 as a result of the following factors:

beginning February 1, 2000, we have included payments for services rendered by our managing directors who were formerly consulting partners of KPMG LLP in professional compensation;

our investment in training our professionals in required Internet skills;

our investment in the development of new Internet-related service offerings;

increased other direct contract expenses directly attributable to client engagements, including costs associated with subcontractors; and increased amortization of goodwill and other intangible assets due to recently completed acquisitions.

In dollar terms, gross margin increased by $3.2 million, or 2.2%, from $141.6 million for the three months ended December 31, 1999 to $144.8 million for the three months ended December 31, 2000. The increase in dollar terms was due to the $162.0 million increase in revenues described above, offset by:

an increase in professional compensation of $81.3 million, or 44.7%, from $181.9 million to $263.2 million, primarily attributable to $57.8 million in managing directors base compensation for the three months ended December 31, 2000, $16.1 million attributable to higher wages paid to new and existing staff, and an increase of $14.6 million in accruals for incentive compensation. These increases were partially offset by $7.2 million of cost savings from the elimination of an employees defined benefit pension plan; an increase in other direct contract expenses of $77.3 million, or 64.7%, from $119.3 million to $196.6 million, due to higher travel and lodging expenses for our client service personnel to travel to client locations, and other disbursements connected with specific client engagements, including the cost of subcontractors to supplement our own resources; and

offset by a reduction of $3.2 million in other costs of service.

Table of Contents

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses increased by $7.2 million, or 7.4%, from $96.9 million to $104.1 million primarily due to:

an increase of $2.4 million as a result of allocated and direct costs incurred to support growth in the business primarily relating to office space, support and operation services, and increased staffing in infrastructure departments;

an increase of $3.2 million related to new business development costs;

an increase of $4.4 million due to recently acquired international consulting businesses; and offset by a decrease of $2.8 million relating to the cost of outsourced services that are no longer provided or charged to the Company by KPMG LLP. Effective July 1, 2000, the Company and KPMG LLP entered into an amended and restated outsourcing agreement whereby certain services were discontinued and the related costs were no longer incurred.

Interest Expense, net. Interest expense, net decreased $7.1 million, or 56.1%, from $12.7 million to $5.6 million, due to lower interest expense on outstanding borrowings under our credit facility for the three months ended December 31, 2000 than allocated interest expense for the three months ended December 31, 1999. Effective July 1, 2000, the Company is no longer allocated interest costs by KPMG LLP.

Equity in Losses of Affiliate and Loss on Redemption of Equity Interest in Affiliate. Equity in losses of affiliate and loss on redemption of equity interest in affiliate, which relates to our equity investment in QCS, increased $57.8 million, from $5.6 million to $63.3 million. QCS periodically required additional capital to fund its operations and acquire equipment to support the expansion of its business. The Company decided not to make any additional capital contributions to QCS. On December 27, 2000, QCS redeemed the Company's 49% ownership interest in the joint venture in exchange for a nominal amount. Accordingly, the Company's investment in QCS of $63.3 million ($58.5 million on an after-tax basis), was written off through a non-cash charge to earnings in the quarter ended December 31, 2000.

Table of Contents

Income tax expense. For the three months ended December 31, 2000, the Company incurred a loss before taxes of $28.2 million and provided income taxes of $9.4 million. The $9.4 million income tax provision on a loss before taxes of $28.2 million is primarily attributable to the non-deductibility of certain losses associated with the redemption of our investment by QCS on December 27, 2000. No tax provision is included for the three months ended December 31, 1999 as the Company was operating under a partnership structure until January 31, 2000. (See Note 1 of the Consolidated/Combined Condensed Financial Statements).

For the year ending June 30, 2001, our Company expects to report its book-basis effective tax rate to be approximately 60% of its consolidated pre-tax income for the year, including the negative impact of the equity in losses of affiliate and other non-deductible expenses. Accounting rules require that our Company apportion that total income tax provision for the year to each quarter, in the ratio that each quarter's pre-tax income bears to the year's pre-tax income. Therefore, the effective tax rate for the third and fourth quarters of FY2001 will be negatively impacted by the equity in losses of affiliate incurred in the first and second quarters of the year.

Net Loss. Net loss incurred for the three months ended December 31, 2000 was $37.6 million principally due to equity in losses of affiliate and loss on redemption of equity interest in affiliate, partially offset by net income from operations.

Preferred Stock Dividend. Our Series A Preferred Stock carried a 6% annual dividend, payable quarterly. Dividends totaling $15.8 million have been recognized in the three months ended December 31, 2000. The Series A Preferred Stock was repurchased or converted to common stock upon the completion of our initial public offering and, as a result, there will be no preferred dividends relating to the Series A Preferred Stock after December 31, 2000.

Net Loss to Common Stockholders. After deducting dividends on our Series A Preferred Stock, net loss applicable to common stockholders for the three months ended December 31, 2000 was $53.4 million, or $.70 per share.

Revenues. Revenues increased $316.3 million, or 29.7%, from $1,065.7 million in the six months ended December 31, 1999 to $1,382.0 million in the six months ended December 31, 2000. This overall increase is primarily attributable to a 23% increase in client service hours billed due to growth in several of our operating segments, including communications and content, high tech, and public services as well as several international acquisitions completed over the past year.

Strong revenue growth was experienced in the communications and content and high tech segments, which increased 90.3% and 54.5%, respectively. This growth was partially due to joint marketing relationships with our alliance partners, growth in our next generation operations support systems/business support systems offerings, business-to-business Internet-related services, and growth from our key accounts. In addition, international revenue grew 785% to $109.4 million when compared to the prior year six month period.

Gross Margin. Gross margin as a percentage of revenue decreased from 28.6% to 22.8% from the six months ended December 31, 1999 to the six months ended December 31, 2000 as a result of the following factors:

- beginning February 1, 2000, we have included payments for services rendered by our managing directors who were formerly consulting partners of KPMG LLP in professional compensation;

- our investment in training our professionals in required Internet skills;

- our investment in the development of new Internet-related service offerings;

increased other direct contract expenses directly attributable to client engagements, including costs associated with subcontractors; and

partially offsetting the above was $6.5 million from a favorable settlement of a contract dispute which is included in revenues for the six months ended December 31, 2000.

In dollar terms, gross margin increased by $10.0 million, or 3.3%, from $304.6 million for the six months ended December 31, 1999 to $314.6 million for the six months ended December 31, 2000. The increase in dollar terms was due to the $316.3 million increase in revenues (which includes $6.5 million from the contract dispute settlement described above), offset by:

an increase in professional compensation of $170.9 million, or 47.2%, from $361.8 million to $532.8 million, primarily attributable to $111.5 million in managing directors' base compensation for the six months ended December 31, 2000, $30.3 million attributable to higher wages paid to new and existing staff, and an increase of $43.5 million in accruals for incentive compensation. These increases were partially offset by $14.4 million of cost savings from the elimination of an employees' defined benefit pension plan;

an increase in other direct contract expenses of $127.0 million, or 57.8%, from $219.6 million to $346.6 million, due to higher travel and lodging expenses for our client service personnel to travel to client locations, and other disbursements connected with specific client engagements, including the cost of subcontractors to supplement our own resources;

an increase of $6.9 million in the amortization of goodwill and other intangible assets primarily due to recently completed acquisitions; and an increase of $1.6 million in other costs of service.

Table of Contents

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses increased by $27.7 million, or 15.0%, from $185.3 million to $213.0 million primarily due to:

a net increase of $12.2 million as a result of allocated and direct costs incurred to support growth in the business primarily relating to office space, support and operation services, and increased staffing in infrastructure departments;

an increase of $10.7 million related to new business development costs;

an increase of $15.2 million due to recently acquired international consulting businesses;

offset by a decrease of $10.4 million relating to the cost of outsourced services that are no longer provided or charged to the Company by KPMG LLP.

Interest Expense, net. Interest expense, net decreased $11.9 million, or 53.9%, from $22.1 million to $10.2 million, due to lower interest expense on outstanding borrowings under our credit facility for the six months ended December 31, 2000 than interest expense allocated to the Company by KPMG LLP for the six months ended December 31, 1999.

Equity in Losses of Affiliate and Loss on Redemption of Equity Interest in Affiliate. Equity in losses of affiliate and loss on redemption of equity interest in affiliate which relates to our equity investment in QCS, increased $64.5 million, from $11.5 million to $76.0 million. QCS periodically required additional capital to fund its operations and acquire equipment to support the expansion of its business. The Company decided not to make any additional capital contributions to QCS. On December 27, 2000, QCS redeemed the Company's 49% ownership interest in the joint venture in exchange for a nominal amount. Accordingly, the Company's investment in QCS of $63.3 million ($58.5 million on an after tax basis), was written off through a non-cash charge to earnings in December 2000.

Income tax expense. For the six months ended December 31, 2000, the Company earned income before taxes of $15.6 million and incurred income taxes of $32.6 million. The $32.6 million income tax provision on income before taxes of $15.6 million is primarily attributable to the non-deductibility of losses associated with the redemption of our investment in QCS on December 27, 2000. No tax provision is included for the six months ending December 31, 1999 as the Company was operating under a partnership structure until January 31, 2000.

Net Loss. Net loss incurred for the six months ended December 31, 2000 was $17.0 million principally due to equity in losses of affiliate and loss on redemption of equity interest in affiliate, partially offset by net income from operations.

Preferred Stock Dividend. Series A Preferred Stock dividends totaling $31.7 million have been recognized in the six months ended December 31, 2000.

Net Loss Attributable to Common Stockholders. After deducting dividends on our Series A Preferred Stock, net loss applicable to common stockholders for the six months ended December 31, 2000 was $48.7 million, or $.64 per share.

NOTES TO PRO FORMA FINANCIAL INFORMATION

For purposes of preparing the accompanying pro forma financial information, we have assumed that the Company's separation from KPMG LLP and initial public offering was completed on July 1, 1999, with shares sold at the actual offering price of $18.00, and have made the following adjustments to the historical combined and consolidated condensed financial statements. These notes should be read in conjunction with our consolidated/combined pro forma financial information and notes thereto for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2000, included in the Company's Prospectus dated February 7, 2001, filed with the SEC pursuant to rule 424(b) under the Securities Act of 1933.

(1) Adjustment to reflect partner compensation and benefit costs that we would have incurred for our managing directors under the terms of our new compensation plan which we have adopted and implemented effective July 1, 2000, had the new plan been in place during the historical periods.

(2) Adjustment to reflect the increase in partner accrued vacation pay for the periods preceding our Company's separation from KPMG LLP on January 31, 2000.

(3) Adjustment to reflect changes to our employee (professional and administrative) pension plan. Following the separation from KPMG LLP on January 31, 2000, our employees no longer participate in the KPMG LLP pension plan. The adjustments to eliminate costs under the employee pension plan were based on the actual amounts allocated to us by KPMG LLP during the pro forma periods.

(4) Adjustment to reflect the incremental costs of operating as an independent public company, such as investor services and external financial reporting.

(5) KPMG LLP historically allocated costs incurred in the coordination and management of a multidisciplinary professional services organization to each of its functional business units. For the period from January 31, 2000 until June 30, 2000, we received these services pursuant to the original outsourcing agreement. Certain services provided to us pursuant to the original outsourcing agreement prior to July 1, 2000 are not necessary for us to operate our business as an independent company since they are duplicative or are performed by us internally. Consequently, these services were no longer charged to us effective as of July 1, 2000. These costs, which have been eliminated for the three month and six month periods ended December 31, 1999, primarily relate to executive management costs incurred in relation to the management of a national and international multidisciplinary services firm which we no longer require. Because we have historically had a full executive management team responsible for the consulting business of KPMG LLP, these allocated costs are no longer incurred. The costs related to our executive management are reflected in our historical financial statements for non-partner costs and are included in pro forma adjustment (1) for managing directors. Additionally, we no longer are a member of KPMG International since the initial public offering. KPMG

International costs previously allocated to us by KPMG LLP are for executive management costs and headquarter support costs for KPMG International. KPMG International's management is duplicative of our executive management costs. We will not incur these costs incrementally since we will operate in corporate form and our existing executive management team will oversee our international operations.

Table of Contents

The pro forma effect of the elimination of those costs for the three and six months ended December 31, 1999, pursuant to the transition services agreement is as follows (in thousands):

	Three Months Ended December 31, 1999	Six Months Ended December 31, 1999

International and U.S. partnership level management structure	$ 7,864	$ 15,729
International and firmwide partnership meetings
1,272,543
Support of the KPMG Foundation
5041,008
Total
$9,640$19,280

(6) For the three and six month periods ended December 31, 2000 and 1999, the adjustment reflects a reduction of the interest expense related to working capital and financing needs that we have funded with proceeds from our initial public offering.

(7) Reflects an adjustment for an estimated income tax provision as if we had operated as a corporation, including tax benefits of certain losses, at a pro forma effective tax rate of 70% for the year ended June 30, 2000, and 49% for the year ended June 30, 2001. Due to our non-deductible goodwill amortization and our high level of non-deductible travel related expenses, our effective tax rate is impacted to a great extent by our level of earnings. If our earnings grow and non-deductible expenses and goodwill amortization grow at a lesser rate or decrease, our effective tax rate will decrease in the future.

(8) Reflects an adjustment to eliminate the dividend on the Series A preferred stock to reflect the partial repurchase and conversion of the Series A preferred stock into common stock as if the conversion had occurred upon issuance (January 31, 2000).

Table of ContentsLIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The Company has primarily funded its operations through cash generated from operations. Additionally, the Company has borrowing arrangements available including a revolving credit facility with $55 million outstanding at December 31, 2000 (not to exceed $100 million), a revolving line of credit facility with no outstanding balance at December 31, 2000 (not to exceed $100 million), a note agreement with KPMG LLP to lend up to $100 million with no outstanding balance at December 31, 2000 (which terminated on February 8, 2001, the effective date of our initial public offering), as well as a note payable related to an accounts receivable financing facility with $45 million outstanding at December 31, 2000 (not to exceed $200 million). The revolving credit facility and revolving line of credit facility expire on May 24, 2004 and May 23, 2001, respectively, while the accounts receivable financing facility permits sales of accounts receivable through May 21, 2003, subject to annual renewal. The credit facilities described above include covenants relating to the maintenance of certain financial ratios and restrictions on the Company's ability to pay dividends.

The Company's cash and cash equivalents declined $11.7 million to $15.3 million at December 31, 2000 when compared with June 30, 2000. The decline in cash and cash equivalents was due to $37.6 million of cash used in investing activities and $13.0 million of cash used in financing activities, offset by $38.9 million of cash provided by operating activities.

Cash provided by operating activities during the six months ended December 31, 2000 was $38.9 million, principally due to operating results of $68.0 million and net increases in current liabilities of $85.2 million. Offsetting these sources of cash were distributions made to our managing directors relating to fiscal 2000 of $73.2 million; net growth in accounts receivable from clients of $40.4 million, and other net of $0.7 million.

Cash used in investing activities during the six months ended December 31, 2000 was $37.6 million principally due to $17.2 million of property and equipment purchases, $9.9 million of additional capital invested in QCS through October 2000, as well as $7.5 million of equity investments.

Cash used in financing activities for the six months ended December 31, 2000 was $13.0 million due to the payment of $28.9 million of preferred stock dividends and repayment of $34.4 million of acquisition obligations, offset by a $50.3 million net increase in notes payable.

A complete discussion of the Company's initial public offering and use of proceeds can be found in Note 2 of the Consolidated/Combined Condensed Financial Statements and Part II, Item 2. Changes in Securities and Use of Proceeds of this Form 10-Q.

The Company believes that the cash provided from operations, borrowings available under the various facilities described above, existing cash and cash equivalents and proceeds from the February 8, 2001 initial public offering should be sufficient to meet working capital and capital expenditure needs.

DISCLOSURE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This report contains forward-looking statements relating to our operations that are based on our current expectations, estimates and projections. Words such as expects, intends, plans, projects, believes, estimates, and similar expressions are used to identify these forward-looking statements. These statements are not guarantees of future performance and involve risks, uncertainties and assumptions that are difficult to predict. Forward-looking statements are based upon assumptions as to future events that may not prove to be accurate. Actual outcomes and results may differ materially from what is expressed or forecast in these forward-looking statements. As a result, these statements speak only as of the date they were made.

Our actual results may differ from the forward-looking statements for many reasons, including:

- the business decisions of our clients regarding the use of our services;
- the timing of projects and their termination;
- the availability of talented professionals to provide our services;

the pace of technological change;

the strength of our joint marketing relationships;

our separation from KPMG LLP; and the actions of our competitors.

In addition, these statements could be affected by general domestic and international economic and political conditions. For a more detailed discussion of certain of these factors, see Exhibit 99.1 to this Form 10-Q. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

PART I, ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURE ABOUT MARKET RISK

We are exposed to a number of market risks in the ordinary course of business. These risks, which include interest rate risk and foreign currency exchange risk, arise in the normal course of business rather than from trading activities. Our exposure to changes in interest rates arises because our indebtedness primarily carries variable interest rates. Foreign currency exchange risk is not significant as foreign currency transactions have not been significant and are not concentrated in a single foreign currency.

In connection with our borrowings and as a result of continual monitoring of interest rates, we may in the future enter into interest rate swap agreements for purposes of managing our borrowing costs.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

We are from time to time the subject of lawsuits and other claims and regulatory proceedings arising in the ordinary course of our business. We do not expect that any of these matters, individually or in the aggregate, will have a material impact on our financial condition or results of operations.

ITEM 2. CHANGES IN SECURITIES AND USE OF PROCEEDS

Our first registration statement filed under the Securities Act of 1933 (Form S-1 registration statement, Registration No. 333-36328, Commission File No. 000-31351) was declared effective by the Commission on February 7, 2001. A total of 202,227,307 shares of our common stock were registered under the registration statement. The managing underwriters for the offering were Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated, Goldman, Sachs & Co., J.P. Morgan Securities Inc. and Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated.

The offering commenced on February 8, 2001 and has been completed. 129,354,300 shares were sold at a per share public offering price of $18.00, which included 16,872,300 shares that were sold upon exercise of the underwriters' over-allotment option. Of the shares sold, 34,243,614 shares with an aggregate offering price of $616,385,052 were sold by us and 95,110,686 shares with an aggregate offering price of $1,711,992,348 were sold by the selling stockholder. An aggregate underwriting discount of $93,135,096 was paid in connection with the offering, $24,655,402 of which was paid by us and $68,479,694 of which was paid by the selling stockholder. Our pro-rata portion of other expenses of the offering are estimated at $3,141,000.

Our net proceeds from the sale of our 34,243,614 shares in the offering, after deducting the underwriting discount and our share of the estimated offering expenses, were $588,588,650. We received no proceeds from the sale of our common stock by the selling stockholder. Our net proceeds from our sale of common stock in this offering were fully used as follows:

$378,329,391 to repurchase 1,441,254.9 shares of our Series A Mandatorily Redeemable Convertible Preferred Stock from Cisco Systems, Inc.;

$112,037,809 to repay all of our outstanding indebtedness to KPMG LLP, consisting of a note that was incurred in connection with our acquisition of the consulting business of the Canadian member firm of KPMG International, all of the outstanding indebtedness pursuant to our subordinated revolving line of credit from KPMG LLP, and other trade payables due to KPMG LLP incurred in the normal course of business;

$70,000,000 to repay our outstanding indebtedness under our receivables purchase facility with PNC Bank, National Association; and $28,221,450 for working capital purposes.
