Item 8.01 Other Events.

Hanmi Financial Corporation, the holding company of Hanmi Bank, announced that the recent bankruptcy filing by Lehman Brothers Holdings Inc. has adversely affected the fair market value of an available-for-sale Lehman Brothers corporate bond held in its investment securities portfolio.

The unsecured senior debt had a carrying value of $2.8 million at June 30, 2008. All indications are that the fair market value of this security is now materially lower than its carrying value. Accordingly, it is anticipated that third-quarter 2008 results will reflect a non-cash other-than-temporary impairment charge related to this security, although at this time it cannot be determined with precision what the charge will be.

At June 30, 2008, the combined carrying value of all corporate bonds held in the investment securities portfolio was $7.8 million.

Further, the company announced that it has an exposure of approximately $1.2 million related to a derivative transaction with Lehman Brothers whose value is tied to the S&P 500 stock market index; this, too, may require that the company record an other-than-temporary impairment charge in the current quarter.
